

LINDENWOOD WORLD

August 1997

Special Summer Edition

LINDENWOOD ON A ROLL!

Lindenwood University students will have a new place to hang out, study, and just plain relax this year—a brand-new Lions Den!

The University has acquired the former Roller Rink, located adjacent to Lindenwood Village on First Capitol Drive.

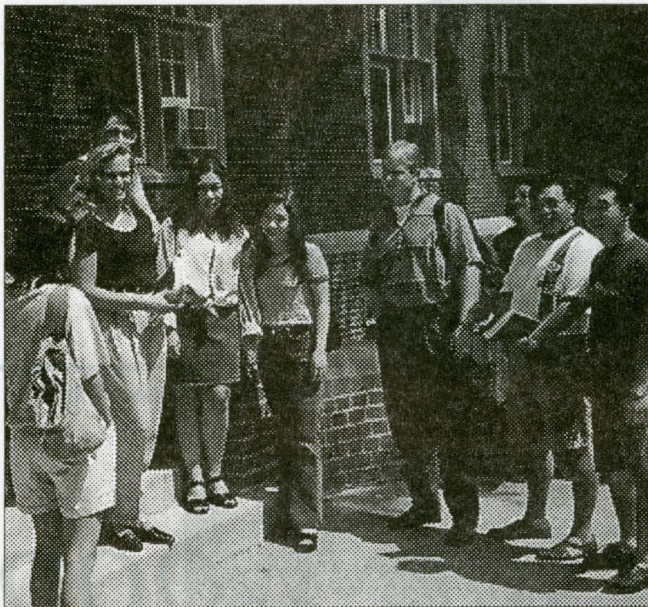

The Roller Rink is being redecorated, repainted and repaired, so students can lounge, skate, dance, watch television, munch on snacks, and study with friends.

The sprawling rectangular building includes a wood skating floor, snack bar, and lounge area. Student Activities Director Justin Meeks and his helpers are hard at work to get the place ready for you in the fall.

Some exciting events are already being planned to be held in the Lions Den...like pizza parties and dances. Plan on joining in the fun!

Name Change Reflects True Spirit of Lindenwood

"That which we call a rose, by any other name would smell as sweet."

William Shakespeare

We are excited to announce that the Lindenwood College Board of Directors has voted to change the name to Lindenwood University.

The term "university" more accurately reflects Lindenwood's growth and expansion, and allows us to maintain Lindenwood's liberal arts focus while staying true to the values that have made Lindenwood successful.

The name change also gives added value to a Lindenwood degree, in a world where the term "university" has a growing perception of the highest level of training and academic success. This would help distinguish LU from the vo-tech institutions and community colleges.

This name change has no affect on Lindenwood's accreditation status or mission, nor would the change make LU start "acting larger" and lose its friendly, small institution atmosphere.

The term "university" better defines and recognizes what Lindenwood has become: undergraduate, graduate, professional, international.

Welcome to Lindenwood University!

New Majors, Programs Keep Lindenwood Up To Date, Out In Front

Lindenwood's emphasis on putting students and their needs first has always been at the forefront of its mission. Because the University takes a flexible, innovative approach to higher education, we can offer academic programs in response to student demand and marketplace trends.

This year, Lindenwood introduces four new majors all of which are firmly rooted in the liberal arts tradition.

A Bachelor of Arts in Social Work is now available for students who wish to enter the helping professions. According to recent trends, the need for qualified service agency professionals is expected to increase 45 percent by the year 2002. This is due in part, to the aging of the very large Baby Boomer population, and to changes in government allocations to human service agencies.

The surge in the fashion and retail industries over the past decades has inspired Lindenwood to establish a Retail Merchandising major in the Management Division, and a Fashion Design major in the division of Fine and Performing Arts.

In addition to becoming proficient in the creative artistry of design, students in the Fashion Design major will also become acquainted with the merchandising and management end of the profession. Subsequently, the Retail Merchandising major is a business program that is specifically geared to buying, selling, and operating in the retail industry.

