1986 HOMECOMING WILL BE "AN EVENING ON THE MISSISSIPPI"

by Brad Bontry

The moonlight, the river, and the music will all be part of the romantic atmosphere which will set the scene on the M/V City of St. Louis Riverboat on Saturday, October 18 for "An Evening on the Mississippi". This will be the theme of Lindenwood Colleges Homecoming sponsored annually by the Lindenwood Student Government.

This evening will be filled from 9:00 p.m. until 1:00 p.m. with music played by the Peter Mayer Band. Hor d'oerves will be served throughout the evening and there will be an open bar from 9:00P.M. until 10:00 p.m. followed by a cash bar from 10:00 p.m. until 12:30 p.m. From 12:30 p.m. until 1:00 p.m. coffee, tea and soda will be served.

The King and Queen for 1986-87 will be announced sometime during the evening.

KCLC NEWS NETWORK MOVES TO ABC

by John Gore

KCLC is changing their news network from Associated Press (AP) to the ABC Entertainment Network. This change will result in a more polished higher quality news source at a more economical price.

In a recent interview Dianna Clarke said the school would save money in the long run by using from the ABC satellite. Because the sound will be are not required, as they are with AP Network. A satellite dish was installed on the roof of Young Hall on September 18, and will be picking up signals heard via satellite and not through the telephone, KCLC News will have a dramatic increase in sound quality. "Instead of sounding like someone is screaming from across the country, the news reporter will sound like he's in the same room with you." Dianna Clarke, Operations Director for says the ABC Network is tentatively scheduled to begin in about two weeks.

CHALLENGE FROM THE ALUMNI TO THE STUDENTS AT LINDENWOOD

by Burma Wilkins.

The Alumni who have managed to make Roemer 223 a comfortable place to study for the Lindenwood Community, would like to challenge other groups on campus to do likewise.

Eric Stuhler, Chairman Campus Restoration Committee Alumni Council, feels that the average student on Lindenwood campus spends 70% of their time in the classrooms at Lindenwood. Therefore, he feels it is extremely important for these classrooms to be a comfortable place to study.

Stuhler states, "Outside of the Levolor blinds, which were the major expense, the paint, supplies and cleaning items were negligible in cost - approximately $150.00. The main item was the labor."

So if your group or organization likes a challenge, how about taking a lesson from the alumni and renovate a room in Roemer.

Dear Madge,
 What is an R.A.?
 Signed,
 A. Frosch

Dear Frosh,
 The acronym R. A. stands for "Really Aggravating". This is the group of people who keep the fun level down on campus. They roam the halls in packs looking for loud stereo's, open beer cans and unauthorized kegs. You see them often at the beginning of the year at which time they are trained to smile brightly, help willingly and ooze empathy. However, the time limit for this period is about two weeks. After that, the only time you see an R. A. is when you don't want to see one.

Actually R. A.'s go through a lot of specialized training and are carefully selected for their jobs. But, lets face it, the main duty of an R. A. is to unlock the storage room so you can get toilet paper.

SENIOR PICTURES SCHEDULED

October 13-17 are the scheduled dates to make an appointment at Gallery Photo. This picture setting is free to seniors and the pictures will be in the 1986-1987 Linden Leaves. Call Mark at 946-6629 for your appointment.

ATTENTION!!!

Anyone interested in any of the management positions on the Linden World student newspaper should turn in a letter stating their interest and qualifications to P.O. Box 722. All letters must be received by Oct. 15.

FROM LSG PRESIDENT - MARK HOPPER

We've had a lot going on since my last message to you. We've had the Hawaiian Luau, the Jamacan Party, Fall Ball and even a pajama party. Tuesday evening a formal dinner was given by the College Life Committee of LSG. Live piano music was provided for dinner entertainment. Thursday night was the kickoff of the fall bowling leagues. This was a free bowling night. Regular league bowling starts this Thursday, October 9. If you like to bowl or would like to try, get your team together and meet at Grand Plaza Bowling Lanes at the corner of West Clay on Droste this Thursday night. See Marilyn Morris for exact times. Last semester was a really good time, so come join in the fun.

Class officer elections were held Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Results were not in by printing time. Freshmen elections will be held in late November.

