The Lindenwood Graduate

THE REPRESENTATIVE Lindenwood graduate is a housewife and a mother. She is active in the life of the church to which she belongs and is a responsible citizen of the larger community in which she lives.

One would expect this of the graduates of a college for women like Lindenwood. But these conclusions are based on replies to questionnaires sent to Lindenwood alumnae who were graduated in the last thirty years. Questionnaires were sent in connection with a survey of the forty-three Presbyterian colleges studied by a committee of educators. They were sent to approximately 300 Lindenwood graduates and were returned by 163. Eighty-three per cent of those who replied are married and 80 per cent of this group are mothers. The number of children in the family ranges from 1 to 5.

Of the total number replying, including married and single women, 46 per cent are employed in some work outside the home. Those who are engaged in career work are lawyers; research workers; laboratory technicians; teachers in various fields; secretaries; radio announcers, program directors, etc.; and Y. W. C. A. and church workers. A high percentage are engaged in voluntary work in church and community. Eighty-eight per cent of those who replied have been active in church work as leaders in women's work, teachers in Sunday School, directors of and members of choirs, and members of church boards. Seventy-eight per cent of all who replied have assumed some specific responsibility in community life—in women's clubs, P. T. A., Red Cross, A. A. U. W., and Community Chest.

The college is proud of an alumnae group that in home, in church, and in community is active and responsible and making vital contributions to American life. It is proud, too, to have had some part in the development of the skills and the sense of responsibility that are found in its graduates.

The comments of the alumnae who filled in these questionnaires are of help to us in studying our current program. Some graduates of many years ago felt that their college life had prepared them for community responsibility better than for home duties. It is believed that the human relations curriculum introduced at the college recently may have strengthened the college in this respect.

Specific courses were mentioned as having special carry over value in life after graduation but many emphasized the fact that the college helped in teaching one to think clearly and that its greatest service had been in "stimulating thought and conscience." The total atmosphere of the college community, courses in Bible and other subjects, the vesper and chapel services, and activities of the Student Christian Association were mentioned as contributing to a healthful religious life.

One who has read these questionnaires would conclude that one of the great strengths of Lindenwood College is to be found in the character of its alumnae. It is our hope that these graduates feel that they are partners in the enterprise on this campus and that their pride in their college may be comparable to the pride the college has in them.

Alumnae Weekend Reminder

AS WE GO TO PRESS, we are hopeful that the October Bulletin will reach you in time to serve as a reminder of the combined alumnae weekend and Founders' Day celebration at Lindenwood on Friday and Saturday, October 16-17. Here is a review of the special events: Alumnae dinner in Cobbs Hall (price $1.50), 6:30 p. m., Oct. 16, followed by a reception at 9 p. m. for faculty and alumnae at the campus home of President and Mrs. McCluer. Founders' Day convocation, with Dr. Hulda Niebuhr of the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago as speaker, in Roemer

Auditorium, 10 a. m., Saturday, Oct. 17, followed by the alumnae luncheon in Ayres dining room at noon and the annual meeting of the Lindenwood College Alumnae Association at 1 p. m. in Sibley Chapel.

Except for the Cobbs Hall dinner, alumnae are invited to be guests of the college, without charge. Alumnae wishing to stay on campus will be assigned rooms in Ayres Hall. Please make reservations for the alumnae dinner, the reception, rooms in Ayres Hall, and the Saturday luncheon by writing or telephoning Mrs. Mary Bryant, alumnae secretary.

Lindenwood Starts 127th Academic Year With Increased Enrollment

Twenty-six States, Six Foreign Countries are Represented on the Campus

LINDENWOOD IS OFF to a good start in its 127th academic year—with an 11.6 per cent increase in enrollment over last year and a 15.6 per cent increase in boarding students. Lindenwood alumnae should take great satisfaction from the facts in that statement: Pride for the age of their college, not often matched in mid-Western institutions, and respect for the increase in enrollment.

Twenty-six states, Canada, Panama, Puerto Rico, and six foreign countries are represented in the student body. The foreign countries are China, Denmark, France, Holland, Malaya, and Turkey. Missouri leads the states in the number of students, with Illinois in second place and Oklahoma and Texas tied for third place.