The Dance major evolved out of the very popular and successful minor in dance, which was established just six short years ago. Offering traditional dance classes, this new major will also include classes in music literature and technical theatre so students can be fully prepared professionals. Students will also take internships with area dance organizations, studios and schools, which will give students the opportunity to gain experience in fundraising and public relations. Lindenwood dance students have already experienced success by winning national awards and performing original choreography and music for large audiences.

And Now, For Your Dining Pleasure...

Ayres Dining Hall is taking on a whole new look... Gone are the teal and pink banners. The whole cafeteria is being redecorated and repainted. The Heritage Room will be getting new tables and chairs. New amenities are being added, in response to your demands. Look for a new ice cream machine, slush puppy machine, and a stir-fry bar. Our food service, Ameriserve, has also contracted with Weight Watchers, Inc., to offer WW food for those students who want to take part in the program. Come see what's cooking in the cafeteria this fall!

Welcome Home...

Mi Casa es Su Casa. Lindenwood University will soon become your home away from home. Over 505 incoming freshmen and 212 transfer students will be joining returning residents and commuters who call Lindenwood their home away from home.

While at Lindenwood, your world will expand dramatically. You will meet students from as far away as Australia, Thailand, and Panama. You will learn about their cultures, their foods, what they like to do for fun. You will also get to know students as close as Iowa, Alaska, and California. Imagine all the great places you can visit during the holidays with the new friends you will meet!

Lindenwood has everything to offer you from cultural events to athletics to a variety of educational opportunities. And now you are a part of this culturally diverse, talented group of students who will become your new family.

We are thrilled to have you walking among the tree-lined campus, soaking up the ambiance of the university and striving to succeed in the tradition of excellence that has been Lindenwood's hallmark since 1827.

All Around the Town

Lindenwood University has that intimate, close-knit feel, but living on campus does not mean you are isolated from the rest of the world. St. Charles offers many fine restaurants, fast food, discount stores, malls, theatres, parks, recreational centers, historic shopping areas, and specialty shops that are located within minutes of campus.

Cross the river, and you are in St. Louis, with professional sporting events, concerts, a theme park, zoo, museums, more great restaurants, and a host of tourist attractions. There's something for everyone, all within reach of Lindenwood University.

How to Dress for St. Louis Weather

Overall, the St. Louis climate is pretty mild, but changeability is its most striking characteristic. A common saying among the natives is "If you don't like the weather, wait a minute." September can be hot (90s are common), but by the end of the fall semester, you'll need a heavy coat. We can have some really cold weather in December and January, even February and March. Casual attire is appropriate for school, but occasionally you will need nicer clothes, for such things as the homecoming dance and special dinners.

A Welcome From the LU Student Ambassadors...

Coming to a new place in a new town, not really knowing anyone can be a scary proposition. That is why the Lindenwood University Student Ambassadors organization was created. We are here to help you get adjusted and assist with any questions or concerns you may have.

We would like to welcome you to Lindenwood University. The one thing to remember is that the Ambassadors are here for you. Our office is located in the basement of Butler Hall, in the Student Activities wing.

Currently the Ambassadors are working with Student Government to plan activities for the first week of school. Have a great rest of the summer and we'll look forward to meeting you in the fall!

Tips For New Students

Big Time Adjustments

You have probably already realized these adjustments are going to be there for you when you move into a dorm for the first time, or when you transfer from one place to another. The good news is the "Big Time Adjustments" are probably bigger in your imagination than they are in reality. One quick way to ease into campus life is to get involved! Join one of the many groups or activities Lindenwood has to offer.

Packing Those Little Things

You'll want to spend your first day and night at Lindenwood getting to know the people around you, unpacking and setting up your new living space, not running to the local store to pick up things you have forgotten. So here's some suggestions for items you know you will need and can get in advance to save more time for fun.

- Bring a supply of toiletries, cosmetics, and health care products with you.
- Laundry facilities are on campus, but you will need detergent, a basket, and an iron (a small ironing board may be helpful).
- Bring change for washers, dryers, soda and munchie vending machines
- You'll need to bring your own sheets, blankets, mattress pads, pillows, towels and hangers.
- You'll want your new room to reflect your personality. Bring posters, pictures, knick-knacks, and other appropriate decorations.
- Bring those major academic necessities with you: calculator, notebooks, pens and pencils, dictionary and thesaurus. You can also purchase these and other supplies at the campus bookstore.

