LINDENWOOD
COLLEGE

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE

Lindenwood College offers the very best in liberal arts education to students of all ages. Located on a beautifully wooded 170-acre campus in the heart of historic St. Charles, Missouri, Lindenwood continues its legacy of developing the academic, social, physical and spiritual potential of each and every student.

ACADEMIC OPPORTUNITIES

Preparing students for their chosen career is the central purpose of Lindenwood's individualized, life-enhancing approach to higher education. Class size is limited, so each student may receive personal attention from his/her professor. Undergraduate degrees are offered in a wide variety of majors for traditional and adult students. Fourteen graduate degrees are offered in various areas of concentration, including art, business, communication, and education. Lindenwood offers two Masters of Business Administration degrees, in an accelerated and a traditional format. The Master of Fine Arts (MFA) is available in theatre.

Lindenwood is a full-service residential college," said Dennis Spellmann, president of Lindenwood College. "We offer a wide range of majors, athletics and activities for students of all ages. Working adult students may choose from a variety of evening programs designed with maximum flexibility to fit their busy schedules. At Lindenwood, our students come first. They can expect to receive a first-rate education, because we put teaching ahead of everything else."

RESIDENTIAL LIVING

Full-time resident students live on Lindenwood's historic campus in St. Charles. Seven dormitories, four houses and apartment-style accommodations provide of a variety of living arrangements to meet individual student needs. Daily meals are served in the Ayres Dining Hall.

ACCREDITATIONS AND AFFILIATIONS

Lindenwood College is accredited by the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). The College is a member of the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB).

GETTING INVOLVED

Lindenwood students do more than just attend classes and study. They get involved: in athletics, sororities and fraternities, in plays, band concerts, cheerleading, and much more. Lindenwood students join social organizations and civic clubs. While they're taking part in these activities, however, these students stay focused on their central purpose: to get a quality education that helps prepare them for their chosen career.

EDUCATING THE WHOLE PERSON

"We bring this mission to every aspect of the student's education at Lindenwood," said Dennis Spellmann, president of the College. "We want students to get the best education they can possibly receive, so we hire top professors to teach them. At the same time, we want to help students develop their physical, social and spiritual capabilities, so we encourage students to get involved in different sports and activities. These activities enhance the excellent academic programs at Lindenwood," Spellmann said.

Lindenwood's mission of educating the whole person is rooted in ancient times when the Greeks balanced the teachings of the philosophical mind with the development of the physical body. This Greek ideal of mind and body, spirit and strength, led to the formation of the ancient Greek Olympics. The philosophy behind the games was that different races, creeds and cultures came together to compete in an atmosphere of cooperation and learning. Like Lindenwood today, the ancient Greeks insisted the quest for intellectual excellence was as important as the quest for athletic excellence. One did not exclude the other.

Activities and Organizations

Students interested in athletics may participate in one of 14 intercollegiate sports or in a variety of intramural sports. Two sororities and three fraternities offer students the opportunity for social growth and nation-wide networking. A comprehensive band program including marching, symphonic, jazz and concert band performances is open to music majors and non-majors. Students may participate in a variety of choral groups, dance productions, and theatre performances. Organizations center around academics, environment, community service, honor societies, music, writing, athletics and more. There's a wealth of opportunity for students of all ages and interests.

Students have access to a student center, with access to meeting rooms, television and study lounges, exercise equipment, game rooms, gymnasium and an indoor swimming pool. Sand volleyball courts and an outdoor pool are also available for student use.

"Lindenwood College maintains the proper balance between academics and activities."

--President Dennis C. Spellmann

LINDENWOOD LEADERSHIP

President Dennis Spellmann came to Lindenwood College in 1989 and has been tackling challenges ever since.

These challenges, or "opportunities" as President Spellmann calls them, are the key to Lindenwood's success today. From achieving record enrollment to maintaining high quality academics, to renovating the campus and its buildings, President Spellmann continues to set high goals -- and meet them.