Homecoming is coming up soon. This year's dance will be held on the riverboat M/V City of St. Louis on the riverfront. I have heard a lot of complaints about the location of this year's dance. The location could not be helped unless you want Homecoming in Butler GYM. Nearly every hotel in St. Louis is booked for that weekend. If they are not booked they are too expensive or the rooms they have available are much too small to accommodate a crowd of our size. More details on this event will be published in the next issue of Lindenworld.

A survey will be coming to each of you soon. This survey is to help us to serve you better. You will be asked to answer questions such as...What kind of music do you like?...What did you think of the last party?...What can we do to make the parties better? Please help us out by filling out a survey and getting it back to us as soon as possible. We won't know how you feel unless you let us know.

I hope everyone will participate in the survey and help us out. We really need your ideas and support. After all, it is your money we are spending. The executive council is taking on a new direction and attitude. We hope all of you will support us in our decisions.

Good luck on your upcoming mid-terms and continue to have a good semester.

RLC CONDUCTS CATHEDRAL TOUR

by Christy Diven

The Religious Life Council of Lindenwood College is planning a St. Louis Cathedral Tour on October 19. Anyone interested should let Reverend George Wilcox know so we will have an idea of how many will be attending. We will be gathering at the Presbyterian Church parking lot at 1:00. The tour includes the St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church, St. Francis Xavier College Church, First Presbyterian Church, St. Louis and attend Evensong service.

This will be a very interesting and beautiful tour. We will not only be able to appreciate the different styles of architecture and design, but learn about different religious customs. Anyone interested should join us - it will be a fun afternoon. The return to Lindenwood is scheduled for 6:00.

Intramural Bowling Begins

IM Bowling will begin on Thursday, October 9, 1986. Pick up your rosters from Marilyn Morris in Nicolls Hall or leave your name and box number with Joann. Deadline for team entries are Wednesday, October 8, 1986 at 5:00 p.m. You must have a roster of 4 with at least 1-2 subs. There will be a meeting for all captains at 9:00 p.m. on October 9 at the bowling alley. We will be going over rules, scoring procedures, bowling etiquette, handing out schedules, and drawing numbers of teams. Please be sure you have a representative present at this meeting. Cost for bowling is $3.50 This includes 3 games of bowling, shoes and a bowling ball. We will again be bowling at Grand Plaza Bowl, 506 Droste Road. The league will begin Thursday, October 9 and run 8 weeks, with the exception of Thanksgiving week. For further information, contact Marilyn Morris at ext. 222 or box 737.

"WHY NOT?!"

by Sandy Spencer

As I read Kris Fiala's piece last week on being a Freshman at Lindenwood, it brought back memories of my past three years here. On my first day at Lindenwood, it was a scorching 103 degrees. I looked forward to moving into one of the nice, air-conditioned rooms of McCluer Hall that I had been shown on my orientation visit. But when I got here, I was informed that McCluer was full and that my new room was in Irwin Hall.

For those of you who don't know, Irwin has no showers and no air-conditioning. While my grandparents were out buying me a fan, my new roommate moved in; Brenda Zurosky. Her first question was "Why did you take the closet without the door? You got here first." I answered that I thought I'd be nice. Brenda replied "Why?" Most of first semester I asked myself that same question. That's okay, Brenda could fill up a whole Lindenworld on what a horrible roommate I was. Actually, Brenda and I are good friends; now that we don't have to live together anymore.

What I wanted to say in this article is that Lindenwood becomes home very quickly to those who live here. When I go back to Jefferson City on vacations (Okay Hopper, I really live in Hickory Hill, but nobody cares but you), I feel like I'm visiting. For instance, I'll go somewhere when I'm home and think that I've seen someone from Lindenwood. (that can be embarrassing, especially if you wave at them).

People at Lindenwood really care about others. They care who they're going out with, what they did last night when they got drunk, etc. (Just kidding) (Maybe).

People at Lindenwood are supportive. At the last Judicial Board meeting attendance was so large that extra chairs had to be brought in. Which led Joe Arnold to comment that it was the biggest non-alcoholic event on campus this year.

