

Lindenwood University

Digital Commons@Lindenwood University

Viewbooks

Lindenwood Historic Documents, Booklets,
Miscellaneous

1-1951

1951 Lindenwood College Viewbook

Lindenwood College

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.lindenwood.edu/viewbooks>

Part of the History Commons

Lindenwood College Bulletin

St. Charles, Missouri

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE BULLETIN

Vol. 124

January, 1951

No. 4

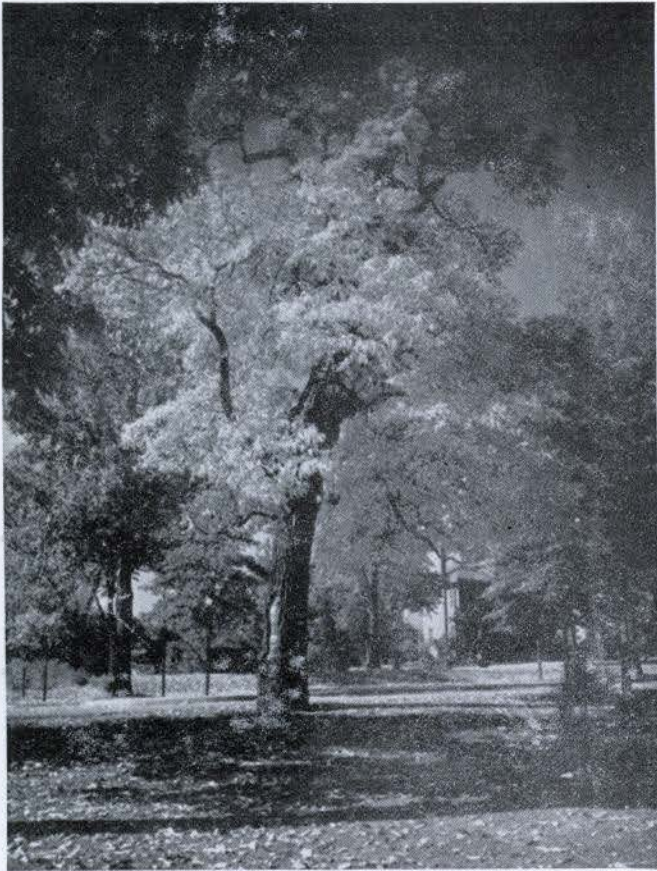

Published Monthly by Lindenwood College,
St. Charles, Mo.

Entered at the St. Charles Post Office as Second Class Matter

Lindenwood College for Women

Founded 1827

- FOUNDED MORE THAN a century ago in a grove of linden trees above the Missouri River, Lindenwood has become one of the nation's strong colleges for women. The instructional and extra-curricular program of the college is designed to meet the special needs of young women.

- THE FOLLOWING PAGES picture some of the activities of life in this community and give one an idea of the ample facilities and beautiful surroundings. Pictures cannot, however, portray successfully the greatest assets the college possesses—a student body of fine young women drawn from thirty states and a dozen foreign countries, a faculty of competent scholars whose teaching ability and personal interest in every student are outstanding, a college spirit that is intangible but real, democratic, friendly and stimulating.

- YOU ARE INVITED to visit the campus at your convenience. You will be welcome at any time.

○ NE OF Missouri's finest elms, growing here since frontier days, suggests the strength and tradition developed at Lindenwood in its rich history of more than a century.

Guiding Lindenwood

President and Mrs. Franc L. McCluer

Where Student Life Begins ...

ROEMER HALL

Administration offices, classrooms, laboratories, auditorium, Post Office, and Book Store

And Activities Continue in Beautiful Surroundings ...

Stately Sibley Hall has been home to hundreds of Lindenwood women through the years.

