

LindenWorld

October 31, 1994

Vol. 10, No. 1

Preparing For Life After Lindenwood by Angie Chazelle

Graduating from college and getting a job can be a scary thing to look forward to. For many college seniors, the search for career opportunities lasts for many months. Lindenwood College offers assistance in finding opportunities in the job world.

The Student Development Office offers the Talent Transcript that is in the format of a resume and is designed to supplement a regular cover letter, resume and academic transcript. The Talent Transcripts of the senior class are compiled into a LIONetwork catalog and sent to over 400 businesses, local alumni, education leaders, and other influential members of the community.

The community response to the catalog has been very favorable. Brian Watkins, director of student development, says the positive response toward the LIONetwork program is due to the fact that "(the catalog) represents quality."

To begin the transcript process, every student completes a profile form that compiles a student's interests, abilities, experience, and goals. This form activates the Talent Transcript procedure. Students can update their profile regularly by filling out an update form found in the Student Development Office or in their advisor's office. "The ultimate goal of the program is to produce a well-rounded graduate and a well-rounded person," Watkins said. "The TAP program has done that for the past two years."

The Talent Transcript Placement Program was first implemented in 1993 and had a placement rate of 100 percent. In 1994, the rate is 95 percent and rising. Students can contact Watkins or Michelle Orr in the Student Development Office at x4990 for more information.

Where Are They Now?

Every senior class seems to come and go with the normal amount of activity. After they are gone, another class fills their place. But sometimes it's nice to know where those seniors go to leave their mark.

|                        |   |
|------------------------|---|
| William Arnel.....     | Teacher/Coach, Francis Howell                     |
| Letitia Becker.....    | Artist—Best Buy                                   |
| Clarence Copridge..... | Jackson City Assessment Dept.                     |
| Jennifer Dirnbeck..... | Citicorp Mortgage                                 |
| Dennis Johnson.....    | Coca-Cola Quality Technician                      |
| Debbie Nack.....       | Daniel Nack Law Office                            |
| Tyson Mueller.....     | Chatfield Dean                                    |
| Kimo-James Munson..... | New York U. Graduate School                       |
| Tim Nihart.....        | Professional Baseball Player /LC graduate student |
| David Small.....       | KSLQ Washington, MO                               |
| Heather Troudt.....    | WFUN Account Executive                            |
| Paul Wilhite.....      | Food & Drug Administration                        |

Homecoming Highlights

by Angie Chazelle

"Music of the Night" was the topic of conversation all over Lindenwood College campus as the 1994 Homecoming rolled around. The Homecoming theme from The Phantom was displayed through the dorms around campus.

The pep rally on Friday night kicked off the Homecoming festivities. The Lion Line performed a spirited dance routine, and the cheerleaders led the crowd in an enthusiastic cheer. A bonfire followed the pep rally.

Afterwards, the Delta Zeta sorority sponsored a hay ride to begin the Greek Homecoming festivities. Members of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity and Delta Chi fraternity joined the DZs for the hay ride at Quail Ridge.

Saturday's game against the Campbellsville Tigers resulted in a victory for the Lions with the final score of 21-20. The Lion Line performed a dance number at half time, and the cheerleaders led the crowd in chants and cheers. Also during the half time show was the coronation of King and Queen. Tiffany Bogle and Larry Hernandez were crowned Queen and King. The 1994 Homecoming Court included freshmen Becky Christian and

Brandon Whitt; sophomores Amy Belding and Kelly Culp; juniors Patty Perkins, Amy Wood, Crystal Crane, Brian Lloyd, Jon Taylor, and Kris Bixby; and seniors Marni Johnson, Annette Wolk, Michelle Tate, Laura Scheller, Allan Newcomer, Kris Petersen, Mo Vick, and Jeff Schneider.

A women's varsity soccer game against William Jewell followed the football game. Lindenwood's soccer reputation was again upheld by the victory of the Lady Lions.

Later Saturday night the homecoming dance was held at the Lindenwood College Club.

The decorations reflected The Phantom theme. The tables and walls were adorned with candles, streamers, balloons, and confetti of black and silver to enhance the mystery of the night. The outside pool area was surrounded by luminaries.

During the evening, the Homecoming Court was announced again and the court made its traditional court-only dance. Partygoers crowded onto the floor to dance to a variety of music that the disc jockey played. The dance wound down about 1:00 Sunday morning, and Homecoming 1994 came to an end. ■

