'BITSY' THOMAS ELECTED MAY QUEEN

Dr. John Olert Gives Series Of Talks on Religious Theme 'An Invitation to Pilgrimage'

"If we begin with doubt, we end with certainty," stated the Rev. John Olert Jr., Knox Presbyterian Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, in Religion in Life Week which ended Feb. 19.

In his first talk Dr. Olert invited his audience to Christianity and stated why he believed in God. He stressed that this period was a time for pilgrimage which would be a long, hard way. He said that all should believe in God because it is the only thing that gives life reason, and faith in God makes life worth living.

"I believe in God because it is practically untenable to disbelieve in Him, and disbelief is impossible," said Dr. Olert, who explained that if one doesn't believe in God, he believes that he doesn't believe in Him.

Dr. Olert said in his talk, "One Finding Fellowship," that one doesn't have to go to church to be a Christian, but that he does find fellowship in the church. "A man could say that he is a Christian without ever entering the doors of a church; but he could not say he is a Christian if no one else enters its doors, because the church is the means by which Christianity stays alive."

He stressed that Jesus Christ was not a person who coddled men, but expected people to be strong. Dr. Olert also said that He was not a person who sought expediency but He was willing to pay a price to accomplish His purpose.

God's trust is bigger than man's comprehension of it. He may perform an action which two people interpret differently, yet His power is so great that both men can be right.

"Believe something that really matters. We want to believe, but we are afraid of what it might cost," concluded Dr. Olert.

A highlight of the week was a reception held Sunday night in Fellowship Hall honoring Dr. Olert, Dr. Robert L. McLeod, dean of the chapel, Miss Mary Jean Bartholomew, assistant professor of religion, Dr. Franc L. McCluer, and the assistant counselors in the program.

LC Instructor Wins Art Prize

Miss Judith Glover, art instructor at Lindenwood College, has recently been named one of three prize winners of the sixth annual Christmas card competition, sponsored by the First National Bank in St. Louis in cooperation with the Artist Guild. Miss Glover, as third-place winner, was awarded $50.

First prize of $250 was awarded to Roscoe Misselhorn, Sparta, Ill., for his water color painting of the St. Louis riverfront. The scene will be reproduced in full color on the bank's 1959 holiday greeting cards. Second prize of $100 went to David Hare, a former winner.

Four to Perform in Young Artists Recital

Mary Kay Pagal, pianist, Elizabeth Butler and Cynthia Krueger, vocalists, and Sandy Williams, flutist, will appear in the Young Artists recital today at 11 a.m. in Sibley Chapel.

A listening committee will be present to give constructive criticism to the contestants to prepare them for the preliminary tryouts which are open to qualifying musicians in the surrounding area on Mar. 1.

The final recital will be held on Apr. 9 in the Stix Baer & Fuller Auditorium in St. Louis.

Elizabeth "Bitsy" Thomas has been elected May Queen with Kay Magie as her attendant.

Nine Students To Serve as Attendants

Elizabeth Ann "Bitsy" Thomas, senior, has been elected May Queen to reign over weekend festivities on May 1 and 2.

Editorial manager of the Bark, "Bitsy" is an English major and a psychology minor. She is a member of Poetry Society, the Griffin staff, and the Press Club. "Bitsy's" hometown is Nashville, Tenn.

Kay Magie, a junior from Albia, Ia., was chosen by her classmates to be the first maid to the queen. Kay is a mathematics major. Other members of the court also were elected by their classes.

Senior attendants to the court are Carolyn Baue and Kay Fryfogle. Representing the junior class will be Mary Margaret Lewis and Sherral Musgrove. Ann Boswell and Karen Witt are sophomore attendants. Freshmen elected to the court are Ann Hanna and Linda Williams.

A home economics major, Carolyn is from St. Charles. She transferred to Lindenwood her junior year after attending William Woods College for two years. Kay, an elementary education major, is from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mary Margaret, an office management major, is from Battle Creek, Neb. She was on the Dean's Honor Roll her freshman year before transferring to the University of Nebraska. Sherral Musgrove, Valentine Queen last year, hails from Sterling, Ill.

