Faculty and Students Endorse Coordinate College

The faculty and students of Lindenwood College have endorsed a proposal for the establishment of a coordinate men's college on the Lindenwood campus. The unanimous endorsements were made by students and faculty members who attended a joint meeting, December 11, to hear the following report presented by student and faculty committees.

In recent years, it seems that all across the country students and faculty have become very concerned about the nature of the education being offered in their colleges and universities. Faculty members care about how and what they teach. And students care very much about what they learn and how they learn it during those four long and important years. When there is a disagreement about educational policies, or people want a change, a frequent result is revolt, and you have a Berkley, a Columbia, or a San Francisco State. Regardless of whether a revolt can be justified, it is unfortunate, because people often get hurt, and they always get angry—which only makes each side more determined to stick to its views and demands. But there is such a thing as peaceful change. This kind of change is brought about by people listening to each other, compromising, and deciding the issues together. And the peaceful change can be most satisfactory when people understand it and are happy with it.

The time came for a change in higher education in St. Louis not long ago, and last weekend the real turning points were reached. I'm speaking of two colleges now. At Washington University, 250 students occupied the administration building for 30 hours, until the faculty ended two lengthy meetings in which they agreed to seek more student participation in decision-making processes. By Sunday, there were still rumors of unrest at Wash. U. But the story you didn't read in the papers or hear on the news took place at Lindenwood. Here, in two also lengthy meetings, faculty and students were actually involved in decision-making. This is a rather unusual situation, and what is still more unusual, we actually agreed on every major point.

The committee which met Friday afternoon in Young Lounge to discuss the issue of men at Lindenwood was made up of three smaller committees—one of faculty, one of male students, and one of female students. These committees had previously met separately. On the women's committee at that time, we agreed to set aside our own personal feelings, to arrive at what we felt would be the general opinion of the student body, and to make our judgments on the basis of the facts. We drew a few conclusions from our private deliberations, but left many things open. Then we began this marathon meeting on Friday. The whole committee went over very carefully old and new background material—material students rarely know about their college. The faculty spoke, the students spoke, the administration spoke, and so on and so forth. Finally we drew up recommendations and voted on them. Our proposal will be presented next month to the Board of the College, who will take some kind of action on it.

The important thing is that everybody was heard, and we all agreed. And some of us who were diehard backers of "Lindenwood the way it used to be" are now very enthusiastic about "Lindenwood the way it can be tomorrow." We sincerely hope you will share our enthusiasm.

Now I'd like to read some of the material which figured into our reasoning.

Summary Report and Recommendations of the Faculty-Student committees on Men at Lindenwood.

The faculty and student committees making this report were assigned the task of studying the present circumstances of Lindenwood in the light of the changes taking place among private liberal arts colleges in general and among men's and women's colleges in particular. Our primary concern, of course, was a secure and dynamic future for Lindenwood, and although there was a feeling among committee members that some form of coeducation was the expected outcome, it was obvious that we must proceed objectively and allow the realities to lead us to our conclusions. If our investigation should lead us to the conviction that Lindenwood should remain a woman's college and that any form of coeducation would threaten the integrity and future well-being of the college, then our report would have to make this clear.

It is, indeed, unthinkable that there should be any other conclusion to our investigations and discussions than a set of recommendations which will preserve the advantages of the Lindenwood education, protect the college from the threat of obsolescence which private liberal arts colleges in general are facing, and prepare the way for growth toward the kind of relevance in high education which could make Lindenwood one of the outstanding colleges of our nation. In this light, it is apparent that even a decision to remain what it has been for the past 20, 50, or 100 years would not be enough. The changes in our academic, social, and political environment have already occurred. Some kind of program for development was clearly essential for our work to have any meaning.

How we proceeded and what kind of information we used will best indicate the degree of objectivity and of justness in our conclusions. We were—as is true of the whole Lindenwood community—divided in our personal opinions and no agreement could ever have been reached by simply taking a vote on what individuals wanted. As a committee, we had to assume the role of trustees of the future, not the past or present, character of Lindenwood. Somehow information, reason, and the creative imagination had to be given the chance to point the way.

This is the procedure we followed. Each committee had its own area of emphasis. The faculty concentrated on academic and financial matters. The women concentrated on student life. The men stressed the relation of the dormitories and physical plant to the life of the college. All of the committees together, however, placed their particular emphases in the larger context of (1) what was going on in the nation, (2) what colleges similar to Lindenwood were experiencing, (3) what Lindenwood's circumstances were, and (4) what possibilities for the imaginative use of our resources existed now or could be brought into existence.

Among the facts about what is going on in the nation are such matters as the following:

(1) There has been great expansion in publicly supported colleges and universities. Three hundred new branches of universities, for example, have been established since 1945. Two hundred thirty two-year colleges have been built since 1960. In Greater St. Louis, the state university at Normandy has started from zero and grown to an enrollment of 8000 in three years. Community junior colleges are serving ten thousand students or so where two years ago they did not even exist. The state pays the cost for these developments and makes them available to state residents at moderate tuition rates.

(2) There is a trend toward providing state scholarships for students who attend private colleges in their own states. Illinois, New Jersey, and New York, for example, once supplied large percentages of Lindenwood enrollment but financial pressure in the form of state aid keeps many potential Lindenwood students at home now that state scholarships are available. Missouri, on the other hand, provides no support for her residents who want to attend private colleges in their state.

(3) There is a lull in the college-age population which will last until 1972. In a period of increased opportunity for a good education at state supported universities, applications for admission at private colleges are declining.

(4) Because of generous state support, public universities are growing in quality as well as quantity. At the same time, the private liberal arts colleges, which have traditionally set the standards for excellence, face difficulties in getting top students for enrollment levels sufficient to support their academic quality. Every private college in the country must find new ways to be distinctive in order to provide for those students who need and want the intellectual and cultural life of a smaller, private, and therefore more idiosyncratic institution.

(5) Such facts have led to statements like this one by Dr. Miles, President of Alfred University. He takes his first three points from a report made by McGeorge Bundy's panel on higher education. These plus two of his own points make up his recommended formula for the survival of the small, private college:

- (a) Development of an efficient and economic administration
- (b) Development of strong private support
- (c) Development of state or federal aid for private institutions
- (d) Private college relevance to student interests and to world problems
- (e) A distinctive character

Dr. Miles' summarizing observation is that: unless the private college program is significantly different from that of the public institution, it doesn't deserve to survive.

Among colleges similar to Lindenwood—that is, men's and women's colleges—we considered this kind of information:

(1) In their announcements this fall that they are becoming coeducational institutions, Vassar, Bennington, Wesleyan, William, Connecticut College, Princeton, and Yale have all acknowledged the growing difficulty of getting highly qualified students to maintain economical levels of enrollment for academic excellence. To quote from the Vassar faculty committee's report: "To teach men along with women here would be the sort of thoroughgoing, major educational venture that would not merely be intended to solve a few of Vassar's current problems and improve its 'image' but would help keep Vassar in the forefront of quality education where it wants to be." Princeton reports the difficulty of getting the best qualified professors for sexually segregated teaching and sees coeducation to be necessary for it to maintain its prominence in American education. In establishing a coordinate college for women at Hamilton College, the spokesmen, in the official announcement, claimed that their "mission includes the blazing of new trails and not just the widening of old ones."

In nearly every case, sexually segregated colleges moving toward coeducation have uppermost in their thinking—not the immediate threat of declining enrollment—but the absolute necessity to continue to be the kind of college which Dr. Miles would say deserves to survive.

(2) The prevalence of this thinking is further in evidence in a report made by the U. S. Office of Education that over 60 (26 men's and 36 women's) traditionally separated colleges have gone coeducational in 1968. Again, the prevailing reason is not economic but a conclusion reached in the light of current attitudes that (to quote the journal, Higher Education and National Affairs): "separate higher education for the sexes has outlived its historical justification, while coeducation is a more realistic reflection of society, provides a more stimulating, intellectual and social environment, and enables the institution to be more competitive in attracting the best students of both sexes."

The information concerning Lindenwood's circumstances, placed in the context of our understanding of the national situation, renewed our confidence in the college's future, yet raised a question as to which alternative to choose to assure the best prospects for that future. The following facts will make this apparent:

(1) Lindenwood's endowment of nearly nine million dollars gives us, as an institution of our size, a secure base for growth comparable to the best of the eastern colleges, which we have been studying.

(2) Lindenwood is in a growing urban community. Projections are that St. Charles will have over 200,000 population by 1990. Diversity in cultural and educational opportunity is at our doorstep.

(3) Our new curriculum, programs like the Communication Arts, the Mathematics Center, and plans for expansion in the Fine Arts, in Urban Affairs Study, etc. are already moves in the direction of the college that not only will, but deserves to survive. When we read Vassar's report on the new program now under consideration, we find a four-one-four calendar, expanded on and off-campus independent study, January term programs, and Wednesdays free. They even propose a 34-course requirement for graduation in place of the old credit system. It is clear that Lindenwood—while it has not announced itself ready for coeducation—has already established a program which belongs to the future.

(4) In other ways, moreover, we find our situation similar to these colleges. The recently increased competition for well-qualified students has caused a decline in our applications for admission. We now have 577 students with a faculty and physical plant which could serve 800. We need this size faculty and plant not just for 800 students but, more importantly, for a creative academic program. We can't have strong sociology, mathematics, communication arts, natural science programs without a sufficient number of instructors. More students, in other words, are needed not simply to pay the fixed costs of maintaining buildings which are not fully utilized but to sustain the college academically. We need to grow beyond the 800 to become the college which will thrive in the world of the 1970's and 1980's.

(5) Our problem is aggravated by a low retention rate. Although it is improving, it still handicaps our development. In the past five years, the graduating classes at Lindenwood have represented 23-41% of the students entering as freshmen. The class of 1969, for example, entered as a class of 327 students and will graduate 122 of these, or 37%.

(6) At the same time, our entering classes of freshmen are smaller. The freshman class this year has 160 members instead of the 325 member class of two years ago. To keep the same total of 577 students, we need a freshman class of 225 next year and many more if we are to grow toward a minimum economical and academically viable size of 800.

(7) One effect of our enrollment problem is that it makes our deficit too large for us to continue full support of our new program and prohibits us from desired enrichment and further growth. Just to fill Ayres and Nicolls would provide dormitory income to offset fixed costs of maintenance and free funds for academic use even without counting the tuition income.

(8) A second effect of the enrollment and retention pattern is that our upper division is so much smaller than the lower division. In the fall term of 1968, for example, there are 69 classes out of 170 with fewer than 10 students, or 40%. Twenty-one (or 12.35%) have fewer than 5 students. While small classes are often desirable in certain subjects, having so many makes instruction excessively costly. It means, furthermore, that there are not enough majors in certain subjects to enable the college to keep and to attract the highly qualified instructors needed.

(9) Where do our students go after the first year or two at Lindenwood? Out of 2,295 transcripts (since 1951) sent by Lindenwood at the request of students transferring to other colleges, 2,276 or 98% went to coeducational institutions. Of these 64% were sent at the end of the freshman year, 32% at the end of the sophomore year. The implication is that over half of the students who come to Lindenwood as freshmen are not really interested in separate education except on the junior college level and therefore do not remain to give Lindenwood the upper division strength it needs to be first rate in its academic program.

The information thus far considered pointed unmistakably toward some kind of change. What we needed now was an understanding of our resources and of the possibilities of their imaginative use. The following material represents some of the factors which led to our conclusion:

(1) Our program and its potential need more diversity in enrollment. Reports from students and faculty alike argued that men were needed in mathematics, chemistry, music, dance, drama, communication arts, and some of the new programs being envisioned.

(2) Enrollment projections indicate that we need to appeal to the 95% of the college-age population which we have traditionally ignored by asking only for women applicants.

(3) The Sibley deed and charter, on the other hand, tie the Lindenwood name to women's education and would have to be changed if we were to admit men in any substantial numbers. Our attorney informed us that this would be a relatively simple legal procedure but warned that it would require going into the courts and bringing a review of a charter which gives us unusual advantages. Our charter constitutes a legislative grant (one of five given in the state of Missouri) enabling us to use our resources in land and endowment in ways not available to other corporations. A review in the courts of this charter might jeopardize these advantages.

(4) We have however, 134,239 acres of land, a good endowment, and dormitory and classroom space for 264 students more than we have enrolled. Portions of the land were purchased specifically for the use of an adjacent men's college.

(5) In summary, we have the need and the potential for men in the Lindenwood program, but a legal status which makes outright coeducation questionable as the best course to take.

At this point, the choice of alternatives becomes clear. In the charter for the Lindenwood Female College is the stipulation that, by that name, it "shall have perpetual succession and be capable of taking and holding by gift, grant, devise or otherwise, and of conveying, leasing, or otherwise disposing of any estate, real, personal, or mixed, annuities and endowments, franchises and other hereditaments; which may conduct to the support of said college, or the promotion of its objects; and all property of said corporation shall be exempt from taxation, and the sixth, seventh and eighteenth sections of the first article of the act concerning corporations, shall not apply to this corporation."

While we could not become coeducational without disadvantage, we could bring into being a separate men's college with its own name and charter; we could lease our buildings and land to it; we could contract on its behalf for the services of our faculty; and we could collect the income from tuition and fees as more than a return on our investment in legal and other costs for chartering the new college.