AYRES HALL

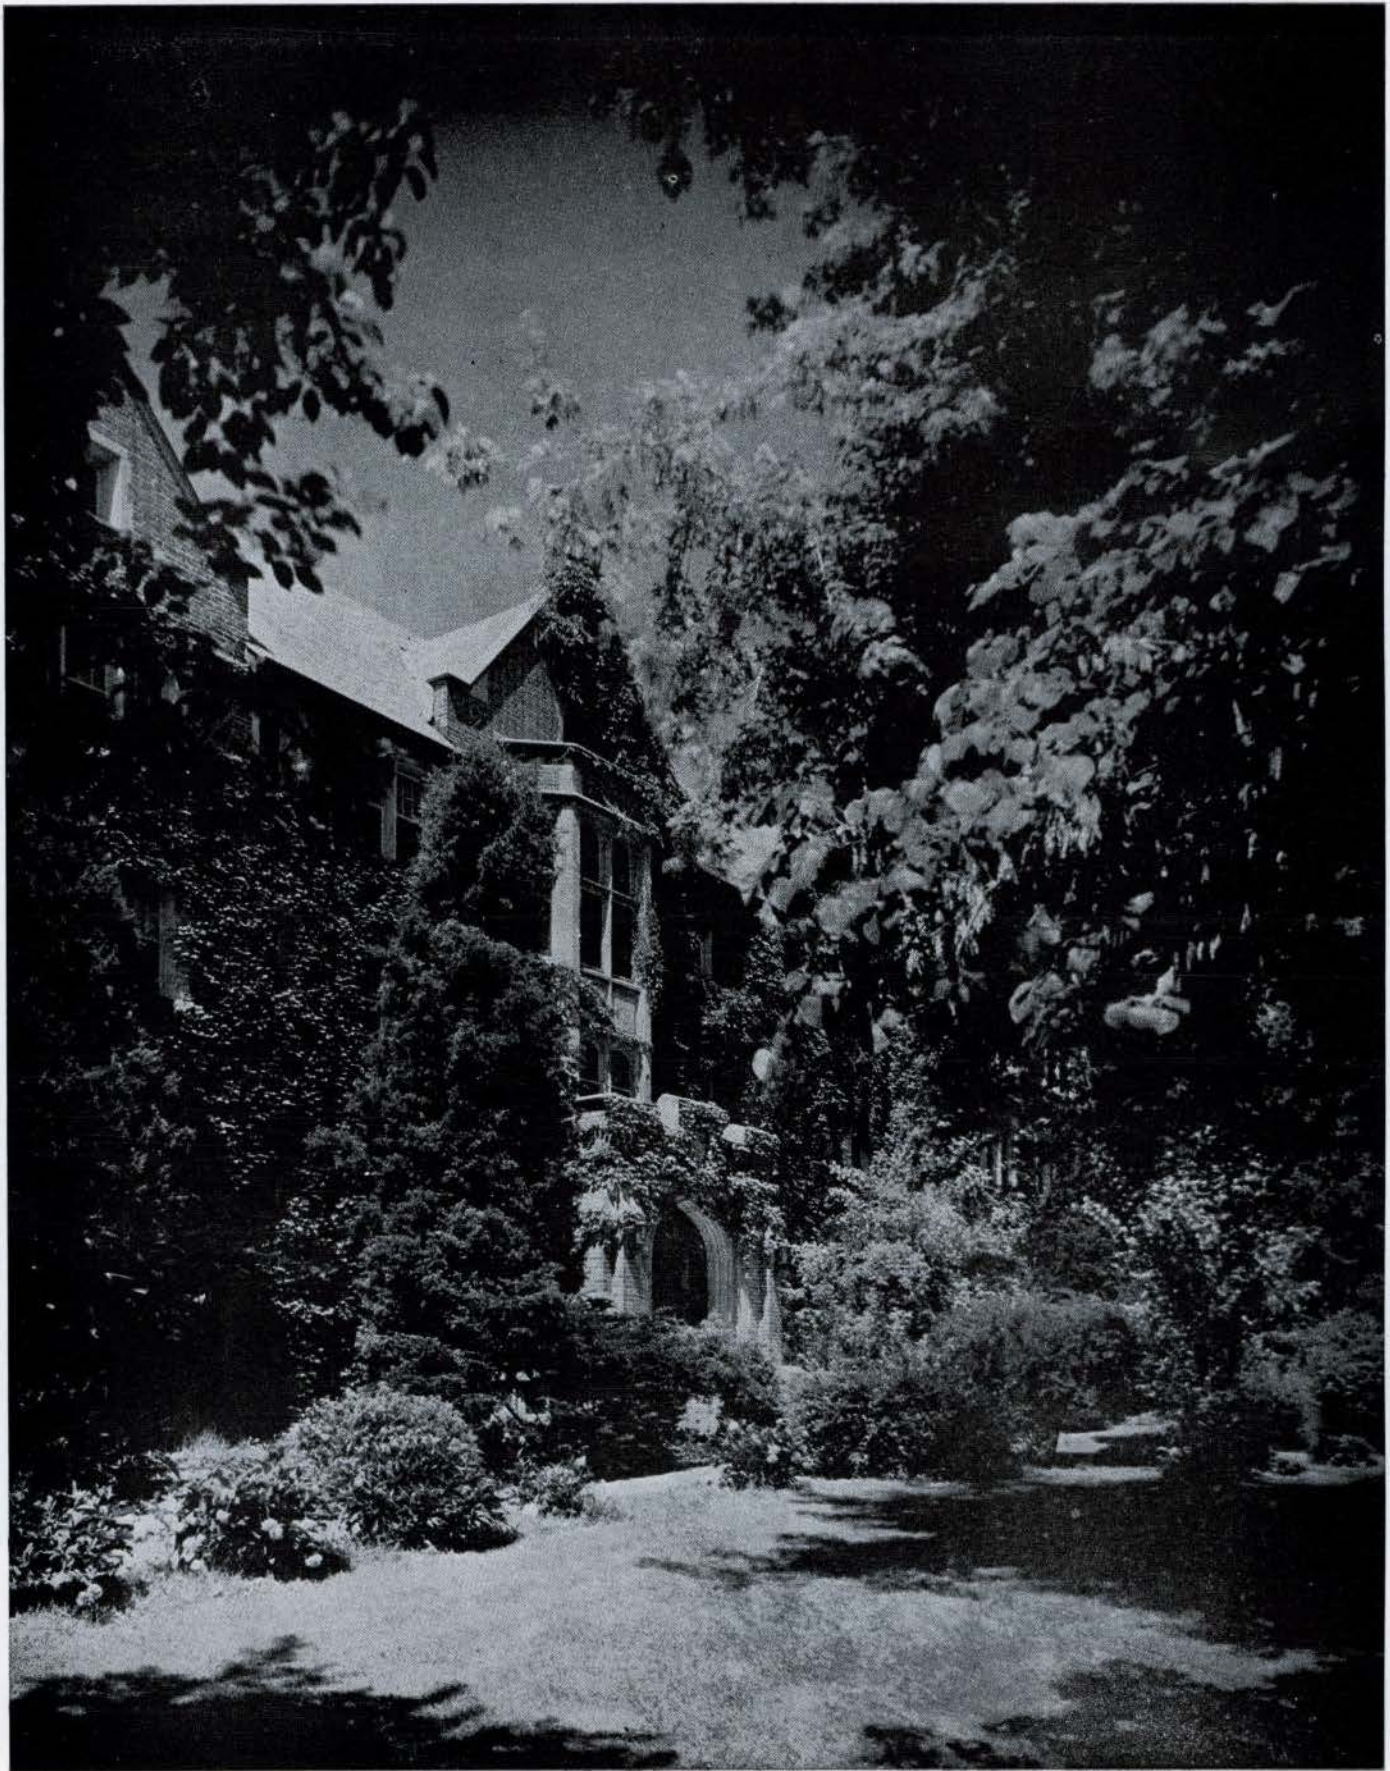

The college dining room is situated in this student residence.

