PREFACE

In the heart of the Midwest, the American prairie provinces held together by highways, some of our modern generation pioneer with traditional tenacity. We do not balance on fearful existence, neither are we cumbered by too much history. Our lands are alive, throbbing free as far as we reach; opportunity follows our footsteps. We are young.

More than our low mountains and endless plains of spring wheat, the territory we travel is the world. The restless, glorious decadence of Europe, the turbulent new nations of Africa,—Asia itself is no farther than flight. And space is our unexplored wilderness. "A great age," we say, "to be living in."

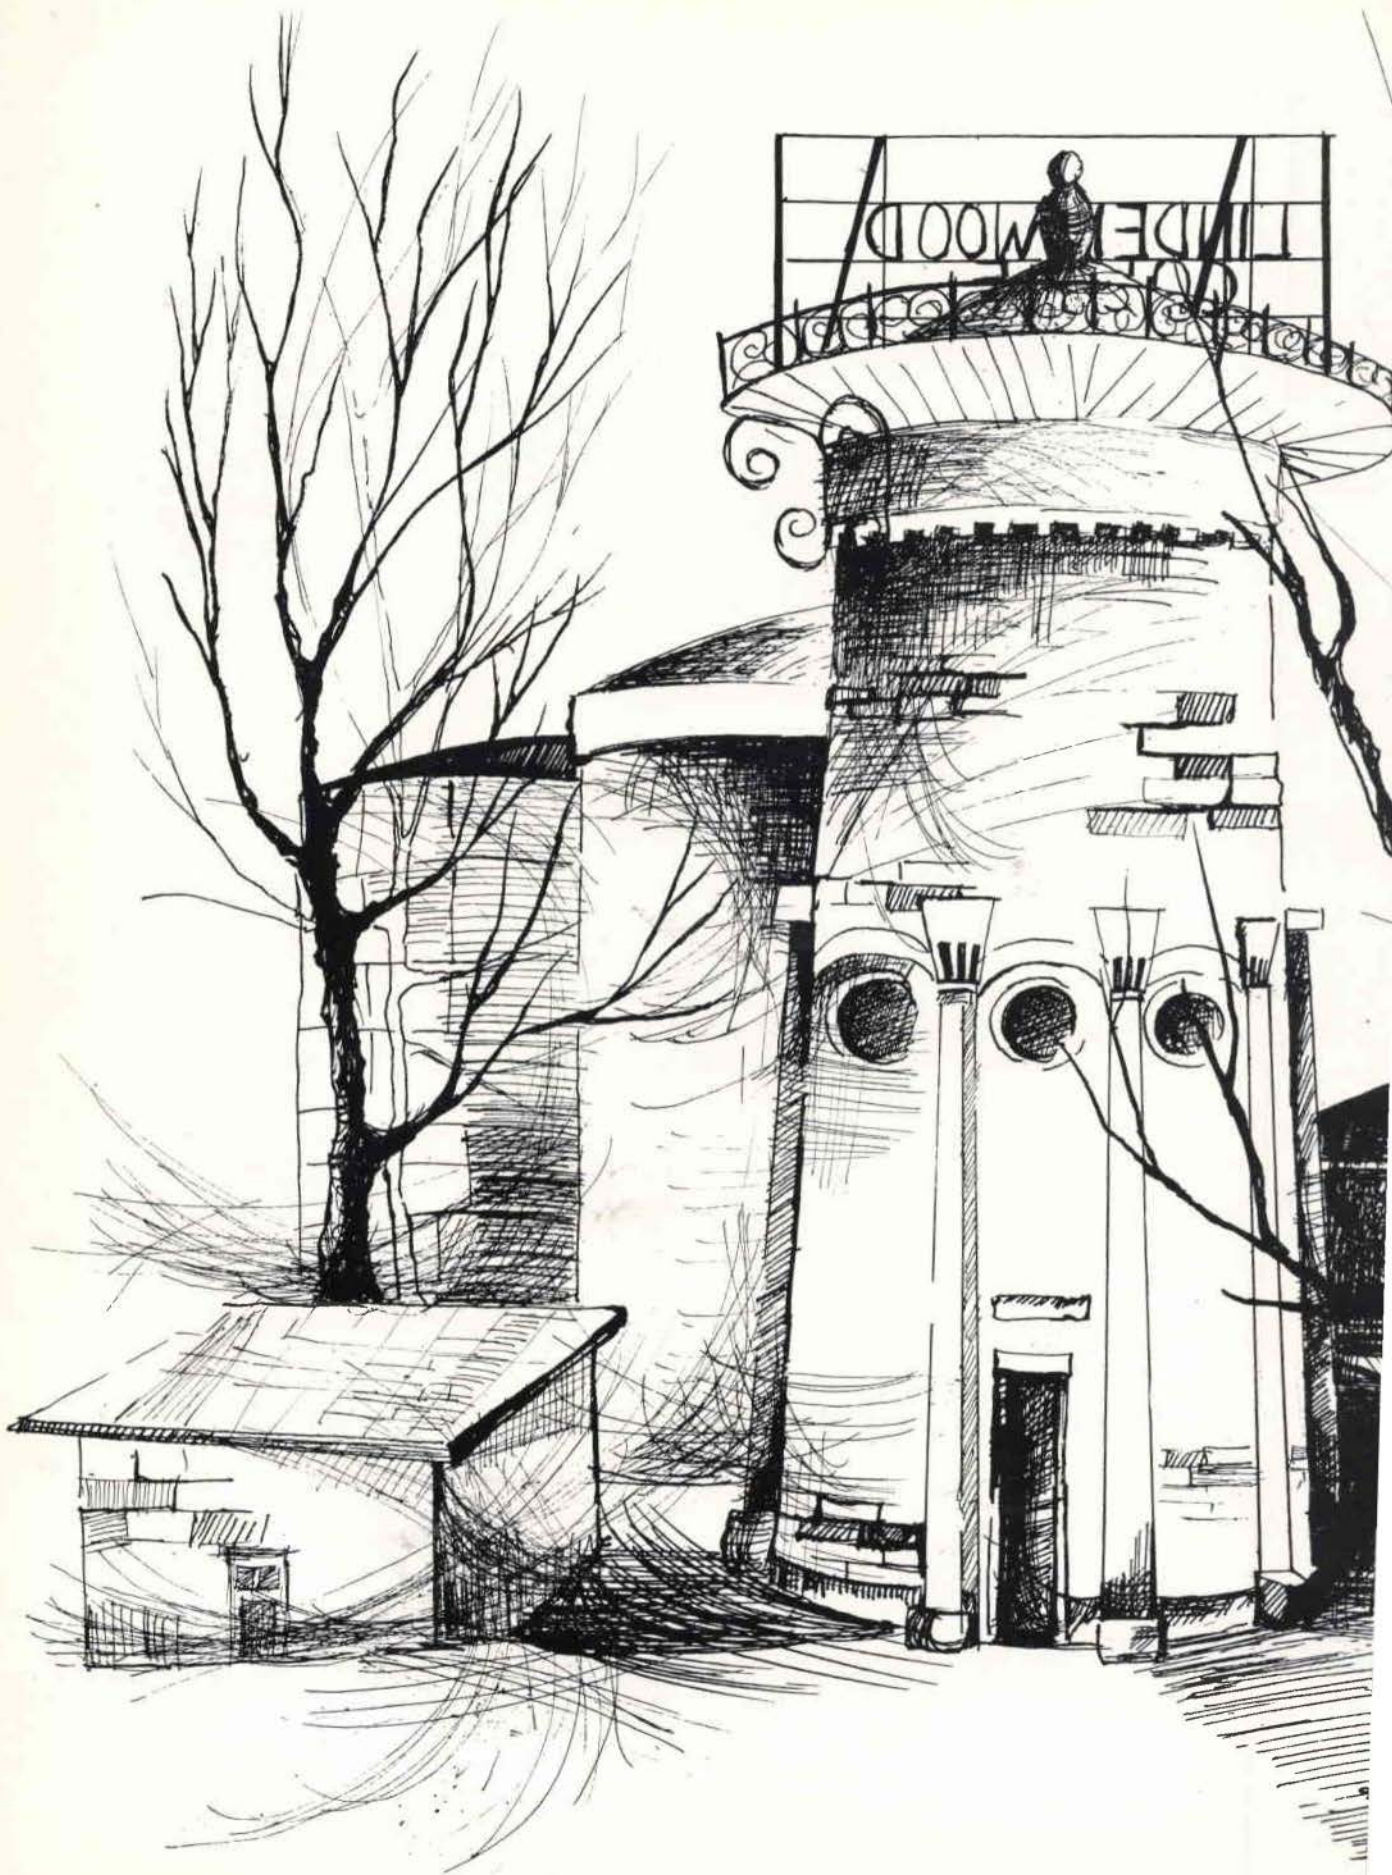

To live today requires bravery, as had those who first came to the valleys west of the Mississippi. To live now is to know the reality of rapid change. It is ours to achieve awareness, keep faith, and forward accomplishment. The world is before us and with us at Lindenwood; the world that was Lindenwood has become a challenge to the wider one.

For her unfaltering leadership in high ideals, scholarship, and community responsibility, this book is respectfully dedicated to Paulena Nickell, Dean of the College.

