CALIFORNIA RESIDENT TO RECEIVE MERIT AWARD

Gerald A. Gayer of Cupertino, CA, has been selected as this year's recipient of the Alumni Merit Award, an annual presentation to an individual who has demonstrated distinguished service to a career, the community or the college. A 1979 graduate of Lindenwood with a master's degree in business administration, Gayer is Manager of Quality Assurance for Monsanto Electronics Materials Co. in Palo, CA. He is a 1960 graduate of Washington University with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering.

One of five alumni nominated for the 1984 award, he was chosen for his service to the college in recent years, particularly for volunteer work as a member and former secretary of the Alumni Council from 1980-83. Gayer also is credited with supporting the college through student recruiting efforts in California. Married, he and his wife, Karen F., a 1981 Lindenwood alumna, have one daughter, a freshman at the University of California-Berkeley.

Gayer will receive the 1984 Alumni Merit Award during special ceremonies at the college's spring commencement, scheduled at 10 a.m. May 12.

AFA PLANS SPRING TOUR TO NASHVILLE

Tennessee's capital and the nation's home to the Grand Ole Opry, Nashville, is the destination for the annual spring tour planned by the Associates of the Fine Arts (AFA), a college and community organization of 150 art enthusiasts. Scheduled May 18-20 for both AFA members and nonmembers, the tour will blend artistic, historical and cultural events with entertainment to show participants the uniqueness of Nashville, said W. Dean Eckert, an AFA member and chairman of the Art Dept.

Scheduled events include a performance of WSM Radio's famed Grand Ole Opry performance; an architectural tour, including stops at the Tennessee State Capitol, the Parthenon, area homes and churches; a visit to Opryland USA; dinner and musical entertainment at the Nashville Palace; and tours of President Andrew Jackson's home, the Hermitage, and Kentucky Lake Dam. The cost of the three-day trip includes round-trip bus transportation from St. Charles, two nights of accommodations at the Nashville Ramada Inn, a ticket to the Grand Ole Opry, dinner at the Nashville Palace and all admission fees. Prices, depending upon accommodations, are $195 for double occupancy, $183 for triple and $219 for single. For further information and reservation procedures, contact Eckert at extension #240.

LCIE SERVICES COORDINATOR NAMED

Pat Beck, former secretary in the Admissions Office and narrative transcript typist for LCIE, has been named Student Services Coordinator for the LCIE. She also has served as a secretary for the Education Dept. and as an administrative assistant for the Registrar's Office. In her new position, Mrs. Beck will be responsible for the supervision of the registration and transcript preparation for LCIE students as well as the organization of the opening weekend workshops and assignment of classes, according to Arlene Taich, Ph.D., LCIE dean.

'TWELFTH NIGHT' OPENS THURSDAY AT JELKYL

The "Twelfth Night," William Shakespeare's classic comedy of mistaken identity and gender confusion, opens Thursday night for seven performances by the Dept. of Performing Arts. The final theatre production this semester, the play will be presented at 8 p.m. April 12-14 and 19-21 and at 2 p.m. April 15. Directed by Edward T. Herendeen, assistant professor of theatre, the play features musical direction by Nancy Fleming, costume design by Niki Junker and set design by Mel Dickerson, all of the Performing Arts Dept. Tickets are priced from $5-$7, and can be reserved by calling the Box Office Monday through Friday, 12-5 p.m., 946-2004.

PROFESSOR IS COAUTHOR OF JOURNAL PAPER

John A. Bornmann, Ph.D., professor of chemistry and department chairman, and Clarence J. Wolf, Ph.D., are coauthors of a paper which appeared in a recent issue of the JOURNAL OF POLYMER SCIENCE. The article, "Reaction of Nitric Acid with a Solid Epoxy Resin," describes work completed by Dr. Bornmann last summer at McDonnell Douglas Research Laboratories in St. Louis. The research was supported partially by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

WOMEN'S ENSEMBLE CONCERT APRIL 15

The newly-formed Lindenwood College Women's Ensemble will present its second community concert April 15 at 7 p.m. in the Sibley Hall Chapel. Under the direction of Nancy P. Fleming, assistant professor of choral music, the concert will feature works ranging from Chopin and Mendelssohn to Simon & Garfunkel and a medley from "Cabaret." In addition, three members of the ensemble - students Kim Divis, Violet Horvath and Lisa Olliges - will be featured as soloists. The concert is free-of-charge and open to all students, faculty and staff as well as the general public.

BAKED GOODS SOUGHT FOR 'ATTIC SALE'

Faculty and staff members are being asked to donate baked goods for "Mrs. Sibley's Attic Sale," a fund-raising event scheduled April 28 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. by the St. Charles-Lindenwood Alumni Club. Named for Mary Easton Sibley, the sale is expected to attract vendors from a two-state area who will offer a wide variety of merchandise, antiques, crafts and "tailgate items" for sale. Proceeds from space rentals and food and beverage sales will be used for scholarship awards at Lindenwood and for the partial renovation of the gym in Butler Hall. Rain-out date for the sale is May 5. If you would like to donate baked goods, contact Esther Fenning at the Alumni Office, extension #317.

PROFESSOR TO ATTEND NEH SUMMER SEMINAR

Edith E. Graber, Ph.D., associate professor and chairman of the Sociology Dept., is among 12 educators in the country chosen to attend "Anthropological Approaches to the Law," an eight-week seminar beginning June 25 at Dartmouth College. Funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), the seminar is one of several summer sessions designed for scholars at both public and private institutions who do not have access to major research facilities. Dr. Graber urges faculty members to contact her or Aaron Miller, provost and dean of faculty, for information about other available NEH seminars for Lindenwood educators. A former assistant professor of sociology at Washington University, Dr. Graber joined the Lindenwood faculty in 1982.