We could, moreover, preserve the full integrity of Lindenwood's deed, charter, endowment, tradition, and historic advantages as a woman's college—providing, indeed, by this action, for its growth and increasing excellence. We could also keep separation where we knew this to be important and could take advantage of having men in programs which will develop more significantly because they are fully supported and adequately diversified.

To these ends, the committee prepared a set of six recommendations to be presented to the Board of Directors on January 6, 1969.

Respectfully submitted,

Victoria Lowe, Women-Student Chairman
 Joseph McWhorter, Men-Student Chairman
 Howard A. Barnett, Faculty Chairman

Alumnae Office

Since last August, the Alumnae Office has been receiving returned questionnaires which were mailed to a sampling of alumnae (1 out of every 10) with a view towards updating records and publishing a long overdue directory. The questionnaires have produced a monumental clerical job for the alumnae office staff.

The response to the questionnaire has been excellent and in addition the office has received many constructive suggestions towards a more meaningful alumnae program. It has been impossible to acknowledge each of these suggestions, but they have been noted and where practical, efforts have been made to incorporate these suggestions into the overall program.

At the present time, the office is involved in the final stages of typing and proof reading the material for the directory. The directory will identify alumnae by maiden name, married name, class and by geographic area of residence. The basic listing of alumnae involves more than 16,000 married and maiden names plus an additional 18,000 in the class and geographical listings.

It appears certain that a new directory will be available in the very near future. Those of you who have already ordered your copy will receive your directory as soon as they become available. For those of you who have not yet ordered you may still do so. The cost per copy is $3.50.

NEW YORK - NEW JERSEY

On October 25 alumnae of the New York-New Jersey area gathered at Orsini's restaurant for a luncheon meeting. This newly organized group is spearheaded by Barbara Wexner Levy '47, a member of the Alumnae Council. Their second meeting was held on December 6. Anyone interested in participating in this club please contact Mrs. Herbert Levy, 3 Horizon Rd., Apt. 610, Fort Lee, N.J.

OKLAHOMA CITY

Miss Jean Fields, instructor of English and Communication Arts at Lindenwood, was guest speaker at the opening meeting, November 9, of the Oklahoma City Lindenwood Alumnae Club. Hostess for the pot luck luncheon was Mrs. Thelma Batchellor, mother of Jan Batchellor Ridle and vice-president of the Club. Miss Fields spoke to the group about the Lindenwood Common and the January Off-Campus Studies Program. In December the club enjoyed a holiday party for prospective students. Mr. Earl Davis, Director of Admissions, also attended.

ST. CHARLES

Club members in St. Charles heard Dr. James Hood, professor of history and Assistant Dean of the College, speak on the "History of Political Parties" in October. Their yearly program includes an invitation to President Brown's home in January and their annual card party in February. Profits from the card party provide a scholarship to Lindenwood for a local student.

ST. LOUIS

St. Louis alumnae began their yearly program with a salad luncheon at the home of Betsy Severson Nimock. Dr. James Hood, Assistant Dean of the College and Professor of History, spoke to the club on the Lindenwood Common Course and Mrs. Nancy McClanahan, Alumnae Secretary, told them about the Admissions Council. New Members Elected to Board of Directors

President John Anthony Brown has announced the election of five new members to the Board of Directors of Lindenwood College.

MRS. THOMAS S. HALL, St. Louis, is President of the St. Louis Chapter of the Missouri Association for Social Welfare and Chairman of Child Welfare Commission of St. Louis and St. Louis County. She also serves as a member of the Board of Freeholders. Mrs. Hall received her Masters of Social Work from Washington University and was awarded the Alumni Citation from that institution in 1956.

WILLIAM B. HARRIS, Washington, D. C. attorney, is an adjunct professor of law at Howard University and in the general practice of law with his wife, Patricia Harris, former United States Ambassador to Luxembourg. He is a graduate of Temple University and the Temple University School of Law where he served as associate editor of the Temple Law Quarterly. Active in many Washington area civic groups, Harris served for two years as Consultant for Special Legal Functions in Europe for the Department of State.

DAVID JACOBSON, Palo Alto, California, is the Secretary of Stanford University and a member of the California Bar Association and the American Bar Association. Mr. Jacobson received his A. B. with distinction from Stanford and his LL.B. degree from the same institution. He has served Stanford University in many capacities since 1929. Active in many national organizations, he is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Newhouse Foundation and the Pacific Improvement Company.

JAMES WYLIE QUILLIAN, JR., Oklahoma City, is a partner in the Cravens-Quillian Mortgage Company. Mr. Quillian is a graduate of Georgia Tech. His wife attended Lindenwood as did daughters, Mollie and Sally, who is presently a student at Lindenwood.

DAVID QUINLAN REED, Kansas City, Mo., is a self-employed lawyer in his own private firm. In addition to being an active member of many civic and legal organizations, Mr. Reed is the president of Fairview Enterprises, Inc., chairman of the board, Fairview Complex, Inc.; chairman of the board, Fairview Development Company; and Director, Iowa Electric Light and Power Company. He attended Phillips Academy, Andover, and Princeton University; received his B.S. degree at Stanford University; and his LL.B. was awarded by the University of Michigan.

RICHARD ALLEN YOUNG, St. Louis, is the President of American Zinc Company, St. Louis, Trustee and Treasurer of the St. Louis Educational T. V. Company since 1959, and a Director of the American Zinc Institute. He received his B. S. in Chemical Engineering from Washington University and was the recipient of the Alumni Chemical Engineering Award from that institution in 1960. He has a M.B.A. from Harvard University. The Howard I. Young Hall of Science at Lindenwood was named after his father (deceased) who was for many years President of the Board of Directors of Lindenwood College. Mr. Young's sister (deceased) attended Lindenwood as did his daughter, Harriette.

Tutorial Program

The Lindenwood College Tutorial Program began on October 28 to bring academically and culturally deprived children from the St. Charles area schools to the campus for tutoring sessions on a one-to-one basis.

Sue Josephson outlined the structure of the program: There will be twenty black children from Blackhurst Elementary School; and the same number of white children from McKinley. Tutoring sessions, rather than taking place in the elementary schools themselves, will occur on the Lindenwood campus. "We currently have twenty-five tutors and we need at least fifteen more to make the program a success."

Patty Uren and Sue Josephson will serve as co-chairmen of the program which will be sponsored by the Inter-cultural Programs department under the direction of Mrs. Carole Watson. The Tutorial is associated with the St. Charles Human Relations Council. Mrs. Wilhour, Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Quehl will assist the tutors with problems they might encounter.

"I wish I dead, all the way dead thin I cod have things I wanted. I cod watch ever body and see wat thay doing ever day. Then I cod tach all I wanted," wrote a McKinley tutee for his tutor last year. This illustrates, said Patty, that so many children "need not only academic assistance but also a stable inter-personal inter cultural relationship."

The tutorial project aims to do whatever it can to create conditions which make it possible for minority group children to regain some of the ground lost, and to spark interest in school and in the possibilities of the future, states the handbook from YES (Youth Educational Service). There are four objectives stated in the handbook which the Lindenwood tutorial wishes to use as guidelines said Patty Uren.

First of all, the project provides individual attention by pairing one tutor with one tutee. This arrangement allows a personal involvement and commitment on the part of both, and provides a road to understanding which could not be accomplished in groups or by less personal means. This attention can give the tutee a sense of self-importance and self-respect he frequently has no opportunity to develop in school, or at home.

Second, the project provides a means of overcoming the gap between the school and the home. The atmosphere of the home is rarely conducive to learning, and once away from the school world into the reality of home, books and teachers become unreal. Tutors provide a connecting link for encouraging the tutees to read for enjoyment's sake, to read signs, magazines, to learn the names of objects, emotions, processes and orderly thinking and generally to take an interest in the world around them.

Third, the tutor, by merely being himself, provides a familiar and friendly link with an unfamiliar world. The tutor himself has a commitment in academics, whether it be to obtain a better job or to gain knowledge and insight. Whatever it is, education has some meaning to him, which it often doesn't to the tutee. Relating the plans of the future to the actions of the present is invaluable to the tutee, and is more meaningful coming from someone already committed to this course of action. Also, the tutor provides an accessible example of the society which the tutee often sees as an impenetrable mass, and thus makes it less hostile and more manageable.

Fourth, the project provides additional academic help to culturally separated children. Although in the time the tutor and tutee spend together, the indirect help probably outweighs the direct tutorial help, the fact that the tutee is released from the often more threatening "competitive classroom" situation frequently makes it possible to ferret out conceptual problems.

She further stated that the long-range goal is to do "what little we can to make opportunities more plausible and real to children of the culturally separated community."

Gates To Be Relocated

The historic gates guarding the entrance to Lindenwood College will be moved back approximately ten feet from their present location to protect them from a highway widening project expected to begin within the next six weeks. The pillars which recently have been knocked down will be replaced.

The Missouri State Highway Department has awarded a contract to the J. S. Alberici Construction Company of St. Louis to improve state highway 94 from Interstate 70 to Kingshighway. The project also included widening Kingshighway to provide a right turn lane in front of Lindenwood College leading into state route 94.

Although members of the college's Board of Directors were able to reduce the amount of land which the highway department had originally planned to take from the college by approximately one-half, the low rock wall along First Capitol Drive and Kingshighway will be removed. Funds received by the college in exchange for the land being taken by the highway department will be used to relocate the gates, to plant new trees and shrubs to screen out highway noise.

The highway improvement is scheduled for completion next fall, and improvements to the campus area should be completed shortly thereafter.

Confluence Published This Fall

The second issue of CONFLUENCE, a literary magazine published at Lindenwood, was issued this fall. The magazine has done remarkably well during its short term of existence. The first publication was taught in twenty colleges and universities through out the United States and Mexico. As a result of the first issue CONFLUENCE received a grant from the Coordinating Council of Literary Magazines. CONFLUENCE was founded on the principle of multiple editorship, where decisions on material are made on consensus. The manuscripts are first read by a staff of twenty at Lindenwood College. What survives is sent to the nine Associate Editors, whose judgments and remarks are recorded and tallied, and with the exception of assigned reviews, the editors' selections make up the content of the magazine.

Iowa University is using the magazine as an optional text in core literature to a class of 2,000. Stanford University is using CONFLUENCE in its graduate writing center.

The current issue contains a beautiful poem by a Biafran; a deferment story by an instructor at Phillips-Exeter; a selection from an Ethiopian novel; and features a narrative interview with Ken Kesey spanning two days on his communal farm in Oregon and includes excerpts and photographs from his novel in progress.

New FM Station Infuses Spirit

by Barb Zeliff

From 7 until 10, seven evenings a week, Lindenwood's new FM radio station broadcasts at 89.9 on the radio dial. When asked to compare the situation with that of last year, Student Station Manager Vicki Lowe replied, "It's 100% better. Morale is 'extremely' high, because the students feel they are getting somewhere; they're competing with other FM stations... it's bringing us closer to the St. Charles community."

The FM station is staffed by the students, funded by the College under the Communication arts department, and gives a range of services. Theoretically, it has a ten-mile radius, but reports are returning of a longer range.

Five days a week from 8:15 until 9:00 "middle of the road" music is played, ranging from Brubeck to Sinatra. From 9:05 until signoff one can hear folk, blues, and rock. Vicki added, "The commentators are giving explanations about each song they play; we bill ourselves as bridging the generation gap. Miss Boyer even digs the Iron Butterfly now."

The station also carries public service announcements, state and national news, and stock market and weather reports. The Children's Program consists of a 15-minute story hour. Every Friday evening at 7:05, an in-depth news analysis is presented.

Programs range from black power discussions to tapes on foreign policy to religious presentations. Miss Boyer, Chairman of the Advisory Board which checks radio policies and operations, said, "We hope to have a remote input in the Chapel, Young, and Roemer Hall, so when the College has speakers or special programs, we can carry them to the St. Charles Community."

Vicki ended, "I think we have a really good balance between what the public wants to hear, and what they need to hear. As soon as we have expanded facilities and more people we'll extend our listening hours."

Ford Foundation Grant Received

Lindenwood College has received a grant of $17,700 from the Ford Foundation to assist in tutorial, counseling, and special services for Negro and Puerto Rican students currently enrolled at the college in St. Charles.

"Approximately ten percent of our freshman class comes from Negro and Puerto Rican environments," Lindenwood President John Anthony Brown explained, "because we believe that the point of view which these students bring to the classroom is essential to the relevance of our new curriculum."

"The assistance which we are giving these students with the help of the Ford Foundation and others, is more than compensated for by the contributions which the students bring to the academic community. If our colleges are going to prepare graduates who are capable of providing leadership in today's world," Brown declared, "we must involve students from every sector of American society."

"The relatively small liberal arts college - approximately 600 undergraduates are enrolled at Lindenwood - can provide exceptional opportunities for students from very diverse cultural and social backgrounds," according to President Brown. "A new approach to liberal arts education at Lindenwood, inaugurated in 1967, provides for the kind of curriculum flexibility and individual attention that is needed if the colleges are to serve all sectors of our society."

