The Editorial Staff of the Linden Leaves takes pleasure in dedicating the edition of 1944 to Lieutenant (j.g.) Florence W. Schaper, U. S. N. R.

Alumna of Lindenwood College, member of its faculty, and Director of Personnel and Guidance, Lt. Schaper has endeared herself to successive generations of Lindenwood students.

Her interest in vocations for women, democracy in campus government, and the welfare of every student has enshrined her permanently in our high regard and affection. When the war is won and the Navy of the United States can dispense with her services, with what pleasure we shall see her again on our campus!

IN MEMORIAM

DR. BERNARD KURT STUMBERG

Through forty years Dr. Bernard Kurt Stumberg served Lindenwood. Each building on the campus proves valid his taste and judgment. Efficient management of the college's finances is a result of his direction. In health records of Lindenwood students, his success as college physician remains. Dr. Stumberg permanently enriches Lindenwood College.

Student Council

Realizing that democratic self-government is as necessary to a campus community as it is to any town or city, the administration and students of Lindenwood established the Student Council in 1940. This representative body assumes responsibility in guiding and controlling group living at Lindenwood.

This year, in addition to its governmental function, the Council has sponsored all-school movies and parties, given Christmas presents to the Lindenwood family, and promoted drives for the Red Cross.

The Student Council is important because it is the medium through which students prepare for enlightened citizenship in home communities.

Residence Council

The Residence Council is the medium through which the Personnel Office, the Student Council, and other administrative agencies may influence student life on the campus; and, likewise, the agency through which students may bring the power of their united will to bear upon the administration. In general, its function is to improve the general welfare by open discussion of dormitory problems; to promote democratic and thoughtful social relations in the halls and on the campus; and to promote college spirit by sponsoring various activities. The Residence Council for instance, is the agency which provided those "Fun Hours" after examination week. Largely it is the Residence Council which we must thank for the intelligent and efficient administration of dormitories on the Lindenwood campus.

Y. W. C. A. Council

To adjust freshmen to campus life, the Y. W. C. A. sponsored the Big-Little Sister program, under the direction of Beverly Wescott. This program of orientation meetings and social gatherings quickly succeeded in fitting freshmen into the pattern of life at Lindenwood. In the fall, the Y. W. C. A. sponsored the annual freshmen style show at which the student body elected Betty Shook Hallowe'en Queen.

So that children at Markham Memorial might have dolls for Christmas, the Y. W. C. A. held a doll contest between the several halls. Irwin Hall girls contributed the most dolls, but all students gave generously to this collection.

Guest speakers included: Dr. Sherwood Eddy, who spoke on "A Christian Post-War World," Mr. Nat Mazumdar, who spoke about conditions in India, and Miss Alexandra Feldman, who discussed the World Student Service Fund.

The Conference on Religion, conducted by the Y. W. C. A. and the Advisory Committee on Religion, chose as its theme "Christian Pioneering in a New World." During this conference, Dr. George Sweazy spoke on "The Pioneer's Home Base," Dr. Hampton Adams and Father F. J. O'Hern spoke on similar themes at our vesper symposium.

“MEN DO NOT live by bread alone.” We are fighting this war for spiritual and intellectual freedom as well as for our economic interests. The nations of the world, geared to the business of destruction, must needs neglect their cultural activities. Fortunately, since war in its most violent aspects has not affected our land, we still have time and strength to devote to the preservation of culture. It is our responsibility to keep alive for the entire world that cultural heritage.

In post-war reconstruction we shall need better international understanding and sympathy. Knowledge of the arts and sciences, to which men of all nations have contributed, will help us gain that understanding and sympathy.

Since specialization increases as world living becomes more complex, it becomes ever more important to have general knowledge of all fields, that we may choose our special interest more intelligently.

By studying liberal arts, we shall form a philosophy of life from sources all over the world. We shall lead our nation and other nations toward a way of life in which all may live peaceably.

Senior Class Officers

As members of the Senior Class, we may think retrospectively about ourselves and trace our growth during four years at Lindenwood. We hope that we have put away the dependence of adolescence and have become adults, ready to assume our responsibilities.

Lindenwood has given us memories to cherish. In our freshman year, we masqueraded at the Hallowe'en Party and we danced at the Spring Formal. As sophomores we enjoyed our first Prom. In our junior year we entertained the seniors at dinner in the Park Plaza and entertained the Freshmen on Sister-Class Day.

Under the continued sponsorship of Mrs. Eva Douglas, our senior year has been filled with the traditional activities of the graduating class. In March we entertained the faculty at our "Little Red School House" party. On May 11, at an all-school assembly, we read our "Class Will and Prophecy" to our beneficiaries, the juniors. At our senior carnival in May, we entertained the whole college with our stunts, skits, and side-shows. On May Day, we crowned our queen, Sally Dearmont, whose senior attendants were Patricia De Puy and Florence Barry. On May 18, we held our senior assembly at which we gave our class ribbons to our junior successors. We passed our final "exams" early and spent the last week of school sponsoring all-school parties and senior class farewell activities.