Lindenwood's increase in enrollment deserves special interest, and special explanation, because it is above the average increase at this time and it comes in advance of the time when college enrollments are expected to rise everywhere. It has come before the natural end of the current slump in college enrollments, which came about largely because the low birth rate of the depression years drastically lowered today's number of college-age young people. The increase is a tribute to Lindenwood's admissions staff, to the alumnae who have helped enroll Lindenwood students, and to Lindenwood itself—its reputation and its quality.

While Lindenwood's enrollment progress has been great, it is only fair to tell the alumnae that part of the hill is still to climb before the college again will be filled to capacity. Dormitory rooms in Ayres Hall remain closed, and Sibley has vacant rooms. Thus the alumnae are urged to continue to give a boost in the climb.

Annual Teachers' Convention Luncheon

The annual Lindenwood College luncheon, held in conjunction with the convention of the Missouri State Teachers' Association, will be held on Thursday, November 5, at 12:15 p. m. at the DeSoto Hotel, 1014 Locust St., St. Louis. President McCluer will be present and will talk informally about Lindenwood, 1953-54. Mr. William F. McMurry, director of admissions, and the alumnae secretary also will attend.

Alumnae attending the convention and St. Louis area alumnae particularly are urged to attend. Price of the luncheon, which will be held in a private dining room, is $2.50. Reservations should be sent to Mrs. Mary Bryant, alumnae secretary, Lindenwood College, by October 30.

Miss Ann Frazier (top), senior of Stigler, Okla., is president of the Student Government Association. She is a mathematics major. Miss Cora Lee Critchfield of Tecumseh, Neb., a senior and an art major, is chairman of the freshmen counselors.

News from the Class of 1944

THIS MONTH we conclude the report from the members of the class of 1944 who responded to the roll call.

Virginia Donovan (Mrs. Richard M. Doudna), 910 S. 25th Ave., Yakima, Wash.: "After graduating from Lindenwood in 1944 with my B. M. degree, I spent the summer in Colorado as a counselor in a Girl Scout camp. In September, I started my teaching career, which was soon interrupted, as in December of the same year I was married to Ensign Richard Doudna of the Navy Air Corps and went with him to San Diego. Later while he was in parts unknown, I taught music in the Detroit public schools. After Dick's return, he spent four years at the University of Michigan getting his degree of Bachelor of Architecture, and then we made the trek to the great Northwest and settled in the "Fruit Bowl of the Nation." Meanwhile, Virginia Ann was born in December, 1946, and in January, 1951, we added Mary Carolyn to our family. We love everything about Yakima and the state of Washington and would like to show it off to any Lindenwood alums traveling this way."

Freda Eberspacher (Mrs. Robert R. Harrison), 7535 W. Main, Chicago 31, Ill.: "After two years of teaching in St. Charles and Pana, Ill., I married Bob Harrison, and we spent the first two years of our married life in Lafayette, Ind., while Bob finished at Purdue. Next we spent a year at Pana and then moved here, to Niles, a suburb of Chicago. Bob is a purchasing agent with Tractomotive Corporation. We have two little girls, Pat, 5½, and Kappy, 4, and a Boxer puppy named Lady Paka. My sister, Louise Eberspacher Davis (B. S. 1946), lives in nearby Park Ridge, and at present we are looking for a home in Park Ridge."

Doris Vanecek (Mrs. R. M. Handren, Jr.), 107 Franklin St., Valparaiso, Ind.: "After leaving L. C. I worked for the District Engineers in Omaha and then in Washington, D. C. It took only four months to discover that Washington during the war was not a place I wanted to stay—so back to Omaha and a bank position. In March, 1946, I became Mrs. R. M. Handren, Jr., and in April of 1947 we became a family with the arrival of Sharon Leslie (a future L. C. gal, I hope). After our marriage, my husband returned to school, and it seemed like ages before he was handed his electrical engineering degree at the University of Nebraska. We next bought a home in Omaha and settled down (we thought), only to be jolted out of the blue with Return to Active Duty papers. That duty took us to Waco and San Antonio in Texas; Denver, Colo.; Spokane, Wash., and Tucson, Ariz., with occasional trips to my husband's home at Taunton, Mass. Meanwhile Debra Kay was born in July, 1952, and last spring my husband returned to civilian status and an engineering position with Indiana Steel Products Company here."

