PUBLISHER TO SPEAK AT FOUNDERS' DAY

Lindenwood Adds Six Members To Teaching Staff This Year; Five Departments Represented

Lindenwood College has welcomed six new members to its teaching staff this year. The new faculty members represent the departments of business, education, English, modern languages, and physical education.

Mrs. Robert C. Colson, wife of Lindenwood's business manager, is part-time instructor in education. She supervises the Lindenwood practice teachers who teach half a day each day for one semester in the St. Charles public schools. A graduate of the University of Louisville, where she majored in music, Mrs. Colson taught at Lindenwood last semester, and she has previously taught both elementary and secondary schools.

James H. Feely, instructor in English, is the only new male teacher at Lindenwood this year. Mr. Feely did his undergraduate work at Northwestern College in Minneapolis, Minnesota, and received his master's degree from Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois. He has just completed his studies for his Ph. D. at Washington University, where he has taught for the past four years as a graduate assistant.

New instructor in the physical education department is Mrs. Charles Harris, a graduate of the University of Kentucky. Besides teaching several sports, Mrs. Harris also acts as sponsor of the Women's Recreation Association.

Mrs. E. T. Layton, graduate of Lindenwood College, spent her first three years at Central College in Fayette, Missouri. Apart from her duties as an instructor in office management courses, Mrs. Layton serves as one of the sponsors of the yearbook, Linden Leaves.

Replacing Mrs. Mary Bryant as sponsor of the Linden Bark is Mrs. Mark A. Thomson. Mrs. Thomson also writes for the St. Charles Banner News, of which her husband is publisher. She is a graduate of the Journalism School of the University of Missouri.

A graduate of Vassar College in Poughkeepsie, New York, and Montpellierin Southern France, Mrs. W. E. Waller is a new part-time instructor in French. Teaching is not new to Mrs. Waller, as she has taught at the Harvard School for Boys, the University in Chicago, and the division of the University of Illinois in Chicago. Mrs. Waller is also teaching at Washington University in St. Louis.

466 Enroll This Year; 29 States Represented

Four hundred and sixty-five young women and one young man make up Lindenwood's enrollment this year, announced Miss Bettie B. Wimberly, assistant to the director of admissions. This is 23 less than last year's enrollment. However, this year there are a greater number of states and countries represented on the campus. Students are from 29 states and 10 countries.

Three students are from Hawaii, three from Turkey, two from Brazil and one from each of the following countries: Cuba, Ecuador, Germany, Greece, Japan, Sweden, and Iran.

Included in the enrollment this year are 45 day students.

Visiting Alums Stay in Dorm

If the Sibley girls seem to "change a little" in looks this weekend, it isn't because of the heavy studying but the celebration of Alumnae Weekend. This year the alumnae will stay in this dorm in order to re-live their college days.

"For the first time in the history of Lindenwood," stated Dr. McCluer, the guests plan to room on the campus during the reunion. This particular dorm was picked by the alumna because Sibley, being the oldest dorm, was the home of many of the visitors. A play, a lecture, and a tea have been planned for entertainment.

The Sibley girls, however, have not been forgotten! They will be trying something different—a new dorm on campus.

Two Professors On Committees For Programs

"And Gladly Teach" is the thirty minute television program appearing on channel 9 at 9:30 p.m. Monday, beginning Sept. 29 and continuing through the following school year.

Miss Martha Mae Boyer, associate professor of speech, is on the Evaluation and Monitoring Committee with the Speech Department, and Dr. Bremen Van Bibber, professor of education, is on the Research Committee as Director of the Department of Education in presenting this program.

The purpose of this program is to promote the acceptance of high ideals and standards for the teaching profession and to create appreciation of the power of unity and to encourage greater unity of action.

The program also undertakes to understand the school community, to develop good teacher-community relations, and to seek through co-operative action with other groups conditions favorable to the most desirable teaching-learning situations.