Junior Class Officers

Under the sponsorship of Miss Janet Coulson, we juniors have had an active and successful year. To entertain the freshmen we gave a barn dance at which we square-danced, listened to a bar-room quartet sing songs of the "Gay Nineties" and watched our chorus girls, "Tutti" Bartlett, "Twitter" Graham, Marthann Young, Carol Landberg, and Dorothy Heimrod, dressed in blue jeans, crepe paper skirts, satin garters, and pigtails, do their version of the "Can Can."

Our annual class party was held in St. Louis. After dinner at the Statler Hotel, we went to the American Theater to see the musical "Porgy and Bess," starring Todd Duncan and an all-Negro cast. We entertained the seniors with luncheon at the Missouri Athletic Club and afterwards took our guests to a movie.

On May Day, Lynn Jackson—maid of honor—Marjorie Green, and Eloise Rowland represented us in the annual festival celebrating the crowning of the May Queen.

We are looking forward to next year. We hope that we are ready to assume the responsibilities of being seniors, and we are anxious to come within reach of our hard-worked-for and long-awaited sheepskins.

We Sophomores, under the able sponsorship of Mr. John Stine, have had a busy and a happy year. In December, we added to the holiday spirit by serenading students in every hall on campus. In return for our caroling, Senior Hall girls invited us in to help them eat their midnight snack.

In March, transported to St. Louis in chartered busses and streetcars, we splurged by going to see the "Ice-Capades" at the Arena. Highlights of the program were exhibitions by champion skaters of the United States and Canada, group skating in "South Seas Fantasy," "The Blue Danube," and "Dixie Doin's" and the middle-aged couple who proved that even life on skates can begin at forty.

In April, we entertained our sister class, the seniors, with a picnic at Blanchette Park. In May, at the traditional May Day festival, we were proud to have our classmates, Catherine Hunter and Beverly Busher, attend the queen.

We are looking ahead to next year when as juniors we may sit in the balcony and look serenely down upon the freshmen and sophomores. Moreover, we are eager to assume the responsibilities of upperclassmen. We have survived the stages of being sophisticated freshmen and "smartie" sophomores, and now we are prepared to act like real upperclassmen.

Freshman Class Council

We Freshmen, 256 strong, have kept the upper classmen hopping. With the help of our Big Sisters, we quickly got into the routine of college life and began to participate in all campus activities.

We admit that we had trouble deciding who should be our Hallowe'en Queen because all of us are rather attractive. Betty Shook finally was chosen. Sally Mitchell and Marie Szilagyι were her attendants.

In March, to show our appreciation, we invited our Big Sisters to a birthday dinner at which our freshman band made its debut. Also in March we had a "come as you are" party in the gym.

In April, we returned the kindnesses of our sister class, the juniors, by entertaining them at the movies. To end our activities, we went to a big league baseball game in St. Louis.

On May Day, we were proud to have Patricia Sharick and Shirley Sagness represent our class in the Queen's court.

Our freshman year has been filled with a great deal more than our social activities. Through our friendships with girls from all parts of the country, we have gained a more cosmopolitan and tolerant outlook. Through our academic pursuits, we have stimulated and disciplined our minds. We have thoroughly enjoyed our first year at Lindenwood, and we are looking forward to an equally happy and profitable year in 1945.

February at Lindenwood

Fellowship Students 1940-1943

Lindenwood College is well able to function as a college preparatory to graduate work. With its high scholastic standard and its personalized guidance, Lindenwood discovers and encourages the abilities of its students.

Especially interested in having exceptional scholars do more work in their fields, Lindenwood College awards a fellowship each year to the senior most worthy of this honor. By this method of promoting higher learning, Lindenwood truly upholds and fosters ideals of democratic education.

Mrs. LUCILE VOSBURG KORF, fellowship student in 1940, was awarded three Houghteling Scholarships in the School of Social Service Administration at the University of Chicago.

Mrs. MARGARET BARTON KORTY, fellowship student in 1941, received her master's degree in history at the University of Illinois where she was awarded a scholarship.

Miss EVELYN WAHLGREN, fellowship student in 1942, received her master's degree in music at Oberlin College. She is now teaching at the Toledo Museum of Art.

Miss DORIS BANTA, fellowship student in 1943, is studying in the law school at Cornell University where she has received a scholarship.