Kris also commented on the dorm (Residence Halls sorry Marilyn) rooms. One's initial reaction to a bare dorm room is "dismay". However, by your second year, one comes to view a empty dorm room with 'possibility'. Over the years I've seen dorm rooms at Lindenwood with hanging beds, hammocks and a complete bar. I've seen rooms painted every color of the rainbow and murals on walls ranging from clowns to Jim Morrison. Every room makes a statement about the individual who lives there. Some say "come in and sit down", others say "get out and don't come back".

There are people I've met here that I will never forget. (No matter how hard I try). Where else but Lindenwood could one go to a Halloween Party and be greeted by two guys dressed as sperm? Not to mention the different instructors that I have encountered in the past years. There have been teachers that I have liked; teachers that I didn't like and teachers that I've hid from because I skipped their class. There have been events that have ended in riots, floods and those that didn't end until everyone just passed out.

So what I would answer to Kris's question "Why?" is this: every memory that I experience at Lindenwood this year will be tinged with a bitterness because I realize it will be the last. The last Homecoming, the last Cotillion, etc. And if I could, I would be tempted to change places with her and go through it all again. And also, to return her quote from Thoreau with one from the poem Desiderata "You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should... With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams. it is still a beautiful world. Be cheerful. Strive to be happy."

ALUMNI REUNION WEEKEND SCHEDULED

by Lisa Fisk

"This gives our alumni a chance to renew their old friendships, and to renew their ties with the college," said Esther Fenning, coordinator of the upcoming Alumni Reunion Weekend.

On October 17, 18 and 19, about 150 alumni will once again stroll upon the Lindenwood campus. Helen Kinell is one of these alumna. She graduated in 1917, "before it was even popular for women to go to college," said Fenning.

The Alumni Reunion Weekend is important to both the alumni and Lindenwood. "We do this as a service for them, but it is also good for Lindenwood," said Fenning. "We get to tell them face to face just how important it is to have their support," she continued.

The reunion begins with registration on Friday October 17 at 2:00 p.m., and will end at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday with a church service at the Lindenwood College Chapel. Activities will include the Annual Luncheon in Ayres Dining Hall, wine and cheese at the President's home and a viewing of the performance "Dames at Sea" at 8:00 p.m. on Saturday.

MAINSTAGE THEATRE OPENS SEASON WITH 'DAMES AT SEA'

by Teresa Butler

"Into your tu-tu. Hoist the moon. Man the spotlight swabbie. Okay, places, everybody, places.. Hennesy... "Dames at Sea".

"Dames at Sea", a musical comedy which spoofs the musicals of the 30's and 40's, is coming to Lindenwood. As the first mainstage show of the season, "Dames at Sea" is a fast paced, fun-filled play featuring 17 musical numbers.

Historical Series

by Burma Wilkins

This is the second in a series of articles concerning the heritage of Lindenwood College.

Currently the administration is editing a new student handbook to be published this term. Lindenwood College has not had a handbook since 1981-1982. We felt it would be fun to go through the student handbooks (and some rules and regulations) of the past. We will try to keep some semblance of chronological order so that the reader can put themselves mentally into the thought processes of past administrations at Lindenwood.

We will begin our sojourn with some excerpts from the first catalog at Lindenwood.

June 1858 - Damages to furniture, etc. will be charged to the student or the occupants of the room. (Some rules still apply today).

June 1860 - Every absence is an evil and injury to the teacher, the class and the student. (I'm sure most instructors felt this still applies today).

The show is free to all Lindenwood students, though reservations are suggested. Seven performances cover two weekends, October 8-11, and October 16-18. The shows will be performed in the Jelkyl Theatre on first floor Roemer Hall. Information concerning these dates and the times of the performances are available at both the Fine Arts Building and the Box Office.

"Dames at Sea" was written by George Hamsohn and Robin Miller with music by Jim Wise. Jane Horvath directed and Niki Juncker produced the play. The cast is made up of 10 actors and actresses. Joe Arnold plays the character "Lucky", Paul Gatrell plays "Dick", Linda Maley as "Mona", Terri Schwartz as "Joan", Richard Watts as "Hennessy", Jackie Wurm as "Ruby", and D. Keith Muessigman plays the "Captain". The other characters include two chorus girls that are played by Jodi Lombardo and Laura Muckerman and a sailor and a stage hand which are played by Mark Baue.