Class Secretary
Miss Alma Kinkade
Box 336
Joshua Tree, Calif. 92252

ALMA WILLIAMS HOLLER and her husband, Albert, live in St. Louis at 7320 Pershing Avenue. Their daughter and son live in St. Louis County, so they see them often, as well as their eight grandchildren, four girls and four boys. Alma is an active member of the American Art Alliance of St. Louis and has been exhibiting her oil paintings for the last four years. She has, also, kept up her music and plays occasionally for organizations.

In memory of Janet H. Stine the Webster Groves Garden Club Association of Webster Groves, Missouri, dedicated a landscaped island of planting in the center of West Lockwood Avenue and marked it with a bronze plaque. The tribute was in recognition of her activities in the garden club, civic and conservation work, and Arbor Day planting. ERNESTINE THRO MAGNER, '36, President of the Webster Groves Garden Club Association, was in charge of the dedication program and many friends and members of organizations to which Janet belonged were present.

Class Secretary
Enola Smith Carter
(Mrs. Wesley E.)
404 N. Washington
Mt. Pleasant, Ia. 52641

Announcement: ENOLA SMITH CARTER is the new class secretary for the class of '21. Please let her hear from you with news of yourself and family at the above address. Your classmates would like to know where you are and what you are doing! Lets have a lot of news from the class of '21 for the spring newsletter.

DOROTHY TAYLOR HAYMAKER wrote that their daughter, Marti, is assistant to the News Bureau Chief of Time magazine in Beverly Hills, California. Marti spent the first two weeks of June on vacation in Mexico City. Dorothy and her husband spent Mothers Day with their youngest son, James M., at Pfeiffer College in Misenheimer, N. C., where James is head of the Art Department.

ARTRUDE STRANGE BARTON BALL had a spring visit with her daughter, Jennie Lou Barton Chase, who lives in Bremerton, Washington.

ODELLA MCGOWAN has a china, glass and gift shop in Carroll, Iowa, and has also been busy doing work on the State and district level for DAR.

'24

MARY PATTON KERANS and her husband, Vincent, who is now retired, returned in June from a six weeks trip to Ireland, England, Denmark, Sweden, and Norway.

After 30 years of tending to the health and happiness of others, ADALINE AYERS CROSS is going to have more time for her husband and their family of three sons and eight grandchildren. When Adaline opened the district office for vocational rehabilitation in Kansas City 30 years ago, she was the only counselor with the only secretary to handle job placement for 125 disabled persons. By the time her tenure of duty ended June 30, the district supervisor for the section of vocational rehabilitation, state department of education, had watched her staff grow to include 26 professional counselors, 14 secretaries and a case load of 4,000 persons. After 47 years in education Adaline's husband, Jess C. Cross, retired, too, and they are looking forward to getting the most out of the years ahead.

'26

Class Secretary

Class Secretary
Dorothy Gehlbach Ordelheide
(Mrs. Elmer)

St. Charles, Mo. 63301

I send a sincere thank you to all my classmates who responded so promptly to my request for news. I have been thrilled to read these letters and wish I might reply personally. Several of the letters brought reminders that our class will be celebrating its 40th anniversary at the next Alumnae Day in 1969. "How time has flown" is putting it mildly; I don't feel that old, and, judging from the various activities of classmates who responded, I would say that they simply aren't that old!

To those of you have not yet written me, please do so, because we will want to continue having nice long columns of news in future publications.

As for myself, we still live in the home which was built for us 28 years ago—quite a record these days, isn't it? My husband has continued through the years to work for a St. Louis chemical company, and until recently was a traveler. Of our three children, Nancy is married and has a small daughter, Jim works in St. Charles, and Jean is a senior at the University of Iowa. I enjoy immensely my home and friends, keep occupied in spart time with church and club work, and find the days are never long enough for me to accomplish all I'd like.

The teaching profession claims HELEN DIEHR COLDWATER, who is married to a St. Louis surgeon, Dr. Kenneth B. Coldwater. All of this adds up to a very busy life. Helen writes, "We do manage to say 'hello' and 'good-by' to each other". Their son, Kenneth, is a student at Southeast Missouri State College, while daughter Mary Ann and her husband are working on advanced degrees at the University of Missouri. Helen's niece, Karen Diehr, is a Lindenwood student.

ELIZABETH TRACY SCHREIBER and her lawyer husband, Dalton, live in the St. Louis area. Elizabeth, in addition to her teaching French at Washington University, is the organizer and director of a Year Abroad Program conducted by the University in France, Germany, and Spain; this necessitates her making a trip abroad each year to get the students settled in their work at foreign universities. The Schreibers have three married sons and nine grandchildren. One son is a thoracic surgeon, at present in Japan on military duty; the second son is in law practice with his father's firm; while the third, also of St. Louis, is an artist. And Elizabeth began her letter with, "I have nothing very interesting or startling to report".

"Occupation: Traveler" is fitting for PAULINE SCHERER VOGT, also a St. Louis area alumna, who this past summer took another trip abroad, visiting Europe and Africa. Pauline's family, which includes daughter Marilyn, son-in-law, and granddaughter, take advantage of most school holidays to visit interesting places.

WILHELMINA ACHELPOHL KLIPPEL and her husband, Earl, are, in Willie's words, "living a busy retired life". Earl, a former science and math teacher in the Coatesville, Pa. school system, and Willie are finding time for church and community activities, in addition to doing some traveling. Their two daughters are married.

AVANELLE JACKSON POEHLER has led a busy life as a teacher, wife, and mother. Living in Evanston, Ill., and Minneapolis, she taught music in both cities and is still at it in Wilmington, Del., where she and her husband moved in 1960. In the Wilmington area she teaches piano and electric organ in the public schools. The Poehlers have a son and a daughter. Avanelle keeps in touch with JOSEPHINE MACKEY KLINE, her freshman roommate, and reports that recently she had a very short visit with CLARA BOWLES PELLOW.

ELIZABETH MCCLINTOCK ANDERSON feels she has little to tell about herself, and yet she has an interesting and unique occupation—that of Postmaster at Monticello, Ark. She writes, "We have a Branch Post Office at the College (Arkansas A. and M.). Every time I go out to visit I think of the headaches we must have given the Postmaster at Lindenwood—standing in the hall while they put up the mail and jabbering like a bunch of magpies." Elizabeth and her husband, Bill, live on a farm close to town.

JEANETTE WEBB PENDARVIS writes that she is beginning her 13th year as buyer at Sloan's Jewelers in Tulsa. Her vacation this year was spent on a tour of the Scandinavian countries, made even more interesting by her visit with friends in Oslo, Norway. Jeanette mentions having had a visit in June from DOROTHY COWLES CARMEN, class of '30, of Arcadia, Calif.

MARJORIE WATSON WYLIE sends a new address. Because of Marj's ill health, she and her husband, Harold, now retired, have decided to give up their home in Pasadena, Calif., and move to a retirement home. Their present address is 3737 Atlantic Ave., Long Beach, Calif. I am sure we all send wishes to Marj for a return to better health.

It is the business world for NORINE ZIEGLER RISHELL of Shreveport, La. Following a period of 21 years as agency secretary for a New York based insurance company, Norine accepted another position in Shreveport rather than be transferred to the west coast. Her husband passed away some years ago.

A nice long letter from IRENE HALL DARLING TINKHAM brings us up-to-date on a full and interesting life. Irene, widowed and the mother of two daughters, was married to Evan L. Tinkham. They live in Auburn, Me., spending winters in Florida, and journeying on occasion to see one of the daughters who is married and living in Colombia, South America. The Darling-Tinkham combination claims 10 grandchildren. Irene writes, "The resume of the past 40 years doesn't seem very great but it has offered me some tremendous challenges which so far I've been able to meet, and I feel the more experiences—good or bad—happy or sad—the more understanding one has for other folks. The greatest thing I feel I can offer anyone is 'empathy'". She closes with a welcome to any former classmates who may be vacationing in Maine.

MARGARETHA CLARK writes from her home in McFarland, Calif., of having had lunch during the Easter vacation with her college roommate, KATHERINE PERRY KAISER of the Los Angeles area. Katherine (Pep), she writes further, "is an active member of the L.A. Lindenwood Club and always knows much news of L.C. people". Margaretha is quietly hoping to attend our 40th year class reunion next spring.

From Kermit, Tex., comes news of ALICE KINGSBURY BURROWS, who after attending Lindenwood was graduated from the University of Missouri School of Journalism. Her first newspaper assignment took her to west Texas from where she did not return! There was something about a young pharmacist named Kenneth Burrows. Alice has one son, a pharmacist in business with his father, and a new granddaughter. She and her husband enjoy travel during vacation periods and have made trips to Europe, Old Mexico, and Canada, with the hope of seeing Japan next year. Alice says she "would love to hear from all of you". Her address is 524 S. Ash St., Kermit, Tex., 79745.

HELEN HOOK HUME has remained in the St. Louis area and has taught for a number of years. She writes, "I am moving out of the classroom, but not away from teaching. Our Learning Resource Center has become such an active place that it needs a resource teacher. I will be with individuals and groups using various self-learning designed equipment and programming for our Clayton School District's newly licensed FM Radio Station". Helen's present post is with the DeMun School, Clayton, Mo.

A pleasant note from VIVIAN NICHOLAS SHANAFELT, Long Beach, Calif., tells of her busy days in the office of an airplane parts manufacturing company. Vivian has a married son and "two very nice grandsons", ages six and nine, who live close enough for her to visit them occasionally. Vivian's free time is spent in travel; she has been in Hawaii, Tahiti, Jamaica, Mexico, and went recently to Spain and Portugal. A new Hammond electric organ provides relaxation for her after days in the office.

MARY ELIZABETH SAWTELL ARCHERD writes that she and her husband went in 1964 to live in Washington, D.C., where Mr. Archerd passed away in 1966. Work fills Mary Elizabeth's days, interspersed with a few field trips. She mentions seeing occasionally JOAN HOUGHTON WILLIAMS but regrets that no other Lindenwood girls have crossed her path. The forthcoming Lindenwood directory will find a welcome from Mary Elizabeth since she made that very suggestion in her letter.

DORIS LEHMANN CROSSMAN writes from Tuscola, Ill., that she is "homesick to see 'home' again" (St. Charles was her home town). Doris has been teaching for the past 12 years but is looking toward retirement and the enjoyment with her husband of the five-acre oak and hickory woods in which they live.

Life in a small town is lauded by ALINE DAVIDSON HAINSFURTHER, who before marriage lived in Kansas City. She and her husband have a married son "who is the fourth generation to conduct the family business, a men's clothing store". There are three grandchildren. Aline and her husband spend winters in Orlando, Fla. She writes, "In former years I was active in women's organizations, acting and directing plays and assisting in charity drives. Now I am an avid bridge fan, belonging to several clubs. Winchester (Ill.) is very social-minded so I enjoy being with friends and my family".

Receiving a long, newsy letter from RUTH BULLION BRUERE was almost like seeing her and certainly brought back memories of her long stride and cheery greeting. Ruthie, if memory serves me correctly, was our class president for all four years. She and her husband, Jimmy, live at Maumee, O., near Toledo, where Jimmy is president of his construction company. They have two daughters, Susan and Lucie, and three "exceptional, beautiful grandchildren". Ruth describes her happy life as filled to overflowing; she and her husband garden, play golf, and she enjoys doing the things that make for an attractive home. She concludes with this, "I'm just a housewife—haven't written, composed, or earned a thing—but happy as a lark with my lot in life". The Brueres live in the country on 12 acres, and they extend a welcome to friends who may be driving on the Ohio Turnpike. "We're only about a mile from No. 4 exchange. How I'd love to see any and all." Ruth mentions an enjoyable visit last year from Marjorie Bright.

ZELOTTA CASTLEMAN REID has been Clerk of the town of Louise, Miss., for the last 10 years. Zelotta's husband passed away in 1956. She has a daughter who is married, and there are four grandchildren, three boys and one girl.

Such a pleasant and informative letter came from MILDRED SMITH ANDERSON that I found it difficult to cut down and wish that all of it might be shared with you. She writes, in part, "I can't ever imagine feeling like a senior citizen. My life is still so active. I golf, garden, swim, take part in a great many civic and cultural activities, travel some, take time for bridge, and in addition operate my own interior design firm. I am a member of the American Institute of Interior Designers, and in February took part in a project our Rocky Mountain Chapter of A. I. D. did for the Colorado Homes and Garden Show in Denver. We did 19 rooms based on the theme, 'Leisure Living in Colorado'. I was pleased, and also sincerely flabbergasted that my room was one of the two out of the 19 that was pictured in INTERIOR DESIGN magazine. At the moment I am very busy re-doing our municipal airport, inside and out." Later in her letter she says, "I shall always cherish the attitudes gained at Lindenwood, and am happy to note it is in the forefront again in new educational ideas and ideals." Mildred has a married son. Her husband is a senior vice-president of the First National Bank in Pueblo.

PHYLLIS SCHLOESSER COWGER and her husband, a retired school superintendent, continued their traveling last summer with a trip to Hawaii and the Outer Islands, in celebration of their 31st wedding anniversary. Phyllis keeps in touch with ARLENE EWING LAMASTER, SUE AUSTIN HUTCHINGS, and FONDA BROWN. She would like to hear from other former friends at L.C. Her address is Mrs. C.B. Cowger, 405 Lake Shore Drive, Soap Lake, Wash. 98851.