Alumnae from 14 States Arrive To Celebrate Annual Weekend

Richard Amberg

Society Elects New Officers

Newly elected officers of the Poetry Society are Margaret Ahrens, president; Diane Floyd, vice president; and Joyce Kayarian, secretary-treasurer.

The club's first project will be the annual poetry contest from which the club will select members. The contest is open to all freshmen and any other student not already a club member. Entries should be submitted to Dr. Elizabeth Dawson, professor of English, in her office no later than 4 p.m. Oct. 22.

First prize will be a free membership in the club. First and second honorable mention will be awarded and these three poems will be read at formal initiation to be held Oct. 27. Other contestants who show merit also will be accepted into the club at that time.

The club has been organized for those who enjoy writing poetry and wish to have critical analysis of their work. A contest will be held later in the year for those who are interested in poetic criticism. Students who show a critical understanding of poetry will be allowed at that time to enter the club.

Convo, Dinner, Play, Meetings Fill Schedule

Richard Amberg, publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, will speak on "The Educated Woman in Today's World," Saturday morning in the Chapel for the annual Founders' Day convocation.

Mr. Amberg received his A. B. degree from Harvard in 1933, and in 1943 he was graduated from the U. S. Naval War College. From 1945 to 1947 he was director of public relations for the American Transit Association.

Before Mr. Amberg became publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, he was director of the Post-Standard in Syracuse, N. Y., and administrative assistant to the New York Herald Tribune. In 1953 Mr. Amberg was appointed by Governor Dewey to the American Korean Foundation.

Founders' Day is for Lindenwood students and visiting alumnae who will come from 14 states this year. The program will celebrate the 132nd anniversary of the founding of Lindenwood College.

Events for the weekend began this morning when the Alumnae Council met in the Library Club Room. This council was organized last year for the purpose of creating interest among alumnae in different parts of the country and in helping to form new alumnae clubs. Tonight the alumnae will gather at the home of President and Mrs. Franc L. McCluer for an informal evening.

Tomorrow morning the former graduates will register in the library and receive a free gift, an ashtray with the Lindenwood College crest in the center. Later a dinner will be held in Fellowship Hall of the Chapel at 6 p.m. The play, "A Bill of Divorcement," will be presented by the drama department at 8:30 p.m.

Saturday at 12:30 p.m., the alumnae will be guests at a lunch-

British Drama In Three Acts Opens Tonight

"A Bill of Divorcement," by Clemence Dane, will be presented today and tomorrow by the drama department at 8:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of the Lindenwood Chapel. The three act play will be presented in arena style.

The cast includes Sandra Hairston as Margaret Fairfield, Peggy Crane as Hester Fairfield, Julie Orr as Sydney Fairfield, and Ferol Finch as Bassett, the maid.

James Hodges, Lindenwood graduate of 1958, will play Gray Meredith, and Keith Hammel, junior, is cast as Christopher Pumphrey. Douglas Hume, associate professor of speech, will play Hilary Fairfield, and the Reverend Thomas C. Cannon will portray Dr. Alliott. Mr. Carl House, director of food service, as the Reverend Christopher Pumphrey will be in the supporting cast.

The plot, set in Britain on a Christmas Day, is a serious drama based on the present-day divorce-law in England. It is centered around the Fairfield family which has been torn apart by the problem of divorce and insanity in the immediate past.

The staff headed by Diane

Can You Live by the Honor System?

We students at Lindenwood believe in the honor system. We live by it. This year the upperclassmen were not asked to re-sign the honor pledge as it is incorporated in our minds and in our lives. As Rebecca Roberts, president of the honor board, said, "We don't sign the honor pledge for nine months and then forget it for three."

When entering Lindenwood, each new student is acquainted with and learns about the honor system. She is then asked to sign the honor pledge. It is the duty of each and every student to uphold and live by this system to the very best of her ability. Any student who feels that she cannot live by this system should not sign the pledge . . . and she does not belong at Lindenwood.

