Student Politicians Name Stevenson on Tenth Ballot; Nixon Nominated by Acclamation on Second Vote

Adlai Stevenson, former Governor of Illinois, who seemingly has not lost his political appeal, was chosen as the presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket, and Vice president Richard Nixon as the Republican nominee at the mock political convention on campus Apr. 7-9. Students from 30 colleges, totalling 200 delegates, took active part in the intercollegiate convention.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson was voted Stevenson's running mate by Democratic delegates. The second spot on the Republican ticket went to New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

Stevenson, who headed the Democratic ticket in 1952 and 1956, was not nominated until the seventh ballot. He came from behind Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Lyndon Johnson, to win 106 of the 140 Democratic ballots by a compromise vote. Richard Nixon was given unanimous endorsement for president on the second ballot by the Republican delegates.

Sen. Goldwater, Congressman Frank Carlson, and Congressman Carroll Reese were weak contenders in the Republican race for presidential nomination. Other vice-presidential nominees were Sen. Everett Dirksen, Henry Cabot Lodge, Congressman Fred Schwenkel, and Sen. Clark E. Munn.

Nine other Democratic presidential nominees were considered by the delegates: Sen. Estes Kefauver, Gov. Orval Faubus, Gov. George Docking, all favorite sons; Sen. Jack Kennedy, Sen. Stuart Symington, Robert Meyner, and Chester Bowles, a darkhorse candidate.

The slate of nominees was so long the resultant vote was split until the ninth and tenth ballots when Stevenson support became stronger.

Platforms were drawn up by the resolutions committee of each convention and presented to the delegates. After debate and several amendments to each plank in the platform the conventions accepted them.

Demos Bog on Rights

Civil rights and general welfare proved the biggest stumbling blocks for Democratic delegates when they began discussing and voting on platform policies. Birth control, an

Choralaires Sing In Private Concert

The Choralaires, a special vocal group on campus, have an active spring schedule planned. A private concert was given for Mrs. McCluer by the Choralaires last Thursday. Although she is not yet allowed to have visitors, she was given permission to hear the private concert in her home.

On Tuesday, after a luncheon party, the Choralaires will perform for 700 women at the Webster Groves Presbyterian church.

The following day, the Women's Guild of the St. Louis symphony orchestra will hear the Choralaires at 10:30 a.m. at Ladue Chapel.

The vocal group will also take part in the May weekend program on Saturday morning, May 30.

Terry Ross greets Richard Bolling and George Abbott during a reception honoring both keynote speakers.

5 LC Democrats To Go To Harvard For Political Meet

Leaving next week for Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., are five Lindenwood students, all active members of Young Democrats. Wanda Wear, Patsy Mayes, Sara Ann Smith, Ginny Vanice, and Jan Rollins leave Wednesday afternoon by jet to attend a large Democratic Convention at Harvard where they will serve as official delegates.

The convention, sponsored by the university, begins with registration Thursday morning, and ends on Saturday after nominations for president and vice-president of the United States are held.

Lindenwood delegates will serve on various platform committees and participate in seminars when they arrive. The five students were delegates to the mock convention held on campus a few weeks ago.

Harvard is making arrangements for the delegates to stay in private homes in Cambridge. Patsy and Sara Ann will be guests in Boston of the parents of Bonnie Slagle, Lindenwood freshman.

Student Body Elects SCA Officers

Three members of the Student Christian Association were elected to offices in Tuesday's student body election. Nancy Lou Baker was elected vice president; Caroline Drane was voted secretary; and Elizabeth Barnhill was elected treasurer.

Results of the WRA officers election will not be released until May 6.

Blood Donors Roll Up Sleeves Tomorrow

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will return to campus tomorrow afternoon, from 12 until 6 p.m., in Butler Gym.

There has not been such a good response this time, said Bobbie Moore, one of the health center student nurses. Twenty-five students have volunteered compared to the 60 donors last fall. Only eight signed requests were returned by parents for the Bloodmobile.

Besides getting the correct blood type and a free pin signifying a donation, the Red Cross will furnish the donor or any one of her family with free blood in case of injury for one year after a blood donation is given.

Six Students To Spend Summer in St. Louis

Six Lindenwood students selected by the Rev. Raymond Bowden, director of St. Louis church social work, will be employed by the Presbytery of St. Louis this summer.

Nancy Babb, Catherine Crebs, Anna Belle Defabaugh, Karen Dorman, June Tavlin, and Katherine Tuepker will direct, organize, and teach vacation church schools, day camps, city tours and excursions, and group work.