Ann, an elementary education major, was second maid in the Harvest Ball Court last year. She was also a member of the Freshman Council and a representative to the Student Council. Ann's hometown is Paducah, Ky. An office management major, Karen is from Olney, Ill. She is secretary of Pi Alpha Delta and a member of the Social Council.

Linda, a freshman from Clinton, Mo., plans to major in religious education. Ann Hanna is from Valentine, Neb., and she will minor in music.

Alpha Lambda Delta Initiates Twenty Freshmen Students

Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman scholastic fraternity, celebrated its tenth anniversary on campus, last night when 20 freshmen were pledged at its annual candlelight ceremony in the Library Clubroom. Each girl received a pledge ribbon to wear until the formal initiation ceremony on Mar. 25, at which they will be given a membership certificate. Dr. Marion Dawson Rechter, professor of biology, acted as hostess.

Freshmen becoming pledges were: Elizabeth Barnhill, Margot Benton, Judy Crouch, Caroline Drane, Brenda Ebeling, Helen Henry, Ann Hanna, Carolyn Hudson, Nicole Johnson, Cynthia Kirkland, Eileen Krueger, Louise Leak, Linda Leva, Mary Hughes McCue, Molly Maze, Patricia Morris, Patricia Payne, Mary L. Powell, Sue Thurman, and Linda Williams.

Lindenwood's ALD chapter is one of the 100 chapters on college campuses across the nation, and has initiated 175 students on this campus, since it received its charter in 1949. There are 56 members on campus now.

In order to gain membership into the fraternity a woman student must gain a 3.5 grade average the first or second semester of her freshman year. Once a student becomes a member, she remains an active member throughout her college life and after graduation.

Honorary members on campus are: Dean Paulina Nickell, Miss Mary Lichliter, Dr. Alice Parker, Dr. Elizabeth Dawson, and Dr. Marion Dawson Rechter, who is also faculty advisor of the fraternity.

Mary Fletcher Cox Elected Student Body President

Mary Fletcher Cox, junior science major from Morrilton, Ark., has been elected next year's student body president to succeed Suellen Purdue.

Mary Fletcher defeated juniors Karen Glaser, Joan Meyer, and Judy Winburn in an election held last Tuesday.

The president-elect was at dinner Tuesday evening when she heard of her election. President F. L. McCluer pinned the traditional orchid on her shoulder and Mary Fletcher expressed her desire to do her best to fulfill the high standards set by past presidents.

In her freshman year Mary Fletcher was a member of the Freshman Council, Modern Language Club, Encore Club, Women's Recreational Association, Terrapin Club, and Student Christian Association.

In her sophomore year, the Arkansas lass was elected president of her class, May Court attendant, and WRA publicity chairman. She was also a member of the Young Democrats and the Courtesy Council.

Mary Fletcher was re-elected president of her class this year. She is WRA social chairman, chairman of the Social Skills Council, assistant in the biology department, a member of the Honor Board, the Triangle Club, and the Philosophy Club.

Mary Fletcher graduated from Morrilton Senior High School where she was valedictorian of her graduating class and received the valedictory scholarship. She was also president of her sophomore and junior class and vice-president of the student body.

A member of the Dean's Honor Roll for the past four semesters, Mary Fletcher plans to go on to medical school.

LC Faculty Member Presents Piano Recital

Miss Allegra Swingen, associate professor of music, presented a piano recital Tuesday evening, Feb. 24, in Roemer Auditorium.

She opened her program with the "Prelude, Fugue and Variation" by Franck-Bauer, and "Sonata, F Sharp Major, Op. 78" by Beethoven.

For the second part of her program she chose "The Maiden and the Nightingale" by Granados; "Scherzo" by Francaix; two preludes, "B Minor, No. 10" and "G Sharp Minor, No. 12," by Rachmaninoff; and "Etude, (Winter Wind)" by Chopin.

Miss Swingen concluded with "Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 9," by Liszt.

