

COMMUNIQUE

Vol. 1, No. #26; Jan. 31, 1983

'LUNCH & LEARNING' SERIES BEGINS FRIDAY

As a means of increasing educational dialogue, a monthly series of discussions begins at noon Friday in the Cardinal Room of Ayers Cafeteria. Called "Lunch & Learning," the series is open to both the Lindenwood and St. Charles communities. Each month, it will feature guest lecturers who will address a variety of issues concerning political, religious, business, civic, community and educational nature.

The Rev. Evelyn Fulton, chief executive of the Elijah Lovejoy Presbytery (ELP) of St. Louis, is the guest lecturer for the first "Lunch & Learning" session. The ELP is the regional organization of Presbyterian churches in the metropolitan St. Louis area. She will be accompanied during the hour-long discussion by the Rev. Robert R. McGruther, pastor of the St. Charles Presbyterian Church.

"It is more than appropriate that these two distinguished people will begin the first 'Lunch & Learning' series, said President James I. Spainhower, "since Lindenwood is reaffirming its historical relationships with the Presbyterian Church." Earlier this month, Dr. Spainhower announced that Lindenwood "would strengthen its long-standing and non-legal ties with the Presbyterian Church and would strive to develop additional ones with other organized expressions of the Judaeo-Christian faith, such as Jewish, Protestant and Roman Catholic." The "Lunch & Learning" sessions will be held the first Friday of each month, from 12-1 p.m. in Ayers Cafeteria.

HANNEGAN TO SPEARHEAD BOARD DRIVE

John C. Hannegan of St. Charles, a member of the Lindenwood Board of Directors, has been appointed chairman of the campaign to raise $25,000 from board members. The board's contribution is part of the multifaceted Annual Fund Drive, a campaign to raise $500,000 in gifts from faculty and staff, alumni, the St. Charles community, friends of Lindenwood outside the St. Charles community and the board of directors. Contributions from the campaign will be used for 1983-84 operating expenses and will establish the groundwork for annual fund drives in succeeding years.

'ART OF FILM' SERIES OPENS IN YOUNG HALL

Federico Fellini's 1974 Italian comedy, "Amacord" ("I Remember"), opens this semester's "Art of Film" series Friday at 7 p.m. in the Young Hall Auditorium. Also scheduled to be shown is the 1963 short German animation, "The Pistol." Both are free-of-charge to all Lindenwood students and faculty, sponsored by the Lectures & Concerts Committee.

The 1974 film, which has English subtitles, is based on Fellini's recollections of his youth in pre-war Italy, centering around the boy who longs for the freedom of adulthood. Fellini celebrates the sense of kinship that exists in his native town as well as an awareness of the shortcomings leading to Fascism in the classic film.

Other films to be shown this semester include Jean Renois' "Grand Illusion" on February 18; Ingmar Bergman's 1955 film, "Smiles of a Summer Night," and the 1962 short film, "Dream of the Wild Horses," March 4; Jean Cocteau's 1930 film, "Blood of a Poet," and Samuel

=more=

Becket's "Film," April 1; and Luis Buneul's 1972 film, "The Discreet Charm of the Bourgeoisie," April 15. Each begin at 7 p.m. in the auditorium, followed by a discussion afterwards in the Young Hall Lounge.

BOARD TO MEET FEBRUARY 15 ON CAMPUS

Reviews of the work of the newly-formed Long-Range Planning Committee, the institution's financial situation and current Annual Fund Drive and existing vacancies on the board are among agenda items to be considered by the Lindenwood Board of Directors when it meets February 15 from 10:30 a.m.-noon in the MAB.

TEACHING APPLICATIONS DUE BY FEBRUARY 15

Gene Henderson, Ph.D., chairman of the Education Department, reports student teaching applications for 1983-84 are due and must be received by February 15. Student teaching assignments will be made during March and an orientation session for all student teachers scheduled in April. Application blanks are available at the Education Department in Stumberg Hall. If you have questions or need further information, contact Dr. Henderson at extension #358.

SPRING ENROLLMENT INCREASES SLIGHTLY

Total enrollment for the spring semester at Lindenwood is 1,790 students, an increase of eight students from the 1,782-student enrollment recorded for the spring 1982 semester. Total enrollment consists of 1,267 undergraduates and 523 graduates at the main campus; satellite branches in Clayton, St. Louis, Lake St. Louis and West Port Plaza; and at off-campus facilities in area businesses and hospitals. The spring enrollment is about nine percent less than the total enrollment of 1,974 students last fall, a figure established as the highest in the institution's 156-year history.

LONG-RANGE PLANNING TO MEET TUESDAY

Members of the newly-formed Long-Range Planning Committee will hold their first meeting Tuesday at 11 a.m. on campus. The 16-member committee, cochaired by Robert Hyland, chairman of the Lindenwood Board of Directors, and President James I. Spainhower, is composed of faculty, administration, student, alumni, board and community representatives. Scheduled to meet monthly, the committee is charged with (1) redefining and sharpening Lindenwood's statement of mission and purpose in light of the past 20 years of history, (2) establishing immediate and long-range goals for the institution and (3) recommending organizational changes and goals to the board of directors to meet such goals.

BOTANY EXPERT TO ADDRESS LINDENWOOD COMMUNITY

"Tropical Ecosystems - Survival or Global Disaster" is the title of an address to be presented by Peter H. Raven, Ph.D., director of the Missouri Botanical Garden, February 9 at 8 p.m. in the FAB Auditorium. The environmental lecture is the third in a four-part series, "Environmental Issues of the '80s," sponsored by the Lectures & Concerts Committee and partially funded by a grant from the Sperry & Hutchinson (S&H) Foundation.

