LINDENWOOD

LINDENWOOD UNIVERSITY BELLEVILLE, ILLINOIS

Your Lindenwood Experience By Rodney Atwaters Jr.

Welcome to Lindenwood University-Belleville. My name is Rodney Atwaters and it is an honor to have the opportunity to write to you, not only as a senior, but also as someone who was once sitting in the seats you are in.

This semester is only the beginning of your journey. You will embark upon an adventure full of opportunities, challenges, friendships, happiness, and sorrows. Some of you will make lifechanging decisions that will ultimately affect your future, your college experience and will mold you into the individual you will become.

I still remember when I first moved in my freshman year. I didn't know what to expect, as this country kid from a small town in Georgia. I was living at what was called the Lynx Lodge and wasn't sure if I was going to get along with my roommates. Was I going to make new friends? Would I be homesick being 16 hours from home? I asked myself both those questions. I was one of those students who said, "It's ok, I'm going to transfer after freshman year anyway."

However, four years later, as I start my senior year, my heart and soul are on this campus. I truly feel a part of this community and I hope one day that you will too.

Your years at Lindenwood will be a crucial time that you should truly take advantage of. These are supposed to be some of the best moments in your lives. So, treasure each second as if it was your last. Be mindful of your obligations to academics and do not fall behind.

When you need to study, study. Everyone is here to help you succeed. Even your peers sitting next to you, contribute to your learning environment.

Learning occurs not only from listening to your professor, but also from listening to each other. We learn from each others mistakes, experiences, and opportunities. Each of us is a teacher to our fellow peers. We are all a cohesive group, and together we can achieve success.

Your college experience however, is more than just achievement. Take the opportunity to get involved on campus. Join a club, join a team, go to all the sporting events and participate in events on campus. There are many student organizations you can join ... so be more than you can be ... because college is what YOU put into it.

By getting involved, you will be more prepared for your career. Employers will be impressed because getting involved means you have experience dealing with people, leading individuals and planning events. These are the skills you learn from campus involvement. Student Government was my stepping stone to involvement on campus. What will yours be?

Be more than just a student that goes to class and goes home. Be part of the community around you. Build your character and who you want to be. Each of us has special characteristics that are unique and distinguishable. Your character and integrity are two things in life that no one can take away from you. Your choices are your own.

With the diversity and uniqueness of our campus, I challenge you to reach out to people, develop new friendships, become a student leader, and seize new opportunities. Embrace your Lindenwood experience and its profound pioneering spirit. I take true pride in my campus and my college experience and hope that you will you too.

Good luck this year my fellow Lynx. Lindenwood will be what you make it. So making it a great experience is your choice. If I could leave you with one word of advice I'd say, "Find out who you are and seek to always be UNFORGETTABLE!"

LU-Belleville Opens First Extension Center By Stephanie Dulaney

Lindenwood University held an open house and ribbon cutting ceremony for its new Collinsville extension center on October 13.

The Collinsville center is the first extension facility to be opened by the Lindenwood Belleville campus. In June 2014, Lindenwood University leaders signed a five-year lease on 15,000 square feet of space located at 1101 Eastport Plaza Drive in Collinsville. Starting this month, the space will be used for undergraduate and graduate classes in the accelerated evening program, as well as graduate classes in education and counseling.

"We are pleased to be able to offer Lindenwood Belleville students another centrally located facility to complete their coursework," said Jerry Bladdick, president of Lindenwood University-Belleville. "This decision was made to better accommodate our growing evening student enrollment and increasing number of degree programs. For the past couple of years, every classroom on campus has been occupied by our evening classes, and the demand for more course offerings continues to rise."

Cindy Manjounes, associate dean of academics at Lindenwood Belleville, said with the addition of several new degrees and areas of emphasis each year, classroom space at Lindenwood Belleville is at a premium during the evening.

"The new Collinsville location will be the first extension center for the Belleville campus that continues to model itself after the very successful Lindenwood St. Charles campus, which boasts 11 Missouri locations, as well as online degrees," Manjounes said.

The state-of-the-art facility will house seven classrooms, including a science lab, along with a student computer lab, a lounge area, and faculty/staff office space.

