THE COVER

Late in the spring, Lindenwood women put aside the obligations of class and community and had a day of fun—it was time for the annual all-campus carnival. The event was especially successful this year with prospective students from high schools and a group of Westminster College men attending a seminar on campus on hand for the event.

WHERE ARE WE IN AMERICA TODAY?

"Where are we in America today?" Dr. Eric F. Goldman asked Lindenwood College's 1964 graduates when he addressed the 138th annual Commencement exercises on campus Saturday, May 23.

"Where are we in terms of the kind of America which you are supposed to go out and conquer and enjoy—or at least survive? I think one of the reasons why we don't quite know where we are in this country today is we Americans pride ourselves on being extraordinarily casual about doctrine. We say we are pragmatic; we say we don't like to schematize things; and although this has its virtues, it also means that we sometimes gloss over some very important things that are going on under our noses," he said.

Highlights of the address by the distinguished educator, Rollins Professor of History at Princeton University who is on leave as a special consultant to President Johnson, include the following:

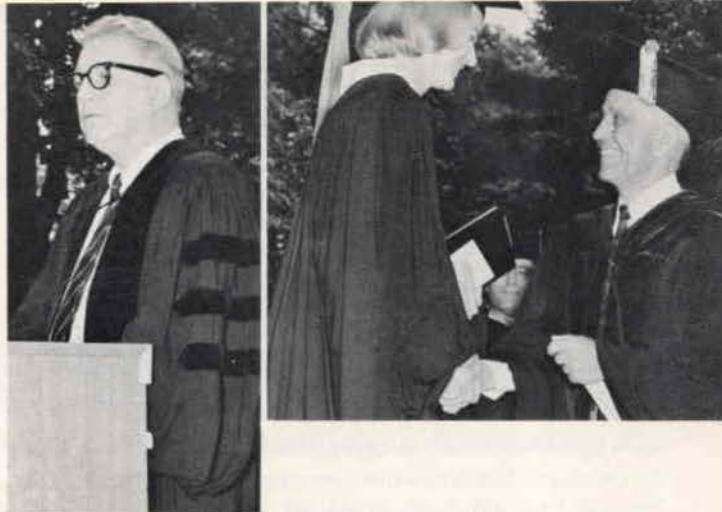

"The America into which you are entering is one which has seen and is seeing three real revolutions in its thinking in the very short period since World War II—the very short period since most of you have grown up. One of these revolutions, it seems to me, is complete; the second one, I think, is very well along, but not yet finished. And there is a third, a third one that is just emerging which I am going to suggest to you is peculiarly your own revolution, whether you like it or not.

• • • • •

"The first of these revolutions . . . has to do with our attitude toward foreign affairs. It is pretty extraordinary how much the attitudes of our general public have changed in foreign affairs in the past few short years since 1945. . . . It wasn't simply a question of isolationism, that's much too simple. It was something far more deep-seated. . . . Everywhere, at all times, and in all places, people wanted what we call freedom.

"Have you ever noticed that we never really fought a war . . . against a whole people. It's only against some evil man or some evil group of men. People, we say, are all alike. They all want the same things. Now if this is your view of history, then foreign policy is really no problem at all. Oh, you have it once in awhile, you have it like measles, and get it over with as quickly as possible and then go back to the natural course of events.

"Now, in the period after 1935—and with a tremendous jolt—we had to realize that this . . . simply wasn't true. . . . That freedom, freedom in a sense of middle-class democracy, was not something that the rest of the world was waiting for. . . . As a matter of fact, as the new nations began to emerge in the world and began to change the color of the world today, very few of them chose the course of middle class democracy in our sense.

"It is amazing how this really radical departure . . . came to dominate both of our political parties, came to dominate all of the major instrumentalities of opinions in the United States. . . . So, the first of the revolutions that I say to you I believe is complete is the shift-over from the simple view of the world as one in which things are going to go pretty much our way, in which foreign policy is still no problem, and in which Communism is going to eradicate itself or we eradicate it pretty quickly, has given way to a much more flexible, patient foreign policy of accommodation."

"All the while, the second of the revolutions was under way. As a matter of fact, it had been under way for some 50 or 60 years in the United States. And this second revolution was something which had to do with our view of our own internal domestic affairs. . . . (The) issue was simply this: everybody was for democracy—everybody's always for democracy in the United States—but the question was, 'How do you define it?'

"This thing democracy simply cannot mean extremes of wealth and status in this country. If you have too many extremes, too much extreme of wealth and status in the United States, you are making a travesty of democracy and, as a matter of fact, the democracy is not going to endure.

". . . As a result of a lot of things, some of which had nothing to do with politics except as a result of three very serious wars—World War I, World War II, and the Korean War—the extremes simply began disappearing."

• • • • •

"The third revolution, the one just emerging in American life and the one that I suggest to you is your particular revolution, is next. The foreign policy revolution and the domestic, economic, and social policy revolution were the revolutions of other generations.

But this third one has come about peculiarly as a kind of an explosion from the younger people of this country. And the third one is simply this: for all the while we were changing American life in a direction of permitting more people to make more money, and more people to get more education, and more people to clamber up the scales socially, all the while we were widening opportunity in the United States, we paid extraordinarily little attention to telling anybody what they ought to do with the opportunity.

"We paid extraordinarily little attention to talking about what is the use of money, what is the use of a beautiful neighborhood, what is the use of a beautiful this, that, or the other thing. The issue was quantity—quantity in life. This was the big liberal drive in the period of the whole early 20th century, not what should be the quality of life; yet we were enormously successful in creating the quantity of life in the United States. We created an affluent society. And we are now bringing into that affluence the people left out, the poor white man and the Negro, who is largely poor.

"The problem emerging from your generation and the one that's beginning to put the steam behind it, is a problem which, in lieu of a better name, I am going to call the problem of the post-affluent society. Assume that within 15 or 20 years we will have licked the remaining basic problems of equal opportunity in the United States. What kind of an America are you really going to have?

"This then becomes . . . a war against the dull society, the uninteresting society, the overmaterial society, the ugly society. But this war has gone pretty far in a few years. It is the fashion in intellectual circles . . . to talk about our culture as if it consists exclusively television sets, tail fins on automobiles, and so forth.

"The first two revolutions were difficult ones to bring about in the United States. . . . This third one, the one that you're going to have to make up your mind about, and if you're like most young people of your age, the one that you're going to join, is one that has very special difficulties attached to it. . . .

"If this third revolution is going to work in the United States, it's going to have to base itself . . . on the development of an art, a literature, a type of movie, a type of speech even, which is good, which is civilized, and yet simultaneously can appeal to very broad sections of our population. It is, as I say, quite a challenge."

. . . .

"In terms of the revolutions in our history since the modern period began, I remember when they first began to have a great meaning to me. It was back in the 1930's before the foreign policy revolution had gotten underway, when the domestic policy revolution was just beginning to go ahead. At that time I traveled up to Philadelphia to listen to a very exciting man speak, Mr. Franklin Roosevelt.

". . . Despite the vicissitudes of the campaign he deliberately and publicly addressed the young people. He said, 'There is a mysterious cycle in human affairs. For some generations much is given, of other generations much is expected. This generation of Americans has a rendezvous with destiny.'

"Well, now I think it's pretty clear to some of us that your generation, in a far more subtle sense, has the responsibility for this third revolution—has, if you will, that rendezvous with that particular destiny. . . . Where we stumbled in handling those first two revolutions, it was primarily because we were still trying to cling in too many ways to the old, comfortable past. We were still refusing to face the revolution and call it for what it was. We were still trying to glide into the future without ever really leaving the past.

"Your way is up a very subtle and a very tricky incline because of the nature of this third revolution. Perhaps you will permit me to suggest to you that you will get up that incline more surely, you will know where you are going, if early in the climb you will sweep away the debris of the past, if you will sweep away with all the wondrous powers of youth's skepticism . . . the inanities of another generation's cosmic thinkers, newspaper pundits, and, I suppose I should add, another generation's paunching and gray-ing professors of history."

"Thank you, young women of Lindenwood College, for the generous letters some of you have written me about my books, for your hospitality, and above all for giving those of us working away in Washington, the knowledge that you are there, young and vital, and questioning, and, I trust, on the move.

"May all of you, each of you, know the full riches of being a woman and an American in the 1960's, which, to me, is the most exciting decade in all of America's endless years of restless experimentation."

LINDENWOOD CONFERS HONORS ON THREE

Lindenwood College conferred honorary degrees to Dr. Eric Frederick Goldman, the Reverend Robert Rankin, and Dr. Mary Terhune at May 23 Commencement exercises.

Dr. Goldman was presented by the Reverend W. Sherman Skinner, D.D., a member of the college's board of directors; the Reverend Rankin, by Raymond E Rowland, board of directors member; and Dr. Terhune, by Howard I. Young, chairman of the board of directors.

DR. ERIC F. GOLDMAN

In presenting Dr. Goldman, Dr. Skinner said:

"Any attempt to list here the achievements and honors of a man who began as a child prodigy, was a doctor of philosophy at 22, and has ever since then been busy as scholar and public servant, could neither be finished in the allotted time nor do justice to one who is known among his colleagues as the autocrat and sage of the luncheon table.

"Eric F. Goldman is Rollins Professor of History and a McCosh Fellow at Princeton University, where the senior class has often voted him 'best lecturer' and his course on 'Modern America' has to refuse students for want of room. An authority on the history of the United States since the 1890's, he is now serving his second term as president of the Society of American Historians.

"Author of numerous articles in magazines and scholarly journals, and of several books, including the widely read Rendezvous with Destiny and The Crucial Decade, he is popularly known today as the brilliant moderator of the television panel discussion, The Open Mind, which received an Emmy award in 1962, and as consultant and adviser to President Johnson charged with 'channeling the best thinking of the nation to the White House.'

"Professor Goldman's compelling and pervasive personality is felt not only on the campus but over the television network. In both realms his leadership is firm without brittleness, forceful without loss of either humility or humor, gracious without condescension. He has a deep capacity and concern for ideas and, while possessed of strong convictions, is eager to explore the convictions of his fellowmen.

"It is an honor to present Eric Frederick Goldman for the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws."

DR. ROBERT RANKIN

Mr. Rowland, in his presentation of Dr. Rankin, stated:

"It is my privilege to bring before you, to be honored today, a man whose scope of effectiveness spreads all across America, yet who is particularly known and loved on this campus for his good works here; a man whose consuming interest centers in the young men and women on every college campus of the nation and whose position requires strict impartiality between colleges, yet who always welcomes the chance to give an extra measure of his talent and energy to Lindenwood College.

"The Reverend Robert Rankin is a gentleman of broad learning, profound compassion for his fellow men, and great good humor. He was born in Mason City, Ia., a city celebrated as the home base of a Music Man of some renown, and I am told that those who have heard Mr. Rankin sing in barber-shop quartets say that he, too, is well worthy of that name.

"His impartiality is a way of life. After two daughters were dispatched to the Rankin family, there forthwith came two sons.

"Mr. Rankin has served the Danforth Foundation in St. Louis as Associate Director since 1958. He has responsibility for the administration of the Danforth Associate Program and the programs in the campus ministry, and he has a special concern for the foundation's work in the area of religion in higher education.

"Though his responsibilities necessitate surveying the entire national scene of higher education and being impartial to hundreds of colleges, he has found it possible to spend much time on the Lindenwood campus, counseling with faculty members and students. He has been chapel speaker here for the last three years. He is going to be the leader of Religious Emphasis Week at Lindenwood next year.

"Mr. Rankin's distinguished career has centered in the field of campus ministry. He first served in this field at Oberlin College in Ohio and later at the Claremont Colleges in California where he was chaplain and associate professor of religion. During two years on leave from Claremont, Mr. Rankin served as the first executive director of the Rockefeller Brothers Theological Fellowship program, a project of the Rockefeller Fellowship Fund designed to recruit able young men for the parish ministry.

"Mr. Rankin is a graduate of the University of Iowa and Yale University. He served as a vocational counselor at Yale and two years in the parish ministry. During World War II he was a Chaplain in the United States Air Force. He is a minister of the Congregational Church.

"Mr. Rankin has written many articles published in national religious councils in his field.

"One of his principal accomplishments which cannot be overlooked was his marriage to Miss Martha Roberts, who is also a product of Iowa and a graduate of Iowa State College.

"Mr. Rankin's professional career continues to gain stature and expand in effectiveness. During the past year, through his imaginative leadership, the Danforth Foundation has installed several new ventures, including a new pattern of work in urban universities and a program of rewarding outstanding teachers which has gained widespread recognition.

"It is my honor and pleasure, Mr. President, to present to you Mr. Robert Rankin so that you may confer upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity."

DR. MARY TERHUNE

Dr. Terhune, who this year becomes professor emeritus upon her retirement, was presented by Mr. Young:

"It is a privilege to present to you Dr. Mary Terhune, for many years chairman and professor of modern languages at Lindenwood College, and for the last 38 years a member of the faculty of this institution.

"As a teacher of Spanish primarily, but also of French, and occasionally of German, she is widely recognized as a teacher of modern languages.

"Dr. Terhune received the degree of bachelor of arts, with majors in French and German, from Western College for Women in Oxford, O., where she was named a member of the college honor society in her junior year. She received the degree of master of arts in French from Columbia University and the doctorate of modern languages in Spanish from Middlebury College.

"Her record of foreign study and travel is impressive. She has studied in Madrid, in France, and in South America, and has visited the principal countries of Europe and Central and South America, as well as Mexico and Canada.

"Dr. Terhune has been an active member of numerous professional and cultural organizations, in many of which she has served as an officer.

"For the considerate and democratic manner in which she has worked with her departmental colleagues, for the wisdom and high moral tone of her student counseling, for the many hours she has given to service on faculty committees, for the high standards of teaching she has maintained, and for the quality of excellence she has encouraged among her students, this college will always be indebted to her. I present to you, Mr. President, with great pride, Mary Terhune, that you may confer upon her the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature."

RECEIVE MORE THAN ONE COPY?

Because some recipients of THE BULLETIN have asked why they receive two copies, we thought we should offer a word of explanation:

In almost all cases it's a matter of economics. Our addressograph plates are used by several departments for different purposes. If plates were removed for special reasons and replaced for other reasons, we would soon have a room filled with exceptional plates.

Add to this the fact that bulk mailing must be delivered to the post office already sorted by proper postal zone, and it begins to become expensive to sort, divide, and keep track of the thousands of plates. In short, it is actually much less expensive to send two copies in some cases than to separate the plates, though at first blush, the other might seem true.

SOME REFLECTIONS ON MARRIAGE

The Right Reverend George L. Cadigan, Episcopal Bishop of Missouri, delivered the Baccalaureate address Friday night, May 22, in the Lindenwood Chapel. "Some Reflections on Marriage" was his topic.

Citing the marriage vow which is said in the service of Holy Matrimony, the Bishop said that in that love "which draws us together, we share our hopes and limitations and those revealing homely anecdotes which explain each other's family.