MARION KAISER MUSICK lives in Tucson, but wrote from Virginia City, Mont., where she and her husband, Bill, were working with an art group. Bill, a former art teacher in Chicago, continues his painting during retirement; thus, the Musicks have made many interesting trips to points in this country, Mexico, and Europe living in small out-of-the-way places. Their two daughters are married, and there are four grandchildren. After leaving L.C. Marion earned her master's degree in library science from Chicago Teachers College and taught in the Chicago school system until retirement, when she and her husband moved to Arizona. Marion would like "to gather up the L.C. girls there". Her address is 8906 Shadow Mountain Drive, R.R. No. 6, Tucson, Arizona 85704.

GERTUDE ANNE BENSON HARDESTY writes that she "reads the Bulletins religiously, but finds so few familiar names". Gertrude lives with her family in Wheat Ridge, Colo., where her husband is with General Services Administration. Their son, a June graduate of the Univ. of Kansas, is entering law school, while their daughter is a high school senior and "thinking of Lindenwood next year".

From Honolulu, where she and her husband are staying indefinitely, comes word from BEATRICE WHITLOCK MERRILL, whose home is in Salt Lake City. She writes of an enjoyable visit last year with MARGARET BANKS BENNER and THELMA PARKER ALEXANDER.

A busy and full life is indicated by MARGARET SMITH HARTWICK's letter from her home in Los Angeles. After graduation from the Univ. of Minnesota with the B.S. and M.A. degrees in music and education, Margaret married a lawyer, E.S. Hartwick, now vice-president of Carnation Company. Their son, Ron, is married and living near them. The Hartwicks enjoy golf, baseball, the beach, and in winter spend most week ends at their apartment in Palm Springs.

Still another teacher is MARTHA FARTHING NEWMAN of Chatham, Ill., who after leaving L.C. attended Southern Illinois University but married before graduation. Later she received her bachelor's degree from Illinois College, Jacksonville, and several years afterward her master's degree from the Univ. of Illinois. Martha and her husband have one son and three teen-age grandchildren. She has continued teaching for a number of years, at present being principal of the Chatham Elementary School. Martha writes news also of her sister, SUSAN FARTHING HAILS, the mother of two sons, who teaches in the Springfield, Ill. system.

A St. Charles girl who states she has lived her life not only in the same town but also in the same house, MARGARET DYER OHRMAN earned two degrees from Lindenwood—the B.A. in 1929 and the B.S. in 1932. Margaret did further study at the Univ. of Michigan and at Cornell University, working also for about 15 years in her father's law office, with time off for trips to Europe, South and Central America. "In 1948," she writes, "I married Paul Ohrman, 'the boy across the street'..." The Ohrmans travel when possible but have grown to enjoy the most their summer vacations in Michigan.

DYKE STEINBECK BARTON was featured in an article in the Kansas City Times on May 27, 1968, entitled "Come Into My Kitchen", along with a picture of Dyke making eggs benedict according to her own method. Dyke admits that she has to squeeze her cooking in between community interests. She is now serving as president of the Children's Cardiac Center Auxiliary of Mercy Hospital in Kansas City and is presently on the Board of Directors of Lindenwood. She is a past president of the College's Alumnae Association and also the Kansas City Woman's City Club.

KATHRINE PERRY KAISER moved in the spring to Orange County, California, where she found among her neighbors two former Lindenwood girls, HERMINE LAMBRECHTSE WOOD, '62, and JEAN CRISS GILLISON, '64. Katherine has five grandchildren.

Mrs. Charles Breternitz (MARY JANE TWINEM) writes from Littleton, Colo. that she is always happy to read news of Lindenwood classmates in the Bulletin. She has two daughters, Marty and Sally, and a son, John, who was a freshman last year at the Illinois Institute of Technology where he is studying architectural engineering. Her two daughters are married. The older, Marty, is married to a Navy intern. They have been stationed until recently at Portsmouth, Va., but have been reassigned and will soon be moving to Spain. Sally and her husband have been living in Omaha, Nebraska, but will move to Denver, Colo. this winter. In the early summer, Mary Jane and Charles drove to Chicago, flew on to Portsmouth for a visit with Marty, then picked up their son from school, "with a friend and assorted school paraphernalia" for the drive back to Colorado. Mary Jane does some substitute teaching in the primary grades and has also been active as a volunteer in the Head Start program in her community.

JANE SCOTT JUDD is the wife of a doctor in Kankakee, Ill. She has four children. The eldest son, Scott, is a bachelor, and manages "the world's largest book store" on Wabash Avenue in Chicago. The second son, Jim, is married and in school again to study electronics, after a stint with the Navy. The youngest son, a graduate in law, is with the FBI in California. Jane, their daughter, 17, has been attending an eastern school, but will return to the midwest to enter Athens College in the fall. Jane and her husband, Delbert, enjoy being only 65 miles from Chicago. They can visit their two sons frequently there and enjoy the advantages of the big city, but still lead a fairly quiet and peaceful life in their home on the river in a small town.

MARGARET PERRINE WILSON writes proudly of her family. Her husband, W. Harry Wilson, is Municipal Judge of St. Joseph, Missouri. Her daughter is supervisor of the Welfare Department in that city. Her son spent some time as associate professor at Alaska university, Fairbanks, Alaska, but will soon move to North Texas State University in Denton, Texas, as professor of Urban History. Margaret says she looks forward to the Bulletin for news of her Lindenwood friends.

ESTELLE BRADFORD drove through the Lindenwood campus in December, 1967, for the first time in thirty years, and was enormously impressed with the buildings that had been built since she left in 1929. She greatly admired the harmonious general architecture which is a thing that all schools do not observe in current construction. Estelle's new address is: Manor House, 308 Hitt Street, Apartment 4A, Columbia, Missouri, 65201.

Only four members of the class of '32 attended Alumnae Day on the campus on May 4th; BARBARA RINGER HAMILL came from Oklahoma City, LILLIAN SMITH SHAW from Kansas City, HELEN BURR DAVIES and HELEN BESTE, your secretary, from St. Charles. The four of us had an enjoyable time together and wished you had all been here.

JESSAMINE HINDS McMULLIN had planned to come but took off for a trip to Europe with her husband and did not return in time. She is hoping that a granddaughter is headed for Lindenwood.

RUTH BUCKLEY LUNDY was in St. Charles with her husband who was on business here, and she called to say hello. Her daughter, Jean, now Mrs. Eric Bailey, has returned to Lindenwood to complete her fourth year. Her husband is the band instructor at Wright City this year and they live in St. Charles, so when Ruth comes to see them I hope we can get together.

RUTH CORREA LUCKE and her husband, a retired army colonel, live in Castro Valley, California. Ruth suggests that the class of '32 have a reunion "via the bulletin". She says it is a wonderful media neglected by many of our classmates. So, Class of '32, start those letters rolling for the spring newsletter.

MARY BELLE MONTGOMERY CAMPBELL is an arts and science teacher in the Tulsa Public Schools. She has three sons; the oldest graduated from Oklahoma University Medical School in June, 1968, and the youngest from high school in May. The other son is 22 and Mary Belle's daughter is 14.

SARAH MARGARET WILLIS ENGLISH and her husband, Fred, are farmers and have their son, Joel, recently returned from Viet Nam, helping them. Their other son, Jon, was with the 15th Army Band at Hunter Army Air Field, Georgia, and since the 8th of September has been at the University of Iowa as "Associate in Performance" with the contemporary chamber players. They have a "darling" grandson.

BETTY JANE BURTON STRONG writes that she is a housewife and helpmate to her husband, Robert, who after thirty wonderful and interesting years of assignments to various foreign countries and in the United States, voluntarily retired from foreign service this past fall. They have settled down at 826 West Cresta Loma Drive, Tucson, Arizona, 85704. The Strong's son, 21 years old, was killed in action in Viet Nam in April, 1968. They have two daughters and one grandson.

About the time I feel a complete failure as class secretary in getting news I am rewarded with a delightful and newsy letter like the one from LESLIE ANN McCOLGIN CAMPBELL who writes about her family. Their eldest son, Jerry, received his master's degree in computer science at Iowa State and will continue his studies toward a doctorate. He is married to an Ames, Iowa, girl and they have a toddler, Kimberly Ann, who is the apple of her grandparents' eye.

The second son, Doug, is taking graduate hours toward a degree in social work and coaches the college tennis team. He taught city recreation tennis for years as well as having his own tennis business. He currently gives private lessons. Julie, the youngest and only daughter, was graduated in June from St. John's school of Nursing in Tulsa, Okla., and plans to specialize in intensive care. Leslie Ann who says she can't compete with her trophy winning sports enjoys fishing, refinishing and redecorating, antiques and knits plus playing duplicate bridge. She remains close friends with DOROTHY KNELL COOMBS of Carthage, Mo., HELEN NANCE STINES of Webb City, Mo., and BETTY CRAGIN ECKHART of Sarcoux and sees them when possible. At Christmas she hears from MITZI MUNDAY BAER of Boulder, Colo., and FAYE REUTER of St. Louis. Isn't it great to learn about our L.C. friends this way? The years don't seem quite so many and this is next best to being together. I'll be eagerly awaiting another newsy letter from the rest of you of 1940.

KAY WAGNER ORTH

It's a granddaughter, Katy Ellen, for the Clyde A. Barkers of Kansas City. Mrs. Barker will be remembered as SARAH WILSON and the new baby was born to their daughter, Mary Ellen Barker and her husband, Bob, of Berkeley, California.

George P. Baumunk, husband of BEVERLY MAYHALL BAUMUNK, has been elected president and chief administrative officer of the Washington Steel Corporation, Washington, Pa.

We had a wonderful time at the 25th reunion, but there were so many of you we missed!

I'll try to give some news from those who attended and who were not included in the most recent Class Notes.

DOROTHY BERGER (known to some of her classmates as "Bugsie") had not been back to the campus since she completed her sophomore year there. She continued her education at Kansas University where she received her A.B. with a major in Spanish. She then went to Mexico City for further study, returning to take her first job as foreign trade secretary for the Chamber of Commerce in Kansas City. After three years, she went to work for the CIA, and was posted to Asuncion, Paraguay. While enroute she was fogged in for three days in Lima, Peru where her guide to the city was a delightful old gentleman whose daughters had attended Lindenwood. She also visited Buenos Aires, Montevideo, and Rio de Janeiro while South America. After her CIA adventures, she returned to Kansas City and took a position as manager of the Kansas City office of Strachan Shipping Co., steamship agents, again making use of her Spanish. She continued in this job until this year when she joined her brother in their family business, Atchison Leather Products. She continues to keep her apartment in Kansas City where she is a member of the Lyric Opera Guild and the Spanish Club. In addition to her travels in Latin America, she has been three times to Europe and also to Hawaii.

BARBARA BICKLE, who graduated with our Class of '43, took medical - technology training afterwards at Evanston Hospital. She has worked in the medical field ever since, first for four years at Fort Worth, Texas, then in Geneva, Illinois for eight years. She then worked a year in West Palm Beach, Florida and six years in Lexington, Kentucky before returning to Geneva where she is teaching supervisor at a school of medical technology in the Geneva Community Hospital. She says she keeps house for herself and a cat, the latter being the boss of their menage. Barbara drove her automobile to the reunion with her left leg in a cast. We hope that by the time this news appears she has long since recovered.

KAY ANDERSON CORL reported that she was newly turned into a grandmother. Her grandson is the child of her daughter, Kathy. Kathy is completing her education at Ohio State. Stanley Corl, Jr., her older son attends Columbus Business School. Chris, her 18 year old daughter, graduated from high school with honors and was cheerleader captain. Her younger son, Mike, 16, is a junior in high school, plays football. Kay teaches 8th grade art in her local junior high school, is active in Art Interest, Inc. and a member of the American Symphony Orchestra League.

LUCY HADLEY HENRY completed her education at Indiana University where she received her degree in mathematics. She taught several years at Hawe High School in Indianapolis. In December 1944, Lucy married Alvin Henry. Dr. Henry is an ophthalmologist and is currently president - elect of the Eye, Ear, Nose & Throat Academy of the State of Indiana. In 1947, Lucy accompanied her husband to Korea where he did a tour in military service and Lucy taught in school for children of military personnel. After their return to the United States, Lucy started her own family of five children. Her eldest is Beth, 19, a freshman at Purdue majoring in physical education. Her second is Sue, 17, a junior in high school. Sue is a competitive swimmer and honor student. Her third is Max, 14, an 8th grader. Fourth comes Gail, 12, a 6th grader. The baby is John who is 9. Lucy says she is a drop-out from PTA. She is, however, still active in Girl Scouting. The Henry's enjoy, as a family hobby, their lakeside cottage and a veritable fleet of boats.