Living together at Greeley Presbyterian Church, they will be assigned daily to different churches in St. Louis to conduct activities. The students will work from June 19 to Aug. 21.

Briscoe, Darnall Star in Comedy On Friday Night

"Death Takes a Holiday," a comedy by Alberto Casella, has been chosen as the May weekend play to be presented by the Lindenwood dramatics department. The play, to be given Friday, Apr. 29 in Roemer Auditorium, is a highlight of the annual Parents' Weekend.

Joe Briscoe and Betty Darnall, portraying Death and the Duchess of Catolica, respectively, head the cast. Others are Jo Lovins playing Grazia; Pat Payne, as Madam Alda; Marilyn Wilson, portraying the Princess of San Luca; Steve Kardaleff as Corrado; and Douglas Hume as Baron Cesarea.

Ken Cox will play Eric Fenton; Charlotte McRee will portray Rhoda Fenton; Keith Hammel will be Major Whitread; Julie Bottorff will play Cora; and Brian McCullough is cast as Fedele.

The play, which is under the direction of Ann Bloebaum, has as its theme the premise that love is greater than illusion, and as strong as death. The play which takes place in the Italian village of the Duchess of Catolica begins when Death arrives there and reveals himself to the Duchess, making her promise that she will tell no one who he is.

He explains that because he wants to learn why men fear death, he is taking a three-day holiday to observe people on earth. Disguised as an eastern prince, he becomes interested in women and subsequently falls in love with Grazia. He knows he does not want to leave her, but he knows he cannot remain on earth. The solution to his dilemma is the theme of the play.

Betty Owens is stage manager of the production.

Eleanor Mansfield To Be Crowned Queen of Festival

Eleanor Mansfield, senior art major from Cincinnati, Ohio, will be crowned May Queen at the traditional outdoor ceremony on the Lindenwood campus, at 3 p.m. Saturday, Apr. 30.

The coronation is one of the activities marking the annual May Weekend, which is also Parents' Weekend. Students are making reservations at area hotels and motels for visiting families.

Members of the May Court will be June Tavlin, first maid; Barbara Larson and Dorothy Langridge, senior attendants; Stephanie Harms and Peggy Payne, junior attendants; Anne Robertson and Marilyn Moes, sophomore attendants; and Jody Plumer and Pat Thurmond, freshmen attendants.

The coronation will be held on the campus in front of Sibley Hall. Following the crowning ceremony, all dormitories will have open house. Irwin Hall is planning an all dorm sing.

The opening event of the weekend will be the presentation of "Death Takes a Holiday," a play directed by Anne Bloebaum in Roemer Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday, Apr. 29.

A horse show will be presented by members of Beta Chi, campus riding club, Saturday morning at 9:15 a.m. Other events of the weekend will include a reception immediately following the coronation, the queen's ball Saturday night from 9-12 at Golf View Inn, home economics open house from 10-12 noon on Saturday in Roemer Hall.

Two worship services are scheduled for Sunday morning at 9:30 and 11 a.m. in Lindenwood Chapel. Services will be conducted by the Rev. George E. Sweazey, a member of LC's Board of Directors and pastor of Webster Groves Presbyterian Church.

'60-61 Student Council Officers

Nell McGee, Launa Sturgess, and Terry Ross, newly elected Student Council officers, move their committee meeting outside.

Politicians, Bark Thank LC

"Whereas Lindenwood College has extended to the Democratic Party a degree of hospitality of the highest, and whereas the convention would have been impossible without their generous support, be it hereby resolved that this party extend its appreciation to the faculty and especially to the beautiful young ladies of Lindenwood. The chair so moves. The motion carried by acclamation."

Thus it was resolved at the ninth session of the Mock Democratic Convention. We of the BARK staff offer hearty congratulations to the pupils who were so gracious and amiable to our guests on campus. We have heard only praise for our hospitality, amid shouts of enthusiasm for our favorite candidates.

The Republican delegates wrote to Dr. McCluer: "This was an experience that could never be duplicated and could be surpassed only by active participation in the National Convention."

So many remarked how our "beautiful young ladies" went out of their way to be helpful in giving directions and making them all feel welcome. We are proud to give public voice to such praise. Now, more than ever, we can stand on our own merits and be proud of our beautiful campus and the young women who make it so.

Choir Members 'Take A Bow'

It is regrettable that the spectacular must occur before society opens its eyes.

It took the choir's spring concert to give us the jolt we needed to realize how much it has done to make the world of music speak to us throughout the year.

