FROSH COUNSELING PLAN INITIATED

14 Freshmen To Head Class

Fourteen freshmen have been appointed to the freshmen council, their membership based on leadership, planning, and organization ability as shown in their high school records and brief stay at Lindenwood.

Chosen in proportion to the number of freshmen in each dormitory they are as follows: Donna Green, Ayres; Judy St. Pierre, Sally Tibbals, Connie Walter, Butler; Margaret Robinson, Cobbs; Linda McCullough, Irwin; Judy Ross, Patty Perkins, Leslie Wood, Sue Pearson, Linda Street, Nicolls; Mary Ellen Hill, Diane Douglas, Sibley; and Ellen Gerkins, day students.

When the council, which will be introduced to the student body Tuesday, Oct. 13, meets for the first time members will elect their own president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and Student Council representative.

"The main purpose of the freshman council is to give the class a governing body until the freshman class elections are held," announced Karen Glaser, who will meet with the group for guidance. After the first nine weeks' period when grade points are known the class will elect its own officers.

The selected freshman council will plan the November Harvest Ball and style show.

LC Enrollment 503; Largest in History

"Lindenwood's total enrollment for the 1959-60 school year is the largest in the college's 133 year history," William McMurray, director of admissions, told the Bark.

Attendance records show enrollment to be 503 plus six special academic students, representing thirty-three states and eleven foreign countries. Total attendance during the 1958-59 school year was 468.

Of the thirty-three states represented, Missouri sends the largest number with 147. Sixty students come from Illinois, Oklahoma brings us 54, and 34 students call Texas home.

Our fiftieth state, Hawaii, is the farthest (geographically) represented. Massachusetts, Connecticut and Maine students are new on campus.

China, Finland, France, Greece, India, Spain, Japan, Sweden, Iran, Turkey, and Canada send us our international students.

Freshman students with 260 officially enrolled compose more than half the enrollment, with sophomores representing 118 students. Juniors and seniors make up for 66 and 60 students, respectively.

Mr. McMurray reminded us that, "Lindenwood's standards are the highest, requirements for admission are stiff, and one must study to stay."

Good repor seems to be established between upperclassmen and freshmen as shown here with Ann McKinney, Myra Cocking, Karen Glaser, Mary Fletcher Cox, and Bonnie Slagle.

Nine Teachers Join LC Staff

Nine new members have been added to the Lindenwood College faculty this year in the departments of music, English, science, sociology, physical education, art, religion, and education.

After 14 years as chairman of the School of Music at Bradley University, Dr. Kenneth V. Kincheloe is heading the music department at Lindenwood. He received his B.M. and M.A. of Music degrees from the University of Michigan, his Doctor of Music degree from the University of Chicago and will receive his Ph.D. from Florida State University. Also in the music department is Franklin E. Perkins who will teach organ. He holds a B.A. degree from Juniata College and a M.A. of Sacred Music from Union Theological Seminary.

Rowland W. Dodson, graduate of Washington University in mechanical engineering, is teaching physics.

Mrs. Paul Christianson is new in the English department. She received her A.B. from the University of Illinois and her M.A. from the State University of Iowa.

Succeeding Walter Beattie as chairman of the sociology department is Dr. Helen P. Gouldner who previously taught at UCLA and the University of Illinois.

Miss Mitzi A. Fenn has replaced Mrs. Sarah Harris in the physical education department. She holds a B.S. and M.A. from Texas Women's University.

In the art department John Wehmer is replacing Judy Glover. He has been program director of the People's Art Center in St. Louis and has also taught at John Burroughs.

Teaching part time in the department of education is Mrs. Orene Rains.

A new face has been seen by many in the Health Center. He is Dr. Paul H. Rother, the new college physician.

Aime Fontaine is now the director of food service working under Carl House.

ALD Pledges 2; Votes 2 Honorary Members

Martha Skear and Sarah Wingham, by compiling an accumulative grade average of 3.5 during their freshman year at Lindenwood, have been pledged to Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman honorary fraternity. They will be formally initiated on Oct. 28.