FRANCES KELLAM O'BRIEN has the largest family—6 children—of any class member at the reunion. Can any of you unheard - from class members top that figure? Frances also traveled the greatest distance to the reunion, coming all the way from California. Her oldest child, Mary, a WAC captain, came from her post in San Antonio to visit Lindenwood with her mother and her aunt, HELEN KELLAM WELLS, who is also a member of our class. Frances's son Bob, 21, is a student at the University of Nevada where he is a linebacker on the football team. Her son Paul, 19, is in the Army in Viet Nam. Tom, 15, is a freshman in high school. Stephen, 13, is in the 7th grade and Karen, 10, is in the 5th grade. Frances's husband is an Army colonel, soon to retire. Helen's husband, who held Army rank, is already retired and they have chosen a farm at Annada, Missouri for their retirement home.

CORALEE BURCHARD ODGEN came to the reunion despite the fact that she had been nursing an ulcer this spring. Coralee's daughter, Judy, has finished a year at Cornell but spent the past year at home working for her Dad at the bank, because she has had some health problems. She is better and returned to Cornell this fall. Her son, Jamie, completed his senior year in high school and plans to attend college in Missouri, probably Southeast Missouri State at Cape. As Coralee dreads having both her children away, she is glad he will be near enough to see once in awhile.

Our classmate JEANNE HARMON HUESEMANN, who is on the Lindenwood faculty, served on the committee which planned the faculty seminars -- the "Intellectual Happenings" for Alumnae Day. Jeanne conducted one of the seminars, "You and the Computers."

Also on hand for Alumnae Day were CAROL HAMMERSCHMIDT ALCORN, HARRIET COURTNEY CROSBY, RENA EBERSPACHER HALE, MAURITA ESTES STUECK, BETTY SCHOEN TRAIL, RUTH PETERSON WAGGONER, BETTY MYERS EGLE, and, of course, your class secretary.

Prior to Alumnae Day, I received notes and letters from many other classmates, some of whom sent news and some of whom sent mainly greetings and good wishes. LOU DICKEY BAUCUS FARR has four children and, by now, probably two grandchildren, as she was expecting a new member in the family of her oldest son, Bud. Her daughter and oldest child, Penny, were living in Turkey last year with her husband, an Army captain and Lou Dickey and her husband visited them there. The four of them toured in Greece, and then Lou Dickey and her husband visited her son, Bill, who was on Army duty in Germany at the time. Phil, her "baby," was a freshman this year at Texas A.&M. She hopes he stays there and out of the Marines. Her husband's niece, Phyllis Farr, is a freshman at Lindenwood this year.

JEANNA GILES VICKERY, like Lou Dickey, is a grandmother. She was unable to be at the reunion because she had returned to college and was preparing for her final examinations! She was to receive her B.S. degree last June from Southern Illinois University. Congratulations, Jenna!

BARBARA TENNANT SCHULBACH is another who hoped to make it, but didn't. Barbara taught school until she married in 1948, and returned to part - time teaching last year. Her husband is Sales Manager for a radio-TV station in upstate New York. They have two daughters, Barbi, who will be a senior in high school next fall, and Jana, an eighth grader who wants to go to Lindenwood.

ELAINE ANDERSON FELLOWES had to attend her son's Parents' Day at Denison University, but wrote that she would attend our next reunion.

I talked by telephone to MARY SAWYERS MARTIN who sent greetings. She is also a grandmother with two grown - up children, a boy and a girl, and a three year old grandson.

FRANCES SCHUDDE CONOVER couldn't make it as she had to travel through the St. Louis area in late May while on her way back from a trip to Boston to see her daughter get a master's degree at Boston University. She sent good wishes through Rena. JANE FINLEY WILSON wrote that she is a teacher in the Jonesbury, Missouri, school system, and her husband, Paul, is a farmer. Their oldest daughter, Mary Etta, was married to David Quigley on June 9 and they are living in Kirksville where David is employed and Mary Etta is a sophomore majoring in music at Northeast Missouri State College.

Others who sent greetings were RUTH HAINES DOERING, BETTY PROCTOR, DIXIE SMITH FERRY, JANET THOMAS NILSON, NINA ARGANBREIT PETERSEN, JEAN GRAHAM JOHNSON, MARJORIE NUTT RAMSEY, and ELOISE HAINLINE HUWALDT.

Concluding my notes I want to give special thanks to Maurita for helping with arrangements for the reunion and to Maurita and Harriet for creating our very clever class badges.

DOROTHY HESS KIRKPATRICK is married to William Kirkpatrick, an associate professor at California State Polytechnic College since 1954 when they returned from Bangkok, Thailand, after two years with the United States Government. He works at the college with foreign students. They have a son Don, 18, and a daughter, Susan, 13. This year they have a new son in their home, a high school exchange student from Stuttgart, Germany, and they are enjoying him very much. Dorothy has been kept busy since her days at Lindenwood with A.A.U.W., the Faculty Wives Club, church affairs, and she is also a substitute teacher in kindergarten and grade one. The Kirkpatricks live at 267 Luneta, San Luis Obispo, California.

One of our busier alumnae, MARY JO FLOURNOY ROTER found time for a note to tell of her activities as wife, mother and teacher. After attending Lindenwood she studied at Kansas University where she received a master's degree in music education, specializing in psychiatric music therapy. Currently, she is applying her theories with a class of emotionally disturbed children and doing additional study through a Fellowship from Kansas University Medical Center. Mary Jo and her husband (managing editor of Midwest Industry Magazine) live at 2544 Kent, Topeka, Kansas, with their children D'obie, 12, Lisa, 9, and Mark, 7.

After years of army life and its wanderings, JANE BOGUE KINNEY has returned "home" to Oklahoma City following the death of her husband, Maj. Ludie Kinney, last April, after a year's illness. Jane and children, David, 13, Nancy, 10, and Janet, 3, are living at 9829 Ridgeview Dr. in Oklahoma City. She writes that she is still in touch with her roommate, LOUISE LEWIS VAN GURDY, in Dallas, and would enjoy hearing from other college friends.

On June 17, 1968, BETTY JEAN PACATTE SHOWMAKER accepted a position at Boise State College, Boise, Idaho, as Co-ordinator of Adult Basic Education.

RUTH KAWAHARA DONOHUE, who received an A.B. degree at Lindenwood, was recently awarded a Master of Science degree in Education.

From Algotto Spain, MARIA ZARRAGA DE SALDANA, writes, "I spent four months last year with my parents in Florida. My husband, Ignacio, and I flew from Madrid to New York and then to St. Louis where I was met by Shirley Price of Belleville, Illinois, and Marilyn Meyer of Lebanon, Illinois. My husband and I stayed at Marilyn's three or four days and we enjoyed every minute of it. I wanted my husband to see what an American college looks like and all the opportunities and facilities and fine surroundings a college offers. While at Lindenwood we went through all the dormitories and went to Cobbs Hall to see the room Marlin and I shared for two years. My husband and I really enjoyed our visit." Maria took an English course at Deusto University in Bilbao and has a teacher's certificate in English and she has also taken a lot of art courses. She still enjoys cooking and her husband's favorite is American cake. She has "the flour sent from the United States because your recipes don't turn out with Spanish flour."

A wonderful time was had by all that attended our 15th class reunion. The highlight of our reunion was a dinner held at the Mother-in-law House, operated by Mr. Carl House, former dietician at Lindenwood. He and his wife are remodeling an old home on South Main St., in St. Charles. The atmosphere was great, the food excellent, and the fellowship grand! Those attending the dinner were:

MARY LOU McLEOD BERTRAM. Don couldn't be with us as his high school class was having their reunion. We were pleased that Mary's folks, Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. McLeod, from Winter Haven, Florida, could be with us. Dr. McLeod gave the invocation. Mary Lou and Don have four children: Donnie, 13, Ruth, 10, Bobby, 7, and Timmy, 1 year.

SUE CARPENTER FINCK and husband Paul, who were married in 1950. They have enjoyed the activities of the Missouri Oil Jobbers Association and in 1961 both earned their private pilot license. Sue has established a small library at Immanuel Lutheran School. They have four children: David, 15, Ricky, 13, Jonathan, 7, and Lisa, 5. David spent two months traveling through Europe this summer with his German teacher.

MARLENE OPITZ CARPENTER who married Sue Finck's brother, Parks, a St. Louis attorney, and they have two children: Jody Sue, 13, and Janet Lynn, 10. The Carpenters have just remodeled an old pre-civil war house. Marlene's hobbies are sailing, bowling, bridge, painting, girl scouting, and antiques.

TILL HAGERTY McPHERSON who has three children: Melissa, 5, Matthew, 3, and Elizabeth who was eight weeks old when they attended the reunion. Till said, "At this time my talents are making Kool-aid and baloney sandwiches. I would love to re-establish contact with some old Lindenwood friends."

MARY HENRY NAYLOR and husband, John, who is with W. R. Grace and Co., have one daughter, Jen, 15. Mary teaches English and Social Science as a substitute high school teacher.

PEGGY PENNEL McCORD and William traveled the farthest to attend our reunion. They have four children: Ann Pennel, 5, Bill, 3, and twin boys, John and Alex, 13 months. Peggy also finds time to teach piano and play for church services. She supplied the address of one of our lost alumna: Delores H. Allison, 2309 W. Broadway, Columbia, Mo., or Stewart St., Springfield, Mo.

PHYLLIS LAUX KENDIG married her college sweetheart, John, who is a neurosurgeon. John's mother, Mrs. Ruth Kendig, is a house mother at Lindenwood. The Kendigs have one son, Andy, 8.

PHYLLIS HEYSSEL graduated from Missouri University in 1953 and now lives in Clayton. She is employed at McDonnell-Douglas.

JOAN GILLETTE SILVERBERG

writes, "The last several years we have spent traveling around the country with Bob's job at McDonnell-Douglas and had acquired quite a family. We have children born in Illinois, Missouri, California, Virginia, and New Mexico. All total, we have five boys and one girl, the oldest a freshman in high school."

CAROLYN WHITE FINKE married Wes soon after graduation. They have three children: Beth, 13, Scott, 11, and Jane, 8. Carolyn is active in Presbyterian Church work, Republican Women's work, scout leader, and has taken three European trips.

JAN BLEVINS LANGE and Tom just moved into their lovely new home this spring. That's a long way from the little but they started in. They have three children.

NADA SUE ROBERSON SCHNEIDER: "Vern an attorney, and I were married in 1955. We have three children: Lawrence, 11, Susan, 7, and Sarah, 5. They will all be in the same school this year, so Vern is going to be president of our PTA. We are active at Central Presbyterian Church. I am also active in P.E.O. and this year will be vice president of the St. Louis Lindenwood Club."

We were also pleased to have as our guests Dr. and Mrs. McCluer, Mary Lichtner, and Lula Clayton Beale. Harry Hendren, our class sponsor, sent his regrets from Europe.

ANN GOODALL DEW had planned to attend the dinner, but at the last minute her husband, who is with McDonnell-Douglas, had to be out of town. They have six children. Annie said, "I would love to hear from 'ole' friends."

The following from St. Charles had made reservations but were unable to attend: George and JOAN BLESSING DALLMEYER; Jerry and EMILY KNUTSON LEWIS; and Jerry and NONA LOU HAND PLACKMEYER.

My sincere thanks go to Mary Lou Bertram, Carolyn Finke, Phyllis Kendig, and Emily Lewis for serving on the reunion committee.

It was great hearing from so many of you who could not be at the reunion. For once I have lots of news. JEAN KNOX BARKLAGE wrote that they would like to attend, but would be in Florida.

VIRGINIA AKERS COLLIER graduated from Missouri University in 1953 and shortly thereafter married Ora. They live on a farm near Albany and have two boys, 14 and 12.

JANE EDWARDS DUNNING graduated from Missouri U. in 1953, also, and that summer married Ernie. They have two children, Jim, 12, and Martha, 9. Jane is active in P.E.O., Kirkwood Presbyterian Church and does substitute teaching.

BARBARA SPANDET GAZZOLO writes: "After leaving Lindenwood in 1950, I studied at Lawrence College in Appleton, Wisconsin, majoring in psychology and economics. After graduation father loaned me enough to bum through Europe for three months. I went to work for Rotary International in Evanston, Ill." Again in '55 Barbara spent five months traveling through Europe and in 1957 she married Francis. They have three children.

PAT THOMAS HENDRICKSON writes, "Golly, I came very nearly getting there. It was only at the last minute that plans had to be changed, reservations, canceled, etc. We're 'mountain people' these days and enjoying skiing, riding, hiking, and other activities that are part of life in the Sierras. We also manage the trip to San Francisco with regularity. After ten very carefree years, including a wonderful period of living abroad, we finally settled down and started a family." Their children are Vik Thomas, 3, and Mitchell Dean, age 7 months.

LORRAINE HACKMANN JORDAN and John were married in 1954 and moved to Owensboro, Kentucky, where John was, and still is, employed by General Electric Co. In 1966 they were sent to Syracuse, N.Y., and on to Chesapeake, Va. Lorraine says, "We love this tidewater area and feel as we are reliving history as we are very near Williamsburg, Yorktown, and Jamestown. We have three wonderful children, all adopted: David, 10½, Connie, 9, and Cheryl, 6." I think Lorraine speaks for many of us when she said, "Today my life is very typical of the housewife and mother, trying desperately to manage a home, contribute to the community and at the same time play chauffeur for the scouts, little league, brownies and choir. At times I feel like I am nothing but a chauffeur."