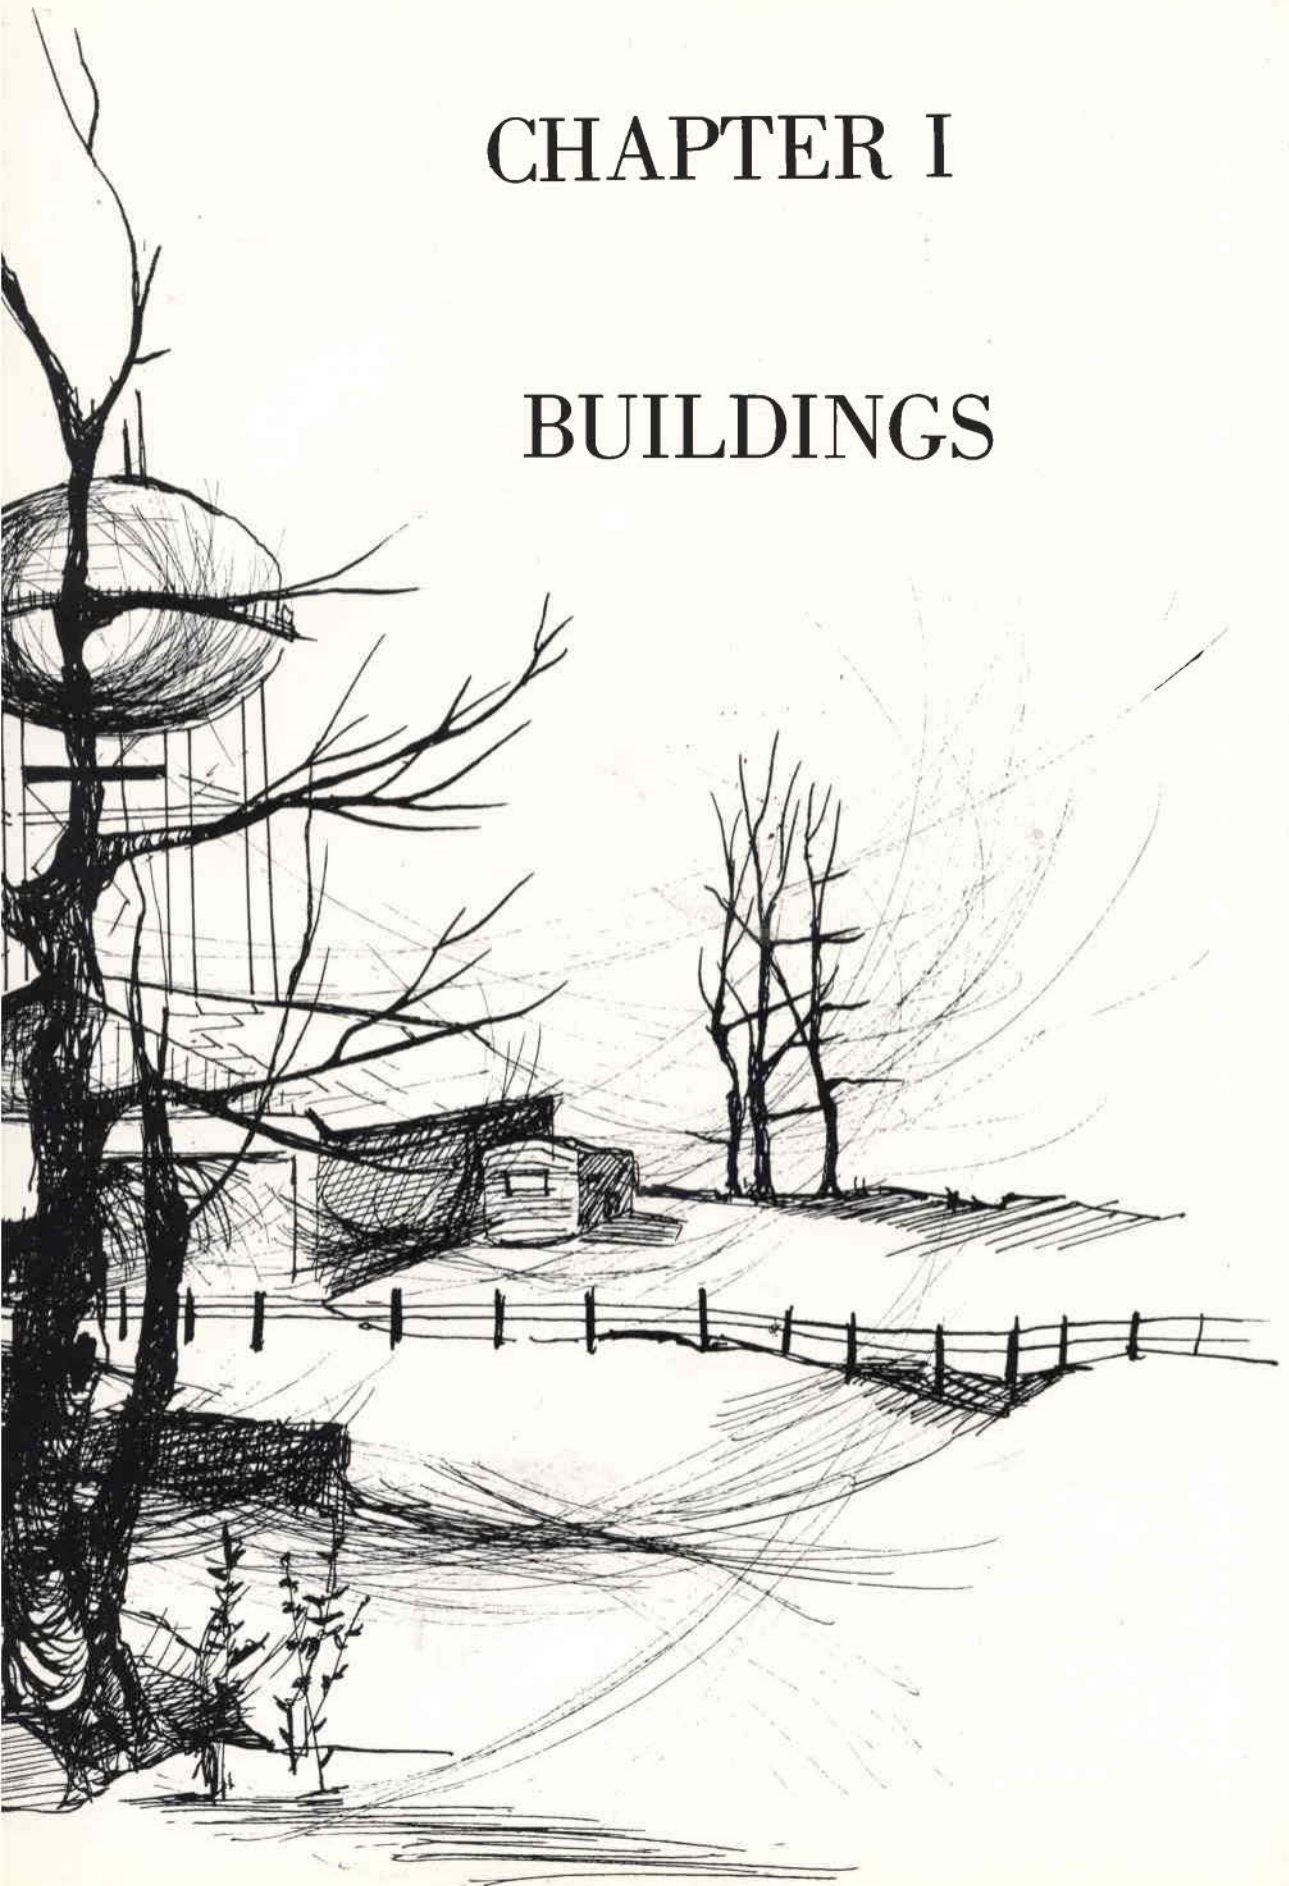

“... and all that was good you must fight to keep with hearts as devoted as those of your fathers who fought to gain it”