Not pictured:

Alpha Mu Mu

Through Alpha Mu Mu, members have the opportunity to further their appreciation of good music and to improve their skill. To be eligible for Alpha Mu Mu, students must be freshman or sophomore music majors, maintain a high grade average, and participate in at least one music recital in Sibley Chapel.

In October, Alpha Mu Mu, together with Delta Phi Delta and Mu Phi Epsilon, gave a tea in honor of other students majoring in music. The group again cooperated with the other music sororities in presenting to the student body a Victory Song program.

In the spring, Alpha Mu Mu gave a party for the faculty members of the music department.

Members of Alpha Mu Mu are encouraged to continue their high standard of musicianship so that they may become members of the national honorary sorority, Mu Phi Epsilon.

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega, whose members are pictured below enacting a scene from "Letters to Lucerne," is the honorary dramatic art fraternity at Lidenwood.

The college year opened for this organization with a picnic in Blanchette Park for all girls interested in speech and play production. In October, the society gave a Hallowe'en Tea for the faculty and students of speech and dramatics. On Thanksgiving night, this organization staged "You Can't Take It With You," the major roles being taken by members. On March 24, the club sponsored the production of "Ladies in Retirement." And as usual, club activity for the year culminated in the Commencement play.

Alpha Sigma Tau

Membership in Alpha Sigma Tau is the highest honor that the liberal arts college of Lindenwood may bestow. Students are chosen not only on the basis of scholastic achievement, but for their moral and social qualifications as well.

The programs for the year have been varied. At one meeting of the society, Dr. Alice Parker reviewed the play, "Tomorrow the World," concerned with re-education of a Nazi child. On another occasion, Miss Jane Seavey of the Fine Arts faculty showed slides of modern paintings and discussed various types of contemporary art. At another meeting Miss Beverly Wescott read a research paper on "The Behavior of White Rats During and After Subjection to Neurosis—producing Stimuli." At the last meeting of the year, Dr. Homer Clevenger led a panel discussion.

Alpha Sigma Tau continued its good work for the School of the Ozarks, and at Commencement sponsored, according to tradition, the Baccalaureate Tea.

Beta Pi Theta

Beta Pi Theta, the honorary French society, has had a profitable year. A tea for all students studying French and for the faculty followed the initiation in November. At the December meeting, Ensign Pauline Davis Hedgecock of the Spars, a former member of Beta Pi Theta and scholarship student to Middlebury College, gave an interesting talk on her war experiences. In January, the society went to the Art Theatre in St. Louis, where the members enjoyed seeing Charles Boyer in "Heart of a Nation," the last French film made in Paris.

At a discussion meeting on "Progressive Education in France" Beta Pi Theta conferred a medal on Miss Hilma Dodson for the best work the year in French. A picnic at the ovens was the closing activity of the year.

The importance of Beta Pi Theta and similar organizations increases as the world grows smaller and we are forced into closer communication with the other peoples of the world.

Der Deutsche Verein is organized to further interest in the German language, literature, and culture. The program this year continued to stress practical application of the language. The Christmas party was a fine blend of German songs, poetry, and records. In January, all members participated in the staging of Mark Twain's "Meisterschaft." As guest speaker, Miss Jane Seavey discussed German art and illustrated her subject with slides of famous German paintings. The following program was devoted to the study of the life and music of Franz Schubert. At a dinner party in St. Louis, members of Der Deutsche Verein gathered for their final meeting.

Members of Der Deutsche Verein have deepened their understanding of the contributions which the Germans have made to world culture.

Delta Phi Delta

Delta Phi Delta, honorary music fraternity, is organized to foster a greater love of music in general, and to stimulate an interest in public school music in particular. Members study methods of giving elementary school children an appreciation and understanding of good music.

In February, members had dinner at the Lennox Hotel in St. Louis and afterwards attended a symphony concert at which Mr. Paul Wittgenstein was soloist. In April, Delta Phi Delta, with the collaboration of Mu Phi Epsilon and Alpha Mu Mu, presented a program of tableaux which symbolized popular war songs.

Through Delta Phi Delta, members have further realized the contribution which they may make toward cultivating in young students a discriminating taste in music and a lasting interest in the art.

El Circulo Espanol

El Circulo Espanol promotes and stimulates interest in Spanish and facilitates use of the spoken language. This year three members of the club who visited in Mexico last summer shared their first-hand information with other members. Mary Herd described Paracutin, the only active volcano in the western hemisphere; Emelyne Gumm gave a detailed account of a Mexican bull fight; and Hildegard Stanze explained native dances and costumes. Dr. Mary Terhune, who has studied in Spain, gave an informal talk on Spanish Christmas customs. At a later meeting, Jane McLean, Marie Szilagyi, and Maridee Hill discussed the problem of our future economic relations with Latin America.