A professor of botany at Washington University, Dr. Raven is the author of eight books and more than 200 scientific papers. Specializing in plant classification and distribution, he formerly was associated with Stanford University's Department of Biological Sciences before joining the Missouri Botanical Garden. His lecture is open to all students, faculty and community residents free-of-charge.

PRESIDENT ESTABLISHES MONDAY 'STUDENT HOUR'

As a means of establishing greater rapport and increasing dialogue with Lindenwood students, President James I. Spainhower has reserved Mondays from 4-5 p.m. for meetings with students. No calls or appointments with faculty and staff members are to be made during this one-hour session. Students who want to meet with the president are advised to make appointments with Jane Pace, executive secretary, at extension #200.

'SLEEPING BAG WEEKEND' ON GEORGE'S BIRTHDAY

About 200 high school students from Chicago, Kansas City, Little Rock, Louisville, Memphis and Lexington, KY, are expected to travel to Lindenwood February 19-21 for the institution's first "Sleeping Bag Weekend" planned by the Admissions Office. The three-day event will enable prospective students to meet Lindenwood students and faculty members, attend various classes, tour St. Charles and St. Louis attractions, stay in dorms, attend movies and recreational events and acquaint themselves with the campus. Admission representatives also plan to provide high school students with information on admission requirements, college entrance exams, available courses and degrees and financial aid assistance and scholarships. There is no cost to those participating except transportation to and from Lindenwood. The event is staged for the weekend and George Washington's Birthday when students are out of school.

PSYCHOLOGY GROUP TO MEET WEDNESDAY

A representative from the St. Charles community organization, Youth In Need, will be the featured speaker when the Psychology Interest Group meets on Wednesday in the Cardinal Room of Ayers Cafeteria. The 12:30 p.m. session is open to all members of the Lindenwood community.

BUSINESS, INVESTMENT COURSES OFFERED

"Investing for the '80s" and "Starting a Business Venture" are two new noncredit courses to be offered on Mondays from 7-9 p.m., beginning February 14, by the Leisure Learning Office.

Scheduled through March 7, "Investing for the '80s" is designed for those who want to explore practical approaches to investing. Topics will include common and preferred stock, sources of information about investments, trading in the options market, taxes, dividends, mutual funds and calculating investment potential in terms of personal finances. The course will be instructed by Frank Mills, marketing manager of A. G. Edwards & Sons, Inc., St. Louis. The fee is $55.

Offered through April 18, "Starting a Business Venture" is a course that will examine the opportunities and pitfalls inherent in starting a business. The 10-week session is designed to assist would-be entrepreneurs by providing them with a working knowledge of business operations and the financial and legal tools needed to begin a new business or to expand an existing one. Topics to be covered include the forms of business ownership, degrees of risk involved, considerations for home-owned businesses, credit and collection, legal obligations, sales techniques, accounting options, handling cash flow, building a network of contacts and office management. It will be taught by Mary A. Lewis and Don Crabill of Women's Research of Metro St. Louis, two individuals with extensive experience in consultation and educational services to business. The course fee is $85.

Discounts are available to faculty and staff for both courses, as well as others offered this spring by the Leisure Learning Office. For information, contact Barbara Ludwig at extension #346 or Carol Simpson at #202.

=more=

LEISURE LEARNING COURSE TO EXPLORE PRIVACY

The state of privacy in American life is the subject of a noncredit, four-week course to be offered from 7-9 p.m. on Tuesdays, beginning February 15, by the Leisure Learning Office. It will be taught by Edith E. Graber, Ph.D., chairman of the Sociology Department. The course will explore functions of privacy and how the need for privacy varies with different cultures; issues of social control and the use of surveillance, advanced technology and dossiers; legal foundations for the right to privacy; and access to decision-making processes in government. Cost for the eight hours of instruction is $40. For further information and registration procedures, contact Barbara Ludwig at extension #346.

SOLO EXHIBIT SET DURING BLACK HISTORY WEEK

An opening reception is scheduled from 3-5 p.m. February 6 in the Hendren Gallery of the FAB for Lamar A. Gatewood, a 1977 Lindenwood graduate who will have a solo exhibition on campus during Black History Week, February 13-19. The exhibit will feature a series of collages, using acrylics, oil pastel and fabric. Holding a B.F.A. degree in ceramic art, Gatewood has been involved in several exhibitions in recent months, including a national group show sponsored by the Atlanta Life Insurance Co. and one featured at the Fontbonne College Library Gallery. Hours for the Lindenwood exhibit are from 8:30 a.m.-10 p.m., Monday through Friday, February 7-19.

SCHOLARSHIP AVAILABLE FOR EDUCATION COED

A $300 scholarship for a Lindenwood coed enrolled in education is being offered by the Beta Eta Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa, the women's education fraternity. Applicants must be in their junior year with at least a 3.0 grade average in the field of education. Financial need is another stipulation for the applicant. A list of requirements for applicants along with an application blank may be obtained from the Education Department in Stumberg Hall. The deadline for submitting applications is March 1st.

SPAINHOWER TO DELIVER GUEST SERMON

"Today and More" is the title of a guest sermon to be delivered by President James I. Spainhower, beginning at 10:30 a.m. February 13 at the St. Charles Presbyterian Church, Gamble and Sibley streets. A graduate of Lexington Theological Seminary in Lexington, KY, Dr. Spainhower has been an ordained minister of the Christian Church for 33 years and has held ministerial posts at several churches in Missouri and Arkansas.

= COMMUNIQUE # 30 =

"COMMUNIQUE" is published each Monday by The Lindenwood Colleges. Comments concerning the publication, as well as the submission of information, should be sent to Randy L. Wallick, Editor, Office of News & Public Information, The Lindenwood Colleges, St. Charles, Missouri 63301.