Attend Lecture

The International Relations Club traveled to the Stephens College Assembly Hall at Columbia, Mo., Tuesday to attend a lecture on "Nuclear Weapons and Foreign Policy," given by Dr. Henry A. Kissinger.

Dr. Kissinger is director of Harvard's Center for International Affairs and is a consultant to the Joint Chiefs of Staff. He also is author of "Nuclear Weapons and Foreign Policy," rated the most important book published in 1957.

Record Hop Saturday

A "Record Hop" will be held in Cobbs lounge Saturday night from 8:30 until 12:00. Men guests will come from Washington University, Westminster, and Kemper Military Academy.

School clothes, socks and loafers will be appropriate dress for the dance.

Remember Your Conduct In Public

If a movie had been taken of the last chapel service, dance, or class you attended, what impression would the viewer receive of life at Lindenwood?

At the sound of the chapel bell, students, equipped with newspapers and various diversions, head toward the church. The sacred atmosphere is immediately lost the moment these students begin writing, talking, or reading during the speaker's sermon.

Not only while on campus, but also off campus on a date, does a girl represent her college. If one student drinks excessively, acts rudely, or dresses sloppily, she can quickly ruin Lindenwood's name among the men's colleges and universities. However, a date beginning with proper introductions and ending in "good wholesome fun" will reward you with similar evenings in the near future.

Dances are a time for formal etiquette. One of the first "do's" is dress properly. Long gloves are not appropriate with short formals; they are worn with floor length gowns only.

Jewelry, a necessary accessory, must not be worn extravagantly. Even though a bracelet, earrings and necklace may match, avoid wearing them all at once. "Too much" jewelry is worse than none.

The proper dress for class should be outfits that are neither sloppy nor extravagant. Sloppy shirts for class are as out-of-place as a taffeta dress.

Let's remember that "on" or "off" campus each girl represents the entire student body every place she goes.

Compliments To Valentine Queen, Sophs

Before spring just completely engulfs us with all her glorious weather, happy times, and green trees, let us pause in our busy lives to extend heartiest congratulations to the sophomore class of 1959 and its lovely Valentine court; to the sophomore class for the "out of this world" job it did on decorating, and to Judy Burns, Jane Gadberry, and Diane Goldman for being such lovely representatives of the class. Speaking of decorations, etc., Nell McGee, sophomore class president, has appointed her roommate "Gravel Commissioner" for all the forthcoming dances. As an eye-witness to her stupendous ability, I can vouch that Nan Vancil was the ideal choice for this responsible position.

The Valentine Dance did more than stimulate the social situation on campus—it also kicked off the season observed only on our campus known as the "Prospective Invasion." Girls from everywhere will pour onto the campus so that they may see the school and be a part of our community for a weekend. So welcome prospectives—welcome to the "Land of Harmony".

This columnist regrets that she was forced to make her deadline without being able to announce the student body president for next year. She does, however, extend congratulations and "lots of luck" to the girl who did win the election. As this seems to be a column

America's newest earth satellite was shot into a successful orbit last week, and it promptly began sending back weather information to earth. The 21 pound basketball-sized sphere was lofted into space from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Two tiny photocells scan the earth's cloud cover and might even be able to identify storms which breed tornadoes. The estimated lifetime of the satellite is at least a decade and possibly hundreds of years. In two hours and six minutes it makes one orbit of the earth.

drums. One gal has become such a fanatic that her only wish is to be buried in half a king sized bongo drum with her jungle records and grass skirt stuffed in the other half. The next step is reading "Little Mowgli" comic books. And I understand the book store, having heard of the rage, has ordered 250 "You Tarzan, Me Jane" colorbooks. I won't worry until I spot someone with a knuckle bone in her ear and a black cauldron in her room.

With Valentine dances rolled into memories and pasted in scrap books, the necessary item is a "thank-you" note to the "frat's" president. It's got to be personal, though not too familiar. So if you are worried about what to scribble, here's a suggested draft:

Dear Cushing (i.e., Mr. Cushing Pinkney, president of Omicron Tau Zig):

This is a letter of unsolicited, indeed probably a welcomed after the many pages of carefully worded which come your way as a result of. I want to say that my admiration for your services goes far beyond. In the face of you managed to produce a which combined the right degree of, with a corresponding lack. And this opinion is shared. My thanks also to your gallant little, without whose you never could have. In conclusion I take my hat and wish that on some future, I shall once again.