It was great to hear from my old roommate, RACHAEL STAUFFER JUDY. Rachel graduated from Kansas University where she met Dick. They have traveled extensively and now live in Toronto. Rachael writes, "I am afraid I can't be in St. Charles for the reunion. Dick is in the Soviet Union until May 5th and I have the full responsibility for four children, two turtles and a beagle, plus our old house. We live in a town house close to the university, the museums and theaters. The children (Alex, 9, Caroline, 8, Stephen, 3, and Margaret, 2) are involved in things like figure skating, hockey, and soccer." Rachael said she would love to hear from old friends. The last person from L. C. she saw was YVONNE KIRKLAND STARK. They accidentally met in New York before all three left for Europe.

PETE EAVEY MOORE wrote that she would like to attend our reunion, but she was planning to be in St. Louis for the Missouri P.E.O. convention. She felt she couldn't be gone two weekends so close together.

BETH BANTA McHANEY: Beth wrote that she would be with us in thoughts, but could not make the trip as she was expecting. I understand she had a daughter, Katherine. They now have four prospective L. C. students, Lisa, 12, Susan, 10, Mary, 7, and Katherine. Beth writes she participates in a number of social and civic groups: P.E.O., DAR, a garden club, bridge group, PTA, First Presbyterian Church and Girl Scouts. Her husband is engaged in the general practice of Law in Cape.

ANN SHENKNER NIEMANN wished that she could attend but due to illness in her family she could not. She said, "Guess I'll have to attend the 25th!"

GLORIA STRIBLING PETTIJOHN'S husband is a captain for TWA and flies the DC-9. They have two children, Doug, 10, and Laurie, 8. Gloria said, "Know it will be a fun weekend. Sorry I can't make it." They had just built a new home and were moving that weekend.

VERA SCHMOLKE MERCIEL was unable to attend as she was married just the week before on April 28. Congratulations! Hope you can make the 25th reunion.

ROSALEE SLY SEYMOUR and Blaine have three sons: Jay, 15, John, 12, and Jamie, 5. Rosalee says, "We are a busy family - the oldest boys are in the scouts, Jay has his Eagle rank... Please give my best regards to the class of '53!"

BETTYE THOMPSON SIGNER writes, "Being a cub scout den mother, substitute teacher, financial secretary of my church, bridge club, civic duties, homemaker, keeps me jumping. John and Jan keep involved with their activities, too. It's a great life if you don't weaken".

BOBBIE HOMRA SMITH "As for me, I keep pretty busy as I started a second family - Bobby, 2. Mike is 14 and Terry, 17, will graduate next year. Jean was called back into the service in August, '67". He is in CID, Criminal Investigation Department and last June he left for Viet Nam for twelve months.

ALICE WALTHALL TAYLOR "Hello from New Orleans! Can I believe it has been 15 years? I must say the years have passed very quickly... Zack and I had our 15th anniversary last December and our son, Cal, will be 15 in October. The other members of the Taylor tribe are Susan, 13, Melinda, 12, and Bill, 8. Needless to say the scheduling of activities for the children becomes quite complicated, but since I play the role of social secretary and chauffeur, you know I'm never bored". Zack is Sales Representative for the Lamp Division of General Electric.

CARMEN ZARRAGA PRELLEZO and her family, and also her parents, escaped Communist dictatorship in September, 1960, and are now living in Florida where their address is 9110 S. W. 29th Terrace, Miami, 33165. Carmen is working at the University of Miami at the health center, where she is a secretary and receptionist and, also, helps as a translator for all the Spanish speaking foreign students there. Her husband, Esteban, works as a salesman for Lykes Meat Company and they have two sons, Esteban Juan, 12, and Felipe, 8.

CAMILLA McCLUER BEDINGER and Hobart L. Edwards of Arvada, Colorado, were married on June 22, 1968, in Denver, Colorado. They will live in Arvada where Camilla is an art teacher in the Jefferson County School District.

To end on a sad note ROSEMARY PAULE OLENDORPH passed away in 1968. Sincere sympathy is extended to her family.

MOLLY PETERSON LaMARCHINA has the triple task of cashier - bookkeeper - at a furniture store in Panorama City, California, piano accompanist for the four cellists in her family, and assistant organist of the Toluca Lake Methodist Church. Her husband, Antonio, spent one month in Argentina visiting his relatives and purchasing musical instruments. He appears as cellist in the movie "The Secret War of Harry Trigg". Arthur, 11, has also performed many times as a cellist and Robert LaMarchina, the conductor of the Honolulu Symphony, was guest conductor of the Ojai, California, Festival in May.

Charles W. Bray III was promoted by President Johnson to Class 3 in the Foreign Service of the United States, and is presently assigned to the Department of State as Special Assistant to the Deputy Under Secretary for Political Affairs. Mr. Bray is the husband of ELEANOR MAUZE and they have three children, Charles W. IV, 9, David C., 7, and Katherine M., 5. Eleanor is 2nd Vice President, American Foreign Service Women's Association.

What a marvelous time the class of 1958 had in May at our tenth reunion! Several of you have written asking the details, so I'll begin by telling who was there. MARIVA DORMAN RODENMEYER, BETH DEVLIN JETT, BETTY MILLER HARRIS, DORIS LANGENECKERT DIECKGRAEFE, MARIA CHERNER MUNROE, SANDY TAYLOR FISH, HETTY JAMES PRICE, WANDA BULLARD LESLEY, MARCIA JONES CURRIE, JOAN LeCLAIRE FINK, MARTHA ROSENBERGER

ZIMMERMAN, ANN GATCHELL NISSING, MAGGIE MEYER HAUSER, ALICE LaFEVER SCHUPP, CONNIE GIBSON STOECKER, CAROL GARDNER TRANSOU, and EDWIN VAN WOERT.

We began by having breakfast together in the new Young Hall. You could tell where our class was by all the noise - everyone showing baby pictures: Beth's suitcase was lost, and several of us were busy looking for our favorite professors. After touring the campus and attending the alumnae meeting, lunch was served in Ayres. The retiring faculty was honored - and I was asked to present Dr. Clevenger with his gift from the alumnae. After the formal speech, our class made an informal presentation of a package of gum - quoting to Dr. Clevenger his famous "gum-chewing girl" poem!

That night our class had a special dinner at Noah's Ark, a new restaurant in St. Charles. Doris and Sandy had planned this - and it was quite successful, with most of the girls bringing their husbands. Following this, we ended up at Doris and Alan Dieckgraefe's home in St. Louis, where we continued the fun.

This was such a successful reunion. All of us who attended talking about old times, asking about friends and comparing notes about our lives now. I think there was one thing we all agreed upon - we couldn't wait until our next big reunion which will be our 15th in 1973. It isn't too early to start planning to be there!

And now a note to all of you. Please keep me informed about yourself. There are many of you I haven't heard from - and we would love to have news of you for the Bulletin. So many of you say you enjoy hearing from classmates through the news in the Bulletin. Please let me hear - that is the only way we can keep in touch.

ANN STEWART POSNER wrote that she wanted to be at our reunion, but her third baby, Erik William, was born May 18. Ann's parents went to Schenectady soon after the baby's birth, and on their way back to Fort Smith, they came through Johnson City and visited us for a few hours. We had such a good time seeing them.

GLENDIA GRAMMER PARK writes that they have just adopted their third child, Carla, born in February. Their twins, Wade and Wyatt, are three. Glenda lives in Athens, Texas, Box 912. Her husband is plant manager for Curtis Mathes Manufacturing company.

GAIL BOOTH JACKSON had wanted to come to our reunion, but her 2½ year old son, Lee and an addition to her house kept her busy in May. Included is a picture of Gail and her family who live in Nashville.

DOROTHY NATHO KEAGLE also included a picture of her son, John Price, who was two on July 4th. Dorothy stays busy with many activities. She is President of the Tri Delta alumnae group, active in her church activities, and takes golf lessons. Three years ago they built a colonial home which she has furnished in antiques and French. Her husband teaches pre-engineering at the junior college in Joliet and in the summer is a state engineer.

Another busy classmate is MARIVA DORMAN RODENMEYER. Mariva is Secretary of the Belleville Junior Woman's Club, teaches a Sunday school class, is a past president of the AAUW recent graduates group, and is the administrative assistant to an attorney in downtown St. Louis. Her husband, Curt, is manager of Pope's Cafeteria and Briefeater in St. Louis. She keeps in touch with Sally Lefler (Class of 1957) who also was at alum weekend. She especially would like to hear from her former roommate RHODA SOTIROPOULOU!

MARIVA was accepted as a student in Washington University's School of Law on September 5, 1968. The Rodenmeyers have two children, Curt Julius, 6, and Mariva Anita, 3.

HETTY JAMES PRICE, who was at the reunion, is the new President of the Kansas City Alumnae Club. Hetty has one little boy. Her husband, Bob, was with her at Alum Day.

MARTHA ROSENBERGER ZIMMERMAN of Harvel, Illinois expressed an interest in starting an alumnae group in her area. Martha teaches home economics in high school.

Another classmate whose husband came to the reunion activities, was MARCIA JONES CURRIE. Bob is Scottish, and they met while Marcia worked at a hospital in Scotland. They have recently moved to a farm north of Chicago. Marcia invited me to come "swim in her pond".

From Anchorage, Alaska, comes word from RUBY LEE EDWARDS FRUECHTE where she is working as a secretary at the Salvation Army Divisional Headquarters while her husband, Leland, is serving as chaplain-captain in the United States Air Force. He is now on remote assignment in western Alaska, but returns to Elmendorf Air Base for a day or two twice a month. Their two children are Brent, 6, and Caryn, 5. Until March, 1969, the Fruechte's address will be Martin Arms Apartments, Apt. 23G, Anchorage, 99501.

From Westminster, California, KAY WETHERS REISER writes, "Kay, Mark, and the three boys are busy this spring in their new home in Westminster. Mark is still working for Carration Company in Los Angeles and Kay is director of their church pre - school - great fun! Steve, Joe and Danny, ages 8, 6, and 3, are all looking forward to the sun and surf of the local beach this summer!"

MARY ANN SMITH COCHRAN and her husband, Richard, live in West Africa, where their address is Firestone Plantations Co., Harbel, Liberia, West Africa. Mary Ann teaches school and writes, "Went on a four months vacation to Europe and the United States and returned to Africa in October, 1967, for another two year tour. If anyone is touring through West Africa, look us up."

MARY SUE BRAGG CERSOVSKY has recently had a chance to visit with many classmates and alumnae. While working on the Alumnae Giving Campaign, she talked with LISA MEANS BATSON, NORMA CAMP POPE, and ANN STANDEVEN ANDERSON. While in Tulsa in June, she visited with CAROLYN DODSON McKENNY, and MARY SUE and PEGGY WALTERS SYMES saw each other while shopping. "Everyone is fine, mostly busy with husband and children." Mary Sue is busy with her family and Steven, 18 mos.

MARY WARNER NINKER writes that they were transferred to the Chicago area in 1966 after having been in St. Louis. Her husband is with Supreme Products, a subsidiary of Emerson Electronics. The Ninkers have two sons: Robert Warner, 3½, and William Scott, 1. Mary says, "Since moving to the area I have renewed my friendship with SANDRA GORDON GEHRMAN. She has a darling little two year old girl, Amy Sue". I wish that I had more news to report for my last time to send in notes as class secretary. Since Van and I are co-chairmen for this year's Alumnae Annual Giving Campaign, SUELLEN PURDUE JOHNSON has generously agreed to become class secretary. As of now - send your news, and please do send it! - to her: Mrs. J. Jefferson Johnson, Couch Lane, Chapel Hill, N. C. I'm sure everyone will hear from Suellen before long.

I have enjoyed being class secretary for these past four years. What fun it has always been to hear from those of you who have written! I know you will keep in touch with Suellen and through her preserve your link with Lindenwood. Of course, you will be hearing from me again in the near future. May I put on my new hat now and urge you to give this year's alumnae giving opportunity your generous support? J.O.V.W.

MARGARET HOWELL CUNNINGHAM skis all winter and in the summer enjoys golf and garden. Margaret and her family reside in Denver where husband, James, is an attorney and Margaret is an active volunteer for the Denver Art Museum, Denver Symphony and Kappa Alpha. The Cunninghams have two children: Amy, 5, and Christopher, 1½.

The Thomas Girards (Suzanne Cooper) have been very active this past year in Grand Haven, Mich. "Thom is serving on the Board of Directors of the Jaycees and a member of an organization for the progress of downtown merchants." Suzanne is active in the Newcomers Club and was production manager for a production of GiGi by the Central Park Players. "Our girls are now two and four. Valerie just completed her first year of nursery school. Aimee is busy keeping up with Valerie in all her activities."

For those classmates who might be traveling East at any time, KAREN PREWITT MOONEY (Mrs. Thomas, Jr.) extends an invitation for them to visit Cornerfield Farm, near historic, scenic Annapolis on the Chesapeake Bay. Karen's address is Route 3, Box 48, Arnold, Md. 21012.

PRISCILLA RICHARD'S current address is Georgetown, Apt. No. 15, Charlottesville, Virginia 22903. Pris is currently working on her master's degree at the University of Virginia.

