News From and About Members of the Class of 1935

By KATHRYN HANKINS, Alumnae Secretary

THIS MONTH we present the first installment of letters from the members of the class of 1935.

Lucille Meinholtz (Mrs. Martin Daniel Klinger), Center, Colo.: "I am just a small town housewife, emergency school teacher, wife of a soil conservationist, mother of an 11 year-old daughter, and an officer in P.E.O. Since my father's death January 20th, I've been very busy attending to my invalid mother's affairs in Colorado Springs. At this late date, I'm trying to play the piano and regretting I didn't do so at Lindenwood. Otherwise, our recreation consists mainly of fishing, hunting, swimming and just enjoying the beautiful San Luis Valley. We are building a new home on our farm near Center where we hope to be "Bromfieldites," where Helen Lou and I can have riding horses and where we hope to find permanency after ten moves in twelve years."

Catherine Blackman (Mrs. Howard Taylor), Essex, Mo.: "After graduation from Lindenwood, I taught home economics for five years. I attended Missouri University in the summer. I am married to a former teacher who is now a farmer. My present interest is a red-haired baby, Phil, age 7 months. I live in the small town of Essex, about 200 miles south of St. Louis. I would love to hear from my college friends."

Carolyn Courtney (Mrs. Keith Jones), Stillwater, Okla.: "I put Miss Gordon's good work to use the next year and gave speech lessons. Then I wound up my college career at what was then Central Missouri State Teachers College in Warrensburg. Came then six and a half years of teaching—the last five months coaching dramatics, at long last. At this stage of the game 'Miss Courtney' became Mrs. Keith Jones. Keith was fighting the battle of Amarillo at the time so I got a taste of being a G.I. wife. 'Twas fun. We have a 27 month-old daughter, Jennifer, and I'm already telling her all sorts of wonderful things about Lindenwood."

Chloe Neal Willson (Mrs. Frank E. Machado), San Luis Obispo, Calif.: "Right after graduation I began looking for a position in my chosen field—teaching. It was not easy at that time, but after schools in Missouri had been opened for about two weeks, I found one in Augusta, Mo., for English and science. I spent six enjoyable years there, gaining experience in many different ways. At the end of this time, a commercial instructor was needed in the high school of the neighboring town of Wentzville. Through four summers of work at the University of Missouri and the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, I had prepared myself for teaching in the business education field, abandoning my original field in science. This came to an end after three successful terms when it was possible to receive better pay and working conditions in other schools. I found such conditions in a community high school at Griggsville, Ill. This terminated at the end of the school term of 1945-46 when I decided to end my teaching career for that of a housewife. During the summer of 1944 when the War Department was calling for all kinds of clerical workers, I went to Washington, D.C., as a temporary civil service worker. It was there that I met my husband at Ft. Meade, Maryland, where he was stationed. We were married in June, 1946. Since he was discharged by this time and a native of California, our honeymoon was the trip from my home, Warrenton, Mo., to his home—my future one. Now you will find me out in the dairy barn most of the time helping my husband manage a dairy ranch in San Luis Obispo County near the city of San Luis Obispo, Calif. Our ambition is to some day own our own dairy ranch of about fifty heads of cows."

Virginia Krome (Mrs. Ralph W. Ryker), Wright City, Mo.: "After graduating from Lindenwood with a Bachelor of Music degree, I was unable to get a teaching position because music was all I was qualified to teach! We were in the throes of a depression about that time. Becoming discouraged, I went to St. Louis, spent eight months at Rubicam Business College, and ended up working in the office of Brown's Shoe Company for a year. The summer of 1937, I accepted a part time position in my home town high school. I had always dreamed of starting music in my home school, so I was pretty happy over the whole thing when I dashed off to the Western Illinois State Teachers College at Macomb, Ill., to increase my English credits. I was allowed to teach music by qualifying for two years of English. The next summer, in order to keep my job, I enrolled for ten weeks of English at the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo. A year later I went back to Lindenwood for a course in American Literature under Dr. Gregg and spent one summer at the University of Missouri. I now have a Major in English. September, 1940, I accepted a position teaching music in the Francis Howell High School, Consolidated District No. 2, Hamburg, Mo.

Lindenwood Ready to Open Its 122nd Year

*Faculty Conference to Precede Return of Students to the Campus on September 15—
Full Program of Tests and Fun Planned Until Classes Are Organized on September 20*

ACORDIAL welcome will await Lindenwood's new students when the college opens its 122nd year on September 15. Last minute plans for the reception of new and old students have been completed, improvements have been made on the campus, and the faculty has been enlarged and strengthened.

A two-day faculty meeting will precede the return of the students, opening on Monday afternoon, September 13, and including a dinner for the faculty and their families that night. The upper class Counselors will arrive on Tuesday and will be ready to help orient the new students when they begin to arrive the following day.

A full program is planned for the five days preceding the organization of classes on September 20. The testing program for Freshmen and all new students will begin at 1 p.m. on September 15. That night President McCluer will welcome the Freshmen at a meeting in Roemer Auditorium at 6:45 o'clock and there will be an informal faculty reception for students and parents in the Fine Arts parlors.

Thursday, September 16, the testing program will continue and registration will start for upper class students. Fun hours and sports are planned for the afternoon under the sponsorship of the Athletic Association, and there will be "dorm" parties that night. Friday registration starts for the Freshmen and there will be a Freshman Assembly at noon. A street supper will be given at 5 p.m. and following this traditional event there will be square dancing in front of Ayres Hall.