BUTLER HALL

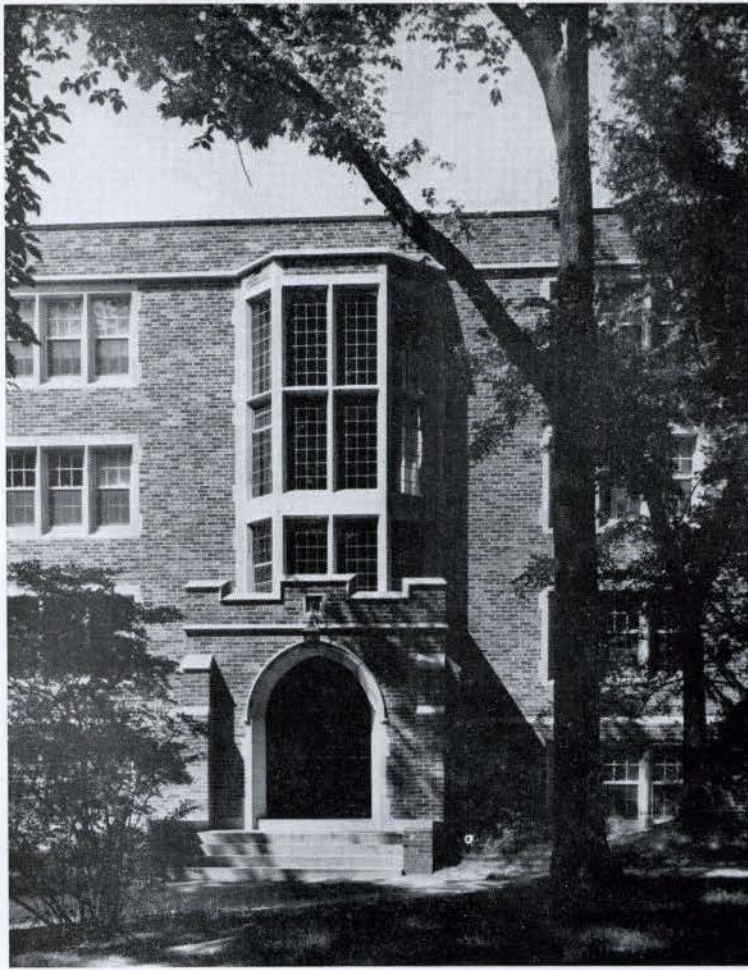

This residence hall houses the gymnasium and the swimming pool, too. The big college parties and dances are held in Butler.

Vine-clad Irwin Hall is the home of eighty young women.

Through the Loggia of Niccolls Hall, students have gone in and out for thirty years.

COBBS HALL

This new dormitory is the home of seventy students. A soda bar and large recreation room for the entire student body are found in this building.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cobbs before Cobbs Hall the day the building was dedicated.

The Margaret Leggat Butler Library where the "minutes of the previous meetings" are read and questions about the future are raised.

Library Club Room

South Reading Room in the Library

The Lillie P. Roemer Fine Arts Building for music, art, and radio.

The Memorial Room set with furniture of an early period.

The grand reception room.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOME

The hospitality of the president's home is warm and constant. Students are welcome in groups and individually.

Visits with President and Mrs. McCluer and their granddaughter.

ONE WING OF THE DINING ROOM

The breaking of bread together is an age-old ritual—always significant. In this cheerful and well-appointed room the Lindenwood family gathers to enjoy good food and good fellowship.

A campus view from the doorway of one of the student homes.

And in Attractive ...

A student room in Cobbs Hall. Above, two views of the Cobbs parlor.

Comfortable Homes . . .

Students gather in a Niccolls Hall room

Irwin girls hold the Scholarship Trophy

A student room in Butler

Sibley Parlors

Individual Guidance ...

Recognition of individual differences and attention to individual needs is basic in the Lindenwood program. Every student is known by teachers and administrative officers as a person. This acquaintance with persons and a systematic counseling program make it impossible for a student to drift along as an unknown unit in a great mass.

Each entering student has a student advisor who assists her in getting started in a new community. And each student has a faculty advisor who counsels with her many times during the year.

The guidance work is directed by an expert in the field of counseling and vocational guidance.

Vocational guidance from Miss Lichleter, Director of Guidance and Placement, shown above.

Dr. Alice Parker, head of the English Department and the Missouri chapters of the American Association of University Women, advises a beginning student, at right.

A senior seeks counsel from Dean Eunice Roberts.

Ministers welcome Lindenwood students at Sunday morning services.

The Student Council in session. This council is elected by the students and accepts important responsibilities in the life of the community.

A Distinguished ...

In the chemistry and biology laboratories.

