Around the Lindenwood Campus

Miss Audrey Mount, a Junior, of Park Ridge, Ill., has been elected president of the Student Christian Association for next year. The other officers are: Miss Jane Morrissey, Joliet, Ill., vice president; Miss Joyce Heldt, Evansville, Ind., secretary, and Miss Emily Heine, Hooper, Neb., treasurer.

A sign of spring was the annual flower and plant show given by the Cultivated Plants Class of the Botany Department. The exhibits, which featured spring flowers were on display in Roemer Hall.

Dr. Jacob Kwalwasser, a member of the faculty of the Julliard School of Music in New York City, was a campus guest on March 3 and 4. He gave a number of lectures on music and art.

A highlight of the March entertainment program was the presentation of "The Imaginary Invalid" a comedy by Moliere, on March 14. The play, given by the Speech and Dramatic Department, was directed by Miss Glo Mitchell.

Dr. Harry Morehouse Gage, who retired last June as Lindenwood's president, was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the midwinter convocation of Waynesburg College, Waynesburg, Pa., on February 24. He also delivered the commencement address.

The annual subscription campaign for the Linden

Leaves was held on the campus on March 4 and 6. The 1947 annual is scheduled to be published early in May.

Twenty-three new members were initiated into Alpha Sigma Tau, honorary sorority, on March 4.

The new members are: Jo Ann O'Flynn, Lois Machtmeyer, Jeanne Turner, Marjorie Crawford, Jane Morrissey, Betty Sue Perry, Dorothy Drake, Amelia Plowman, Carol Clayton, Fannie F. Straus, Barbara Hencke, Eleanor Hedrick, Margaret Einspahr, Jane Merrill, Miriam Reilly, Jane Faust, Janice Lowe, Juanita Pardee, Mary Trimble, Dana Vincil, Janet Errington, Joyce Craemer, and Marguerite Little.

Dr. Alice E. Gipson, academic dean, represented the college at the meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges on March 28 and 29 in Chicago, Illinois.

Two writing contests for students will be held this spring. Sigma Tau Delta has announced its annual Freshman medal contest, for the best original writing by any member of the Freshman class. The Press Club will award a prize at Commencement for the best writing done by a student and published in a student publication during the college year.

Dr. Franc L. McCluer Is Named As Lindenwood's New President

College's Twelfth President Is One of Nation's Outstanding Educators and Civic Leader in Missouri—Succeeds Dr. Harry Morehouse Gage

DR. FRANC LEWIS MCCLUER, one of the nation's outstanding educators, is Lindenwood College's new president and the twelfth administrator in the college's 121 years. He succeeds Dr. Harry Morehouse Gage, who retired last June.

Dr. McCluer's selection was announced on March 17 by Dr. James W. Clarke, president of Lindenwood's Board of Directors and minister of the Second Presbyterian Church in St. Louis. He was chosen after the Board had made an exhaustive study of the educators available for the position.

For the last fourteen years Dr. McCluer has been president of Westminster College at Fulton, Mo. His resignation at Westminster is effective August 1, but he plans to come to Lindenwood as soon as possible.

In accepting the presidency of Lindenwood, Dr. McCluer returns to the county in which he was born. He was born at O'Fallon, in St. Charles County, on March 27, 1896. When he was 12 his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCluer moved to Fulton, where they still reside. Dr. McCluer was graduated from Westminster in 1916 and received his Master of Arts degree in 1920, two years after he had joined the faculty of the college. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Chicago in 1928.

Dr. McCluer taught sociology and economics at the University of Chicago in 1923 and 1924. In 1925 and 1926 he was visiting professor of sociology at the Southeast Missouri State Teachers College and he has also taught at the University of Missouri.

Dr. McCluer is married and has one son, Richmond Harold McCluer.

At Westminster he founded the Westminster Institute of Public Affairs. The college attracted international attention last year by bringing former Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Truman to Fulton, where Mr. Churchill delivered the now famous "Fulton" address, which had international implications. The institute's speaker this year is former Secretary of State James Byrnes.

Dr. McCluer is a member of the Board of Directors of the Association of American Colleges, a member of the Board of the Louisville, Ky. Presbyterian Seminary and president of the Board of Curators of Lincoln University. He is a member of a number of educational organizations. He has served as Moderator

In Hall of Fame

Miss Mary Ruth Platt, of Messena, Iowa, who has been nominated by the Linden Bark for the campus Hall of Fame. She is the representative of the Senior Class on the Student Government Association, is vice president of the Missouri State Sociology Association, and is active in the Athletic Association, the League of Women Voters and the Student Christian Association.

of the Presbyterian Church, a position seldom given to a layman.

Lindenwood's new president has been prominent in civic affairs for many years. He served as a member of the Constitutional Convention which drafted Missouri's new Constitution and was director of the committee which campaigned for its ratification. In 1932 he served as a presidential elector. In 1945 he was president of the Missouri Welfare League. In Fulton, he has twice been given the McCubbin Award, presented annually to the person who has contributed most to Callaway County.

