SUCCESS STARTS HERE

Lindenwood University of St. Charles, MO

Lindenwood University is a dynamic four-year liberal arts institution dedicated to excellence in higher education. Nestled amid the beautiful linden trees, our historic 500-acre campus is situated in the heart of St. Charles, Mo., a growing community of 63,000 just west of St. Louis.

We offer more than 120 undergraduate and graduate degree programs to approximately 14,000 students through values-centered programs that lead to development of the whole person. Our faculty, staff and administration are committed to an integrative liberal arts curriculum that focuses on the talents, interests and future of our students. Lindenwood is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools.

Lindenwood University is known nationally and internationally for innovation, entrepreneurship and extraordinary dedication to students.

We believe that education is the way to personal freedom and responsibility, which are the keystones of any democracy. We have a liberal arts heritage that goes back more than 180 years. In that time, we have learned how to educate in a way that helps each student become an enlightened principled citizen of a global community.

SINCE 1827

Letter from the President

Dear Friends:

I stated in a recent ceremony that today's Lindenwood is like a good dream that does not end. That view is more than just the sentiment of a new president who loves this grand old college. It accurately conveys the very auspicious status Lindenwood presently enjoys in all spheres – academics, student development, physical plant, and finances.

Today's Lindenwood has everything going for it: We have a proud tradition as a frontier university perennially ahead of its time in both excellence and social consciousness. We also enjoy the most favorable possible location to increase our offering of higher education services to the surrounding community and region. Lindenwood has the resources, character, and resolve necessary to become the most desirable teaching university in the Midwest – the higher education destination in this region. We invite you to be a part of it.

James D. Evans, Ph.D.
President

Lindenwood University wants you to enjoy your time on campus. The Office of Student Activities exists to serve you by promoting exciting social activities and interactive relationships with other students.

There are approximately 74 diverse student organizations on campus for you to join. These organizations vary from campus ministries to Greek life, athletics to academic organizations and many more. These organizations plan activities and events throughout the year, including the International Festival, Annual Root Beer Kegger, LU-Palooza, Homecoming and Spring Fling.

Lindenwood also offers the great new Pride Intramural program. Pride hosts intramural sports such as basketball, football, washers, ping-pong, soccer, dodgeball, volleyball and several other events.

We look forward to meeting you. Please feel free to stop by the Student Activities Office in the basement of the Spellmann Center to find out how you can get involved.

CAMPUS LIFE

Faculty members and administrators at Lindenwood University are proud of students and of their success. When a student graduates from one of our many outstanding programs and enters the world outside our gates, he/she represents us. Thus, we take seriously our role in preparing our students for work and for life.

As a teaching university, we recognize that understanding how students learn is the first step in helping them learn. For instance, many of our faculty members utilize the Socratic method as a means of drawing in their students. Others model the skills of their field.

At Lindenwood, we take advising seriously. Each term, we meet with our students to discuss their career aspirations, the courses they need to complete their degrees, and the steps to take to secure positions after graduation.

Faculty members serve as mentors to students who need an extra boost and additional instruction. Students quickly learn that their professors and advisors are available for one-on-one tutoring and individual problem solving.

And this is JUST the beginning. We understand that the success of our students begins here.

TOP ACADEMICS

Admission to Lindenwood University is based upon a review of the applicant's previous academic and life experience. The university will review the applicant's previous high school and/or university course work and ACT/SAT scores. The university suggests an interview with an admissions counselor who individually evaluates each applicant.

Undergraduate Admission Instructions

1. Complete an online application at www.lindenwood.edu or mail the application in this booklet with the non-refundable $30 application fee. Attach a personal resume indicating your community service, youth leadership, clubs, organizations and non-academic experiences and essay. Your personal essay may include why you wish to further your education, your long-term goals, or a special experience in your life.

The applicant's file must also include:

- A. Official transcript, indicating graduation, from the last high school attended. A copy of the student's General Education Development (GED) certificate may be provided in lieu of the high school transcript. Transfer students who have successfully completed a two-year program that is acceptable for full credit toward a bachelor's degree may not be required to submit their high school transcripts.
- B. Send official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended. Unofficial transcripts may be faxed to the admissions office at 636-949-4989 for preliminary evaluation.

- C. Send results of either the ACT or SAT. Lindenwood's code number is 2324 for the ACT and 6367 for the SAT. Transfer students with 24 or more hours of credit and applicants who have been out of high school for five or more years may not be required to furnish scores from standardized tests, although they are recommended. Satisfactory standardized test scores are required for all students majoring in education.