The plot centers around Ruby's (Jackie Wurm) climb from a simple girl from Centerville, Utah to the toast of Manhattan. It is a simple "Boy meets girl" type of story with plenty of old-time schmaltz intertwined in the musical. Ruby has a small part in a musical on 42nd street when the W.P.A. starts tearing down the theatre. The show is forced to move to a Navy ship, where Mona (Linda Maley), becomes sea-sick and Ruby gets her big break.

The musical has a lot of singing and dancing. Joe Arnold who plays "Lucky" says that "It's a fun show, but the funniest part is watching me dance." He also "hopes that a lot of people turn out for the show because the performance is going to be great."

June 1882- Secret correspondence, or clandestine intercourse of any kind will render a pupil liable to immediate expulsion. (Remember this is 1882).

From here on student handbooks were published as a separate item and dispersed to the students when they began their first day at Lindenwood. 1917-1918

Three unexcused absences will make the student lose her credit in that course.

Absolutely no cuts from meals will be allowed. Don't play with one girl exclusively. There are 250 in college.

Don't sit on the campus and talk unless you are working, knit if you can.

Don't get a crush! It's the surest way to get disliked.

NEW ATTITUDE SPARKS LADY LIONS

The song "I've got a new attitude" might well be the theme song of the 1986 Lady Lions. This "new attitude" is reflected in the sparkling 8-1 record at the halfway mark of the season. Head Coach Debbie Kehm attributes the new attitude to a combination of the mental and physical effort by the players, the chemistry between the players and coaches and, last but not least, to the talent of the players.

Heading the list of returning players are tri-captains Debbie Johnson, Alison Daniel, and Mary Lou Flanagan. Johnson, 1985's leading scorer, has moved to the Midfield from the sweeper back position. Daniel, the leading scorer from the 1983 and 1984 seasons, has returned to Lindenwood after a year studying in Spain. Flanagan returns to the forward line, along with Daniel and senior Kim Divis, to provide solid experience up front. However, freshmen JoJo Ostermeyer, Becky Stigen (10 goals), Stacy Croy (3 goals), and Sharon Lawson (2 goals-4 assists), are providing the bulk of the scoring punch at this time. Joining Johnson at Midfield are sophomores Jan Heaman and Jill Holmstrom along with freshman Janett Crook.

Returning junior Virginia Roland and sophomore Kathy Thornsberry are joined by freshmen Kristin Wixson, Beth Neyman and Joell Crook in the backfield. Junior Jennifer Fear, who played forward last year, is seeing plenty of action this year as the team's utility player.

In the nets for the Lady Lions are two newcomers, junior Kelly Mitchell, a transfer student from St. Louis Community College-Meramec, and freshman Cheryl Boutiette, who have combined for an outstanding .56 goals against average in the first nine games.

Keepers Mitchell and Boutiette credit much of their success to Assistant Coach Kathleen Kelley, who has full responsibility for their training and conditioning. Obviously Coach Kelley's seemingly endless conditioning and ball handling drills have been successful since the Lady Lions have given up only five goals thus far. NCAA - Division II powerhouses UM-Rolla and Quincy College scored one each and SIU-Edwardsville, a Division I team, handed the Lady Lions their only loss, a 3-0 shut out.

The first half highlights include an exciting 2-1 victory over UM-Rolla in which twins Joell and Janett Crook each scored a goal, and a convincing first place finish in the Northeast Missouri State Invitational Tournament. The Lady Lions defense was letter perfect, holding their opponents, Tarkio College and Lewis University, scoreless. Freshman Becky Stigen was named tournament MVP, scoring a goal in each game.

However, the most exciting game of the season to date was thrilling 2-1 victory over Quincy College. Forward Stacy Cray scored the first goal of the game with just one second left in the first half on a pass from stopper back Beth Neyman. The game remained scoreless in the second half until Quincy scored at the 87 minute mark to tie the game. The Lady Lions seemed to put themselves in high gear after that and play was concentrated in the Quincy end of the field until Becky Stigen scored after taking a head ball from Jill Holmstrom with just 51 seconds remaining in the game.

The necessary ingredients for a very successful season are all there—offensive punch, defensive strength coaching strategy, and most of all, desire—its just a matter of keeping what Coach Kehm call the "chemistry" together.