Decatur, Alabama, is the new home for the James D. Moores (PEGGY ROBERTS). "Jim is now in practice (after years and years and years of training to become an orthopedic surgeon.) We are both really enjoying Decatur, and we feel this is the perfect spot for our permanent home. We now have another girl, Deborah Lynn, who was born on March 9, 1968. Jimmy (6 yrs.) and Donna (3½ yrs.) are very fond of their little sister." The Moores reside at 2010 Murphree Drive, S.E., Decatur, Ala. 35601.

NORMA LEE CAMP POPE and husband, Donald, are both students at the University of Oklahoma. Norma Lee, an instructor in Economics at Central State College in Edmond, Oklahoma, has entered a Ph. D. program in economics at Oklahoma University which she says is "obviously a long - range project"! Donald is also a graduate student at O.U. They have two sons, 6 and 3 years old.

When Joan Meyer Wolfe and husband, Bob, had an exciting trip to Japan last fall they had a reunion with Hiroko Fujiwara Egawa and her family. The Egawa's took them out to dinner and they had a wonderful time; they also met their three children, "all just adorable", and when they left Tokyo they were all there to see them off. While in Japan the Wolfes lived five days with a Japanese family in Fukuoka and were privileged to get a close look at a real Japanese family. Joan says Hiroko is teaching piano and is saving her money to return to Lindenwood for a visit.

MARGARET HOWELL CUNNINGHAM writes "My life in Denver is that of a busy housewife and mother active in civic work ranging from United Fund to the Denver Symphony Guild. My husband enjoys the practice of law, and in our leisure time we try to get in as much skiing as possible in our beautiful Colorado Rockies. Would love to hear from any other Lindenwood ladies out in this part of the world." In May, '65, Margaret met her former roommate and suitmates at the reunion on Alumnae Weekend. MARY JO ANDERSON ARCHBOLD came from Atlanta, ANNE TERRELL GRIFFIN from Akron, Ohio, ELIZABETH WENDT ELLIS from Chicago, and the four of them had a marvelous three days and highly recommend such a reunion to other alums. The Cunninghams have a daughter, Amy Love, born September 24, 1963, and a son, Christopher Howell, born June 6, 1967.

KAY FELLABAUM HUESER (MRS. JOSEPH) recently moved to Needham, Mass. "Joe is Senior-Physicist with Norton Research Corp. in Cambridge. We found a lovely home across the road from a winding river. Our first guests were SUSIE McPARLAND MANOR and her husband and children, who live about 15 miles from here. We took a short vacation in Florida before coming East." The Huesers are enjoying their new homesite, and the children love the fresh country air. (See Photo of Beth, 4 yrs. and David, 18 mos.) Kayte is anxious to hear from those in the Cambridge area (and of course all others) at 29 Fisher Street, Needham, Mass. 02192.

DEDE SHIGLEY BINFORD (MRS. JOSEPH) wrote her new address is 7806 Village Trail, Dallas, Texas 75240. Dede is very busy keeping tabs on her two sons, ages 4 and 5, and tries to paint in her "spare time".

The arrival of the '60 10-year class reunion is anxiously being awaited by HIROKO FUJIWARA EGAWA (MRS. HIROSHI). "I still teach piano, Monday and Wednesday afternoons. I have about 12 students. I have already saved enough money to go back to the States. Two more years! I can hardly wait!" When not teaching piano students, Hiroko is busy with her children. Takeshi is in kindergarten now. Hiroko had a surprise visit recently with JOAN MEYER WOLFE. Joan and her husband, Bob, were in Japan on business. "We went out for dinner and just talked and talked. We talked until the girl came and told us they had to close the restaurant. So we had to leave. I just cannot wait till I see everybody in 1970." Hiroko is always anxious to hear from her friends in the States. Her address: c/o Mr. T. Fujiwara, 7-0, 3-Chome, Takaban, Meguro-ku, Tokyo, Japan.

SALLY HILLSTROM CHAMBERS (MRS. JAMES P.) has been busy with her family. "I'm so glad not to be working. Jim got me a car for my birthday - to run errands. Robby is crawling and pulling up and walking around furniture. Debbie is enjoying exploring out of doors. I get sand cakes all the time; she was four in December."

PATSY JONES MOSELEY (Mrs. Donald G.) are now residents of Wauwatosa, Wisc. "My son, Jimmie, is finishing first grade this year. Mary Beth just celebrated her 4th birthday." Patsy's husband is now in charge of his business since the senior partner retired this year.

The Robert Shouses (BARBARA LARSON) have recently moved to Dellroy, Ohio (Box 144), where Bob is plant manager of Evanite Plastic Company in Carrollton, O.

SUZANNE ALEXANDER BUCHANAN'S (Mrs. Scott) new address is 1625 Shields, Sherman, Texas 75090. "Scott is enjoying his work at Austin College, and both of us, as well as Elizabeth and Gus the dog are glad to be so close to Lake Texoma. Elizabeth can kick and paddle in the water and stay up on her own for a few minutes, which is about all you can expect of a 10-monther. So far the only L.C. Alum I've met is May Stillwell, whose husband, Jim, is Director of Development at Austin College. I'm planning to substitute teach in the Sherman schools in the fall and hope to start a course at North Texas State University."

BARBARA BONNER SHIELDS (Mrs. Fred C., Jr.) has been very active in the Oklahoma City area. After graduating from the University of Oklahoma with a B.S. degree in special education, she taught four years in public school and three years in a private Episcopal Day School. Barbara is currently working on her M.A. degree in history and a member of the Oklahoma City Junior League and past state advisor for Delta Gamma Fraternity.

"This has been an eventful year!", writes MARTHA McINNIS MARTIN (Mrs. Doyle E.). "In March ('67) we moved into our new home which we designed and constructed ourselves. In July, I had major ear surgery which was quite successful and the best news of all is of our adopted daughter, Mary Martha, born September 27, 1967. Our new address is 103 North Seventh, Charleston, Mo., 63834."

Like everyone everyone else, Maurice and I are caught up this busy world. We spent the entire spring looking for a house. It seems that the City decided to build a thoroughfare through our livingroom. We did take a break in our house hunting expedition long enough for a quick trip to Illinois to visit with my family, my brother just having returned with his family from a 4-year tour of Japan. It was a delightful trip and the first time the entire family had been together in 4 years. Then back to the horrors of finding a house—and we did. We began to move one week after our vacation - what a panic. Our move was interrupted by a very pleasant surprise - a visit from SARAH LODEN BUFFUM and her husband, Bob. Sarah looks as though she is certainly thriving on the Arizona climate. The few hours we were together passed so quickly, as a lot had to be said about the past 6 years. Keep the cards and letters coming.

JOAN MARIE RUNDELL HAIGHT and her husband, David, have been teaching in Austin, Minn. for the past two years. Joan has been teaching Physical Education since 1963.

Jessica Margaret Rubenstein was born on December 26, 1967, in Mobile, Ala. to Mr. and Mrs. William Rubenstein (NANCY ORDELHEIDE, '61). The maternal grandmother is (DOROTHY GEHLBACH ORDELHEIDE, '29).

TERRILL ROSS GORMLY was awarded a Master of Arts degree in English on June 9, 1968, at The American University, Washington, D.C.

The new address for Ann (Micki) McNeer is Allen Stevenson School, 132 East 78th St., New York, N.Y. Ann writes, "I love my new job! I do admissions testing, I.Q. testing, and achievement testing, plus remedial reading in a boys private school, grades one to nine. I'm a member of the "Sand Bar Beach Club" for singles out in the Hamptons and have taken up scuba diving and absolutely adore the sport. I go to the opera quite frequently. I know my friends will be very sad to hear of the death of my beloved father, Dr. McNeer. Many of us watched him perform a gastric cancer operation on Dr. Thomas Dooley on open circuit television many years ago. My mother has moved to Florida and has decided to teach and my brother and sister - in - law are at Princeton where he is working on his Ph. D. in languages. I sincerely hope that the group of L.C. Students that went to Florence this year had a wonderful time. Last year I worked at the Villa Mercedes in Italy, as the assistant to the Dean, and enjoyed my work immensely. I received an honorary document from the University of Florence for salvage work during the flood".

The letters from our class have been rather slow arriving at my home since the last newsletter. How about each of you taking a few minutes and drop me a line about your summer vacation and any other item of interest.

Atlanta has been a very popular spot for personnel from Lindenwood in the past few months. Mr. Earl Davis from the Admissions Office stopped over long enough to have lunch and a little shop talk with STELLA SIGGELKOW CHRISTOPHER '56, SHIRLEY NOLAND TURNER '58, Jennelle TODSEN ROBERTSON '56, JUDY LETSON WHITE '63, and SALLY SICKS HART, your class secretary. At the end of July, Dick Berg, Vice - President for Public Affairs, and his wife, Jean, stopped by our home one evening for a very informal get-together. From the information received from these two meetings, I really don't think we, the Class of '62, would recognize our alma mater of today. "Surprise -- Surprise! The Class of '62's lone male graduate finally writes." This was the beginning of BOB HILLIARD'S letter of his activities since graduation. Almost immediately after graduation, he joined the Air Force and took a commission after OTS, and was assigned to the famous 551st, SAC. Since his discharge, he has taught school (secondary speech and English), acted and traveled. Two summers were primarily involved in summer theatre, one summer in Europe, and this past summer, Bob's present job, representing a firm which makes recreational vehicles, has taken him coast to coast four times through thirty - eight states and throughout Canada promoting camping, and travel recreation. "This has one major fault -- it's very lonely for a single man." He says he hopes to return to teaching in the near future and complete his Master's in the next two years. Thanks for the newsy letter Bob and keep them coming. Bob's address is: General Delivery, Fairhope, Alabama 36532.

Another new voice was heard from when MARY GUNTER BEEMAN wrote a letter recently. Mary and Jay have been married almost 5 years now and are residing at 533 Schmidt, New Braunfels, Texas 78130. Jay is an estimator engineer for Citadel Construction Co. in San Marcos. Mary has taught special education for the past four years, but is now retired as a housewife. She is still attending school having received her degree in Psychology and now has 33 hours beyond her degree. Mary would like to hear from any alums in her area.

The Dr. Harry Tolly's (ANN HANNA) are back in Lincoln, Nebr. after their year in Hawaii. Harry has set up his dentistry practice in Lincoln and is doing well although it takes time to establish practice. They now own a cute 4 bedroom brick home at 8053 East Avon Lane, Lincoln Nebr. 68505. Chad William Tolly arrived on the scene Jan. 19, 1968, and has been keeping Ann rather busy. She has found time to join P.E.O., Lincoln Dental Auxiliary, and Theta Alums.

A note from Mrs. H. A. Wood (HERMINA LAMBRECHTSE -- Dutch) tells of their new home at 1602 Darsy Circle, Tustin, Calif. 92680. From her letter, it sounds like the LA alumnae group is very active, for she talks of attending several meetings this past spring.

SANDRA ALLEN was accepted for doctoral work in guidance and counseling at the University of Illinois at Champaign in June, 1968. Her address there is 1106 S. Second Street, Apt. No. 3, Champaign, 61820.

JEANNE DULANY was married June 29, 1968, to Melvin Frederick Groth of Ferguson, Missouri, at the Presbyterian Church in Pacific, Missouri. The reception was a breakfast at the Flaming Pit, Crestwood, and they flew to San Antonio, Texas, for Hemisfair '68, for their honeymoon. Jeanne writes, "My matron of honor was MARGARET THIEBES SMITH, '62, and one of my bridesmaids was Carole Diane Earl, '64. Guests were PATRICIA MORRIS, '62, ANN BRYAN HIND '61, DIANNE DETHMERS PACA '62, and CAROLYN DRANE SANDERS '62.

I am a high school English teacher in the Rockwood R-6 school district, St. Louis County, and Mel is the owner of Guaranteed Auto Parts, Inc., Florissant, Mo. We are at home in a beautiful four level brick home set high on a hillside, complete with swimming pool, at 114 West Bellevue Terrace, Pacific, Mo., 63069. I always enjoy reading the class news."

The R. E. Hart's have had a rather quiet summer with SALLY tutoring again in modern math, and Ron working hard on the test program for the big C5 at Lockheed.

There would be no article for the Bulletin if it weren't for your letters and they have not been coming in as fast as they should. Out of 200 plus alums in our class, can't a few of you find time to write?

Overland Park, Kan. 66212

Hi again,

Whew! My last term paper was handed in yesterday and this morning I took my last exam. After a summer of term papers, exams, writing a thesis and having orals, I now have my master's degree in education from the University of Kansas. Now I'm just in time with a few "grace" minutes", to write up the news for the Bulletin before the deadline. I hope all of you notice my new address. I moved during the summer also, and am still trying to find everything; if I've misplaced a letter from any of you, I'll be certain to mention it in the next issue.

I had a long letter from LYNN RANDALL SENN and a picture of Stephanie who was born September 8, 1966. Lynn writes that she was in a severe auto accident in September of 1965 which required plastic surgery for her, with more operations in the future. Jay graduated in June from the University of Missouri with a master's in business administration. He has accepted a position with Monsanto in St. Louis. We'll be anxious to have your new address, Lynn.