Lula Clayton Beale, Lindenwood registrar, was voted as ALD's eighth honorary member. Mary Louise Christianson, English professor, is also a new honorary member. She was sponsor for ALD at Valparaiso University.

Doherty Studies Manuscripts for Thesis In Apartment of Late French Author

Among the libraries of Paris, France, and in the apartment of the late author, Andre Soares, Dr. Thomas W. Doherty, with the assistance of the author's widow, began searching for and reading manuscripts which were used in preparing his thesis entitled "Music in the Life and Works of Andre Soares."

In 1949 Dr. Doherty began working toward his Doctor of Modern Language degree by taking summer courses at Middlebury College in Middlebury, Vt.

The degree required a thorough speaking and writing knowledge of two languages, which were French as the major language and Spanish as the minor language for Dr. Doherty. It required a knowledge of the literature and civilization of Spain and France, a reading knowledge of a third language, which was Italian, one year's residence and study in France, and a thesis written in French.

Dr. Doherty spent a year at the University of Paris in 1949-50. He

Leadership Training Offered Undergraduates In Program

A new student counseling program has been instituted at Lindenwood this fall. The program, under the direction of Miss Mary Lichliter, director of guidance and placement, and Karen Glaser, freshman counselor, is based on the awareness that the college has the opportunity to provide leadership training for as many undergraduates as possible.

Miss "L" stated another important factor when she said, "We recognize that the greater part of counseling goes on in the peer group and this simply organizes it."

The keynote of the entire operation lies in the 36 upperclass counselors who were chosen for six outstanding qualities: good, effective scholarship; enthusiastic loyalty to the college; high, consistent standards and fine personal values; emotional stability, good judgment and common sense; a sense of responsibility coupled to a sense of humor; and a growing maturity.

Poetry Club Plans Membership Drive

A poetry contest will highlight the fall plans of the Poetry Society. The contest, running from Sept. 28 -Oct. 16, is part of its membership drive and may be entered by any student. She said that poems of any type should be submitted to Dr. Elizabeth Dawson, Room 209, Roemer Hall.

First prize in the contest is a free membership for one year in the Poetry Society. Other acceptable poetry will provide authoresses with an invitation to become a member of the society. Judges will be a student and faculty committee. Poetry Society faculty members come from the English and classics departments.

New officers for the year are: president, Judith Batton; vice-president, Emily Hunter; secretary, Nancy Rector; and treasurer, Louise Leak.

Dr. Doherty

went back to Paris in 1954 where he did a year's research for his thesis. It amounted to over 300 typewritten pages when completed.

After ten years of studying during his free evenings and in the summer months, Dr. Doherty was granted his doctorate at Middlebury College in August.

Sincere Attitude

Karen feels that the most important aspect of the whole program is the sincerity of the student counselors and their personal fulfillment of the counselor's code.

The code is an expression of all the merits necessary to be an outstanding friend and leader to freshmen. It requires understanding, awareness, and friendship. The administration and Karen feel that all the counselors are exceptionally well qualified.

Miss "L" was extremely impressed with the interest and enthusiasm shown by the counselors at their brunch. She felt that they asked intelligent questions and that their general comments showed real awareness and a common sense approach.

"The assignment of freshmen to counselors was no hit-and-miss process but one involving much thought and work on the part of Karen and her committee," said Miss L.

The committee was composed of a representative from each class who would know the interests of her classmates; it then matched up freshmen and counselors by using a personal interest sheet on each freshman.

The counselors were told to keep in mind the slogan "attitudes can't be taught; they must be caught." Miss "L" emphasized that theirs

LC Arms Open to Frosh Workers

Participation in no outside activities at all is just as bad as entering into too many. At the end of each succeeding school year Miss Lichliter is amazed to learn how few freshmen have taken part in the numerous campus organizations. Their extracurricular college record contrasts sharply with their energetic years in high school.

Such activities as the Student Education, Association, Women's Recreation Association, KCLC radio work, drama, Student Christian Association, International Relations Club, and various other clubs offer a chance to break away from the everyday routine of classes and studying.