It's true that many times we have commented on how well the choir sang at a particular vesper service, but almost immediately its words of inspiration and beauty fade away. Indeed we are frantic people living in a world spinning so fast that we can't even slow down long enough to listen to those who are trying to help us appreciate life and understand it.

It's difficult for us to conceive of the time it took to present with great impact Christ's last days on earth. And perhaps for the first time a few of us realized that spring has truly come in all its glory. Through music one could not help but hear and see God's handiwork burst forth in its simple but breathtaking beauty.

Thank you, choir members and Mr. Rehg, for your many performances which have meant so much to us this past year.

Linden Leaves Whisper

Spring Brings Rings to Girls Who Found Love at Fall Mixer

Spring has sprung! No wonder everyone has seasonal fever (best treated with doses of sassafras tea) and fraternity pins and diamond rings are blossoming out like violets after an April rain. Speaking of diamonds, there are several freshman girls on campus who are engaged to fellows they met at the first fall mixer. Congratulations to the Social Council for a job well done.

On these 70 degree afternoons the bathing suit brigade parades to the appointed sunning spots. The wind soon discourages many pale-faces, and, as yet, no signs of a sun drenched skin have been visible (with the exception of those new miracle suntans from a bottle of goo which guarantees orange skin).

The open window policy adopted because of this warm weather lends jazzy atmosphere as sounds blare from hi-fis, stereos, radios, and practice rooms. From 7 a.m. until 12 a.m., LC radiates an unlimited supply of pep and energy. Most of the credit goes to the wound up disc jockeys employed by St. Louis radio stations.

The freshmen seem extra carefree now that the English instructors have relieved them of term papers. Much midnight oil was burned on Apr. 12 after an enjoyable hour spent at the Gridiron show. Congratulations, Gridiron cast and producers, for a delightful caricature of faculty and campus.

The tennis courts that were knee-deep in snow three weeks ago are boasting many fashionable players racketing about in the newest sport ensembles. During the convention men decorated the courts. Too bad the decorations were as transient as the patriotic bunting.

Before the stimulating talks of the convention speeches, many LC women had no party preference. Whether they were influenced purely by the speeches or by some of the handsome delegates remains to be seen.

From candy egg to jelly bean And everything betwixt and 'tween We hope you found last Easter Day The very best in every way.

Davis Sings at Church

Donna Davis, junior from Sulpula, Okla., sang at the Good Friday afternoon service at the St. Charles Methodist church. The program was sponsored by the St. Charles Council of Churches.

Donna will give her junior recital May 3 at 7 p.m. in Roemer auditorium.

All Bark and No Bite

Columnist Quotes 'Almost-Facts,' Etiquette For Benefit of 'Truth-Doubters,' Ryter, Ross

And I quote; "It is better to place (salt and pepper shakers) on the table as close as you can to the other person and let him pick them up."

Although I know full well that Renee Ryter (spelled correctly) and Terry Ross wouldn't dream of doubting this I refer any others to the etiquette column in our competitor paper, The Globe Democrat, which was published exactly one week ago today.

Some people doubt the old acknowledged truth that taking the salt shaker from someone's hand brings bad luck, but some of us know for an almost fact that Betsy Alves had done just that the day she dropped in at the Dog and Suds (all apologies to Clara Tea Hole). Of Course, it could be that these doubters also think it would be really keen to be the only girl on the Lindenwood campus to own a plate glass window.

Although everyone agrees that there could be absolutely nothing in the world nicer than being a Lindenwood Lady, I know of some forty girls who would much prefer being a Lindenwood Lady in tennis shoes or such to being a Lindenwood Lady in hose and heels. Yes, the political convention on campus did do much in helping us to develop new ideas, form new opinions, and re-set our goals. As one girl said, "I've switched majors from education to business. If I'm going to have to wear heels all day, I'd a lot rather be sitting down than standing up."

If you'll notice on the left side of the page, we have formally thanked you all for being so wonderful to the young politicians. We want to go on record as saying that we think the graciousness displayed by everyone is highly indicative of the many fine qualities which can be found here at Lindenwood. (Bet you never thought you'd read something like that in a column like this.)

Probably one of the funniest things that happened the whole weekend took place in one of the Democratic sessions where everyone was trying to out-do everyone else in stating qualities of their schools. The chairman of the Westminster delegation stood up and announced that he was from Westminster College, the oldest boy's school west of the Mississippi and in favor of co-educational dorms. Not to be out-done, the chairman of the Lindenwood delegation stood up and announced that she was from Lindenwood College, the second oldest girl's schools in the United States (we are indebted to Republican Margi Bassnett and her Collegiate Dictionary for this bit of information) and NOT in favor of co-educational dorms.