His continuing goal, however, is in keeping with Lindenwood College's 165-year tradition: to provide excellence in higher education for students of all ages.

Leading a dedicated team of outstanding administrative, faculty and staff members, President Spellmann continues to build on that tradition by holding a special interest in the well-being of each Lindenwood student. President Spellmann's genuine concern for students' academic, personal and spiritual endeavors sets Lindenwood College apart from other schools.

Dennis Spellmann
President

"We're proud of what we've accomplished so far, but we're looking ahead to the future," said Spellmann. "Our goal is to keep making Lindenwood stronger to take us into the 21st century."

Steve Crotz
Athletic Director

After two seasons as the head coach of Lady Lions basketball, Steve Crotz also assumed the position of Athletic Director for Lindenwood in January of 1992. He continues as the women's basketball head coach.

The Lady Lions basketball record under Crotz stands at 38-20. By posting identical back-to-back school records of 19-10, the Lady Lions are eagerly anticipating their third season under Crotz's guidance. Last season, the women were strong not only on the court, but in the classroom as well. Six of the Lady Lions basketball were named to the Show-Me Collegiate Conference All-Academic Team.

Coach Crotz is well known in St. Louis sports circles. Before coming to Lindenwood, he coached the Brentwood High girls' basketball team to seven consecutive district championships and a 210-50 record. The team received four consecutive team awards for Outstanding Academic Achievement from the Missouri State High School Athletic Association (MSHSAA).

Coach Crotz sees his players as students first, and encourages the entire coaching staff to do the same. "We hire coaches who have strong academic credentials, as well as solid coaching experience," said Crotz. "The students are here to get an education. Our athletic program is open to those students who want to play intercollegiate sports. But the students' education always comes first."

The 1992 season will be the season of challenge for the Lindenwood Lions. They start the season under the direction of new Head Coach Jeff Driskill. The Lions are looking to fill two key spots in the backfield and line up against an extremely difficult schedule. This season the Lions will play out of the "Base Pro-1" formation on offense. It is a relatively simple offense, but provides great flexibility for both the run and the pass. A bright spot for the team is the experience that returns in the offensive line. It returns almost intact, and should provide ample protection for the new backfield. The strength of the defense will also be in the line, and this is the reason Driskill will deploy the "4-3" defensive scheme. Most of the starters from the defensive line return this season, and Coach Driskill expects them to lead the defense in shutting down the opposing team's offense. The Lions face a difficult schedule this season as they play six teams which are ranked in the NAIA pre-season Top 25, and five of the Lion opponents are outside of LC's NAIA Division II classification. Said Driskill, "The schedule is not exactly the kind of schedule a first year coach would like to face, but when you set the goal of being the best, then you must play the best teams in order for you to prove yourself."

The Lindenwood men's soccer team is looking forward to a successful 1992 season, on the heels of an outstanding 17-3 season a year ago. Last year the team won the Show-Me Collegiate Conference, was ranked 12th in the last NAIA poll and the Lions reached the District 16 championship final. With 14 lettermen returning, including All-Americans Kevin

Thom Champion
Coach

McDonough, Richard Hager, and Terry Berhorst, and a strong recruiting class, the Lions should be a strong contender in the Show-Me Collegiate Conference and District 16. Head Coach Thom Champion enters his second season at Lindenwood with a sparkling 113-44-9 overall record. Champion, who has coached at McKendree College, Harris-Stowe State College, and Cardinal Newman College, holds a United States Soccer Federation "A" coaching license and is a member of the National Soccer Coaches of America. Champion has co-coached the Bud Light Women's Over-30 team and the White Star Over-30 Women's team to separate national championships, and has also coached the White Star Over-30 women's team to a national crown. Lindenwood women's Head Coach Debbie Washburn played on both teams. Assisting Champion is Dennis Baez, who is the current women's soccer coach and former men's coach at Wentzville High School. Baez will also oversee Lindenwood's JV program, which should provide valuable training for future varsity players.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Deborah Washburn
Coach

The 1992 Lady Lions are looking forward to what should prove to be a challenging season as they look to improve on last year's 13-6 mark. Coach Debbie Washburn will ask for leadership from NAIA Honorable Mention All-Americans Cynthia Hagen and Krista Neidenbach, as they spearhead the Lady Lions attack.