This is the only way you will feel a sense of belonging to Lindenwood, and most certainly Lindenwood thus belongs to you.

Appreciation Proves Campus Love

As we begin a new school year, so does our campus. Each summer Lindenwood undergoes a complete housecleaning. This year we boast fresh paint, a 60 car parking lot, new furniture, a redecorated Tea-Hole, not to mention small improvements that go unnoticed.

We owe our thanks to Mr. Bushnell and his capable "green men."

More than thanks we owe appreciation in the form of abstinence by keeping feet out and off furniture, nails and tacks out of walls, and lighted cigarettes off the carpets.

But, more than "not doing" or abstaining, we must act positively by "doing." That is: Trash must be thrown in the cans provided, tender care given to individual dorm rooms, and library books treated as our own. By "doing" these and a lot more things not mentioned we can have a healthy, happy, beautiful, and cooperative campus. Since Lindenwood is ours we are the ones that keep it productive. Let's prove we care.

KCLC Returns to Air With New Programming

KCLC, the campus radio station, returns to the air on Monday, Oct. 12, with an entirely new programming schedule. The new schedule will be posted on all dormitory bulletin boards. Many new and different programs will debut during the week of Oct. 5-10 and will continue through the school year.

LC Voters Organize For Mock Convention

The League of Women Voters, presided over by Elizabeth "Betty" Darnall, met Sept. 30 to discuss the mock political convention which will be held next March. Approximately 500 school representatives will meet then on the LC campus to discuss the national political conventions.

OUTSIDE LC

Nikita Ends Whirlwind 12-Day U.S. Visit

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev left Washington Sept. 27 after a historical visit to the United States, which lasted 12 days and created daily headlines in papers all over the world. Mr. Khrushchev travelled 8000 miles in the U.S., visited cities, industry, farms, talked with highest officials and biggest businessmen.

Officials and those who accompanied him throughout his visit say that the Russian leader was much impressed with the U.S., with the well-being of people, our abundance, the absence of class conflict or division between government and the people. Mr. Khrushchev himself, however, did not express these points in his speeches during his visit.

One major agreement between Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Khrushchev was that negotiations should be reopened—possibly at a summit conference—on the future of Berlin. No time limit was set on East-West negotiations on Berlin. The Russian leader had once given the West six months to get out of West Berlin.

Steel Negotiations

President Eisenhower, reportedly impatient over the deadlock between the steel industry and AFL-CIO United Steelworkers, prodded the two sides to action last week, in an attempt to end a strike more than two months old. The President conferred in Washington with each side separately. A short time later, under initiation of David J. McDonald, union president, negotiations were resumed.

Surveys made in the St. Louis area indicate the steel reserves are becoming short, and manufacturers report that they have enough steel on hand to last until the first of November. According to management plans, unless steel is forthcoming, layoffs are inevitable.

Upperclassmen Aren't Always Perfect Examples; Sour Cream With Chives Garnish Tossed Salad

Welcome to your "home away from home." (Isn't home-life great?) How easy it was to forsake the partying, skiing, air conditioning, and wedding-present-buying to return once more to Lindenwood Land where there is always plenty of studying, cramming, and worrying to fill even the emptiest of days.

While the new student counseling program on campus is truly a wonderful thing; freshmen, don't always follow the example of upperclassmen. It is time for Mary Warnecke's counselees to know the bitter truth—What Warnecke and the seven of you put on your salad the other night as roquefort dressing was actually sour cream and chives. Please note that everyone else found it delightful on baked potatoes.

What with tornado warnings and fire drills most of the girls on campus are becoming very familiar with the basements of their dorms—this is with the exception of Cobbs Third which never seems to get out alive.

Perhaps the tornadoes have something to do with the influx of The Collegiate Creeping Crud (Chinese Chest Rot) onto the campus. At first everyone thought Etta Tinsley and Ann Boswell had caught theirs from sleeping on the floor; but those who know swear that there are frames under those mattresses.

