A Personal Message to All Lindenwood Alumnae

MRS. CORDELIA STUMBERG, of St. Charles, president of the Lindenwood Alumnae Association, has addressed the following personal letter to every alumna of the college:

Dear Fellow Alumna:

The goal of the Lindenwood Alumnae Association this year is to raise $10,000 for the Alumnae Fund by May 30. Contributions to this fund are needed from both alumnae clubs and individuals.

The response to my letter asking for contributions to the Alumnae Fund has been most encouraging thus far. The graduates, former students and friends of the college who have contributed thus far have been enthusiastic in their endorsement of our goal.

One of the purposes for which the Alumnae Fund is used is to provide assistance to foreign students. Contributions may be specifically designated for this purpose if desired.

Alumnae clubs are raising money for this fund through a variety of activities, which include benefit book reviews, style shows, lectures and plays. Alumnae in a number of cities are organizing so they can join forces in raising a share of the fund.

Generous as has been the response thus far, there is need of continued activity if we are to achieve our goal. Many individuals and some alumnae groups have not yet written me about their plans.

There is a great personal satisfaction in accomplishing a worthy purpose. I feel sure that the alumnae will feel it is both a satisfaction and a responsibility to express their loyalty to Lindenwood by contributing to the Alumnae Fund. The Fund, in turn, will contribute to Lindenwood and to the college's future students.

With my best personal regards to every alumna and a wish for our success in accomplishing our goal.

Cordially,

CORDELIA STUMBERG

New Residence Hall to be Built on Lindenwood Campus

Four Story Building Will House Tea Room With Outdoor Terrace and Provide Rooms for Seventy-two Students—Expected to Be Ready for Opening of Fall Term

A NEW four story residence hall, which will provide quarters for the Tea Room and greatly expand the recreational facilities of the college, will be built on the campus. This announcement by Dr. Franc L. McCluer, president of Lindenwood, marks another important step in the college's expansion program. The construction contract calls for the completion of the building in time for the opening of the fall term in September.

The estimated cost of the building is between $250,000 and $300,000. It will be erected on a site at the west side of the campus between Irwin and Nicolls halls, just beyond the rear driveway of Irwin. Approximately three acres of ground have been acquired from the City of St. Charles in an exchange of land which gives the college the site of the old reservoir, a familiar landmark to all alumnae. The work of wrecking the reservoir is now under way.

Plans for the building have been drawn by the architect's firm of LaBeaume and Unland, of St. Louis, in keeping with the general architectural plan of the college. The exterior will be of brick with limestone trimming. The roof will be flat and will allow for full size rooms on the top floor.

The overall dimensions of the building will be 140 feet by 40 feet, with a projecting wing on the ground and first floors approximately 50 feet by 30 feet. The building will be constructed of reinforced concrete and will be fireproof.

The plan for the ground floor is printed in this issue. This floor will be almost entirely above ground. At the rear will be the Tea Room, which will be approximately 27 feet by 30 feet. At one end will be a snack bar, with an adjoining kitchen. Off the Tea Room will be an outdoor terrace, on which tables will be arranged in favorable weather. A store room is provided for chairs and tables when they are not in use. The ground floor will also include a lounge room and a large game room with movable partitions which can be removed to provide a spacious dance floor.

The ground floor will have a modern laundry for student use, a large trunk room and other storage facilities accessible to an electric trunk lift, a kitchenette for student use, and quarters for the maids, with their own bath and recreational facilities. In addition to the main entrance at the front of the building, there will be a separate entrance to the Tea Room at the rear.

Advertising Manager

Miss Jeanne Gross, St. Charles, a Senior, who is advertising manager of the Linden Bark.

On the first floor will be the office and quarters of the head resident and a living room 48 feet by 30 feet with large windows. A feature of this floor will be 10 date parlors adjacent to the living room to be used by the students in entertaining guests. This section of the building will be two stories in height and above the living room will be a large sun deck.

Students bedrooms will be located on three floors. The building will accommodate 72 students in 28 double rooms and 16 single rooms. All bedrooms will be provided with connecting baths.

