AIMEE BECKER SCHOLARSHIP FUND CREATED

Beginning this fall, a select group of Lindenwood coeds will benefit from full-tuition scholarships being established through the generosity of Miss Aimee Becker of St. Charles, a 1908 alumna. In a joint agreement between the college and Miss Becker, the Aimee Becker Scholarship Fund has been created. It provides a full-tuition scholarship, amounting to more than $18,000, every four years to an outstanding female student with good leadership qualities and potential. Beginning in September, a student every four years will be selected to receive the full-tuition funding.

According to the agreement, the recipient must be a female who has demonstrated a high level of academic achievement with a 3.5 gpa. She must possess leadership skills and must maintain a 3.5 gpa while attending Lindenwood. She also must continue to exhibit leadership skills through active participation in campus life.

In announcing the scholarship fund, President James I. Spainhower said, "Miss Becker has been a fine example of the creative, dynamic and independent women whom Lindenwood College seeks to serve today. Her contributions to the community radio station, Lindenwood's KCLC-FM, and the communications field in general, as well as her continued interest in the educational potential of today's women, will continue to be remembered by the young women who are awarded the scholarship that bears her name."

Miss Becker, age 94, is a resident of Parkside Meadows Nursing Home in St. Charles. She has been active in community affairs, the St. Charles Historical Society, the Republican National Committee and the St. Charles Lindenwood Alumni Club.

She has kept in contact with Lindenwood throughout the years and supported the institution generously. She has attended many alumni club events and, in 1979 at the age of 89, was the recipient of the Alumni Merit Award, an annual presentation to outstanding alumni. In appreciation for her donations to KCLC-FM over the years, the station granted her an honorary membership in Alpha Epsilon Rho, the honorary radio fraternity.

CERTIFICATION PROGRAM IN FINANCIAL PLANNING BEGINS

Lindenwood and the College for Financial Planning, a Denver, CO-based nonprofit educational institution, have entered into a joint educational program for training, testing and certification that leads to the professional designation, Certified Financial Planner (CFP). The agreement enables Lindenwood to be the only institution in the area that offers courses that assist in preparing students for CFP certification, said Robert W. King, acting chairman of the Business Administration Dept.

Under the joint arrangement, Lindenwood offers courses approved by the College for Financial Planning that assist students in preparing for CFP certification. Courses at the main campus include "Introduction to Financial Planning," "Risk Management," "Investments," "Tax Planning & Management," "Retirement" and "Estate Planning," King said. Upon completion of the 18 credit hours of instruction, students enroll in the College for Financial Planning for further study and a series of examinations that, if passed, lead to the CFP certification. Primary areas of employment with CFP certification include stockbrokerage, insurance, banking, accounting and law. For further information on the new program, contact Marilyn Leach at the Business Administration Dept., extension #266.