For all you television addicts on campus, no, that's not a celebrity you've seen walking around with a transistor radio. It's just Liz Barnhill who won it after appearing on a coast to coast telecast of "Dough-Re-Mi."

Speaking of Liz Barnhill and I was; I don't know if other dorms on campus have noticed it or not, but the concensus in Irwin is that it's pretty funny that the people who spend the most time playing bridge are Alpha Lambda Delta members. Am I right, Pat Morris?

Want to thank all the admissions counselors for the swinging parties they gave for their girls. While most of us can only vouch for one, Betty Owens assures me that they were all just wonderful.

Janie Adams and Carolyn Black nearly double-dated to Rolla the other weekend and were, for a while, quite excited about it. That is until they found out that the same boy had asked them for a date. They flipped a coin and Carolyn lost. (Janie spent the weekend on campus.) Seems that he figured the entry with the earliest post mark would win. If he only knew.

Well, it's almost time for the night watchman to knock off and beat it home for a good day's sleep so guess that I had best stop and change for breakfast.

So until next issue when we'll go through the whole thing again, remember to smile, think, be good and above all — work and play safely.

Campus Mourns Trees, Bags; Frosh Derobe in Limelight as 133rd Year Shifts into Gear

How many of you freshmen lugged to college clock radios, Johnny Mathis and Kingston Trio albums, hi-fi's, T.V. sets (which you can't use), and nine by twelve rugs, only to find your roommate equipped with similar necessary items? Don't worry, the Grand Old Seniors have done the same thing!

"Am I always going to have these purple bags under my eyes?" a studious freshman asks an experi-resting place. Irwin will have plenty of firewood for the long winter ahead!

A grateful group of Christian Education majors, who recently went on a retreat, wish to thank the Rixman Buick Company, and the Meagher Oldsmobile Company for providing two cars to help with transportation.

As editors we now relinquish the remainder of this column to a frenzied freshman. Unedited!

Weakened from within enced upperclassman (also sporting purple bags). And what do we say? Huh?

All biology students and faculty are in mourning for the loss of a dear silver maple tree and the approaching death of the old oak tree behind the Fine Arts Building. A week ago Saturday, for no apparent reason except strong winds, the maple tree in front of Sibley Hall fell over on its back or stomach (no one could be certain which it was). Several days later the pallbearers dressed in green carried our loved one to its final

"Your number is 203. Strip to your undies."

With the utterance of those fateful words, I self-consciously derobed in front of eight other freshmen in the 4 x 6 waiting room.

"Step forward, please," was the next command given. With knees shaking, I slouched to the wall in front of the cameras. Suddenly the spotlight was on me! Of all times to be in the limelight! There I stood in my oldest drawers.

I slumped there, knees locked, chest out, head forward, waiting expectantly. The camera clicked. It was over.

I hurriedly zipped up my blouse and tucked in my skirt.

The next week passed by uneventfully enough until P-Day. Posture Day, that is. I entered the auditorium and walked up to the student assistant.

"Your number please."

"203," I nervously mumbled.

"Here you are, dear."

With moist palms I grabbed the report and then —

I now take body mechanics two days a week.

Plane Disaster

A Braniff Airlines turbojet exploded in mid-air last week, killing 28 passengers and 6 crew members. The 75-passenger plane, on a Houston-New York run, crashed on a central Texas farm. The farmer, R. E. White, reported that the sky lit up as the plane exploded, which kept going and looked like a falling star. This was the third tragedy this year in which a commercial plane has blown up in flight.

Hurricane Gracie

The coast of North Carolina was battered by tropical storm Gracie last week and left in its wake heavy rains which threatened to cause dangerous flooding. Millions of dollars of damage and 10 deaths were attributed to the hurricane. Most coastal residents were warned in ample time to flee the coast and batten down property.

Linden Scroll Sells School Calendars

A calendar sale now in progress, a white elephant sale in January, and a get-together with sophomores after semester break are on the schedule for Linden Scroll members this year, President Judith Winburn announced. At Scroll's first meeting held Sept. 23, service projects were discussed. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bremen Van Bibber, after a meal planned and prepared by Dr. Marion Dawson Rechtern.