Saturday, after the registration and Freshmen physical examinations are completed, there will be a "White Apron Jamboree" at 8 p.m. Sunday afternoon the Student Christian Association will hold open house in the Library Club Room, there will be a tea at 6 p.m. and at 7 p.m. the students will gather for a hillside sing.

Student assistants for the campus radio station will arrive a week early in order to prepare for the opening broadcasts on September 15. The campus station was installed during the summer and is ready for use. The station will be under the direction of Miss Martha May Boyer.

Fellowship Winners to Study in Texas and Iowa

Miss Lucette Stumberg, of Austin, Texas, has selected the University of Texas for her graduate work this fall. Miss Barbara Ann Little, of West Liberty, Iowa, will do her graduate work at the University of Iowa. The Lindenwood Fellowship in the Fine Arts Department for 1948 is divided between them.

Margaretha and Elizabeth Clark Visit Campus in August

Lindenwood had an enjoyable visit last month with two of its alumnae, Miss Margaretha Clark, Class of '29, of Bakersfield, Calif., and her sister, Miss Elizabeth Clark, Class of '31, of Boonville, Mo. They are the daughters of Mrs. Cyrus F. Clark, who was a member of the Class of 1890. They brought with them a picture of their mother's graduating class, the silver that each student was required to bring in their mother's college days and some interesting old catalogs of the college and a number of old letters.

They still maintain their home at 504 West Blvd., Mexico, Mo. Mrs. Cyrus F. Clark's family, the Roths, are St. Louisans, and a number of the members of the family are alumnae. In addition to Mrs. Clark, who was Sophia Roth, they include Mrs. W. K. Roth (Anna Haeussler, Class of 1891), and Mrs. Henry McK. Wilson, (Julia Louise Roth, Class of 1873). Mrs. Roth was formerly president of the St. Louis Lindenwood Afternoon Club.

The family has made a great contribution to Lindenwood. The college has always been proud of the outstanding families whose daughters have come to Lindenwood. Much of what the college is today is due to the students of former days.

Husband of Former Faculty Member Dies in New York

Word has been received of the death of Dr. Hugh Glasgow on July 17 in Geneva, N. Y. Dr. Glasgow was the husband of Dr. Beulah Glasgow, who was a member of Lindenwood's faculty from 1928 to 1935. Dr. Beulah Glasgow plans to continue to make her home in Geneva and to devote her time to the maintenance of a nature museum. Lindenwood extends its sincere condolences to her.

Arizona Club Is Named for Lindenwood Alumna

Mrs. Mary L. Johnson, of Mesa, Ariz., enjoys the distinction of being the only woman in Mesa to have a social club named for her. The Mary L. Johnson Club, which was organized several years ago, is a welfare group made up of Mesa women. Mrs. Johnson, who has been secretary of the Mesa Rebekah Lodge for 35 years, is a past president of the state Rebekah Assembly. She was Mary Lindsay and is a member of the Class of 1883.

Girl of the Month

THE girl of this month is Evelyn Wahlgren Summers who was awarded the Lindenwood College Fellowship in June 1942. She entered Oberlin Conservatory of Music for her Master's Degree in Music, finishing all her requirements for the degree, except the thesis, in one year. She completed her thesis after she came to Toledo, Ohio, to work, and she received her degree in February, 1944. At Oberlin she was elected to Phi Kappa Lambda, a national honorary music fraternity.

Evelyn's work is in the Toledo Museum of Art. She teaches music appreciation to children, gives some adult lectures, has a radio series, and does commentaries for children concerts. She has four classes for children at the pre-school age. (This class was a new venture of hers last year.) The children learn how to listen to simple, short pieces, sing together, and express music in bodily movement. On Saturdays she has a music appreciation class for children in the elementary grades and one for fourth, fifth, and sixth graders. During the week besides pre-school, she has grade school correlation—classes from various schools around town come to the museum for a series of lessons in art and music. About one hundred school classes come for this work.

Each year three or four symphony orchestras, such as Cleveland, Chicago, Philadelphia, come to the Museum and play a children's concert for some 2000 children. It is her job to write program notes to be circulated with the music recordings to be played in the schools before the concert. At the concert she is on the stage with the orchestra to give comments on what the children are to hear.

Twice a year she has a radio series for children in the school rooms. She plays piano selections and discusses the music played. Booklets are sent to all the teachers whose classes will listen. There are approximately 24,000 listeners in the schools of Toledo and surrounding territory.

Quite often groups about town, A.A.U.W., Child Conservation Leagues, and Elementary Education classes at the University ask her to talk on music for the young child.

In this interesting and instructive work of a child's appreciation of music, we wish Mrs. Summers every success.

Roll Call of Class of 1935

This school building became a part of the TNT plant at Weldon Springs, Mo., in 1941, and a new building was constructed seven miles west of St. Charles. I taught music here for five years. April 30, 1943, Ralph and I were married. He is chief chemist for the American Car and Foundry Company, St. Louis, and since my Dad's death a year ago, we have made our home in Wright City."

Virginia Porter (Mrs. Glennon Schreiber), 255 Edwin, Glendale, Mo.: "Glenn and I were married in October, after my graduation in June. We have lived in St. Louis and the county for the past thirteen years. Our son, Jay, is now 11 and quite a boy. Life around here is never calm, what with club work, P.T.A.,

Cubs, and just living. I used to think anyone out of college thirteen years was too old to live, but I've changed my mind. I enjoy seeing all of the familiar names in the Bulletin and finding out about everyone."
