NEWS DIRECTOR NAMED FOR KCLC

Nan Siemer of St. Louis has been named News Director for Lindenwood's community radio station, KCLC. A former resident of Fredericksburg, VA, she served previously as a reporter for WFLS AM-FM Radio in Fredericksburg. She also was news director for WITY Radio in Danville, IL.

Siemer's broadcasting awards include three 1983 Associated Press Virginia Broadcasters awards for outstanding news coverage and operation, a Gavel Award from the American Bar Association and two Illinois Broadcaster Awards from the United Press International for best news feature and radio documentary.

A 1980 graduate of Lindenwood with an undergraduate degree in journalism, she completed internship programs at the ST. CHARLES JOURNAL and KMOX while in college. She also served as a reporter and disc jockey for KCLC, and is the recipient of the Lindenwood Journalism Award and a Falstaff Foundation Scholarship from the St. Louis Journalism Foundation.

In her new position, she will work closely with KCLC General Manager James Wilson, and will supervise all of the station's news programming.

COLLEGE OPENS FACILITY FOR WENTZVILLE

Courses in English and business administration will be offered by the Lindenwood Evening College, beginning tomorrow at Wentzville High School. Courses are scheduled from 6-10 p.m. on Tuesdays through December 18 at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Late registration, course availability and further information on the new location in Wentzville can be obtained from the Admissions Office.

EDUCATIONAL WORKSHOP SLATED OCTOBER 23RD

"Process Skills for Teaching & Learning" is the title of a full-day workshop to be offered October 23 by the college's Education Dept.

Designed for teachers, administrators and curriculum coordinators, the 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. workshop will be presented by G. Wayne Craigne, director of Language Arts & Gifted Programs for the public school system in Victoria, TX. It will explore ways of how school officials can reverse a 10-year decline in reasoning and problem-solving skills among the nation's students. It also will provide strategies for incorporating critical and productive thinking as basic skills along with reading, writing and arithmetic, according to education officials.

Fees for the workshop are $25 in advance or $35 at the door. For further information and registration procedures, contact the Education Dept. at extension #356.

CIRCLE K CHARTERED AT LINDENWOOD

The Lindenwood College Circle K Club, a coeducational campus organization sponsored by Kiwanis International, was chartered recently. Hosted by the Kiwanis Club of St. Charles (Noon Day), the event officially established the college's chapter of the world's largest college service organization. Circle K International is comprised of more than 12,000 members in clubs on 800 college and university campuses throughout the United States, Canada, Jamaica, the Bahamas and Mexico.

Newly-installed officers of the 22-member service club are President Cindy Schiermeier of Winfield, MO, a senior majoring in business administration; Vice-President Glen Bahr of St. Charles, a senior also majoring in business; and Secretary/Treasurer Crystal Chostner of San Diego, CA, a senior majoring in accounting and business. Advisor to the group is James D. Thompson, major funds coordinator at Lindenwood.

JAMES I. SPAINHOWER, President

"Communique" is published weekly during the fall, winter and spring semesters and biweekly during the summer. Produced by Lindenwood College's Public Relations Office, it is disseminated on Mondays to all faculty, staff and students. The submission of information for publication must be received by Tuesday noon of the week preceding publication; it should be sent to Randy L. Wallick, c/o the Public Relations Office.

The purposes of the club, which meets weekly in Ayres Cafeteria, are to provide service to the campus and community as well as to learn about business careers. "As the first international organization on campus, the Circle K Club will have a high degree of visibility within the community," Thompson said. "It not only enables students to pursue leadership opportunities within the organization but it trains students for various types of activities that are fitted to their individual career pursuits," he added.

Instrumental in the founding of the Lindenwood chapter is William B. Schaefer, immediate past-president of the Kiwanis Club of St. Louis (Noon Day). His wife, Glenda D., is a 1968 graduate of Lindenwood and was president of the St. Charles chapter of the Lindenwood Alumni Club in 1983-84.

Membership in the club is open to any student in good academic standing. Further information on the club and its planned activities can be obtained by contacting Thompson in the MAB, extension #320.

"What's Photography For" is the title of an exhibit of portraits currently being shown in the lower gallery of the FAB through October 28. They were produced by Peg Tucker, and undergraduate LCIE student. Previously, she exhibited with a statewide traveling exhibit, "Missouri Photographers, 1976," and at a local exhibit, "Women in the Arts, 1975 - St. Charles." The photo exhibit is open to all students, staff and faculty as well as the public free of charge.

ABSENTEE VOTING APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE

The Board of Election Commissioners of St. Louis County reports that absentee voting ballot applications for residents of St. Louis County have been supplied to Lindenwood. They are available at the College Life Office, 107 Roemer Hall. The deadline for filing for absentee voting is October 31.

UPDATE ON I.D. CARDS AT BUTLER LIBRARY

As an update to an article in last week's "Communique," Librarian Vicki Frowine reports the Butler Library staff hoped to achieve two goals in issuing its own library cards on an interim basis for the 1984-85 academic year - (1) to make it convenient for adult students to obtain borrowers' cards and (2) to insure that only currently-enrolled students have borrowing privileges.

"The present student I.D. card does not provide this flexibility or accuracy," she said. "It is anticipated, however, that all involved groups will meet early next year to plan a single campus-wide, computer-generated I.D. card that will meet the needs of all constituencies," Frowine added.

KRAMER'S MARIONETTES TO APPEAR OCTOBER 14TH

"Puppet Frolics" is the title of a variety show for both children and adults that will feature Bob Kramer's Marionettes in performance October 14 at 3 p.m. at Jelkyl Theatre. The performance is part of the college's Visiting Artists Series. Full-time students can pick up free tickets this week at the Box Office in Roemer Hall. Tickets for others, priced at $5 for adults and $3 for children 12 years of age and younger, also are available at the Box Office.

Kramer and his staff have been delighting and educating both young and old with the fine art of puppetry since 1962. Kramer, who operates the Puppet Studio in St. Louis, began building puppets at the age of five in the basement of his family's home. Since then, he has designed and constructed more than 800 marionettes and rod puppets. A master craftsman, he believes that the heart of the art of puppetry is a special blend of imagination and fine workmanship. As such, his Lindenwood performance will entertain as well as educate. "Puppet Frolics" is designed to keep the art of puppetry, one of man's oldest art forms, and the marionette in particular, alive and growing in new and creative ways.

NEW WALL MAP INSTALLED IN BUTLER LIBRARY

Butler Library has a new, 5x6-foot wall map of St. Louis and St. Charles and St. Louis counties that includes all streets and roads as of spring, 1984. It is available for student and faculty usage, and it is located in the Reference Room near the photocopier.