Knowledge of spoken Spanish becomes ever more important as we seek to continue our "Good Neighbor" policy with South America.

Home Economics Club

Through its activity program the Home Economics Club provides practical experience for all of its members.

To open its year, the club held an Open House to all freshmen entering the department. Early in the fall, the members held a meeting for the benefit of the Red Cross. The annual Christmas breakfast in the Library Club Room and the taffy pull in the cooking laboratory were both informal and gay events. In the spring, the club gave a formal dinner party for Miss Minner

Irons, professor of home economics at the University of Missouri. At the Easter season, the members prepared dozens of brightly colored eggs for the children of Markham Memorial. The club ended its year with a picnic at the college ovens.

Kappa Pi

Kappa Pi, honorary art fraternity at Lindenwood, strives to uphold the highest ideals of liberal education and to raise the standard of productive artistic work among college students. In order to create interest in art among all students on campus, Kappa Pi invited amateur artists to the "Play Days" in the art studio. Members helped their guests to experiment with clay, charcoal, pastels, water colors, and finger paints. Later in the year, each member of Kappa Pi exhibited her best work in Roemer Hall.

Membership in Kappa Pi encourages young artists to continue striving for a recognized place in the field of creative art.

Membership in Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music sorority, is the highest honor which music students at Lindenwood may attain, for entrance into the society is conditioned upon character, scholarship, and talent.

At a dinner party in November, Dr. Homer Clevenger discussed for the society the nineteenth century background for political developments in Russia, and Miss Gertrude Isidor demonstrated parallel developments in Russian music. After a vesper musical presented by members, the society held a reception in the Library Club Room for members of the St. Louis Chapter.

In the spring, Mu Phi had luncheon at the Chase Hotel and afterwards attended a piano recital, presented by Ava Comin Case, National president of Mu Phi Epsilon.

Pi Alpha Delta is the honorary Classical Society at Lindenwood. The aim of the organization is to further interest in the Latin and Greek languages, and in the mythology, literature, and history of classical civilization.

In the first semester, to promote participation in the society and its work, Pi Alpha Delta entertained all classical students at a party in the Library Club Room; and in the second semester invited friends to a tea.

Active membership is open to good students of the classical languages; associate membership to those in classical courses not requiring a knowledge of ancient tongues.

Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, seeks to inculcate ideals of scholarship and service in the study of all social problems. Through its program, Pi Gamma Mu endeavors to bring about closer cooperation between students of sociology, economics, education, history, and psychology, and closer correlation in these fields of knowledge.

The program for this year included discussions by both faculty members and students. Mrs. Barbara Skinner and Dr. Homer Clevenger spoke on post-war problems. Dr.

L. L. Bernard pointed out problems which must be solved if we are to have world peace. At the last meeting of the year, social research students discussed their special projects.

In the meetings of this society, theory and reality come face to face.

Sigma Tau Delta

To express life in terms of truth and beauty, and to make first-hand acquaintance with the chief literary masterpieces of our language, is the purpose of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity. Members are either majors or minors in English who have maintained a high grade average and have published at least a thousand words of original writing.

This year Dr. Alice E. Gipson showed to the group her fine collection of ancient Chinese and Japanese manuscripts. At a more informal meeting, each member discussed her favorite villain in literature. In the spring, Sigma Tau Delta entertained at tea all freshmen and sophomores excelling in English. The annual picnic ended for Sigma Tau Delta a happy and successful year.

Triangle Club

The Triangle Club strives to create in Lindenwood students an interest in the sciences. To be eligible for membership in Triangle a student must have completed three courses in science with grades above the average.

Programs of the year have featured discussions led by students who were engaged in interesting scientific work last summer. For one program, Beverly Wescott described her research in the use of ascorbic acid for relief of hay fever patients. At another time, Clara Mae Landberg gave a talk on soap factories, and soap-making as she saw it carried on at Proctor and Gambles' laboratories. Later, Jane Swalley gave the group firsthand information on procedures used in making TNT.

At a panel discussion, Frances Wherry told of her experiences while working for the Petroleum Administration; Shirley Cohen told of calibrating blood pipettes; and Nancy Knott explained the process of grinding quartz into crystals for radio transmitters.

Through these students, other members have learned about the many occupational possibilities in the scientific field.

Army Brats

The Army Brats were organized at Lindenwood so that daughters of army men might become better acquainted. Since their fathers are all fighting in this war, these girls are especially interested in discussing army life and current war news with each other.

In order to familiarize the entire student body with the different branches of service and their insignia, the Army Brats posted this information on a bulletin board in Roemer Hall.