Lynn also writes that KAROL NOVAK is not a "missing alum". Her address is 4378 Okemos Rd. 203-D, Okemos, Mich. 48864. Karol is teaching in a high school and is going to graduate school in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hunsicker (MARY HEDRICK) and family are at a new address - 49 Huck Finn, St. Charles, Mo. 63301. They moved to St. Charles in 1966 from Springfield, Mo. when Dick accepted a position in the engineering department of McDonnell-Douglas in St. Louis. They have two children: Greg, 7, and Mary Jo who was born in May of 1967. Mary writes that she is kept busy with P.T.A., Beta Sigma Phi, Adult Education classes, church activities and the usual household chores. She would love to hear from former classmates.

Congratulations are in order for Ray and DONNA KAY GREEN CARLSON who are the parents of three daughters. The youngest, Paula Jane, was born last July 9. Donna Kay hopes the girls will be future L.C. er's.

Missouri's only woman assistant attorney general is DEANN DUFF who, after graduation from Lindenwood, went to Law school at Stanford University and received her degree in 1966. Deann has argued two cases before the Supreme Court; "terrified" is how she describes her feeling when appearing before the court for the first time.

JOANN ALGERMISSEN received a Master of Arts degree in Elementary Education from Northeast Missouri State College on May 17.

ELIZABETH BRICKER MORRIS received her Master of Music degree in Music Theory at Indiana University at the end of the summer. Her husband, George, teaches Russian at St. Louis University High School and they have a two year old daughter, Lisa.

The Mewhitters, MARTHA RICKE AND JIM, and their three children, live in Irving, Texas, where Jim is a pilot for Delta airlines. Martha visited her Lindenwood roommate, KIM LORLEE WILLIAMS in June.

The former JOY FAYE KORTEMEIER, now Mrs. Gilbert Adam, makes her home with Gilbert and baby daughter, Karla, in Covington, La. at Tchefuncta Club Estates. Joy's husband is treasurer of Southdown Burmah Oil Company in New Orleans.

I was married November 21, 1967, to LeRoy Harley Little by AMELIA ALVIS McCracken's father at his church in Falls Church, Virginia. I am almost through my second year of teaching at the Washington School for Secretaries.

AMELIA ALVIS McCracken and Jim are no longer in the military, and Jim is back in college. They have two darling children, Kathy and Jim, Jr. New Address: 117 Swift St., No. 4, Algood, Tenn. 38501.

NANCY AMAZEEN GOLDTHWAIT is busy being a mother to young John Saunders, Jr. Presently they are living at 506 Main St., North Hanover, Mass. 02357. Nancy and John had a 19-day trip through the British Isles last April. She writes "needless to say, it was a fabulous trip".

JUDY LEATHERBY BALL is a mother to Andrea Lee born last October 17. Punch is a Captain in the Air Force and flies C-130's back and forth from Southeast Asia to Maguire Air Force Base. Lee and I spent a weekend with them last February when Punch was enjoying a rare weekend at home.

MARY ANN CUNNINGHAM HAMILTON is a mother to William Wesley, Jr. born March 13. New address: 4750 Regal Ridge, Astell, Georgia.

A long letter from SARAH WELLS FRENCH with her new address: 6125 North Meridian, Indianapolis, Ind. 46208. Tom is now in his second year of law school, and Sarah is working on a someday career in nursing. Daughter, Shelia, is now nearly two; weighs 30 lbs. and is 33" tall. Sounds like she'll be a tall gal like her mother! Sarah writes she has tried with others to get an alumnae organized, but was not having much success.

JEANNE CRISS GILLISON is a mother to Marlene Renee born August 23, 1967. Chuck has been accepted for a college Army program, and they are now in Costa Mesa, Calif. for two years as "civilians".

SUSAN McCORD SLUYTER has a new address 1805C St. Marys Blvd., Jefferson City, Mo. 65101.

JERI BREITENBACH was married February 17, 1968, to Lt. (jg) Willard T. Knussmann. He is company commander of Amphibious Construction Battalion, No. 1 in Coronado, Calif. In the summer of 1967 Jeri toured Europe for nine weeks and visited thirteen countries. An "unreal" experience, she comments.

CHARLOTTE PROETT KING writes that they will soon be living in Independence, Mo. until Bill becomes a military man. Char writes that TRILL GREEN GATES (Mrs. Paul) is now living in Atlanta.

MACCIE MEYERHARDT, new address: 41 Bedford St., 2A, New York City. Maccie was in D. C. for a short time and her boss was sent to New York so Maccie went, too. She is with ITT working for the Director of Financial Services. It is a tremendous position and Maccie loves looking out of their tenth floor office which has a lovely view of other tenth floors of tall buildings! She likes NYC and would love to have anyone from L. C. over for dinner - call her!

It seems that there is a news blackout on numerous people for years and then they write. I received a long letter from JOAN HISEROTE. Her new address is 2700 North Hampton Court, Apt. 15-E, Chicago, Illinois 60614. Joannie's activities have really been something. She lived in San Francisco with Jan Bassford for about two years. Jan married (I have received no new name and address for her), and Joanie soon moved to Chicago where she works hard and loves her weekends. She is with a real estate firm and does everything, but provide the capital to pay the wages! She revisited New York City a short time before Christmas last year and saw "Mame", "Fiddler on the Roof", and "Black Comedy"; visited the Guggenheim, N. Y. Museum of Art and the N. Y. Metro Art Museum and thoroughly loved every minute. Can't you all imagine seeing her!

Since graduating from Lindenwood, WANDA MILLER has been teaching second year students in Stephen Blackhurst School in St. Charles.

ANN KNORR ADDISON resides at 8118 West Markham, Little Rock, Arkansas with her husband, Steven, and two sons.

After two years in San Antonio, Texas, with the Army, the Phillip Carrs (ALICE WINEGARNER) with their children, Catherine (3½), Bill (2), and Drew (4 mos.), have returned to Springfield, Mo. where Phil has a medical practice. Their new address: 2158 Claiborne, Springfield, Mo. 65804.

MARILYN LEWIS DONNELLY has a new position as Assistant Social Worker at the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

From GAYE GRAVES CRANNELL: "Win and I will be at Georgia Southern, Statesboro, Ga. for another year - teaching, coaching, etc. We still hope to move "west" in the near future and return to Europe for more study. Between my teaching and "being a wife" I'm trying to sandwich in research for my dissertation - who knows when I'll finish. Meanwhile, we are pretty content in our big house with "Sambo" (black cat) and "Herman" (white german shepherd).

JOAN HOUSTON was married in July 1967, to John Wills and KATHY GORDON CALDER was the matron of honor. After living in Chicago and Princeton, New Jersey, for a time, they moved to Stillwater, Oklahoma, where John is managing the food service for a dorm complex at Oklahoma State University. Joan is working on her Masters in Foods and Nutrition and completing the requirements for an American Dietetics Certificate. The Wills new address is: 823 W. Cantwell St., Stillwater, Oklahoma, 74074.

SUE HAZLETT ENGELLAND and her husband are, also living in Stillwater at the present time where he is enrolled at Oklahoma State University and working on his Ph. D. degree in Mechanical Engineering. Sue's time is taken up with caring for their daughter, Laura, born in April, 1968.

MARGI ARNHART HUMPHREY has moved to 1734 West Tuckey No. 1, Phoenix, Arizona 85015 where husband, Miles, is interning at the Good Samaritan Hospital there, having graduated from the University of Nebraska last June. Son, Scott, is a fun and full-time job - "Better than teaching", Margi says!

A long and interesting letter was received from ANDREA ELLISON HARTMAN - first letter since she left L.C. Jerry was in the Army for two years and stationed in Augsburg, Germany. Son, Aaron, now 5, was born there. The Hartmans lived in Glendale, Mo. for awhile and vacationed out west one summer and fell so in love with it that after vacation they picked up and moved to Montana. Jerry now is manager of the Heidelberg and dreams of his own ski resort and Andrea dreams of her knitting shop. She is open for business to anyone desiring a handknit sweater - write her! In addition to Aaron, the Hartman family includes 2½ year old Loren.

TENA LOUISE PILKINTON and Thomas Carter were married July 6, 1968, and are making their home in New Orleans where Mr. Carter is a mechanical engineer with the Freeport Sulphur Company. Tena did advance studying at the University of Arkansas during the year '67-'68.

After leaving Lindenwood MARGARET MILLAR received a B.S. degree in Speech and on August 13, 1966, married Rodney Scott of Gurdon, Arkansas. While teaching English and speech in Gurdon High School, Margaret organized and coached a champion ship debate club which received two trophies and 23 excellent and superior certificates. She credits much of her success with the debate club to the fine instructions she received at Lindenwood, particularly under Dr. Elizabeth Dawson and Miss Martha Boyer. The Scotts are now living at the Colonial Arms Apartments in Fayetteville, Arkansas, 72701, while Martha is working on her M.A. degree in speech on a teaching assistantship at the University of Arkansas and her husband is studying toward his doctorate in Clinical Psychology.

MRS. JUDITH PETERSON CLARK '63 has her masters in English and taught at Lindenwood during the 1967-1968 academic year. At present she is a member of the faculty at Stephens College.

Outstanding Young Women of America is a program designed to recognize the abilities of young women between the ages of 21 and 35 throughout the country. This annual program is sponsored by the Outstanding American Foundation, a nonprofit foundation dedicated to recognizing and honoring outstanding Americans. Serving on the program's Board of Advisors are the National Presidents of major women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, Honorary President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Each year over 5,000 young women are nominated as Outstanding Young Women of America by leading women's organizations and college alumnae associations across America. These young women's biographical sketches are featured in the annual compilation, OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMEN OF AMERICA.

Guide lines for selection include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service, professional excellence, business advancement, and civic and professional recognition.

I submit the following names of high school students who might be interested in receiving information about Lindenwood.

New January Course

During the month of January a student initiated course on the pass-fail option is being offered. The New Politics and the Presidency will be the subject under discussion and a variety of political leaders have been invited to the campus as guest lecturers. Mr. Donald L. Nicoll, Administrative Assistant and Campaign Manager for Senator Edmund S. Muskie will speak on "Prospects for Change in the Presidential Election Process"; Dr. William B. Cone, Missouri State Chairman of the New Democratic Coalition will discuss coalition and minority groups in politics; the Honorable Tom Curtis, former Congressman and candidate for the U.S. Senate 1968 will discuss the new politics; and there will be a panel discussion on mass media and opinion molders led by Mr. Al Mann of CBS, St. Louis. In addition, the students taking this course will have discussions on Nixon policy statements and they will view the Nixon campaign film prepared by Youth for Nixon supporters.

Director of Public Information

Miss M. Patricia Cronin has been named Director of Public Information at Lindenwood College. The new post combines the operations of the college's news bureau and publications department.

Formerly assistant publications editor at St. Louis University, Miss Cronin won several awards as editor of Chalk Talk, a publication for faculty and staff at the university. She also wrote feature articles for the St. Louis University Magazine and the Alumni Focus Newspaper, both of which have a circulation of over 46,000.

In announcing the appointment, Lindenwood Vice President B. Richard Berg stated that creation of the new position was one of a series of steps designed to improve communications between the campus and the community.

Miss Cronin, a native of St. Louis, attended Washinton University and received the B.A. degree from Harris Teachers College and the M.A. in English from Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif. She has directed public relations programs for educational, labor, political, theatrical and military organizations. She is a former captain in the United States Marine Corps Reserve.

She taught on elementary, secondary, adult and gifted levels in the St. Louis Public Schools, and as recipient of a Fulbright award from the U.S. Department of State, she taught in London, England during 1959-60.

Her feature articles have appeared in community, local and national newspapers and magazines.

College Receives Mounted Bird Collection

A collection of mounted birds and animals, containing specimens of fauna of Missouri and particularly of St. Charles County, has been presented to Lindenwood College by the Arthur C. Osiek family of St. Charles.

The collection will be used as a teaching aid at the College, according to Dr. Peter Graham, assistant professor of Biological Science at Lindenwood. It will be publicly displayed on a date to be announced later and will be known as the Arthur C. Osiek Collection.

Mr. Osiek is a retired engineering draftsman who was employed for over 20 years by the Corps of Engineers in St. Louis. Both he and his wife are native to St. Charles, and their home is at 974 Collier. They have a son, Marshall, now serving in the United States Army and a daughter, Agnes, a senior at St. Charles High School.

Mr. Osiek began the collection in 1928 after an interest in preserving the beauty of wildlife specimens grew out of his hobby of hunting. Obtaining a permit from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, he regularly searched for Missouri bird and animal specimens on weekends and during vacations.

The Osiek collection was transferred to Lindenwood College under authority of the United States Game Management Agent, Dick Basler of St. Charles.

Opera at Lindenwood

"Sister Angelica", a one-act opera by Giacomo Puccini, was presented by the Lindenwood College Opera Theater on December 9 and December 11. At the top, in rehearsal, is Dianne Ladendecker, St. Louis soprano, who played the principal role. Center is the cast of students of the Lindenwood Opera Theater. Bottom right is the Director of "Sister Angelica", Joseph Robbins who is assistant professor of music and director of the Lindenwood Opera Theater. Robbins is a leading bass-baritone with the St. Louis Opera Theater.