Washburn is also counting on All-American Jennifer Dykes, who returns to the team after a red shirt injury year. Washburn has added some fine recruits into the mix, and the blending of the talent of the incoming players with the returnees should be vital. Said Washburn, "We are always looking to add depth, and I think we have added good players at nearly every spot." The team has worked hard during the pre-season on fitness, tactics, and techniques. Look for the Lady Lions to play a controlled but quick passing game as they will try to produce a lot of action in front of the opponent's goal. The Lady Lions' goals for the season include a district and regional championship, and a return to the national tournament. Speaking of the National Championship, the Lady Lions and Lindenwood College were awarded the 1993 NAIA Women's National Championship. "Getting the national tournament here is a great honor and we're really excited about it", said Washburn. The tournament is yet another thing that fans of the soccer Lady Lions have to look forward to in the future. Washburn has been named District 16 Coach of the Year three times as well as being recognized as Central Region Coach of the Year. This will be her tenth season with Lindenwood. Bill Goggin is assisting Washburn for the second year.

The volleyball Lady Lions are looking forward to an exciting 1992 season. Starting her second season at Lindenwood, Coach Laura Kassen is expecting big things from her team, as they strive to improve on last season's 8-23 mark. A big boost to the program will be the opening of the Lindenwood Sports Complex (formerly the Bridgeton Soccer Complex) where the

Coach

Lady Lions will for the first time have home matches. Prior to this season the Lady Lions were the ultimate road warriors; all of their matches were away. Coach Kassen welcomes back a solid group of returning players: Lynn Hall (Jr., Tucson, Ariz.), Stacy Hargrove (Jr., Mesquite, Texas.) and sophomores Jodi Wilson (Harrisburg, Ill.), Angela Boland (Wentzville, Mo.), Shelly Gibson (Potosi, Mo.), and Nicole Harlan (Carlyle, Ill.). Kassen worked hard to find some recruits who could add more talent and depth to the roster. New additions include Terra Johnson (Hancock High School), Amy Woods (Fort Zumwalt High School), Yvonne Lade (Carbondale, Ill.) and Julie Larsen (St. George, Utah), a JUCO transfer from the National Junior College Championship team, Eastern Arizona. Kassen is a graduate of Southeast Missouri State University where she earned her bachelor of science degree in physical education. Kassen started her coaching career at Visitation Academy in St. Louis, where she led the program for two years, and took Visitation to the District Championship in 1990. Kassen took over the Lindenwood program in 1991.

WRESTLING

Dale Schallert
Coach

New coach Dale Schallert did not waste any time restocking the Lindenwood wrestling team. Schallert has signed an astounding 29 new athletes to go along with the strong nucleus of eight returners from last season. The huge incoming class includes four state champions, and has depth at all weight divisions. Two Lion wrestlers return from last season after qualifying for the NAIA National Championships, and a third wrestler just missed out on qualifying for the national meet. Coach Schallert hopes that those wrestlers will bring their leadership and experience to the mats, and that the taste of nationals will provide a good foundation for this season. Schallert is looking for the development and growth in his wrestlers, and wants to see them meet the challenge that tougher competition will provide. A key for the wrestlers will be how the veterans accept the leadership role they now have, and the way the younger wrestlers improve. Another exciting development for the wrestling team is the new facilities at Lindenwood. A new multipurpose building is being built, which should provide a cozy new home for the Lion grapplers this season. Coach Schallert will have some coaching help in the form of new Assistant Coach Stacy Weiland, who comes to Lindenwood after two years of varsity wrestling at the University of Oklahoma. Coach Schallert is entering his 18th year of college coaching.