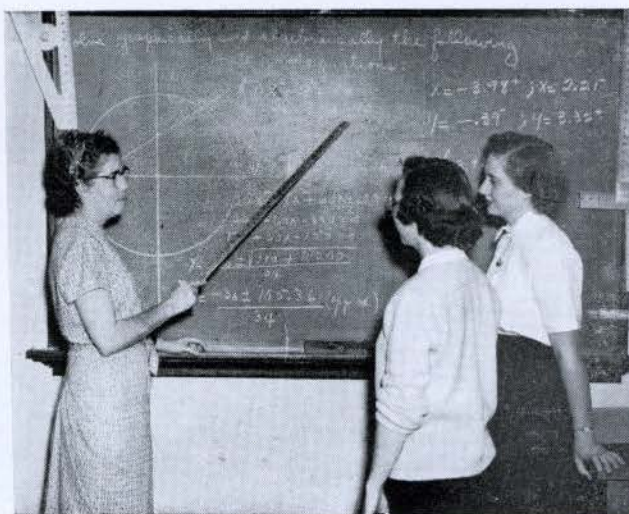

Faculty Guide...

Each of the nine members of the music faculty has a studio for individual instruction. These studios are situated in the Fine Arts Building.

Students raise a question after class.

Competent Students...

Dr. John Thomas, chairman of the Department of Music, instructing a student at the piano.