Signing the honor pledge can be compared to joining the church. One does not join the church unless he or she believes in the doctrine.

It is a misconception to believe that students living under the honor system have less freedom than those who do not live under such a pledge. We have more freedom and more free will. We, being placed on our honor in all matters concerning academic and social life, are trusted completely.

If we violate any rule of the honor system, we have the free will and the opportunity to report ourselves. If we do not report ourselves, it is the duty of another to do so. Here is free will in a rare form.

It is the hope of all persons at Lindenwood that each student will leave the college a more mature person than she was when she came in. The honor system helps us in this maturing process. But the only people who can make it work are you, your room-mate, the girl across the hall, and all the students on campus. It is your honor system. If it doesn't work, it is your fault. And if you do not believe in it, you cannot believe in yourself or a Lindenwood girl's way of life.

This system has worked for many girls before you. Students have gone from college as mature young women who became mothers, wives and career women. They have created a better atmosphere in their homes and communities with a feeling of trust. And they learned this feeling of trust when they came to Lindenwood College as freshmen and lived under the honor system.

Opportunities Offered Freshmen

We of the Linden Bark, on behalf of the upperclassmen, wish to welcome you of the freshman class to our campus. Now that you have lived through the first whirl of activities, you should be settling fairly well into a "regular routine."

You will find here that Lindenwood can offer every student a great deal—but this is true only if you are willing to accept it. Classes are for you—our professors do not lecture simply to amuse themselves. You must work here to receive the education given to you. Effort on your part is required. It's not easy to have five eight o'clocks, or to have to read something from the library which a professor has requested, or to study for a biology test every Sunday night, or to work on several committees.

But as we grow older we find that life itself is not easy. Is it not better to begin when we are first "out on our own" to exert the effort required to make a success of our lives?

Opportunities are here at LC for all of us. And help is here, too, but only if we seek it. It is our job to take what is offered to us. We must make the most of our roles as college women.

Campus Bursting With Newness

The Lindenwood campus is literally bursting with newness this year. Strange new faces that will soon become familiar to us, beautiful rooms of furniture, brightly polished practice pianos, and even new walkways to cover the well-trodden paths leading to the Chapel and classes are a few examples of the fresh additions.

Since all of us will use some of the newly acquired equipment, it is up to us to keep it in good condition—the way we'd like it to look if it were in our own homes. There is nothing uglier than a cigarette burn or a water ring on a piece of furniture. Just such incidents can be easily prevented with a little effort on the part of each of us.

Let's all co-operate and show that we do appreciate our new additions. Remember, neatness is a virtue!

Linden Leaves Whisper

Frosh Begin To Learn Ropes As Another LC Year Begins

And another Lindenwood year has begun. In fact our campus has shown signs of being busy, busy, busy for the past three weeks!

Freshmen are beginning to "know the ropes" and upperclassmen are learning them again, if I may say so! The class of '62 is making its place on LC's campus, and don't we feel it date-wise? From the comments heard after the "pea-greens" had arrived, you'd have thought sophomores through seniors all resembled Grendel's (as in Beowulf) hag of a mother. Well, some of us have it, and some of us don't.

Picture this: A stranger, cold, hungry, and alone, walks into the dining room around 6:30 p.m. on any week night. As he steps timidly into the bright glare of lights and smiling faces, 465 loud voices accompanied by clapping hands and stomping feet burst and shatter his poor eardrums. The strains of "So-many-days 'til Vacation" booms around the room followed by various and enthusiastic state songs and hog calls. He dejectedly but rather hurriedly runs for his life. Moral: We sing only dorm songs not involving clapping and favorable LC songs in the dining room.

Actually dorm spirits seem to be soaring to new heights. Each dorm shows evidence of lusty lungs and girls proud to be a part of their own "home away from home." This in itself is one terrific spirit lifter!

Upperclassmen have not been asked to sign the honor pledge this year, but this doesn't mean it doesn't apply to us as much as ever before. Enough said?