Cynthia Krueger Composes Contest-Winning Song; Gave Up Trumpet For Sake of Teeth, Neighbors

For those of you who were not at the Student Christian Association freshman song contest, Cynthia "Cyp" Krueger has done it again. Not only did her group, composed of Irwin, Cobbs, and Sibley freshmen, win first prize but they won it singing a song written and arranged by "Cyp."

"Cyp," a Cobbs Hall sociology major, directed the group. She explained that it was "written from the heart with sincerity and love."

This was not the first time for a Krueger directed group to cop a still suffers from acute stage right, but does feel that she is overcoming

it. When she first started singing in public, she was too embarrassed to sing soprano so she sang bass alto. Her high school music teacher pushed her into the field and before she knew what was happening she and three other girls had gone to Atlantic City to represent Kansas at an International Lions' Convention.

Song writing is not a new thing for "Cyp" for when she was still a child she wrote a piece called "Mother." When asked what it was like she just gave a Cypish grin and said, "Well, Mother liked it." While the neighbors weren't exactly thrilled, "Cyp" was when she took up the trumpet in the fifth grade. "One of the most tragic moments in my life was when I had to give up the instrument because it was ruining my teeth," confessed the girl who then went on to play the trombone and the baritone.

Having attended many varied music schools, "Cyp," by this time a soprano, spent one summer under Adele Addison who has the vocal part of the heroine in the "Porgy and Bess" movie.

Still undecided as to her future, "Cyp" is sure of only one thing and that is that she will do graduate study when she leaves LC in May.

SCA Sponsors Volunteer Day

Volunteer Training Day, scheduled for Saturday, will start with a coffee hour to be followed by a short devotional. Directors from local welfare agencies have been asked to speak after which Dr. Homer Clevenger, chairman of the St. Charles region of the Red Cross, will close the meeting.

The aim of Volunteer Training Day is to acquaint students with the expanding volunteer service program here in St. Charles and to help them understand the volunteer hints and techniques involved in welfare work.

Dr. McCluer Attending Meeting in Washington

Dr. Franc L. McCluer is in Washington D. C. today for a national meeting of the American Council on Education.

Mrs. McCluer will meet him Saturday in Cleveland, Ohio, for a Lindenwood alumnae meeting.

LC's Artists Plan Sketching for Fun

Plans for art weekend to be held Oct. 16-18 were announced recently by Eleanor Mansfield, president of the Student Artist Guild. Weekenders will travel to Mound Ridge, Mo., for three days of sketching, with planned entertainment by members on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Student Artist Guild sponsors art weekend twice a year for art majors and minors and the art faculty. Several members of the administration also attend. Art weekend gives the student an opportunity to draw and sketch in a natural and beautiful setting, according to Miss Mansfield. In addition to Mound Ridge, she said that members will have an opportunity to sketch in St. James, Mo.

Leaves Lively States Editor

Kay Dunham, a senior from Cobbs Hall, has been appointed editor of the college yearbook, Linden Leaves, for the coming year.

Kay will head a staff composed of Dorothy Langridge, business manager; Helen Rice, literary editor; Judy Winburn, organization manager; Sandra Bartman, organization assistant; Eleanor Mansfield, art editor; Kati Meyer, layout manager; Barbara Larson, advertising manager; Carolyn Baue and Sharon Niedner, advertising assistants; Karol Novak, photographer; and Diane Humphreys, staff assistant.

Kay emphasized that the new staff is planning to change many of the conventional ideas that have been used in previous annuals. When asked what type of material would be found in the annual this year, she stated, "As we compose the 1960 book, we are going to try to keep the student body and prospective students in mind in order to make the book 'lively.'"

Lecturer Speaks on World Problems in Tuesday's Convo

"The United States' stand on Quemoy may be the crucial event in the history of the Far East," said John C. Caldwell, a long time expert on the Orient, when he spoke to Lindenwood students in Tuesday's convocation.