Polly Percival (Mrs. James L. Edel), 1120 E. London, Peoria, Ill.: "After I left Lindenwood, I took a degree at Northwestern University in 1946 and then taught music and dancing for three years at the Avery Coonley School in Downers Grove, Ill. Then came another year of schooling, and in May, 1950, I received a Master of Music degree from Drake University in Des Moines. I taught theory at Drake for a year and a half, leaving last February when my husband, whom I married in August, 1951, took a job with Caterpillar Tractor Co. here. We are enjoying our new house here and like Peoria very much. I'm hoping to find Lindenwood girls who live near here, through the roll call. I'd really welcome any news from old friends in Ayres Hall."

Carol Banta (Mrs. Scott R. Brewer, Jr.), 4530 Avondale St., Bethesda, Md.: "After graduating from Missouri U. in 1944, I came direct to Washington, D. C. and a job with the Army Security Agency. I have often remembered the disgust with which I viewed the story of a train companion, who had come to Washington from St. Louis during World War I, married a Marylander, and settled in the East to live. 'Not me,' I thought. 'As soon as this war is over, I'll be heading back to Missouri to spend my life.' Well, here I am nine years later, residing on the fringe of D. C., and raising two little Marylanders, Becky, 2, and Parke, 5 months. Scott and I were married in June, 1948. We lived in New York City's Stuyvesant Town for the first year and a half while he was employed at J. Walter Thompson advertising agency. We came back to Bethesda in the fall of 1949 when Scott took over management of the Allied Realty Corporation here. We feel rather permanently settled, and since Scott is on the board of the Bethesda-Chevy Chase Chamber of Commerce, I'll add that it's as nice a community as one could ever find outside of the Middlewest!"

Pearl Marie Krug (Mrs. Charles McClain), 2908 Jefferson St., Paducah, Ky.: "After leaving Lindenwood, I worked for a year as secretary of my church here in Paducah. In September, 1945, I was married to Charles Edward McClain, then connected with the Internal Revenue Department in Pikeville, Ky. A year later Mac decided to return to his chosen profession of teaching, and is now principal of one of our junior high schools. My days are filled with keeping house, doing substitute teaching, and enjoying memberships in local organizations. We would welcome a visit from any alumnae passing through our 'Atomic Town.'"

Pat Conrad (Mrs. Robert Kemp Jones), 2329 Morningside Road, Topeka, Kan.: "From Lindenwood I went to Northwestern and in 1946 received a

An Affinity for the Finns

*Painting in the Woodshed — Trapping Fish — Taking Steam Baths
— Hobnobbing with Artists*

LINDENWOOD'S ART CHAIRMAN, Miss Mildred Fischer, is back from a summer in Finland (her fifth visit there) with five completed oil paintings to her credit, an increased respect for the quiet charm and artistic creativeness of the Finns, and blooming health from taking steam baths and eating viilia, Finland's variety of yogurt.

"Art is my profession, and Finland is my hobby," she said in an interview, and added, "There must be a Finn in my background, for I certainly have an affinity for the Finns."

Miss Fischer first went to Finland in 1939 to study design and weaving, in which the country excels. She goes back, she said, partly because the country lacks commercialism (and her dollars stretch farther than elsewhere in Europe), partly because of her ever-increasing group of friends, and especially because she finds inspiration in the individualism and inventiveness of Finnish artists.

For two months this summer she lived with a friend at a country lake cottage, 25 miles from Helsinki. There while the friend built a stone terrace and gardened and landscaped, Miss Fischer painted—preempting for her studio a guest room with excellent light in the three-room woodshed on the place. Inspiration for her paintings came from the native birches, which she has painted before in prize-winning pictures, and the movement of the water and the rushes that grow at the lake's edge.

In non-painting hours, Miss Fischer joined her hostess, Dr. Aune Ylppo, leading woman dentist in a country where two-thirds of the members of the profession are women, in such charming pursuits as emptying the fish trap at the edge of the lake in which they caught pike and perch for their dinners, gathering a dozen varieties of mushrooms in the nearby forest, taking steam baths in the Sauna, the Finnish steam bath built on the premises, and visiting and entertaining innumerable friends.

As a sample of the entertaining, Miss Fischer described a dinner party which they gave for sixteen guests. First they served a choice of grapefruit juice or V-8 (a great delicacy) on the newly-built terrace. Then the guests moved into the living room for a variety of tea-party, open-faced sandwiches and coffee. For the third course they went to the lounge in the Sauna, where they were served a curried rice and meat dish with several kinds of Finnish breads, and the finale was ice cream and cakes served back in the living room.