"ON THE JOB TRAINING" FOR 86 LIONS

"On the job training" is the key to the 1986 Lions soccer team. With only six players returning from last season's team, Coach Scott Westbrook knew he would have to get his team the experience necessary to contend with the leading teams in District 16 (Mo.) of the NAIA. Using the theory that playing better teams makes you better, Coach Westbrook set up the schedule in two distinct halves—the first half schedule composed of NCAA Division I and II teams and the second half consisting largely of NAIA teams.

Losing the first seven games wasn't the ideal way to start the season but it did provide the experience the young Lions needed. Since losing to Southeast Missouri State 4-0, they are 3-1, defeating Fontbonne 5-0, Webster 6-0, and Tarkio 2-1. Their only loss during this period came at the hands of Northeast Missouri State, another Division II opponent.

The victory over Webster also saw the early return to action of junior Dale Fiala in goal. Fiala suffered torn ligaments in his left knee during a preseason game and had been expected to miss at least five to six weeks. Freshman Todd Beffa got his "baptism of fire" filling in for Fiala.

All Midwest Selection Dominic Condellire leads the list of returning players for the Lions. Condellire, a senior, is primarily playing midfield but is also seeing some action in backfield.

Senior Bob Herdler, a four year starter in the backfield, provides the leadership necessary to the young Lions. He is joined in the backfield by freshman Tom Bright, Jon Tetrault, and John Melser and seniors Jim Ware and Steve Matlock.

Joining Condellire at midfield are much improved senior Todd Meurer and freshman Randy Gardner, Ted Naumann, Jim Cannady and Steve Fleming.

Blazing speed is the hallmark of starting forwards Bob Mertz and Mike McGuire, both freshmen. Mertz has scored eleven goals in his first eleven games, including three 3-goal hat tricks. Fellow freshmen Armando Santillian joins senior Salim Al-Ruzaigi and junior Allen Sell on the forward line.

With a little luck, continued improvement, and avoidance of serious injuries, the Lion's hopes of making the District 16 playoffs are very much alive.

Lindenwood January Term Classes

January Course: Ant 211
 American Indian education in the Southwest
 Three weeks travel-study from Jan. 2 - Jan. 19

This course is intended to introduce students to the problems of American Indian education today. To gain firsthand understanding of this issue we will travel by air to Phoenix, Arizona on January 2nd to begin our study. To get an overall perspective on Southwest native American culture we will spend January 3rd at the well-known Heard Museum which has an excellent display of Indian art and cultural artifacts.

On the 4th we will travel north to the Navajo and Hopi Reservations for a four day stay. On the 8th we will go to the Grand Canyon to visit the Havasupai Reservation (located eight miles down in the canyon). We will be spending two days with the Havasupai at a gorgeous time of year in the Grand Canyon.

On the 10th we will travel south to the San Carlos (Apache) Reservation for two days. This will be followed by a day visit to Arizona State University for lectures by well-known specialists on Southwest native American cultures. Afterwards we will visit the Gila River (Pima) Reservation, and the Papago Reservation near Tucson for two days each. We would like to conclude the trip with a one day shopping trip to Nogales, Mexico. We will be returning to St. Louis on January 19th.

During this course we will be doing research on native American education by visiting Indian schools, interviewing teachers, students, and tribal leaders. We will relate the problems of education with native American traditional religions, values, politics, and economic pressures. Students will do research on aspects of this issue which interest them the most.

In addition we will be involved in producing a student documentary film focusing on native American education. We will have video equipment with us for taping interviews and other aspects of education.

This course should be of special interest to those students in the Social Sciences, Communications (especially those interested in video production and journalism), and Education. However, any student from any other discipline could also benefit from this unique opportunity to learn firsthand about native Americans in the Southwest.

Approximate cost $500.00 including airfare.

January Term in Greece, 1987
 Course: ENG/HUM 289, Classicism and its English Romantic Tradition
 Three weeks travel-study in Greece, Dec. 28-Jan 18
 Credit: 3 semester hours of English or Humanities

The class will tour Greece, including Crete and other islands, staying in Heraklion, Corinth, Nauplion, Sparta, Olympia, and a week in Athens with a day trip to Delphi. The primary purpose is to study the arts and myths of ancient Greece in their own living contexts as well as through later historical perspectives, including those of selected English writers such as Byron, Keats and Joyce.

