the 1968 linden leaves

an annual student body publication lindenwood college

st. charles, missouri

just one year—so much in so little time taking a long and rough road made easier by the encounter of others headed in the same direction remaining aware or unaware of the object of the search running away—into oneself—to explore a private world synthesizing a year's little, but somehow important, moments to create an individual mold choosing some and not others as friends but on some terms accepting all understanding the relevancy of perpetual assimilation of facts to meeting life on one's own terms remembering always the experience of lindenwood student life

"young people wish for relevance . . . validity in terms of the future"