A gay party which Miss Fischer attended was given in the huge studio of a Saarinen-built house in a forest, by one of Finland's leading tapestry artists, Eva Anttila. The party, attended by a number of outstanding artists, was enlivened by the hostess's assertion that the house often is visited by ghosts! Ghosts or no ghosts, Mrs. Anttila turns out highly original tapestries, a charming sample of which Miss Fischer brought back to America.

Miss Fischer

Painting in Finland is not well developed, Miss Fischer admits, although she became acquainted this summer with two quite promising painters. The Finns excel, however, in glass, architecture, ceramics, and woven textiles, she said. She visited several glass artists, and brought back a piece of art of the renowned Tapio Wirkkala, whose work was described in a recent issue of "Craft Horizons" as "a sculptor's glass fired with poetry."

Miss Fischer visited her six-year-old godson, whose mother is Dr. Ylppo's niece and whose father is a Member of Parliament, and she visited the family of one of Finland's leading pediatricians, and a medical social worker—all friends of long standing.

The Finns, she said, are in gay spirits—"they look ten years younger than they did two years ago" — because their future looks brighter than it has in some time. One reason is that they have paid the war debt extracted from the Russians, and the Russian troops have left the country. Another is that they were suc-

Miss Dorothy Quail (A. B. 1950), 805 Pine Grove Ave., Port Huron, Mich., received a master's degree in social work at Washington University in June. Miss Viola Karrenbrock (A. B. 1925), 912 S. Fourth St., St. Charles, received an M. A. in education at Washington. She teaches in the Webster Groves public schools.

Miss Nancy Rae Fenno (1950-51) writes that she is a student intern in medical technology at the Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena, Calif., where she lives at 87 Congress St.

Two St. Charles alumnae, Mrs. George M. Null (Florence Bloebaum, 1905), and Mrs. A. Jackson Clay (Enid Paterson, 1913) took a trip to the East last summer, motoring through New England and visiting friends in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. William E. Blades, Jr. (Patricia Stull, A. B. 1949) writes that after spending the past two years traveling with her husband, who is an electrical engineer with the government, she has settled down in Huntsville, Ala., where her address is Box 894. Since graduation, she also has done radio work in Huntsville and in Nashville, Tenn.

In addition to running her home and looking after three children, Mrs. Binford E. Spencer (Marie Blaske, B. S. 1933), 2905 Godfrey Rd., Godfrey, Ill., has been busy, first with a citizens' group to obtain a tax-supported library for Alton, Ill., and then, as a former librarian, in supervising the new library assistants until they learned the ropes.

Miss Betty Gray Proctor (A. B. 1943), 117B General Ent Ct., San Antonio, Texas, who has been a WAC in the medical corps, a physical therapist with the Air Force and with other organizations, last August "fulfilled a life time ambition," she says, by buying an interest in a kennel, which she manages. Last July she went to California to visit her sister, Peggy, (A. B. 1945), her husband, Dr. W. K. Larking, and their children, Patrick Carter, 3, and Dolly Elna, 1, at their home at 1718 Visalia Row, Coronado.

Miss Virginia Ratcliff (A. B. 1952) is choral music director in the San Angelo, Texas, High School and director of music in the First Methodist Church there. She took her Master of Music degree from the University of Texas this summer, and then took a three-week summer session at the Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N. J.

After three army years in Hawaii, Mrs. D. D. McLean (Carol Robinson, 1939-41) and her medical doctor husband are settled at 1147 S. Downing, Seaside, Ore. Their four children are David, 8, Steven, 7, Robin, 2, and Kathleen, 1. More Robinson news is that Mrs. McLean's sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward Robinson (Donna Deffenbaugh, 1943-44), lives in Waterloo, Iowa, with her husband, their son Douglas, 6, and twin daughters, Sara and Sandra, 3.

An American Airlines transfer to Chicago for her husband has brought Mrs. David C. Frailey (Mina Lee Alexander, 1942-43) from Cambridge, Mass., to a new address at 1505½ Oak Ave., Evanston, Ill., and has also brought her within visiting range of her Lindenwood roommate, Mrs. Arnold Carlson (Eleanor Fellows, 1941-43), 1450 Timber Trails Dr., E., Elmhurst, Ill.

