Little Shop of Horrors | October 9-13

October 9-12, 2019 / 7:30 p.m.
October 12-13, 2019 / 2:00 p.m. Matinees

Lindenwood's Theatre Program is proud to present Little Shop of Horrors, Oct. 9-13, in the J. Scheidegger Center for the Arts' Emerson Black Box Theater. A deviously delicious Broadway and Hollywood sci-fi smash musical, Little Shop of Horrors has devoured the hearts of theatre goers for over 30 years. One of the longest-running Off-Broadway shows, the charmingly tongue-in-cheek comedy has been produced worldwide to incredible success, even being adapted into the 1986 smash movie-musical by the same name, starring Rick Moranis.

All Lindenwood students, faculty, and staff can receive two FREE tickets with their university ID. General admission is $15 per person. Please visit the Scheidegger Center box office to secure your tickets, or call 636-949-4433 for more information.

Parking Lots and Roads to Close for Homecoming Events and Parade

In order to prepare for the upcoming Homecoming activities, a number of parking lots will be closed on campus later this week. Click here for a map of the parking lot closures and their reopening times. Please make certain all vehicles are removed from these areas prior to their closure time.

Roads along the parade route will also be closed from 10 to 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 12, so please plan accordingly if you must be somewhere on campus during this time. For a map of the parade route, click here.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact the Lindenwood University Public Safety and Security Office at 636-949-4911.

Professor Ferrarini Speaks at Princeton University

On Sept. 30, Dr. Tawni Hunt Ferrarini spoke at The Princeton Tory Dinner in the Chancellor Green Library on the campus of Princeton University in Princeton, NJ. Ferrarini, the Robert W. Plaster Professor of Economic Education, was invited to lecture on the topic of today's tensions between political and market forces.

"The Princeton Tory is their leading publication of conservative thought, so this was truly a great experience and will likely lead to future campus visits," she said.

Ferrarini also serves as the associate director of the Hammond Institute for Free Enterprise and as director of the Economic Education Center at Lindenwood University.

Public Safety and Security's New Look

Public Safety and Security unveiled its new uniforms yesterday at its department luncheon. Director of Public Safety Ryan Anderson, along with the rest of his staff, are moving forward to improve visibility, increase campus integration, and bring a professional delivery of service to all university stakeholders.

Gun Violence in St. Louis

The Public Health Student Association and the School of Health Sciences are hosting guest speakers on campus to discuss gun violence in St. Louis. This event is designed to appeal to many students and faculty:

- Social workers as they serve the community and focus on reducing repeat violence.
- Business and health management/administration as we hear how the director of trauma at St. Louis Children's Hospital changed policies/protocol to improve operations.
- Pre-medicine and pre-nursing to hear how doctors and nurses respond to the emergencies in real time.
- Public Health as we look at the issue from the perspective of systematic and social determinants of health perspective.
- Anybody and everybody who is aware of the increase of gun violence in our region this past summer, especially with children as victims.

Stu Durando, St. Louis Post Dispatch reporter and author of Under The Gun, and Dr. Martin Keller, medical director of trauma at St. Louis Children's Hospital, will speak. Durando will be selling copies of his book, Under The Gun, at a discounted price. This could be useful for book discussions and in a variety of classes.

Wednesday, Oct. 16, from 7 to 8 p.m.
Dunseth Auditorium (Harmon Hall)
Free food will be provided.

Drop-in Virtual Reference Meetings

Library Services is conducting a trial on Drop-In Virtual Reference meetings throughout this semester. If you have distance students, or teach online classes, your students can virtually "meet" with a librarian on four set days from 5 to 6:30 p.m. (Thursday, Oct. 10; Monday, Nov. 4; Thursday, Nov. 14; Monday, Dec. 2). This will be an open Zoom room where students can drop-in when they need during the open time. Please feel free to share the link with your students. For more information, contact Megan Phifer-Davis at mphifer-davis@lindenwood.edu.

MOMENTS

Submit your own Q2 Moment here! Each employee must submit TWO Q2 Moments for us to hit our goal of 2,000 moments by Nov. 22. If we hit our goal, we will have an all employee holiday lunch!

Today's Q2 Moment comes from a student and recognizes several Lindenwood touchpoints. The student wrote:

"In the last four weeks, Lindenwood has become much more than just a place to obtain my education. Many universities can say that their students receive a top-notch education, but few can also say their students feel as though their university has become a second home. This homey feeling is all thanks to the community and culture that Lindenwood has cultivated over the years that welcomes students from all walks of life with open arms. Here, I am given the opportunity to get connected with individuals that value and respect who I am while introducing me to others with various backgrounds. Even though I haven't been here long, I can confidently say the friends I have made are already my second family."

From the Q2 Team, thank you to everyone for making Lindenwood a second home for our students. It takes a university-wide commitment to create a culture, and we are so thankful to be part of a community that so passionately cares for each of our stakeholders.
