COMMUNIQUE

Vol. 3, No. 29; April 16, 1985

TIGERS TO HIGHLIGHT APRIL 20 'CELEBRATION' - The Mizzou Football Tigers will hold their annual spring scrimmage at the Lindenwood Stadium Saturday to kick off the college's "Celebration of New Beginnings." The event will honor Woody Woodenhauser, who is beginning his first season as head coach of the Tigers, and President James I. Spainhower. With practice beginning a noon, the scrimmage will start at 1:30 p.m. Admission is free to all community residents as well as faculty, staff and students.

Following the scrimmage, a reception for Woodenhauser will be in the stadium, followed by a banquet at 6:30 p.m. at Noah's Ark Motor Inn. The reception and banquet are being sponsored by the St. Charles Lindenwood Board of Associates and will be for ticket holders only. The board is comprised of 50 civic and business leaders who personally and financially support Lindenwood.

Woodenhauser is former head coach of the USFL's Oklahoma Outlaws and assistant coach of the AFC's Pittsburgh Steelers.

According to Ed Watkins, vice-president for institutional development, the event will enable the community to meet and greet Woodenhauser as well as Spainhower. "Woodenhauser is the new coach of the Tigers, and this is the college's way of showing support for the new beginning of the Tigers. At the same time, Spainhower is relatively new to Lindenwood, but his accomplishments during the past two years have returned the college to its prominent place among leading educational institutions in the United States. This will provide a chance for the community to acquaint itself with the president and show its support," he said.

Tickets for the stadium reception and banquet, which will feature Dan Dierdorf as master of ceremonies, can be obtained by contributing $150 or more to the college's St. Charles County Fund Drive. Tickets for faculty and staff are priced at a reduced rate of $25 each. All proceeds from the event will go for scholarship awards to students from the county. Further information and reservations can be obtained by contacting Watkins at extension #338.

'SERF DAY' SLATED NEXT MONDAY - The senior class is holding its first "Serf Day" April 22. Sign up to volunteer your services during lunch this Wednesday and Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in Ayres Cafeteria. ANOTHER RECORD YEAR FOR ALUMNI GIVING? - Initial results from the first phase of the Alumni Phone-a-Thon indicate the college could be on its way to setting another record year for alumni giving. The recent four-week campaign generated nearly $70,000 in cash and contributions, a drastic increase from the $28,000 raised during a similar 1984 event. Last year, the phone-a-thon raised about $100,000. Based upon initial results from this year's first phase, the college expects to raise $60-70,000 from the second phase, April 23-May 30, which would surpass last year's record.

Nearly 150 volunteers spent an estimated 1,000 man-hours telephoning more than 2,600 alumni during the first phase. Another 2,500 will be contacted during the second phase.

STIFF COMPETITION FOR PHONE-A-THON PRIZE - Darlene Jemison, assistant manager of the Bookstore, is in first place for the grand prize of a weekend for two at the Lodge of the Four Seasons that will be presented to the top volunteer in the Alumni Phone-a-Thon that secures the most in cash and contributions. Jemison has collected $5,385, followed by James Hood, acting dean of faculty, with $4,910, for second place. Other hot contenders for the prize include Pam Thompson, a '79 alumna and member of the Alumni Council, with $3,435; Sherry Park Tayan, a '79 alumna, $2,420; Maurita Stueck, a '43 alumna and member of the Alumni Council, $2,225; and Carol Simpson, secretary to the vice-president of administration, $2,155.

These figures are for the first phase of the phone-a-thon; they will be combined for the second phase, April 23-May 30, to produce the top volunteer. The grand prize was secured by Peter N. Brown, a member of the Board of Overseers and president of Four Seasons Lakesites in Lake Ozark, MO.

ATHLETIC BANQUET APRIL 19 - Alan H. Shiller, assistant professor of speech communications, is the keynote speaker for the college's Annual Athletic Banquet April 19 at 6:30 p.m. in Ayres Cafeteria. Students, faculty and staff are urged to attend this free event to hear the Just Singers.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT FOR ADMISSIONS RECRUITING - Experience has proven that when students consider Lindenwood, the chances of their actual attendance increases dramatically after they meet or talk to members of the college community. Based upon this proven experience, the Admissions Office needs faculty, staff and student volunteers for group telephoning sessions, slated from 6:30-9:30 p.m. April 22-25. Volunteers are needed for three hours each of the four nights.

"Your support and cooperation is appreciated as we work together in making this year's enrollment the biggest and best ever," said Barry Freese, admissions recruiter. "Please call extension #213 to volunteer your time in calling prospective students either in your same academic area, or your home state, or even in 'new' territory," he said.

CAP NEEDS PEER TUTORS FOR '85-86 - The CAP Center announces that students may apply for positions of peer tutors for the 1985-86 academic year. Peer tutors help students who wish to improve their academic work by offering help in study skills and individual courses. Tutors are needed in a broad range of subjects, including composition, math, computer science, data processing, biology and economics. Students with a strong academic background and who like helping others may pick up applications forms at the CAP Center in Niccolls Hall. Application deadline is May 1. There is financial remuneration for positions of peer tutors.

COLLEGE RECEIVES AWARDS - Lindenwood's chapter of Alpha Epsilon Rho, the National Broadcasting Society, received two awards at the group's national convention, held recently in Nashville, TN. The chapter received the "Rookie Chapter of the Year Award," recognizing it for outstanding achievements and enthusiasm during its first year of organization. It also received an award from the Tourette Syndrome Association for organizing a public awareness campaign for the disease. The chapter, which was reactivated last fall under the direction of Leah Hollenberger, operations coordinator for KCLC Radio, has been committed to raising funds and building awareness for the association. Attending the Nashville session were Stacy Prell, chapter president and a communications major, and Larry J. Fernandez, a junior majoring in communications.

'CABARET' SCHEDULED APRIL 25-27, MAY 3-4 - Following the success of its critically-acclaimed production of "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead," Lindenwood will present the musical "Cabaret" April 25-27 and May 3-4. Based on the book by Joe Masteroff, music by John Kander and lyrics by Fred Ebb, "Cabaret" takes place in Germany in the 1930s when fun, decadence and politics were often jone and the same. Popular selections in this Performing Arts Dept. production include "Cabaret," "Married," "Tomorrow Belongs to Me" and "The Money Song." Tickets for the final mainstage production this season are $5-$7. Reservations can be made at the Box Office in Roemer Hall, or by calling 946-2004 between noon and 5 p.m. daily.

FACULTY MEMBER TO PRESENT LECTURE - Hans Levi, assistant professor of art and photography, will discuss "Evolution of the Photographer" during a lecture series Thursday at St. Louis Community College at Forest Park.
