At that time, Mr. Hauk said it was probable that the paintings were done while Mrs. Hauk was a student. It has now been definitely learned that the paintings were done while she attended the college.

At the annual meeting of the Lindenwood Alumnae Association on May 29, it was voted to raise a fund of at least $10,000 in 1948-49.

The St. Louis clubs' quota has been raised by a series of benefit book reviews sponsored jointly by the clubs. Another book review is planned for this fall, with Dr. John Buchan of the English Department of Washington University as the speaker.

Final Installment of Roll Call Of the Class of 1934

By KATHRYN HANKINS, Alumnae Secretary

THIS month we present the third and final installment of the roll call of the Class of 1934. The following alumnae responded to our request for news about themselves and their activities:

Louise Scott (Mrs. W. O. Lauer Johnston), 3428 Jewell Drive, Crown Point, San Diego, Calif.: "Since leaving Lindenwood I spent several years studying voice in St. Louis and later, art and design at the Kansas City Conservatory. I modeled clothes for a year in Denver, Colo., and then was society editor on our Muskogee paper for a year or two. Later I decided to complete my degree so I went down to Oklahoma University. There I met my future husband. We were married and came to San Diego to live. We bought a home near the ocean in the Crown Point area, and my husband is in the Engineering Department at Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation. We have two little boys, Wally, Jr., and Stephen Scott (Stevie). Wally is 4½ and Stevie is 7 months. I worked in the Personnel Department at Consolidated during the war and really enjoyed every second of it, but now with my two sons and home I am really busy."

Marietta Hansen (Mrs. Ralph Hunsche), 6715 Mathew St., St. Louis, Mo.: "The year following graduation I attended the University of Chicago, then worked at Montgomery Ward's doing proofreading and copywriting, and later at the American Publishing Society doing editorial work. Never did I think on my occasional Saturday trips to St. Louis from Lindenwood that I would someday be living here! But in 1938 I left home and family in Chicago to accept a position as secretary to the minister of the First Unitarian Church of St. Louis. In 1940 I married a member of the church, a native St. Louisan, so am here to stay. Ralph and I have a little house in the county, a large circle of friends, an active quiet-sort-of social life, interests in our church and in other so-called "liberal groups." My step-daughter, Carol, now 14, has always spent her summer vacations with us, and plans to come from Denver next year to live with us while she attends high school. At present we are caring for an infant cousin, which we find a fascinating occupation. So it looks as if next year will be very full and gay with a baby and a teen-ager added to our household!"

Ella Margaret Williams (Mrs. C. E. Monfort, Jr.), 2036 Briargate Drive, Kirkwood, Mo.: "After graduating from Lindenwood in 1934, I taught dancing for three years in my home town of Edwardsville, Ill. In 1937 I married Charles E. Monfort, Jr., of Alton, Ill. We lived in St. Louis where Mr. Monfort was employed in offices of Union Electric Company. Then the Army found us in 1942 and Charles went in as a lieutenant in the Engineer Corps. We spent three years in Topeka, Kan., where Charles was Post Engineer at an Air Force Supply Depot. After the war, we came to Kirkwood. We have two children, Charles Edward III, 8 years old, and a daughter, Barbara Louise, just 14 months. So you see my activities have been mainly home and family."

Jane Tobin (Mrs. G. Latham Hall), 6128 W. Washington Blvd., Milwaukee, Wis.: "The first year after graduation I taught Home Economics in Springfield, Ill., my hometown. Since leaving school, the class prophecy for me has pretty well come true. In September, 1935, Lath and I were married by Dr. Roemer who came to Springfield to perform the ceremony, and we then moved to Milwaukee where we have since lived. I keep busy making a home for my husband, two live-wire sons, Jim, 10 years old, and Dick, 3 years old, school work, P.E.O. and social activities. Girls, if you come north in the summer, please stop and see me or at least call. Best wishes to all."