LindenWorld Calendar of Events

November, 1994

| Sunday  | Monday   | Tuesday   | Wednesday  | Thursday   | Friday  | Saturday   |
|---|--|---|--|--|---|--|
|   |  | 1Lady Lions Volleyball ... vs. McKendree College    | 2  | 3Lady Lions Volleyball ..... vs. Culver-StocktonAccounting Club ..... 3:00pm, MAB LoungeLINC meeting ..... 12:20pm, GablesMath and Computer Science Club ..... 12:15pm, Young 309A | 4Parents' WeekendNovember 4, 5, & 6   | 5Lions Football ..... vs. Peru State College   |
|   |  |   |  | Student-directed one-acts,Downstage Theatre, Room 101, Harmon, Hall, 7:30pm  |   |  |
| 6Parents' Weekend endsSt. Louis Artist Guild - Photography Section Juried Show Reception, Hendren Gallery, Harmon Hall. | 7  | 8Education Club ..... 11:30am, Young Auditorium         | 9  | 10   | 11  | 12Lions Basketball ..... vs. Christian BrothersCreative Happening (Griffin Society) ..... LCC. For more info, contact M.J. Jeggors at 939-2216 |
|   |  |   |  | Psychonomics Society - Prominent psychologists will speak at the Adams' Mark - $5.00For more information, contact Jacques Nisemeier at -4622  |   |  |
| 13  | 14Lady Lions JV Basketball ... vs. Kemper MilitaryLC Chamber Ensembles Concert ..... St. Charles Presbyterian Church, 7:30pm | 15  | 16   | 17Pai Chi meeting ..... 7:30-8:30pm, AV Room, Library  | 18Men's Basketball ..... vs. North Central Bible CollegeFellowship of Christian Athletes "Get-Together" ..... 7:00pm, LCC | 19Creative Happening (Griffin Society) ..... LCC.Jazz Band Concert ..... 7:30p, Young Auditorium   |
|   |  |   |  | Graduate student-directed play,Downstage Theatre, Room 101, Harmon, Hall, 7:30pm   |   |  |
| 20  | 21Women's Basketball ... vs. Central Missouri State University   | 22Women's JV Basketball ... vs. Belleville Area College | 23   | 24   | 25  | 26   |
| 27  | 28   | 29  | 30Dance Exhibition ... Harmon Hall Dance Studio, 7:00pmFellowship of Christian Athletes .. Butler Parlor, 7:00pm |  |   |  |
|   |  |   |  |  |   |  |

Alumna Wins Emmy

by Maggie Boaz

The St. Louis Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences recently presented an Emmy to a graduate of Lindenwood College. Joan Young-Bretthauer of St. Louis, received the award for a documentary video she wrote, produced, and directed on the subject of renewing the dimension of spirituality through contemplation.

The video, which won the "Best Production by a College/University Mass Communications Student" category, is about ancient contemplative and meditative lifestyles that are receiving renewed emphasis in today's world. Young-Bretthauer said that the video also provides brief instructions on how to pray the centering prayer method that is taught in the Roman Catholic Church.

Joan Young-Bretthauer proudly displays her Emmy.

Young-Bretthauer graduated with her degree in Mass Communications from Lindenwood in 1989, then went on to receive her master's degree in Corporate and Industrial Communications from Lindenwood this past May. When asked how she felt when her name was called Young-Bretthauer said, "I knew I had won because I was the only one nominated in the category, but I'm still proud!"

The video that won Young-Bretthauer her Emmy is titled Renewing the Contemplative Dimension of Spirituality and was broadcast on Crown Cable Systems throughout the month of August.

Spanning the Globe...

by Ray Scupin and Chris Wallaert

Would you like to have a career in which you traveled and lived in different countries? Do you enjoy learning about other cultures and traditions? Does the challenge of living in Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America, the Middle East or Russia sound appealing? Many multinational companies and government agencies are looking for people with a global and international focus. In addition, many of these businesses expect their employees to live abroad. Through an expanded international studies program at Lindenwood College, this could all be a reality.

The international studies degree coupled with another major can be surprisingly easy to attain. Many of the courses satisfy your general education requirements, and depending upon your major, many count toward both degrees. Thus, you have little to lose and everything to gain if you want to strengthen your major with a practical double major in the area of international studies.

Many of you will be expected to travel, conduct international business and develop relations with people from different cultures. Why not prepare yourself with a major in international studies? The 1994-95 Undergraduate Catalog (pg. 46) describes in more detail the courses required for this degree. For more information contact either Ray Scupin Ph.D., professor of sociology and anthropology (ext. 4730), Joe Cernik, Ph.D., professor of public administration and international business (ext. 4715), or Gail Hafer, Ph.D., associate professor of management (ext. 4830).

Study Support

by Maggie Boaz

Two students sit together at a table sharing an algebra book, quietly talking. Across the room, a girl lounges on a couch with a copy of Shakespeare's Othello. The guy next to her is working on his chemistry homework. This could be a typical day at the Talent Accomplishment Program Learning Center, which was started last year on the campus of Lindenwood College.

The main goal of the Learning Center is to provide students with extra support in classes, with the help of student tutors.

Brett Desnoyer, the new director of the TAP Learning Center, said, "It's an opportunity to come and speak to someone about classes, who is a peer, not a professor. This provides a comfortable relationship." The tutors are all recommended by their professors and are often assigned to the Learning Center as part of their work study hours at Lindenwood.