To obtain credit students must register for the course and satisfactorily complete the study, which includes assigned reading, attending scheduled seminar sessions, and keeping a journal. Alumni and friend of Lindenwood are invited to accompany the class. They may share in the learning experience as they wish and may join and leave the tour at their convenience. All arrangements for travel and lodging with the group must be made through the instructor and group leader, Professor Feely. Phone: 946-6912, or 947-7939.

Cost of the trip from St. Louis, including all travel, lodging with private toilet and bath-double continental breakfast and dinner, is $1750 for students taking the course for credit, $1800 for others wishing only to accompany the group. Total payment for the trip and passport numbers are due in Professor Feely's office at Lindenwood no later than 10AM, Monday, November 10.

Students interested in enrolling in these courses should contact Professors Feely or Scupin no later than October 17. *Note - Costs are given for living and travel expenses. Full-time Lindenwood students whose 1986-1987 year enrollments do not exceed 36 semester hours need pay no further tuition for one of these off-campus courses.

Expensive jewelry should be left at home.

Don't go into your neighbors room when she is away. Something might be missing.

Rooms must be cleaned by 9 p.m.

The use of victrolas and ukeles to be regulated by the Head of the Building.

Written permission to go to St. Louis, from your parents, must be filed with the Head of your Building, who will give all weekend permissions.

Students must be accompanied by chaperons to all evening concerts and entertainments.

It is the firm conviction of the college authorities that students should be placed on an allowance and be compelled to live within their income.

1926-1927

Complete reports of students scholarship are sent to parents as soon as possible after the close of each semester.

Under no conditions will students be permitted to visit hotels unless accompanied by a chaperone.

The golf course will not be used after 6 p.m. (There was a six hole golf course where the stadium now stands between Niccoll's and the stables).

All students visiting St. Charles shall return to the college by 5:30 p.m.

1927-1928

It is advantageous to make the members of the faculty your friends through college. (Another good rule of thumb in the 80's)

1928-1929

Begin well. Remember, bad work for the first year handicaps you all the way through college.

1929-1930

The rich and the poor have equal standing at Lindenwood.

Prizes in each building are awarded to the ones having the highest grades at the end of the year.

By the order of the Board of Directors, students are prohibited from smoking.

1938-1939

Seniors and juniors are allowed two dates during the week and on Friday and Saturday nights. Sophomores are allowed one date during the week and on Friday and Saturday. Freshmen are allowed dates on Friday and Saturday night only. Arrangements for dates must be made in advance with Regent of your dormitory. You may have dinner off campus with your date. All dates must call for you at your dormitory. And everyone must return by 11 o'clock.

At the close of the first semester a complete report will be sent to the principals of the high schools who transferred credits to Lindenwood. It is our desire to co-operate with them by keeping them informed of the progress of their former students.

Students wear mostly sport clothes, consisting of sweaters and skirts - formal frocks for the evening parties. Students are expected to freshen up after the days work and to wear stockings to dinner in the evening.

1939-1940

A student may go out in an automobile when she has date permission, but must be back in the dormitory by 10:45 p.m.

Students are required to be becomingly attired for dinner and stockings are required at this meal.

No curlers, scarfs or hats may be worn at any meal.

1941-1942

Lindenwood brings it's students a new service this year. A Fashion Counselor will be available on the campus to help you with problems of wardrobe planning and selection, good grooming, and budgeting your clothing allowance.

A radio will keep you in touch with the news and Charlie McCarthy but you can always listen to your neighbors if you do not have one.

Your health is important - take care of it. Eat your meals regularly, get plenty of sleep, and play as hard as you work.

Remember that hats and appropriate street clothes must be worn in St. Louis. You may omit the hats in St. Charles.

No food may be taken from the dining room.

Tables assigned in the dining room with seniors as their heads.

Lindenwood College has made arrangements for a chaperon at the Melbourne Hotel, Grand and Lindell Boulevards, to spend weekends in St. Louis.

Arrangements for dates must be made in advance with the Head Resident of your hall.

Some young men are not permitted to have dates with Lindenwood students. Consult the list in the office of the Head Resident.

Typewriters must not be used after 11 p.m.

No alcoholic beverages are permitted in any residence hall, or in any other place on campus.

No men (fathers, brothers or dates) are allowed in the rooms of students at anytime without the permission of the Head Resident.