In closing your letter it would be most proper to say either "Your friend," or "I was very glad to have met you."

Wouldn't this be heaven? An old Hungarian verse has it that a glass of water needs only a young and romantic fiddler to turn it into an exotic wine. It seems as though the beauty of the violin transforms the stars into grapes aged in the vat of eternity, and gushing down a starry pathway to a lover's lips. Sounds good, huh?

Bathing-suit weather is just across the street. How many of you can get into last year's straps? Trying on a very modest two-piece suit I wore last August, I discovered that, mysteriously, it looked more like an immodest bikini. Today is hard-boiled egg day and tomorrow is vegetable day. By the first of April, I've sworn by my English grade, today's bracelets will be tomorrow's belts. Heigh ho and a weigh!

Annapolis Midshipmen Invite Lindenwood Women's Comment On Staglines, Steady Dating

"I believe every member of the Brigade has the right to attend hops as a stag, and during times when "cutting in" is permitted, may exercise the privilege of dancing with any young lady to whom he has been properly introduced," is Article I of the Stagliners' Declaration of Independence, of Annapolis Academy Stagliners Association.

In a recent letter to President Franc L. McCluer, P. B. Derr, the commandant of midshipmen, asked that the declaration be circulated among "the young ladies of Lindenwood; promote discussion of it; and encourage them to write the Stagliner their comments (pro or con)."

Although the Association's main aim is to rejuvenate the almost defunct stagline, it is only a small part of their program to combat "going steady" or the "premature monogamy" craze that has hit every college campus in the United States.

The second article of the Association's "Magna Carta" deals with competition, stating that: although a "smoothie" should make off with a girl with whom a midshipman is serious, he will be happy knowing there are more "pebbles on the beach."

"I am not worried about spending most or all of my Naval Academy career without benefit of a "steady" girl friend. In fact, I look upon my weekend dragging more along the lines of entertainment, recreation, a change-of-pace from the weeks work," makes up the context of Article III.

Article IV, deals with the faulty and ridiculous act of thinking that just because a midshipman has a date with a girl he thinks he has a "title" to her. The Stagliners believe that if you meet a girl at a dance and would like to ask her out—you should ask her.

Regarding engagement and marriage, the Association in the final article declares, "One of the main reasons I will avoid an engagement—or even an approach to one—while I am a midshipman is that I fully intend to experience the life of a bachelor junior officer. There will be plenty of time to get married and settle down after that. (Furthermore, I will then be better equipped to make a qualified success of marriage—particularly from the standpoint of economics.)"

The declaration is signed by the president and vice-president of the Stagliners.

The Stagliners believe they have a great task to face, which they believe is emotional, and not really solvable by methods of reasoning and logic. For this reason they are trying to combat the problem of letting midshipman and other college students realize the fun they are missing by "going steady."

The Association would appreciate comments addressed to William M. L. Asher, Room 2215, Bancroft Hall, United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

23 Students Teach In St. Charles Schools, Six 'Practice What They've Been Taught' At LC

Twenty-three Lindenwood seniors are getting a chance to "practice what they've been taught" as they begin practice teaching in various St. Charles schools, reported Mr. Bremen Van Bibber, professor of education, and Mrs. Robert T. Colson, part-time instructor of education.

Six LC practice teachers are teaching Lindenwood students this semester. The program is entirely new to practice teaching on the undergraduate level, giving students a chance to do more actual teaching and to explore another area of teaching.

The students teaching here at Lindenwood are dividing their required time between the high school and the college. In both instances the practice teaching is done under strict supervision and direction.

Patsy Lenhart is assisting Miss Margaret Lindsay with the clothing and textile classes, and Suellen Purdue is doing her practice teaching with Mrs. Irene Van Bibber in the food and nutrition classes.