Through Mr. Caldwell's constant travels and direct contact with the Far East he has become a popular author, lecturer, and newspaperman. Born in China of missionary parents, he has spent most of his life in Asia and speaks Chinese fluently.

Mr. Caldwell is the author of "South of Tokyo," "The Korea Story," "Comunism in Our World," "Still the Rice Grows Green," and "China Coast Family." His articles have appeared in leading magazines including the Reader's Digest, Coronet, and American Legion Magazine.

Home Economics Club Plans Fall Activities

Colhecon, the nationally affiliated home economics club on campus, plans to initiate new members Oct. 13. A Bermuda Brunch was held Sept. 26 to acquaint freshmen, new students, and others interested, with Colhecon and its activities.

Members and officers of the club are making plans for a series of lectures on hairstyling, flower arrangement, and a dessert bridge, to continue throughout the year.

Exchange Dances Head List in Series Of Events Arranged By Social Director

Exchange dances are the first in a series of social events on and off campus planned for Lindenwood women. The purpose of the dances is to acquaint them with men from colleges in the surrounding area.

The first dance was held on the campus of Parks Air College in East St. Louis, Ill. It is an annual party given for freshman men by the Air College's sophomore class. Thirty-six from Lindenwood attended on Sept. 25.

On Oct. 10, the Men's Residence Hall of Missouri School of Mines at Rolla will hold a dance on its campus. Approximately 65 from Lindenwood will attend the affair.

Carol Davidson, chairman of the Social Council, has also announced that there will be more sightseeing and shopping trips to St. Louis and nearby communities this month.

The theater and concert season opens in St. Louis on Oct. 24, and special student rates will be offered for plays and concerts.

According to Carol, several other special events are still in planning stages and will be announced as soon as final arrangements have been made.

Anderson Elected Collegiate Council UN Representative

As a representative of Lindenwood, Mitzi Anderson was elected one of nine regional directors of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations for 1959-60. She was chosen from among over 300 college representatives at the CCUN Institute held in Bronxville, N. Y., last summer.

Mitzi, a senior and a history and government major, is expected to maintain contact with colleges within the area assigned to her, which includes the states of Kansas, Missouri, and Nebraska, and to keep them posted with activities sponsored by the CCUN. Mitzi's official title is "Mid-Central Director." She is therefore a member of the national board of directors of the CCUN, consisting of the nine regional directors, the president, the policy vice-president, and the program vice-president. The Board meets four times a year in New York.

Last spring, she was elected president of the International Relations Club on campus for 1959-60. Later, she was also elected to represent Lindenwood at the CCUN Institute of 1959. Previously, she had represented the United Kingdom at the Colorado Model General Assembly, and Sweden at the St. Louis Model Security Council, activities sponsored by the CCUN.

Mitzi is a member of Alpha Mu Gamma and Phi Theta Kappa scholarship honoraries.

SCA Begins New Discussion Groups

This year SCA has added dialogue groups to its many activities. These discussion and study groups will meet with student leaders one hour every two weeks.

Each girl participating will be assigned to a group and will continue meeting with it throughout the semester. The topics under discussion will be left to the judgment of the individual groups. A dialogue group is a session in which the students may share ideas and search for answers to problems arising during the year.

Nancy Lou Baker, chairman of the committee, is being assisted by Sharon Stauss, Judith Keniston, and Elizabeth Owens. Leaders of the groups are Elizabeth Alves, Susan French, Joan Meyer, Annika Skott, Nancy Babb, and Sally Sicks.

McCluer Names 2 To Head Soliciting

To handle Lindenwood College's role in the United Fund drive, Sept. 27 through Oct. 3, President F. L. McCluer appointed Dr. Eugene Conover and Dr. Homer Clevenger. They will head the college's division of the drive, which involves faculty and administration.

Lindenwood's participation in the drive began in 1957-58, when its total of $1,648 in pledges and gifts played an important part in the successful campaign locally. Because the needs of United Fund agencies, and their services in St. Charles County, have increased, Dr. McCluer expressed his hope that Lindenwood's contributions would grow accordingly.

