

Linden  Weekly
COMMUNIQUE

VOL. FOUR, NO. 23; FEB. 4, 1986

THE PRESIDENT'S PREFACE . . . - I want to utilize this space to pay tribute to the students, coaches, athletic administrators, staff and faculty who support Lindenwood's athletic program. Intercollegiate sports - and intramurals too - are an important ingredient in the life of most colleges. Lindenwood is no exception.

Our soccer teams enjoyed an excellent year, and we should continue to be competitive in soccer. Our men's basketball team has played some exciting games and won more than its share, considering the injuries that have plagued several of our players.

We had to cancel the second half of our women's basketball season, but we are at work already preparing to field a strong team next year. The women's softball team has a full schedule, and we look forward to the its games.

Marilyn Morris is relinquishing her responsibilities as Athletic Director to give full time to her heavy duties as Director of Student Activities. We thank Marilyn for bringing some coherence to our athletic program. She has laid the foundation on which we will build a strong Athletic Dept.

It will take time - and money - to mold an athletic program of which we can be proud. But, we are on our way.

James J. Frankover

RICKERT RECEIVES LIFE-TIME MEMBERSHIP - Richard Rickert, LCIE associate professor, has been awarded honorary life-time membership in the American Society of Appraisers (ASA), an international multidisciplinary organization based in Washington, DC. Director of the LCIE Valuation Sciences Program, Rickert was honored during the recent ASA annual conference in Orlando, FL, for developing the Lindenwood program and for contributing "to the educational improvement of the appraisal profession."

Within its national membership of 5,000, the ASA has granted honorary life-time membership to only five other individuals since its inception in 1936. Rickert, who serves on the ASA's Property and Valuation Sciences committees, is under contract with the ASA to write a text in appraisal theory and practices, which may become the basis of general examinations for membership in the organization. Lindenwood and the ASA work in close cooperation to continue expansion of academic offerings and curriculum materials for improving higher education in the appraisal profession.

Formed in 1979 with ASA input, the college's Valuation Sciences Program is the only degree program like it in the Midwest and the one of only seven offered at colleges and universities in the United States.

STUDENTS CITED BY NAIA - Dominic Condellire, a junior, has been named to the All-Midwest Team in men's soccer by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). A midfielder on the Lions, he also was named to the NAIA's Second Team in All-District Selections along with John Powers, a forward on the team and a senior majoring in business administration who will graduate in May. Named to the First Team in All-District Selections was Tim Mahoney, a back on the Lions and a senior majoring in communications who also will graduate in May. Condellire, a computer science major, was named to the First Teams in All-Midwest and All-District competition 1985 by the NAIA. The men's soccer team, under the direction of Coach Scott Westbrook, finished the 1985 season with a 11-7-2 record.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING LEAGUES FORMING - Intramural leagues are forming, and games will begin this Thursday at 9:15 p.m. at Grand Plaza Bowl on West Clay and Droste roads. There will be three games for $1, so it will cost you $3 each Thursday as shoes are free. Four designated bowlers are needed per team, with at least one or two designated substitutes. Faculty, staff and students are invited to turn in their rosters, or to contact Marilyn Morris at extension 222 (or Campus Box 737) for further information. The deadline for organizing teams noon Thursday. The league will run for eight weeks, each Thursday night.

NEW EMPLOYEE EXPENSE REPORT FORMS - Effective February 1, new forms for reporting reimbursable expenses are to be used by all employees. These expense forms are available in the Business Office or in Carol Whitman's office, 27 Roemer Hall. Expenses reported should be only those incurred in the conduct of business related directly to your position as a staff/faculty member of Lindenwood College. Such expenses as mileage and parking are to be itemized by each individual trip on the back side of the form. The Business Office requires only one completed copy with all cash receipts and/or charge slips attached. Please discontinue use of all old expenses reimbursement forms. If you have any questions, call the Business Office at extension 324.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR PHONE-A-THON - Faculty, staff and students are being asked to volunteer a few hours of their time for the college's Annual Alumni Phone-a-Thon which begins this month. Following last year's record-breaking phone-a-thon, the Alumni and Development offices have scheduled another two-phase telephone fund-raising event, hoping to secure $200,000 in cash and pledges from alumni throughout the country as part of the Renaissance Campaign.