Mrs. George E. Baxter (Jane Beard, 1944-46), 1022 Sherman, Evanston, Ill., writes that her husband has received his masters' degree from Northwestern University and is teaching in the Evanston schools. They have two sons, Michael, 4½, and Stephen, 1.

Along with a check for the alumnae fund, Mrs. Joe Henry Moore (Amelia Lou Siler, 1947-48), Greenbrier Pike, Springfield, Tenn., catches us up on the fact that she received a degree from George Peabody College in 1951 and married a Vanderbilt graduate the same year. They have a daughter, Amelia Alice, born last March.

Mrs. J. D. Woodson, Jr. (Sally Joy, A. B. 1950) has moved from the University of Illinois to 1220 Prospect Dr., Wilmington, Del., where her husband is a public relations director with the Dupont company and she is busy with their five-month-old son, Freddy.

From the heart of the "Cajun" country in Louisiana, where almost everybody speaks French or French-accented English, Mrs. Clinton Owen, Jr. (Elizabeth Knight, 1943-45) writes that she feels like a foreigner and appeals for letters from her college friends. She and her husband recently moved from Little Rock to 515 E. College, Lafayette, La.

Mrs. Stanford H. Rowe (Katherine Hampe, 1936-37) reports a new address, 7115 Hillwood Rd., Little Rock, Ark., and a family of a son and three daughters, the youngest, Barbara Jean, born May 7.

Mrs. George L. Cammann (Arabel Wycoff, 1934-36), 3021 Second Ave., Kearney, Neb., announces a new daughter, Barbara Jane, 6, who became a member of the Cammann family on August 8.

Mrs. Andrew Elkanick, Jr. (Mary Lois Walsmith, 1945-47) urges any of her Lindenwood friends who are "down Florida way" to visit her at 156 N. E. Seventh Ave., Delray Beach, and to meet Richard Taggart, 2½, and Margaret Susan, 6 months. Their grandmother, Mrs. Fred Walsmith (Margaret Taggart, 1921-23) also lives in Delray Beach.

Mrs. George W. Sutherland (Olla Barnett, 1880-83), 445 Baker Ave., Webster Groves 19, Mo., has sent in her second contribution to the alumnae fund in recent months, marking it to represent "our nine of '83." She writes that Miss Jeanette McMillan (1880-85), who taught for many years in Massachusetts and later was registrar of nurses at a Dayton hospital, now is retired and lives at 117 W. Market St., Xenia, Ohio.

Busy Fall Schedule for President McCluer

The gold-star appointments on the calendar of President F. L. McCluer are the activities on the Lindenwood campus, but his calendar also is studded with civic, religious, and educational events of import beyond Lindenwood's gates. This fall's schedule is a busy one.

As a member of Missouri's Constitutional Convention which wrote the state's current constitution, and chairman of the State-wide committee for its adoption, he reviewed legislation resulting from the document at a reunion of convention members in Jefferson City on September 25. On September 27 he was the Vesper speaker at Washington University. On September 29 he was in Chicago for a committee meeting of the Presbyterian College Union, and on October 1-3 he was in Colorado Springs for a meeting of the Educational Policies Commission of the National Education Association.

Late October will find him in Cleveland as the delegate of the Presbyterian Church to the fourth National Study Conference on the Churches and World Order, sponsored by the National Council of Churches, and on November 4-6 he will be in Buck Hill Falls, Pa., for a conference on professional Christian education leadership. Mid-November will find him again in Pennsylvania for a meeting in Philadelphia of a special committee of the Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. Back in St. Louis on November 19 he and Mrs. McCluer will be guests of the Lindenwood Evening Club at a dinner meeting, at which Dr. McCluer will be the speaker.

Mrs. Margaret Pfaff Reschetz of Rochelle, Ill., senior major in music education, is president of the Student Christian Association.

Dean Nickell's Book Widely Used

An extended use of "Management in Family Living" (second edition) by Lindenwood's dean, Dr. Paulena Nickell, and Mrs. Jean Muir Dorsey, was announced recently when the publishers granted permission for the book to be recorded for the blind. Published both in America and England, the book has been adopted for use in 334 institutions.

The scope of the book is tremendous — covering subjects ranging from the philosophy of home and family life to family budgeting and housing and the homemakers' fatigue and kitchen arrangements. In the words of the authors, the book is "a study of the place of management in homemaking and family life, the development of methods of analyzing and solving the management responsibilities in family living, and the role of the democratic home in the development of the socially adjusted individual."