—T. S. ELIOT

CHAPTER I

BUILDINGS

BUTLER WAY

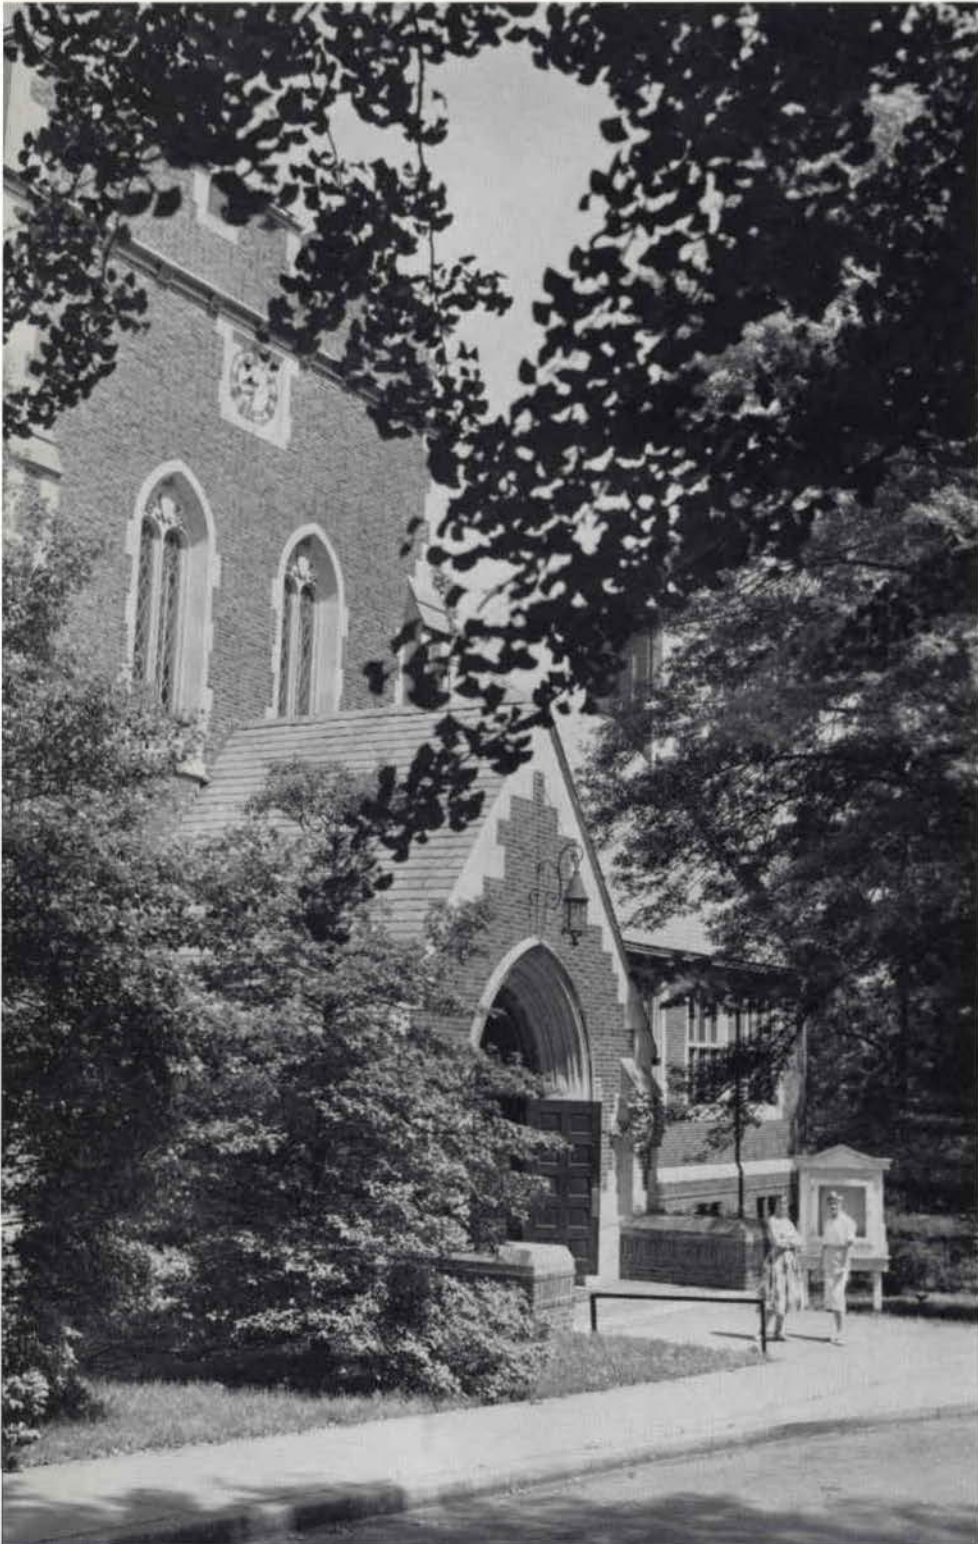

This is the entrance to a way of life and learning. Like those beneath the pin oak trees lining Butler Way, shadows sometimes hide the knowledge we seek; but the uphill road is an inspiration, and branches right and left to include all of the front campus.

ROEMER HALL

Erected in honor of former President Roemer and dedicated to Lindenwood's purpose—the Christian education of young women—Roemer Hall was founded in 1920. Other than our familiar classrooms, it contains the business and administration offices, the auditorium, and the popular post office, book store, and bank.

MARGARET LEGGAT BUTLER LIBRARY

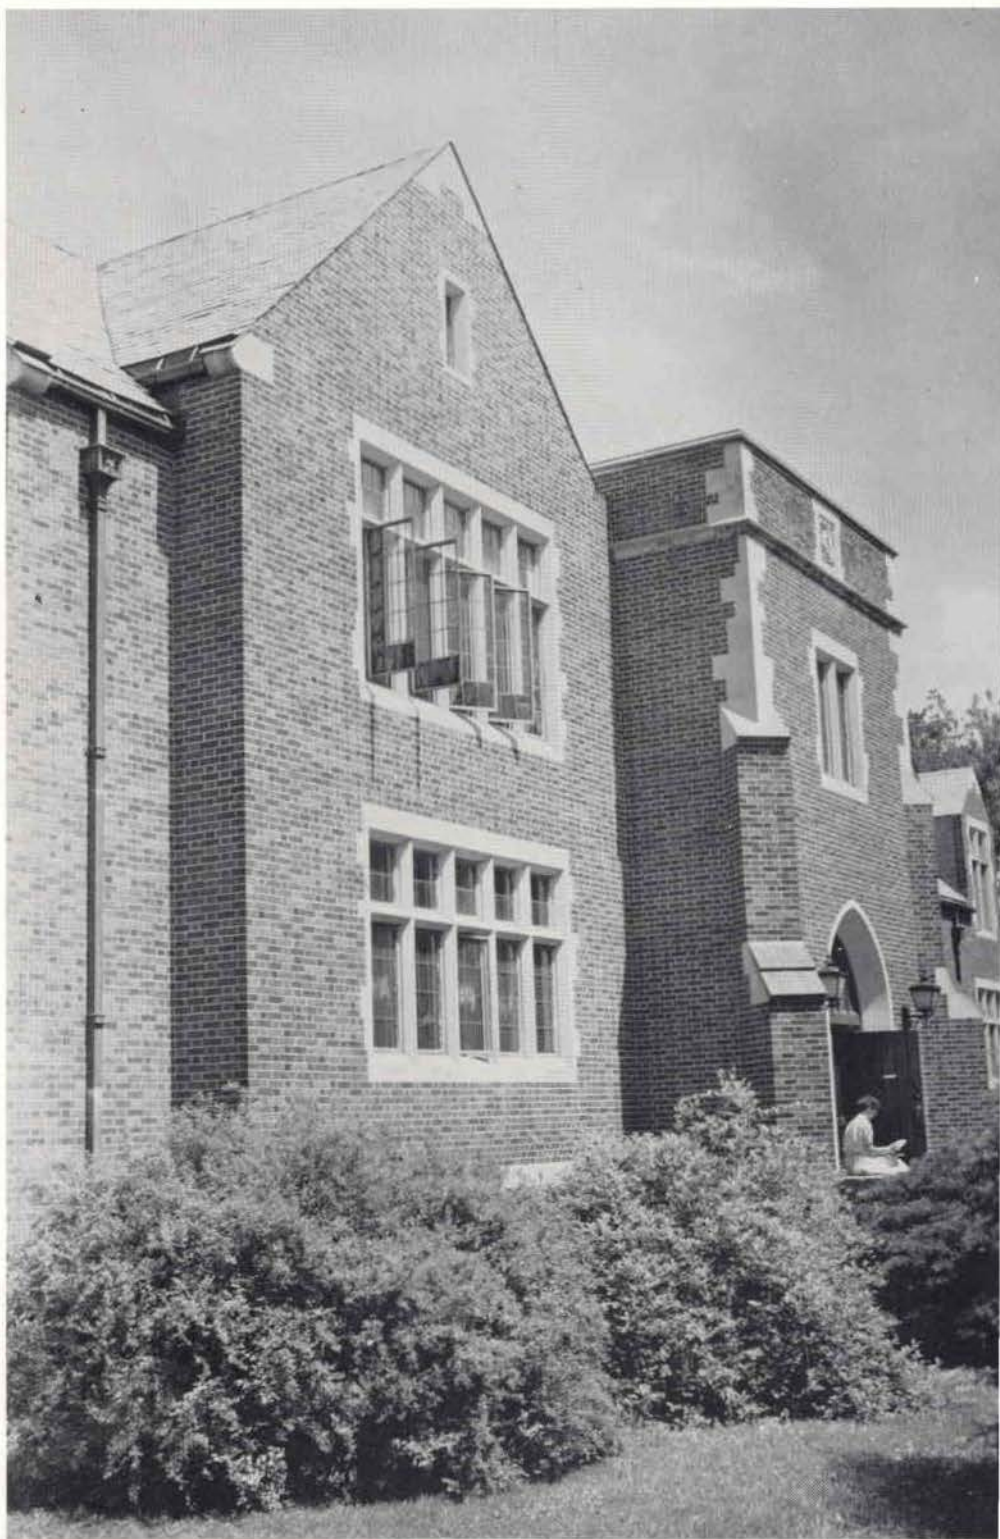

With its holly trees by the heavy oak doors, the Sibley coat-of-arms over the fireplace, and an air of hushed concentration, the library has been one of the loveliest buildings on campus since it was built in 1930. It houses forty thousand books and pamphlets, receives one hundred seventy-five magazines and newspapers, and offers students unlimited access to the stacks. Many meetings and initiations are held in the colorful Library Club Room.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOME

From the first freshman reception to a final senior get-together in the McCluers' home, the students of Lindenwood sense the genuine friendliness of its family. Their interest in our college lives is sincere, and their warm hospitality extends to all.

In 1939, the Fine Arts Building became part of the Lindenwood campus, in memory of a past dean and wife of President Roemer. The mingled sounds of violin, voice, and piano drift up from the first floor to the second, where the art students design and paint. Here are the music and art studios and classrooms, as well as KCLC, the Lindenwood radio broadcasting station.

LILLIE P. ROEMER FINE ARTS BUILDING

A modern building was added to the College in 1957 with the completion of the new Chapel and St. Charles Presbyterian Church. Weekly chapel and vesper services, at which the Lindenwood College Choir sings, are led by representative members of the community and by guest speakers. The Chapel's Fellowship Hall is the scene of many College dinners, as well as presentations of theater-in-the-round.

LINDENWOOD CHAPEL

NICCOLLS HALL

Most of the freshmen live in Niccolls Hall, which was built in 1916 in memory of The Reverend Samuel Jack Niccolls, D.D., by his friend, Colonel James Gay Butler. The basement practice rooms with pianos and pipe organs often provide an accompaniment to the dormitory life of this year's one hundred seventeen girls.

SIBLEY HALL

Historical Sibley Hall is the oldest building on campus. It was erected in 1869 in honor of Major George C. Sibley and his wife, Mary Easton Sibley, founders of the College in 1827. Chemistry classes were once conducted in the rooms above Sibley Chapel; today it is the scene of piano, voice, and organ recitals. Several of our friends from other countries call Sibley Hall home during their stay at Lindenwood.