There is no place where a person's good breeding is more clearly shown than at the table. Good table manners are an instinctive part of the well-bred.

The college requests the cooperation of students in regard to absence from the dining room, particularly for dinner on week nights in order to avoid left-overs for the next day.

College dances will end at twelve midnight.

Sun-bathing is permitted on the golf course or sundeck any day except Sunday.

1948-1949

Jeans may be worn on campus on Saturday until 5:00 p.m.

Seniors may have cars on the campus after Easter with the written permission of their parents.

1949-1950

Chewing gum in public is never considered good taste. We do not do it at Lindenwood.

Be sure you rise whenever a member of the faculty or staff enters a room. (Can you imagine rising when Doug Midyett enters a room-only kidding Doug).

A student may not go to a place having a undesirable reputation.

Students may not have, or use alcoholic beverages at Lindenwood or in the St. Charles community in St. Charles at anytime.

1951-1953

Shorts may not be worn at anytime on front campus. Smoking is not permitted at any time on front campus, or on any street.

Socks may not be worn to St. Louis or on public conveyances going to and from the city and when practice teaching.

Any student wishing to marry during the college year must first discuss her plans with the administration as well as her parents.

1957-1958

No birds, dogs or other pets may be kept in the dormitories.

1958-1959

No student may leave a mixer with an man she has met that evening or with a non-sponsored blind date. However, seniors may do so with the permission of their Head Resident.

1963-1964

A student entering into a secret marriage before coming to college (including vacation) will not be eligible to remain in the college community.

No television sets are allowed in student rooms.

A person who has been "campused" (this is a 1960's punishment) cannot watch television, go the the Tea Hole, visit another dormitory or sunbathe she is not to leave campus.

1966-1967

First semester Freshmen are required to discuss all dating plans with the Head Resident.

Older persons, including Mothers, may not stay in the residents halls AT ANYTIME.

Bermudas and slacks are NEVER worn on the streets of St. Charles, St. Louis or in public places.

Sweat shirts are not considered appropriate dress for the dining room or classrooms.

Public display of affection is also improper behavior in a dining area and offenders will be dealt with by the Cafeteria Committee.

Any student receiving financial aid is not eligible to have a vehicle on campus.

The last student handbook was printed for the 1981-1982 term (according to the Dean of Students Allen Schwab). Although some of the aforementioned rules and regulations are nonsensical in today's society the student handbook provided a point of reference and answered many questions for the student at Lindenwood.

Currently, a new student handbook is in the works at Lindenwood and it seems another tradition returns to the campus. We can only hope some of the more stringent and humorous rules are left by the wayside.

Shed Pounds With Campus Diet

by Judy Suedy

The long-term goal of the Lindenwood Campus Diet is to develop good, life-time eating habits, according to Jane Henthorn, R.N., Director of the Campus Health Center.

The diet began Sept. 8, in Ayres Cafeteria, in response to a Food Committee survey. The results indicated student desire to shed those "Freshman 20s." The busy schedules and the availability of candy bars, snacks and soda contribute to the unwanted pounds, explained Henthorn. "Part of our function is to educate students for their future health," said Henthorn.

Campus meals are prepared to appeal to students' likes, and Americans like rich, fatty food. Most diets are unappealing because they prohibit the foods we like. Don't look for a pathetic platter marked "Diet Plan". The Lindenwood Campus Diet utilizes the meals that are prepared daily at Ayres Cafeteria.

Do look for the diet posters in Ayres Cafeteria. A menu is posted daily that lists the food selections and their correct amounts for breakfast, lunch and dinner. The calories have been counted for you. A fruit list, a non-starch vegetables list and a free-vegetable list are posted, also. A weekend, suggested menu is available for serious dieters.

The present diet is a 1,250 calorie diet for females. However, 1,250 calories per day may not be adequate for active or tall women. Jane Henthorn strongly advises anyone interested in the diet to contact her at the Campus Health Center before beginning the diet. An initial recommendation on individual weight loss will be given and counseling on an on-going basis is available.

Lindenwood is the first campus in the St. Louis area to offer this diet. The Lindenwood Campus Diet was developed by Jane Henthorn, R.N., and Pat Perotti, a registered dietician, of Nuti-Fit Consultants, Inc. Recommendations set forth by the American Heart Association and the American Diabetes Association were followed in the development of this program.