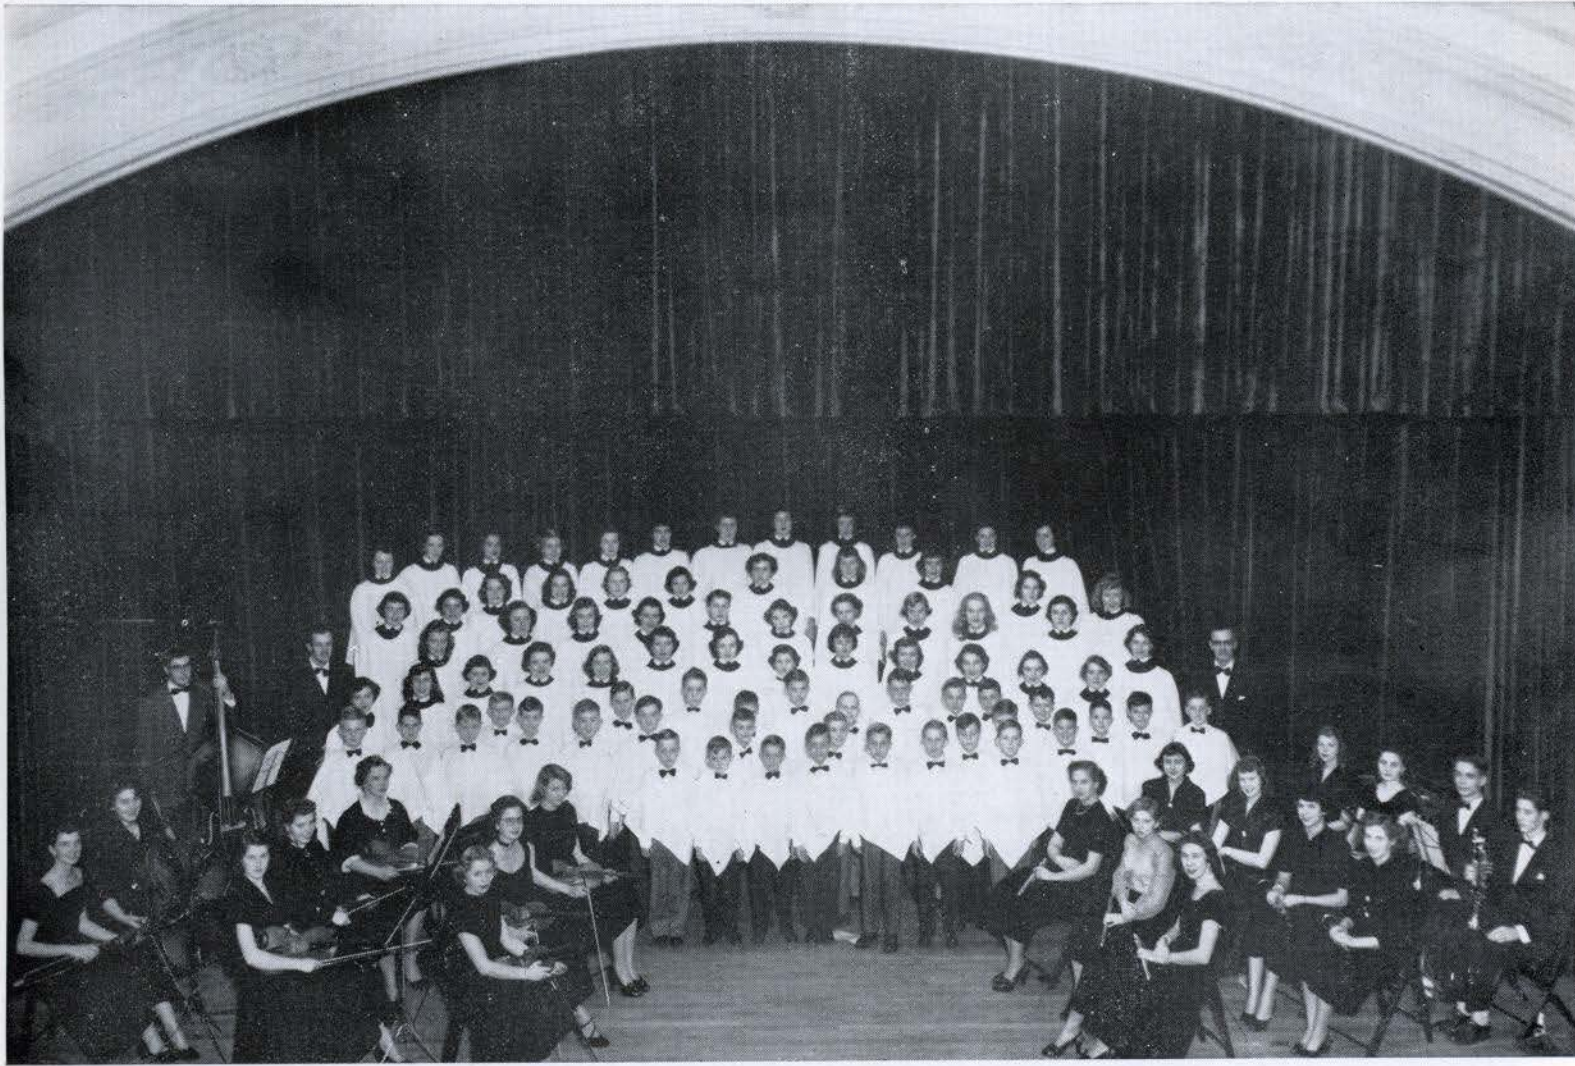

In the Happy Adventure ...

Building a "set."

The Dress Rehearsal

Of Learning ...

The Lindenwood Choir and orchestra in a Christmas vesper program with the Boy's Choir of St. Charles. The Lindenwood Choir is on concert tour each spring.

Through Study and Experience ...

Art students find courses available in painting, drawing, sculpturing, lithography, crafts, design, and interior decoration.

Enrollment in courses in radio grows year after year. In addition to the basic work, there are courses in announcing, program planning, production, script writing and radio music. Each year students enjoy a radio clinic with professional visitors to lead the discussions. Apprentice training is offered through the cooperation of Station KMOX in St. Louis.

Percy Faith is interviewed over KCLC

Andrews sisters visit campus and KCLC.

Madame Helen Lyolene with her class in design.

A student wearing a dress she designed and made.

Home Economics—practical training in the art of homemaking—or preparation for a career in one of the many phases of this broad field.

The Foods Laboratory, Four Complete Kitchens.

A senior does her practice teaching in the St. Charles Public Schools.

Mrs. Anita Croft and her class in marriage.

Judge Florence Allen of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals addressing a graduating class.

President McCluer extends congratulations to honor graduates and fellowship winners.

Health and Physical Education ...

The Student Health Center. Two trained nurses live in this center. The college physician calls twice daily. Friendly and competent attention is given promptly.

The physical education department provides instruction in swimming, golf, horseback riding, basketball, volleyball, archery, hockey, softball, badminton, ping pong, square dancing, and modern dance.