This was all well and good until Westminster rose to a point of order demanding a roll call vote within the delegation.

I started with a quote. I'll end with an almost quote. See you on the green May Weekend and remember I like you all even better than I like chunklate covered ether buddies.

Taxpayer Given Easter Reprieve; Demos Gain in Illinois Primary

The 4-year-old grandson of millionaire Jean-Pierre Peugeot, who was kidnaped from a sandbox at a children's playground, was released after a $100,000 ransom was paid by his parents. This is the first Paris kidnaping in 11 years.

The father, Roland Peugeot, appealed for the boy's safe return in a nationwide telecast. He stated, "I have not made a complaint to the police. I formally promise to ask that the kidnaper should not be prosecuted."

Navy Satellite Launched

Transit I-B, a navigation satellite to help submarines, ships, and planes, was launched by the Air Force for the Navy from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

This satellite is intended to be the forerunner of a system of four globe-girdling spheres which will convey a stream of information by radio needed by navigators in latitude and longitude positions.

Shortly after launching, signals were picked up while the rocket was still climbing toward the sky.

3-Day Tax Reprieve

Income taxpayers were granted a three-day reprieve by Uncle Sam, since the deadline fell on Good Friday.

Dana Lathan, IRS Commissioner, decided that Good Friday is a legal holiday in enough states to warrant nationwide action. "Under the circumstances it was felt that similar treatment should be accorded all taxpayers," he said.

Demos Gain in Illinois

Illinois' primary election returns showed that the Democratic total votes had risen over 1956 by 100,000, while the Republican vote fell by 50,000.

Gov. William G. Stratton retained his position by winning over State Senator Hayes Robertson, while Boss Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago maintained his rule over the state Democratic organization.

Rebels Captured

A top rebel lieutenant and two other insurgents fighting in Castro's old guerilla stronghold of eastern Cuba were captured by troops under Fidel Castro's personal command.

The three prisoners, who are yet unnamed, will be taken to Bayamo military headquarters.

Protests of Goodwill Tour

The Philippines and Nationalist China are protesting at being left out of President Eisenhower's goodwill trip to the Far East.

Reports say that they feel snubbed by the President's decision to visit Japan with a side trip to Seoul for talks with President Syngman Rhee when he returns from the Soviet Union.

Criticism was reported from South Korea's pro-American political opposition. Choo Yo-Han, policy chairman of South Korea's Opposition Democratic Party, stated "We welcome his visit, but he should make some gesture to the Korean people, not just President Rhee."

LCers To Observe Christian College Sunday This Week

Each year one day is set aside for National Christian College Sunday. Next Sunday, Lindenwood sends students to the various churches in the St. Louis area with the intention of stressing the importance of our Christian colleges. This Sunday has been set aside for that purpose.

At the St. Charles Presbyterian Church Beth Bricker will sing a solo; Jane Tibbals will give the prayer; Beverly Bohne will deliver the talk; and Nell McGee will read the scripture.

Donna Davis will be soloist at the First Presbyterian Church in St. Louis. The talk will be given by Jean Conrath; prayer by Juliann Botoroff; scripture by Judy Winburn, and the responsive reading will be given by Gretel Gumper.

Speaker at the First Presbyterian Church in Ferguson is June Tavlin. Cynthia Krueger will be the soloist.

Luaine Gaines will sing at Nelson Presbyterian Church in St. Louis.

At the Normandy Presbyterian Church Gay Pauly will speak and Shirley Lee will sing.

Dr. Franc L. McCluer will preach at Trinity Presbyterian Church in St. Louis.

Launa Sturgess will be the speaker at Tyler Place Presbyterian Church. The prayer will be given by Helen Bohn; scripture by Nancy Babb and the responsive reading is to be given by Nancy Calvert.

At Christ Church in St. Louis Karen Cloward will be the soloist; Betty Owens is to speak, and the scripture reading will be given by Renee Ryter.

Dr. Charles Conover will preach at the Presbyterian Church in Farmington. At this time Betsey Alves will be soloist and the prayer will be given by Cathy Crebs.

On May 1 Elizabeth Gorsuch will sing at the First Presbyterian Church in Affton, and on May 8 the Choralaires will perform at Ladue Chapel in St. Louis.

Who's New

New Prof Enjoys Students; Forms Niche for Herself

A late comer to the Lindenwood campus, Mrs. J. A. Brizius has quickly found a pleasant niche in the business department and in the hearts of her students. She replaced faculty member Mrs. Phyllis Layton, who resigned early this spring to be with her husband who unexpectedly was transferred to another part of the country by his company.