Head Resident

MARGOT BENTON
Hall President

AYRES HALL

In 1927, Jubilee Hall—the Ayres Hall of today—was presented by student friends. Formerly the administration building, as well as a dormitory, Ayres Hall now houses the College dining room, as well as sixty girls. It was renamed in honor of George Frederick Ayres, Ph.D., president of Lindenwood from 1903 to 1913.

MRS. GRACE MILLIRON
Head Resident

JERALDINE HARRISON
Hall President

IRWIN HALL

A dorm sing on Parents' Weekend is a tradition of Irwin Hall. Practice rooms and a recreation room with a fireplace lend informality to its modified Gothic architecture. Built in 1927, the hall is named after The Reverend Robert Irwin, D.D. president of Lindenwood from 1880 to 1893, and Mrs. Kate Irwin.

NANCY CALVERT
Hall President

MRS. RUTH KENDIG
Head Resident

COBBS HALL

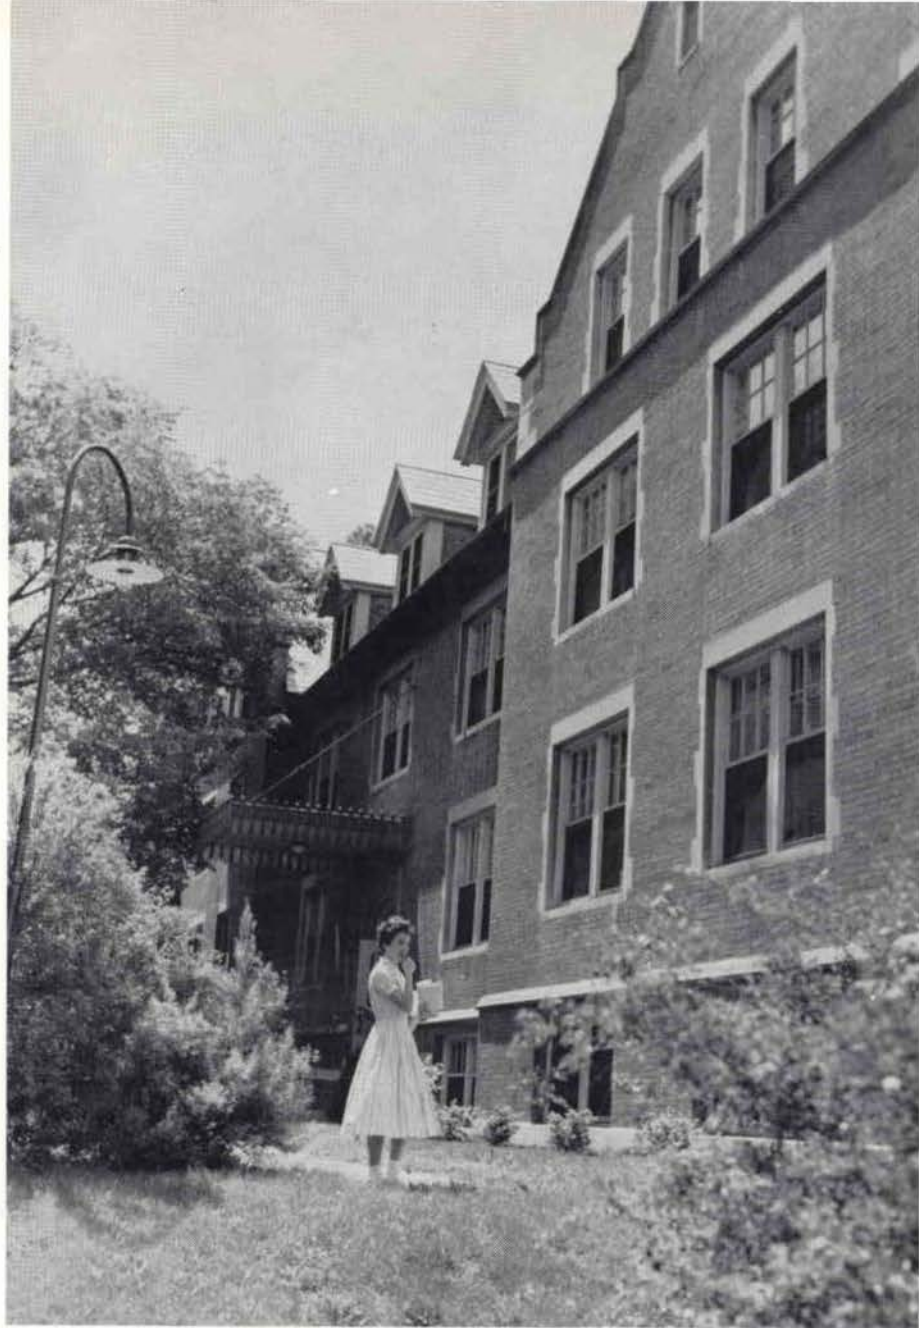

Traditionally the senior dormitory, Cobbs Hall was representative of every class in 1959-1960. Informal "mixers" are given in the large recreation room, and the busy campus Tea Room is located here. Cobbs is our newest hall, having been completed in 1949 in honor of the late Thomas Harper Cobbs, a member of the Lindenwood Board of Directors from 1917 until his death in 1959.

NANCY GALE
Hall President

MRS. MARY CAVE
Head Resident

BUTLER HALL

This year fifty-five new students lived in Butler Hall, which is adjacent to Roemer Hall and handy for classes. Physical education courses are followed in Butler gymnasium and swimming pool; college formal dances take place in the gymnasium. This forty-four-year-old dormitory carries on the memory of Colonel James Gay Butler, a generous contributor to Lindenwood in years past.

HEALTH CENTER

To keep us healthy for our busy academic and social life, the Health Center employs a visiting doctor and a registered nurse. Three other registered nurses are enrolled in Liberal Arts courses at Lindenwood, continuing training begun three years ago at Deaconess Hospital in St. Louis.

McCLUER HOUSE

Set quietly among the red brick campus buildings, grey McCluer House provides a home for junior and senior home economics majors and other home economics students. Here they live for six weeks at a time, learning through practical experience how to manage a home graciously and efficiently. Part of the planning involves social occasions—teas and dinners for students and faculty members—and it is said that Doctor McCluer likes to visit “his” house for breakfast.

IN MEMORIAM

This page is dedicated to the memory of Miss Dorothy Ely, assistant professor of English and alumna of Lindenwood, who died on November 16, 1959.

Endowed with endless patience, kindness, and a glowing love of people, Miss Ely will be remembered by her students as a truly Christian teacher. For ten years she taught at Lindenwood, encouraging the unsure, inspiring everyone by her own enthusiasm, and with her gift of humor making English composition and literature always alive and significant.

LINDEN SCROLL

Because of their outstanding contributions to the College community in fellowship and service, these girls are honored by being selected for Linden Scroll. As members, they continue leadership in loyalty to the fundamental purposes of the College. Not content to rest on their laurels, the members of Linden Scroll, a senior honorary society, conduct a white elephant sale to raise money for the Linden Scroll scholarship.

WASHINGTON SEMESTER STUDENTS

After an exciting semester in Washington, D.C., Terry Ross, Jane Tibbals, Gay Pauly, and Margie Bassnett enjoy looking through their scrapbooks. During the fall they studied at the American University with a group of one hundred students representing forty church-affiliated colleges.

Sightseeing, attending night classes, and observing the functions of the national government were chief among their activities; in addition, each one wrote a thesis concerning a phase of government work.

CHAPTER IV

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT COUNCIL

The members of the Student Council, who serve as representatives of the entire student body, formulate rules and regulations, and conduct the business of student government. Every Tuesday a student assembly is held in Roemer Auditorium for discussion and announcements; every year the Student Council resurrects Mrs. Sibley's ghost.

M. COX, President

First row, l. to r.: J. Crockett, S. Schulte, P. Perkins, S. Wood, P. Brantley, M. Moes. Second row: E. Daniel, S. Musgrove, L. Williams.

STUDENT COUNSELORS

Last fall a selected group of upperclassmen began a new program to help freshmen in personal and social areas. They were chosen for such qualities as good scholarship, sensitivity, objectivity, and genuine interest; and each student counsels as many as seven girls. The program began early in the fall with a dinner for these student counselors and their counselees.

K. GLASER, Chairman

First row, l. to r.: M. Wilkins, D. Cross, M. Warnecke, M. Skaer.
Second row: E. Hunter, N. Johnson, M. Moes, L. Williams, B. Bohne.

First row, l. to r.: M. Reilly, J. Tavlin, E. Barnhill. Second row: H. Lambrechtse, S. Bartman, A. Leedy, C. Drane, S. Seifert.

First row: M. McCue. Second row, l. to r.: J. Seitz, D. Humphreys, M. M. Lewis, E. Owens. Third row: D. Langridge, I. Barklage, S. Sicks, J. Conrath, M. Ahrens, D. Bryan.

L. to r.: A. Hanna, B. Kasper, C. Crebs, E. Potter, M. Beasley.

Advisor: Miss Mary Lichliter.

HONOR BOARD

The Honor Board helps develop a sense of integrity and responsibility in all students by encouraging individual honor and by creating a high moral tone among them. To ensure the continuance of honor as an integral part of life at Lindenwood, the Board regulates the functions and practices of the Honor System.

M. WARD, Chairman

L. to r.: J. Winburn, M. Cox, J. Tavlin, A. Leedy, Secretary; C. Cordill.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The members of the Junior and Senior cabinets of the S.C.A. lead the student body in seeking spiritual strength and understanding through service. Perhaps the liveliest example of S.C.A. activity on campus is the World University Service auction, at which students' own contributions are sold back to them. The S.C.A. also sponsors a Blood Mobile, a "Toys-for-Tots" campaign, and work projects at the Boys' Club of St. Charles.