One member of the class is deceased: Kathryn Eggen (Mrs. Locke Otto Theiss).

Twenty-six members did not acknowledge the inquiries.

The following letters from members of the class of 1933 were received too late to be included in the class roll call:

Albertina Flach (Mrs. Otto C. Weygandt), 301 N. Forty-Second St., Belleville, Ill.: "Since leaving Lindenwood I have had a fairly busy life. I continued my music studies by specializing on the harp, spending the summer of 1936 in Italy with my teacher. The previous January I had become second harpist of the St. Louis Symphony, and have just finished my twelfth season with the orchestra. In June I will begin my fourth summer as harpist with the Muny Opera orchestra. Possibly some of the L.C. girls have seen and remember our famous St. Louis Municipal Opera. Weddings, receptions, church, and other engagements round out my musical year. I was married in October, 1939, and now have two future candidates for Lindenwood's Encore Club. Susan is 5, and Shirley is just 2 years old. My home, family, and professional

The apartments will be redecorated and are expected to be ready for occupancy when the college year begins.

Dr. and Mrs. McCluer to Vacation in Michigan

Dr. and Mrs. Franc L. McCluer are spending a part of August in Douglas, Mich., on a vacation before the reopening of the college year. ## Lindenwood Alumna Writes of Life in Germany

Dr. Alice A. Linneman, professor emeritus of art, has received an interesting letter from Mrs. C. Guy Lee, who is now in Germany with her husband. Mrs. Lee, who was Betty Ann Carleton, attended Lindenwood in 1939-41. With her children she sailed for Germany in July, 1947, and joined her husband in Ludwigsburg in September.

"Twice a week," she writes, "we drive to Stuttgart to do our shopping and to look around. The downtown section is pretty well bombed out and they are just now beginning to rebuild the shops. Every place is crowded and most Germans have just a room or two for their entire family.

"We hope to take several side trips while we are here, mainly to Paris and into Switzerland. Next month we will move to Mannheim, about 30 miles from Heidelberg. We hope to stay long enough so that the children and myself will have a good foundation in German and so that we can see the high-lights of Europe. When I look back and remember that a fortune teller once told me I would travel in Europe, and how I laughed at her, then it really seems like a dream that I am here."

Girl of the Month

WE PRESENT as our girl of this month, Miss Lena A. Lewis. After graduating from Lindenwood in 1931, Miss Lewis secured a position as assistant in the biochemical research laboratory at John Hopkins Hospital. She worked on the chemistry of gastric juice under Dr. Lay Martin of the Department of Medicine. As the research funds "evaporated" the next year due to the depression, that position ended September, 1932. Her next position was in her home town, Lancaster, Pa., in the laboratory of the General Hospital. While working there she finished the requirements necessary to register with the national board as a medical technologist. She was in charge of bacteriology and hematology and also taught student technicians in these divisions.

In 1936, she went to the Marine Biological Laboratory, Woods Hole, Mass., and took a course in Physiology. Through one of the professors she was offered a position at Ohio State University in the department of Physiology as research assistant with an opportunity to do graduate work too. In the fall of 1936, she went back to school. She received her M.A. in 1938 and her Ph.D. in Physiology in 1940. She stayed on as research assistant in Physiology until 1941 when she went to the Cleveland Clinic as special research fellow in Endocrinology. At the end of the fellowship, she was asked to stay on permanently and was ultimately made a full staff member. She was fortunate at the Clinic, in being put in charge of the electrophoresis laboratory, as there were only a few other such laboratories in the country at the time she first started working in the field.

Miss Lewis has thirty-one publications to her credit. We congratulate her on her splendid achievements.