Wife of the vice president of Fisher and Frichtel Construction Company, and a graduate of Louisiana State University, Mrs. Brizius tells people who find her name hard to pronounce that it sounds "like breezes in the trees."

While doing graduate work at LSU after receiving her B.S. in commerce, she also was an instructor in the commerce department at the university. She taught at a high school for a time and then became a business teacher at Northeast State College at Monroe, La. Previous to coming here, Mrs. Brizius taught at Miss Hickey's School for Secretaries in St. Louis for ten years.

She lives in Kirkwood, Mo., and commutes to and from Lindenwood every day. She has two children, a son, 13, and a daughter, 9.

This attractive new member of the LC faculty sings alto in her church choir at the Kirkwood Methodist church and is vice president of the P.T.A. at Robinson school in Kirkwood.

Her hobbies during the summer include entertaining guests at swimming parties at the pool in her backyard, and cooking on her barbecue pit.

Mrs. Brizius teaches business law, accounting, advanced shorthand, and effective communications. She enjoys teaching at LC and says that she likes her students very much.

Mrs. Brizius

Griffin Sports New Cover

The 1960 issue of Griffin, Lindenwood's literary magazine, will be released Honors Day, May 12. The Griffin staff has just finished choosing and compiling the book. Each student will be presented with a copy free of charge.

The magazine, edited by Norma Nixon, contains the short stories, essays, and poetry which comprise the best writing of the year, according to Dr. Agnes Sibley, faculty sponsor of the Griffin. Prize-winning entries in the freshman writing contest are also included.

This year's Griffin sports a new cover, designed by Helen Rice. Colorful in yellow, black, and white, it depicts a griffin guarding a treasure.

Foreign Fare Sounds 'Delish'

Swedish meatballs, French salad, Chinese sweet-and-sour pork, Turkish coffee, Greek appetizers, and many other international delicacies will be served at the dinner sponsored by the International Relations Club which will take place in the Fellowship Hall of the chapel Sunday at 1 p.m.

Mitzi Anderson, chairman of IRC, reported that Lindenwood faculty members and student body have shown much enthusiasm as indicated by the 100 reservations that were made during a short period of time.

All cooking will be done by the international students on campus who represent 12 nations. A special exhibition of articles typical of the respective countries will be shown.

A. Kanak Wins Citation By St. Louis Art Guild

Arthur Kanak, associate professor of art and artist in residence at Lindenwood, recently was awarded a citation at the St. Louis Artist Guild's annual oil painting and sculptor exhibition. The citation, one of eight awarded, was given for his oil painting, "Winter Orchard."

Mr. Kanak will be one of five judges at the Best of the Season Exhibit, held at the Artist Association Guild in St. Louis, opening Apr. 24. All citation award winners of previous exhibitions of the 1959-60 season will be shown.

Teachers Conduct Vocation Seminar For English Field

Job opportunities in the English field were discussed yesterday by the members of the English department and by Miss Mary Lichliter, director of guidance and placement, at the annual vocational seminar for English majors and minors.

Members of the faculty related their experiences in the English field outside the teaching profession. Miss Lichliter discussed the growing demands for English majors in various jobs such as government and diplomatic service.

Retarded Pupils Attend Day Students' Egg Hunt

The LC day students sponsored an Easter egg hunt for the retarded children who are students at Franklin School in St. Charles on the afternoon of Apr. 14. Colored eggs were donated and hidden in advance by the day students.

The event began at 12:30 when the day students transported the children to the golf course where the hunt took place. Sixteen children were entertained with circle games and refreshments. After all the eggs were found, the children were returned to school.

CRISIS IN COLLEGE

• "The university in America is not a community of scholars, but an enormous service station... where one can be born, go to kindergarten, lower school, high school, meet the girl friend and get married..."

• "If students were limited to those who were interested in learning to think for themselves... approximately fifty per cent of our college and university students would disappear."

You can't afford to miss the shocking report from which these statements are taken. It is written by a famous educator in the new issue of McCall's. It may be the most important—and damning—article ever published on the subject, and every student concerned with her future will want to read it. May McCall's, on sale now.

Constitutional Change Begins

Officers elected to head the constitutional convention, organized to revise the student constitution, are Terry Ross, president; Joan Meyer, vice-president; Sandy Schmitt, secretary; and Dr. Homer Clevenger, parliamentarian.

At the April 5 meeting committees were appointed for rewriting specific articles of the constitution, which the delegates, representatives of dormitories and campus organizations, felt needed revision. These committees reported their work to the convention at the following Tuesday meeting.

