LINDENWOOD COLLEGEFEST SLATED OCTOBER 6TH

As part of St. Charles' annual Oktoberfest Weekend, October 5-7, Lindenwood is presenting its Collegefest on Saturday from 2-5 p.m. on campus. Coordinated by the Admissions and Public Relations offices, the Collegefest will encompass all departments, involving students, faculty and staff as well as alumni who will be taking part in Alumni Reunion Weekend, also scheduled October 5-7.

The three-hour event is geared toward college-bound students, parents and the community. It will feature a variety of activities, including a remote radio broadcast from 2-4 p.m. featuring KY98 Radio Personalities Phillips and Wall; a fall fashion show featuring students from the Fashion Marketing Dept.; carriage-drawn tours of the campus; a free soccer game between the men's team and Webster University; free refreshments; lectures, demonstrations and exhibits; and the awarding of a $2,700 Eagle Spirit Portable Computer furnished by Computerland of St. Louis (sorry, faculty and staff are not allowed to register to win).

Faculty and staff members will be joined by students and alumni to man tables in front of Sibley Hall. All departments are encouraged to participate and provide visitors with first-hand information on the benefits of a Lindenwood College education.

"This will be an ideal time for faculty and staff members to provide input into the recruiting and marketing thrusts of the college," said Miriam King-Watts, dean of admissions. "It also will be an ideal time for families and friends of students and faculty to visit the city, take part in the Oktoberfest celebration and enjoy the beauty of fall in the surroundings of the Lindenwood community," she said.

Further information on Lindenwood's first Collegefest can be obtained by contacting Teresa Roark in the Admissions Office, extension #396, or Randy L. Wallick in the Public Relations Office, extension #383.

UNIQUE ART EXHIBIT AT HENDREN GALLERY

"The Season Sisters/Soft Geometry: Together Again" is the title of an art exhibit by Linda Solovic, a St. Louis artist, being shown now through Friday at the Harry D. Hendren Gallery in the FAB. Consisting of paintings, pastels and paper collages, the exhibit is open to all students as well as faculty and staff members.

A graduate of the School of Fine Arts at Washington University, Solovic is a free-lance artist who has received numerous awards for her artistic endeavors in St. Louis and New York City.

DECALS, BUMPER STICKERS AVAILABLE

President James I. Spainhower encourages staff, faculty and students to pick up free "I Love Learning at Lindenwood College" bumper stickers and "Lindenwood College" window decals and display them on their vehicles as a means of support for the institution.

Although the bumper stickers and decals are available for sale at the Book Store, a limited number are available this week for free distribution. Bumper stickers can be obtained at the President's, Public Relations or Admissions offices while decals can be picked up at the President's office. And, by the way, the bumper stickers are removable.

'LEGACY LUNCHEON' SERIES ON WEDNESDAYS

Laurie Roscrow, a senior majoring in communications, reports that President Spainhower has started a new program called "Legacy Luncheon," which will be held every Wednesday from 12:15-1:15 p.m. in the Legacy Room of Ayres Cafeteria.

"Every full-time day student will receive an invitation to the luncheon before the end of the year," Roscrow said. "About 25 students are invited each week. The president's objective is to gain feedback from the students regarding how the college is fulfilling student needs."

Contrary to popular rumor, "Communique" does make a mistake every once in a while. Recently, two as a matter of fact! Gus Spalding is an assistant to the Supervisor of Housekeeping, not assistant supervisor of housekeeping as reported inadvertently in a recent issue of the newsletter. And, Carol Whitman is the Director of Purchasing & Inventory Control, not assistant director of the Physical Plant.