Couldn't believe the eyes when I attended the first mixer of the year.

Fellas were actually standing around 10 deep! Could this be a good omen? (I'd even burn incense to insure a bang-up social year.) Congratulations to Patsy Price and her social crew for a tremendous start.

Tree trips in biology are over for now. Aaahhhhhh, weren't they the most fun! But cheer up—field trips start soon.

This coming weekend is a big one at LC. "Bill of Divorcement" the play directed by Diane Floyd, senior, will be presented tonight and tomorrow night down in Fellowship Hall of the Chapel. Tomorrow also begins Alumnae weekend during which Founders Day will be observed on Saturday. Reminder: everyone is expected to attend the convocation on Saturday morning.

Parting thought: Do you have any gripes? Keep them to yourself.

Outside LC

Three Powers Appeal to Red Chinese; Submarine 'Seawolf' Smashes Record

The United States, New Zealand, and Australia called on the Red Chinese to end their attacks on Quemoy and Matso islands, "as a step to a peaceful settlement" of the Formosa crisis. The three powers made the appeal in a statement of the A.N.Z.U.S. pact, a defense alliance. A foreign policy rift between Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the Chinese Nationalists and one of the United States' allies, threatened to weaken chances for a Formosa settlement.

Russia has made it clear that she intends to follow through with plans to attend a talk on suspension of nuclear weapons to be held in Geneva Oct. 31. At the same time she resumed her nuclear weapons tests with at least two new tests held last week. The United States State Department calls it "a publicity stunt."

The United States nuclear submarine Seawolf has smashed the underwater record by staying submerged for over two months. It is expected to stay under much longer during the next test.

Still making the headlines is the Little Rock school integration crisis. As the Bark went to press Tuesday, Gov. Orval Faubus and segregationist leaders announced plans to confer on efforts to open the city high schools as all white private institutions.

The appeals court sitting in St. Louis last Monday extended its order that prevents the four closed high schools from being leased as private schools. Gov. Faubus, however, has said that the Little Rock Private School Corporation could set up a high school system without the use of the present public schools.

Gov. Faubus also asserted last Tuesday that the government is trying to get him for tax evasion. He said that the government is trying to charge him with rental value of the mansion and grounds. He stated at a press conference that the government has been investigating him for a year.

Heading the St. Louis news and social calendar for this past week has been the event of the annual Veiled Prophet celebration. A fire in the Veiled Prophet's den added a serious note to the proceedings. Damage to the building was set at $4000, but damage to the contents was not estimated. About 20 employees were in the building at the time but none was injured. The Post-Dispatch Weatherbird commented wryly, "Prophet's Veil Singed."

Tea Hole Caters To Hundreds; Pizza To Be Added To Menu Which Offers Campus Favorites

Nearly 500 Lindenwood students visit LC's Tea Hole each day, reported Miss Clara Newton, manager. For 11 years students, teachers, and guests have been making the trip over to Cobbs Hall for a coke or any of the other delicious snacks offered. Before the completion of Cobbs Hall, the Tea Hole was located in the home management house.

The menu varies from French toast and bacon and eggs for breakfast, to sandwiches, chili, French fries, steak plates and hot fudge sundaes. According to Carl House, director of food service, which includes the Tea Hole, pizza will be added to the menu next week. The new specialty will be served either plain or with sausage, hamburger, or bacon.

Cup cakes and ice-cream seem to be the favorite food of the Tea Hole's customers. However hot dogs and Fritos, which headed the list last year, have become less popular.

The taking of knives and blue cups from the Tea Hole is Miss Newton's pet peeve. Miss Newton sadly commented that at the present there are at least two dozen knives missing.

For those who don't already know, the hours for the Tea Hole are: 8 a.m. - 1 p.m.; 2 p.m. - 5 p.m. during the day and 8 to 10 in the evenings. On Sunday the hours are 9 to 11 in the morning; 2:30 to 5 in the afternoon; and 7:30 to 10 in the evenings. If by request, for a special dance or occasion, the Tea Hole may stay open later.

