

LINDEN WORLD

AN OPEN LETTER TO LINDENWOOD COLLEGE STUDENTS

For seven years, a student newspaper has served the Lindenwood College Community. Its pages, from our first issue to the present, have provided a window into the lives of our students. However, the tradition has continued through great times and hard.

Today you look at this page as the last issue of a Lindenwood student newspaper. Another has replaced the role of the newspaper and to our regret, without adequate warning, the LINDENWOOD will cease to exist.

You may have wondered, "Why do we need a newspaper when we have other means of communication?" The answer is simple: to provide a record of our lives and to help you help.

If you are interested in seeing the last issue of a student newspaper, you can find it at the Lindenwood Student Center. The meeting will be held in the Student Center at 11:00 AM on Thursday morning, November 26, 1998.

To the student newspaper, always a student newspaper, we wish to say goodbye. The tradition has continued through great times and hard.

HELP!

Faint, illegible text and a rectangular box, possibly a form or a placeholder for content that is too light to read.

LINDEN WORLD

EDITOR

BUSINESS MANAGER

PHOTOGRAPHER

LAYOUT

TYPESETTING

AN OPEN LETTER TO LINDENWOOD COLLEGE STUDENTS

For seven decades, a student newspaper has served the Lindenwood College Community. Its shape, form and content has changed. Publications schedules have varied widely. However, the tradition has continued through good times and bad.

Today you look at what may be the last edition of a Lindenwood student newspaper. Attrition has reduced the size of the newspaper staff to one person. Without additional staffing, the LINDENWORLD will cease to publish.

You now face a challenge. You can contribute to the resurrection of a viable campus newspaper. The campus newspaper does not need polished professionals; it needs your help.

If you are interested in serving on the staff of a vital campus newspaper, you are invited to attend a reorganizational meeting of the newspaper's staff. The meeting will be held in the Cardinal Room of Ayres Dining Hall at 11:30 on Thursday morning, November 20, 1986.

As the student newspaper advisory committee, we strongly urge your participation in a constructive activity which will benefically serve your college community.

Advisory Committee

Jim Wilson, Communications Dept. Chairman
Daniel Keck, Vice President of Academic Affairs
Allen Schwab, Dean of College Life
Ann Canale, Chairman of English
Mark Hopper, President L.S.G.
Christine Cordes

Classified Ads

AN OPEN LETTER TO LINDBERGH COLLEGE STUDENTS

The news that a student newspaper has moved the Lindbergh College Community to the edge of town has caused a great deal of concern among the faculty and staff. However, the college has a long history of...

It is our hope that the Lindbergh College Community will be able to provide a better environment for the students and faculty. We are confident that the Lindbergh College Community will be able to provide a better environment for the students and faculty.

If you are interested in the Lindbergh College Community, please contact the Lindbergh College Community at Lindbergh College, Lindbergh, Minnesota.

For more information, please contact the Lindbergh College Community at Lindbergh College, Lindbergh, Minnesota.

HELP WANTED

Address: Cambridge

Jan Wright, Communications Dept. Chairman
David Kent, Vice President of Academic Affairs

Also listed: Dean of College, etc.

Mark Hopper, President L.C.C.

Charles D. ...

...

...

...