Of the many favorable reviews of the book, we quote from one: "A unique and helpful mixture of brass tacks and theory on the everyday business of running a family."

Dormitory Parlors, Sibley Chapel Redecorated

Immediate tours of the campus were a "must" for returning students this fall to check up on the vast decorating program that took place at Lindenwood last summer. Parlors in Sibley, Niccolls, and Butler Halls are redecorated and refurnished, Sibley Chapel has had its face lifted, Butler has new floors throughout, Niccolls has newly painted walls, and the Ayres dining room has a gay new floor, to give an incomplete list of improvements.

Sibley parlors are in charming Victorian style — which surely would delight Mary Sibley if she could see it. The walls are papered in authentic Victorian patterned wallpaper, and pale rose drapes hang at the windows. The wall-to-wall carpeting is in pale beige. There is a circular seat of green velvet around the pillar in the big parlor, and in the smaller parlor, Mrs. Sibley's organ has a mahogany chair with a pink velvet seat. Victorian sofas, chairs, lamps, tables, and pictures complete the rooms.

Alumnae should find new pleasure in attending the annual meeting of the alumnae association in Sibley Chapel, which indeed has a new look: a new floor, crystal and gold chandeliers, off-white walls with red drapes at the windows, and a charcoal ceiling.

Niccolls' parlor has green wall-to-wall carpeting with matching walls and woodwork, and Butler's walls and floor are in a rich beige, with complimentary colors in the fabrics for drapes and upholstery in both halls.

The welcome sign is out for all alumnae to make their own inspection tours!

More or Less Personal

A new home at 182 Easton Rd., Dallas 18, a dachshund puppy, a job, and a husband provide a busy life for Mrs. David P. Smith (Esther E. Lietemeyer, 1945-46), but she writes she hopes to find time for a visit to Lindenwood soon.

Here's news of the Runnenburger sisters: Mrs. W. R. Shelton, Jr., (Miriam Runnenburger, B. S. 1932) 1224 N. W. 21st, Oklahoma City, is described as "busy in church and school activities—to say nothing of her home, with her five children and all their friends in most of the time!" Her husband is connected with a finance company. Mrs. George F. Brock (Elinor Runnenburger, 1931-33) moved this fall to 819 Kensington Pl., Aurora, Ill., where her husband is principal of a high school. They have a son, John Frank, 14. Mrs. Robert Kershaw, Jr., (Emily Runnenburger, 1931-34) writes that since her husband's death in 1949 she has travelled—to Cuba, to Spain for an extended stay, during which she toured eight European countries, and from coast to coast in this country. At home at 100a S. Independence, Harrisonville, Mo., between travels she has been active in Eastern Star work.

From her home in Los Angeles (1058 S. Hudson Ave.), Miss Mabel A. Sanders (1887-90) writes that she enjoys receiving the Bulletin, and says, "I am always proud that I was privileged to attend Lindenwood, and even now things come up often that remind me of something associated with Lindenwood and of things that I learned there."

Mrs. Victor E. Schulze, Jr. (Peggy Dowd, 1946-48) writes that she and her husband, a senior medical student at the University of Texas, live at 523 North Blvd., Galveston, and sends this information about three Lindenwood friends: Barbara Lawes (1947-48), her husband, Frank Click, Jr., and their 13-months-old daughter, Laura Ellen, live in Beaumont, Texas; Miss Nancy Campbell (1946-48) lives in Galveston and is a receptionist in the Department of Neuropsychiatry at the University of Texas Medical Branch Hospitals; Mrs. Waters S. David III (Natalie Lege, 1946-47) lives in Schenectady, N. Y., where her husband is with the General Electric Company.

A new address (160 Cochran Rd., Lexington, Ky.) comes from Mrs. Mack C. Durbin (Lou Ann Drymon, 1948-50), who is teaching fourth grade and keeping house for her husband, but still wants to hear from Lindenwooders interested in forming a Central Kentucky alumnae club.

Miss Louise Clough (B. S. 1926) is teaching vocational home economics in the RI High School at King City, Mo., and is a supervising teacher in home economics for Maryville State College.

Mrs. Harold Glore (Ardyth Dudek, 1932-33) and her husband, who is an interior decorator, live at 1247 N. Main St., Elkhart, Ind. Prior to their marriage in June, 1952, Mrs. Glore taught kindergarten in Fremont, Neb., and in Elkhart.