"We are thrilled to have worked with Lindenwood University making Collinsville their destination for higher education in Southwestern Illinois," said Erika Kennett, director of economic development for the City of Collinsville.

Bladdick said the new location answers an unmet need in the surrounding community for quality accelerated coursework through Lindenwood University's well known evening and graduate programs.

"Its central location in Collinsville will give our students convenient access to major interstates 55, 70, 64, 255, and 270 and will greatly benefit the many retail and restaurant businesses located nearby," Bladdick said.

The Lindenwood University Collinsville Center will host a preview day for prospective students on Nov. 8, with check-in starting at 8:30 a.m. For more information on the Collinsville center, contact Kendra Kostelac at (618) 671-6490.

Dining Hall Re-Opens with New Features

The Lindenwood University - Belleville cafeteria closed for some renovations this summer, but re-opened on August 10, 2014 with many new features.

According to Dining Services Manager Mary Swofford, the new cafeteria has a 'scatter design', with numerous 'action stations', where cooks actually prep food as students watch.

"We have a main feature every day," explained Swofford. "We've had things like a macaroni bar, deli buffet and even an asian bar and the students are really liking it."

She went on to explain that since school began, the cafeteria is already feeding nearly 1,000 people each lunch and close to 800 for dinner. There is also a seating capacity for 400 students and faculty in the cafeteria and an overflow room, where the old library was, that seats 100 additional students.

In addition, a new conveyor belt dishwashing system was installed that is designed to use less water and be more efficient. A 100 seat catering room is now available for University events.

New Library Features More Services

By Jessica Bentele

Whether you are a new or returning student, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the Belleville Campus Library.

As you settle into the campus community, I hope you will take a few minutes to visit the Library and become acquainted with the many services we have to offer. Our Library staff and team of amazing students are committed to providing you with the resources necessary to ensure your academic success.

Returning students may have noticed that the Library has moved. We invite all students to visit our new location in the Main Building across from the Communications Department. The Library's new location features 70 new computers, a small quiet study room, a computer classroom, and plenty of space to spread out and work on your academics or personal research.

Keep an eye out this fall for the Library's new Popular Reading Collection. We will be acquiring the fiction and non-fiction books you want to read! We're branching out with authors like James Patterson and George R. R. Martin. We'd love to hear your requests!

In addition to the books you see on the Library's shelves, we also offer these great services including personal research assistance, access to more than 5.8 million print titles, over 83 databases containing thousands of fulltext articles, ebooks, audiobooks and laminating services.

If you'd like additional information, contact me at jbentele@lindenwood.edu or call 618-671-6010.

Tuju

James

Two of these new faculty members specialize in one of Lindenwood Belleville's newly added degree programs, exercise science. Dr. Chris Fahs will lead the health and physical education classes this semester, and Dr. Lindy Rossow will oversee the exercise science courses. Fahs and Rossow both come to Lindenwood from Fitchburg State University in Fitchburg, Mass., where they served as visiting instructor and assistant professor, respectively, in the Department of Exercise and Sport Science. Rossow has taught numerous courses as a guest instructor at the University of Oklahoma and University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and is a certified sports nutritionist. Fahs is a certified strength and conditioning specialist and, in addition to teaching, has served as the coordinator for the Exercise and Cardiovascular Research Laboratory at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Assistant Professor of Education Dr. Paul Sharp will bring his years of knowledge and experience in the school system to Lindenwood students this year. Most recently the principal for Bayless Junior High and Middle School in St. Louis, Mo., Sharp has also served as principal for Scott City Middle School and assistant principal for Sikeston Middle School and Robert H. Sperrung Middle School. Sharp earned his doctorate in education leadership and policy analysis at the University of Missouri-Columbia in 2013.

Drs. Sara Drenkhahn and David Naistat will join the Chemistry Department at Lindenwood this year as assistant professor and associate professor of chemistry, respectively. Drenkhahn comes from the University of Missouri-Columbia, where she earned her doctorate in biochemistry in 2013 and served as a postdoctoral fellow. Her background also includes work as a biological sciences technician at the National Center for Agricultural Utilization Research in

Speaker Series

Born in Brookline, Massachusetts, Eli Keszler began playing drums at eight, composing at twelve, and playing in rock and hardcore bands throughout his teens. Now based in New York City, his work retains an intense physicality and ferocious energy. Keszler's installations and visual work use microprocessor-controlled motors to strike, scrape and vibrate various lengths of piano wire (most recently an installation on the Manhattan Bridge commissioned by NPR Radio). With full length albums on the vinyl-art label PAN and the legendary avant-garde jazz label ESP-Disk, Keszler's releases have received "album of the year" awards from the Boston Globe and Wire Magazine.