Dorms Elect House Staff

Five of Lindenwood's dormitories recently elected the members of their house staff for the coming year.

The house staff of Ayres Hall under the presidency of Melinda Rogers, junior, includes Carol Cordill, junior, treasurer; Joan Meyer, junior, honor board representative; Kay Krieger, freshman, student council representative; and Karen Howlett, freshman, representative for Women's Recreation Association.

Butler Hall elected Martha McInnis, junior, as president; Linda Rucker, freshman, treasurer; Kathryn Hunt, junior, honor board representative; and Caroline Stephenson, sophomore, student council representative.

The gavel of Cobbs Hall is held by Mary Dillard, senior, and the staff includes Ahnawake Wilson, senior, treasurer; Mickey Kroepel, senior, honor board representative; Mary Roussalis, senior, student council representative; and Lettie Russell, junior, W. R. A. representative.

Dr. McCluer To Speak At Annual Conference

Besides the many other duties Dr. McCluer performs as president of Lindenwood he is kept busy giving talks to various organizations.

This weekend Dr. McCluer will give the final address to the annual conference of board members of the YMCA in the St. Louis area. This conference will be held at Trout Lake, Mo.

Speaking on the purpose of alumni clubs, Dr. McCluer spoke to the St. Louis Afternoon Alumnae Club Sept. 30.

Mrs. Kendig Finds Lindenwood Democratic, Warm, and Friendly

Tall, elegant, blue eyes and a handsome smile are some of the characteristics of Mrs. Ruth H. Kendig, the new house mother of Irwin Hall.

Before Mrs. Kendig came to Lindenwood, she was house mother in the Alpha Phi sorority house of Missouri University in Columbia, Mo. She's the mother of two sons, John and Tom. John is a physician specializing in neurosurgery at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis. He is married to Phillis Leux, a Lindenwood graduate. Tom is a senior at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Tex.

Mrs. Kendig answered with great enthusiasm when she was asked about her opinions of Lindenwood.

"It is the most democratic school I have ever seen," she said. She says she finds Lindenwood exceptionally warm and friendly and describes it as a closely knit family of students, faculty, and administration.

Quite a nature lover, Mrs. Kendig likes plants, and the gardenia is her favorite flower.

"In fact, I like the whole outdoors," she added.

"I enjoy playing the piano, although I play mostly by ear," she said. Mendelssohn is her favorite composer. When asked how she liked rock 'n' roll, she replied, "I just don't like it at all—it's so tiring." Her taste in music runs to semi-classical rather than classical, and she smilingly added, "If you'll notice, it's the 'old ones' which are coming back!"

Mrs. Kendig has travelled extensively in the United States and in the Caribbean. She confesses that she especially likes Florida. Next summer she and her sister, Mrs. J. C. Rudd of Orange, Tex., are planning a trip to Europe. There they plan to visit Mrs. Rudd's daughter who lives in Germany.

KCLC to Take to Air Next Monday With Programs to Please Every Taste

By Susan Babbe

KCLC, "Your station with music, news and interviews" inaugurates with their fall calendar, beginning Oct. 13, an abundant supply of new and interesting programs. A fresh and exciting schedule for the year of 1958-1959 is the product of a summer of thought and planning executed by the formal staff of Lindenwood's radio station KCLC.

"Star-Light Time," to be heard Wednesday evenings from 8:00 to 9:00, brings together talented LC girls from across the nation. It is designed to help you become better acquainted with the girls on the Lindenwood campus, their personalities and talents.

Beauty hints from various St. Charles beauty shops will be broadcast from 7:15 to 7:30 on Thursday nights . . . and those anxious to know what amount of witch hazel should be mixed with rose juice to create that smoothing power of petal hand lotion, or how shag bangs can be cut at home, should be sure to tune in.