Hey Mom & Dad!

Now that your son and/or daughter is/are at Lindenwood, mail is one of the most important things he/she can get. Every day, you can bet they are running to their mailbox, looking for something, anything, that shows they are loved and missed. Cards and letters are always a welcome sign. Cards and letters with money are really appreciated! But you can go one better. Send a care package! Here are just a few ideas of what your student may want or need:

- A roll of quarters for vending machines and washers and dryers.
- Stamps and stationery so they can send you a thank-you note for the care package.
- Homemade cookies so they can show all their friends how much they are loved and missed.
- A hometown newspaper so they can keep track of what is going on at home.
- Any kind of snacks, such as chips, popcorn, trail mix, hot chocolate mix, etc., so they can have something to eat when the late-night study munchies hit.
- Toiletry items such as toothpaste, toothbrushes, soap, etc. Students need these things, but they hate to spend money on them.
- Pens and pencils...somehow they always seem to disappear!
- Sticky notepads, for your student to leave little reminders for themselves and their roommates, such as phone messages from home.
- Magazines, for relaxing reading and keeping up with the latest trends.
- Music cassettes or CDs.
- Computer diskettes.
- Rolls of film for their camera so they can photograph all the fun things they're doing at university. Bubbles (Believe it or not, they are a great stress reliever and are fun to play with).
- Lollipops, another good stress reliever.
- Chocolate, Chocolate, Chocolate!

Fall Season Preview

Men's Soccer

The 1996 men's season finished with many highlights. Three All-Americans and numerous All-Regional and All-Conference selections led the team to their best finish in school history. The Lions finished the season with a 19-5 record and ranked 17th nationally. Coach Carl Hutter says the future looks very exciting due to the returning nucleus of talent and a skilled group of new student-athletes in freshmen and transfers.

Women's Soccer

The Lady Lions enjoyed their first year in the Heart of America Conference as they brought home the title. The Ladies ended last season with a 17-5 record and a final season ranking of 12th in the nation. The team finished the HAAC with a record of 6-0 as well as winning the conference tournament. The Lady Lions are led by a trio of returning Midwest All-Region selections from last year and one All-American, under the leadership of Head Coach Kevin Kilcullin.

Cross Country

The upcoming season for the Lion cross country programs for both the women and men is not only packed with optimism, but filled with challenges. Under the direction of Head Coach Clark Wille, the Lions will open their season on September 6 at Southern Illinois-Carbondale, with stops at the Kansas Jayhawk Invitational, Eastern Illinois and Oklahoma State before entering the HAAC meet.

Fall Home Openers

Sept. 6	Men's Soccer vs. Kentucky Wesleyan 7pm, Hunter Stadium
Sept. 9	Volleyball vs. Benedictine 7pm, Hyland Arena
Sept. 13	Football vs. Culver-Stockton 7pm, Hunter Stadium
Sept. 20	Women's Soccer vs. Wm. Jewell 2pm, Hunter Stadium
Sept. 27	Cross Country 5K Invitational 10am

Football

The Lions finished the 1996 season strong, winning three of their last four games and had a strong off-season commitment from the returning squad. With eight offensive starters and six defensive starters back, the team can field their first experienced team under Coach Dan Kratzer. He is optimistic about the upcoming season. The Lions' first action of the season will be a scrimmage against Greenville College on August 29.

Volleyball

The Lady Lion volleyball team will look to take the successes of the last 10 games into the 1997 season. With a strong recruiting class, the team looks to be much improved and compete in the upper tier of the conference standings. According to Head Coach Dave Witter, new members on the squad will create more depth and strength in key positions.

Tennis, Anyone?

Lindenwood University is serving up two new sports teams this year. The Lions and Lady Lions tennis teams are forming now. The teams will play on the brand-new Lindenwood Tennis Complex...which is located right next to the almost-but-not-quite-as-new Hyland Performance Arena.

Head Coach Michael Gardner and other coaches are heavily recruiting new tennis talent from around the metro area...and are looking for players from among the returning student ranks as well. If you're interested in trying out for the tennis team, contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at (314) 949-4949 or Gardner at (314) 949-4802.