SENIOR CABINET

L. to r.: N. Babb, Secretary; R. Ryter, Treasurer; J. Tavlin, Vice-President; C. Milliken, President.

First row, l. to r.: M. McCue, N. Rector, D. Cross. Second row: S. Lee, B. Bohne, F. Wilson, N. Camp.

JUNIOR CABINET

L. to r.: G. Ellis, President; E. Taylor, Treasurer; E. Burnett, Secretary; K. Tuepker, Vice-President.

First row, l. to r.: N. Hollett, K. Slayman, C. Richter, M. Overman, A. Arnold, K. Dorman, F. Miller. Second row: C. Burke, J. Stute, D. Davis, S. Drozda, J. Davis.

SOCIAL COUNCIL

Working with the Social Director, Miss Odell, the Social Council arranges social activities for Lindenwood ladies. Mixers and smaller parties with fraternities are designed to help the students meet interesting new friends. Cultural opportunities such as symphony concerts are also provided.

C. DAVIDSON, Chairman

First row, l. to r.: P. Brantley, M. Wilkins, M. M. Lewis, M. Rodgers, J. Letson, P. Perkins.
Second row: M. Harra.

SOCIAL SKILLS COUNCIL

The members of the Social Skills Council continue a tradition of graciousness by creating an awareness of courtesy and neatness on campus. These upperclassmen meet occasionally to discuss changes in or strengthening of Lindenwood's social customs.

L. to r.: V. Dierking, S. Musgrove, Chairman; D. Langridge.

First row, l. to r.: A. Adams, N. Baker, E. Robertson, L. Zuber, E. Hunter, M. Benton. Second row: M. Reilly, E. Potter, L. Sturgess, M. Thiebes, C. Crebs.

Sponsor: Mrs. Edna Steger.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

To encourage good scholarship, Alpha Sigma Tau is an honorary society for upperclassmen who have met its high standards.

N. Camp

Sponsor: Dr. Eugene Conover.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Alpha Lambda Delta, a nationally affiliated scholastic honor society for underclassmen, was organized to promote intelligent living and a high standard of learning. Each year the members contribute money from a rummage sale to the fund for foreign students.

L. to r.: M. McCue, B. Ebeling, C. Kirkland, A. Hanna, S. Winningham.

*First row, l. to r.: M. Skaer, L. Williams.
Second row: C. Drane, Treasurer; P. Morris,
E. Barnhill, Secretary; M. Benton, Vice-President.*

L. to r.: N. Camp, N. Johnson, President.

Sponsor: Dr. Marion Dawson.

LINDEN LEAVES

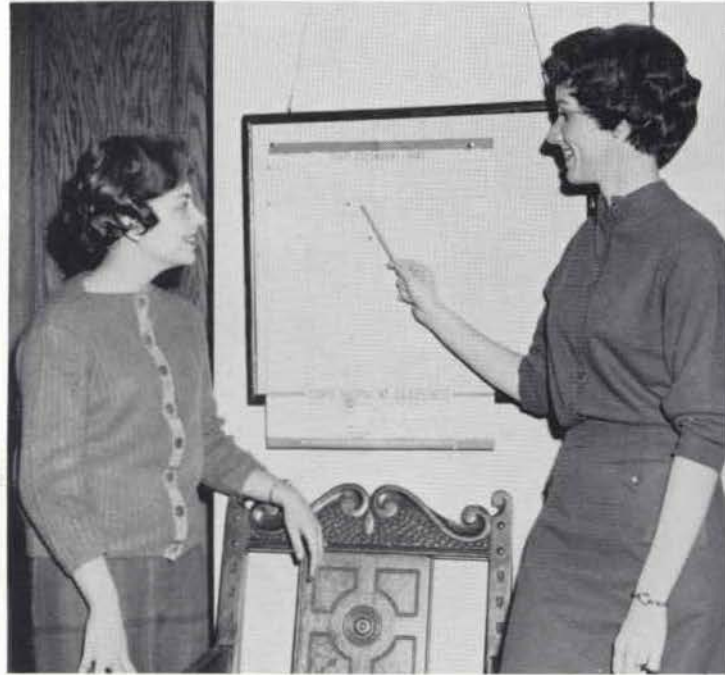

And another group of elbows has rested on the Tower Room's square table; another organization of pens and brushes, flash bulbs, and typewriter keys has put down the passings-by of a college year. The staff of Linden Leaves are modern historians for a while, giving Lindenwood students a record of memories for a lifetime.

GRIFFIN

As the legendary griffin kept guard over hidden treasures, so the Griffin of Lindenwood preserves the best examples of student literary expression. It presents the work of former students, as well as of today's, in poetry and prose. To help encourage writing, the Griffin annually sponsors the Freshman Writing Contest.

PI ALPHA DELTA

One of the undertakings of Pi Alpha Delta is a Roman banquet. The purpose of this organization is to further interest in the classics, and a special emphasis is placed upon relating the classics to modern times. A tea for the faculty is held in the spring.

L. to r.: C. Saxe, Secretary; E. Potter, President.

Second row: D. Kief, P. Morris, A. Hanna.*

Sponsor: Dr. Hazel Toliver.

PRESS CLUB

The members of the Press Club annually present the Gridiron Show, a parody of campus life played by living caricatures of Lindenwood personalities. In a more serious vein, they work toward better communication through campus publications, radio, and television.

L. to r.: E. Moulthrop, C. Ely, K. Dunham, B. Bohne, E. Allen, J. Rollins.

First row, l. to r.: B. Larson, E. Darnall, M. Hay. Second row: N. Calvert, Copresident; C. Milliken, Copresident.

Sponsor: Mrs. Louise Thomson.

POETRY SOCIETY

Those participating in the Poetry Society encourage the creation and appreciation of poetry at Lindenwood. The year's best poems are read at a tea in March. This year a program of special interest to art and English students was planned by the Society and the Student Artists Guild—the Art and Poetry Symposium held in January.

L. to r.: V. Leak, Treasurer; N. Rector, J. Batton, President; E. Hunter, Vice-President.

L. to r.: M. Radford, S. Kuhn, P. Lacey, P. Schuermann, M. Overman, L. Sheehan, S. Drozda, M. Austin.

First row, l. to r.: N. Russell, Secretary; H. Rice. Second row: E. Simmons, J. Crockett, N. Johnson, M. Ahrens.

Sponsor: Dr. Elizabeth Dawson.

STUDENT ARTISTS GUILD

Furthering its purpose of developing deeper understanding of the fine arts, the Student Artists Guild worked with the Poetry Society to bring about the Art and Poetry Symposium. A contemporary artist and a poet were the honored guests. Some of the members' happiest memories are of Art Week-ends in the spring and fall at Mound Ridge, Missouri.

*First row, l to r.: V. Leak, Vice-President; A. Defabaugh, Secretary.
Second row: E. Mansfield, President; M. Grogan, Treasurer.*

Sponsor: Mr. Harry Hendren.

L. to r.: C. Drane, J. Meyer, S. Schmitt.

TRIANGLE CLUB

The Triangle Club points out members of the mathematics, chemistry, and biology fields who are eligible for the honor of membership. In May, when close study of these subjects becomes more difficult, the members of Triangle Club have a picnic down at the ovens by the golf course.

L. to r.: F. Armstrong, N. Rector, G. Wood, K. Worth, I. Barklage.

L. to r.: C. Milliken, N. Ordelheide, K. Magie, D. Kief, J. Bordeaux, M. Vanice, N. Camp, President.

ALPHA EPSILON RHO

Radio and television students with high scholastic standing are recognized by the national honorary society, Alpha Epsilon Rho. The members of Lindenwood's Tau Chapter attend a national convention in April or May.

L. to r.: M. Hay, President; J. Lovins, Vice-President. Not pictured: N. Calvert, Secretary.

Sponsor: Miss Martha May Boyer.

KCLC

The KCLC staff, which is affiliated with the Collegiate Broadcasting Association, obtains practical experience in managing a radio station and provides entertaining programs for the students. Events of this year included an open house at the station headquarters in the Fine Arts Building during alumnae weekend.

L. to r.: D. Bryan, H. Bohn, B. Arnold, J. Lovins, Station Comanager; M. Wilkins, M. Hay, Station Comanager; C. Ely, M. Reed. Not pictured: N. Calvert, Production Director.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

The national drama honor society, Alpha Psi Omega, recognizes student actors and encourages them in study of the theater, as well as in creative interpretation. Lindenwood's Psi Chapter is annually responsible for the Parents' Weekend play.

J. Lovins, President. Sponsor:
Mr. Douglas Hume.

Sponsor: Mr. Douglas Hume.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

To broaden its concepts of the meaning of life through glimpses into the theories of authorities in philosophy, the Philosophy Club meets five or six times a year. The various members usually give a report on a philosopher or philosophic movement, and then discuss it in an attempt to relate the ideas to their lives.

L. to r.: N. Bozorgmehri, W. Wear, N. Rector, V. Leak, J. Winburn.

COLHECON

Colhecon is associated nationally with the American Home Economics Association. With interesting programs featuring speakers from St. Louis, fashion and flower arrangement experts, and demonstrations for Christmas food and gift decoration, Colhecon fulfills its purpose of promoting interest in home economics. A picnic is held in the spring as the final meeting of the year.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The League of Women Voters attempts to contribute to the maturity of Lindenwood students by promoting interest in politics in the community and in the world. Emphasis is placed upon the importance of democracy on a nonpartisan basis; the League's chief activity this year was the Mock Political Convention in April.

First row, l. to r.: W. Wear, B. Boland, M. Minsky. Second row: J. Winburn, M. M. Lewis, J. DuLany. Third row: M. Reed, F. Miller, M. Thiebes. Fourth row: J. Hunt, J. Bost, M. McInnis.

