Q2 MOMENTS

Associate Professor of Philosophy, Dr. Joseph Steineger, embodies Q2 in all that he does! His classes are always engaging and interesting and he makes his students feel included. He is always so quick to respond to students' questions and he is a great mentor. I constantly tell people that as an undergraduate, when I would go to his office for help with the study guide, I would leave with not only the help I needed but solid life advice as well.

Q2&You - Associate Professor for Human Resources, Dr. Evelyn Hendrix, created a display of individually wrapped washed fresh servings of green and red grapes to give away to students. The goal was to create interest in the LU Student Human Resources Club. The theme was "Did you hear it through the grapevine?" Students enjoyed the treat and walked away with more than one and a half large produce crates worth of grapes in less than two hours.
