AFA PLANS ILLUSTRATED LECTURE APRIL 29TH

"Charles Lang Freer - the Man and His Museum" is the title of an illustrated lecture to be given April 29 by Thomas Lawton, director of the Freer Gallery of Art in Washington, DC. Sponsored by the Associates of the Fine Arts (AFA), the event is open to the community as well as students, faculty and staff. It will begin with a 11:30 a.m. reception in Ayres Cafeteria, followed by lunch and Dr. Lawton's lecture.

Freer was a turn-of-the-century railroad magnate whose special interests were the arts of Asia and the works of American Impressionist painters. He amassed the largest private collection of the works of American painter James Abbott McNeill Whistler. With his death in 1919, Freer bequeathed his collections to the Smithsonian Institution along with funds to endow the collection and to provide for the Freer Gallery, which opened in 1921. Associated with the gallery since 1967, Dr. Lawton is a noted authority on Chinese art and is responsible for contributing to many of the publications relating to the collections in the Freer Gallery.

Reservations for the reception, luncheon and lecture are $7.50. With a deadline of April 20, reservations can be made by contacting W. Dean Eckert in the Art Dept., extension #240.

HELP SOUGHT FROM FACULTY, STAFF

TO ACHIEVE PHONE-A-THON FUND-RAISING GOALS

I am asking faculty and staff members to donate a few hours of their time later this month to aid the Development and Alumni offices in the Renaissance Alumni Phone-a-Thon. Scheduled April 23 through May 7, the event will attempt to reach nearly half of the college's 13,000 alumni. Faculty and staff volunteers are needed from 6:30-9 p.m. on April 26 and 29 to call alumni. If you can donate a few hours of your time to this important and worthwhile event, call the Alumni or Development offices and show your support.

LCIE OFFERS HOLISTIC HEALTH STUDIES

The LCIE is again offering a study in holistic health and practices during the spring term which begins April 28. The course covers the psychology, philosophy, sciences and current practices in holistic health and psychology. It is designed especially for nurses, counselors, therapists, health care providers, holistic health practitioners, health administrators and those interested in stress management. Open to graduate students and advanced undergraduates interested in health, psychology and counseling, it will be taught by Richard Rickert, Ph.D., associate professor of philosophy and LCIE faculty advisor in holistic health studies, and John Shaffer, D.Min., director of the Well-Being Center in St. Louis. For further information and registration procedures, contact Pauline Hammen at the LCIE Office, extension #385.

COEDS CITED IN NAIA BASKETBALL TABULATIONS

Four members of the Lindenwood Lady Lions have been cited by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) for their performances on the women's team this year in District 16 competition. They are Nancy Schrader, the number one rebounder with an average of 15.2 rebounds per game; Tamia Allen, who ranked third in rebounding with 11 per game; Dianne Graff, who placed eighth in rebounding with 9.9 per game; and Karen Gaines, who placed eighth in overall scoring with 14.9 points per game. District 16 in the NAIA encompasses Missouri and includes 17 public and private colleges and universities which compete in women's basketball. The Lady Lions, under the direction of Coach Christina Storey, finished the 1983-84 season with a 5:10 record.

SNACK BAR OPENS IN NICCOLLS HALL

Got the late-night "hungeries"? Make your stomach happy with something to eat or drink at the newly-opened Snack Bar in the Student Center of Niccolls Hall. The facility is open from 8-11 p.m. Sunday through Friday, offering a variety of snacks, candy, sandwiches and soda.

FIVE HOME GAMES REMAIN FOR WOMEN'S TEAM

If you haven't witnessed Coach Linda White and members of the Lady Lions Softball Team, you have five remaining home games this season. Following an away game with Hannibal-LaGrange College on Tuesday, the team has home matches with Blackburn College Thursday in a doubleheader beginning at 3 p.m. Remaining home games include an NAIA District 16 match with Missouri Baptist College at 4 p.m. April 27, followed by a doubleheader with Hannibal-LaGrange on April 28 beginning at 10:30 a.m. Show your support for the Lady Lions Softball Team and attend one of the remaining home games.

VOICE RECITAL SCHEDULED TUESDAY NIGHT

Voice students of Nancy P. Fleming, assistant professor of choral music, will present a public recital Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Sibley Hall Chapel. Open to all students and faculty members as well as the general public, the free event will be the culmination of the semester's work for participating students - Lisa Albert, Stephanie Church, Mary Grauegan, Cynthia Huse, Wes Morgenthaler, Michelle Spears, Dara Townsend and Jackie Wurm. Musical selections will include folksongs, Broadway tunes, Italian aria and German art songs.

DEADLINE ANNOUNCED FOR SUMMER 'LINDEN WORD'

May 18 is the deadline for submitting news and feature materials for the next issue of the LINDEN WORD, scheduled for publication in early July. The quarterly tabloid will be distributed to more than 26,000 supporters of Lindenwood College, including nearly 10,000 alumni throughout the country. Editorial copy should be sent to Randy L. Wallick at the Public Relations Office in Roemer Hall.

GRAB YOUR CHECKBOOK AND HEAD TO CAMPUS APRIL 28

Antique dealers, arts-and-crafts exhibitors and tailgate vendors from a two-state area will be on campus April 28 for "Mrs. Sibley's Attic Sale," a fund-raising event scheduled from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. by the St. Charles-Lindenwood Alumni Club. Proceeds from the event will be used to help renovate the gym in Butler Hall and to fund scholarship awards for Lindenwood students, according to Mrs. Glenda Schaefer of St. Charles, club president and one of the organizers of the community event. Rain-out date for the sale is May 5.

FACULTY, STAFF INVITED TO BREAKFAST

President James I. Spainhower cordially invites faculty, staff and their families to attend a continental breakfast on May 12 to honor the 1984 graduates of Lindenwood College. The breakfast is scheduled before the 10 a.m. commencement from 8-9:30 a.m. at Niccolls Hall.

COACH LEADS PREP STARS TO VICTORY

Bob Benben, coach of the Lindenwood men's basketball team, scored another victory recently when he coached the Missouri team to a 93-92 victory against the Illinois team in the annual McDonald's All-Star Classic. Held at the University of Missouri-St. Louis campus, the event pitted the best high school seniors in Missouri against their counterparts from Illinois. Endorsed by the National College Athletic Association, the game raised more than $2,000 that will be used to benefit the Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital for Children in St. Louis. In a similar game that matched the best girls from high schools in both states, Missouri took the honors with a lopsided 105-41 victory.