On the sixth hole of the Lindenwood golf course.

The pool in Butler Hall.

Riding is a popular sport.

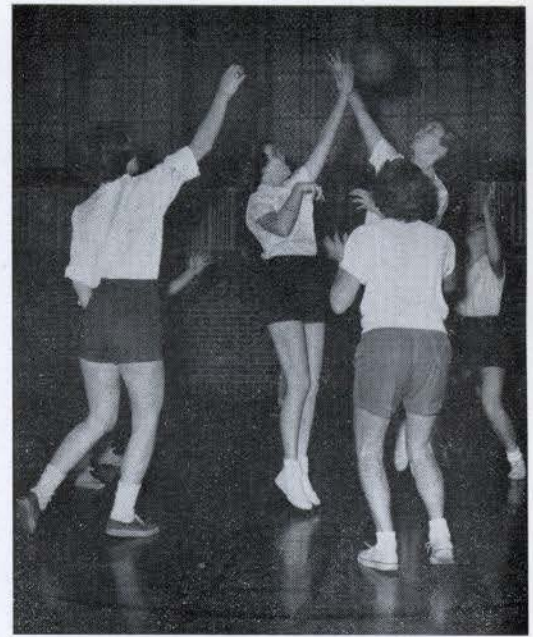

Well-kept tarvia courts for year around tennis.

Modern Dance.

A sixteen-game intercollegiate basketball schedule is played.