Plans are being made for a 1,500 and a 2,400 calorie per day diet and a male diet. The Lindenwood Campus Diet is being offered as a benefit to the students, faculty and employees of Lindenwood college.

Party Policy Stated

by Joe Serra

"Students are required to fill a requisition form that must be approved," stated Marilyn Morris, recently at a seminar on preparations of parties and event.

Marilyn Morris stated that in order to hold a social event at Lindenwood College, you must fill out a form that will need signatures by the treasurer, the head resident, and Allen Schwab. Next, the form must have Marilyn's approval before it can be sent to the Business Office. If the qualifications are not approved, then you have to go back to your committees and correct the details on the party.

"You must register for a party or social event two weeks in advance," Morris explained. "You are required to set deadlines for times when they can meet and notify people on who will be in charge of special duties for the party. Also, you will need to request money in the budget, one week in advance. Once those requirements are accomplished, then the form will be approved."

Morris discussed the need for committees to set up deadlines on publicity of the event. In setting up posters for the events, you are required to write "refreshments" on the poster as part of what will be served at the party. Indicate the time, place, the theme of the event, and the name of the band for the entertainment.

On the entertainment, you must have a notice, describing what band is performing at the event, what times will they be performing, and what type of music are they going to play. Also, the party must have security. The people who are in charge of security will assign volunteers to work in groups of 3, to patrol the area around campus and are ordered to report any illegal activity to campus security office.

In having a party or social event, Morris said that you must serve non-alcoholic drinks as well as alcoholic. You must keep your drinks in the same cup that you use and you may not get a new one. Also, people are not to bring their own alcohol, whether it's in a bottle or in a cup. You also can't take any beer or alcohol out of the building or anywhere on the campus.

After the event is over, you must organize a clean-up crew. You must have 10 people on clean-up duty and each person does his share of the work. You need to fill out and turn in an inventory sheet to the Office of Programs and Residence the day after the event. In achieving these duties, then the committee groups will have another chance to organize another social event in the near future.

St. Louis Hosts AERho Convention

by Susanne Bunk

If you aspire to be a famous disc jockey or television journalist, this could be your big break.

Alpha Epsilon Rho (AERho), the National Broadcasting Society, has more than 100 chapters in colleges across the country. In April they will gather in St. Louis for their national convention.

AERho has professional members as well as students. Some of the best known are Dan Rather, Walter Cronkite, and David Letterman. Some locally known people are who members of the Lindenwood chapter are; Dan Gray, anchorperson for KMOV news, Ron Yaros weatherman for KTVI, and Casey Van Allen, production director for KMOX.

At the national convention, which will be held April 1-5th at the Clarion Riverfront Hotel, prospective employers from all over the country will be available for questioning.

St. Louis was chosen for this convention for its central location but not all of the national administration were in agreement, says Dianna Clarke, former National Officer and current Regional Director for AERho. "People who have never been here think that St. Louis is a dirty city", she stated. She was active in the fight to hold this convention here and her work paid off.

Speaking at the convention will be Gordon Jump, (Arthur Carlson, WKRP in Cincinnati), former National President of AERho, along with other well-known personalities.

THIRD ANNUAL SKI TRIP SCHEDULED

by Jimmy Felder

Glenn Korando describes it as "the most fun you'll ever have in your life!"

Glenn is the coordinator of Lindenwood's 3rd annual ski trip. MKO Buslines will provide the transportation for students to Steamboat Springs, Colorado.

"The fun starts the moment you step on the bus," says Glenn. "Grab a beer, walk down the bus, meet everyone and you're set."

"That's just the beginning though. Once we get to Steamboat it just takes you breath away. Steamboat is one of the nicest resorts in Colorado. The beautiful mountains, the friendly people, the outdoor hot tubs (one of the funnest things) and the skiing!"

The trip includes lodging for five nights, transportation, lift tickets for four days, equipment rental and more.

The trip will run January 3-10 and the total cost is $330.00 including a $15.00 returnable security deposit.

An initial deposit of $65.00 must be made by October 8. Glenn says, "If there is not enough participation, the trip will be cancelled." So get some money and get set for "the most fun you'll ever have in your life."