Sponsor: Dr. Homer Clevenger.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

The Young Democrats encourage their fellow students to work for the election of Democratic candidates; to this end they helped bring about the Mock Political Convention. To create loyalty to the principles the party stands for and to provide information about those it represents are the objectives of this organization.

*First row, l. to r.: M. Walker, N. Light, M. M. Lewis.
Second row: J. Horst, M. Wilkins, J. Beard, D. Cross.*

*First row, l. to r.: E. Robertson, B. Maddox, M. Vanice.

L. to r.: C. Elam, President; N. McGee, Vice-President; J. DuLany, Treasurer; N. Knapp, Secretary.

Sponsor: Dr. John Moore.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

To become better informed citizens and voters, and to understand, influence, and support their party, the Young Republicans showed their strength in April at the Mock Political Convention. Working with the Young Democrats, the members brought nationally controversial issues to the Lindenwood campus.

L. to r.: W. Tyau, M. Ward, G. Wood, Secretary; A. Adams, L. Janson, Vice-President; J. Winburn, President; K. Tuepker.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The I.R.C. studies past and current trends in international relations and particular problems between nations, in an effort to learn what can be done by American students to promote world friendships. This year the members heard such world leaders as Madame Pandit, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and Mr. Clement Attlee. The students from abroad planned and provided the entertainment for a dinner in the spring.

First row, l. to r.: M. Hay, J. DuLany, M. McCue, N. Bozorgmehri. Second row: L. Kahma, H. Lambrechtse, Vice-President; D. Douglas, M. Hill.

Sponsor: Mr. Frank Armstrong, Jr.

WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION

The Christmas dorm sing sponsored by the W.R.A. brings out the best in the Christmas spirit at Lindenwood. To establish more relationship between classes and to bring recreation into the lives of the students, the W.R.A. also organizes such activities as a camping trip in the fall, a Barn Dance in January, and a Play Day in the spring. Intramural sports take place throughout the year.

Kneeling, l. to r.: J. Beard, E. Simmons. Standing: S. Peich, N. Richardson, P. Sheets, B. Bacon, E. Kennedy, J. Hancock, B. Boschert, A. Ludy, C. Harmon, L. Rohrer, J. Letson, D. Campbell, M. Ritter, M. Thiebes, K. Novak, K. Langell, J. Elder.

ORCHESIS

To express dramatic meaning in rhythmic movement, Orchesis members use modern dance as an art form. They presented a program in February, sponsored films on modern dance for the student body, and invited recognized dancers to the campus.

L. to r.: E. Potter, President; P. Lacey, Secretary-Treasurer; J. Rundell, K. Howlett, Vice-President; A. Hanna.

Sponsor: Mrs. Grazina Amonas.

BETA CHI

Beta Chi's purpose is to promote better horsemanship and good sportsmanship. Its members plan the Parents' Weekend Horse Show and often attend various shows in Missouri; a spring picnic and trail rides are other enjoyable activities.

L. to r.: J. L. Walker, President; C. Schmitt, J. Tavlin, Secretary; M. Gibson, Vice-President; T. Bogue, Treasurer.

L. to r.: C. Davidson, P. Bass, N. Richardson, K. Belland, S. Schmitt.

Sponsor: Mrs. Fern Bittner.

MU PHI EPSILON

In November a tea is given for music majors and minors to introduce the national professional music sorority, Mu Phi Epsilon, to the campus. The purpose of the organization is to recognize and promote excellence in musicianship and scholarship.

First row, l. to r.: M. Benton, K. Glaser, President. Second row: H. Fujiwara, C. Krueger, S. Lee, Recording Secretary; J. Nelson, Vice-President; N. Ordheide, Treasurer. Not Pictured: M. Pagel, Corresponding Secretary.

Sponsor: Miss Gertrude Isidor.

CHORALAIRES

A spring tour is a new feature of the Choralaires' busy schedule; they also present a Christmas Chapel program and a concert for students in the spring. This select group of fine voices has sung for various churches, schools, and service organizations in the St. Louis area. We are proud of the quality of their artistic achievement.

L. to r.: M. Pagel, Accompanist; E. Bricker, B. Kasper, M. Alves, L. Street, M. King, M. Pate, E. Gorsuch, K. Cloward, D. L. Davis, H. Bohn, L. Miller, S. Tibbals.

Director: Dr. Kenneth Kincheloe.

CHOIR

The choir is one of the larger organizations, inspiring and serving Lindenwood with its music at weekly chapel and vesper services. It presented the Christmas section of "The Messiah" in cooperation with townspeople of St. Charles and the Rolla Glee Club, and toured the south central states in the spring.

First row, l. to r.: S. Lee, President; B. Boxell. Second row: J. Rodgers, L. Miller. Third row: S. Tibbals, E. Bricker. Fourth row: K. Cloward, N. Gaines. Fifth row: P. Bass, K. Collins. Director: Mr. Milton Rehg.

Doctor Terhune, Mr. House, Miss Ross, and Doctor Moore meet to discuss the dating problems on campus.

"Christmas time again, but who is going to clean up after those reindeer?"

Mass Confusion!

"The mosquito was that big!"

"Oh, really?"