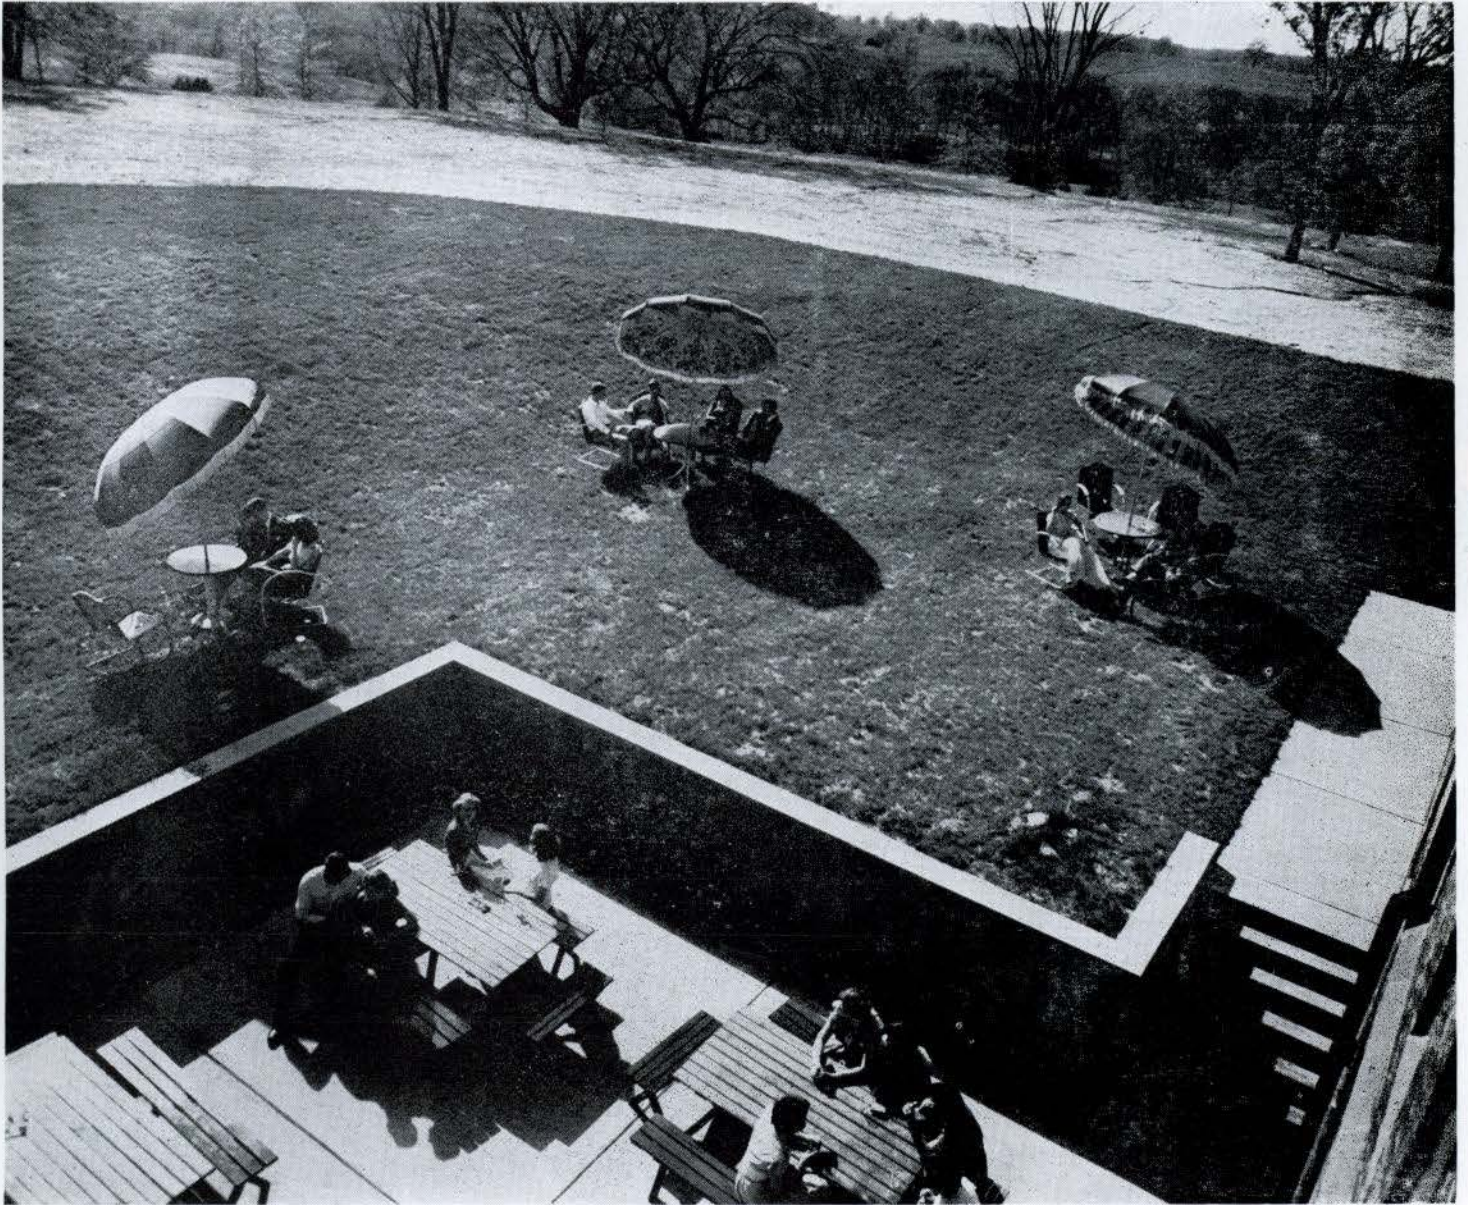

"Swing your partner, Elbow Swing!"

After the day's last class ...

May Day! The crowning of the May Queen in a beautiful setting.

A view of the terrace off the college tea room from the sun deck.

Spring and fall on the campus.

Freshmen candidates for Harvest Queen

Intermission.

Between classes at Roemer

Mail from home!

The book store

Saturday evening at the soda bar

Familiar scenes in spring.

Students from other lands at the entrance to the campus.

Shaw's Gardens

The Zoo

St. Louis Symphony

Historic St. Louis, in easy commuting distances, offers all its educational and cultural advantages to Lindenwood students. The Art Museum, Theatre, Opera, and Civic Music Leagues are among attractions not illustrated.

Formal or informal student body dances are held in the gymnasium each month. Smaller dances take place in the Cobbs Recreation Room frequently.

Intermission at the Spring Formal.

A senior counselor introduces her counselee, a freshman from Sweden, to the president of the student body.

Sledding on the golf course

Thousands of footsteps have brought young women from throughout the world into Sibley Chapel.