It is planned to provide outdoor recreational facilities on the ground adjacent to the building and a portion of the old reservoir will be retained. No name has been selected as yet for the building.

Six Students Named to Mademoiselle Board

Six Lindenwood students have been named to the College Board of Mademoiselle magazine. The selections were based on essays on various phases of college life. The girls are: Babs Cargill, Jean Lou, Jenny Sullivan, Remedois Rodriguez, Marilyn Hirsh and Gaelic Ching. They will receive three writing assignments each from the magazine during the year.

Ground Floor Plan of Residence Hall

Shown in this plan of the ground floor of Lindenwood's new residence hall are the Tea Room, the large students' lounge and game room and the outdoor terrace.

Letters Received From Alumnae Now Overseas

Letters have been received recently from Lindenwood alumnae who are now living overseas. Mrs. F. R. Krug, who was Celeste Karlstad and attended Lindenwood in 1938-40, writes she and her husband, who is a Major in the Army, are now stationed in Tokyo, Japan.

"Our quarters," she continues, "are located on the outskirts of the city in a housing area of occupation personnel. The woman's life here is one of relative ease, for all have native servants who are efficient. There are many interesting places to see. We have two baby daughters, Barbara Dale, 22 months and Mary Kathryn, who will be a year old on Christmas eve. I hope that both will attend Lindenwood."

From Aruba, in the Netherlands West Indies comes, a letter from Mrs. Peter Storey, who was Margaret Jeanne Rae and attended Lindenwood in 1942-44. Mrs. Storey went to Aruba after leaving Lindenwood and entered the employ of the Standard Oil Co. She was married last year and spent the summer with her husband visiting his parents in London, England.

A New Year's greeting from Capt. and Mrs. Victor Seaton (Freda Mae Rich, 1936-37) tells of their experiences in Germany. They have been stationed at Ludwigsburg since last July, have visited Switzerland twice and hope to go to Paris soon. They have two sons, Stephen, 3½, and Joel, 15 months-old.

Mrs. Scott George, who was Margaret Dean Crain and attended Lindenwood in 1935-37, writes that she and her husband are now living in Taipei, Formosa, where Mr. George is the Vice Consul. They expect to remain another year before being transferred to a new post. They have a daughter, Lois.

Mrs. Robert C. Strong, who was Betty Jane Burton, student, 1935-37, wrote that she and her family are "safe, full of vim and pep, happy and in good health" in China. Her address is American Consulate Gen., Box 29, Navy 3913, FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Lindenwood Alumnae Club Formed in Nation's Capital

The newest in the list of Lindenwood's alumnae clubs was organized in Washington, D. C., in January at a meeting in the Ambassador Hotel. Dr. and Mrs. Franc L. McCluer were guests at the meeting and Dr. McCluer spoke on the college's plans for the future. Approximately 50 persons attended the meeting.

Mrs. Albert Lucke (Ruth Lucille Correa) 2128 N. Troy St., Arlington, Va., was elected president of the club. Other officers are Miss Sara Malone, 109 Croft St., Beckley, W. Va., vice president; Mrs. Peter C. Cameron (Betty Forbes) 3423 Sixteenth St. N. W., secretary; and Mrs. Glenn A. Hawes (Dorothea Lange) 3712 Valley Drive, Alexandria, Va., treasurer.

Lindenwood's Expanded Radio Program Offers Professional Training

College Radio Station, KCLC, Provides Practical Laboratory for All Phases of Production, Writing and Management Under the Direction of Miss Martha May Boyer

"THIS is the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, KCLC, the Voice of Lindenwood."

This signature at 7 p. m., every Monday through Friday, announces the arrival on the air of Lindenwood's new carrier-current radio station. Until 9 o'clock each night programs planned, directed and produced by the college's Radio Department for student audiences are beamed directly to all campus buildings.

KCLC has two basic objectives: To provide sound professional training in radio management, production and programming; and to render service to the college and its student body. Practice is the most effective teacher. Under the direction of Miss Martha May Boyer, head of the Radio Department, radio students learn by doing. Their training includes not only thorough instruction in all phases of the field, but practical application of that instruction under actual working conditions.