Lion basketball ushers in a new era under new Head Coach Tommy Collins. The team is looking to rebound from a disappointing 6-18 record last season. Coach Collins' system should prove to be an exciting one for Lion hoops fans. Collins enjoys the frenetic, up-tempo pace and will push his players to give their best to play in that manner. A smothering pressure defense is expected to key a fast-break offense. However, if the quick shot is not available, the Lions will set up their half-court passing game to look for the high percentage shot. Last year Lindenwood led the Show-Me Collegiate Conference in free throw shooting, but was last in virtually every other category. Coach Collins expects an improvement, especially with the new recruits he has signed. The newcomers are looked upon to inject some life into the offense, as the Lions sputtered on offense last season. Competition could be fierce for playing time as the talented incoming recruiting class will battle the returning veterans for positions. A potential worry is the lack of an experienced dominating big man in the middle, but the Lions hope to overcome that weakness with aggressive team rebounding. This season should be the first step of the return to prominence of Lion basketball.

Tommy Collins

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Steve Crotz

The Lady Lions duplicated their record-setting season of the previous year by posting a 19-10 season again in 1991-92. This campaign was marked with both outstanding team and individual achievements. The Lady Lions finished the season as the number one ranked team in the nation for team defense in the NAIA. The team captured it's first ever regular season Show-Me Collegiate Conference championship with a record of 6-0. An upgraded schedule yielded victories over NCAA Division I St. Louis University, perennial NAIA powers Evangel and Culver-Stockton Colleges, and an impressive season finale versus Principia in which the Lady Lions broke the century point mark. Individual honors were bestowed upon many of the young players. Named to the Show-Me Collegiate All-Conference First Team were Vanessa vanParijs and Angie Warren. Daphne Hozee was named Second Team All-Conference, and Kristen Miller was an Honorable Mention selection. Lindenwood led all conference schools by placing six student-athletes on the Academic All-Conference Team. Garnering those honors were: Tonia Hawk, Neel Hogh, Daphne Hozee, Carol McLeod, Kristen Miller, and Vanessa vanParijs. The Lady Lions also had players earn District 16 honors as Vanessa vanParijs was named to the First Team All-District 16, while Angie Warren and Daphne Hozee were named to the Second Team. Head Coach Steve Crotz also received post season recognition as he was named Conference Coach of the Year. Coach Crotz is anxiously looking forward to the toughest women's basketball schedule in the school's history as he welcomes the return of nine letter winners and the addition of 10 new recruits.

SOFTBALL

Michelle Krassinger
Coach

First year coach Michelle Krassinger is anxious for the challenge which the 1993 Lady Lion softball season brings. Last year the Lady Lions ended the season 37-13, and with a strong finish in 1992 combined with a stellar returning lineup, Lindenwood is in position to set their sights on higher goals this season: the 1993 Show-Me Collegiate Conference and District 16 championships. With the new softball field taking shape, the Lady Lions are poised to make things happen. Solid defense will continue to be the basis from which Lindenwood works. LC looks for continued success from returners Heather Biggott (SS, District 16), Susan Lines (C), and Molly Keene (OF). Offensive help will come from Kristina Tebbe (1B, All-District 16, All-Conference), Jeannette Kassay (3B), and Tiffany Bogle (P/IF). Bringing experience to the Lady Lions will be the return of Becky Lamkemeyer (OF), Tammy Dewald (OF), Christy Boose (OF), Candace Kozlowski (C), Dawn Wiese (U), and Lynn Hall (U). Strengthening the battery has been a major recruiting focus as Krassinger brings in rookies Shannon Malek (P) from Milwaukee, Wis., Amy Altmansberger (P/IF) who hails from St. Louis, Peggy Schmelz from Pacific, Mo., and Kathy Cooke out of Eureka, Mo. Krassinger comes to Lindenwood following two years in the high school ranks at Ursuline Academy in St. Louis, where she compiled a 26-5 record. Previously, she served as an assistant coach at Northeast Louisiana University while completing her master's degree in education. The St. Louis native spent her playing career at William Woods College, where she ended her career with a 64-14 mark with a 0.73 ERA, garnering NAIA All-American and All-District 16 honors. Krassinger continues to play select women's for the St. Louis Express, as well as managing a select girls team in the St. Louis Maniac Softball Organization.

