SENIOR AND GRADUATE BIOGRAPHIES

KATRINA BENNETT – INTENSITY

Katrina aspires to become a renowned fashion designer/wardrobe consultant. She chose fashion as a career because of her love of clothing and the art of creating garments that represent a unique and individual style. In her Mini Collection, she mixed denim with plaid to demonstrate the creative edge denim has when incorporated with other textiles. Her senior collection is titled “My Conviction is My Passion” which describes her commitment to her profession: she knows she was destined to be a designer. The collection demonstrates her desire to create garment pieces that transition from day to evening.

MARIELLA CANADY – REFINED COUTURE

Mariella Canady has fashion and art in her blood. Her first trip down the runway was in third grade. As she continued to work in the modeling industry she discovered that her other talents were drawing and painting. At the age of 10, Mariella told her mother that she wanted to become a fashion designer. She began her studies at Kansas State University then transferred to Lindenwood University, and worked as a fashion coordinator, director, visual merchandiser, and retail store manager during her college career. Mariella is an amazing young woman: in addition to working and going to school she is a devoted mom. She plans to continue her studies in graduate school and her motto regarding fashion design is, “It’s not just a passion, it’s my life!”

MARISSA PERRY – EPHESIANS 6: 13–17

These Bible passages speak of a warrior's attire during a spiritual battle. Drawing from her military and spiritual background, Marissa has created a series of garments that represent the biblical armor described. The battle is on the horizon . . . PUT YOUR WAR CLOTHES ON!

LAURA BROWN

An avid traveler, Laura has used colors, cuts, and fabrics she has seen around the world to form her Senior and Mini Collections. She wanted to create comfortable, unique garments for a laid back person who is nevertheless on the move. Laura will be spending her last semester at the Lorenzo de Medici School in Florence, Italy. After graduation, Laura will be doing a lot of traveling, designing, and working. Her goal is to open her own clothing shop.

SHERRELL HALL – DARE OF THE DEPTH

Sherrell is a 21-year old St. Louis resident. She has spent several years gaining experience in the fashion industry and regularly participates in local fashion shows. Even before she entered high school, Sherrell had developed a love for fashion and a strong entrepreneurial spirit. She designed her first evening gown at age thirteen and spent most of her adolescent years developing a plan for her own business. In 2001, her dreams became a reality when she established her own company, Adiktion. This enterprising young woman will settle for nothing less than success!

PUNNIN CHAREONTHONG – PRIMA BALLERINA

Graduate student Punnin Chareonthong's collection is inspired by the graceful dances of a ballerina and the vivid, stunning quality of Thai fabrics imported from her country. Punnin has always been fascinated by ballet for as long as she can remember and has fond memories of attending dance classes while growing up in Bangkok. She has dreamed of creating her own style by blending formal dance and the world of fashion. Her designs are infused with color, patterns, and style which represent the grace and elegance of ballet.

SUCHITRA (FAY) NORASINGHA – WALK ON THE WATER

The dresses in Suchitra's collection represent water manifesting and influencing her desires. She is continually inspired by both the movement and properties of water--the most valuable element in our lives. Suchitra was also inspired by Thai fabric that she used in the construction of all of her dresses. Her designs represent nature through fashion and convey simplicity, comfort, convenience, freshness, and originality.

BRONICA RICHARDSON – SHIDOŌ

It's all about making design democratic with creations that represent the embodiment of one's most personal desires, full of complex meaning and emotion. Bronica approached her collection with the intention to express and inspire. She describes the work represented on the runway as, "...a moment of clarity for a 'city girl' who is uptown and downtown. When asked who sets the pace and makes the rest of them chase? That girl replies, 'Shidoō'."

AFTON JOHNSON – KNIT READY

Afton Johnson has been sewing for eight years and designing for five. She started her collegiate career at the Illinois Institute of Art in Chicago then transferred to Lindenwood University. Her designs are inventive and her construction is impeccable. As a result, she received the award for Best Mini Collection at last year's show. Afton said, "This year, I wanted to incorporate bold colors and embellishments of knits to make the simplest garment look extraordinary, all the while following the color card for spring and summer 2007."

SHERYL GRAHAM – URBAN FLIRT: AN IRISH SPRING/SUMMER

Sheryl earned her BFA in Studio Art and became a successful practicing artist for 2 years. However, after nine years of retail, visual merchandising, and window dressing experience, she was inspired to branch out into fashion design. Sheryl loves to experiment with color, texture, and patterns, and has discreetly infused the colors of the Irish Flag in her Senior Collection. She combines the essence of her home country--the tonal Irish landscape--with a cheeky twist that is fit for the cityscape. Sheryl is interested in irony and tries to create a visual interest by challenging the 'norm.' She uses the interplay of composition, asymmetry, and balance with a result that is pretty but funky. Sheryl will continue to create in the future with aspirations of producing her own line, and hopes to round out her experience by trying her hand at styling.