Their picnic in the spring closed a year of friendly companionship and helpful activity.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association this year has stressed intermural activities—hockey, basketball, volleyball, badminton, tennis, table-tennis, swimming, softball, archery, and riding. Intermural activities began at the first meeting, when the chairman of each sport explained to new students the possibilities in athletics at Lindenwood. At the all-college Barn Dance, there was a demonstration of simple square dances, and afterwards, active and enjoyable participation by all present.

With the cooperation of affiliated organizations such as Terrapin, Tau Sigma, Beta Chi, and the Badminton Club, the Athletic Association has this year sponsored several inter-college meets with MacMurray, Monticello, Maryville, Harris Teachers' College, and Washington University.

The year ended with a Tri-College meeting and Sports Day, and a Camp Conference at Sherwood Forest Camp at Troy. Dr. Bernard Mason and Miss Barbara Joy, campus guests at this time, attended the conference.

We are proud that membership in the Athletic Association tripled this year.

Riding Team

Horseback riding to most of us is a pleasant way to spend leisure time. To the girls on the Riding Team, this sport is a fine art. These girls who ride for exhibition purposes must be able to control horses skillfully, apply knowledge of animal psychology intelligently, and practice for long hours at a time.

The Riding Team sponsored competitive meets between the first and sub-team throughout the year. In the spring, these riders, together with Monticello and MacMurray, gave a horse show on our campus. Later, these same girls participated in another tri-school meet at Monticello. In competition with these schools, the team learned to adjust themselves to strange riding rings, to win with becoming humility, and to lose graciously. The team ended their activities with a long morning ride and a camp-fire breakfast.

Children's Theater of the Air

The Children's Theater of the Air strives to provide wholesome entertainment for young children.

By broadcasting over station KFUE, the members of the Children's Theater gain practical experience in radio work. This year, under the direction of Mr. John Stine, the group presented both adapted and original stories for children. After broadcasting "The Little Tin Soldier," "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," and "The Sleeping Beauty," the group presented their series of original stories entitled "The Rabbits of Fluff Tail Town."

The members of the Children's Theater of the Air receive satisfaction from the knowledge that their programs offer children both constructive suggestion and enjoyable entertainment at the same time.

Choir

Church music, psychologically important in encouraging attitudes of reverence and worship, is an integral part of the religious observances at Lindenwood College.

Under the leadership of Miss Doris Gieselman, the choir prepared an anthem for each vesper service and presented several special programs. Just before the holidays, it presented "The Christmas Messiah" by Handel; and at the vesper service on Palm Sunday, "Penitence, Pardon, and Peace," a cantata by Maunders.

This year it sang the accompaniment for the dancers of the May Fete; and as usual provided the special music for the Baccalaureate at Commencement.

Commercial Club

The Commercial Club, which is open to all students interested in office work as a vocation, directs its attention to the interests of the modern business woman.

The club, this year, sponsored two speakers: Mrs. Virginia Staples who spoke on "What the Girl in the Business Office should Wear"; and Miss Mary Dilley, faculty member at Katherine Gibbs' Secretarial School, who discussed "Post-war Plans for the Business Woman."

Social meetings included a tea for the faculty in February, a Hollywood Social in March, and a farewell picnic on the campus golf course in May.

Through the Commercial Club, students have learned much about positions increasingly available to women in the business world.

Encore Club

Members of the Encore Club are those students whose relatives have attended Lindenwood College. These girls have a high regard for the traditions of the college and for their preservation. Miss Kathryn Hankins, sponsor of the group, keeps in touch with alumnae and establishes a genuine relationship between Encore Club members and students of former years.

On Founders' Day, which commemorates the work of George Champlin Sibley and his wife Mary Easton Sigley, the Encore Girls are always hostesses to all campus guests. In January, the club invited the entire faculty, administration, and student body to a Sunday afternoon tea. In the spring, a "Come-as-you-are" party provided an evening of informal companionship.

The Encore Club emphasizes the fact that Lindenwood is not merely an institution in which students spend four years. It is a home to which its daughters return.

Future Teachers of America

The purpose of the organization, Future Teachers of America, is to implement induction of students into the teaching profession, to acquaint them with problems that face educators, and to orient them in the wider educational activities of state and nation.

At two meetings this year, imported speakers widened our horizons; and on the other four programs, forums of our own members quickened our understanding of educational problems. One memorable occasion was that in which Mr. Simeon A. Christian, supervisor of elementary schools in Wellston, Missouri, led a discussion on juvenile delinquency. We cannot forget our attendance, forty strong, at the Missouri State Teachers Convention in St. Louis; nor the party given for us by Pi Lambda Theta faculty members.

International Relations Club

In these times of world war and world plans for reconstruction, the United States needs students informed on international affairs. The International Relations Club strives to make its members conscious of the political, social, and economic problems which confront all the peoples of the world.