A tentative schedule has been set up for deadlines that the convention will follow. On May 3 the revised constitution will be given to the administration, and on May 10 it is to be read in student assembly.

The student body will vote on the acceptance of the new constitution on May 17.

Politicians Engulf Lindenwood Campus

Delegates, students, and faculty stand to await the arrival of the keynoter.

Democratic delegates crowd the car of Congressman Richard Bolling as he arrives on campus to address the Democratic Convention.

Republican keynote speaker hits a high point in his address to delegates and Lindenwood students.

Bark Staff Asked To Press Meeting

Editorial staff members of the Linden Bark will attend a luncheon Saturday sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, national professional fraternity for women in journalism. Miss Margaret Hickey, public affairs editor of the Ladies Home Journal, will be the featured speaker who will report on her just-completed tour of Africa.

St. Louis Area college journalism students have been invited to this fifth annual Ladies of the Press luncheon at the Montclair Hotel

Classic Club Honors Teacher

A silver tray was awarded to Dr. Hazel M. Toliver, professor of classics at Lindenwood, by the Junior Classical League at its convention in Columbia, Apr. 9, for her extensive work in the organization.

The League is a national organization of high school Latin students, and Dr. Toliver is chairman of the Missouri state division. The award, planned since last fall, was given in appreciation of all the time and energy Dr. Toliver has devoted to the organization.

Musical Comedy 'Gypsy' Theme Of Annual Gridiron Presentation

by Judy Sutera

Amid laughter and applause the Press Club presented its annual Gridiron show to a receptive audience of students, administration, and faculty April 12.

A musical program consisting of a variety of scenes concerned a "take-off" of the faculty and administration. An open Lindenwood brochure provided the setting for "U-VU-Indewoo."

Sally Tibbals, as the prospective, was introduced to the many phases of campus activity by Mrs. Farrell, one of the admissions counselors, who was enthusiastically portrayed by Gay Pauly.

Each department was presented in a characteristic manner by the students. The audience particularly enjoyed the antics in the physical education scene where Molly Jo Beasley strutted as Miss Ross, Carol Thurman loped as Mrs. Bittner, Pat McLain hustled as Miss Fenn, and Anna Defabaugh bounced as Mrs. Amonas.

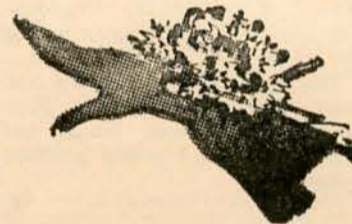

Another highlight of the program was Patty Perkins who went into her routine concerning the social life at LC as Miss Odell. Patty, with the bounce, fire, and wiggle of famous Hollywood blondes, gave a performance which met with great approval.

The climax dealt with the administration when Sally was introduced to Dr. McCluer, played by Cynthia Krueger and Dean Nickell, portrayed by Donna Davis. Donna, the Helen Traubel of Lindenwood, combined a fine voice and a bump-tious night club stage presence.

Terry Ross did an admirable job of directing and coordinating the show, which was well received and enjoyed by students and faculty alike.

Area Parks Get Pick of Picnickers as Ladies Begin Warmer Weekend Country Outings

This is the time of the year when a young man's fancy turns to romance, and young ladies' wiser natures turn to picnics.

Even without the benefit of the company of the opposite sex, many LC ladies are enjoying the great outdoors. Daddy's old Army blanket—and some of Grandma's quilts—are being hauled out to provide a comfortable resting place for the ants and for the great outdoors women.

Kroger is doing a booming business with boxed "homemade" potato salad, and left over pickles are smelling up girls' rooms until they are finally ditched for better things—like Mr. Fontaine's kitchen cooked meals.

Creve Coeur Lake (take a right off Lindbergh, watch for signs) and Babler Park are being discovered anew, while our own back campus provides atmosphere for the unfortunates without the benefit of a car.

Kay Worth has had the most success so far, even though her proposal wasn't directly accepted. ("Well, it's leap year and I had to give it a try.") Susan French has been saving old newspapers for months to start picnic fires, and Jane Ely is so excited at the prospects of Spring outings that she is neglecting her studies.

So no matter what you've heard about ants usually getting the best of you, remember:

It's a gay time for picnics
So please don't all squeal,
There's not an ant
Behind every hill.

Eleven Candidates Pledge Orchesis; Club Elects Officers

Eleven candidates pledged Orchesis this week. Having completed two semesters of modern dance, Betsy Alves, Julie Howland, Patty Perkins, Libby Helms, Becky West, Leslie Wood, Diane Douglas, Martha Lienemann, Mary Pat Tansy, Karen Cloward, and Martha Ritter were eligible to participate in the tryouts today. Each student who tried out had to choreograph her own solo and present it before Orchesis members and Mrs. Grazia Amonas.