"How sad, how tragic," he declared, "that so frequently in the noontime and the afternoon of marriage comes division and severance of relationship. In the past six years, in the county where I live, four out of every 10 marriages have ended in divorce. While this may be a fairly high statistic, it is altogether reminiscent of what is occurring throughout the United States. And is it not true, if we can be honest, that each of us, no matter who we are, at some time has seriously contemplated, if not divorce, at least some form of alienating separation?"

"The reasons for the breakdown of this significant institution are manifold and complex," he said. "In this kind of presentation we may make only a few observations, leaving the balance to be structured and blue-printed at another time.

"There has been an abysmal failure on the part of parents, schools and the Church to prepare young people more adequately for the adventure of marriage," Bishop Cadigan said. "So many enter into this relationship as an escape from authority or themselves, believing that somehow or other, once they are married, they will live happily ever after. But marriage does not lessen, but rather compounds, the problems of our existence.

"If we tell our young people that life is easy—when it is hard; that it is kind—when it is replete with cruel ironies; that all is to be had for the asking—when every blessing must be paid for singly or doubly; that it is a succession of high moments—when most of it is pedestrian; that it is romantic in the sense of affording high adventure—when its glory lies in man's struggle against forces he cannot even comprehend; that bigness is greatness and success is achievement; if we teach all these things then not only is youth corroded, corrupted and misled, while its well-springs are poisoned at the source, but the revulsion, when it comes, is and must be altogether shattering," he continued.

"Then there is our overweening pride, our egotism, selfishness, or, to use a theological term, original sin. Some years ago, when I stood on the threshold of marriage, an ancient Gaellic aunt gave me some homely advice.

"'Do not worry,' she said, 'about the obvious problems. Such have to be discussed and resolved.'

"I suppose she meant serious illnesses, childbirth, loss of job and even the death of the body.

"She went on to say that the real problems are the insignificant things and the seemingly unimportant that irritate, but seem too minor to objectify.

"I suppose she meant the carelessness of us men when we do not pick up our clothes, or fail to telephone when we are going to be late for dinner, or the untidiness of women who leave their lingerie and other things draped all over the bathroom, and even the inability to agree whether the toothpaste tube should be squeezed from the top or the bottom," Mr. Cadigan said.

"How important that differences or arguments be resolved before retiring, that all may turn to rest forgiving and forgiven! Otherwise the night is nightmarish, and one rises in the morning all unrefreshed and the separation goes from bad to worse.

"Now sometimes people tell me that though they have been married several years, they have never quarrelled! Such do not know the truth, or suffer from amnesia, or, even worse, dominate or are dominated. The latter is more serious because it means destruction of personhood.

"In the pastoral ministry, week after week, all manner of persons come seeking a deus ex machina, a major miracle to heal a breaking marriage. Generally such assistance would be sought as a last resort and when folk were physically and emotionally exhausted and literally hating each other. How difficult to afford reconciliation in this kind of situation. For Christ's sake — I speak reverently — be humble enough to search for help when the barriers begin to go up. Help is all around. Marriage counselors, some doctors, and some clergy are skilled and trained to place a finger on the nettle and help us to understand ourselves more wholly. So down with the peacock feathers and run humbly for assistance before all is smashed," he declared.

"Once in other years I was called to the home of a young married couple, whose hysteria was almost out of bounds. They could not speak to each other or to myself. Gently I probed, but to no avail. Then by accident, I asked, 'When did you last have a vacation?'

"The woman cried and cried. They had been married seven years, there were four children, and the mother had never had one day of holiday. We raised some money, we took care of the children and we sent them off. Two weeks later, they sat before me, refreshed, relaxed, and they could not even recall what had been the nature of their difficulty. I do not pretend that it was as simple as that, but at last they were in a condition where a mirror could be held so that they might observe themselves and react healthfully.

"Whether you have been married three or 26 years, you should take each year another honeymoon, even if for only three days. You say you cannot afford to, but you cannot afford not to. Apart from the pressures of business and family and the sometimes tediousness of routine, you can discover all over again that caring still exists. I yearn to impress on all how important I believe such days of vacation can be.

"Here, just for fun, let me interject this story from that period in American history, when Utah, settled by the Mormons, sought to be admitted to the Union. A Congressional investigating committee was interviewing Utah's Senator-elect Smoot (later co-author of the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill). The chairman of this committee was thoroughly aware that the members of his committee were notorious for their extra-marital affairs. These in particular were making it difficult for the Mormon senator-elect. Finally, the chairman said, 'Mr. Smoot, are you a Mormon?'

"Mr. Smoot said, 'Yes.'

"The chairman said, 'Mr. Smoot, how many wives do you have?'

"Mr. Smoot said, 'I have one wife.'

"The chairman said, 'Gentlemen, as far as I can see, it is better to be a polygamist who does not polyg than a monogamist who does not monog.'

"Last autumn, at the Anglican Congress in Toronto, a magnificent African chieftain, in tribal dress, went to the microphone," Mr. Cadigan related. "He said that polygamy from the beginning had been part and parcel of the economy and culture of his people. What was expected, he asked, of a convert to Christianity? Should the man adhere to only one wife and turn out five others to perish in the bush? It was a rhetorical question, for he went on to ask embarrassing questions about the immorality in high places and among the youth of Western countries. His observation was that polygamy as practiced by his people was perhaps an higher ethic than the successive polygamy of British and American culture.

"Here may I say very quickly that brutality, greed, arrogance, selfishness, and meanness may often be worse than adultery of the body. In fact, it may be these sins of the spirit that drive a man or a woman to seek love in some other quarter. Infidelity may be the symptom and not the root of the disease. Adultery of the spirit can often be worse than adultery of the body. High standards are essential, but so also are compassion and forgiveness.

"That which makes us attractive to each other in marriage also makes us attractive to others. If we were not attractive to others, we would not be nearly so interested in each other in marriage. Not to acknowledge this as reality is foolish and dangerous. It seems to me almost inevitable that, no matter who we are, there are times in our lives when, quite involuntarily, we are involved with another.

"Nothing is said, nothing is done, but there it is. If one can appreciate and understand such, and, if the observer understands the feeling, the emotion will more readily dissolve. But if any partner acts or speaks adolescently about such, an intricate problem may ensue, and passion may be mistaken for love. The examples in the motion picture industry are excellent illustrations of immaturity in a society that is obsessed with sex," he pointed out.

"Some time ago, I discussed all this with a friend. He opposed strongly my thesis. Weeks later, he wrote at length to say that he had exposed his grandmother to some of the things I had said. She listened ever so quietly and, when he had finished speaking, said:

" 'Joc, I only wish someone had said this to me before I was married. For nearly 25 years, I thought I was in love with the family physician.'

"What a burden, what guilt for a dear, kind, and undoubtedly puritanical woman to have borne for so many years of her life. And all unnecessarily. If only she had understood the meaning of this and its worth, the involvement would have been dissipated rapidly, and her own life and marriage would have assumed deeper proportions.

"From my medical friends, I learn afresh the importance of objectifying the inner problems of anxiety, fear, hostility, guilt, and scores of others. What better person to do this with than the partner in marriage. There was a time when I lived more compulsively, frequently working 75 and 80 hours a week. I would return home late, dinner would be cold, the children in bed, and my wife understandably disconsolate. But a grace came, and I learned to turn homeward at a reasonable hour.

"Before dinner, I would yield to an understanding one, not the confessional, but the bothering, boring, frustrations of my existence. Then my partner began to surrender her problems, which my naive self-centeredness never dreamed were hers. At this point, although we had been married for more than a few years, we really became husband and wife.

"Perhaps because my antecedents are Irish, I yet believe in romance. To love another is to do for that one the little things, the unexpected, the unnecessary that bring joy and delight. What a terrible commentary on so many of us that it is often the office secretary or member of the family who reminds us of a birthday or anniversary. How good that a husband, from time to time, for no special reason, takes his wife to dinner or to the theatre alone, or sends her flowers.

"Once I expressed this thought to a young couple and then grew nakedly aware that I had done nothing of this sort for too long a time. That very day I ordered flowers. In the evening, my wife, very teary, met me at the door. She said, 'George, what in the world have you done?'"

"For no reason except romance, a wife from time to time might put on her best frock and prepare the foods which delight her husband, and greet him after a burdensome day with the understanding and the serenity which he needs and longs for. Perhaps this is much too superficial, but so often the texture of life consists of the seemingly non-essential. To remember in the little ways is always a mark of respect and love.

"The service of Holy Matrimony begins with the remembrance of a marriage in Cana of Galilee that was blessed by the Presence of the Lord. When the refreshment gave out, this Jesus turned water into wine. In every marriage a man and a woman will love each other best when they love God most. That sounds sentimental. When a man or a woman has the humility, the courage and the imagination to transcend himself or herself, to lose himself or herself in the worship of Almighty God, pledging to Him body, mind and soul, then that man and woman will grow into a deeper, more creative relationship with each other.

"Then, sensitively aware of human frailty, such will bring to Him their sorrows, their problems and their joys, and pray humbly for guidance and wisdom in matters great and small. Perhaps, then, the too frequently adulterated stuff of marriage may be changed into wine."

MISSOURI HONORS DR. McCLUER

The University of Missouri at its 122nd Commencement exercises June 9 conferred honorary doctoral degrees upon five prominent Americans. Dr. Franc L. McCluer, president of Lindenwood College, was one of those honored.

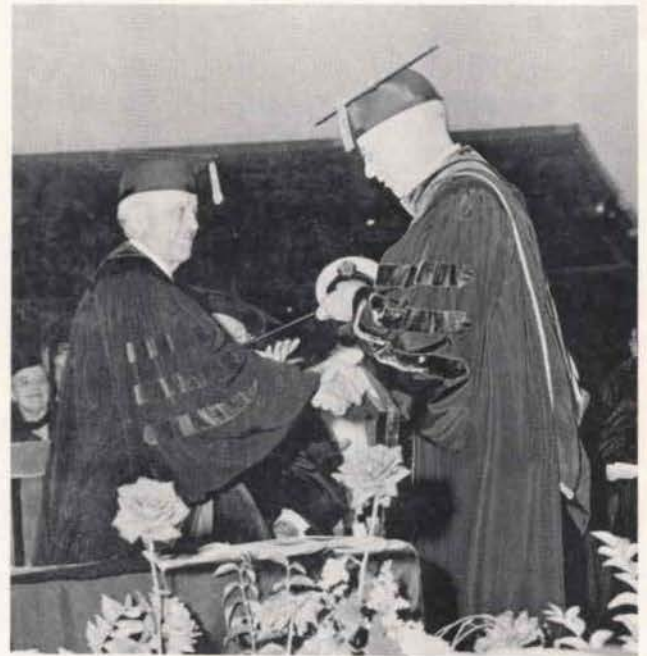

Dr. McCluer's citation was as follows:

"Franc Lewis McCluer, educator, leader in higher education, and in state government, native Missourian.

"Educated in Westminster College and at the University of Chicago, he returned to Westminster as a teacher in the social studies and then served as president of that college for 14 years. In 1947 he became president of Lindenwood College where he continues to lead and direct higher education. While at Westminster, his invitation to Winston Churchill to give the lectures provided by the Green Foundation resulted in the famous 'Iron Curtain' speech.

"Devoted to the public service, he was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1943-44 and also served on the State Children's Code Commission and the Missouri Commission on Human Rights. His leadership in the Presbyterian Church has been outstanding.

"Many teachers remember him as a great teacher and a debater whose arguments are forceful and formidable.

President McCluer is shown receiving the honorary doctor of laws degree from the University of Missouri at its 122nd Commencement exercises June 9. Missouri President Elmer Ellis is shown with Dr. McCluer.

"The University of his native state honors him today for all these qualities and achievements which awaken our recognition and esteem."

Alumnae on the Go . . .

OKLAHOMA CITY

Earleen Simon Mills

The annual business coffee of the Oklahoma City Lindenwood Club was held at the home of Earleen Simon Mills, 2528 N.W. 55 Pl., Apr. 24. Co-hostess was Jean Brawner Knoop.

The club made plans to entertain the Lindenwood Choir when it made its appearance at the Presbyterian General Assembly May 19-20 in Oklahoma City. In charge of arrangements were Martha Jo Crable Jordan and Margaret Fischer Eskridge.

Our visit with Bea Clark, alumnae secretary, at our February meeting provided an opportunity to learn about other LC alum clubs, to see new pictures of the campus, and to hear about new developments at the college.

GREATER WASHINGTON, D. C.

Katherine Jacoby

The Lindenwood Alumnae Club of Greater Washington, D.C., met for a luncheon with President and Mrs. F. L. McCluer at the Windsor Park Hotel early in the year.

Dr. McCluer's annual business trip to Washington and visit to our group always gives us new inspiration and helps keep us abreast with the latest activities on the Lindenwood campus.

Special guests for the luncheon were Lindenwood students who were participating in the Washington Semester, Joyce Bailey, Mary Ferrell, and Barbara Rhodes.

Alumnae and guests who attended the luncheon were: Rosemary Nissley Bellis and her daughter, Barbara, Carol Banta Brewer, Ann Harper, Elizabeth Glebe Houchin, Mac Kane Hince, Nancy McDaniel Schneck, Marilyn Mitchell Thoren, Diane Stanley, Chloe Wherry Newell and her daughter, Kennetha, Mrs. Frances Wherry, Sara Jefferson Stukenbrocker and her daughter, Ann, Patricia Price, and Katherine Jacoby.

Following the January meeting, in February the group unanimously voted to set up an acting committee which has been charged with making plans for the luncheon each January, a fall session to greet Washington semester students, and other meetings when college personnel visit Washington. Members of the current acting committee include: Marilyn Mitchell Thoren, Patricia Price, Diane Stanley, Frances Wherry, Ann Harper, treasurer, and Katherine Jacoby, secretary.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco

Gloria Bagwell Richardson

Lindenwood College alumnae held a luncheon May 12 at the Cranberry House, Los Gatos.

Present for the meeting were: Sally Joy Woodson '50, Carol Johnson Hamilton '52, Becky Yandell Almeter '58, Hardy Albright Martin '32, Dorothy Palmer '35, and Gloria Richardson.

Alumnae in the area who are interested in participating in activities should contact Mrs. Charles O. Richardson, Jr., Box 1117, Gilroy, Calif.

DES MOINES

Harriet L. Liddle

Dyke Steinbeck Barton, representing the national alumnae organization, attended the meeting of the Des Moines Club Saturday, Apr. 18, at the home of Mrs. Joseph B. Hill, 2550 Heliotrope Dr.

A summer meeting will be held by four members of the club to make plans for next year. We are tentatively planning four meetings next year, with a letter to each alum announcing the plans.

ST. LOUIS

Elise Horstmann Deddens

Our meeting Apr. 7 was combined with a visit to the Lindenwood campus. Although our group consists of members living within a short distance of the college, few have the opportunity to visit as often as they might like. The evening was a delightful experience for all present.

After a tour of the buildings and grounds, Janet Brown Hyman, club president, conducted the business meeting in the informal atmosphere of Cobbs Hall recreation room. She reminded us about our May 9 rummage sale.