Assisting Miss Emma Purnell with typing and shorthand are Mary K. Warner and Janet Phillips. Diane Floyd is doing her teaching in the speech department under the supervision of Miss Juliet M. McCrory.

Eight students have been assigned positions in the St. Charles grade schools and will assist for a half day each day. Whether they control children in eraser fights or try to answer their many questions, these student teachers will get a sample of what to expect next year when they begin their teaching careers.

Powell Terrace Grade School has three LC practice teachers: Judith Pratt, first grade; Elise Horstmann, second; and Ann Westcott Ritter, second and third. Marilyn Kroepel has second grade at Lincoln School and Gay Nicholls the fifth grade.

Mary Rankin assists in the first grade at Benton School, Mary Fitts has the first grade at Stephen Blackhurst, while Ann Weatherwax helps at the LC nursery school.

The other students will do their practice teaching at the St. Charles Senior High School or Junior High. For three periods of the day the following students will assist: Patsy

Gridiron Show Tentatively Set For March 26

Press Club has set Thursday, March 26, as the tentative date for its Gridiron Show and is now working on the theme and script, Nancy Calvert, president, told the Bark.

At a meeting at 4:15 today in the journalism room, members of the writing committee, headed by Jane Ely and Nancy Calvert, will present their script to Press Club members for discussion.

Other committee chairmen are Terrill Ross, casting; Mary Gibson, staging; Jane Ely, lighting; and Connie Ellis, program.

Lenhart and Suellen Purdue, home economics; Janet Phillips and Mary K. Warner, commercial subjects; Mary Roussalis, history; Diane Floyd, speech; and Rebecca Roberts, and Virginia Terry, English.

Kay Zotos continues her practice teaching second semester, helping instruct the physical education courses for two days a week at the junior high.

These practice teachers have busy schedules this semester. Besides teaching for half a day for six hours credit, they carry not more than 15 hours of classes campus.

Colhecon Presents Style Show Tonight

Colhecon will present Montaldo's style show tonight featuring spring fashions at 7 o'clock in Roemer Auditorium. Miss Nancy Fitch, commentator, will show fashions for day and evening wear.

Immediately following the show, Jack Montaldo will display the fashions in the clothing lab. A reception for Colhecon members and special guests will be held in the foods lab.

The selected ten models are the following: Joan Rundell, Judith Blake, Nancy Lou Baker, Linda Hoyt, Beth Allen, Joan Meyer, Sherral Musgrove, Mary Kay Zook, Barbara Boyd, and Diane Varner. Jane Adams and Molly Maze are alternates.

From a group of 34 girls who tried out for the show, 18 were selected to model in the finals. Mrs.

Diane Varner will model this spring sheath in Montaldo's style show tonight.

Irene Van Bibber, Miss Margaret Lindsay, Mrs. Ruth Kendig, and Miss Bettie B. Wimberly picked the ten from this group.

Kathy Stafford is general chairman of the show with Sally Seifert and Shirley Smith as co-chairmen. Kay Fryogle is head of the social committee; Alice Bates and Peggy Newell, clothing; Sally Hillstrom, invitations; Mary Lou Reilly, publicity; Jerry Pat Harrison and Caroline Stephenson, models; and Anabel Mojonner, program and ushering.

Cold Weather Bans Tryout

Beta Chi tryouts scheduled for the first weekend in March have been postponed for several weeks. The postponement was due to cold weather which has limited the free riding periods as well as the riding classes.

The square-dance tryouts for the May horse show were also postponed because of bad weather.

Beta Chi elected Pat Havens new treasurer for the club. Pat, who replaced Susan Perry in the office, recently won the Reserve Grand Champion-Stock Saddle equitation award for the 1958 season in Michigan.

Members of Beta Chi, plus all members in the riding classes, were glad to see that the riding ring has been relayed in cinders which makes riding easier.

Plans for the spring style show are being formulated by Beta Chi members.

Dorms Vie For 'Lindy'

The Women's Recreation Association intra-mural bridge and ping-pong tournaments, began last Monday, will be run simultaneously and will run approximately 2½ weeks.