The responsibility for keeping the station on the air in conformance with the regulations of the Federal Communications Commission is assumed by six students, who are members of the class in "Advanced Radio Technique." They supervise the work of all the departments to be found in every properly operated station; executive, sales, engineering and programming. The problems they must solve are not the theoretical situations encountered in a textbook, or in a lecturer's notes. If KCLC does not maintain a standard of radio fare acceptable to its listeners, the station will not survive. If its commercials do not bring customers to its sponsors, the station's income will be curtailed. The student managers learn that co-operation with others in the small circle of the group itself, the larger circle of the college community, and the still larger circle of the town and its trade area is necessary to survival.

At the weekly staff meetings, the programs of the past week are reviewed and criticized. Programs for the ensuing week are planned. At a recent staff meeting, typical of the procedure followed, these items were considered: Failure of talent to watch the control room for signals; laxity in rattling scrips and touching the microphones; poorly executed music fades on the control board, and maintenance of orderly procedure in filing new recordings. It was agreed that the student manager should send a memorandum to all student talent, requesting that they check on these matters carefully.

The log of the preceding week was examined and all deviations from standard broadcasting procedures were discussed. Programs for the next week were considered and approved and student announcers appointed.

Programming for KCLC is still in the experimental stage. Surveys will be made on the campus soon to measure listener approval of the various types of programs offered. A number of regular weekly features have been originated. "Let's Talk It Over" is a panel discussion program of current problems and issues, with student participants drawn from Lindenwood and neighboring universities and colleges. "Dramatically Yours" is a live dramatic show, written and produced by student talent. "Who's Who on the Campus" presents stimulating interviews with interesting figures on the campus and campus visitors. "P'Y'Ke and Win" is a sponsored audience participation quiz show with real prizes to the winners each week.

Second Installment of Roll Call of the Class of 1936

By KATHRYN HANKINS, Alumnae Secretary

WE PRESENT the second installment of the roll call of the Class of 1936. The following alumnae responded to our request for news about themselves and their activities.

Lenore Schierding (Mrs. John Horn), 7627 Satsuma, Houston, Texas: "The twelve years since graduation from Lindenwood have been full and overflowing with interest. The graduate fellowship received from Lindenwood in 1936, I used to take my master's degree in sociology in 1937 from Washington University, St. Louis. It was with trepidation that I took my teaching position in the fall of '37 as an instructor in sociology and history at Arkansas State College, Jonesboro, Ark.; I served there for three years and have many amusing remembrances of the days that found me teaching, in what I hoped was an erudite manner, students twice my age. In 1940 I returned to St. Charles; and as relief secretary at the Automobile Club of Missouri in St. Louis for the next six years, I merrily went from one responsibility to another—some of them in the basement and others in the president's office on the top floor. Certainly the challenge of that diversified work kept me on my toes. On October 20, 1946, I was married to "the best" and Bartlesville, Okla. became my home. We lost our first child, a son, at birth last February, but the sun still smiles very brightly on us. We have just recently moved to Houston."

Ruth Burkle (Mrs. Carl E. Sailer), Ackley, Iowa: "In 1932, after attending Lindenwood for three years, I decided to take time out and teach a few years. I was fortunate in getting a position in a rural school near Geneva, Iowa, my home town. I taught three years and then went back to Lindenwood in 1935 to get my B. A. degree. After graduating, I spent eight pleasant years teaching the third grade in the Lincoln School in St. Charles. On August 10, 1944, Carl and I were married. Since then we have lived on a farm near Ackley, Iowa. Rosemary, who is now 19 months old, keeps me quite busy and affords us much company. I am looking forward to the day when she, too, will be graduated from Lindenwood."

Marie Christensen (Mrs. John Alton Robb), 5254 Broadway, Indianapolis, Ind.: "My story is, as my 3-year-old would say, just plain ordinary. I went to work in the business office of the Bell Telephone Co. in Omaha. In 1942 we were married, and in March 1943 we moved to St. Louis where John interned and took his residency in Radiology at the City Hospital. In July 1945, our daughter, Christine, put in her appearance. In January 1947, after several months of house-hunting, we finally settled in Indianapolis. My present interests are confined to my family, church, and just getting acquainted. I have enjoyed meeting other Lindenwood alumnae from time to time, but my contacts with those of my class have been all too few and far between. I hope the publishing of the news of the class will mean the reopening of some correspondences that have fallen by the wayside."

