

Linden  Weekly
COMMUNIQUE

VOL. FOUR, NO. 13, OCT. 22, 1985

PLEASE TURN YOUR NOMINATION AND PROSPECT FORMS IN THIS WEEK FOR THE FULL-HOUSE RESIDENTIAL PROGRAM. WEEKLY PROGRESS REPORTS FOR ALL DIVISIONS WILL BEGIN NEXT WEEK IN THE 'LINDEN WEEKLY COMMUNIQUE.'

PRESIDENT TO LEAD COMMITTEE - President James I. Spainhower has been named chairman of a campaign committee that will promote passage of three issues facing St. Charles voters in the November 5 election. Composed of civic and business leaders, the committee is promoting approval of monthly user fee for residences and businesses for storm water control projects; for a half-cent sales tax to improve city streets; and for a flat $6 auto license sticker fee payable on personal property billings.

The three issues "are essential to the progress of St. Charles and must be addressed sooner or later," Spainhower said, "and have a direct benefit on the city as well as Lindenwood College." He urges all faculty and staff members who are city residents to support the measures, which require a simple majority vote for passage.

WORLD PREMIERE TO BE STAGED - "Healure," a new dramatic play by Tony award-winning playwright Mark Medoff, will see its world premiere as part of the Performing Arts Department's Downstage season this semester. It will be presented October 31 through November 2 at 8 p.m. in the FAB. For further information, contact the department at extension 218.

HELP YOURSELF AND THE LSG! - The LSG is selling Gold C Value coupon books for only $7. The books contain hundreds of saving opportunities on restaurants, movies and merchandise as well as discounts on services, travel and entertainment. Proceeds from the sale of the coupon booklets will be used to purchase a freezer and malt machine for Ayres Cafeteria. Purchase your coupon booklet from any LSG member, or pick one up at the Book Store.

SNACK BAR OPEN - Got the late-nite hungaries? Then, head to the Snack Bar in Niccolls Hall and pick up some soda and muchies! The Snack Bar is open Sunday through Thursday from 8-11 p.m.

OOPS, WE GOOFED - Typographic errors appeared in recent issues of the newsletter concerning bulletin boards near the Registrar's Office and LSG elections. To set the record straight:

Gerald Bolden recently was elected as an at-large member of the LSG Senate.

The bulletin board outside the Registrar's Office is reserved for official notices of the office. Student groups and others wishing to post announcements may use the side of the bulletin board nearer the Business Office.

SAVINGS BONDS AVAILABLE - How can a $25 per month investment realize nearly $10,000 in 15 years? Through U.S. Savings Bonds. Based on current market-based rates, that's a profit of nearly $5,500. Savings bonds are available in a variety of combinations and can be earmarked for single ownership, co-ownership or in beneficiary form. Find out more about this inexpensive and easy way to acquire U.S. Savings through payroll deductions by contacting Adranna Stapleton at extension 392.

WEHMER SERVES AS JUDGE - John H. Wehmer, professor of art, served as a judge at the 11th Annual Art Exhibition and Competition held by the Raintree Art Guild recently in Clarksville, MO. Open to all artists in student, amateur and professional categories, the exhibit and competition were part of the annual Clarksville Applefest. Among items judged by Wehmer were oils, acrylics, watercolors, drawings, photos, prints, crafts and sculpture.

AND BABY MAKES THREE! - Laura Elizabeth is the name given to the daughter of Elizabeth Ammann, assistant professor of fashion marketing, and her husband, John. Weighing three pounds, 11 ounces, the baby was 16 inches long at birth. The Godfrey, IL, couple's first child, Laura was born October 12 at Jewish Hospital in St. Louis.

TALKED TO MRS. SIBLEY'S SPIRIT LATELY? - The ghost of Mrs. Sibley is a common story that haunted generations of Lindenwood students. Joe Palermo, a former student and a producer/director for St. Charles' Channel 12, is attempting to solve the mystery once and for all. He's producing a video documentary for local cable television which could be used nationally. Students, staff and faculty members who have had any knowledge or experience with the alleged ghost should contact Palermo at 423-2827 or through Campus Box 240. The video is planned for Halloween, so respond ASAP if you can help.

IN MEMORIAM - Members of the Lindenwood community express condolences to the family and friends of John M. Black of Coruna del Mar, CA, a member of the college's board of directors.

A retired executive of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Black, 85, died September 24 in Newport Beach, CA. He is survived by his widow, Polly; a son, John Black, Jr., of San Jose, CA; and a daughter, Mrs. Marilyn Smith of Rock Hill, MO. Services were held September 27 at the Pacific View Mortuary in Newport Beach. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to Lindenwood College or the American Leukemia Society.

BENEFIT CONCERTS SCHEDULED SATURDAY, SUNDAY - A bluegrass concert featuring three well-known bands is scheduled Saturday at 7 p.m. in Jelkyl Theatre. Performing bands include "Don Brown and the Old Ozark Mountain Trio," "The Over the Hill Gang" and "Countryside Grass." Tickets, priced at $5 each, go on sale at 6:30 p.m. at the door.

A New Wave concert is scheduled Sunday at 9 p.m. in Jelkyl Theatre. Called the "Night Wave Show," it will feature "Common Ailments of Maturity" with a guest appearance by "Aviation Club." "Common Ailments of Maturity" was voted by KCLC listeners as the best new band in the St. Louis area in a recent promotion sponsored by MCA Records and CAMPUS VOICE magazine. Tickets, priced at $5 each, go on sale at 8:30 p.m. at the door.