Orchesis initiation will be held in Sibley Rec room on Apr. 28. Ken Cox, Keith Hommel, Steve Kardaloff who appeared in this year's Orchesis program, "String of Pearls," will be made honorary Orchesis members.

There will be election of next year's officers at this meeting. Plans for the Orchesis picnic on May 11 are being made.

'Old West' Theme of Annual May Weekend Horseshow

Decked out in western clothes and western saddles, Beta Chi members and their horses will paint a picture of the Old West in the annual May Weekend horse show on Saturday morning, Apr. 30.

A western square dance on horse back will feature Mary Gibson, Margaret Marie Ahrens, Kathleen Belland, Helen Bohn, Gwen Richardson, Pam Bass, Susan Perry, and Connie Schmitt.

Members of Beta Chi and LC riding students will participate in three classes; the beginning, intermediate, and advanced. A trophy will be given for first place in each class and ribbons will be issued by a guest judge. The beginning and intermediate classes will be attired in jodhpurs, shirts, and boots, and the advanced class will wear suits.

As in past years, the barn and stables will be swarming with riding students decorating the stalls and the riding ring the Friday before the show. Amidst curry brushes and polishing cloths the riders will prepare their horses for the event.

Spring Sports In Full Swing

A variety of spring sports will keep LC athletes competing as each one represents her dorm in the intramurals.

Cobbs Hall now holds Lindy as the result of the badminton tournament. Possession of this mascot will be the goal of other dorms as they participate in the bowling intramurals which began on Apr. 13 and will run until May weekend. These intramurals are held at the Plaza bowling alley on Mondays and Wednesdays from 4-6 p.m. and on Saturdays from 2-4 p.m.

Marathon swim competition began on Monday. The winners are chosen on participation and the number of laps swum in each of the four strokes. The strokes are the breast stroke, side stroke, crawl stroke, and the elementary back stroke.

Tennis intramurals are scheduled to begin on May 9.

Niccolls walked away with the honors at the riding intramurals which were held on Apr. 9. The seven classes were judged by the Methods of Teaching Riding class, and the participants were grouped according to experience. Each girl drew for the horse she would ride, and the grades were given by the point system.

Terrapin Elects Officers

Ina Rae Barklage is new Terrapin president for 1960-61, and Pat McLain is secretary-treasurer. New members will elect a vice-president in the fall.

Blanchette Park is the setting for a Terrapin steak fry to be held on May 4 at 5:30. Judy Conlin is chairman of the food committee in charge of planning and cooking the evening meal.

Riding Club Initiates Five at Special Dinner

Mimi Armstrong, Waynette Tilley, Sally Beasley, Marsha Minsky, Judy Letson, and Deann Duff are new Beta Chi initiates.

Last week as pledges they were seen on campus wearing novelty mane and tail, a forelock, riding boots, a horseshoe, a whip, and necklace of corn.

Informal initiation preceded a formal dinner at Gulf View Inn Apr. 12. New members, each honored with a corsage, related to Beta Chi pros their past experience with horses.

Lily Ann Crocker Gives Piano Recital

Lily Ann Crocker, Lindenwood senior, presented her Senior Recital at the piano in Sibley Chapel on Apr. 19. Lily Ann is a native St. Louisian and a graduate of Cleveland High School in St. Louis. It was in high school that she discovered her musical interest and then began piano lessons.

Armed with the experience of eight years of piano study and a degree from LC, Lily Ann hopes to become a piano instructor in a St. Louis high school.

For her recital Lily Ann chose examples of music from the classical, romantic, and modern periods. Among her selections were "Arioso" by Bach, and "Sonata XII" by Mozart.

St. Charles Alums Fete Prospectives, Show Film

A coke party for juniors and seniors of the high schools in the area was sponsored by the St. Charles Lindenwood Club on Apr. 13. Thirty prospectives were entertained.

Mrs. George Null, a graduate of the class of 1905, was in charge of the program. She presented Dr. Franc L. McCluer who brought greetings from the college, Fletcher MacMurray who showed the movie, "Linden Leaf," and Miss Lula Clayton Beale who talked on the accomplishments of the currently enrolled day students.

Ina Rae Barklage, president of the day students, explained the part played by the day students in LC activity and also led a chorus of day students in the singing of Lindenwood songs. Refreshments were served, and day students then took prospectives on a campus tour.