The bridge tournament will be run on a ladder system, so the game can be played whenever it is most convenient for the individual teams. The games will be played in the dormitories.

The ladder will be posted on the bulletin board in the gym. Once a team has won a game, it should report to Nancy Gail, who will change its position on the chart.

Points will be given for each winning team in the finals of both bridge and pingpong. The dormitory with the highest total of points will win "Lindy."

Two out of three rubbers of bridge, or two out of three games of ping-pong playing to 21 points, must be won in order to win the game.

point system. In the past, members have kept score of the points received for participating in each event; now, no awards will be given except to the senior who has contributed most to W.R.A. She will receive a blanket.

Individual clubs, such as Beta Chi, Orchesis, and Terrapin, which have their own constitutions and are not directly affiliated with W.R.A., will still award medals to the best member.

Formal initiation into W.R.A. will be held soon, following another pledging ceremony for those who would like to join the organization.

WRA Elects Gale Assistant Chairman

Nancy Gale was elected intra-mural chairman of the Women's Recreation Association at its meeting on Feb. 9. This new position replaces the office of co-intramural chairman, which was formerly filled by Melinda Green.

The W.R.A. constitution is being revised in order to abolish the and is comprised of articles that would be of interest to high school seniors.

"My duties will include taking surveys, answering questionnaires sent out by the magazine, and keeping an eye out for features on college life which will interest prospective college students," said Betty, who also is president of Linden Scroll.

Betty, a journalism major, was a reporter for the Bark her freshman year. During her sophomore year she was co-editor, as well as president of the Press Club. Last year she was editor of the Bark.

This year Betty is apprenticing two days a week at the Daily Banner News, St. Charles newspaper. She hopes to continue her work in the field of journalism after graduation in June.

5 Visit Food Stores

Five students of meal management and food buying classes visited Straubs and Bettendorfs in St. Louis Feb. 18 to price food products. Barrie Bowen, Caroline Stephenson, Sally Hillstrom, Kathy Stafford, and Martha McInnis were the visitors.

Each girl is responsible for a consumer lesson in which she selects three brand cans of a food for comparison.

Mrs. E. Roosevelt Speaks in St. Louis

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's appearance in St. Louis, Sunday, Feb. 15, attracted twenty students of the International Relations Club. Mrs. Roosevelt spoke at a meeting of the Liberal Forum held at Temple Emeth.

The subject of her talk, "America as Others See Us," permitted Mrs. Roosevelt to deal with a variety of subjects ranging from segregation to the need for a greater understanding of foreign attitudes. She stated that the United States is really in a struggle for existence, and everyone of us is in that struggle. She said that we have a shrewd opponent in Krushchev, and we must cope with our foes in many ways. Mrs. Roosevelt also stressed the importance of translating American literature into languages of foreign countries where books are sent.

Do You Think for Yourself? (THESE QUESTIONS CAN TELL YOU A LOT ABOUT YOURSELF!*)

1. When you feel that certain fads are foolish do you talk against them?

YES NO

5. Do you prefer a salesman who is anxious to make a quick sale to one who will patiently answer all your questions about the product?

YES NO

2. Do gadgets such as new cigarette lighters often intrigue you so you want to take them apart?

YES NO

6. When arriving late for a party, are you inclined to join a group of close friends rather than attempting to strike up new acquaintances?

YES NO

3. Do you think that political candidates should write their own speeches instead of using a "ghost writer"?

YES NO

7. If you met somebody with a beard, would you tend to consider him "off-beat" and treat him with reserve?

YES NO

4. Given the choice, would you prefer having an apartment of your own to living at home with your parents?

YES NO

8. Are you normally reluctant to go on a "blind date"?

YES NO

9. Do you base your choice of a cigarette on what people tell you rather than doing your own thinking?

YES NO

You'll notice that men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? They've made a thinking choice. They know what they want in a filter cigarette. They know that VICEROY gives it to them! A thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste!

*If you have answered "YES" to three out of the first four questions and "NO" to four out of the last five . . . you really think for yourself!