Mrs. Richard F. Duncan, Jr. (Betty Lou Kramer, 1940-41) reports a new address, 1352 Fairmount Ave., St. Paul 5, Minn., and "four children—three headed for Lindenwood." They are Martha, 8; Ann, 5; Cathy, 3, and Dickie, eight months.

Mrs. Stanley E. Zager (Ruth Painter, A. B. 1945), Apt. 10A, 180 Mercer St., Somerville, N. J., writes that her next door neighbor is Mrs. George Morton (Carolyn Fieber, 1948-50), and they would like to locate other Lindenwooders living in their area.

Mrs. E. T. Bell, Jr. (Nancy Stigall, 1950-52) and her Doctor of Chiropractic husband have moved to 1350 Duncan Ave., Macon, Ga., and Nancy is switching from a radio job in Chicago to one with Station WMAZ-TV in Macon, where her varied duties will include directing shows, doing commercials and doing production work, for which she says, "All my radio and TV work at Lindenwood will be a great help to me."

Miss Ruth Dolan (1916-19) is sharing her home at 7705 Stanford, University City, Mo., this year with two British teachers who are here under the Fulbright exchange plan to teach in the St. Louis public schools. They are Miss Betty Garbutt of Manchester, England, and Miss Phyllis McKee of Belfast, Ireland.

Mrs. Helen Hook Hume (A. B. 1929), 2030 Geyer Ave., St. Louis, writes that she spent the summer in Mexico, and on the way home spent a day in Houston with Mrs. Norman B. Erd (Mary Elizabeth Arvin, 1922-23) of 321 - 20th Ave., Texas City, Texas.

The 1951-52 and 1952-53 station managers of KCLC, Lindenwood's radio station, have new radio jobs. Miss Sharlene Agerter (A. B. 1952) is a continuity writer on the NBC station in Milwaukee, and Mrs. John N. Wilson, Jr., (Nell Culver, A. B. 1953) is assistant to the production director of KWK in St. Louis.

Miss Nada Sue Roberson (A. B. 1953, and senior president) has a new position with the St. Louis Y. W. C. A. as assistant health education program director. Miss Camilla McCluer (A. B. 1953) is teaching high school art and supervising art in the Clinton, Mo., public schools.

IN MEMORIAM

The condolences of Lindenwood's alumnae and faculty are extended to:

Mrs. Wilbur L. Gardner (Lida Bergen, class of 1896) on the recent death of her husband in Topeka, Kan. Mrs. Gardner's address is 1259 Collins Ave., Topeka.

WEDDINGS

Miss Patricia Underwood (A. B. magna cum laude, 1951) was married on August 8 to Bruce Wallace Carswell. Their address is 31 Brite Ave., Scarsdale, N. Y.

In a candlelight ceremony in the first Methodist Church of Sikeston, Mo., on August 1, Miss Phyllis Laux (A. B. 1953) became the bride of John Howard Kendig, Washington University medical student. Among the bridesmaids were Mrs. Marlin Barklage (Jean Knox, A. B. 1953) and Miss Sondra Beck, Lindenwood sophomore. The Kendigs are living at 4480 Laclede Ave., St. Louis, and Phyllis is attending the Washington U. School of Occupational Therapy.

On July 14 Miss Margaret Pfoff, Lindenwood senior and president of the Student Christian Association this year, became the bride of 2nd Lt. Raymond R. Reschetz of Evanston, Ill., an engineering graduate of the Missouri School of Mines. Among the attendants in the formal ceremony at First Presbyterian Church in Rochelle, Ill., was Miss Dolores Kiss of Chicago, Lindenwood junior.

Miss Jean Doris Meyerhoff (1947-49) was married in a garden ceremony at the home of her parents in Highland Park, Ill., on June 20 to Harry W. Strauss of Chicago. They are living at 7270 S. Shore Dr., Chicago.

B. S. in speech. Being crazy about radio, I took a radio job in Omaha. It was quite thrilling, at first, but after 18 months of doing everything but mop floors, I found radio slightly unglamorous! I switched to teaching creative dramatics to youngsters at the Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha 'til Prince Charming in the form of a graduating medical student took me off as a bride to Boston in 1949. After a year's internship and a stint in the Navy—Boston, Buffalo, Norfolk—we came here in July, 1952, where Bob is a resident at the Menninger School of Psychiatry. I find it wonderful to be in the Midwest again, where St. Charles and old friends aren't so far off. How could I forget—we have an all too lively 3-year-old, Alex, who will, no doubt, be chasing the Lindenwood gals by 1968!"