This year, the club sponsored a group of speakers who discussed various aspects of "World Organization." Mr. William Eickhorst described social conditions in Germany which led to acceptance of Hitler's philosophy. In his speech, "Armistice Then and Now," Dr. Homer Clevenger predicted the type of armistice that will end the present war. Dr. Lawton Chambers pointed out the possibilities of using the Atlantic Charter as a preamble for a United States constitution.

Disproving popular belief that world organization is a new idea. Dr. Wilhelmina Feemster explained the international systems of the ancient Greeks. Patricia de Puy, Janet Schaefer, and Lell Lewis read their research paper on "Suggestions for International Organization."

At a convention in Fremont, Nebraska, where students discussed "Problems of Global Peace," Lindenwood was represented by Dorothy Heimrod and Clara Mae Landberg.

League of Women Voters

Intelligent citizenship of women becomes increasingly important as we realize that after this war women will outnumber men. The Lindenwood League of Women Voters strives to make the college woman aware of her responsibilities in both national and international government.

In the fall, the League invited the student body to a welcoming tea, at which officers of the Missouri State League were honored guests. In cooperation with these officers, the Lindenwood League distributed more than five thousand pieces of literature pertaining to the Constitutional Convention at Jefferson City. Wishing to increase their information about the convention, the League invited Mr. Howard Elliott, speaker of the Missouri State House of Representatives, to speak to them on revision of the Missouri constitution.

Other League meetings were in charge of the war time, government activity, and social welfare chairmen who gave reports on the various projects of their groups.

Linden Bark

The Linden Bark, published bi-monthly by the journalism class under direction of Mr. Charles Clayton, City Editor of the Globe Democrat, increased to five pages this year. The "Hall of Fame," which features outstanding students, and "Gertie's letters to Cuthbert," a resume of important campus activities, continued to be regular features. The traditional April Fool editions, which lampoons the faculty, made Mr. Clayton the "Queen of the May" and surrounded him with a Stag Court.

The annual Romeo contest was judged by the celebrated movie star, Maria Montez.

The editors of Linden Bark made their annual trip to the Globe-Democrat Building, where they learned how teletypes and presses operate. The practical experience which the staff received has contributed to their understanding of actual procedures in newspaper publication.

The Linden Leaves staff of 1944 has produced a war-time annual. Its more serious tone is in keeping with the weighty matters now in the national and international balance. We have conserved material by omitting the peace-time luxuries of padded covers, two and three-color decorations and unnecessary pages.

To those persons who have been especially helpful, we wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks. We are deeply grateful to Mr. Fred Bassman of the Mid-State Printing Company who generously advised the staff in setting up the final form of the annual. We are also indebted to Mr. George McClarey of the Jahn and Ollier Engraving Company for his many helpful suggestions.

We wish to express our appreciation of the fine photography of both Mr. Don Carlos and Mr. C. F. Dieckman and extend to them our sincere thanks. To Dr. Kate L. Gregg, who gave unselfishly of her time to guide and improve our work, we are all most thankful. Her patient understanding and constructive criticism made work more easy and more enjoyable for everyone.

To you, the Students of Lindenwood College, we present the 1944 edition of the Linden Leaves. We hope that this annual will be for all of you a cherished record of your college activities and a permanent remembrance of your classmates.

Lindenwood College Ensemble

The Lindenwood College Ensemble is a group of student musicians who meet with Miss Gertrude Isidor twice each week to improve their ability to perform. In December, these students joined the choir in presenting the annual Christmas concert. In the spring, the group gave a formal concert in Roemer Auditorium for the entire college. Martha Ann England, Betty Roark, and Jo Ann Person as soloists were the highlights of the program.

The consistently fine performances of the Lindenwood College Ensemble prove that its members have much talent for music and great persistence in developing their native gifts.

Poetry Society

The Poetry Society at Lindenwood welcomes students and faculty who are interested in verse writing and criticism. Meetings are devoted to informal discussion of poetry written by members in an attempt to develop the creative spirit and establish high standards of discrimination in writing and constructive criticism.

In the fall, the society held its annual contest by which new members were selected. Phyllis Maxwell, writer of the prize-winning poem, received an honorary membership.

In the spring, these students arranged a display of poetry books in the library to promote interest in the sale of the Lindenwood Verse.

Purely social activities included a spring tea and the annual farewell picnic.

The Press Club includes all members of the Linden Leaves and Linden Bark staffs. This year the club invited Mrs. Louise Alexander, a Lindenwood graduate, to speak to them on "Opportunities Open to Short Story Writers Today." In March, the Press Club started a new tradition at Lindenwood by inviting the entire college to a gridiron dinner at which club members enacted original take-offs on the faculty.

The Press Club succeeds in promoting a closer cooperation between the staffs of the two college publications and strives to maintain a high standard of creative writing among its members.