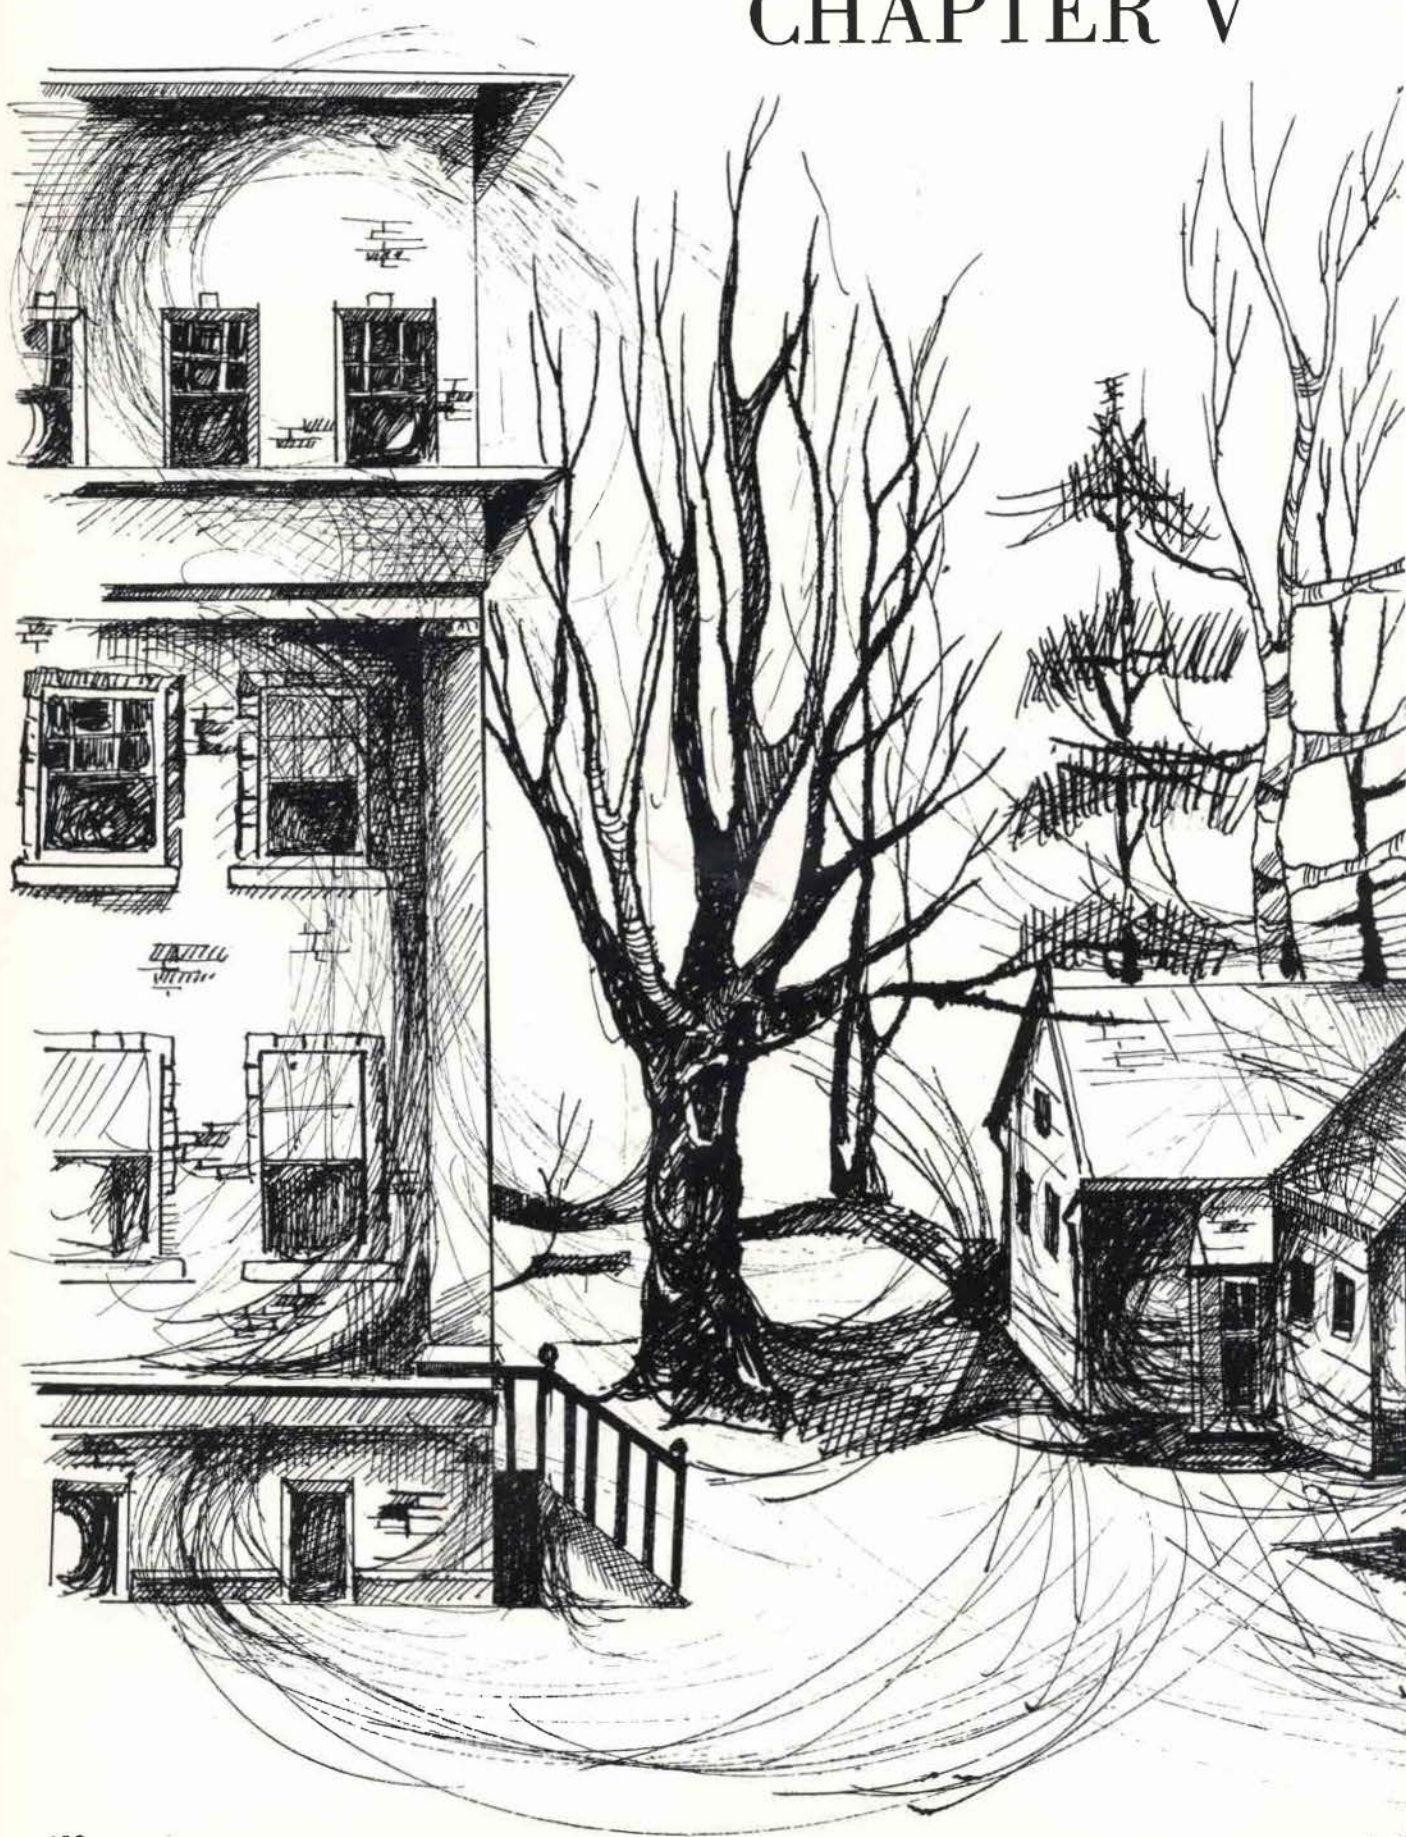

"Who says we aren't in the South Sea Islands?"

