

WHAT IS TEACHING BURIED HISTORY?

Teaching Buried History is an exciting new initiative by Lindenwood University to create innovative classroom tools for teachers across disciplines. And you can be part of it!

The following are just a few of the possibilities:

- ◆ In Social Studies, students could investigate immigrant histories, social justice issues, and the intersection of religion and death.
- ◆ In English Language Arts, students could write “personal” narratives from the past, create their own epitaphs, or apply stories and essays that explore race (all DESE approved curriculum) to redlining in cemeteries.

- ◆ In STEM related fields, students could apply math skills to mapping and even science to investigate the geological make up of headstones.