Marguerite Echelmeier (Mrs. Helmuth Dallmeyer), 629 Houston St., St. Charles: "I was married in August 1936, and we lived in Collinsville, Ill. In 1940, we returned to St. Charles. For the past five years I have been teaching in the Junior High School here."

Martha Perry (Mrs. Neal O. Hines), 14003 Twenty-fourth St., N. E., Seattle, Wash.: "During the war, I spent two and a half years overseas with the Red Cross. Two years was spent in England with the Field Club Department, and six months in Germany, where I was stationed in Munich. I was married in September 1946. We are living in Seattle, where my husband is with the University of Washington. My time is well-occupied these days with a future Lindenwood prospect, 7-months old Melissa."

Camille Bee McFadden (Mrs. James P. Whitney), 900 West Main St., Taylorville, Ill.: "I was married June 1937 to James P. Whitney, a Canadian, who thrives under the assumption that he lives in the "Deep South". Our baby was born in 1940, being only weekend material for Lindenwood. We named him David McFadden Whitney. What with an 8-year-old, P.T.A., and being Commissioner of Girl Scouts, I don't have much time to realize how long it's been since June 1936."

Wanda Gayle Covington (Mrs. Charles S. Williams, Jr.), Box 295, Lufkin, Texas: "I have a 7-year-old daughter, named Carolyn Gayle, that I hope will some day be a Lindenwood student. My husband is a lawyer, and we live a very quiet life. Some day, I plan to come back for a visit to see if I can feel 'sweet sixteen' again."

Mary Elizabeth Stuhler (Mrs. James B. Rosborough), 1002 Twenty-fifth Ave. Court., Moline, Ill.: "After I graduated I was starting a Nursery

Two Conferences To Be Held on Campus This Spring

Third Annual Radio Conference Scheduled for April 29 and on Same Weekend Conference in Community Leadership Will Also Be Held—Some Joint Sessions Planned

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE'S third annual radio conference will be held on the campus on April 29 under the direction of Miss Martha May Boyer, head of the Radio Department. On the same week end a conference on "Community Leadership" will be sponsored by the college under the direction of Paul Greer.

Students from the universities and colleges in the St. Louis area and interested groups will be invited to attend both conferences.

The expanding program of the Radio Department will give added impetus to the radio conference this year. Plans for a program which will include outstanding radio speakers and demonstration groups are now being completed. A prominent feature of the conference will be KCLC, Lindenwood's new radio station—the only college station in this area which is entirely student staffed and student operated.

At least one joint session is planned with the delegates attending the conference on "Community Leadership." The program for the latter conference will include addresses by a number of well known community leaders and discussion groups on a variety of community problems.

Dr. McCluer Delivers Two Commencement Addresses

Dr. Franc L. McCluer delivered two commencement addresses last month. On January 23 he spoke at the mid-winter commencement of Westminster College at Fulton, Mo., and on January 29 he was the commencement speaker at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa.

Exchange Students Speak at Bowling Green, Mo.

Five of Lindenwood's exchange students from other countries addressed a luncheon meeting of the Bowling Green, Mo., Women's Reading Club on November 14. Those who were on the program were Miss Gladys Miranda, Santiago, Chile; Miss Irma Fernandez, Potosi, Bolivia; Miss Marianne Mohl, of Skodsborg, Denmark; Miss Wadad Dibu, of Lebanon; and Miss Rosa Tsatsakos, Athens, Greece. The students were accompanied by Mrs. Franc L. McCluer, Dr. Eunice Roberts, Miss Arabell Foster and Miss Anna Mottinger. Three other Lindenwood students on the program were Mary Morris, Kay Pemberton and Emily Terry.

Station Director

Miss Patricia Stull, a Senior of Zeigler, Ill., who is the student director of KCLC, Lindenwood's radio station.