President Attends Tulsa Meeting

Dr. Franc McCluer, president of Lindenwood, spent Saturday, Apr. 2, in Tulsa, Okla., attending a luncheon given by members of the Tulsa Alumnae Club. Mrs. Hellen Ostroff, public relations director, accompanied Dr. McCluer.

The luncheon, given for alumnae, prospective students, and Lindenwood students from northeast Oklahoma, was held at the Harvard Club. Mrs. Ander K. Orr, president of LC Alumnae Association, was a special guest.

Following the luncheon, an informal reception for Dr. McCluer and Mrs. Ostroff was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Lewis.

CONVENTION

original plank in the platform, was completely stricken.

Several amendments, calling for local jurisdiction in regard to civil rights, were introduced to the convention. After extended debate the motion did not carry. An amendment to the section on taxes of the general welfare plank passed. The amendment called for an increase in income tax reductions for college students.

Noe Voted GOP Chairman

During the third session of the Republican convention permanent officers were chosen. Judy Winburn, president of Young Republicans at Lindenwood, served as temporary chairman until officers were elected. Robert Noe, was elected chairman Larry Moore, Millikin, vice-chairman; Marty Skaer and Judy Guthrie, Lindenwood, were elected unanimously as head and assistant secretaries. Jim Sweeny, Sterling, was voted reading clerk; John Ady, Illinois Wesleyan, Jim Enocks, Memphis State, Jack Billington, Millikin, were elected as tally keepers; Don Mayberry, St. Cloud, was chosen sargeant at arms. Ed Knox served as chaplain.

Herrin Serves as Demo Head

Democratic permanent officers were unanimously elected at the second session. Carole Elam, president of Lindenwood Young Democrats, served as temporary chairman until permanent officers were chosen.

Four Lindenwood delegates were elected to offices. Etta Tinsley was voted head secretary; Ginny Vanice, tally keeper; Nell McGee and Freda Miller, reading clerks. Pat Morris was appointed to take the job of head secretary when Etta was called from the convention.

Other officers elected were: Gerald Herrin, Northeast Missouri State Teachers' College, chairman; Charles Keller, Eastern Illinois, vice-chairman; Sally Anderson Blackburn, assistant secretary; Bob Robertson, Sterling, parliamentarian; Gary Ahler, Greenville, tally keeper. Roger Krumm, Westminster; Jerry Janes, Concordia; and Al Raduenzal, Millikin, served as sargeants at arms.

GOP Platform

The party platform, as selected by the Republican delegates at the mock political convention on LC's campus, was concerned with every department in the President's cabinet.

Headings for the sections of the platform, were justice, agriculture, post office, labor, commerce, treasury, defense, interior, state, and health, education, and welfare.

Using the Lindenwood Republican platform as a guide, the delegates changed the document only slightly.

Under the heading post office, the platform advocated "next day mail delivery."

Under labor, the platform stated, "We believe in good business for all business. The advancement of each and every individual, whether in large or small business is a chief concern.

Demo, GOP Sidelights

Telegrams from former president Harry S. Truman, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, and Sen. Stuart Symington were read during the Democratic convention. A resolution thanking Lindenwood for hosting the meet was carried unanimously by a hand clap and voice vote.

During the presidential nominations Saturday morning delegates from the Republican convention broke into Democratic convention hall and Democrats were forced to adjourn because of extensive rowdy noisemakers.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(DIG THIS QUIZ AND SEE IF YOU STRIKE PAY DIRT*)

"You can't teach an old dog new tricks" means (A) better teach him old ones; (B) it's hard to get mental agility out of a rheumatic mind; (C) let's face it—Pop likes to do the Charleston.

A  B  C

When your roommate borrows your clothes without asking, do you (A) charge him rent? (B) get a roommate who isn't your size? (C) hide your best clothes?

A  B  C

When a girl you're with puts on lipstick in public, do you (A) tell her to stop? (B) refuse to be annoyed? (C) wonder if the stuff's kissproof?

A  B  C

If you were advising a friend on how to pick a filter cigarette, would you say, (A) "Pick the one with the strongest taste." (B) "Get the facts, pal—then judge for yourself." (C) "Pick the one that claims the most."

A  B  C

It's a wise smoker who depends on his own judgment, not opinions of others, in his choice of cigarettes. That is why men and women who think for themselves usually smoke Viceroy. They've studied the published filter facts; they know only Viceroy has a thinking man's filter. And Viceroy has rich, full tobacco flavor—a smoking man's taste. Change to Viceroy today!

*If you checked (B) on three out of four of these questions—you think for yourself!