GOLF

The Lindenwood College golf team started off in great fashion, ending their inaugural season with a 21-11 record and capturing the Show-Me Collegiate Conference Championship. Three championship plaques were captured in the conference tournament, as Jonathan Phillips won individual medalist honors, Coach Art Siebels was named Coach of the Year, as well as the team winning the overall championship. The Lions fared quite well throughout the entire season as they captured the championship in the Missouri Baptist Tournament, finished a strong fourth at the District 16 tournament in Columbia, and tied for fifth in the Washington University Tournament. With the addition of several fine freshmen golfers and the return of five 1992 team members, the Lions should improve on last year's success.

TRACK

The Lindenwood men and women's track teams have high goals for the 1993 track season. The Lady Lions hope to repeat their outstanding performances of the 1992 season, where they captured the District 16 championships in both indoor and outdoor competition. Head Coach Gary White believes he has added depth to the women's team this year to bolster their chances of retaining the championship crown. At the same time, White is building up the men's team to improve on last year's third place finish in the District 16 championships indoor and outdoor meets. Coach White has recruited some top talent to complement the returning members.

Cross Country Coach Gary White is looking forward to another strong, competitive season this fall for the Lion harriers. The women's team returns five members of last year's squad and adds seven new runners to the roster. Meanwhile, the men's team should be even stronger as Coach Gary White welcomes back 12 runners from last season and adds 14 strong newcomers. In 1991 the men's team placed second at the District 16 meet, while the women won the District 16 championships, and advanced to the national meet. This fall the Lions will host two meets, with the Lions Invitational on Sept 5, and the Lindenwood Classic on October 10. Coach White came to Lindenwood in 1989 to start the cross country and track teams. He has won nine conference and nine District 16 championships, and has been named District 16 Coach of the Year six times.

Gary White

BASEBALL

In only its fourth year of existence, Lindenwood baseball has enjoyed tremendous success. First year Head Coach John Ward welcomes back a strong team that carries high expectations for the upcoming 1993 year. In 1992, the Lions captured the District 16 Championship and advanced to the NAIA National Championship Tournament and ended the season with a 34-20 record overall. A nucleus of proven veterans and some key signees and transfers should make the Lions formidable again in the District 16 race of 1993. With three-fourths of the '92 infield returning, the Lions expect high production from All-American Honorable Mention Scott Penning, and All-District Honorable Mentions Bryan Binkholder and Phil Ducat. Likewise, the LC pitching staff includes District 16 Honorable Mention Tony Diogiorgio, who was strategic in helping the Lions finish just two wins shy of a World Series berth. Diogiorgio will lead the pitching staff, with the help of several new recruits are expected to become strong Lion hurlers. New recruits should also provide Lindenwood with extra offensive punch, stellar outfield play, and extra pitching. Once again the Lions should be very competitive in the SMCC and District 16, and hope to make some more noise in the national tournament in the spring.

ADULT EDUCATION OPPORTUNITIES

In addition to the graduate programs in Education, Theatre and Art offered on the semester schedule, Lindenwood College has three flexible adult undergraduate and graduate programs designed to meet busy work schedules.

"Lindenwood takes special pride in working with professional adults to further their education," said Allan Mitchler, director of graduate and adult professional admissions. "Unlike other colleges and universities which ask students to adapt to their programs, Lindenwood has always tried to fit academic programs to our student's needs. Our adult programs respond to the special needs of adult learners who have selected Lindenwood College to reach their educational goals."

Undergraduate and graduate evening classes are held on the semester, quarter, trimester schedules and in eight-week sessions. Students may choose from accelerated and traditional program formats.

A Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree is offered in the accelerated and traditional formats, giving adult students the option of choosing the program which meets their individual needs. Classes for both programs are held on a quarterly basis, one night a week. Classes are kept small, so each student may receive personal attention. Other adult programs include:
