LCIE TO OPEN WEST COUNTY GRADUATE CENTER

On September 1, the LCIE will open its West County Graduate Center in Manchester to serve working adults in the Ballwin, Ellisville and Manchester areas of western St. Louis County. The facility is located in the Education Annex of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, 1101 Sulphur Springs Rd., just north of Big Bend Blvd.

According to Arlene Taich, Ph.D., LCIE dean, a variety of programs will be offered this fall at the new center, including those leading to the Executive Master's in Business Administration degree; the Master's of Science in Administration, with an emphasis in finance, management or marketing; and the Master's of Science in Health Administration.

Next month, LCIE admission representatives will be available during evening hours at the West County Graduate Center to answer questions on LCIE programs and degrees. In the meantime, those interested in finding out more about fall programs at the new facility can contact Miriam King-Watts, director of adult admissions, at extension #209, or Dr. Taich at extension #384.

READING CENTER TO OFFER DIAGNOSTIC, TUTORIAL SERVICES

Diagnostic and tutorial reading services will once again be offered to elementary school children this fall by the Lindenwood College Reading Center. For children in kindergarten through eighth grade, the center will provide these services after normal school hours, from 4-6 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, September 20-December 8 and January 24-April 26, 1984. Under the supervision of Diane Denney-Myers, assistant professor of education, the program is for students who are deficient in reading or those who want to improve their reading and study skills.

Lindenwood will work closely with schools and agencies in St. Charles County to coordinate information and services. "We will accept referrals directly from parents, but information and cooperation from the school and teachers are necessary to provide meaningful instruction which will transfer into long-term improvement in the classroom," she said. The scheduling of students and tutors must be completed by September 9, so parents are advised to make appointments for their children early. For further information and registration procedures, contact the Lindenwood College Reading Center at (314) 946-6912, extension #356.

BOARD MEETINGS SCHEDULED IN SEPTEMBER

The Lindenwood College Board of Directors will hold its next regular session September 13, beginning at 10:30 a.m. in the Goodall Lounge of the Memorial Arts Building (MAB). Standing committees on Fund Raising & Development, Finance, Audit and Facilities will meet before the regular session at 8:30 a.m. in the MAB. The regular board meeting will conclude at 12:30 p.m. with a luncheon at the residence of President James I. Spainhower.

On September 12, the Lindenwood College Board of Overseers is scheduled to meet from 2-5 p.m. in the MAB's Goodall Lounge. Members will be joined by the full board for a 6 p.m. buffet dinner at Dr. Spainhower's home, followed by the 8 p.m. Fall Convocation at the Lindenwood College Chapel of St. Charles Presbyterian Church.

PARKING PERMITS ON SALE IN ROEMER HALL

Security Chief Duane France reminds faculty and staff members as well as students that the deadline for purchasing parking permits for the 1983-84 academic year is August 31. New parking decals, priced at $10 for faculty and staff members and $25 for students, are available in Room 15 of Roemer Hall. Vehicles without valid 1983-84 parking permits will be ticketed beginning September 1, France said.

PROMOTION, APPOINTMENT TO COLLEGE LIFE STAFF

Allen M. Schwab, Ph.D., dean of College Life, has announced the promotion of Darlene Glick, former housing director, to Director of Residential Life & Housing, and the appointment of Jerri Westerhold as secretary in the dean's office.

COMMUNIQUE

OPEN HOUSE FOR ADULT STUDENTS SET WEDNESDAY

President Spainhower is making a personal appeal to area adult students to attend a special open house Wednesday from 6-9 p.m. at Butler Library. Faculty members and admissions representatives will join the president to acquaint prospective students and their parents with what Dr. Spainhower calls "the most comprehensive adult collegiate program in metro St. Louis."

Information will be provided on the institution's various programs and opportunities, including tuition assistance and financial aid packages, cooperative education and work-study programs, accelerated and individual degree programs and on-going academic and career counseling services. It also will emphasize Lindenwood's 50 undergraduate and graduate degrees, including those in arts management, business administration, communications, counseling psychology, data processing, gerontology, health administration, management, marketing, photography and valuation science, Dr. Spainhower said.

The event is free, but reservations are required. They can be confirmed by calling Adult Admissions at (314) 946-6912, extension #209. A similar open house for adult students and their parents was held last night.

ROARING 30s AUTO MEET SCHEDULED AUGUST 19-21

More than 100 antique and classic automobiles from throughout the country are expected to be shown on campus August 19-21 when the Roaring 30s Auto Club sponsors its 11th annual national meeting. The weekend event is one of the largest shows in the area and is expected to attract more than 1,200 automobile enthusiasts to Lindenwood College. In addition to a display and parade of vintage autos, the Roaring 30s Auto Club meeting will feature three days of judging and trophy presentations in various categories and events, swap meets and displays of antique auto parts, literature and memorabilia.

APPEAL MADE FOR TEACHER SCHOLARSHIP CONTRIBUTIONS

A personal appeal is being made to the community, alumni and supporters of Lindenwood College to provide funding for scholarships for elementary and secondary teachers who want to enroll in the institution's outstanding Master of Education program. Contributions, which are full tax-deductible, "will enable those who are shaping the minds of our young to receive additional schooling to do their job better," said President Spainhower. Gifts can be sent to the Teacher Scholarship Fund, in care of Lindenwood College, First Capitol and Kingshighway, St. Charles, MO 63301.

ALUMNI TO SPONSOR RECEPTION FOR NEW STUDENTS

The Lindenwood College Alumni Association is sponsoring a reception for new students and their parents on August 24 from 2:30-5 p.m. in the Cardinal Room of Ayres Cafeteria. Details on the event, which is open to all faculty and staff members, can be obtained from Esther Fenning in the Alumni Affairs Office, extension #311.
