Vol. Three, No. Four; Aug. 13, 1984

'THE PRESIDENT'S PREFACE'

The President's Council has approved a number of changes regarding travel expenses incurred by faculty and staff while on college business. The purpose of these changes is to provide prompt reimbursement and improve accountability.

Starting immediately, reimbursement of approved travel expenses will be made as soon as the necessary paperwork can be completed. All travel must be approved by the employee's immediate supervisor. Airline reservations will continue to be made only through the President's Office. Mileage reimbursement for personal autos used on college business is being increased from 17 cents to 20 cents per mile. Expenses charged to college-issued credit cards also must be approved by the employee's immediate supervisor. Gasoline company credit cards will be issued only for the purchase of gasoline for college-owned vehicles.

In order to facilitate these changes and to clarify travel guidelines, a new travel voucher is being prepared that will have guidelines printed on the reverse side. Vice-President Jerry Rufkahr is in the process of revising operations of the college's motor pool, and will be issuing revised guidelines soon.

The ban on travel outside the metro area, except when prior approval is granted, remains in effect.

LINDENWOOD TO HOST ROARING '30s MEET

Nearly 300 antique vehicles from throughout the country will be on display August 17-19 on campus when the Roaring '30s Auto Club of Missouri sponsors its eighth annual club meeting. Held in conjunction with the Festival of the Little Hills, the three-day event will feature club activities on Friday evening and Sunday and public viewing on Saturday. Admission is $3 for adults and 50 cents for children for Saturday's activities.

The event will feature pre-1949 vehicles, commonly called street rods, according to Mel Pinkley of Bridgeton, vice-president of the 30-member club. "These cars are built to drive. They are stock in appearance but have modified drive trains, wheels and engines and have such modern conveniences as air conditioning and cruise control," said Pinkley who owns a '33 Ford convertible. Last year's event attracted nearly 2,000 visitors to the Lindenwood campus.

LINDENWOOD, COMPUTERLAND JOIN FOR PROMOTION

Lindenwood has joined with ComputerLand of St. Louis and media personality John Auble of KY98 Radio in a unique promotion that will award nearly $12,000 in academic scholarships and computers to two persons who want to study communications at Lindenwood. The college will award scholarships valued at up to $2,800 to communications students at either the undergraduate or graduate level who have applied for the fall semester or for the spring, summer or fall terms in 1985. The communications scholarships are named for Auble, former cohost of KSDK-TV's popular "Newsbeat" program and currently a columnist for the ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT and an announcer for KYKY-FM. Each of the two winning applicants also will receive an Eagle Spirit Portable computer, valued at nearly $2,700, furnished by ComputerLand of St. Louis, 11990 Dorsett Rd., Maryland Heights.

The promotion is open to anyone who meets normal admissions criteria of Lindenwood at either the undergraduate or graduate level except employees or families of the three participating sponsors, said Randy L. Wallick, public relations director, who along with Miriam King-Watts, dean of admissions, formulated the joint promotion. The amount of the John Auble Scholarship has a maximum value of $2,800, dependent upon the applicant's academic history. Entrants must declare their major or minor field of study to be in communications at Lindenwood.

To be judged, entrants must tell briefly why they want to improve their skills, enhance their careers or better prepare themselves for tomorrow's world. Entries must be postmarked by August 31. Lindenwood will review all entries, submitting the top five to Auble, who will then select the two winners. The scholarships and Eagle computers will be presented at the time of registration, with winners announced early next month.

Media publicity, display advertising and commercials on KY98 Radio will highlight the joint promotion throughout August, Wallick said. Further information and applications for the awards can be obtained from the Admissions Office or ComputerLand of St. Louis.

KIWANIS CLUB DONATES $1,000 FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

The Kiwanis Club of St. Charles has presented Lindenwood with two $500 gifts that will be utilized this fall for academic and/or athletic scholarships. The Kiwanis Club contributions will be matched by institutional funding from the college to provide $1,000 scholarships for two qualified students from the area. William B. Schaefer, president of the club, recently presented the gift to President James I. Spainhower during a club luncheon at Stegton's Restaurant in St. Charles. Information on the scholarship awards, which are available for the fall semester, can be obtained from the Admissions Office.

PRESIDENT'S GIFT PROMPTS FREE ADVERTISEMENT

A personal gift from Dr. and Mrs. James I. Spainhower to St. Joseph Health Center has enabled Lindenwood to receive a full-page advertisement in the program booklet for the center's Golf, Tennis & Racquetball Benefit August 19-20. The community event, which raises money to maintain health care facilities at St. Joseph, will be held at Bogey Hills Country Club and West James Tennis Courts. Lindenwood's ad will be among nearly 100 displayed in the program booklet.

AFA SCHEDULES CHICAGO TOUR SEPTEMBER 21-23

An exhibit of works by Edgar Degas, a leading French Impressionist artist, at the Art Institute of Chicago and a tour of a Springfield, IL, residence designed by architect Frank Lloyd Wright, are scheduled this fall by the Associates of the Fine Arts (AFA), a St. Charles and Lindenwood organization of 150 art enthusiasts and supporters. Slated September 21-23 for both AFA members and nonmembers, the tour coincides with the 150th anniversary of Degas' birth, according to W. Dean Eckert, Ph.D., an AFA member and chairman of the Art Dept.

"To commemorate the anniversary, the Art Institute is presenting a comprehensive exhibit of 91 works by the artist, including paintings, drawings, pastels, prints and sculptures," Eckert said. "Widely noted for his portrayal of ballet dancers, Degas also sought themes for his creative endeavors at the race tracks and in the cafes of Paris, which will be viewed in the exhibit," he added.

The Springfield stop will allow participants to view the Dana-Thomas House, called a prime example of the Prairie Style houses designed by Wright. "This residence is unique among Wright's early houses in that the furniture and other furnishings also designed by Wright have been preserved. Recently, this residence, which was built in 1904, became the property of the State of Illinois and is now open to the public," Eckert said.

The tour fee ranges from $85-$125 for AFA members and $95-$135 for nonmembers, based upon choice of accommodations. It includes bus transportation to and from Chicago, accommodations at the Palmer House in Chicago and admissions to the Degas exhibit and the Dana-Thomas House. Reservations are recommended, and they can be secured by a $25 deposit per individual, due by August 31 and payable to the AFA. For further information and reservation procedures, contact Eckert at extension #240 or #327.

ORIENTATION SESSIONS SLATED TONIGHT

Informational meetings for prospective students interested in careers in mass communications and education will be held from 7-9 p.m. today at Butler Library. Sponsored by the Admissions Office, the orientations will focus on fall class offerings, degree possibilities, career planning and interdisciplinary studies in communications and education. Following a general meeting in which attention will be given to college entrance and registration requirements as well as a general introduction to college life, participants will concentrate on curricula in each discipline and how a degree might be pursued at Lindenwood.

The communications session will include a descriptive discussion of programs, led by Michael Castro, Ph.D., LCIE faculty advisor, and a presentation of student projects by Peter Carlos of the communications faculty. Jim Wilson, faculty member and KCLC-FM general manager, will take the group on a tour of Lindenwood's community radio station and will discuss broadcasting degrees available at the college.

The education session will be coordinated by Jeanne Donovan, Ph.D., assistant professor of education, who will explain the program for degrees in education at both the undergraduate and graduate levels in elementary, secondary and special education.