If worries about health plague you mainly because of ignorance concerning seemingly dreadful, unpreventable and incurable diseases, "Medical Directory" from 4:15 to 4:30 Friday afternoons is the program for you. Helpful hints for the cure for the common cold down to suggestions for the prevention of sugar diabetes will be offered to listeners.

Wise shoppers with a gleam in their eyes for bargains should turn alert ears to "Radio Want Ads" each Tuesday from 8:45 to 9:00 after dark. Jane Smith may want to sell what Mary Brown wants to buy. Take the first step toward being a sharp shopper and be a KCLC steady customer.

Visit the mysterious Black Forest, the shimmering sands of Cannes and torrid, moist jungles of Cuba with "Around the World On Music" at 8:00 Monday evenings for 15 minutes of exotic and thrilling music.

And for those desiring modernistic music, don't miss "From Ragtime to Be Bop." Jazz fiends will want to have the dial with KCLC Monday nights from 8:15 to 8:30 to hear what's new in the world of progressive music.

Be on the watch for the complete scheduling soon to be released of KCLC and don't miss the valuable programs to be offered.

Orientation Program For Frosh Begun

Freshman orientation began Tuesday, September 30, and will continue for a three week program ending Oct. 16. There will be five convocations and twelve smaller group meetings. The freshman class has been divided into 10 groups which rotate among assigned leaders.

The areas to be included in this program are: in convocation; honor system, general study habits, time planning, use of the library, in small groups; spiritual values, health education, social skills, campus customs, available counseling help, and specific study techniques.

"This seems to be the type of orientation the students want," said Miss Lula Clayton Beale, registrar. The results of a poll taken from the students in the orientation program last year states that from a group of 258, 218 did like this idea of such a program; only 40 did not. The area on philosophy of life was the topic that the majority of the girls enjoyed most. Next in interest were study habits and time planning. A number of the students put into actual practice some of the suggested study techniques. 125 followed the plan for note taking; 118 for studying for exams; 145 in time planning; and 107 in reading.

Miss Beale said that Lindenwood used this method to try to answer questions for the students before they have time to arise.

Art Exhibit in Roemer For Alumnae Weekend

A new art exhibit will be put up in Roemer Hall during Alumnae Weekend so that visitors will have the opportunity to see it.

The paintings are all watercolor works, done by a summer painting class of St. Charles women instructed by Miss Judith Glover, art instructor at Lindenwood.

Scenes of the old river town of St. Charles, including some of the Missouri River, old buildings, and some landscapes are included in the exhibit.

This exhibit will stay up until Oct. 18 for students to view.

Skit by Social Skills Council Answers Courtesy Questions of Puzzled Frosh

To help freshmen become acquainted with members of the Social Skills Council, a skit was presented during Orientation Week at Roemer auditorium.

Connie Ellis, "a typical college freshman," proposed questions to members of the council concerning subjects that puzzle new students. When to smoke, table manners, proper songs to sing at meals, and other topics pertinent to this council were discussed.

The Social Skills Council is publishing a booklet which will be an aid to all students and help them with their social awareness. These publications will be given to each student. The members of the council are Sherral Musgrove, Carole Cordill, Barbara Dale Dunlap, Ahnawake Wilson, Joan Meyer, Carol Pechar, Cynthia Richards, Ann Dierking, Mary Elizabeth Taylor, Dorothy Langridge, Charlotte Kinnard, Sara Cook, Mary Fletcher Cox, Mary Dee Williams, Frances Givens, Connie Ellis, Peggy Newell, Sally Seifert, Peggy Crane, and Gretchen Lent. The sponsor of the Council is Mrs. Edna Steger.

SCA Social Service Program Held In Chapel Last Saturday

The Student Christian Association of Lindenwood College sponsored a social service volunteer training program last Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of the Chapel. This program was in preparation for the organization's yearly social service program.