Softball Competition Underway

A game between Day Students and Butler Hall got the softball intramural season underway on Sept. 28. The Day Students defeated Butler, while, the following day, Irwin Hall downed Ayres Hall.

Niccolls Hall drew a bye for the first round and met the Day Students on Oct. 4. Irwin played the winner of the Sibley-Cobbs game in their second round of tournament play.

The softball season will end on Oct. 14 with the winning dormitory becoming the owners of "Lindy," a brown, shaggy stuffed dog. "Lindy" will remain in possession of that dormitory until the next intramural sport season.

Looking like the hero in the familiar poem, "Casey at the Bat," Judy St. Pierre stands ready to slam the ball.

WRA Schedules Nine Sports For LC Intramural Program

Nine sports, including two new activities, are being offered this year in intramurals, according to Judy Guthrie, chairman of the intramurals committee of the Women's Recreation Association.

The new sports are deck tennis and marathon swim. "These sports should round out the year's schedule and allow girls to participate in some sport every month," said Judy.

She announced that the first sport will be softball. The softball tournament will last from Sept. 28 to Oct. 14.

Following softball, these sports

21 Christian Education Majors Attend SCA-Sponsored Retreat

Twenty-one of 34 LC women majoring in Christian education attended the SCA sponsored retreat two weekends ago at Trout Lodge near Potosi, Mo. They were accompanied by Miss Mary Jean Bartholomew, Dr. C. E. Conover, and Dr. and Mrs. R. L. McLeod.

On Friday evening an informal "get-acquainted" session, where the upperclassmen reported on the type of Christian education work they have done to date, and also what their plans are for the future, opened the program. Their reports showed while all the girls are in the general field of Christian education, their chosen avenues of service were almost as varied as the number of girls present. Saturday morning at sectional meetings the different classes were separated for discussions, after which they reassembled to hear Miss Bartholomew speak on being a director of Christian education (DCE) and on the director's place in the program of the church. Dr. McLeod followed Miss Bartholomew, speaking on the relationship of the DCE to the pastor as well as to the official church committee of Christian education. Dr. Conover then closed with a talk on the opportunities for graduate work in Christian education and the various opportunities provided in the field.

SEA Makes Plans For Active Year

The Student Educational Association held its first meeting last night, in the Library Club Room.

Bremen Van Bibber, sponsor of the SEA, reported that the club expects to have an enrollment exceeding any in its history on the LC campus. This is because of a large number of returning members (60), an unusually big freshman class, and a greatly increased number of Education majors as compared to last year.

The big project of the SEA this year will be to provide assistants in the school for the mentally retarded in St. Charles.

At last night's meeting, Anne Leedy, president, explained to newcomers the purpose of the club.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(SHARPEN YOUR WITS ON THIS!*)

If you saw a girl in a bathing suit on a ski slope, would you say, (A) "What—no skis?" or (B) "Cold?" or (C) "The pool closed three months ago," or (D) "Stay right here—I'll get the guard!"

A  B  C  D

Do you think the statement "It's always darkest before the dawn" is (A) an astronomical truism? (B) a good reason for getting home early? (C) a piece of hopeful philosophy? (D) an argument for night watchmen?

A  B  C  D

Do you think that a man who can pole-vault 16 feet but doesn't like to, should (A) go out and do it anyway? (B) keep the whole thing to himself? (C) do a bit of self-analysis on why he doesn't like to go so high? (D) have the bar set lower?

A  B  C  D

When you choose a filter cigarette, do you (A) ask all your friends, and take their word for what's best? (B) take the one that makes the loudest claim? (C) investigate the facts, then use your own judgment? (D) go for the filter that gives you taste plus filtering?

A  B  C  D

It's a wise smoker who depends on his own judgment, not opinions of others, in his choice of cigarettes. That is why men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. They know only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter—the filter with more research behind it than any other . . . the filter that changed America's smoking habits. And only VICEROY has a smoking man's taste.

*If you have checked (D) in three out of four questions, you're pretty sharp . . . but if you picked (C)—man, you think for yourself!
