Lindenwood College

ITS HISTORY.

In 1828 Major George C. Sibley and wife, Mary Easton Sibley, being impressed with the need of the then young State for better means of Christian education, selected a beautiful site overlooking the Missouri River in a tract of land known as the "Linden wood." 1831 ground was broken and a log house completed, capable of accommodating some thirty or forty boarding pupils. As shown by the diary of Major Sibley, young ladies came by stage from all parts of the State. Many of the first families of St. Louis were patrons of the institution, which prospered to such an extent that in 1853 it was incorporated by the legislature. On the fourth of July, 1856, Major Sibley and wife executed a deed to one hundred and twenty acres to the Trustees of the College appointed by the Presbytery of St. Louis. The Presbytery accepted this gift as a sacred trust, agreeing on its part to maintain the institution, and to use it wholly for the purpose of the Christian education of women. Subsequently the charter was so amended as to place the College under the Synod of Missouri.

The main building was erected in 1869, and upon its completion the College entered upon a career of prosperity. In 1881 a new building was erected in connection with the main structure. A still further prosperity necessitated an additional building in 1887.

In 1908 a handsome administration and dormitory building, made possible by the generous gifts of Mr. Andrew Carnegie, Col. James G. Butler, Mrs. William McMillan, Mr. John A. Holmes and others, was completed and is now known as Jubilee Hall.

In June, 1909. Col. James G. Butler purchased the Prosser home for the use of the College, and under the name of Margaret Hall, this handsome residence is now used as a dormitory. Another dormitory, including Natatorium and Gymnasium, is just completed and is one of the most attractive buildings of its kind in use in the Southwest. It is the gift of Lindenwood's generous benefactor, Col. James Gay Butler.

ITS LOCATION.

Lindenwood is situated in St. Charles, Mo., within 50 minutes' street car ride of St. Louis.

"A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid." For beauty of location, no city excels it. Situated on the highlands overlooking the valleys of two of the world's mightiest rivers, the eve never tires of looking on this picturesque land-

More than a century old-the first capital city of Missouri-it has kept pace with the progress of the state. Its paved and oiled streets, lighted from the famous Keokuk power plant, are the brightest of any city in the West. Its municipal water system and the eleva-tion of the city above the river give it entire freedom from fevers and malaria. Its substantial residences, its concrete walks, its abundance of shade, its macadamized streets and roads leading out in all directions; all these and more are facts of which its inhabitants may well boast.

The main lines of the Wabash and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railways reach all points to the North, West and Southwest. These two roads and an electric line, leaving every 30 minutes, give service to St. Louis at all hours. At St. Louis, connections may be made with all points of the compass. Saint Charles is also situated on the Boones Lick trail, now a part of the National Road, and thus is on the direct line of all automobile travel east and west. The "Red Ball" route from Minneapolis to the South also crosses the river here.

Its 10,000 population, its wealth, its excellent public buildings, its churches, its schools (Lindenwood College, the Military Academy, the Convent, the public and the parochial schools), its hospitals, its public-spirited citizens, and its situation as a suburb of St. Louis make Saint Charles a very attractive residence city.

The advantages of suburban and the privileges of city life are afforded Lindenwood students. The best concerts. lectures, operas of the nation are within easy reach, and students are permitted to attend the very best.

Art museums and centers of culture and music are always open to our stu-

There are few schools so happily situated for all possible opportunities of college and culture.

ITS FACULTY.

Only the very best instructors and teachers are employed. Only graduates of approved standing in the best colleges and universities can secure a position on our faculty.

Lindenwood is accredited by the North Central Association of High Schools and Colleges, and the University of Missouri.

Graduates of Lindenwood are gladly welcomed to the faculty and courses of the best schools and colleges in the country.

THE COURSES OF STUDY.

Lindenwood offers a superior course of instruction in the arts and sciences. A full four years' course of literary study is provided for a degree.

A department of Physical Education, directed by Miss Nina B. Lamkin, one of the foremost physical educators, has been established.

A department of Religous Education, with degree, will be established the next semester.

Some of the greatest preachers and teachers of all denominations will be among the instructors and lecturers.

A new Conservatory of Music has been opened, and the degree in music is attained under the instruction of teachers. all of whom are pupils of the world's famous musicians.

A NEW ERA.

Lindenwood College is in the eightyfourth year of its history. Its graduates are to be found in all parts of the world. We point with pride to the record of the past. "Old Lindenwood" is revered by all her alumnae. But the present day is building a New Lindenwood on the splendid foundations of a great his-

GOVERNMENT.

The government is firm and kind, Such regulations as are absolutely necessary to the welfare of the students are made and enforced. The pupils are permitted to share in their own government. Student self-government is successfully carried on by a Student's Board of Governors. Our location permits a large degree of liberty to our students.

RELIGIOUS CULTURE.

To afford the best advantage of thorough education, under a decided religious influence, was the high design of the founders of this college. This aim is kept constantly in view. The Bible is studied throughout the course. The members of the college family unite in daily worship. Every effort is made to impart religious knowledge, to quicken conscience, to inspire with a sense of duty and to awaken a love of true excellence. Every student is required to attend public worship on Sabbath mor-