Plans were discussed for our May 19 tea for current and prospective Lindenwood students and their mothers. Louise McGraw Hodgson invited us to share her home at 7322 Ravinia Dr., Pasadena Hills, for the occasion.

Our July meeting will be held at the country home of LaVerne Oetting.

Present for the April meeting were: Mary Dell Sayer Burrows, Bea Clark, Elise Horstmann Deddens, Louise McGraw Hodgson, Janet Brown Hyman, Janet Neilson Monnig, Mary Warner Ninker, Johnnie Riner, Marge Jones Raker, and Pat Morris Sease.

DALLAS

Jane Carter Pressley

Mrs. Sue Brizius, a member of the Lindenwood faculty, spoke at the April meeting of the Dallas Club. About 20 members of the club were at the meeting.

Dallas members are planning a Coke party for new and prospective students in August.

ST. CHARLES

Celeste Hirsch Hesser

The St. Charles Lindenwood College Club had a busy and successful 1963-64 year under the capable leadership of Mrs. Harlow Keeser (Margaret Ahrens '54) as president. Other officers were: Mrs. Robert Gatzweiler (Margaret Ann Ball 42), vice-president; Mrs. William McCollum (Melba Gray 47), secretary; Mrs. Orville Nolle (Patricia Prinster 54), treasurer; and Mrs. James Hesser (Mary-Celeste Hirsch 46), historian.

The year began with a hat party in October. The proceeds from this started the scholarship fund for 1964.

In October, when new faculty members at Lindenwood were guests, Fred Baue spoke about the historic importance of St. Charles. Mrs. Robert Porter (Bette Littrell 48) was chairman of the covered-dish dinner.

The Christmas auction was a tremendous success thanks to the ability of Auctioneer Bob Gatzweiler, husband of vice-president Margaret Ann. Christmas also brought sadness to the club when long-time member Miss Kathryn Linne-mann died in a fall at her home. She was the founder of the public library in St. Charles. It now bears her name, The Kathryn M. Linnemann Public Library.

February's Valentine Day gave us an opportunity to honor our own "sweet-hearts"—members who belong to classes of 50 or more years ago. Those honored were Miss Aimee Becker 08, Miss Helen Ely 11, Mrs. A. J. Clay (Enid Patterson 13), Mrs. A. M. Olson (Edna McElhiney 14), and Mrs. Charlotte Gossow (Charlotte Geret 94). Mrs. George Null (Florence Bloebaum 05), who covered us with reflected glory on Alumnae Day when she was awarded an Alumnae Certificate of Merit, was hospitalized with a broken bone, so received her recognition from our club in her hospital room.

The March guest dinner was under the very efficient direction of Mrs. Jerry Lewis (Emily Knutson 53) and her committee.

The card party at the Country Club in April, with its lovely decorations of red geraniums in pots covered with dark-green foil, was a beautiful sight and a financial success. Mrs. Robert Schaefer (Sally Siemssen '54), and Mrs. Fred Boschert (Lois Mayer '59) were chairman and co-chairman.

That same week we enjoyed Alumnae Day with lunch "Under-the-Tent." Melba McCollum was chairman of the very-elegant buffet breakfast.

Mrs. Robert Colson (Lessley Colson '45) and her committee were happy to see a large attendance from a number of high schools at the annual "Coke Party" sponsored by the club for junior and senior high school girls to become acquainted with the college.

The year ended with a turkey dinner at Wepprichs Garden. Pat Prinster Nolle, chairman of the scholarship committee, announced that Miss Rose Ahee of St. Charles High School had been chosen to receive the 1964 Alice Linnemann-Guy C. Motley Scholarship given by the club.

MINNESOTA

Phyllis Williams McKay

Minnesota alumnae held their April meeting at Town and Country Club, Saturday, Apr. 11.

A luncheon Saturday, Mar. 28, at the home of Gwen Macy Sorlien, 7005 W. 23rd St., Minneapolis, was followed by a silent auction. In February we met for luncheon Wednesday, Feb. 26, at the Blue Horse in St. Paul.

Our meeting in May was at the Capp Towers Caribbean Room in downtown Minneapolis.

News of "Minnesota members":

Mr. and Mrs. William Haymes (Ruth Ann Ball '49) are proud parents of a baby daughter, Christianna Mackay. Needless to say, Christianna is a great favorite with her two brothers, Mark and Lee.

Another prospective Lindenwoodite is Teresa Margaret Molenaar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Molenaar (Yvonne Sechler 59). Her brother Jeff is five years old.

Also we have Leah Rosemarie Whaley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald

Alumnae on the Go . . .

Whaley (Margot Smith '56). Leah has a brother Wayne, 4½ and a sister, Louise, 3.

Margaret Jane Kobel Biltonen '59, will soon be leaving us for the San Francisco area where her husband, Rodney, has received a fellowship at the University of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spriggs (Nelle Iler '24) have just recently returned from a several weeks' cruise in the Mediterranean.

Mary Kirschherr Shoquist '53, has been rather successfully pursuing her art career. One of her paintings was recently accepted in the Biennial Art Show at the Omaha Art Gallery and was purchased by a local firm. She has exhibited locally at the St. Paul Gallery of Art, the Minnesota State Fair, and several smaller shows. Mary is currently president of the Richfield Art Club and a member of the Minnesota Artists Association.

Our club was entertained this month at a picnic lunch at the home of Patricia Callahan Zimmerman '47, in Anoka. Pat, her husband, Ken, and their 3 children have a very lovely home overlooking the Rum River.

We are planning to hold our second annual Art Fair in September at the home of Ruth Ann Ball Haymes in Mendota. More later on this.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Marian Titus Ellis

The Lindenwood College Club of Southern California met Apr. 18 at the Marino House in San Marino. Following a delicious lunch, the meeting was called to order by the president, Thelma Harpe Ogden. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the treasurer, "Pep" Perry Kaiser.

Our secretary, Leatha Cross Dean, was unable to attend as were Geraldine Hamblin Gobreuge, Vine Olcott Coffey, and Marjorie Turpin, all due to illness.

Present were: Juli Conger, Jancy Crawford McConihay, Betty Foster Langworthy, Mildred Burke Simpson, Aliene Cherry Reed, Marian Titus Ellis, Mrs. Cherry, Mrs. Harpe, and two husbands, Hubert Ogden and Paul Ellis.

After a brief business meeting the president turned the meeting over to her husband who presented three entertaining films, A Tour of the Los Angeles International Airport, Hawaii—our 50th State, and The Four Seasons at Yosemite.

Earlier in the year, we held two meetings which we have not yet reported. Our February 15 meeting was held in Torrance at the home of Sarah Hall Fandey with co-hostesses Marjorie Turpin, Jane Swalley Elliott, and Marian Titus Ellis. Twenty-two members and one guest were present.

Our Mar. 21 meeting was held in the Glendale home of Betty Foster Langworthy with Maurine McMahan Dameron, Margaret Downs Brown, and Nancy Patterson VanLoenen assisting. Twenty-three were present, including two new members, Charlotte Fisher Capelle and Audrey Evers Hellen.

ST. LOUIS

Nancy Mueller Pecha

St. Louis Lindenwood College Club is particularly fortunate because our proximity to the campus gives us an opportunity to share some of the gifts and talents of the college faculty.

Such an occasion, Mar. 16, gave us an opportunity to hear three members of the music department, John Little, chairman, Miss Gertude Isidor, and Groff Bittner.

June Horstmeyer Kottmeier was hostess for the tea in her lovely contemporary home. Assisting her were: Mary Abney Gamble, Mary Jean DuHadway Craig, Nada Sue Roberson Schneider, and Mildred Blount Petefish.

Pat Zimmerman Chambers is chairman of a spring project, scheduled to fill the coffers of the scholarship fund. Seven of our members will be hostesses at a series of dessert-bridge parties. They are: Carolyn White Finke, Rose Parmelee Foster, Rena Eberspacher Hale, Ann Dannell Barton, Nada Sue Roberson Schneider, Maurita Estes Stueck, Betsy Severson Nimock, and Dorothy Bailey Dotson.

Table prizes at the parties will be hand-dipped and decorated candles designed by our president, Rosanna Veach Bruere, and a committee of helpers.

LINCOLN

Merryl Ryan Winters

The Lindenwood Club of Lincoln, Neb., met Apr. 1, 1964, for a luncheon at the University Club. Mrs. Bea Clark, alumnae secretary, and Mrs. Mildred Alexander, admissions representative, spoke to the group concerning alumnae activities, May Reunion Day, and student referrals.

Those present were: Pat Ager '66, Marie Carveth '66, Celia Bay Fell '56, Marguerite Metzger Hall '34, Marian Becker Ireland '31, Pat Conrad Jones '46, Eugenia Martyn Bornemeier '33, Erma Schacht Damme '37, Mary Ellen Knapp Morton '46, Dorothy Felger Norden '42, Zora Horner Radcliffe '39, Ella Schacht Risser '32, Judith Reeves Scott '61, Merryl Ryan Winters '46, Jerre Lewis Withrow '43, and Sandra Bodine '66.

The next meeting will be in the fall.

Earlier an organizational meeting had been held in February at the home of Marguerite Metzger Hall with Merryl Ryan Winters and Zora Horner Radcliffe assisting. With 15 alums present, a film from Lindenwood was shown.

Celia Bay Fell, Judy Reeves Scott, Marie Carveth, Marguerite Metzger Hall, Zora Horner Radcliffe, and Merryl Ryan Winters serving as chairman, agreed to be on the planning committee for 1964.

Those present, in addition to the above, for the meeting were: Dorothy Felger Norden, Pat Conrad Jones, Mary Kelly Hellweg, Jean Alice Whitney Danielson, Henrietta Peterson Cramer, Nancy Chenoweth, Kay Matison, Mary Margaret Bates Martin, and Janet Crabbe Weyhrauch.

DETROIT

Pat Janak Handley

The Detroit area alumnae of Lindenwood met May 27 at the home of Mrs. Robert Hay. Peg Fagg Struthers, Mid Reaves Goeke, Pat Janak Handley, and Grace Gordon Hay were present.

A picnic at Windmill Point Park provided an opportunity to talk about the college.

Detroit area alumnae got together earlier in February. Phyllis Gambill Ryding was hostess for the luncheon at her home.

Prior to luncheon, the group saw color slides of the campus. We were all amazed at the changes that have taken place at Lindenwood. Later in the meeting a constitution was presented for approval by the group.

Those in attendance included: Peg Fagg Struthers, Grace Gordon Hay, Mid Reaves Goeke, Pat Janak Handley, Edna-Mary Jacobson Richardson, and Phyllis Gambill Ryding.

The March meeting was held at Grace Gordon Hay's home.

SEATTLE

Beverly Wescott Gabrio

What luck for the Seattle Club! Just in time for mid-March meeting, Dean of Students Mary Lichliter was passing through Seattle on her tour of the west coast while attending conferences in personnel and guidance.

Leaving the campus with loads of campus pictures, news and plans, Miss Lichliter brought memories, laughter, and a bit of nostalgia to the group.

The far-away, but fortunate, few included: Erma Martin Couden, Virginia Thompson Burgh, Sunny Lohr McGahey, Virginia Beazley Chambers, Jackie Beall Suarela, Blanche Fish Hovey, Mrs. Frank Hamack, Jr., whose daughter, Kristie, is a sophomore this year living in Cobbs Hall, and Beverly Westcott Gabrio.

TULSA

Jeanette Pendarvis

Lindenwood alums in Tulsa learned about Alumnae Day and saw colored slides of the event at their April "Taste and Tell" dinner. Alberta Simpson Matteson showed colored slides she had made and Eleanor Wilcoxson Jaeger joined her in telling about the event. Charlotte Williams Tower, another who had been present for the day, was unable to attend our meeting. Her daughter will be a freshman at Lindenwood in the fall.

Present for our Apr. 10 meeting were: Alberta Simpson Matteson, Mercedes Bryan Hawkins, Vivian Fairfield Taylor, Twilla Lee Barnes Frederick, Betty Hosmer Mossman Norma Sabin Wallingford, Helen Von Unwerth, Mary Brooks, Beverly Boylan Foster, Eleanor Wilcoxson Jaeger, and Elizabeth Barnes Mapes.

The dinner proved to be an enjoyable affair. Everyone brought one of her favorite dishes and then the recipes were exchanged.

Our new president, Norma Wallingford, is active in many organizations and does much civic work in Tulsa. She is a member of the First Presbyterian Church where she and her husband are both active members. Norma is an officer in the Woman's Association of the church and an officer in her circle. She is active in the Red Cross, her PEO chapter, and she serves as publicity chairman of her sorority, Gamma Phi Beta.

The meeting was held at Eleanor Jaeger's home, 2125 Forest Blvd.

09 Fern L. Hamilton, 506 S. Main St., Anna, Ill., died at her home June 24. In addition to being a graduate of Lindenwood, Miss Hamilton also completed work at the Memphis Art Academy, Memphis, Tenn.

For several years, Miss Hamilton had been a private art instructor in Anna.

10 Lindenwood memories were refreshed recently when Grace Miller, Cobden, Ill., visited Sadie Bell Henry (Mrs. Lewie H.), Box 236, Texarkana, Ark. For the first time in 44 years they talked together of Lindenwood days. They both plan to visit LC some time in the future to see the changes that have taken place.

11 Gladys Robertson Bower (Mrs. R. D.)
Stanley, Kan.

A yellow rose of Texas, Nora Wencher Revelle (Mrs. C. H.), living at 3505 Haynie, Dallas, reports that she has retired from secretarial work. She now participates in various forms of church work and social affairs—plus two grandchildren nearby to make life interesting.

Mary Schroeder Boucher (Mrs. C. F.) 233 Felton Dr., Menlo Park, Calif. writes that she hasn't been back to LC since 1954 and greatly appreciates THE BULLETIN as a means to keep in touch. Her home for 40 years was in Wichita, Kan., where her husband was an architect in the firm of Schmitt-Boucher-Oversend. Mary tells us of her younger son who lives in California and has two daughters, and of her older boy who lives in Wichita and has a 14-year-old son and an 18-year-old daughter. Of her granddaughter in Wichita she says, "We certainly are blessed with wonderful grandchildren, except for the fact that she went to Monticello College instead of Lindenwood—but you know youth."

We have a horse racing fan in the class of 1911—Hazel Dean, 611 Kelso St., Englewood, Calif. She retired six years ago after nearly 20 years teaching in the graduate library school at the University of Southern California. After a trip to Europe, Hazel taught one semester at the University of New York State at Albany. She comments that the climate was too cold for her and she "went West," to the Naval Ordnance Test Station in Pasadena as a technical librarian. About a year ago Hazel retired and now spends her time with duplicate bridge, the League of Women Voters, and sometimes at those horse races at Hollywood Park. Oh, yes, she picked up a Ph.D. in Economics along the way.

Hattie Robbins Sallee (Mrs. Earl) of 1718 Calhoun St., Chillicothe, Mo., tells us of her activities since LC days.