Berlin electronic musician Rashad Becker utilizes real-time synthesis and sampling techniques that set into motion intricate sonic worlds that recall the complexities of human speech and various exotic aural phenomena, and warrant comparisons to the detailed sonics of pioneers like Tod Dockstader, and the GRM school of electronic music. Oscillating pitches conjoin, multiply and dissolve in unlikely configurations, creating a complex ecosystem of sound. Becker is also a renowned vinyl cutting and mastering engineer. (where he has overseen thousands of mastering jobs) has endowed him with a unique insider's perspective on the practice and aesthetics of modern day electronic music and production.

Keszler and Becker come to the Speaker Series in conjunction with the New Music Circle. They will be giving expanded solo performances on Saturday, November 8 as part of the New Music Circle's 56th season. More details can be found on the New Music Circle website: newmusiccircle.org.

Peoria, Ill. With more than 20 years of teaching experience, David Naistat most recently served as assistant professor of chemistry at Ivy Tech Community College in Fort Wayne, Ind. He has also taught students at the University of Minnesota, Bethany College, the University of Miami, and Universidad de Buenos Aires. Naistat has published several scholarly articles in such publications as the Encyclopedia of Toxicology and the Journal of Physical Chemistry.

Lindenwood Belleville's Division of Business and Entrepreneurship gains Drs. Chris Gourdine and Sila Tuju. Gourdine most recently taught at Lindenwood Belleville as an adjunct instructor for graduate management classes. He has also worked as a business development and strategic analyst for PAL Services, Inc., and served in the United States Air Force for more than 20 years. Gourdine earned his Doctorate of Management from Webster University in 2011. Tuju comes to Lindenwood from Mid-Continent University, where he served as an assistant professor of management. He also has teaching experience at Bethel University, Forbes School of Business at Ashford University, and Covenant College. Tuju earned his doctorate in business administration from Northcentral University in 2011.

Dr. Shauntey James joins the Criminal Justice Department at Lindenwood Belleville this year. James holds a PhD from Western Michigan University and a JD from Thomas Cooley Law School. She has taught courses in criminal justice, sociology, gender and justice, and drug and alcohol abuse at colleges across the country, such as the University of Dayton, Walsh University, and Briar Cliff University. James was named to Who's Who Among America's Teachers and served as the president of the Ohio Council of Criminal Justice Education.

Lindenwood University-Belleville welcomes Dr. Jennifer Welsh to the History Department. Welsh has served as a visiting assistant professor for the College of Charleston and Davidson College, as well as a lecturing fellow at Duke University and an instructor at Cornell University. She earned her PhD from Duke University in 2009. Welsh has presented her research at conferences across the country, with the most recent being the Annual International Congress on Medieval Studies and the Sixteenth Century Studies Conference.

Justin Edgren and Derek Dadian-Smith join Lindenwood Belleville as assistant professors of communication. Edgren has worked as a production assistant, art director, actor, and director for numerous independent films and shorts. He earned his Master of Fine Arts in digital media production from Southern Illinois University-Carbondale. Dadian-Smith also earned his Master of Fine Arts in media art from Southern Illinois University-Carbondale. He has performed and exhibited work in the United States and overseas and has recently been featured at the Unnoticed Art Festival in the Netherlands.

Miller Records Shut-out; Edwards Nets Hat Trick in Inaugural Game

By David Dalfonso

The Lindenwood-Belleville men's hockey team began their history with an unforgettable game on their home ice. Playing in front of over 100 supporting fans, the Lynx did not disappoint as they provided a show on the ice for 60 minutes. Brad Edwards scored the first two goals in Lynx history to give the team a 2-0 advantage in the first period and Miller would take over from there.