St. Charles Alumnae Give Benefit Fashion Show

A benefit style show was presented in Roemer Auditorium on November 23 by the St. Charles Lindenwood Club in co-operation with the Donnelly Garment Co. Lindenwood students modeled old dresses, some of which dated as far back as 1844, as well as the new Nelly Don creations. More than 200 tickets were sold and the proceeds turned over to the college's scholarship fund. Following the show, refreshments were served in the Library Club Room.

On November 15, the club met in the Library Club Room on the campus, with Lindenwood's foreign students as guests. They were introduced by Dr. Mary Terhune. Dr. Alice Parker spoke on "The Common Citizen." Hostesses were Mrs. Helen Beste, Miss Melba Lee Gray, Mrs. Helen Richardson, Mrs. Carolyn Gillette, Miss Enid Clay and Miss Lois Hachtmeyer.

Girl of the Month

WE PRESENT Marjorie E. Wycoff, formerly of Garnett, Kans., and now of Washington, D. C. as the Girl of the Month.

After receiving her B. S. degree from Lindenwood in 1934, she began work with the National Reemployment Service as Assistant District Manager of seven counties in Kansas. In 1938, she was transferred to the State Employment Service where she began a woman's battle as the only woman manager of a local employment service office in the state. In January 1942, after the President had "blanketed" all of the State Employment Services under the U. S. Employment Service, she was transferred to Topeka to the State office, where she did her "bit" during the war as State Supervisor of Labor Recruitment for Kansas.

This work was most interesting as she had the privilege of visiting war plants all over the country. Almost two years ago, Washington beckoned to her, and at present she is a Placement Specialist with the Overseas Affairs Branch of the Department of the Army—a work which she finds most interesting. Her initial assignment was to formulate and conduct a recruiting program to procure teaching personnel for the U. S. Army operated schools overseas. Last spring she traveled throughout the United States interviewing and selecting school administrators and teachers for the schools overseas, and during the first part of August, she wished over 300 teachers "bon voyage" from the ports of embarkation in New York and Seattle. Her spring tour will begin about April 1st, when she will interview personnel for the school year 1949-50.

She attends the National University School of Law, an old, established Law School in Washington for night classes, Monday through Friday nights, and finds that almost a full time job. As she says, "The ultimate result will make up for the many late hours of study." She is one of twenty-two women out of several hundred students who are taking a four year course leading to the LLB degree. Her present goal is to obtain this degree, pass the District of Columbia bar, and then return to Kansas and practice law.

We not only wish Marjorie success in her work, but we wish to express our pride and admiration for her courage.

Roll Call of Class of 1936

School when I was offered a job teaching kindergarten in Moline, my hometown. I took the job and had four pleasant years of teaching before being married to Jim Rosborough on December 6, 1941. We spent six weeks in our new apartment in Moline, and then my husband was sent by Deere and Company to an aircraft plant on Long Island. I joined him a month later and we lived there a year and a half, having a wonderful time being so near New York City. He was called back to Moline and we again established a home. In December 1944 our little boy Jimmy was born, and in February 1948 we had our little girl Jane, who I hope can attend Lindenwood someday. We also have a red-haired dog, "Freckles", which completes our family. I am kept busy with my children and home, but manage to take part in the many civic activities in Moline. My husband and I have just returned from a wonderful trip to Quebec, New England, and New York City. We both enjoyed the trip immensely, but home did look good and I'm quite inspired even about formula, diapers, cooking, etc."

Margaret Hollands (Mrs. John I. Armstrong), 100 North Trenton St., Arlington, Va.: "After leaving Lindenwood I worked for the Farm Security Administration in Corydon, Iowa, for about a year as the Chief Clerk in a county office and then went to Indianapolis, Ind., as secretary to the Asst. Regional Director of the Farm Security Administration. It was in Indianapolis that I met my husband. We were married in 1940 and continued to live in Indianapolis until the spring of 1941 when a change in his work brought us to Washington, D. C. Early in 1943 I re-entered the business world when my husband joined the Marine Corps. During the war I worked as Administrative Assistant in the Office of Labor of the Department of Agriculture—the organization which imported foreign workers to harvest the agricultural crops. I found this job most interesting. Upon my husband's release to inactive duty in 1946 I returned to the job of homemaker. Nearly all of our spare time in the past two years has been spent on our wooded acre in Fairfax County, Va., where we have been making ready for the home we expect to build soon. I have become quite accomplished with a crosscut saw—an art I never dreamed of at Lindenwood! Working for the Red Cross, including managing the campaign for funds for a suburb of about 8,000, and serving, along with my husband, as president of a social club of which we are members keeps me more than busy."