Her husband has retired, and Hattie is now kept busy with clubs, church work, and DAR, having been chapter regent for two years. She also takes interest in the Chillicothe Garden Club and several study clubs. In the last few years, the Sallees have been traveling over the U.S. and to several foreign countries. They have three married daughters and nine precious grandchildren. GRB

23 Living in the sunshine state of Florida is Grace Williams Speicher (Mrs. Palmer S.), 1760 Irving St., Sarasota, Fla. In 1923 Grace began working for Mr. John F. Burket, Sr., an attorney, and is still with the firm. She hopes to come back north to see the many new buildings on Lindenwood campus.

25 We wish to extend deepest sympathy to the family of Geraldine Smythe Seymour, who died March 16, 1962. Her son, Andrew T. Seymour, has told us of Geraldine's fond memories of Lindenwood and of her classmates.

27 Ruth Wertz Morton (Mrs. T. J., Jr.)
Old Stone House, R.R. 1
Newburgh, Ind. 47630

Several of you of the class of 1927 have expressed a desire to hear about your classmates and what they are doing in 1964. Here goes:

From Elice Holovtchiner Lebedeff a letter saying because of the distance, (she lives at 37 Clive Hills Rd., Metuchen, N.J.), she has not been privileged to get back to LC. Her only son is in school in South Dakota. She is badly handicapped from arthritis—would love to hear about all of us.

From Helen Lewis who works in Oak Ridge: Helen says she is beginning to think of retirement although it is hard to connect age with herself. I am sure we all say "Double Check, Helen" on this getting old deal not being part of us. Helen lives at 345 East Dr., Oak Ridge, Tenn.

A letter comes from Kit Hocker Foster. Her husband died several years ago. She works at Narco, Inc., in Watska, Ill., where she still lives (622 S. Fourth). Her son and daughter are both married and live in Watska.

A letter from Eleanor Cooper Har, which I am sorry to say I misplaced and am reporting from memory. Her husband also has died. Her oldest son has graduated from the Air Academy at Denver and is now married. I believe she hinted that one of these days she would be a grandmother. Eleanor's youngest son is now graduating from high school. No letters from her at Christmas because of a slight mechanical problem—a broken wrist. Eleanor lives on Forest Ln., Berwyn, Penn.

Kathryn Hansbrough, head nurse at Washington University, hoped to get to the reunion. Being so near, she has been back to LC quite often.

I am just leaving to attend the graduation of my youngest son from Michigan State University. Most of my volunteer work has subsided for the summer, but hope to be back at it next fall. My oldest boy is in business in Evansville, and my daughter, Susan Morton Miller '56, is in London with her family for her husband's Ph.D. work. She has promised to write in about herself and give her proper address so I won't have to keep sending the alumnae news to her. Her husband is an entomologist and seems to always be going off here or there—so I have had more visits of these grandchildren than the others.

Oh, yes, I did get a postal from Pauleen George Bosley giving me Dotty Lay's address. Pauleen lives in Great Falls, Mont., and Dotty lives at 325 S. Fourth W., Missoula, Mont. Dotty is now Mrs. Perry Robertson. They have reached that "grandchildren age." Pauleen's Christmas note almost ignored her own family for glowing stories of the grandchildren. I know this is normal for all of us.

I really have enjoyed all of this, and did so regret not getting to come to this reunion. My crippled children work needed someone to go to a convention and (again age) I felt shortly I may have to give it up. I best do what I can, while still able. RWM

Doris Wiley Achelpohl Braeuninger (Mrs. William B.) of 616 Woodcrest Dr., Royal Oak, Mich., received her B.S. in library science from the U. of Ill., and her M.A. from there three years later in 1932. Since 1959, she has been librarian at Royal Oak Kimball High School. Her son, William Frederick, is a graduate of Harvard and the University of Michigan law school, and is now research clerk for Supreme Court Justice Kelly. Janet Ann, Doris' daughter, has an A.B. and M.A. from the University of Michigan, and will be a reference librarian at Yale beginning in August. HRS

29 Our sincere sympathy goes to the family of Franza D. Marten who died April 4, 1964 in Tulsa, Okla. Before her illness several years ago, Franza was very active in the Tulsa Alumnae Club.

Margaret Fagg Struthers (Mrs. D. Dwight) has two married sons and a daughter in high school. Her husband is treasurer of R. E. Dailey Co., construction engineers. She is a member of Detroit Sorosis, PEO, and Investment Club. She lectures on First Ladies of the White House. The Struthers live at 2072 Lockman Blvd., Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich.

Jeanne Berry Cooper
(Mrs. Thomas Y.)
3921 S. Lookout
Little Rock, Ark.

We have an art lecturer in the midst of the classmates of '30. She is Lindsay Hughes Cooper of 1745 Maple Ave., Torrance, Calif. After Lindenwood days, she attended the University of Missouri, Harvard College, and Princeton graduate school. Her special field of interest is Chinese art; she has helped with many art museums across the country. After a career in motor freight, her husband returned to school and graduated from UCLA in 1959. He is now assistant administrator of the Memorial Hospital, Torrance. She adds: "I had such a time getting people to remember to include the 'Lindsay' (which my family desired) that I finally changed to 'Ruth'."

Virginia Laurel Shaver Walker (Mrs. Llewellyn James) sends news of her activities since LC days. She graduated from University of Wisconsin and also received a B.E. from Central State Teachers College, Stevens Point, Wis., because teachers were 'a dime a dozen.'

Virginia has done substitute teaching and been employed by a casualty company in the supervisory department. Her husband was a cashier of the Bank of Hancock in Wisconsin, but now owns a spring-needle textile factory, The Walker Agency and Universal Fabrics, Inc.

They have a son who is with the army in Logistics at Mainz, Germany, and a daughter who is a teller at the Northern Trust Co., Chicago. Her daughter also graduated from the University of Wisconsin. Currently, Virginia is serving as a member of the Board of Visitors of the University of Wisconsin, and has held offices in AAUW, PTA, and Athena (Literary club). It is interesting to note that she organized an AAUW in Stevens Point.

Working for the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare is Virginia Bear, who is the Assistant Regional Family Services Representative for a region consisting of Alaska, Wash., Oregon, Calif., Nevada, Ariz., Hawaii, and Guam. She has been a social worker for 34 years. She writes: "I am not 'on the road' all of the time. I would enjoy hearing from classmates who travel to this wonderful city of San Francisco." You can find Virginia living at 1949 Green St., San Francisco 23, Calif. JBC

Hilda Culver Jones (Mrs. Frank F.), who lives at 1875 North Alameda, Las Cruces, N.M. 88001, writes that she looks forward to a time when she can return to Lindenwood for a campus visit. "We were back there at Thanksgiving time, 1961, to visit our younger daughter, Mary Dale, who was a student there at that time. How lovely the campus looked! Mary Dale is now a first semester senior at the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque.

"Our elder daughter, Nancy, who is Mrs. Gerald E. Welch, and her husband live in Anchorage, Alaska, where he is one of the two engineers at the satellite tracking station. They survived the earthquake without injury or damage to their home, for which we are most thankful. We are planning to visit them in June."

The Joneses' only son, Frank, is a freshman this year at Beloit College in Wisconsin.

Hilda reports that even with all the children away from home, the days are not long enough to do all the things she would like. Her husband is senior pastor of an 800-plus member church. "We are in the midst of a relocation and building program which takes much time and planning. In addition to calling and other duties, I edit the six-page monthly newspaper which goes out to our church families."

Lucie Spence Murphy, 1916 E. Glendale Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., has retired as editor of the American Journal of Occupational Therapy, a magazine for occupational therapists throughout the world. Following a career as occupational therapist, educator, recruiter, and magazine editor, she intends to forego the professional life to have more time for leisure.

High on the list of things she will do are the gathering of wild flowers at the year-round home she and her husband, Harold R. Murphy, president of the North Shore Publishing Co., have in Door County.

Lucie has held many jobs — each a greater step in responsibility and greater challenges. She began her occupational therapy work after having been certified as an OT at the Milwaukee Hospital for Mental Diseases. Her next post, at Mount Mary College, resulted in her starting the OT department, followed by the establishment of a department at Mills College, Berkeley, Calif. While in California during World War II, she conducted two short OT courses for the army and worked on the OT recruitment program in Northern California.

After the war, Lucie returned to Wisconsin and returned to Milwaukee Downer College as acting head of the OT department for one year and department head for two years. At the end of this term she became editor and publisher of the Occupational Therapy magazine, a new publication.

A Milwaukee newspaper, writing of Mrs. Murphy's retirement, said:

"Mrs. Murphy recalls that every job she has held was a challenge; each was completely different and each was a most gratifying experience.

"She finds her education extremely valuable to her not only as an OT but as a person, for OT training, she explains, emphasizes the cultural as well as the medical aspects of living.

"Not another profession, she feels, prepares one for a career or marriage more successfully.

"She will not lose interest in the educational field, which she finds constantly demands more and more of its leaders. Attitudes toward education, she reports, are changing. In the 30's a person with a college degree was considered to have accomplished something and the bachelor degree was regarded highly.

"Today, few people in the professional world do not go on for more advanced work. They take part-time work so they may have time for study either to attain a master's degree or doctorate.

"A considerable advancement has been made in the attitude of education for women. Today many college girls who have married and reared families are turning to graduate studies, others are starting college careers." DDM

Jessamine Hinds McMullen
(Mrs. Richard)
Stella, Neb.

Mary Jackson recently moved to a newly built house at 930 S. Walnut St., Maryville, Mo., after several years residence in San Francisco. She teaches at Northwestern Missouri Teachers College. Travel in Europe, a term in school in Mexico City, and graduate work at Kansas U. have been recent interesting experiences.

Helen Merritt Kerner (Mrs. Morris J.), 428-A San Vincente Blvd., Santa Monica, Calif., sends greetings and regrets that recent major surgery and her work as a teacher prevented her from being present at the reunion.

A note from Helen Henderson Cox (Mrs. John F.), Morrilton, Ark., says, "Sorry I can't make it to the reunion—sounds life fun—but Mother is quite ill." Helen's husband is the Olds-Chevrolet dealer in Morrilton and a deacon in the First Baptist Church. They have three grown daughters, one eleven-year-old son John F. Cox, Jr., two grandsons and no extra time on their hands.

News of Helen's daughters is very interesting. Sally Wood Cox Wilson (Mrs. Sam E.), an LC graduate of 1958, lives at Evanston, Wyo. Mary Fletcher Cox (L.C. 1960) taught English and French for a year at Michigan City, Ind., after a year as a Rotary Fellow. She's now completing her work on her M.A. at the University of Arkansas Medical Center in nearby Little Rock with a subject field of microbiology. Julie Cox is with her in the anatomy department as a research technician.

Helen enclosed a clipping from a state paper telling of her work with Dr. Laubach, internationally known "Apostle of Literacy." Her local group has done state-wide work on this project. She also tells of a visit from Charlotte Jegi Olson of Balsam Lake, Wis.

News from the Classes

Louise Dressell Banks (Mrs. W. Jack), 139 Clara Ave., St. Louis, Mo., and her husband who is vice-president and controller of International Shoe Company, spent May visiting his birthplace in Liverpool, England. Their three children are Bill, married and in insurance; John, a chaplain assistant in the army in Germany; and Pam, a junior in high school. Louise writes of herself: "I am active in many things, but my first love is the Junior Department of over 200 youngsters at our church, Webster Groves Presbyterian."

A picture comes to us from Ruth Finch Harrison (Mrs. Carl), Box 626, Memphis, Tex. From left to right is Ruth, who is an insurance clerk and records librarian in the Memphis Hospital. Her oldest son is next, who is in his second year of engineering at Texas Tech. Her oldest daughter and her daughter's husband claim the two children sitting comfortably on Santa Claus. The pretty young girl following them is Ruth's youngest daughter who works for an oil company in Amarillo, Tex. Far right is Ruth's youngest son, a senior in high school. Look at those smiles!

A regret was received from Irene Brooks Lewis (Mrs. Lynn), 6116 N. Woodland, Kansas City, Mo., who was unable to attend the reunion because of illness. She hopes there will be news of many of her friends.

Rebecca Carr Wayland (Mrs. H. P.) lives in Fredericktown, Mo., where her husband has been in business for almost 25 years. For the last eight years she has taught vocational home economics in the local high school. They have two sons, Henry Parker, Jr., an officer on the Nautilus who is married and lives in Tye, N.H., and Albert F., who is in the Air Force and is stationed at Clinton-Sherman A.F.B. in Oklahoma.

Elizabeth Burdick, 417 B Street, David City, Neb., sends news of her work as Assistant Treasurer in the court house.

Ruth Buckley Lundy (Mrs. James E.), 112 Dickinson Dr., Little Rock, Ark., writes that her daughter, Jean, is enrolled at L.C. as a freshman for the coming year and "next year I am sure that I will be there."

Laura Hauck Tabor (Mrs. C. B.), 304 De Annet Parkway, Pittsburgh 28, Penn., and her husband, an industrial engineer with the United States Steel Co., have two sons. Jim is a fourth-year student in Metallurgy and in the special Naval Program at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York. As one of the top five boys, he is to have a seven weeks cruise on the Mediterranean and tour Europe this summer. Steve is a junior at Bucknell — a chemistry and math major. Of herself Laura writes: "You ask it and I've done it. Right now my big interest is in "mental health."

E. Eleanor Eldridge has been Mrs. R. A. McCleve since August 1961. Eleanor teaches fourth grade and her husband is a sales engineer for the Ottawa Silica Co. They reside at 621 Chapel, Ottawa, Ill.

Elizabeth Hitchcock Gardner (Mrs. Glenn E.), sends greetings and tells of the South California LC Club of which she is a member. Their son, Jim, is married and has two small daughters. The Gardners live at 833 Westmont, Alhambra, Calif.

From Frances Knorp Scholle (Mrs. H. H.), Concordia, Mo.: "Greetings to the class of '32 and a special greeting to my LC roommate, Agnes McCarthy (James) and to Lillian Nitcher."

Frances' daughter Karen is vice-president of the sophomore class at LC this year and plans to attend the University of Aux-Marseille in Southern France next year under the Lindenwood year-abroad plan. The sons, Steven, 16, and John, 12, are still at home. Frances' husband is a dental surgeon, a Lindenwood booster, and a member of the LC Fathers Club.

In addition to her active participation in community affairs and the Lutheran Church organizations, Frances is a substitute teacher in the Concordia High School.

Remember our freshman year when Ruth Lucille Correa Lucke (Mrs. E. Albert) was president for our class? She is married to a colonel in the Army who has retired in February after serving 32 years. They have three daughters: Ruth Ann, who is married to Air Force Captain Swanton (their 4½-year-old Stephen is Ruth's only grandchild to date); Marylou, who is married to Lt. Don R. Lenzi of the U.S. Navy Dental Corps stationed in the Philippines (they expect their first baby in early July); Linda, a junior at San Jose State, Calif. The Luckes are visiting in Omaha, Neb., with Grandmother Lucke and Mary Ellen Lucke (Class of 30). This summer they will take Linda on a cruise to the Philippines via Japan and Korea, and return in time for Linda to return to school. They will make their permanent home in Castro Valley, Calif. Ruth writes that they will be only a forty-minute drive from San Francisco and "would love a call, or a rap on our door if any of you are in the area at any time and have a moment to do so." Her address is 3667 Arcadian Dr., Castro Valley, Calif.