A mere 30 seconds into the season, the Lynx found themselves shorthanded, due to a tripping penalty, but would survive the power play as Miller turned away three shots. The Lynx picked up another penalty at the 14:50 mark in the first period but again, Miller made another save and kept the game tied. At the 12:37 mark, the Lynx came back to full strength and Edwards found the net eight seconds later on a rebound from a Nick Varner shot.

Edwards found the net again on a power play with 10:15 remaining in the first period. Varner and Janke were again credited with the assists.

The Lynx ended the first period with seven shots on goal to the Billikens eight, and overcame four penalties to take the lead 2-0 into the second period.

The second period brought a plethora of shots to the Billiken goalie, but none were able to find the net. 17 Lynx shots were steered away by Tyler Stewart. Although the Lynx dominated the second period, the score remained 2-0 heading into the third period.

The Lynx began their four goal third period just three minutes in when Varner netted his first goal of the season. Tanner Duffney was credited with the assist and gave the Lynx an extra cushion. Three minutes later, Janke netted his first goal on a pass from Edwards and Duane Wainman, giving the Lynx a four goal lead with 14 minutes to go.

At the nine minute mark, Landon Hiebert notched his first goal of the season on a pass from defenseman, Daniel Skoglund. Edwards completed his hat trick just under a minute later on a pass from Brad DeMoulin, giving the Lynx a 6-0 lead with 8:41 remaining.

The score would remain as such until the final horn as the Lynx enjoyed their first victory as a program. Kyle Miller recorded 17 saves in his first game, completing the shut-out of the Billikens.

Rickhoff Accounts for Four Touchdowns in Win Over Missouri Baptist

By Matt Ankenbrandt

The Lindenwood – Belleville football team picked up their first victory of the season defeating first year program Missouri Baptist 44-6. After playing a scoreless first quarter, the Lynx picked up two touchdowns and a safety to take a 16-6 lead at the half. In the second half the Lynx picked up a pair of touchdowns in both the third and fourth quarter on their way to the victory. Freshman quarterback Austin Rickhoff threw for two touchdown passes and also picked up a pair of rushing touchdowns. Kam Harris led the ground attack, finishing the game with 173 yards on 23 carries.

Each team had one possession in the first quarter, but a missed field goal by the Spartans kept the game scoreless. After taking over on the 20 yard line the Lynx used an 11 play 80 yard drive to take the early lead. Rickhoff found Dylan Bradley for the 19 yard touchdown pass to give the Lynx a 7-0 lead. On the drive Harris picked up 28 yards on five carries.

The Spartans did not pick up a yard on their next drive and on fourth and ten James Brown blocked the Tyler Hach punt. Six plays later Rickhoff punched it in from two yards out to give the Lynx a 14-0 lead. On the drive Harris rushed for 22 yards on three carries.

The defense once again came up big on the Spartans next possession. After a three and out, Cody Johnston snapped the ball over the head of Demarco Billups and out of the back of the end zone for the safety. After the safety the Lynx took a 16-0 lead with 6:37 left in the first half.

The Spartans came right back and picked up their first points of the game. Billups connected with Dalton Barcom for two completions of 22 and 25 yards to get the Spartans deep into Lynx territory. On the Spartans 13th play of the drive, Billups hooked up with Cole Lema for the six yard touchdown pass. After a false start penalty that moved the line of scrimmage back to the eight, Alex McGlassion missed the extra point and the score remained 16-6.

After two stalled drives by the Spartans and one by the Lynx, the Lynx started their second drive of the second half at their own 32 yard line. After a loss of two yards on the first play of the drive, Clage Dodson picked up 16 yards, followed by a gain of 21 by Harris to put the Lynx in Spartan territory. On the fourth play of the drive Rickhoff connected with Willie Maxwell for a gain of 19 yards down to the Spartans 14 yard line. Two plays later Harris scampered in for a nine yard touchdown run to put the Lynx on top 23-6.

After the Lynx defense once again forced a Spartan punt, the Lynx started their drive on their own 14. On the fifth play of the drive Rickhoff connected with Kerry Gibson for a 63 yard gain down to the Spartans one yard line. On the next play Rickhoff kept it himself and picked up his second rushing touchdown of the game. With the touchdown the Lynx took a 30-6 lead.

