A program and social meeting of the faculty was held Monday Evening, November 17th, 1930 in the Library Club Room. The chairman of the Program Committee, Miss Parker, introduced the speaker, Dr. William Randall of the Graduate Library School of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Randall discussed changes which have taken place in the college curriculum in the last decade which have in turn affected the development of the college library. He stated that a library of 16,000 volumes was considered a minimum size library for carrying on effective college work. He referred particularly to the effect that the increase of knowledge in the social sciences had brought to the enlarged college library and to the changes in the methods of teaching in all of the fields that now demanded extensive reading outside of textbooks. He referred to the growing interest in Honors Courses in colleges which will ultimately require additions to the personnel of the Library Staff.

Dr. Randall commented very favorably on the selection of reference works in the Lindenwood Library.

The discussion which followed the talk was interesting .

After a pleasant social hour during which the Social Committee served delightful refreshments, the meeting , adjourned.

Florence H. Schaper
Secretary.

A special social and program meeting of the faculty was held November 30th. 1930 in the Library Club Room. Dr. Roemer introduced Dr. H. M. Gage, President of Coe College and President of the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Dr. Gage addressed the faculty on the matter of "Standards of Accredited Institutions of Higher Education" as outlined by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in the Quarterly issue of this Association, June 1927. Dr. Gage's address carried one general theme, namely, the need for interpreting these standards in terms of human values and with sufficient elasticity appropriate to a dynamic society. The speaker stated that the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools was making plans at the present time to seek an appropriation from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching to carry on a study during the next five years for the purpose of creating new standards for institutions of higher education that would judge an institution in terms of the product it graduated, rather than in terms of physical equipment. Dr. Gage referred to the survey of Coe College which is being made at the present time by the faculty of that institution. He suggested that Lindenwood College initiate some experimentation in education relative to any of its problems, in anticipation of the new standards which the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is planning at present.

A brief discussion followed Dr. Gage's address.

After refreshments were served by the Social Committee in a most delightful style, the meeting adjourned.