My news is somewhat limited this time, but I'm happy to report that my mother, Mrs. Rachel Gannaway, is home from the hospital and up and around. Oh, yes, our son, Paul L., a junior in high school, has been chosen to spend a week in Springfield, Ill., attending "Boy's All State"—June 21 to 27.

I have heard from Eleanor Kriekhaus Kling (Mrs. Charles), 3020 Yonge St., Rockford, Ill. that her daughter has graduated from the Rockford High School in June, '64. Congratulations!

Elizabeth Vance Conrad (Mrs. George) is teaching in Louisville, Ky. Libby and I always write at Christmas, and I was so pleased to hear that she is teaching one of my former neighbors. It's a small world! Her address is 4062 Richard Ave., Louisville, Ky.

The new President of the Women's Auxiliary to the Arkansas Medical Society is Frances Nell Wilkes Branch (Mrs. James W.), 1801 S. Main, Hope, Ark. She has been president of the Hope Medical Auxiliary and is currently president of the Women of the Church at the First Presbyterian Church in Hope. In June she attended the annual convention of the Women's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association held in San Francisco. HGK

A short note from Georgia Hoffman Bollman (Mrs. Herbert) tells us of her family. She and Herb have been married 28 years and have a daughter, Pat Bollman Trendley (Mrs. Paul '60) besides "two out-of-this-world grandsons, Mike and Jeff." Although Georgia has had arthritis since she was 27, she takes one look at her family and realizes that she has all she wants out of life.

Jacqueline Vanderluur Hofmann, 310 Radam Ln., Austin, Tex., is applying for entrance to a nurse's training school for Vocational and Registered Nursing instruction. After leaving Lindenwood, Jacqueline reports that she worked for General Motors Acceptance Corp. for almost 16 years, married, adopted two daughters (now 20, and 18 years, respectively), was widowed, and has "one-and-a-half" grandchildren. Ruth Bewley Jarman (Mrs. John, Jr.), is retaining her interest in politics which began at Lindenwood and continues today in Washington, D.C., where her husband is a Congressman.

The Jarman family lives at 1203 Glavis Rd., Falls Church, Va., about 13 miles southwest of Washington. Stephen, who is 10, is a student at National Cathedral School for Boys; Susan Virginia, 17, is a junior at J. E. B. Stuart High School, Falls Church; and John Henry, III, is a sophomore at Duke University. He is 20 years old.

The older boy describes his mother as being "understanding and big hearted. She has a way with people. Young guys like to come here as though it were their second home."

Ruth loves to show Washington to their Oklahoma constituents. Here is her idea of a good tour in order of importance: 1) the Capitol; 2) National Archives; 3) the White House; and 4) any of the several buildings occupied by the Smithsonian Institute.

After receiving her B.A. from Lindenwood, Mary Ruth Tyler Beaman (Mrs. Chester) went to work for the American Red Cross in St. Louis. She became a personnel officer in civil service and was selected as the first woman civilian to go to Europe. When the War ended, she was the first civilian woman into Germany.

Later she returned to the U.S. to do recruiting duty for Europe, and happened to interview a Chester E. Beaman, whom she sent to Germany as head of classification. They corresponded, and one year later were married—after only one date in Europe when Mary went there for a short while. They have two sons and have spent time in Germany, England, Wales, Lebanon, and Egypt, where Chester was Consul at Port Said. They have been in the U.S. for the last three years, but are off again to either Manilla or Lahore, Pakistan. Let us hear from you, Mary Ruth, so we will again have your latest address.

Married to a physiologist is Dorothy Capps Farmer (Mrs. Donald) of 1005 Willow, Pullman, Wash. Dorothy received her M.A. from Wisconsin U. in German. During the war they spent most of their time in Washington, with Don in Medical Intelligence for the Navy and Dorothy as a spy with the OSS.

They have two children: Carla who has just graduated from Hamline University, and Don, Jr., who is a senior student at the University of Washington. Carla is spending the summer in France. Don's work takes him all over the world, so they have spent some time in Europe, Japan, and Alaska.

Dorothy has been teaching German at the university, and Don has been the dean of the graduate school, but is resigning this summer so that they may spend the time in Europe where Don will be lecturing. They plan a vacation in Switzerland where some of Don's relatives live.

Virginia Lee Brierley (Mrs. W. Gordon, Jr.) 43 Lake Ave., White Bear Lake 10, Minn. After leaving LC, Virginia transferred to Northwestern U. and then went on to Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School in Boston. She worked for three years for an advertising agency in Chicago before her marriage. Virginia's husband is vice-president of the Automatic Control Co. in St. Paul. They have three children — David, who is about to enter the armed services; Nancy, who will enter Smith College this fall; and Susan, who is in junior high school. Virginia refers to herself as a "housewife and club woman."

Carolyn Courtney Jones (Mrs. Keith) lives at 302 Hillcrest Dr., Warrensburg, Mo. After leaving LC, Carolyn graduated from Central Missouri State Teachers College and taught for the six following years. Keith is now in the real estate business and they have a son, 14, and a daughter, 19.

A note from Virginia Rugh Soller (Mrs. Charles M.) tells us of her activities since Lindenwood days. She received her B.S. in physical education from the University of Illinois and her M.A. at New York University. She has taught in junior highs, high schools, and universities—including the University of Minnesota and Colorado State College. Her husband is assistant solicitor for Indian affairs in the Department of Interior. Before her marriage, Virginia was with the American Red Cross stationed in New Guinea, the Philippines, and Japan. Virginia has two children—Mary Lou, 11, and David, 9.

From Marjorie Pratt Verba (Mrs. Willard W.) we hear, "I guess it's pretty hard to condense a personal history spanning 27 years into a short paragraph. I did not finish college, but instead went to work in a wholesale lumber company in Omaha, where I met Willard. He's a big guy, 6 ft. 5 in., which is pretty funny, come to think of it, in connection with 5 ft. tall (short) me. We were married in September, 1938." In 1955 they bought Varner Printing Company in Cedar Rapids, and both Marjorie and her husband work in the business.

Marjorie has two children — Sue went to Iowa State and then married Dick McDougal, who is now in the Air Force (Marge is a grandmother as Sue has two little daughters); Jim is with a contracting company in Marion, Ia. Marjorie is active in several clubs and she is also a golfer.

"I only wish that I had been a better letter writer and had kept in contact with all those girls I thought so much of—Betty Lee (Hilding), Mary Nell (Patterson), Dotty Ball, and so very many others. Serves me right for not answering letters."

From the end of the alphabet we find Corinne Zurth, who changed her name to Hall (Mrs. Lee G.) and now lives at R.R. 1, Portland, Ind. After two years at LC, Corinne finished her degree at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind., and then married a DePauw graduate. They have two children, Dave, a DePauw student, and Helen, a Kappa Alpha Theta at Northwestern. Oh, yes, let's not forget their two poodles and a cat.

Dorothy Knell Coombs (Mrs. A. M.) of 1620 Forest, Carthage, Mo., has quite a family composed of: Helen, a Missouri U. senior; Barbara Ann, a junior at Missouri University; and Jon, the only son, Sandra, Nancy Jane, and Laurie, ages 16, 11, 9 and 6. She still sees her LC roommate Helen Nance Stines (Mrs. Sherman L.) of 816 W. Second, Webb City, Mo., because they only live 10 miles apart.

A short note from Anne MacWillie Erickson Phalon (Mrs. Joseph E., Jr.) of 222 S. 24th St., La Crosse, Wis., tells us of a cruise to the Bahamas that the Phalons have recently taken. She corresponds with Billie Vance Taylor and Peggy Hocker Small.

Helen Schmutzler Davis (Mrs. Robert

M.) of 603 Brae Burn, Mansfield, O., received her degree three years ago and began teaching after the death of her first husband. She is now remarried and still teaching. Her five children are: Mike Frampton, married with two children; Nanci Frampton, will be a junior at Bowling Green; Mike Davis, a junior in engineering at the University of Cincinnati; Bernie Davis, freshman at Ohio State U.; and Susie Frampton, who will be a senior in high school.

I have heard from Josephine Trice Williams (Mrs. Hensley of 5319 32nd St., Arlington, Va. They have three boys, John who is 23, married, and a lieutenant stationed at Mineral Wells, Tex.; Clay, 16; and Maxwell, 14. Josephine writes often to Peggy Hocker Small (Mrs. James B.), who is married to a Navy captain stationed at Quarters "F," Naval Base, Portsmouth, N.H.

I have really enjoyed the letters I have received. I will be seeing Lindenwood in September when we drive our daughter Ann to school. Her father was briefly in St. Charles and left at Grandma's a suitcase with blankets, linens, boots, etc. She is probably the first 1964 freshman to have a part of her luggage in town already.

Sarah Phillips Gallagher (Mrs. John Gallagher), 44 Valley View Ter., Mt. Kisco, N.Y., has three daughters — Sarah, 19; Lisa, 11; and Julie, 6. "I do hope to have one of them, at least, at Lindenwood. My husband publishes college texts and is building a text department for St. Martins Press, Fifth Ave., New York City."

Receiving an M.S. in library science from Catholic University, Washington, D.C., is Margaret Barton Korty (Mrs. Vernon). Her thesis was entitled "Benjamin Franklin — an 18th Century American Library."

Pearl Lucille Lammers Schaberg (Mrs. Eugene F.), 824 Lindenwood Ave., St. Charles, Mo., has a daughter, Ann, who will be in Lindenwood in two more years. Her husband is assistant postmaster at St. Charles, and two boys, 13 and 12, complete the family. Lucille has been teaching remedial reading in the mornings for the last seven years.

News comes from Marjorie Jane Ecker Hill (Mrs. Edgar A., Jr.) of 19136 Westwood, Strongsville 36, O. She has three sons, Dan, Randy, and Mat, ages 17, 15, and 7. Her husband is active in politics and teaches Sunday school. He works for the American Credit Indemnity Company. Marge is assistant organist in her church, an antique collector and refinisher, and a substitute teacher.

Marian Frimann Geddes (Mrs. Ralph W.) writes that her husband is in the printing and newspaper business and that they have two daughters: Jane, a first year teacher at Mesa, Ariz., and Diane, a college freshman. For 10 years Marion has worked in a county museum and has become very interested in Wyoming state history. The Geddes have enjoyed being foster parents of two foreign students for the American Field Service and the Rotarians. One girl was from the Island of Rhodes in Greece and the other an Australian. The Geddes live at 1108 South Jeffers Dr., Rawlins, Wyo.

Writing from Garden City, Kan. (1102 E. Hackburg) is Kay Lovitt Wells (Mrs. Robert) who says, "We have both been through the mill on civic, church, and club work. I always look forward to THE BULLETIN in order to keep up to date on school activities and read about old friends." Let's read about Kay who has two boys—Kim, 14, and Kent, 10. Her husband is in the broadcasting business. The entire family enjoys golf.

Kay Jacoby of 910 Rhode Island Ave., Apt. 5, Washington, D.C., is a career girl with the Treasury Department. Kay eagerly attends and helps with alumnae activities in the Washington area.

We have an authoress in the class of 1941. She is Nancy Madden of 2900 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. We had lunch together, and she told me of her book, Sevier Family History, which she co-authored with an aun, Cora Bales Sevier.

Betty Newlon Reed (Mrs. Robert) writes that she is busy with "all the usual civic activities and enjoys substitute teaching in the upper school of a private school in New Orleans." Her address is 503 Marguerite Rd., Metairie, La.

A short note from Johnnie Lou Brown Birgman (Mrs. James) tells us of her married son in the Air Force, husband in the oil business, and her own work as a bank teller. The Birgmans reside at 1915 E. 9th St., Okmulgee, Okla.

Helen Meyer Fuerhoff (Mrs. Henry) writes, "Sad to say, I have no daughter to send to Lindenwood." She has two sons—James Richardson, a junior at Valparaiso University, and Robert Fuerhoff, 13. Address for Helen is 1817 Elm St., St. Charles, Mo.

From Milwaukee (7624 N. Beach Rd.) we hear from Genevieve Horswell Frank (Mrs. Kenneth L.) who writes, "I've had fun playing character parts in children's plays for the Junior League of Milwaukee. My best to everyone in the class; and if ever anyone gets to Milwaukee, I hope she'll call. We're right on Lake Michigan and can guarantee much fun—especially if it's HOT. The Franks have two sophomore boys — Rich at Yale, and Rand in high school.

Enjoying part-time work in a physician's office and a hobby of gardening, is Joanna Benecke Townsend (Mrs. W. W.) of 4916 W. 77th St., Prairie Village, Kan. Her husband, Bill, is in the oil business. They have two sons, one a graduate student and one in the armed services. She often writes to Virginia Mering McDonald (Mrs. Don A.) of 14565 N.W. 16 Dr., Miami, Fla. Virginia was Joanna's roommate at LC and now has three children plus teaching full time.

June Goran Dulary (Mrs. Thomas) of Pacific, Mo., is chapter president of Pacific PEO, and has been very active in establishing a new chapter in Eureka, Mo.

McDonnell Aircraft has a personnel research analyst from our class. She is Martha Weber Spencer (Mrs. Thomas R.) of 1640 Carter Dr., Florissant, Mo. She is a member of Personnel Women of Greater St. Louis and the International Association of Personnel Women.

Living in St. Charles (1849 Park Ave.) is Dorothy Keyes Lammers (Mrs. Ramsay), whose husband is an engineer at McDonnell Aircraft. Three sons complete the family. Ramsay, III, who is 21 and a junior at Rolla; Michael, who is another junior—in high school; and Jeffrey, who is five and is just starting the educational road in kindergarten.

Another member of the family is the bridge table which has been in use for 20 years when other Lindenwood Alumnae come for a game of bridge. Bidding away with Dorothy is Pearl Lucille Lammers Schaberg, Helen Meyer Fuerhoff, Adelaide Wilke Huncker, Helen Rose Bruns Jolly, Ruth Schrader Arft, and Helen Culbertson Beste.

Norma Ewing Powell (Mrs. Kenneth), living at 504 Green St., Traer, Ia., sends news of her three children: Kim Ann, 13 years old, and two high school boys, Marc and Dean, who will be 15 and 16 years old this summer. Her husband is an electrician and appliance dealer and owner of Powell Electric. Norma has received an address from Maxine Cooper Provost (Mrs. Dan) of 17 Valley Rd., New Canaan, Conn.

The Pittsburgh Symphony will tour the Middle East and Europe for 11½ weeks beginning in August with one of our classmates, Genevieve Kneise Chaudhari (Mrs. Nirmal), whose address is 500 S. Highland, Pittsburgh, Penn. Since her husband's death, Genevieve has been a member of the symphony. She writes: "Instead of being in St. Charles on May 2, I shall be receiving some shots that are required by the State Department."