The Lynx defense came up big once again on the Spartans next possession. On third and ten Billups kept it himself and tried to pick up the first down. Trey Parker forced a fumble on the Lynx 38 yard line and TJ Onstott recovered it to give the ball back to the Lynx.

After a punt by the Lynx the Spartans marched into Lynx territory, but this time it was Alex Hamm coming up with the big play, intercepting the Billups pass at the Lynx 13 yard line. After five straight runs by the Lynx on their next possession, Rickhoff connected with Donnie Foster for the 52 yard touchdown pass to extend the Lynx lead to 37-6. Marlon Smith picked up 33 yards on the drive.

On the Lynx final drive of the game EJ Elien got in on the scoring, rushing for a 25 yard touchdown to extend the Lynx lead to 44-6 and that is how it would end.

The Lynx finished the game with 323 yards on the ground and 185 yards through the air. On the defensive side of the ball Onstott and Eric Sadowski led the way with 10 tackles apiece. Brian Richardson picked up the lone sack for the Lynx.

Poist Named Head Women's Lacrosse and Field Hockey Coach

By Matt Ankenbrandt

The Lindenwood – Belleville athletic department and Athletic Director Scott Spinner have announced the hiring of Brittany Poist as the new head women's lacrosse and field hockey coach. Poist talked about the opportunity to coach at Lindenwood – Belleville.

"I am so excited to join the Lindenwood community," stated Poist. "The atmosphere in the athletic department and on this campus is the perfect fit for me. We have been provided with all the tools we need to build both the lacrosse and field hockey programs. I cannot thank President Dr. Jerry Bladdick, Athletic Director Scott Spinner, and Dean of Admissions Reeta Piirala – Skoglund enough for this opportunity."

Poist most recently was the head women's lacrosse coach at McKendree University. She started the program in October 2011 and started officially playing in 2013. Furthermore, she was the Division II representative on the IWLCA Coach of the Year board in 2013. During her time at McKendree she was also a Liam Banks #3 Lacrosse Saint Louis Club coach and a specialty clinician. Poist was the fall and winter clinician in 2013 and the spring clinician in 2014.

Before her time at Liam Banks #3, Poist coached at the Truce Lacrosse Saint Louis Club. She was the summer club coach and director in 2012. Poist also was a tryout and spring clinician, and a private instructor. From June 2011 to October 2011, Poist worked at the Jackals Lacrosse Club, where she was a clinician and also the director of strength and fitness.

For the past six years, Poist has been involved with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. She was a member of the University Leadership Council from 2008-2010 at the University of Maryland. From 2006-2009 Poist spent time coaching at the CheckHers Lacrosse Club, the North Carroll Recreation Council for soccer, and the North Carroll Recreation Council for lacrosse.

Poist was a member of the University of Maryland Division I Lacrosse team from 2008-2011. The Terrapins won the NCAA Division I National Championship in 2010. Poist won three ACC Tournament and Regular Season Championships at Maryland. She was also named to the NCAA All – Tournament team in 2009. In 2011 she was named the ACC Defensive Player of the Week and she also participated in the Senior North – South All – Star Game. During the 2010 season Poist was named the WomensLacrosse.com Defensive Player of the Week.

Poist is a native of Hampstead, Maryland and graduate of North Carroll High School. She earned a Bachelor's Degree in History from the University of Maryland in 2012. "Lindenwood University-Belleville Student Activities"

Lindenwood University believes in the importance of co-curricular involvement in activities as a valuable supplement to classroom learning in the total educational process. The Student Activities Office serves as a coordination center on campus and works with student organizations in facilitating their activities and projects. Various student organized programs and events are scheduled throughout the year.

Student organizations are an important part of university life, providing opportunities for students to design and implement programs, events and activities that extend and amplify the goals of Lindenwood's mission. Students may compliment their academic experiences by becoming involved in student clubs and organizations which, along with the Student Activities Office, are the major scheduling source for lectures, movies, dances, entertainers, and a wide variety of other events planned to satisfy the diverse needs and interests of the Lindenwood University community. It is necessary for each organization to register at the Student Activities Office each year and provide the name of a faculty or staff advisor, a current constitution, and a current list of officers and members.

If you have an idea for a new student club on campus, stop by the Student Activities office today and get information on where to start.
