CENTURY-OLD GRAND, FIRST IN MIDWEST, IS GIFT TO COLLEGE

A century-old piano, the first concert grand to be shipped to the midwest, has been given to Lindenwood College by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Steger, Chase Apartments, 4831 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis.

Construction of the piano was begun in 1859 by the Steinway family in their piano shop. Its completion was interrupted by the Civil War. Completed after the war, it was delivered to Cincinnati and shipped by boat to New Orleans, and then to Louisville, Ky., by river boat.

When and how the piano came to St. Louis is not known, but it was discovered in a warehouse in 1934 by a representative of the Aeolian Company of Missouri. The firm restored the instrument, and before it was shipped to its new owner in Connecticut, it was used for a concert with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

The Stegers made the gift to Lindenwood when they gave up their home and moved into an apartment. Mr. Steger is vice-president of the Curtis Manufacturing Co., and his office is in St. Louis.

The piano, constructed of rosewood, is being used in the parlor of Sibley Hall.

DR. McCLUER HAS TWO-WEEK TRIP IN EAST FOR MEETINGS

Dr. F. L. McCluer completed a two-week trip to Washington, Atlantic City, and New York earlier this month.

In the nation's capital attending a meeting of the General Assembly Council of the National Presbyterian Church and Center, Dr. and Mrs. McCluer also held a meeting with Lindenwood alumnae who live in the Washington area.

Dr. McCluer, as chairman of the General Assembly Council of the National Presbyterian Church and Center, presided at the meeting.

Two meetings in Atlantic City, the Presbyterian College Union and the Association of American Colleges, were included on Dr. McCluer's agenda.

The Presbyterian College Union has a membership of more than 40 colleges which are church-related. One of the highlights of the meeting was an address, "Faith, Science and the Church-Related College," by Dr. Ronald W. McNeur, study secretary, General Division of Higher Education, Board of Christian Education.

The Union sessions were followed by the annual meeting of the Council of Protestant Colleges and Universities, also held in Atlantic City.

Following the meeting of the Association of American Colleges Jan. 15-17, Dr. McCluer was in New York for appointments related to the college's development program.

Alumnae Abolish Dues

By Dyke Steinbeck Barton
National Alumnae President

Alumnae Association dues of $3 were eliminated by revision of the By-Laws at the association's meeting last October, upon recommendation of the Alumnae Council and its executive committee.

During last year, our Alumnae Council made a thorough study of the association's financial structure and status and decided to dispense with national dues. The association has never received enough money from the collection of dues to be self-supporting, and because the college feels that alumnae interest and activities are vital, it has subsidized its income and program.

Under the new financial system, which is comparable to that of almost all women's colleges, the Alumnae Association will function as a department of the college. It will have a budget prepared by the association president and the alumnae secretary, with all operating funds coming directly from the college. In return, all money received by the alumnae association will be presented as a gift to the college. As in the past, gifts may be designated for specific purposes by the donor.

It is hoped that all of us will give greater support to our annual Alumnae Fund appeal. Instead of dues, let's double our gifts to the college through our association in 1963.