From Phyllis Durbahn Hutchinson, 1047 Centerfield Ct., Highland Park, Ill., we find news of herself and other 41 classmates. Phyllis has been active in volunteer services in the Highland Park Hospital, the Women's Auxiliary, the Flower Committee, and Girl Scouting (mainly the outdoor phase of it). For the last five years, she has been working in the high school guidance office with the testing program.

She has kept in touch with her LC roommate, Annette Avgerinos Polemi (Mrs. George), of 574 Racine, Aurora,

News from the Classes

Colo. She is the mother of two sons, Anthony and Michael, ages seven and nine. Phyllis also gets word from June Coats Rohrs (Mrs. James), who is now living at 579 Heathdale, Covina, Calif. She is the mother of five children—busy gal. Besides the children, June seems quite busy with her bridge, the Boy and Girl Scouts, and the PTA.

Who is the Postmaster of Hobart, Oklahoma? None other than Georgia Mac Zoellner Gish (Mrs. Donald) whose husband is the mayor of the town. Georgia writes, "Getting along pretty good with the 20 men in my office (I'm the only woman)—in fact, I believe it's easier to get along with 20 than just one, my husband—ha! ha!" Besides handling the "mail," she has two sons, Donald and John. Don will receive his degree in chemistry and bio-chemistry and plans to work for the Department of Interior; and John who is a freshman at Oklahoma Military Academy is planning to get a degree in social studies.

Charlotte Tucker of 200 West Claude, Lake Charles, La., writes, "I always look forward to receiving the copy of THE BULLETIN, and am afraid that is about the only way I have been able to keep up with our classmates." Charlotte seems quite busy with civic activities, hobbies, and sailing and golfing that she comments, "Sometimes I think that the house is just a place to change clothes!"

I suppose we all feel that way at one time or another. So I don't have to say to all of you "keep busy" because I know from your letters that you have been doing just that since our days at LC. SJS

I have had many interesting letters since my first report as secretary. Nice to know what you all have been doing—now to let everyone know here's something that's worth a thousand of my words.

Lou Dickey Baucus Farr (Mrs. L. L., III) wrote and enclosed this delightful picture of her family. From left to right standing: Phil, a son and freshman in high school; husband Louis; son-in-law Herb Taylor; daughter Penny holding grandson Ross; son Bill, graduating from high school; son Louis IV, sophomore at Texas A&M. Left to right seated: Lou Dickey herself with dogs Doc and Missy, and daughter-in-law, Annis.

Lou writes: "My life since Lindenwood has been full and happy as you can probably tell from the enclosed picture . . . Lou and I were married and came to the ranch, where we still live, in September, 1940." Lou did substitute teaching last year; she would love to hear from her classmates and especially her old roomie, Marg Benson. Write to us, Marg! Lou Dickey's address is Barnhart, Tex.

Among those members of our class present on Alumnae Day were: Betty Schoen Trail (Mrs. D. F.), Jeanne Harmon Huesemann (Mrs. Theodore J.), Rena Eberspacher Hale (Mrs. Clyde S.), Ruth Peterson Waggoner (Mrs. C. M.), Eleanor Wilcoxson Jaeger, Mary Jane Tarling Take (Mrs. Victor W.), Dorothy Jane Trump, Marian Ohlsen Onken, and myself.

Betty, who had been listed among the "missing," turned out to be living about a 15-minute drive from the college at 10315 St. Helen, St. Ann, Mo. She is teaching second grade at the Pattonville Elementary School. Betty's son, Joe, attends Western Military Academy and her daughter, Susan, who will be a freshman in high school next fall, is already planning to attend Lindenwood.

Did all of you know that Jeanne is a member of the Lindenwood faculty? She is a math prof. We were sorry to learn that her husband, Ted, is not well. They live at 145 College Dr., St. Charles, Mo.

Not only was Rena in attendance on Alumnae Day, but there was a flying wedge of the Eberspacher girls. Her sisters Marie and Louise accompanied her, and Marie's daughter, Pat (still in high school), came along to see if she would like her mother's alma mater. However, Rena's daughter, Freda, chose the University of Missouri where she pledged Chi Omega! Rena has two more children—both boys. She lives at 148 Firwood Drive, St. Louis, Mo.

"Petey" had joined a group of her friends from the Class of 1944 at the reunion. She lives at 712 Hilltop Dr., Columbia, Mo. Her husband, whom she met while at LC, is in the practice of radiology at Columbia. Her son, Rick, is a freshman at Mizzou and pledged Phi Delta Theta. Her daughter, Beth, is an eighth grader.

Eleanor made the longest trip of any of our class by coming from 2125 East Forest Blvd., Tulsa, Okla. It was her first time to return to the college since she left.

Mary Jane served on one of the Alumnae Day committees. She reports that her daughter, Vicki, just completed her freshman year at Lindenwood, loves it, and will return next fall. Her two younger daughters are planning to come Lindenwood way. She and her family live at 3 Sappington Spur, Kirkwood 22, Mo.

Dorothy lives at 5 Chapel Hill Estates, St. Louis 31, Mo., and is very active in alumnae affairs. She served on one of the Alumnae Day committees, belongs to the St. Louis Symphony Society, and the Missouri Historical Society—so she keeps busy with these organizations.

I've received four more letters from 1943 classmates. Grace Gantt Nance (Mrs. Frederick S.), writes that she and her family have lived for the last 15 years in Omaha, where her husband has a consulting engineering firm. They have two children: Patrick, 16, and Melinda, 14.

Grace reports as follows: "My family and home keep me busy, but when I can find the time, I attend a class in oil painting and enjoy golf. Sharing the good and bad with us, we have one nice horse, a criminally inclined French poodle, and assorted tropical fish in numerous aquariums."

She adds that one of her closest neighbors is Barbara Hahn Cockle, and that she visits Wanda Cole Cooksley and her family at their ranch near Anselmo, Neb. Grace's address: Box 116, Florence Station, Omaha, Neb.

Coralee Burchard Ogden (Mrs. Edward E., Jr.), of 706 Center St., Willow Springs, Mo., is "just a housewife, mother, and part-time piano teacher." Her two children Judy and Jamie are 16 and 14. The big thing at their house is learning to drive the car. Coralee had major surgery recently and had to drop out of most activities except PEO and Civil Defense work. She adds: "Keeping up with two teenagers, 26 piano students, and an eight-room house seems to keep me on the run."

Teaching second grade at Travis Air Force Base where her husband is stationed, is Mable Buhner Stringham (Mrs. H. D., Jr.), of 305 Nevada St., Travis AFB, Calif. She attends evening classes at Sacramento State College working towards a credential in speech therapy. She has one daughter, 17. Outside of school and home, her chief activity centers around the Solano Toastmistress Club.

Ardell (Sandy) Welter Kuhn (Mrs. John A.), wrote in haste to send a change of address. She, her husband, and children (Janine, 15, Pamela, 11, and John, 7) are moving to "a big old stucco" at 1015 Ashland, Wilmette, Ill. "Sandy" said she had just finished selling a litter of seven spaniel pups and was trying to sell the house from which she is moving. Anyone interested?

44 classmates. Sue Beck of 348 S. Pine St., Nowata, Okla., writes that she has enjoyed her association with Phillips Petroleum Company in Bartlesville, Okla. She also has church activities serving as elder, Sunday school superintendent and choir member. She received a letter from Mary Herd Bouliane (Mrs. J. P.), of 1610 Shady Oaks, Conroe, Tex., who wants to be remembered at this time.

Martha England Wischmeier, De Soto, Mo., lists her doings as follows: activities: three children, ages 11, 8, and 3, and a husband who manages and is part owner of a retail lumber yard; outside interests—active in PEO and Woman's Society of Christian Service; hobby—camping with the family; big activity—teaching my boy to play the piano.

First grade teaching consists of "guiding some little ones along the road to learning." Druzella Marie Hanshew Daubenspeck holds this opinion. She has been teaching the first grade in Noblesville, Ind. for the last nine years. Her husband is an electrical contractor, and her daughter Lynne is in her eighth year of school. They have just purchased a home in Coral Gables, Fla., at 6309 Casteneda. Druzella will be teaching again when she reaches Florida in the fall. JSS Varying interests, fabulous trips, plus lots of children seem to be the primary activities of the classmates of 46. Beverly Busher Brockley (Mrs. Wallace S.), of 482 S. Edward, Decatur, Ill., writes that she and her husband and their two sons, 16 and 13, are planning a trip to the World's Fair. Her husband is in the music and appliance business. The family shares hobbies including golf, bowling, oil painting, and quarter horses.

Mary Parker Bower (Mrs. Donald A.), 666 West 2nd St., Azusa, Calif., is enjoying the pace of homemaker and mother after 11 years as a juvenile probation officer for Los Angeles County. Her husband is a classical lyric baritone who appears with groups and in solo concerts. They have one daughter, Rachel, who is two years old.

Teaching journalism and English in Downey, Calif., is Mary Louise Alford Graunke (Mrs. Dean F.), 14301 Spa Dr. Huntington Beach, Calif. She will be moving this summer to Manitowoc, Wis., where her husband, a professor, will be affiliated with the University of Wisconsin Extension Division. She plans to teach English in a nearby city. They have two children, Debbie, 15, and David, 12. Summer before last she toured Europe "from one end to the other."

Margaret Overmeyer McBride (Mrs. James) writes that "for years my address has been wrong in Lindenwood's files. I never got around to changing it. I have been getting my BULLETIN through my mother-in-law!" Margot's address is 3821 Hamilton Dr., Fort Worth, Tex., just four houses away from Patsy Powell McDonald (Mrs. Scott). Their children are about the same ages and play together. Last fall Margot and her husband, who is a thoracic surgeon, went to Rome for the International Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis meeting.

A gal with outdoor interests is Peg King Leland (Mrs. William D.) of 746 Mansfield, Wichita 7, Kan. Those interests include hunting, field trials with English setters, and their Tennessee walking horse. She has been teaching full time since January, 1962, and is taking some graduate work at the University of Wichita. She and her husband, who is a pharmacist, have two daughters, Vicki, 17, and Jeane, 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walter (Helen Stahl), have a third son, fourth child, named Timothy Samuel. They reside at 305 Southwest St., Bellevue, O.

Ruth Titus of 6030 Hemlock, Shawnee Mission, Kan., is hoping to return to work in the fall following a long illness. She has become a homeowner and after discovering termites and four dead trees, has about decided that apartment living is easier.

Have you ever owned a ranch? Marilou Rutledge of Merriwood Ranch, Rt. 2, Plano, Tex., has one north of Dallas and owns and operates Merriwood Pre-School and Day camp. She also gives instruction for English horseback riding and teaches in the Highland Park School system.

Nancy Knott Boardman (Mrs. Avery), of 3719 Garrison Rd., Toledo, O., writes that she and her husband received their B.S. degrees from Purdue University in 1949. They have lived in Toledo for three years where he is personnel director for Toledo Trust Company. They have three children, Bill, Mark, and Ann, ages 12, 9, and 5.

Marjorie Clark Fryburger (Mrs. Vernon), wrote to let us know that she didn't know how uncommunicative she had been until she realized that LC files were still in her maiden name. She is married to a professor at Northwestern U. and they have a nine-year-old daughter, Candace. They live at 893 S. Beverly, Lake Forest, Ill.

Harriet Scruby Shaw (Mrs. Leverett S.), is now living at 431 Hale St., Prides Crossing, Mass., since four of her five children are in boarding schools in the East. The family still spends part of the time in New Iberia, La.

Dorothy Reed Atwood (Mrs. Gordon), her husband, and their daughter, Valerie Louise Speedy, 14, live in Eldon, Mo. Dorothy says she has a political job in Jefferson City where she is personal secretary to Jack M. Jones, information and publicity director of the Missouri Department of Agriculture. Her husband travels for a steel company. She is also an active member of Beta Sigma Phi and is treasurer of the Miller County Young Democrats Club.

And now for news from Gene. George and I attended the wedding of our ward, Sue Brunson at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H., in February. As guardians, George "gave the bride away" and I acted as "mother of the bride, rising and falling on cue," as the minister put it. Sue was a student at Mt. Holyoke College. After the wedding, we went to New York for a visit with my brother. George is an attorney, and to keep my Lindenwood accounting classes from going stale, I do most of his bookkeeping. We have three children, who, on their anticipated birthdays will be Leslie, 13, Charles, 11, and Jennifer, 7. We are all looking forward to a trip to Disneyland this summer, and to furthering our knowledge of the Southwest with more exploring trips to ghost towns, old forts, and Indian ruins.

Kirkwood, Mo., is the home of Elizabeth Wright Cockrum, but her husband, Robert, owns an auction company in St. Charles and she wrote that it gave her such a "funny feeling" not long ago when Lindenwood sent some merchandise in to be sold at auction. Elizabeth has four children: Glen, 15; Paul, 10; Sally Jean, 6; and Deborah Ann, 4. Until last year, she was actively engaged selling real estate and still does some selling in her spare time. Her address is 862 Wood Ave., Kirkwood, Mo.

Pat Conrad Jones, (Mrs. Robt. K.), has a new address, 905 Sycamore Dr., Lincoln, Neb. 68510. She and her husband, who is a psychiatrist in private practice, moved to Lincoln about 18 months ago. They have three children: Alex, 14; Pamela, 10; and Carolyn 5. She says "I'm weary most of the time from this varied crew." Pat also wrote that they visited the campus last May and that the changes were "amazing."

Barbara Johnson Bishop, (Mrs. Fred), 2356 Cascade Way, Longview, Wash., is the mother of two sons, Steven, 9, and Brent, 7. Her husband practices internal medicine in Longview where they have lived for the last ten years. She wrote that they are looking forward to a month in Kansas this summer.

Washington is also the home of Verlee Oyer Youk (Mrs. Jack, Jr.). She and her husband and two teenagers live at 7610 191st S.W., Edmonds. Lee wrote that they have lived in Washington for eight years, moving there from Albuquerque and though they love the beautiful scenery and the many recreational opportunities in the Northwest, they miss our New Mexico sunshine.

The Class of '46 was represented at the class reunion May 2 by Louise Eberspacher Davis (Mrs. Kenneth) and Harriet Hudson Ritter (Mrs. Hubert). Louise wrote that "the campus was just beautiful and it really was fun seeing all the changes that were made since last I was back." Louise's husband is an insurance broker and they have a daughter Jeanne, 11, and a son, John, 14. Their address is 426 N. Merrill, Park Ridge, Ill.

Dorothy Dickey Bourlier (Mrs. R. J.), sent a new address, 1 Onondaga Ln., Plattsburgh, N.Y. Her husband is resident engineer at Plattsburgh Air Force Base which includes nine Atlas missile bases in the area. They are parents of two teenagers, Chip, 15, and Debbie, 13. They live on Lake Champlain. Dorothy works mornings in the local newspaper office as morgue attendant.

