LINDENWOOD COLLEGE for WOMEN

FOUNDED 1827

SAINT CHARLES, MISSOURI

BENEATH the shadows of beautiful Linden trees for more than a hundred years graceful and gracious maids have come and gone. At Lindenwood lingering memories of a gracious past and perfect confidence in the future awaits you.

These pages will show you the modern buildings and beautiful campus, but the young women who come here are the most wonderful part of Lindenwood.

Still stands stately Sibley Hall.

AYRES HALL

Dormitory, dining room
for all the students.

The beginning of many happy parties.

BUTLER HALL

is a residence hall, housing the gymnasium and the swimming pool, too. The big college parties are all held in Butler.

Vine clad Irwin Hall is a dormitory for eighty young women.

Through the Loggia of Nicolls Hall
freshmen girls have gone in and out
for thirty years.

Looking out from the entrance of Roemer Hall.

ROEMER HALL

Administration offices, class rooms, laboratories, Post Office and Book Store.

The Margaret Leggat Butler Library where
"the minutes of the previous meetings" are recorded, and where we query about the future.

South Study Room of the Library.

The Lillie P. Roemer Fine Arts Building for Music, Art, Radio.

The Memorial Room set with furniture of an early period.

The grand reception room.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOME
Students are invited to call.

Lillies and roses greet you from the front door of Irwin Hall.

STUDENT HEALTH CENTER

Friendly nurses and doctors are in attendance.

On the way to Roemer
this vista will greet you.

The Gables . . . The Faculty Club.

Tea Room . . . Lots of conversation with the freedom of the saints.

MODERN education has vocational tendencies. Students find fields of interests here for both hands and head.

Lindenwood's Navy Day Float in St. Louis . . . Memories of a world-wide struggle which maintained our liberty.

POST OFFICE

Every one expects a letter
every mail and students
share the good news.

Tea room chat.

Most every one swims.

Some like the horses best.

Three good riders.

COLLEGE BANK

It is wise to have a balance in the bank.

Well kept Tarvia courts
allow you to play all year.

Lindenwood women love a street supper. Here is one in full swing.

How would you like a trip on the Mississippi?

It looks like a hit.

The sixth hole of the golf course.

Classes cease and the students
are enroute to the dining room.

A Navy officer looks over the styles.

May Day brings many thrills.

The Queen
and Maid of Honor.

IF WE keep on the beam we must always remember there is studying to be done; otherwise the college is a failure.

An interesting biological study.

It is an accomplishment
to learn to live with books
and it brings big results.

Cooking is a "must"
and sewing, too.

Chemistry holds many a secret.

Costume design
is inspiring.

A study class in Secretarial Science.

Learning to make duplicated copies.

Radio and Sound Recording
rooms adjoin practice studio.

Dr. John Thomas, Director of Music, and a pupil.

Juniors and Seniors
dine and dance.

.. and they are
married now.

There is some star-gazing.

Irwin "Rec" room.

Student club room
in Sibley Hall.

The life of the campus is in the general dining room, a beautiful setting.

Students like to linger
before the open fire.

Snow falls at Lindenwood.

THERE are wonderful things
to hear and see in St. Louis.

Art Museum.

Washington University.

Downtown Theatre.

Bear Pits at the Zoo.

Shaw's Garden.

Lindenwood's campus as seen from the air.

Beautiful Lindenwood has grown from this beginning. In 1827, before we had railroads or highways and when our neighbors were the Indians, Major George C. and Mrs. Mary Easton Sibley founded Lindenwood.

They specifically stated the College should have a national outlook. From this humble beginning has developed a college that is nationally known. A friendly welcome awaits you.