D. Letters of recommendation are welcome and encouraged, but NOT required.

- 2. Call the Undergraduate Admissions Office, 636-949-4949 one week after you submit your application to be sure all the materials are in for admission evaluation and to schedule a visit and/or campus tour with your admissions counselor.
- 3. Complete a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) online at www.fafsa.ed.gov to apply for need-based aid. The LU school code is 002480. Remember to click print because that is what submits your application. Fax submission results to the attention of your admissions counselor at 636-949-4989 and sign and mail signature page to him/her. If you have any questions about your SAR (Student Aid Report) please call 1-800-433-3243.
- 4. When the application, transcripts, test scores and FAFSA information have been evaluated, you will receive a letter indicating your admission status. Your admission is not complete until all official documents are received. If you have questions, please call 636-949-4949.

Lindenwood University strives to be the preeminent representative of a new category in higher education—the teaching university. The teaching university does not aspire to be the bureaucratic, fragmented research university that populates the mainstream of higher education. It stands for teaching excellence and fiscal responsibility and seeks foremost to be accessible and affordable to students.

The teaching university is dedicated to producing and continually improving a learning-oriented campus culture. At Lindenwood, that culture includes a commitment to a campus-wide general education program that draws from the full range of the university's curriculum; education of the whole person; development of critical thinking skills and a problem-solving orientation; character education and the encouragement of social responsibility.

The teaching university supports scholarship but believes that scholarship should complement, illuminate, and enhance the processes of learning and student development. Lindenwood accomplishes this by rewarding scholarship that is incorporated into class activities and course material; by encouraging students to work alongside their professors in scholarly pursuits; by promoting a vigorous honors program; and by continuously collecting, analyzing, and interpreting data on student achievement and program assessment.

YOUR NAME HERE

Values-centered programs leading to the development of the whole person—an educated, responsible citizen of a global community—are central to Lindenwood's mission.

Lindenwood is committed to...

- providing an integrative liberal arts curriculum,
- offering professional and pre-professional degree programs,
- focusing on the talents, interests, and future of the student,
- supporting academic freedom and the unrestricted search for truth,
- affording cultural enrichment to the surrounding community,
- promoting ethical lifestyles,
- developing adaptive thinking and problem-solving skills,
- furthering lifelong learning.

Lindenwood is an independent, public-serving, liberal arts university that has a historical relationship with the Presbyterian Church and is firmly rooted in Judeo-Christian values. These values include belief in an ordered, purposeful universe, the dignity of work, the worth and integrity of the individual, the obligations and privileges of citizenship, and the primacy of the truth.

ON A MISSION

Lindenwood is not only a national leader in the number of intercollegiate athletic opportunities it provides its student-athletes, but also in the number of national titles that it has collected. Lindenwood's talented student-athletes, first-class coaches and some of the finest facilities available combine to create a championship atmosphere.

Lindenwood has won 33 national championships, with 32 of those coming since the 2001-02 school year. Eleven different Lindenwood programs have contributed to those titles, including several perennial champions.

The Lions are the envy of the roller hockey nation, as they have dominated the highest collegiate level of the sport and won seven straight national championships. The last five years, that program has also captured the national title in the JV division.

Lindenwood shooting is also the finest in the country, winning five straight national crowns and boasting a team member on the 2008 U.S. Olympic team.

Lindenwood wrestling is always near the top of the team standings at the NAIA Championship, winning four national championships and having two runner-up finishes over the last seven years.

REACHING THE TOP

Our success is defined by the success of our graduates—in the workplace and in their other endeavors. In a wide variety of disciplines, Lindenwood graduates are respected and trusted in professional life and are leaders in their fields. Preparing students for the workplace and for their future is a highly-qualified faculty of more than 200—an award-winning group of distinguished professionals who make it their mission to know their students' names and help them to reach their fullest potential.

Our most recent freshman class was stellar, with 45 students scoring 30 or more on the ACT test and 50 students who graduated from high school with a perfect 4.0 grade point average. One hundred students were in the top 10 percent of their graduating classes, and 150 graduated with a 3.6 grade point average or better. The class included six valedictorians and five salutatorians, as well as 19 Eagle Scouts, 11 Girl Scout Gold Award winners, eight student council presidents, Miss Oklahoma Teen USA, and six Miss Missouri Teen USA finalists.