Mary Louise Mayer Savidge (Mrs. Walter G.), 4329 No. 91st, Omaha 34, Neb., is a third grade teacher. She wrote that she and her husband have another new home and that she has decided that houses and interior decorating are their hobbies. Her husband is a realtor and they move quite often.

Merryl Ryan Winters (Mrs. Walter), 2741 Stratford, Lincoln, Neb., says she "really classifies herself as a Domestic Engineer, which includes being a referee, nurse, laundress, cook, electrician, taxi driver, plumber and authority on all subjects." She is the mother of five children: Konrad, 15; Wally, 13; Rebecca, 11; Marcia, 10; and Todd, 4. Her husband owns a bottling company and she also helps him as accountant. She has recently helped organize a Lindenwood club in Lincoln.

Joan Emons Martin (Mrs. Harley), 223 S. Wisconsin St., Hobart, Ind., is teaching first grade and performing in a pantomime song and dance act with a friend, both in Hobart and out of town. Her husband works for a Ford agency in Gary about eight miles from Hobart. They have two children, Nancy, 10, and Greg, 12. In June they plan to go to San Antonio to attend the international convention for barbershop quartets. She adds that if anyone is interested in "booking" their act, they are known as "Martin & Reed."

Rosalie Eddy Hough (Mrs. Roy F.), 201 West Wakefield, Sikeston, Mo., wrote that she and her lawyer husband are parents of three children: John, 12; David, 9; and Janet, 6. Rosalie graduated from Missouri University in 1946 and taught school for a year in Peoria, Ill. She is currently den mother to eight Cub Scouts, an avid duplicate bridge player, and a "struggling" piano student, having "recently acquired a new piano and beginning where she left off at L.C."

Eight children, five boys and three girls, and a new home keep Myonnie Stueber Ehler busy. She and her husband, Raymond, who is with General Motors, live at 401 W. Hillside Drive, Mundelein, Ill.

Mary Ruth Kerley George (Mrs. C. D.), 805 Market, Metropolis, Ill., sent her new home address and the information that she is married to a dentist and has one daughter who is 14. They also own a Polled Hereford cattle farm and participate in church, school organizations, and clubs. GHS

The class of 1947 has been busy since leaving the dorms of LC. Deana Bass Garrison (Mrs. John P., Jr.), of 50 Woodchester Dr., Weston, Mass., has two sons John, 13, and Alec, 10. For five years they lived out of the country — three spent on an island in the Caribbean (Aruba), and two spent in Cologne, Germany.

Janice McNeill Ostedgaard (Mrs. E. A.) writes they have two children, Cheryl, 17; and Greg, 7. They spend most of their summers at their lake house on Lake Hamilton, but this year they will be at the N.Y. World's Fair.

News from Pat Callahan Zimmerman (Mrs. K. G.), comes from Minneapolis where she is teaching at the University of Minnesota. She graduated from Washington U., and then went to graduate school for her M.S. in library science. They have three children: Herb, 16, Gordon, two, and Kathy, six months. Ken is a salesman for Central Supply Co.

The name we could never pronounce has been changed to Glazer (Mrs. Marvin), by Sonja Chicotsky who has three Glazers named Jeff, 14, Ilene, 13, and Richard, 10. Her husband and his two brothers own the local Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. Sonja is the immediate past-president of the Sisterhood of Bethel Congregation and was just elected to the board of Women's Auxiliary of Cook's Children's Hospital.

Mary Elizabeth Irons has worked for the Cerro Gordo Country Easter Seal Society for the last 10 years as a secretary. Her planned trip to LC this year was cancelled because of a fall in which she broke her leg and dislocated her foot. Hope you're well soon, Mary!

The home economics director of Public Service Co. in Mt. Prospect, Ill., is Jocelyn F. Gabel. She "traveled to Hawaii recently, Mexico, and Europe, and will make the N.Y. World's Fair this summer."

Elizabeth Ann (Jill) High Libby (Mrs. Robert), writes that she has Jeffrey, 12, and three girls from three years to 10 years. She's busy with Camp Fire Girls, 4H, and Little League. Her husband is an electronics technician for Bendix.

Ginny Case Wierda (Mrs. G. J., Jr.), has three children named Lee, 15, Chris, 14, and Debbie, 11. Her husband and his brother have a furniture store. Ginny went back to work and is physical therapist at an orthopedic school where she works with many children whose handicaps are cerebral palsy, polio, and muscular dystrophy.

The mother of four children (three boys from 15 to 9 and a little girl who is 6), is Ann Feldman Meltzer (Mrs. Nathan). She helps her husband in his office connected with the oil business. She and her husband are officers in the PTA.

Politics is in the news everywhere — and also in the news for the class of '47. Elibabeth Scott Karpf (Mrs. Charles T.), Box 251, Morrill, Neb., is running for the Nebraska Legislature against Terry Carpenter (a man, needless to say). Although this is her first try for public office, Elizabeth has been working in politics as secretary of the Scotts Bluff County Republican Central Committee. Her husband is a cashier and executive officer of the First National Bank at Morrill. She said her first campaign donation came from her Sunday school class — it was one dollar. The winner will be named in the November general election. We wish her all the best. In her own words, "I hope to give my opponent a run for the money."

Thanks to the above girls for their letters. I'm waiting to hear from MANY more. I'll bring you up-to-date on "Gwen" now. My husband is assistant production manager for WCCO-TV, the local CBS outlet here in Minneapolis. We have two girls, Kristen, 14, and Karen, 11. We both are active in the Twin Cities Diabetic Association, as our youngest is a diabetic. We are also active in our two PTA's and various church activities. Bye for now. GMS

What a fun job this is! The response from the alums has been terrific. I am anxiously waiting to hear from more of you. I wish I could quote each of you verbatim, but then we would need THE BULLETIN all to ourselves.

Frances Jones Ancker (Mrs. J. P.), will be staying three years in Europe with her husband who will be stationed at Heidelberg, Germany. Casey wrote, "It is time to change my address again. Jack has completed work here at Wright-Patterson, and adds another master's degree, this time an M.S. in logistics. I'm pleased to add that an Army man is graduating in number one position among all these Air Force types."

Casey has three children: Mary, who at 10 is having her first taste of Girl Scouts, but can't throw a ball (which is a disgrace to our Casey); John, who is

News from the Classes

"plodding through second grade" but loves the encyclopedia; and Bill, a kindergartener who is Casey's athlete. Margo VerKruzen stopped by to see Casey, and Siegmund Bets is on a sabbatical in Heidelberg, so they will probably run into each other.

Her new address is c/o Lt. Col. J. P. Ancker 0-37217, Log. Divl, USAR EUR HQ., APO 403, New York, N.Y.

A quick note from Linda Fee Fairchild (Mrs. R. E.), of 11024 Greenbay, Houston, Tex., tells us of her recent trip to Cleveland where she attended the National Y.W.C.A. Convention as a voting delegate. She writes that she is having a very good happy life in Houston.

Mary Bovaird Stark (Mrs. Robert E.), of 7335 Booth, Prairie Village, Kan., writes, "It was fun to hear from you and Lindenwood again after so many years. THE BULLETIN seldom caught up with me." She graduated from Kansas University in '49 and went to work as a professional Girl Scout. Her husband is now assistant manager of the Frank Paxton Lumber Co., Kansas City. They have one daughter Maryanna, 4. Mary "found" Shirley Strane who is now Mrs. John O. Steele of 9804 Jarboe, Kansas City, Mo.

Mother of two daughters and a minister's wife is Betty Sue Perry Nygren (Mrs. Malcolm), of 509 S. McKinley, Champaign, Ill. Her girls are Mindy, 9, and Nancy, 7. Mal is the minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Champaign. Last summer they took the girls to Europe for two months and did some sightseeing on the continent while Mal took a summer course at Oxford.

Do you recognize her? It's Nancie Hohmann Soaf (Mrs. Lawrence L.), of 204 James Ave., Rockford, Ill., pictured with her three children Peter, 6, Vicki, 13, and Stephen, 11, and her husband, Larry. She wrote, "We are active in Westminster Presbyterian Church. I teach Sunday school, am active in the Women's Association, have been substitute teaching in the lower grades, and have been vice-president of Volunteer Workers at Swedish American Hospital." Her husband has an appliance and gift retail business and is precinct committeeman. They plan to be very busy this year with Republican committee work.

Mary Trimble Maier (Mrs. John L., Jr.), of Box 395, McGehee, Ark., met her husband at the University of Arkansas and they were married shortly after graduation in 1949. Her husband is in the farming business and raises cattle. They have three children—Marilyn, 13, Johnny, 12, and Nancy, 8.

She married the man she met while at LC—her name is Merrill Blotz Craig (Mrs. Lee A.), of 804 N.E. 107th Pl., Portland 20, Ore. He was a medical student at St. Louis U. and took his premed at Westminster when Dr. McCluer was there. He is now president of the staff at Physicians and Surgeons Hospital. Last summer the Craigs took their 14-year-old daughter, Catherine, with them on a tour of Europe, Phyllis, 12, and Robert, 4, stayed with Grandma Blotz in Colorado.

Joyce Raglin Landley (Mrs. Thomas H.), Route 5, Carmi, Ill., has a brood of six children, three boys and three girls. Their ages range from 15½ to 8 years. She writes: "I don't believe I've written THE BULLETIN since the birth of our first child, almost 16 years ago. How times flies!"

With her two boys, David, 8, and Kevin, 1½, is Judy Hagerty Leathers (Mrs. Tom), of 8012 Lee Blvd., Leawood, Kan. Her husband publishes two suburban newspapers, "The Village Squire" and "The Country Squire." Of her activities, she writes, "We go to all the movies and plays as 'critics,' and meet the visiting celebrities and statesmen." Judy works at the library for the Young Matrons, reads all the time, loves to cook, likes writing poetry, and is still working on her huge hooked rug.

News from Beverly Burkes Cox (Mrs. L. D.) tells us of her three boys—J.G., 15, Dahl Gene, 9, and Chuck, 7. Her husband is manager of real estate sales department for Builders, Inc., Wichita. Bev is a graduate fellow of Wichita University and is currently teaching bowling, golf and tennis. She is completing requirements for a master's degree in physical education. "Before returning to school, I spent four years in Germany . . . Life is extremely busy, full, rewarding, and exciting."

Measles set in upon the Chamblin family just at the time of the reunion, so Mary Lou McNail Chamblin (Mrs. Thomas W.), of 213 Churchill Dr., Belleville, Ill., missed her old classmates. She has two girls, Lee Renee and Lynn Michelle, and two boys, Thomas McNail and Todd Milan. Mary Lou extends an invitation to any of us if we are ever in the St. Louis area.

Shirley Anne Williams of Riverhouse, N. Broadway, Upper Nyack, N.Y., became interested in her present occupation because of surgery she underwent two years ago. She has spent six months with Central Ohio Heart, and in August of 1963 became staff assistant and field representative of the Heart Association of Rockland County. We're proud of you, Shirley.

A note from Janet Koetter Bushnell (Mrs. Wm. E.), 2157 W. Adams, St. Charles, Mo., says—"Always look forward to reading THE BULLETIN, enjoy it very much." Her husband is a salesman for the Englander Co. They have a son, eight years old, and a five-year-old "future Lindenwood girl." Janet's brother-in-law, Charles Bushnell, is the Supt. of LC buildings and grounds, so they visit the campus often.

Amelia (Amy) Plowman Hayden (Mrs. Roy W.) of 11205 Grand Ave., Kansas City 14, Mo., writes, "I have lived in Kansas City since marriage in 1950 and have a busy family with daughters age 12 and 6, and sons age 10 and 4. So the next 15 or 16 years of life are pretty well lined up. Some year the family will have the opportunity to visit LC campus."

Baby bottles and safety pins are additions to the Wm. R. Haymes household (Ruth Ball) after the birth of their daughter, Christiana MacKay, May 1, 1964.

The former Mrs. W. H. Thompson (Patricia Tuttle) is now Mrs. Peter S. DeLenos of Rome, Italy. Her address: c/o Pepsi Cola, Via Compana 47, Rome, Italy.

Athena Hassakis, 3733 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis 8, Mo., wrote, "there is a Lindenwood Club here, but they meet in the daytime, and this is out for us working gals. I'm a secretary at Newhard, Cook, and Co., and have been here for 13½ years. I've enjoyed every minute of my work."

Received such a newsy letter from Juanita Pardee Besse of 884 Meadowbrook Rd., Blue Bell, Penn. Her husband is salesman for Greenfield Products (the Lawn and Garden Div. of Eli Lilly & Co.), and they have three lively boys—Mac, 10½, Jim, 8, and Dick, 4½. She was just installed as President of the Newcomers Club of Ambler and will be on the board of the Junior Colony Club.

From Manhattan Beach, Calif., 2504 Alma Ave., comes news from Capt. Arminta Harness who writes: "I am still very much in the Air Force and am happy to announce that in July it will be Major Harness. I am a project officer (aeronautical engineer) on the Gemini Atlas Agena Target Vehicle System. Isn't that a mouthful?" For the first time in ten years, Arminta doesn't have a Girl Scout troop of her own, but is still very involved in scouting. Her job requires quite a bit of traveling, so time is hard to find.

Betty Keighley Engstrom, 9 Winding Way, Malvern, Pa., writes to us about her teaching job at a private school in West Chester that uses methods that are being tested before publication. Her son, Eric, attends the school, but her daughter, Laura, preferred to stay in public school where she plays the flute in the orchestra, participates in Scouts, and "swims all winter at the 'Y.'" Her husband works in Wilmington and has a 40-minute drive. Sound familiar to any of you?

Rita Willner Atlas, her husband, Morris, and children, Scott, 14½, Debra, 12, Lauren, 9½, and Lisa, 6, have lived for 13 years at 612 Maple, in McAllen, Tex., just seven miles from the Mexican border. In a note to Dr. Terhune, Rita says her true Spanish has slipped but that the entire family speaks Tex-Mex, or border Spanish. She adds, "We love living here—the people are wonderful and the city very progressive. My husband has his own law firm and we are about to embark on a new project—a new home."

That's it to date—have a pleasant summer. My little ones are asking already when am I going back to visit Lindenwood, and can they go too.

Dr. Dawson of Lindenwood's English department has brought us news of Barbara B. Luchsinger of Dix, Ill. Barbara graduated magna cum laude from LC, and has kept up the good work by receiving the Pi Lambda Theta graduate award as the outstanding graduate student at State University of Iowa. We send our congratulations, Barbara.

Frances Woldridge is teaching home economics at Manistee, Mich. She has recently been elected treasurer of the County Education Association and re-elected treasurer of the City Teacher's Club. She writes that at Easter she visited Marilyn Fawley (Mrs. George Inglett), in Chicago.

Joan Kirchherr Allen is the Dental Hygiene Consultant for the state of Kentucky, and spends most of her time traveling throughout the state giving lectures to the public schools. She was recently featured in a publication of the Kentucky Health Department telling about the dental program of the state.

