LINDENWOOD
COLLEGE

YOU AND LINDENWOOD- A WINNING COMBINATION!

We know you're serious about your education and want to reach your maximum potential. Of course you want to make friends who share your ambition and your goals! If you want college to be an exciting, lively, successful experience, Lindenwood may be the place for you! We're serious about our students' success and have a long winning tradition. We're proud of the people who began their climb to success at Lindenwood. It's no accident that so many individuals emerge from our college to distinguish themselves in all walks of life. They have proven that the Lindenwood experience provides the winning edge.

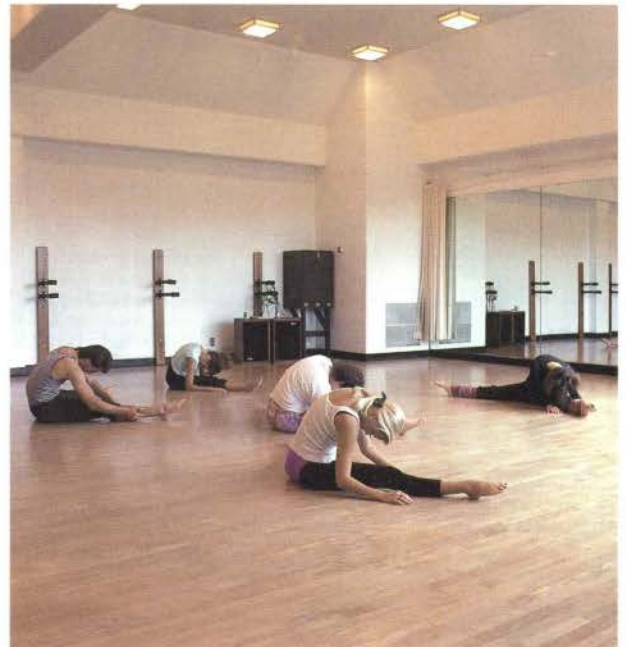

CAMPUS LIFE: WORK AND PLAY

You will never be a number at Lindenwood or feel like a stranger. You will meet young men and women from near and far. Some will have interests, talents, and experiences much like your own. Others will be quite different and will challenge you with new ideas, and share their experiences with you. The new and the familiar combine to produce the vital energy of Lindenwood life.

Involvement is the watchword for all campus activities. For example, even as a freshman, you may get to be a disc-jockey, a reporter, an actor or an actress. You can participate in student government or share responsibility in any number of other areas of campus life.

Have you tried mud volleyball yet? How about a beach party? Have you ever thought it would be fun to act on stage? At Lindenwood, all you have to do to get your chance is ask. Lindenwood also offers you intercollegiate sports activities and is a member of the NAIA and the “Show-Me” Conference.

Whatever your interests—athletic, cultural, or social activities, or all three—Lindenwood has something for you!

T HE MEASURE OF MERIT: THE ALUMNI!

Just as artists are judged by their work, a college is judged by its alumni. In our 160 years we have played a significant part in the lives of many men and women who have gone on to distinguish themselves in professional and private life. Through their personal conduct and professional success, the alumni perpetuate Lindenwood's fine reputation.

Loyalty to Lindenwood extends beyond the college years, and beyond the campus. More than 45% of the alumni demonstrate their loyalty to Lindenwood with their donations. The annual Alumni Reunion Weekend each fall gives the hundreds who have attended Lindenwood a chance to revisit their college and to meet you, the new Lindenwood student. It also offers you and others the chance to do some very productive career networking.

"Lindenwood delivered. It provided a superb Liberal Arts curriculum, prepared me to attend the graduate school of my choice, and included a real-world internship that launched my career."

Thomas Bakewell, '74
Senior Vice President
Legal and Governmental Affairs
Daughter's of Charity
National Health System

"Lindenwood will always be an important part of me. My experience there has proven to be the foundation upon which my life, career and attitudes are based."

Eric Stuhler, '78
Attorney

“My years at Lindenwood gave me an excellent foundation for my work as a television news anchor broadcaster.”

Robin Smith, 75

Newscaster, KMOV-TV, St. Louis

THE CONSOLIDATED ADVISING PROGRAM

The Consolidated Advising Program (CAP) provides you with a comprehensive array of services and resources for personal growth, academic assistance and career development.

Personal Counseling: Professional peer-group and ministerial counseling can be of crucial importance in the event of personal problems.

Academic Counseling: CAP provides you with resource materials and workshops for skill assessment and development as well as individual tutoring services. At Lindenwood we have high expectations of our students and we have the people and the tools to help them meet our high standards. Help is just a phone call away.

Career Counseling: CAP can help you find the right graduate school and/or career path. CAP helps you with your resume, conducts workshops and maintains a library of reference materials and company information files.

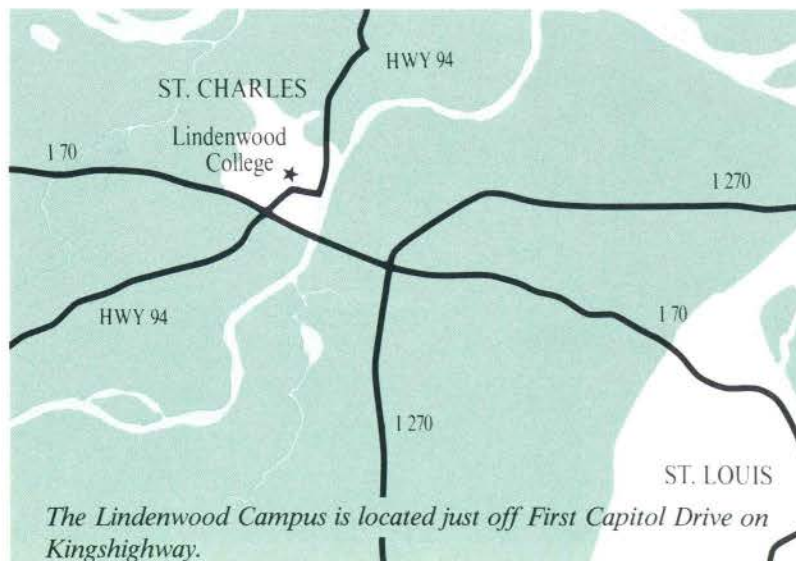

THE SAINT LOUIS AREA: OPPORTUNITY AT YOUR DOORSTEP

The quiet campus, with its tall trees and stately buildings, is a perfect setting for serious study and reflection away from the distractions of the work-a-day world. Opportunity is close at hand, however, when the mind and body crave the energy and excitement of a thriving, colorful metropolis. St. Louis, ranked as the seventh best city in the country by The Places Rated Almanac, is just minutes away from the Lindenwood campus. Here you will discover a world-renowned environment for shopping, sports, cultural and social activities and outdoor recreation. You will find:

- Headquarters for nine Fortune 500 companies
- St. Louis Symphony Orchestra
- Professional baseball, hockey, and horse racing
- Sports Hall of Fame
- Almost a dozen major theatres
- Famous neighborhoods, churches, and museums
- Numerous festivals, fairs, and exhibitions

“The pursuit of excellence’ was our motto. The professors were involved with their students and the academic environment was such that we not only learned, but we had a tremendous amount of fun at the same time.”

ACADEMICS: THE HEART OF THE MATTER!

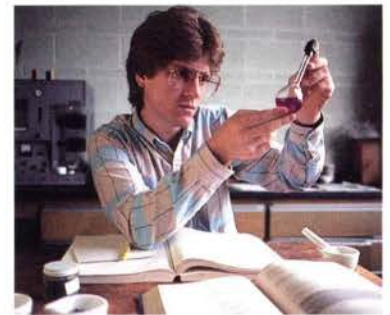

If you don't know exactly what your goals are, you aren't alone. Most entering freshmen, even when they think they have their career plans all set, change their minds sometime in the first two years of college. That's because a liberal arts education is a growth experience.

The more you learn, the more confident you become. The more you explore, the more your horizons expand. What looks good today may seem second-best tomorrow. At Lindenwood you'll learn how to explore the world of ideas, discover your strengths, and develop your abilities.

At Lindenwood we can give you the academic programs you need together with the advantages that only a small college can provide.

Small means involved. Our 10:1 student/faculty ratio means that you will get all the personal attention you need. The smaller class size allows the Lindenwood professors time to become personally involved in their students' progress. Their caring attitude, experience, and talent, gives an added dimension to the Lindenwood learning adventure.

Small means flexible. The classes you want are available when you need to take them. Your education can be tailored to your needs and ambitions in such a way that everything you study is relevant. Yet your exposure to a wide array of disciplines within the liberal arts assures that your education is as broadly-based as possible. Our aim is to ensure that you're well-rounded, well-informed, and equipped to compete in whatever profession you choose to enter or whichever graduate school you choose to attend.

TAKE A CLOSER LOOK!

The Biology, Communications and Business Administration programs serve as good examples of the depth and breadth of all of our undergraduate offerings.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION:

The department offers major and minor concentrations in Business Administration. These include: Accounting, Economics, Fashion Marketing, Finance, Management, Management Information Systems, and Marketing. The St. Louis area is one of the most vital business communities in the nation. Consequently, the business internship program at Lindenwood offers excellent opportunities for linking theory with practice in the corporate environment.

COMMUNICATIONS:

"Hands-on!" is the Communications Department credo. Freshmen don't have to wait in line behind upperclassmen to get their chance to gain experience. Majors include: Mass Communication (Including Radio, Television, Journalism, and Public Relations) as well as Corporate and Industrial Communications. KCLC-FM, our recently expanded on-campus stereo facility, is the principal radio station in St. Charles County. New radio and color television production and broadcasting equipment, as well as studio and dark-room facilities, complete the array of facilities.

BIOLOGY:

If you are planning to major or minor in Biology, you may take courses from several curricular areas including Molecular and Cellular Biology, Organic Biology, Comparative Biology, and Environmental Biology. The Biology Department also offers a major in Medical Technology. Field work in Biology often is conducted at the nearby nature preserve in the Cuivre River area. Modern laboratories, equipment, and computers facilitate your studies in Biology.

“Lindenwood gave me a firm base for the years of higher education that followed my time there. The College set a valuable pattern of high academic standards, but it also showed me how to integrate the discipline of study with expanding social activity—a ‘life skill’ that guided me throughout my college years—and beyond.”

Betty Cole-Dukert ,’46
Producer of Meet the Press

Here are some of the opportunities which our internship program has offered Lindenwood students in Biology, Business Administration, and Communications.

- Market research
- Medical Technology
- Newspaper and magazine copy and design
- Radio and T.V. broadcasting and production
- Public relations
- Accounting

THE PRIMARY ASSET OF ANY COLLEGE: PEOPLE!

The heart of any college is its faculty. At Lindenwood, we believe that we have a faculty that is as talented and dedicated as you can find at any small liberal arts college in the country. Competent, committed, and caring are words that come to mind in describing the faculty at Lindenwood.

The faculty is exceptionally well qualified to teach. More than 75% of the Lindenwood faculty has achieved the highest degree possible in their respective disciplines.

Faculty members bring more than information to the classroom. They bring experience, wisdom, and the gift of communication. Their personal and professional skills generate an ambience in Lindenwood classes that sparks interest and understanding in their students.

The faculty members at Lindenwood are committed to providing students with a fine education built on a solid liberal arts foundation. They are teaching at Lindenwood because they believe that this type of education offers the best preparation, not only for a career, but for life.

Because the student-faculty ratio is 10:1 the professors come to know you well. At Lindenwood, instructors care about you as an individual and are concerned about your growth and development. Whether you are showing exceptional talent or require their expert personal attention, the faculty is quick to respond with timely encouragement, information, and advice.

The professors become more than teachers, they become mentors and friends. Often the professors can, and do, play an active role in their students' career or graduate school search. They take the time to gain a clear understanding of your talents and dreams. They know how to help you find opportunities that match your ambitions.

Consider these advantages:

- A distinguished and caring faculty
- All classes are taught by professors, not by graduate assistants
- Personal attention to your needs
- Networking and career benefits

FINANCIAL AID AND ADMISSIONS

You probably have questions. We have the answers.

Q. How expensive is Lindenwood?

A. That depends on a number of factors. Approximately 85% of the student body receives some form of financial assistance through grants, scholarships, and loans. The average amount of financial aid is about $4,000 per year—reducing the cost to that of most state schools!

Q. How do I find out if I qualify for financial assistance?

A. Fill out a FFS (Family Financial Statement) — using code #2324 to indicate that your information is to be sent to Lindenwood College—and mail it to:

ACT Student Need Analysis Services
P.O.Box 1000
Iowa City, IA 52243
or

Fill out the (FAF) Financial Aid Form — using code #6367 to indicate that your information is to be sent to Lindenwood College—and mail it to:

College Scholarship Service (at the address listed in the FAF booklet, according to your state of residence)

Q. How do I apply to Lindenwood?

A. We'll supply you with an application as soon as we have received the reply card. Your application will get our individual attention. To evaluate your application we'll need the following items:

- The completed application form
- A check for $25 to cover your application fee
- A copy of your high school transcript
- Scores from your ACT or SAT tests
- It's also a good idea for you to visit the campus for a personal interview with one of our admissions counselors

Q. How do I apply for scholarships, grants and loans?

A. We'll put a financial aid package together which is tailored to your individual needs. Lindenwood offers a variety of scholarships and grants, based on financial need and/or academic achievement as demonstrated by your academic performance in high school and your ACT or SAT test scores.

Q. When should I begin?

A. Now. Many scholarships and Federal and State grants are distributed on a first-come, first-served basis. Don't be left out!

THINK ABOUT ALL THESE BENEFITS!

- Not everyone is capable of doing his or her best work in the midst of an anonymous crowd. At Lindenwood you'll have the opportunity to test your limits, but support and assistance will always be close at hand.
- You'll make many life-long friends here. A high proportion of the student body will have priorities and values that complement your own.
- Our tradition of excellence ensures that you'll get a fine liberal arts education.
- Networking comes naturally on our campus. People who count and who can help come to understand your dreams.
- Live in a quiet, spacious room which has all the comforts of home!