(To be concluded next month.)

Comedy at Lindenwood

A scene from "Brief Music", a comedy of college life, presented by students of the Speech and Drama Department. The play was offered for two nights in Roemer Auditorium before Christmas. On January 14, a benefit performance for the Alumnae Scholarship Fund was given at the Little Theater in St. Louis and attracted an audience of more than 200. From the left are Suzanne Campbell, Fritzi Ballard, Eve Carpenter, Folsta Bailey, Jeanne Gross, Joanne Cox and Dorothy Frye.

Lindenwood's Radio Program

Musical programs range from live productions, provided by the Music Department, to the record show of our current popular releases. The Physical Education Department sponsors a regular fifteen minute program of sports news, with the accent on Lindenwood sports. There is one program devoted to the reading of verse and another to the short story. A sponsored show, entitled, "After a Fashion" brings the student audiences news of merchandise to be found in a local department store. The St. Charles motion picture theaters sponsor a fifteen minute program of Hollywood news. "Chitchat by Pat" brings to the microphone the student station manager in a broadcast of the endless variety of things in which students are interested.

The station regularly devotes a portion of its time to public service. Special programs are offered for holidays and unusual events. Now in the planning stage is a faculty-student panel program and program of news. The long term plans of the station include the installation of a news wire ticker.

Through its membership in the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, KCLC maintains its contacts with similar stations on other college campuses. KCLC contributes to the IBS transcription and script exchange and may in turn obtain material originating in other colleges.

The programs are aired with the assistance of members in the classes in "Radio Production and Script Writing," "Radio Speech," "Radio Continuity," "Radio Music," and "Introduction to Radio." For these students, as well as for the members of the station staff, the station provides the opportunity to receive professional training under actual broadcast conditions. The beginning and intermediate classes are the feeders for the station and they provide assurance of its continuous operation in the future.

Radio at Lindenwood is not merely an educational fad, nor just another student activity. It represents the result of careful planning and adequate station facilities, designed to provide thorough professional training under the guidance of a recognized authority in this field. Lindenwood recognizes that radio has become in modern society a "Fifth Estate" and an essential medium of communication in a democracy. It is the college's aim to prepare students for participation in this new medium as broadcasters, educators and community leaders.

Mrs. Paul Bancel Elected to Head New York Alumnae

Mrs. Paul Bancel (Joan Spangler), of 78 Lakeside Ave., Verona, N. J., was elected president of the newly organized New York Lindenwood Club at a luncheon meeting at Hotel Commodore in New York City on January 14. Dr. Franc L. McCluer, president of the college, told the 48 alumnae present of the plans of the college and the work of the Lindenwood Alumnae Association.

Mrs. McCluer, Dr. Eunice Roberts, dean of the faculty, and Mrs. James A. Reed, head of the Donnelly Garment Co., were guests of honor.

Other officers of the club are Mrs. David L. Hicks (Sarah Coon), of 18 E. Eighty-first St., New York, vice-president; and Mrs. Bernard Kates (Joy Salamon) of 21 W. Seventy-fourth St., New York, secretary. Mrs. Kates' stage name is Joy Saunders.

Member of Class of 1896 Recalls College Days

Miss Katherine H. McLaughlen, a member of the Class of 1896, recalls her college days in a recent letter to Lindenwood. "In the early days," she wrote, "I lived in and around New York and went to public and private schools. After my father's death, we came West to visit an aunt of my mother's. Upon our return East, my mother decided to send me to boarding school and I begged to be allowed to return to St. Louis and to go to Lindenwood, where I spent several happy years. I was a member of the orchestra under the direction of Miss Agnes Grey. I returned East and made three trips to Europe. I spent many winters in Washington, returning to this little town, Worchester, N. Y. in the summers, where my great grandfather built a Colonial house more than 100 years ago."