Tau Sigma

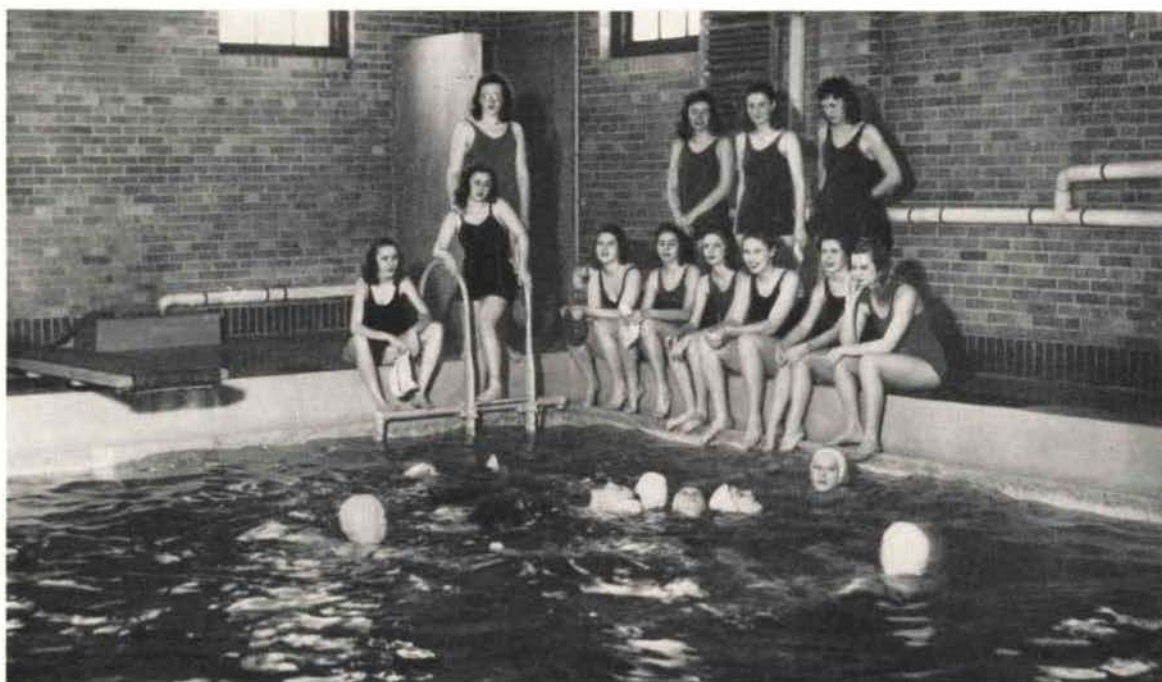

The ancient Greek philosophy which advocated "A sound mind in a sound body" considered the value of bodily grace. Tau Sigma is an organization for those students who believe, as did the Greeks, in using the body as a medium of artistic expression.

In March, members of Tau Sigma presented a recital in which they interpreted advertisements through dance created by the members themselves. On May Day this organization gave a dance program for the May Queen and her court, the more interesting this year because the dancing was done to an accompaniment by the choir.

Terrapin, honorary aquatics society, is the organization on campus whose purpose is to further good swimming among Lindenwood students. Three times weekly, members served as life guards and instructors during "open pool" which they sponsored.

In March, Terrapin invited the entire college to an original water pageant entitled "Scenes in St. Louis," a take-off on the city's night life. Highlights of the program were "The Mortgage or Two Lovers United,"

