Shelby Gorman

Shelby Gorman is a fashion design and technology major at Lindenwood University. She has always loved the idea of fashion and had a passion for it. She has always been more of a creative person and being a fashion major she gets to show her creative side.

The collection is called Day to Night and the concept is based out of L.A. Shelby describes it as a collection you can wear all day inspired by the women of Los Angeles.

The line is cute but comfy. It is also a collection of looks you could wear to grab coffee, or go to brunch with friends. Within the same day, the looks can be transformed by switching the shoes from sneakers to heels for a fun night out in L.A.

Kaycee Wilson

Raised in Kansas City, Missouri. Kaycee has always had a knack for Fashion but did not start designing till High School. She competed in her school's organization called FCCLA and decided Design was a perfect fit. Kaycee applied to Lindenwood in 2017 and is graduating in Spring 2022.

Her senior collection is inspired by her great aunts' strong bond and unique personalities. Kaycee has always loved the south, the willow trees, the floral wallpaper, eclectic style and teatime gossip. She hopes you all enjoy the blast from the past.

A.J. Thouvenot

Lindenwood Alumnus AJ Thouvenot designs handcrafted home fragrance and personal care goods as Creative Director for K. Hall Studio.

Best known for his appearance on Project Runway Season 8 Thouvenot has worked in various roles within the fashion and retail industry.

Through his creative work, AJ marries kitsch and classic style with a sense of humor that pokes fun at fashion taking itself too seriously.

A decorative border of pink roses and green leaves surrounds a central grey rectangle. The roses are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others as buds. The leaves are vibrant green with visible veins.