Joan Bordewick Is Elected to Head Freshman Class

Miss Joan Bordewick, of Vinton, Iowa, has been elected president of this year's Freshman Class. The vice president is Miss Marianne Mohl, of Skodsborg, Denmark. Miss Jane Hall, of DeWitt, Ark., is secretary; Miss Frances Robinson, of Lincoln Nebr., is treasurer, and the Student Council representatives are Miss Laurie Bowman, of Seminole, Okla., and Miss Nancy Starzyl, of Le Mars, Iowa.

Omaha Lindenwood Club Has Co-Presidents

Miss Marjority Vanderlippe and Mrs. William Donovan have been elected co-presidents of the Omaha Lindenwood Club. The secretary-treasurer is Miss Ruth Neef.

Lindenwood Represented at Meetings in New York

Dr. Franc L. McCluer, Lindenwood's president, and Dr. Eunice Roberts, dean of the faculty, attended the meeting of the Association of American Colleges last month at Hotel Commodore in New York City. Mrs. McCluer attended the meeting of the presidents' wives. Dr. Pedro Rio, visiting professor of Education, attended the meeting as the representative of Silliman University.

At the annual meeting of the Presbyterian College Union in New York, Dr. Franc L. McCluer was re-elected secretary. President Paul R. Stewart, of Waynesburg, College, was named president of the Union.

Dr. Gipson Honored at Washington Luncheon

Dr. Alice E. Gipson, Lindenwood's faculty representative at the American University in Washington and former dean of the college, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Dr. Paul Douglass, president of the university, on January 22, at his home in Washington. Other guests were Prof. Lowell Hattery of the American University and the students from the various colleges participating in the Washington Semester program. Dr. Gipson and Prof. Hattery have been the co-ordinators of the program of study this semester in which the following colleges are participating: Birmingham-Southern, Denison, Dickinson, Hamline, Lindenwood and Transylvania.

The Lindenwood students represented in the program are Betty Jack Littleton, Lorraine Peck and Miriam Reilly.

Winners of Christmas Short Story Contest Announced

Miss Remedios Rodriguez, of Manila, Philippine Islands, won first prize in the annual Christmas short story contest. The second prize went to Miss Betty Joe Haas, of Neosho, Mo., and honorable mention was given to Miss Nancy Starzyl, of Le Mars, Iowa, and to Miss Margery Barker, of River Forest, Ill. Dr. Siegmund, A. E. Betz and Dr. Eugene Conover were the judges.

Dr. and Mrs. McCluer Attend Presidential Inauguration

Dr. and Mrs. Franc L. McCluer represented Lindenwood College at the inauguration of President Truman in Washington on January 20. They were guests at the inaugural ball on that night. While in Washington they were the guests of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughn, military aide to the President.

ALUMNAE NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

MORE OR LESS PERSONAL

Miss Janet Brown, of Ferguson, Mo., Class of '48 and editor of the 1948 Linden Leaves, is now an advertising copy writer for Sears Roebuck and Co., in St. Louis.

Miss Lillian K. Travers, who attended Lindenwood in 1923-25, is now Director of Public Relations for the Boston, Mass., Y.W.C.A. After leaving Lindenwood she did graduate work at Western Reserve University and at the School of Social Work in Louisville, Ky. In 1938 she became the director of the only camp for girls in Istanbul, Turkey. When the war came, she returned to this country and became director of the USO in Louisville. Later she was sent to Hawaii as program director of all the USO clubs in the islands. After the war she spent several months traveling in Central America and then joined the staff of the National Y. W. C. A. She now does some importing from Guatemala and some free lance writing. Her address is 46 Commonwealth Ave., Boston.

Mrs. Merriweather Williams, who was Mary Lynn Seip, Class of '46, writes that she and her husband are now living at 821 W. Kent Ave., Albuquerque, N. M. They were married in December, 1947.

Miss Mary Louise Reece, of Pollock, Mo., who attended Lindenwood in 1946-48, is now teaching the fourth grade in the Milan, Mo. public schools. Her sister, Virginia Lee, is a freshman at Lindenwood this year.