The college S. C. A. feels that volunteer workers should realize the responsibility they are assuming when they offer their spare time to organizations such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Hospitals, etc. The Saturday program was an opportunity for those interested in helping others to discover what areas are open for such work and the responsibility involved. The S.C.A. hopes to concentrate its social service program in St. Charles this year.

Workshop leaders were Miss Mary Alice Messerley, director of the volunteer bureau of the health and welfare council of metropolitan St. Louis; Mrs. C. C. Johnson Spink, chairman of the volunteer service board; Mrs. T. Ed Flanagan, member of the educational committee of the bureau; and Mrs. Tanner Chrisler, chairman of college recruitment.

ALD Tea Planned Sunday For Frosh

Cynthia Richards and Sandra Boyd

Cynthia Richards and Sandra Boyd, sophomores, were pledged to Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honorary society, on Wednesday evening, October 1, in the Library Club Room. Ann Leedy, president, read the vows which the girls accepted. The formal initiation will be held on Oct. 29 at the home of Dr. Marian Dawson.

Alpha Lambda Delta is planning a tea for freshmen and faculty on Sunday. The tea will be given in the parlor of the Memorial Arts Building under the supervision of Dr. Dawson, faculty sponsor of the society. Gay Pauly is the chairman of the refreshments committee.

Plans were also announced by the president for the annual rummage sale. The sale will be held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall in St. Charles on Nov. 8. Proceeds will go to the Ethel B. Cook Fund which aids foreign students of Lindenwood.

of the head this season. Head bands, or as they are more popularly called, headache bands are being worn across the top of the head, at the hairline, or even across the back of the head with an upsweep hair-do. When worn at the hairline, a fringe of bangs can be seen fluffed below the band across the forehead. Headache bands are made with perky bows lying flat across them or, more simply, with no adornment. Velvet is the most commonly worn material, but a chic idea is a headache band made of the same material as a dress. And when it comes to color the sky is the limit!

Skirts and sweaters invariably head the list of sport clothes worn by Lindenwood girls. This year even our sweaters have the new sack look with a ribbed band across the bottom. Isn't it marvelous what they can do with a ball of yarn? And somehow bulky tweed skirts can always find a place in any wardrobe . . . straight, gored, flared, or pleated.

And have you seen the brand new leo-tights! ! ! These long socks have taken our campus by storm. They look like brightly colored hose to an inexperienced eye—besides looking warm and neat. Black is the most predominant color, but it is by no means the only one. Red, bright blue, greens, and almost every other color is seen from the hem of the skirt to the shoes. Speaking of shoes, the new "boots" are extra special this year. Also skimmers with bows, ties, buttons, clips, or flaps are excellent fashion-wise. But how can we go any further without mentioning the ever-popular sneakers' . . . comfort personified!

Vogue, Glamour, and Seventeen are well represented on the Lindenwood campus. High fashion is here to stay.

Sport Organizations Announce Activities; Members Plan Trip

Two of Lindenwood's sport organizations have announced plans for the coming year.

Terrapin, LC's swimming club, held tryouts for new members last night, Renee Ryter, president, told the Bark. The new members will be announced at a later date. The club will begin immediately to work on the water pageant which will be presented in March.

Beta Chi, horsemanship club, members will go to Kansas City this month to watch the American Royal Horse Show and visit some of the horse farms in the area, according to Dallas Rankin, president. One group will leave on Oct. 22 and another on Oct. 24. Later in the year Beta Chi plans to compete against Stephens, William Woods, and Christian College in competitive equitation.

Lindenwood Sends 4 Representatives to Estes for '58 Rocky Mountain YMCA-YWCA Conference

by Marian Van Horn

For Connie Millikin, Marilyn "Micki" Kroepel, Connie Ellis, and Sydney Finks, the four Lindenwood representatives to the Rocky Mountain YMCA-YWCA Annual Conference, their trip started—or rather stopped—with a disheartening report. At the last minute they heard that the bus which was to take the Missouri representatives to Estes Park, Colo., for the conference had broken down.