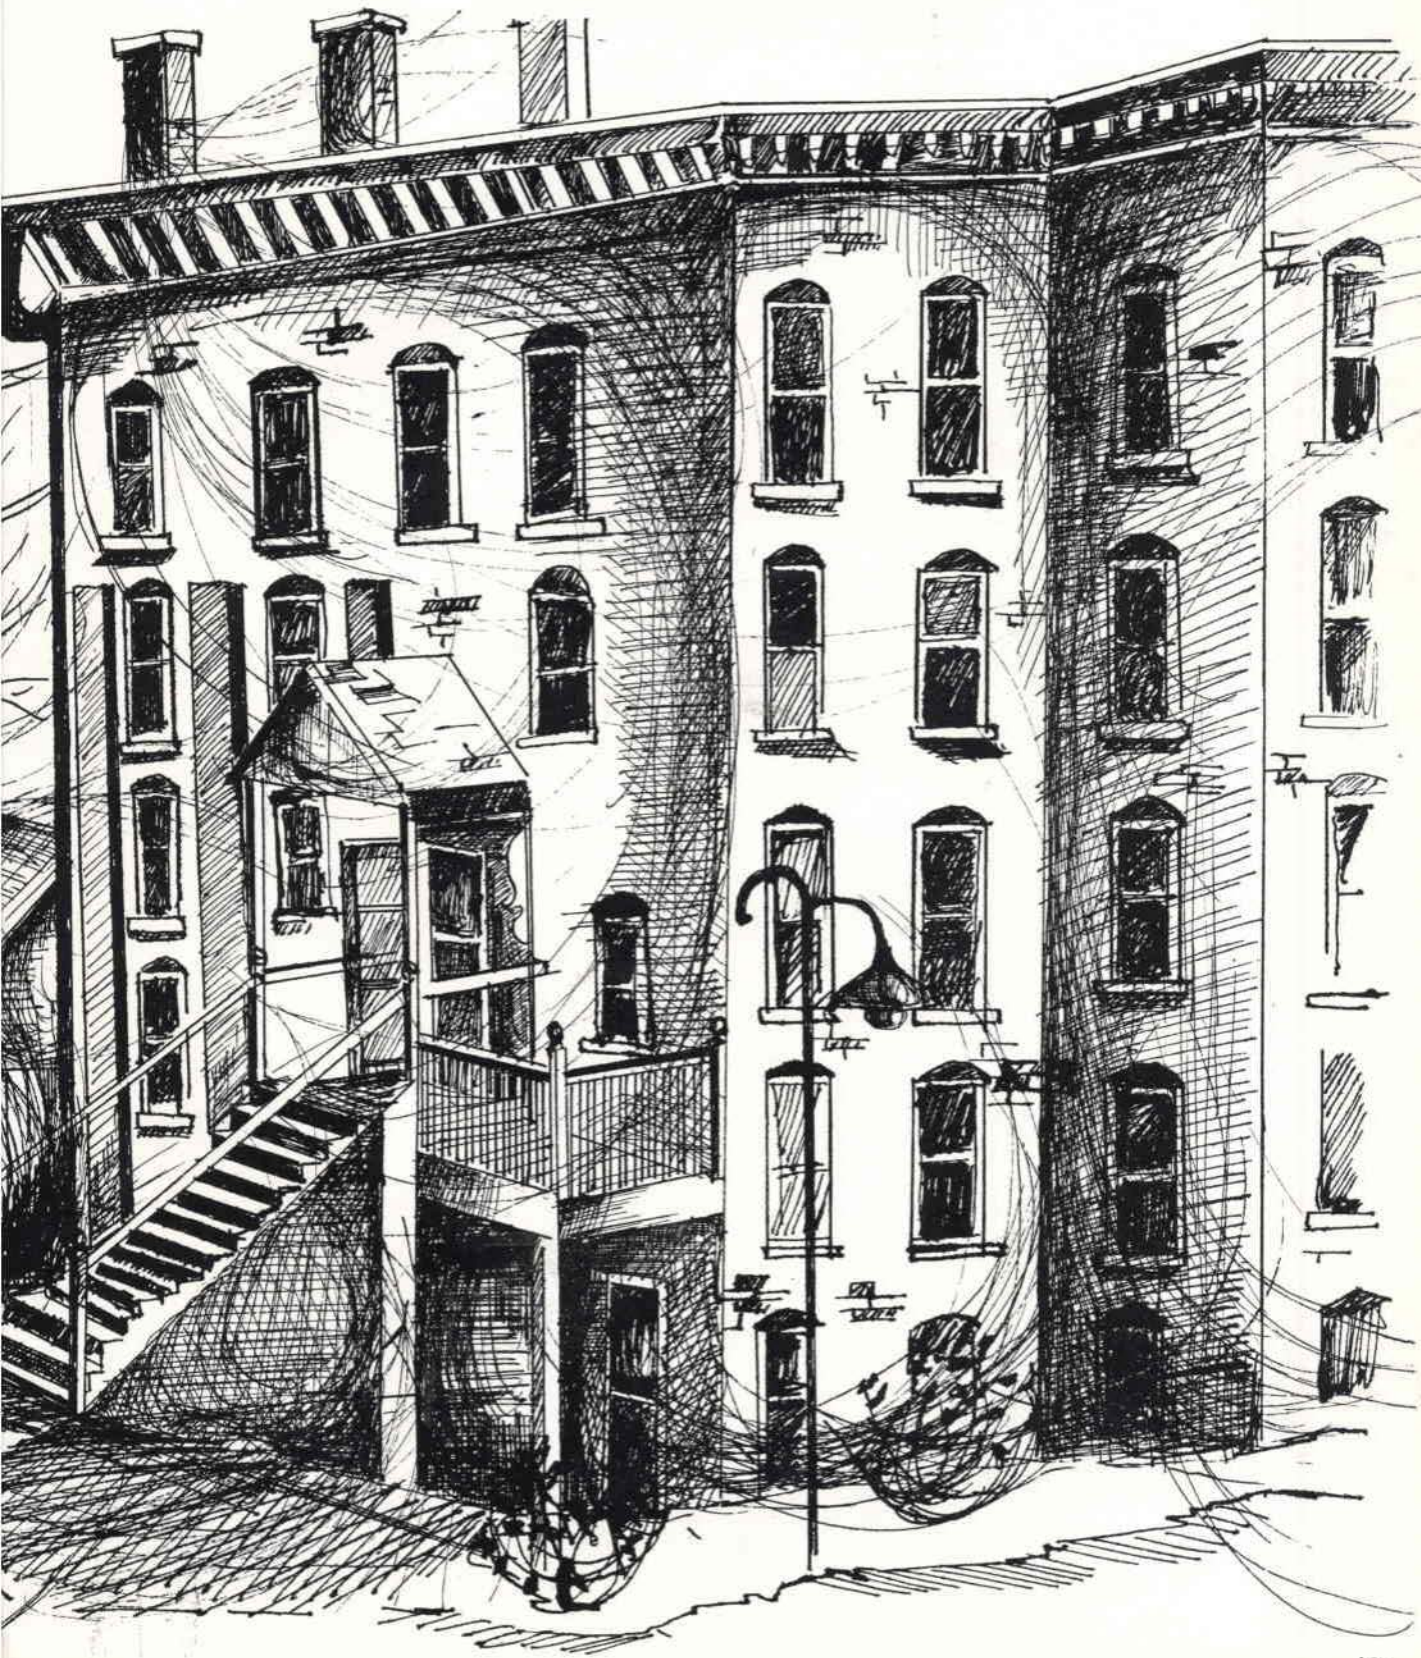

Alumnae Weekend, and Cobbs seniors have no place to go but to the Tea Room.

CHAPTER V

QUEENS AND COURTS

HARVEST QUEEN

The Harvest Queen, April Anderson, graced the Harvest Ball in November. She is from Aztec, New Mexico, where she enjoys wearing squaw dresses. April's major field of study is English; she supplements this interest with reading, singing, and dancing. She lives in Sibley Hall.

The members of the Harvest Court were chosen by the freshman class. After presenting a style show in Roemer Auditorium, the queen and her court were elected by the student body. Laurel Sheehan, the retiring queen, presented April with the crown.

VALENTINE QUEEN

Karen Howlett was selected by her sophomore classmates to be Queen of Hearts at the Valentine Dance. A human relations major from Ayres Hall, Karen likes to read and swim. Her home is in Belle Fourche, South Dakota; her chief interest, ballet.

Ann Hanna, president of the sophomore class, officiated at the crowning.

MAY QUEEN

In May our campus is made more lovely by the festivities of the May Court during Parents' Weekend. One of Lindenwood's oldest traditions has been to elect to the Court members of each class who represent the finest qualities of Lindenwood girls.

The May Queen is Eleanor Mansfield of Hamilton, Ohio. An enthusiastic senior art major, "Ellie" spends most of her time on campus in the Art Department and the print shop. She is "a gay sort" from Cobbs Hall, who enjoys dancing as well as dress designing and sewing.

Ellie was crowned Queen of the May by June Tavlin, her special maid, on Lindenwood Green.

SPECIAL MAID

June Tavlin, of Irwin Hall, was chosen to be special maid by the junior class. Sewing and riding are among her interests, and her major is religious education. June's home is in Cincinnati, Ohio.

SENIOR ATTENDANTS

The senior attendants to the May Queen are Barbara Larson and Dorothy Langridge. Making plans for her new home absorbs much of Barbara's free time. Swimming, travel, and crossword puzzles are also enjoyed by this attendant from Clarendon Hills, Illinois. Psychology is Barbara's major.

"Dott's" major is office management; she likes to play the piano and listen to ballad singing. Rockford, Michigan, is her home. Barbara and Dott live in Cobbs Hall.

JUNIOR ATTENDANTS

The junior attendants are Peggy Payne of Jasper, Missouri, and Stephanie Harms of Canton, Illinois. Peggy is a resident of Cobbs Hall who enjoys cooking, sewing, and water skiing. Her major is vocational home economics, and she likes to travel.

“Stevie’s” major is religious education, which she puts into practice in summer missionary work in Alaska. She enjoys knitting during her leisure time in Irwin Hall.

The sophomore class elected Anne Robertson and Marilyn Moes to the May Court. Anne of Owensboro, Kentucky, is majoring in elementary education. She likes golf, reading, and playing bridge with her friends in Irwin Hall.

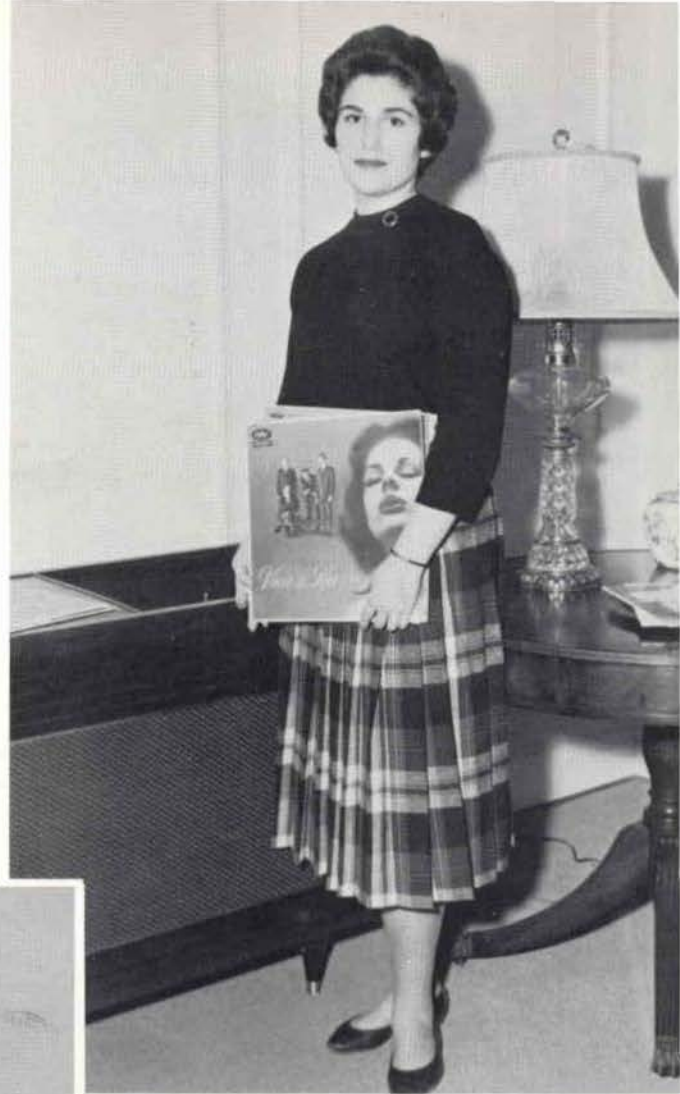

Marilyn lives in Sibley Hall; she, too, enjoys golf and is a bowling enthusiast. Biology will be the major of this dark-haired attendant from Billings, Montana.

FRESHMAN ATTENDANTS

Freshman attendants, Patricia Thurmond and Jo Ellen Plumer, are both residents of Niccolls Hall. "Pat," a collector of fine record albums and a water sport enthusiast, majors in sociology. Her home is in Dyersburg, Tennessee.

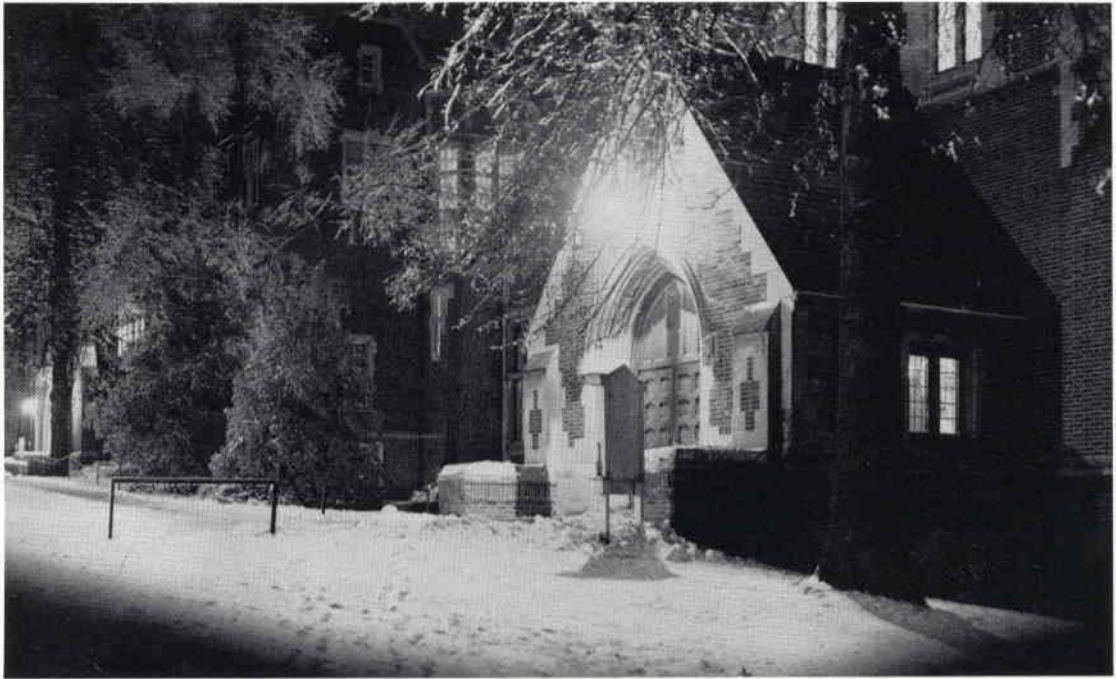

"Jody" may incorporate art into her elementary education major. In her spare time she likes to knit for a certain young man and enjoys an afternoon of golf. Jody is from Ft. Worth, Texas.