The first phase is slated February 12-March 12. The second phase is April 23-May 28. Volunteers will be telephoning alumni during late afternoon and evening hours Sunday through Wednesday each week during the first phase from specially-equipped facilities at the MAB. If you can help the college in this important event, contact Esther Fenning, assistant director of development for alumni affairs, at extension 317.

Last year's phone-a-thon raised nearly $190,000, enabling Lindenwood to achieve a 32% level of support from alumni - an accomplishment virtually unheard of at private colleges and universities in the United States, considering the fact that alumni support was less than five percent in 1983.

NAMES SOUGHT FOR MERIT AWARDS - Nominations are being sought for this year's Alumni Merit Awards, annual presentations by the Alumni Council which cite outstanding alumni. Following the tradition established by the council last year, two merit awards will be presented at Spring Commencement - one for distinguished service to the community or profession and one for outstanding service to Lindenwood. Nominations must be received by March 1. To submit names or to receive additional information, contact the Alumni Office at extension 317.

SACKMAN CITED - Financial Aid Director Larry Sackman and other members of the SnoBall Classic Executive Committee were presented a proclamation by St. Charles Mayor Melvin G. Wetter, marking last week as "SnoBall Week" in the city. The mayoral proclamation honored the sixth Rax SnoBall Classic slow-pitch softball tournament in which nearly 100 men's and coed team participated last weekend in a charity event sponsored by Rax Restaurants. Mayor Wetter also is a member of the Lindenwood College Board of Overseers.

YEARBOOK ADVERTISING NEEDED - Yearbook Business Editor Mark Hopper is appealing to members of the Lindenwood community to assist the yearbook staff in soliciting and selling ads for this year's edition. "If you or anyone you know are involved with any business, company or organization which might be willing to purchase an ad, it would be appreciated," he said. Any faculty, staff or student who sells a full-page ad will receive a free yearbook. "A half-page ad will get the seller a book at half price, a fourth-page ad will reduce the price 25% and an eighth-page ad will reduce the cost 12.5% off. And, if you've purchased your yearbook already, we'll refund you for the amount," Hopper said.

For further information, soliciting potential ads or sales inquiries, contact Hopper at Campus Box 271.

NEW ACQUISITIONS AT BUTLER - Among new books at Butler Memorial Library are BROTHERS AND KEEPERS by John Edgar Wideman, CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE: NEW THEORY AND RESEARCH by David Finkelhor, THE ALL COLOR BOOK OF ORIENTAL CARPETS AND RUGS by Stanley Reed, AN INTRODUCTION TO EUROPEAN PORCELAIN by Harriet Wynter and UTAMARO-COLOUR PRINTS AND PAINTINGS by J. Hillier.

JOB SEARCH WORKSHOPS - Tomorrow and next Monday, February 10, there will be job search workshops offered from 6:30-10 p.m. at the CAP Center in Niccolls Hall. Learn such important necessities as resume writing, techniques of interviewing, networking and the hidden job market - 85% of available jobs aren't advertised!

The workshops are designed especially for seniors. Graduation is four months away, and most experts agree that it takes at least six months to find that first job. It isn't too early to begin your job-hunting campaign now. So, circle February 5 or 10 on your calendars, and make plans to attend one of these important workshops.

WRITING CENTER CONTINUES - Need help with a term paper? This semester, the peer tutors are continuing sponsorship of a Writing Center every Monday and Thursday from 6:30-8:30 p.m. in the Cardy Reading Room of Butler Library. Students are invited to stop by to receive help with their writing - no appointment is needed.

In a related item, the peer tutors are sponsoring their first workshop of the semester, "A Review of Writing Skills," February 11 from 6-7 p.m. in Young Lounge. Make plans to attend, and learn tips on organizing an essay and preparing research for term papers.