Proceeds from both concerts will be used for programming and operational expenses of KCLC Radio, Lindenwood's noncommercial station.

TO WOMEN IN HIGHER EDUCATION - You're invited to a networking meeting of the Women's Program Council of the Higher Education Center on November 6 from 4-6:30 p.m. at the J.C. Penney Bldg. on the University of Missouri-St. Louis (UMSL) campus. The session will feature two noted speakers - Dr. Sherry Tucker of Hays Management Consultants and Atty. Lois VanderWaerdt, an affirmative action officer at UMSL - who will speak on "Women: Making Gains in the Eighties." For further information on this meeting, contact Edith Graber, Ellen Irons or Maggie Kracke.

WANT TO TAKE A SEMESTER IN THE NATION'S CAPITAL? - How about taking one of your eight semesters in Washington, DC? Lindenwood is one of about 200 colleges and universities in the country participating in the Washington Semester Program of the American University in Washington, DC. Semester programs are available in national government and politics, journalism, economic policy, justice and foreign policy. In addition, a student may study for a semester in one of the World Capitals Programs in London, Brussels, Vienna or Rome. Laura A. Flagg, a recent Lindenwood graduate, was enthusiastic about her semester last year in this program. For further information, contact Faculty Advisors Dean Eckert or Edith Graber. The bulletin board outside 206 Roemer also has additional information on the programs.

ALCOHOL EDUCATION COMMITTEE - The Alcohol Education Committee, a group composed of students, faculty and staff, soon will be formed to provide students with information about alcohol. There will be no referrals or counseling sessions, and all information will be provided through workshops, seminars and discussion sessions. If you are interested in joining the committee, or in finding out more about it, contact Marilyn Morris at extension 222 by October 28.

REQUIRED WORKSHOP FOR FRESHMEN - Preparing for career opportunities and learning to cope with college life are two areas to be discussed in the workshop, "Career Development and Adjusting to College." ALL FRESHMEN ARE REQUIRED TO ATTEND ONE OF THE SIX TIMES SCHEDULED FOR THE WORKSHOPS - October 24 from 3:30-5 p.m., October 29 from 11:45 a.m.-1:15 p.m. (you can bring a snack lunch), November 4 and 13 from 3:30-5 p.m. and November 14 and 18 from 6:30-8 p.m. All workshops will be held in the CAP Center in Niccolls Hall. Contact Joann Massmann at extension 237 to register for ONE of the workshops.

FILM SHOWING THURSDAY - "Stale Roles and Tight Buns," a filmstrip concerning stereotyping men in advertising, will be shown Thursday at 11:30 a.m. in the Student Center. The filmstrip was produced by Oasis, a male group organized against sexism and institutional stereotypes.

CONFERENCE PARTICIPANT - Arlene Taich, Ph.D., dean of the Evening College/LCIE, was among keynote speakers taking part in the Conference on Senior Citizen Housing, sponsored October 12-14 by B'Nai B'rith International. Taich, who also serves as director for the college's Institute for Intergenerational Studies, took part in a session on public relations and marketing at the three-day event. She was accompanied by Bonnie Solomon, an LCIE graduate, and Wilma Schmitz, an LCIE graduate student in gerontology and an intern at the Episcopal Presbyterian Foundation. The conference was designed to explore ways to improve, coordinate and expand housing facilities for senior citizens in the metro area.

COLLEGE RECEIVES CREST - In appreciation of its recent visit to Lindenwood, the Caldicot Male Voice Choir presented the college with a handmade crest that will be displayed in the President's Office. Presented to Nancy Fleming during the group's October 2nd concert, the Crest for Caldicot dates to the 15th century and took more than 40 hours to make. More than 400 persons attended the concert by the 72-member choir during its United States tour this month.

STUDENTS TO BE LISTED IN 'WHO'S WHO' - The names and biographies of 10 students will be published in the 1986 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES, an annual directory that contains information on some of the country's most outstanding campus leaders.

Students include Joan Abrams, a graduate student from Clayton; Julie A. Baejler, a senior from Hazelwood; Eric Carlson, a junior from Louisville, KY; Kara L. Diver, a junior from Bellevue, NE; Denise Hakenwerth, a senior from Wentzville; Lisa M. Olliges, a senior from St. Louis; Deanna M. Rasch, a junior from Florissant; juniors Connie R. Scrivner and Mrs. John Wensink, both of St. Charles; and Jacquelyn A. Wurm, a senior from Defiance, MO.

Scheduled for publication next spring, the directory will contain a listing of students selected from more than 1,500 institutions of higher learning throughout all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign countries. Outstanding students, including many nominated by Lindenwood, have been honored in the Tuscaloosa, AL-based publication since it was introduced in 1934.

MIDWEST PHOTOGRAPHY EXHIBITION - Lindenwood will host the 1985 Midwest Photography Exhibition and Slide Show November 6-December 6 at the Hendren Gallery in the FAB. Nearly 50 prints and slides by artists from throughout the Midwest will be on display from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and from 1-4 p.m. on weekends. A reception is scheduled from 2-4 p.m. November 10, and members of the college community are invited to the reception as well as the exhibition.

FACULTY-STAFF DIRECTORIES AVAILABLE - Copies of the new faculty-staff telephone directory were distributed last week. The new directories contain an updated listing of all faculty and staff personnel, offices and telephone extensions. Additional copies are available at the Public Relations Office, 6 Roemer Hall, or at the Switchboard, 17 Roemer. Changes or errors in the new directory should be reported to BOTH the Switchboard and the Public Relations Office.