After frantic phone calls and aid from Miss Mary Lichter, director of guidance and placement, it was decided that they would travel by train.

Despite this confusing start, the girls unanimously agreed that the June 8-15 conference was a wonderful experience. "Micki" Kroepel, senior, declared, "It's a worthwhile experience no one should miss."

Most of their time was spent in discussion groups, workshops, and business meetings. Connie Milliken, junior, was the acting secretary for Missouri district meetings and was elected to the Estes planning committee for 1959. "Micki" worked on the daily conference paper and wrote several articles for "Estes Speaks," a summarizing publication of the conference. She was also elected regional YWCA finance chairman for this year.

The Lindenwood representatives kept the business meetings busy. They were largely responsible for editorial changes made in the Rocky Mountain Regional YWCA Articles of Operation.

The primary purpose of the conference was to give inspiration and information. The central point of the discussions was the play "All My Sons" by Arthur Miller. Leading the discussion groups were Dr. William Hage, a theologian, Mr. Homer Grout, dramatist, and Mr. David Gates, a scientist. One of the highlights of the conference was the presentation of the Miller play, directed by Mr. Grout.

Of course there was time for such recreations as horseback riding, hiking (which Connie Ellis, sophomore, took upon herself to organize), dancing, clobbering each

Art Field Trip To Be Oct. 17-19

Kappa Pi, Lindenwood's national art fraternity is sponsoring an informal art weekend field trip to be held Oct. 17, 18, and 19 for all upperclass art majors.

These students will go to Moundridge, Mo., Presbyterian camp on the St. James River for a weekend of fun and painting in the Ozarks. They will do their own cooking and experiment with new media and and scenes in painting.

Those going on the trip as sponsors will be President and Mrs. Franc L. McCluer, Miss Mary Lichter, director of guidance and placement, Arthur Kanak and Harry Hendren, art professors, Miss Judith Glover, art instructor, and Miss Lula Clayton Beale, registrar.

Kappa Pi's membership is made up of art majors who have at least a B average in all art courses and a C average in all other courses. The club is also planning an art weekend in the spring for freshman art majors.

Miss Gertrude Isidor, violinist and professor of music, will give the faculty's first recital Tuesday evening Oct. 28 at 7 p.m. in Roemer Auditorium.

Miss Isidor will play Bach's "Chaconne," "Concerto in E Minor" by Mendelssohn, "The Song of Chuck-Willow's Widow," and "Ain't it a Sin to Steal on Sunday," from the "Outlandish Suite" by Dyer. Also in this group will be "Menuet" by Debussy and "Caprice" No. 24 by Pananini. She will close her program with "Symphonie Espagnole" by Lalo.

other with snowballs on a mountain top, and climbing a mountain at midnight to watch the early morning sunrise. If anyone is wondering as to the advisability of the latter, listen to Connie Ellis . . . she says "It's the most stupid thing I've ever done." (This midnight climb seems to have been one of the highlights of the meeting, too.)

The conference atmosphere was one which stimulated serious thought, and the LC delegates enjoyed meeting people and sharing ideas with them. All felt that the conference had accomplished its goal in giving inspiration and information. They added that they are looking forward to going back for the 1959 conference.

Freshman Council Named in Assembly; Members to Organize Harvest Dance

The 1958-1959 freshman council was announced Oct. 7 in freshman assembly. These 14 outstanding girls who were chosen by the administration with the aid of Mary Green, freshman counselor, and the head residents and presidents of the dormitories, will be in charge of the Harvest Ball to be held Nov. 22 and the style show which will precede it.

The duty of the council is to head the various committees for the Harvest Ball. It will be replaced by the permanent officers

ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER...
A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

Before you light your next cigarette, ask yourself this: Have you really thought which filter cigarette is best for you?

If you have . . . chances are you're a VICEROY smoker. The fact is, men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reasons? Best in the world. They know for a fact that only VICEROY—no other cigarette—has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.