He holds his A.B. degree from Princeton University and has done graduate work at Princeton and the University of Michigan, from which he received his master's degree. # Lindenwood's Radio Station To Be On the Air in September

Student Staff Is Selected to Operate New Campus Radio Station and Will Report in Advance of Opening of School to Complete Preparations for Formal Inauguration of Program When College Opens

LINDENWOOD'S new wired-wireless campus radio station has been installed and will be ready to take to the air when the students return to the campus for Orientation Week, it is announced by Miss Martha May Boyer, who is the faculty advisor for the station.

The station will be housed in three modern, sound-treated studios in the Fine Arts Building. A 25 watt transmitter with modulating and power supply, plus transmission lines to campus buildings has been added to the cutting, playback and monitoring equipment already in use by the college. It includes complete facilities for monitoring rehearsals while live programs are on the air. The equipment has been installed by the Concordia Recording Co., of St. Louis and has been carefully designed to the specific needs of the station.

Managed by a student staff selected from members of last year's radio classes, the new station is intended to provide students with practical experience in all phases of radio. Miss Pat Stull, of Ziegler, Ill., a former student and recently continuity director of Station WSTL at Carbondale, Ill., will head the student staff. Other staff members will be Miss Sally Joy, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Miss Gretchen Schnurr, Otho, Iowa; Miss Mary DeVries, Pella, Iowa; and Miss Ruth Ann Ball, Neosho, Mo.

Programming plans include time for public service, for experimentation in educational radio techniques, as well as for popular, semi-classical and classical music and drama. By using tape recordings and remote campus pickups, sports events and special activities will be broadcast. It is expected that a news service will be added later.

A special feature will be a weekly transcribed program from the national capital. Miss Lorraine Peck, Lindenwood student who will spend the first semester at the American University in Washington, will send the station a program of news and comment each week from the capital. Another weekly feature will be a forum on public affairs in which students from the universities and colleges in the St. Louis area will be invited to participate.

Lindenwood now offers 22 hours of radio work under Miss Boyer's direction, including continuity and script writing, the composition arrangement and performance of radio music, radio speech, radio production and advanced radio techniques. The college will continue to offer the Lindenwood Children's Theater of the Air, a feature for many years over Station KFUD.

The new station has applied to the Federal Communications Commission for call letters and has an application in for membership in the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System. Last spring the college's radio club was chartered as the Tau Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Rho, national radio education fraternity.

Lucette Stumberg Is One of Winners in Young Artists' Contest

The editors of the Bulletin regret the error in the story in the last Bulletin announcing the winners of the Young Artists' Contest. The winners selected from eighty young musicians were Miss Lucette Stumberg, a senior at Lindenwood College, Miss Barbara Watkins, a junior at Lindenwood College, and Miss Lynette Nelson, a senior at University City High School. The winners were not ranked and appeared together in a joint recital in Brown Auditorium at Washington University.

Miss Stumberg's performance in this recital and as a guest pianist at the national convention of Mu Phi at Cleveland, Ohio, have brought her wide recognition and deserved honor. Lindenwood College is proud of this gifted graduate and the Bulletin offers its apologies for omitting reference to her in the story in the last issue of the Bulletin about the Young Artists' Contest.

activities keep me very busy—but I love it! I am not too busy, however, to welcome anyone from Lindenwood, especially the girls of 1933, who might be passing through Belleville."

Arametha McFadden (Mrs. Keith G. Novinger), 203 Douglass Ave., Richland, Wash.: "The year following graduation I attended the University of Nebraska, and then I taught for two years. In June 1937, I was married to Keith G. Novinger, and the ensuing years have been exceedingly happy ones and not the least monotonous since he is an engineer and we have moved rather frequently. At present we hope we are settled for a long while, for we like our life here in Richland; we were here during the war years and then returned last April. We have three boys—John Keith, who is 8; George William, who will soon be 5; and James Kent, just a year younger. Caring for the boys and our home takes most of my time, but I do find time to be a Room Mother for Johnnie's room at school, as well as indulging in a couple of hobbies—flower gardening and amateur photography, the developing as well as the 'snapping' end of it."