Patsy Powell (Mrs. Scott McDonald), 4437 Geddes, Fort Worth, Texas: "I was married in April, 1950, to Scott McDonald of Fort Worth. We have one son, Scott Martin McDonald, born in January, 1952."

Betty Miller (Mrs. Walter Nichols Trulock, III), 910 Manor Road, Falls Church, Va.: "After leaving Lindenwood I took a degree at Louisiana State University, then worked for several years as a secretary at Mississippi Southern College at Hattiesburg, where my family had moved from Pine Bluff. Next I moved to New York City, where I was employed by Columbia University for a job in the New York Times building, helping organize an International Press Institute. This job finished, I worked for B. Altman & Co. and became assistant to the publicity director. In New York I had wonderful sessions reminiscing about L. C. days with Carolyn Trimble Murphree and Margot Overmyer McBride. I loved New York, but was happy to give it up to become Mrs. Walter Nichols Trulock, III. My husband is also from Arkansas (Hendrix College) and, incidentally, a former educational counselor for Lindenwood. He took a master's degree in International Relations at Columbia University, and now is connected with the State Department in Washington."

Eloise (Snooky) Bain (Mrs. Milton D. Sherman), 1206 W. 19th St., Pine Bluff, Ark.: "I left L. C. tearfully vowing to write my friends at least once a month. I wish we had put our vows in blood, for I've lost most of my grand friends from L. C. I went on to take a degree in foreign trade at L. S. U., and then a job with an import-export broker in New Orleans, study of Spanish at International House, and a walk-up apartment in the French Quarter. In the summer of 1947 I went on a trip to Cuba, and then came back here, where in January, 1948, Mickey and I were married and went on a wedding trip to Mexico. By this time I desperately wished I had paid more attention to Dr. Terhune! Now we're settled in Pine Bluff, where Mickey manages a wholesale heating and plumbing company. We lead the busy life all small towners do, but our major time consumer is our son, Scott Tyler Sherman, 3."

successful hosts to the Olympic games last year—and the bonus remains in all the new building and face-lifting painting and repair work that they did in preparation for the Olympics. Housing is still short, and rooms are actually rationed—as are coffee, which the Finns love, and margarine, rice, and sugar.

But essentially life is good in Finland. They live their leisurely lives—retirement age is 58, stores and offices close at 4 p.m.; they entertain with Sauna parties, with coffee parties as long as the coffee lasts, and most important of all, certainly to Miss Fischer, they practice and admire the arts.

Dr. Gill to Speak in Texas, New Jersey

Dr. Theodore A. Gill, dean of the chapel and professor of religion at Lindenwood, will preach the sermon at the Union Reformation Day Service to be held in the San Antonio, Texas, Municipal Auditorium, at 4:30 p. m., Sunday, November 1. On November 20-22 he will attend the meetings of the International Missionary Council, the foreign missionary department of the World Council of Churches, at Princeton, N. J., and he will deliver a talk on "Karl Barth's Conception of Time." His paper on Barth is in connection with an international project of the council to restudy the theological bases of missionary obligations.

This fall, September through December, Dr. Gill is delivering a series of monthly addresses to the St. Louis Ministerial Association on the subject, "Problems for Protestants."

Winham - House Marriage

Lindenwood has a Mr.-and-Mrs. pair on its staff this fall as the result of the marriage on August 5 of Miss Virginia Lee Winham, assistant professor of music, and Carl House, director of food service on the campus. They were married in an afternoon ceremony at the McKendree Methodist Church in Portland, Tenn., Mrs. House's home town.

The Alumnae Can Help

We shall welcome recommendations of prospective students from alumnae and friends of the College. We hope you will not only send us the names of students, but will speak to these students about Lindenwood College. If a substantial number of the friends of Lindenwood should become very active in locating prospective students for us, calling them to the attention of the Director of Admissions, and following up by telling these students something about the College, we shall have a great increase in enrollment. Your help in this matter is earnestly requested and will be sincerely appreciated.

The following form may be clipped and mailed to the Director of Admissions, Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Missouri.