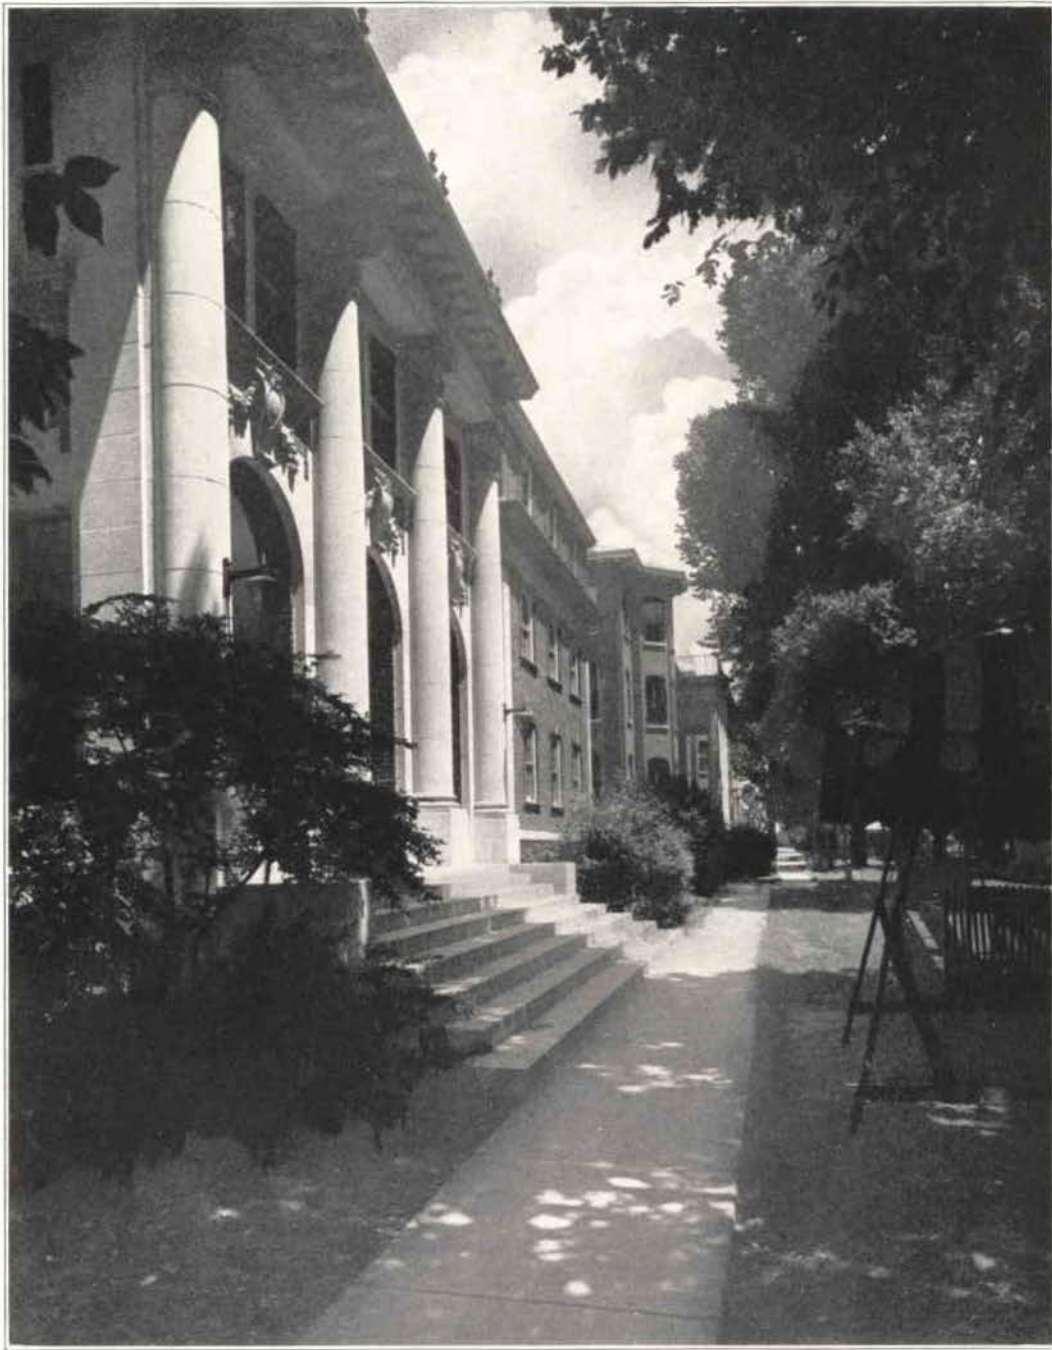

"St. Louis Blues," and the finale, "Stars and Stripes Forever." By these activities Terrapin members make swimming both an artistic expression and an enjoyable leisure-time activity.

Electricity

is POWER

Power for War, for Work, for Home!

With electric power the factories, the skilled workers, the industrial talent of the Nation are building the weapons for our fighting men.

With electric power the work that is necessary in war as in peace, is carried on . . . the day-to-day jobs of our citizens by which the community is supported and supplied.

With electric power the homes across the Nation play their increasing part in conserving the health, the strength, the time and the morale of a people at war.

CARLOS PHOTOS

We are proud of the fine photography of Mr. Carlos in this year's edition of Linden Leaves. The pictures of individual students are all from his studio.

THE Linden Leaves STAFF

942 SPANISH COURT

WILMETTE, ILL.

THERE IS COURAGE HERE, TOO

No medals, but sincerest congratulations to you who have had the courage to fight through overwhelming discouragements to produce and finance a yearbook in this year of 1944!

You needed no compulsion but your own determination to hold on to this one phase of American college life, to preserve it for those who might have been here to take part in it and who will be glad you had the grit to carry on.

This is the kind of courage we admire as much as any other. And we are glad we have been able to help you, as much as we could, "to build with broken tools" this chronicle of student and faculty life.