News of myself centers around recent publications of which I am co-author. One was a series of articles in the publication of the Florida Association of Science Teachers (FAST), and the other appeared in Botanical Review. Several others are in press now. One is with the Encyclopedia della Scienza e Tecnica, Milan, Italy; one with the Institute for the Advancement of Science and Culture, New Delhi, Italy, and one with the University of Arizona Press. I'm at the Tree-Ring Laboratory at Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn. Wonderful to hear from all of you—keep those postmen busy. SA

Jeanette Hester, P.O. Box 6, Russellville, Ala., was on campus for a visit on June 25. After her brief stay at LC, she toured the West. Jeanette teaches at Brooke Hill School for Girls in Birmingham, Ala.

Talent is blooming in the class of 1954. Marian (Toosie) Stoerker, dean of admissions, Walnut Hill School for Girls, Natick, Mass., believes that with teaching and interview schedules "time seems to be at a premium." Most recently, she is involved in organizing and producing a modern dance production for parents' week-end. She wonders if anyone remembers the time she slid into the footlights at an LC production—she adds that now she is much more coordinated.

I am trying to bloom in the field of the theatre by participating in a semi-professional theatre group here in Madison called the Theatre-Go-Round. My recent play has been, "Private Lives," in which I played a legal, but abandoned wife (it's a comedy—so no tears). I'm far from the abandoned wife in real life, and Harry and I hope to have a trip to St. Louis sometime soon so that I can visit LC campus. ESS Off to news of the Class of 1955 living from California to Maryland.

First off, we hear from Judy Anderson George (Mrs. Richard H.) whose little boy, Peter, 5½, is pictured on the cover of Coronet. Judy adds, "fortunately, he is oblivious to it all." Judy now lives at 626 Ramona, Laguna Beach, Calif. As a nurse and medical secretary to an M.D. in Laguna, Judy finds work very interesting, and knows now that "I'd majored in the wrong field!" Her husband, Dick, is a Spanish instructor with the Newport Beach School District.

Across country now to Joan Spencer Hood (Mrs. William E.), of 1519 E. 50th St. North, Kansas City 18, Mo. The Spencers have a daughter, Robin, who is 6½, and a son, Ed, who is two years old. They have lived in Savannah, Ga., and Beaufort, S.C., before coming back to the Midwest. Joan is looking forward to association with the Kansas City Alums.

Betty Moore Buck (Mrs. Wilbur P.), tells of their move to Quarters 1421, 14th Loop, Sandia Base, Albuquerque, N.M. Will is a Navy Lt., and is now on two-year shore duty. They have two children, Cathy, 4, and Billy, 2. Betty is in charge of the Sandia Base Kindergarten Day Nursery and enjoys the work very much. She sent Linda Wall's married name and address—Mrs. Jack Admire, 1309 Olmsted, Owasso, Mich.

Still continuing her education is Nuran Baydan (Mrs. N. B. Miller) of 3420 Lowry Rd., Indianapolis, Ind. She should receive her Ph.D. in clinical psychology. She has a staff position at the Indiana University Medical Center. Her husband works at the LaRue D. Carter Memorial Hospital. He also is a member of the Atheneurn Orchestra, playing the cello. They spent one month last summer in Nuran's native Turkey, and she loved introducing her husband to her family.

Yvonne Jones Holmes (Mrs. Kenneth E.) is very busy with the Hospital Auxiliary, AAUW, Bar Auxiliary, secretary of the Episcopal Women and of the county bar association, and as Newcomer President. Did I say very busy? Ken got his law degree at the University of Oklahoma, and is in practice. He is also assistant city attorney and commanding officer for an army reserve unit in Ponca City. They are delighted with their new home at 915 North Third St., Ponca City, Okla.

Pat Janak Handley (Mrs. Jerry), reports she has met some terrific gals in helping to form the Detroit, Mich., area Lindenwood Alum Club. Pat and Jerry have two daughters, Lisa, 7, and Michele, 5. They will be moving to Cleveland in August. Jerry is taking a job with Warner Electric Brake and Clutch Co. He will represent the firm in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Pat located Sue (Yank) Norton Salva while organizing a meeting.

News from the Classes

Yank lives at 409 Orchard St., Dearborn, Mich.

A welcomed letter from Riley Graves Hasbrouck (Mrs. Lawrence) was received recently. Larry is a launch control officer in the Minuteman Missile program. In addition to this, he attended graduate school conducted by the Ohio State University, and has his M.A. in business administration. They have three children, Billy, 8, Kathryn, 3, and Sandra, 18 months. Riley likes South Dakota (9306 B. Coolidge Ellsworth Air Force Base, S.D.), but says "the weather takes some getting used to."

Winnie Taylor Drews (Mrs. William) writes that they have moved to R.F.D. Belfast Road, Sparks, Md. She says, "We are really country hicks at heart, an old farm house to re-do, along with a small stable and lots of land proved to be too enticing." Daughter Katharine, 4, is looking forward to having a pony soon. Bill is the merchandising manager of the consumer products division for the Black and Decker Mfg., Tawson, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Chase (Penny Lou Barton) are now residing at 1219 San Pablo A, Seaside, Calif. After a Navy career, Warren had to "retire" due to an illness and is now with the Guardian Life Insurance Co. They have four children, Jennifer, 6, Sam, 5, Paul, 3, and Chick, 1½. Jennie reports that her mother, Mrs. S. S. Ball, 18935 Sherman Way, Reseda, Calif. has not been well. Jennie knew that many of the class of 55 would like to send her notes. Mrs. Ball is not only an LC Alum, but was Ayres housemother when our class started as freshmen. Our best wishes go to her.

Betty Dean Capwell (Mrs. C. E.) of 3512 Meadow Dr., Amarillo, Tex., writes she received her B.M.A. from West Texas State U. in 1956. She has taught music in the Amarillo elementary schools for seven years. Her husband is an electric motor winder and head of the submersible pump department at G. E. Jones Electric Co. in Amarillo. Betty is working on her M.E.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. McGarth (Alberta Johnson), 7601 Aberdeen, Prairie Village, Kan., announce the birth of their first child, Andrea Alice, born October 5, 1963.

Carol Wolter is at the University of Wisconsin this summer working on her thesis and hopes to take her orals in February or May. Carol had a ruptured dislocated lumbar disc last year and was out of teaching from Mar. 4 until last September. She has put in a full year of activities now, and was one of the first two women to officiate at the Woman's National AAU Tournament. Carol teaches physical education at Milwaukee Lutheran High School, and her address is 3743 N. 76th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Margaret Conrad Saxton and husband, Don, are living at 1011 Cole Drive, Huntsville, Ala., where Don is an aeronautical engineer with NASA. Margaret graduated from Iowa State Teachers College and taught school for four years in Des Moines. The Saxtons have two daughters, Karen, 5, and Sheila, 1½. Margaret says on their next trip back to native Iowa, they will stop and visit LC.

Zeke Curtin of 175 Congress Run Rd., Cincinnati, Ohio, writes that classmate Jill Turner from London is now Mrs. John Easdown of 23 Highbury Way, Great Cornard, Sudbury Suffolk, England. The Easdowns have a son, Brice Charles William. Zeke says Jill always enjoys news of LC friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edward Bauc (Rosemary "Ronny" Dysart) are living at 4252 Regent St., Philadelphia, Pa. Ronny says they like the East, and can find more theatres and operas than time and money can allow. Ronny was just accepted into a repertory opera company and is now very busy rehearsing two roles.

I'm trying to contact Marian Elizabeth Wilson (Mrs. Richard Fritz) from the D.M.L.C. meeting. Write, Marian. Located Anne Turner Van Zandt (Mrs. John), Box 128, Waukee, Ia. They moved there from St. Augustine, Fla. What a change. I couldn't make the reunion because of an Insurance Agent's Convention which I attended and acted as hostess for the wives. Will be hearing more from you by mail, won't I? NMN

It has been so much fun to hear from some of our class, many of whom have been "lost" for several years. Since I took over as class secretary, I have taken the position as principal of the Phillipsburg, Mo., School. Needless to say I've been busy, but certainly doing things I enjoy. To those of you who have not responded to my card, please let me hear from you!

Joyce Murphey Nickel (Mrs. Robert A.) writes that after she was graduated from Hardin-Simmons University she was married and now has two daughters, ages 8 and 5. She is active in the AAUW. Her address is 2660 A & M, San Angelo, Tex.

Dr. Erika Krajicek Gutbrodt will head the Department of Psychology of Verdun Protestant Hospital as of June, 1964. She enjoys her work, and aside from her clinical work, is involved in three research projects. Her address is 9237 La Salle Blvd., La Salle, P.Q.

Mrs. Ingles Ferry (Barbara Fowler) 148 Country Club Dr., Nevada, Mo., reports that her two children, Jan, 4½, and David, 3, keep her busy.

Marilyn Heberle Beckman (Mrs. M. W.) reports the arrival of her fourth boy, Bradley Eric, Feb. 1. The Beckman home is at 3216 Longwood Dr., Jackson, Miss.

Ann Brewster Dobie (Mrs. C. Walter) lives at 102 Clement St., Lafayette, La. Ann received a B.M. in organ and later took an M.A. in English. She teaches English at the University of Southwestern Louisiana and looks after her geologist husband and two sons, Bruce, 6, and Charles, 5.

She is presently employed by an insurance company as personal assistant to the director of personnel. Her husband is doing sales for I.B.M. She writes: "My music is being used a great deal. I'm giving private music lessons, sing in the choir, and am presently taking banjo lessons . . . a little variation never hurts."

Barbara Bearse Hunziker lives at 9509 Ridge Ave., Overland 14, Mo.

Under white bridal illusion in May of this year was Karen Schnatmeier who became Ted W. Smith's bride in St. Charles. Her husband holds a degree in aeronautical engineering from the University of Oklahoma. Their home is at 210 N. Pam Street, St. Charles, Mo.

Marcia Jean King Miller (Mrs. Philip R.) lives on the East coast at 905 Broad St. Apt. 3-S, Bloomfield, N.J. 07004. Her husband is now working on Wall Street in New York. Their daughter, Robin, was born Aug. 14, 1963. Says Marcia: "I keep busy during the day working at 'child rearing.'"

Another March bride, Bonnie Slagle Armstrong (Mrs. Donald J.) is waiting for Don to get out of the Army before they find a permanent apartment. She will receive mail at 144 Hutchinson Rd., Arlington, Mass.

Margene Cooke Ludwig (Mrs. Chadd) of 1605 N. Fuller Ave., Hollywood 46, Calif., has a little girl, Maddie, who is a year old.

Judy Letson found herself quite busy planning for her wedding in May. Her husband, James Jefferson White, is associated with Courts and Co. in Atlanta. Judy and Jim honeymooned in Europe for three weeks. Graduate school at Emory University will be Judy's next scholastic adventure.

New address for Kathleen Belland Glenn is 1915 Freeman Ave., Owensboro, Ky.

Meredith Kasten, Patricia Phillips, and I sailed for Europe, June 5. Right now who knows where I am, but you can be assured I'm having a wonderful time. We plan to tour 13 countries by car and return to the states the latter part of August. If I knew any French, I'd say farewell for now in that language. But, alas, you'll have to be content with English. KLR

Greetings, Alumnae! Isn't it fun to be greeted in terms other than "student." We are all now (hopefully) settled, so do drop me a note telling me of your whereabouts. Here are some "whereabouts" I've found out about.

With a new name and address is Linda Leech who is now Mrs. Wm. Albright of 4510 Karole Manor Dr., Apt. D., St. Louis, Mo. 63134.

A bit of news from Nancy Ann Hisey Durbin (Mrs. Harrison) to announce the birth of their first child, Jan. 5, 1964. Her name is Lisa Lynne Durbin. Nancy is a senior in journalism at the University of Oklahoma and her husband is studying marketing. Their address: 921 W. Comanche, Norman, Okla.

Joyce Hamilton graduated from Boulder University August 24, 1963, and changed her name to Mrs. Kenneth E. Cauffman on the very next day. She is now teaching at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., where her husband is stationed as a lieutenant (he's also a graduate of C.U.). The Cauffmans live at 12 Goethals Dr., Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Another married gal is Cynthia Cofer who is now Mrs. Verle J. Besant of 1 Adrienne Dr., Centralia, Ill. She was married February 15, and returned in May for graduation to get her B.A.

Mary Rankin (Mrs. John Caldwell) reports that she is going to school "gradually" to receive her degree in elementary education. The Caldwells have a son, Richard Martin, born Apr. 15 of this year. JBB

Science Teaching Center

President Franc L. McCluer announced that a committee of the Board of Directors of the College have awarded construction contract to Robert R. Wright, Inc. for the new Science Teaching Center at Lindenwood for a sum of $1,126,000.00. The building will be located on the Lindenwood campus east of the Margaret Leggat Butler Memorial Library.

The building has 62,000 square feet and will include classrooms and laboratories for biology on the first floor, for physics and mathematics on the second floor, and for chemistry on the third floor. In addition, the terrace level will include space for mechanical equipment, heating, air conditioning, and adequate storage space. A horticultural laboratory will adjoin the green house. A memorial lounge, to be located at the entrance, will be an additional feature. Another needed facility will be provided in the large lecture room on the first floor with seating capacity of 254. This building will provide the college with much needed space and with adequate facilities for under-graduate instruction in the natural sciences and in mathematics.

As work on the building progresses, the campaign for capital funds to meet the cost of the building, which when equipped will be approximately $1,500,000, will be continued. Confident that friends of the college will contribute the needed funds, the Board of Directors has authorized immediate work on construction and invites gifts from those who wish to have a part in this significant advance of the college.

John M. Black, Executive Vice-President of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, St. Louis, is chairman of the campaign committee. Vice-Chairmen are John B. Mitchell, President of First National Bank in St. Louis, and three members of the Board: Mrs. Arthur Stockstrom, Mrs. Horton Watkins, and John M. Wolff, Vice-President of Western Printing and Lithographing Company, St. Louis. Other members serving on the committee working on the campaign are: Raymond E. Rowland, Admiral Sidney W. Souers, Howard I. Young, Arthur S. Goodall, Russell L. Dearth, Wesley L. Johnson, and Sidney Studt, members of the Board of Directors of Lindenwood College. Also serving on the committee for the capital gifts campaign are Charles E. Claggett and The Reverend James E. Spivey. Arthur S. Goodall of St. Louis is Chairman of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, and Wesley Mellow, Sidney Studt, George Brown, The Reverend W. Davidson McDowell, and Dr. Russell J. Crider of St. Charles, a newly elected member of the Board of Directors, are members of this committee.

Additional members of the Board of Directors are: William H. Armstrong, The Right Reverend George L. Cadigan, Philip J. Hickey, Mrs. James A. Reed, The Reverend W. Sherman Skinner, The Reverend George E. Sweazey, Mrs. Robert R. Wright, and Mrs. Earl M. Johnston.

Kenneth E. Wischmeyer is the architect, Neal J. Campbell structural engineer, and Crawford & Witte, Inc., the mechanical engineers.