There are many different types of tutors, and they all work hard to help the student solve the problem. If, however, the problem is one the tutor can't solve, Desnoyer contacts the professor for extra help. "I try to make sure the student that comes for help gets it," he said.

Of the 32 tutors in the program, 11 are English tutors. However, Desnoyer says the Learning Center is not just a writing center, and that the best feature of the program is "the relationship between students and the tutor; they're in the same peer group."

A student with a problem can either make an appointment with a tutor or stop in when it's convenient. The Learning Center, which is located on the third floor of Butler Hall, is open Monday through Thursday from 1-5 p.m., then reopens from 6-9 p.m. Rooms on the third floor are open for studying until midnight.

Parents Weekend Activities Scheduled

The Lindenwood College Parents Weekend will showcase a number of exciting events this year. Students and their families may participate in activities ranging from tours of the historical Lindenwood campus to the President's Brunch at the Lindenwood College Club.

Here is a list of the events scheduled for the weekend:

Friday, November 4

9:00am-7:30pm..Welcome, Information & Check-in: Butler Hall Parlor
All Day ..... Parents are invited to attend classes with their daughter or son and meet faculty advisors
8:00-8:45pm ..... Guitar Ensemble and Saxophone Quintet: St. Charles Presbyterian Church
8:45-9:30 pm ..... Dessert Reception: Heritage Room, Ayres Dining Hall

Saturday, November 5

9:00-11:00am ..... Welcome, Information & Check-in: Butler Hall Parlor
9:00-10:00am ..... Continental Breakfast with faculty & staff: Ayres Dining Hall
10:00-11:00am ..... Residential Open House for all family members
10:00-11:45am ..... Kampus Kids: Activities, games and stories for younger brothers and sisters in Butler Gym
10:15-11:15am ..... Tours of the Campus: Meet in Butler Hall
11:00am-1:00pm . . .Brunch in Ayres Cafeteria
1:30-4:30pm ..... Football Game: Lions vs. Peru State College
4:30-6:30pm ..... Barbecue
8:00-9:30pm ..... The Lindenwood College Talent Contest and Comedy Show: Lindenwood College Club

Sunday, November 6

Morning ..... Attend church of choice. Special recognition service at St. Charles Presbyterian Church
11am-1pm. .... President's Brunch and Reception at the Lindenwood College Club
2-4pm ..... St. Louis Artists' Guild Photography Show and Reception: Hendren Gallery, Harmon Hall

For more information, please contact Barbi Dodds, director of student activities, at ext. 4848.

Winter Sports Season Preview

by Graham Boain

Wrestlers Going For The Big Win

"If we don't win the national championship this year, I will be highly disappointed." This is the challenge that Coach Stacey Weiland has placed on his team going into the 1994 wrestling season. Not to worry, though, the 1994 version of the Lindenwood Lions wrestling team looks unbeatable. As of October 11, the Lions were ranked number one in the NAIA pre-season coaches poll. This lofty ranking is directly related to the Lions' fourth place finish nationally last year.

From last year's team, Coach Weiland will turn to All Americans Keith Ketcham, Rod Alton, and Trent London to provide the leadership. Weiland will also look to several veteran transfers to add even more punch to the lineup. Kevin Randleman, Ricky Williams, Scott Schluchter, Steve Hughes and Antonio Cooper are all new to the Lions this year. They bring a combined eight national championships between them.

The Lions start their season on the road against Iowa State November 4th. The first home match is slated for January 25th against Missouri Valley Coach.

Hoopsters Look To Rebound

Men's Basketball Coach Rick Kestner believes "consistency" will be the key to this year's team. Coming off a 6-25 season, the Lions are anxious to improve on that mark this year. Kestner feels that Brian Lloyd, Kerry Jackson and David Wors will give plenty of quality minutes this year.

In addition to Lloyd, Jackson and Wors, Kestner is looking for several transfer players to make a sudden impact. The Lions will surely be stronger on the glass this season with the additions of 6'8" Danny Loeh and 6'5" postman Damon Coachman. Expect the Lions to also be stronger at the guard position with the addition of Greg Petty. The team opens the 1994 season November 12th against Christian Brothers University at the Lindenwood Sports Complex in Bridgeton.

Women's Basketball

After last year's impressive 24-7 record, Lady Lions Basketball Coach Steve Crotz is looking forward to another successful year. Crotz said this is "the best team I've ever had, on paper." He also said that "winning their conference" is very high on the Lady Lions' goal list for the season. With all the talent the Lions have this year, it appears that team chemistry will be more important than ever.

Crotz will look toward Shannon Malek, a returning first team all-conference forward, and LaToya Brown, another first team all-conference performer, to provide plenty of quality minutes. Crotz will also be turning to Vanessa vanParijs, who played for Lindenwood from 1990-92, before going home to the Netherlands.

Be sure to come out for the home opener November 21 as the Lady Lions take on Central Missouri State University!

LindenWorld

The LindenWorld is published monthly. Student submissions are welcomed, and should be forwarded to the LindenWorld via Campus Mail.