Dr. McCluer has been a frequent visitor to Lindenwood in recent years and has given a number of addresses to the student body.

Second Installment of The Roll Call of Class of 1930

By KATHRYN HANKINS, Alumnae Secretary

THIS month we present the second installment of the roll call of the Class of 1930. The following members have responded to the Alumnae Office's request for news about themselves:

Bernice Sandage (Mrs. Joe Gobl), 201 East Park St., Pittsburg, Kans.: "After a few years in the business world, we married and had a wonderful honeymoon trip to Europe. Back to a 'ready-made' family—a fine girl and boy—who were then in college; and have since both married. The daughter now has a little girl whose daddy was a Major in the Army Air Corps, and thus I am a proud grandmother. Together with homemaking in town, during the war especially, and doing any errands or tasks that needed doing in our coal operations and also in our son's ranching operations, I was very busy, now my husband and I are going to travel."

Mary Catherine Craven (Mrs. J. H. Unser), 5226 W. Central St., Albuquerque, N. M.: "I, too, get quite a thrill when I read in the Bulletin what everyone is doing after these many years. As for myself, I was married a year after graduation. We are proud parents of four boys, Jerry, Jr. and Louis, twins, 14 years old; also Robert, 12, and Al, 7. My husband owns and manages his garage and motor rebuilding plant, so consequently, I am chief bookkeeper . . . far removed from what I studied in college. Between our boys and helping manage our businesses, I do not have much time to get into mischief. When you are going across the country, stop and say "hello" to the Unsers."

Catherine Orr, 2244 N. Prospect Ave., Apt. 22, Milwaukee, Wisc.: "It seems such a short time since we, in the class of 1930, were graduated, but in terms of almost seventeen years, I'm sure that we will find that many things have happened to each of us. I had a variety of job experiences the first few years. I sold life insurance with my father for a year until his death, and then taught high school mathematics and French for three years. During that time, I became interested in social work, and due to staff shortages, (we still have them), I procured a job with the Illinois Emergency Relief in my home town and remained two years. Eleven years ago I came to Wisconsin and the Children's Service Society, but took several leaves of absence and procured my master's degree from the New York School of Social Work affiliated with Columbia University. We are a state-wide, non-sectarian private children's agency, offering services to children in need of temporary or permanent placement. I was the district worker in our Wausau office until 1940, and then came to Milwaukee as a district supervisor. For the past year, I have been adoption supervisor, so am kept quite busy reading records and traveling to see the babies and children so I will know them before arranging placement conferences with our workers and final placement in adoptive homes. I still supervise the workers in two district offices in the state which keeps me in touch with our general program. I've been interested in your vocational counselling service and certainly recommend social work as a profession. It's really too cool here to count on much swimming, but I still play golf and am still enthusiastic over bridge as I always was."

Margaret Bowman (Mrs. Charles Griffith, Jr.) Eudora, Ark.: "I am now married to Charles Griffith, Jr., and we have two boys, ages 9 and 5. I really do not know of anything else that would make news. I am anxious to have the copy of the Bulletin about the class of 1930."

Dorothy Elizabeth Gartner, 503½ W. Fifth Ave., Columbus, Ohio: "At present I am working in Columbus, at the F. & R. Lazarus and Co. My work is most interesting. This is a large department store, and I am in charge of the "Dissection Accounting" which is something comparatively new in the merchandising field. The opportunities are boundless, and each day holds its own problems and incidents so that there is no chance for monotony. In addition to this, I am still quite active in singing. Columbus is quite a musical little metropolis, and there are several music clubs to which I belong—The Women's Music Club, Saturday Music Club, and Opera Club. I do quite a bit of private concert work, church singing, and radio. There are four stations here. Since Columbus is such a control point of travel, surely Lindenwood people pass through here all the time, and I would love to hear from them—especially the "gals of 1930." Columbus has Dr. Gance Little, who is Dr. Skilling's son-in-law, as pastor of Broad Street Presbyterian Church, and believe me, he is wonderful. You should see that beautiful church. When you come to Columbus, I'll take you there!"

Virginia Thompson (Mrs. Irwin E. Burgh), 5545 Brandon St., Seattle, Wash.: "I attended Kansas University after Lindenwood. After a year there I came home to Kiowa, and was bookkeeper for my dad in the

Lindenwood To Hold Radio Conference On Campus On April 25

Outstanding Speakers Will Address Conference Sessions to Whom Colleges and High Schools in This Area Will Be Invited to Send Delegates

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE will hold its first radio conference on the campus on April 25. The conference will focus attention upon the significant role the radio now plays in world events and the responsibilities higher education shares in its development as a medium of communication and understanding.

Colleges and universities in Missouri and Illinois will be invited to send delegates to the conference and teachers and students of high school radio classes in the St. Louis area will be invited to attend the conference sessions. Colleges and universities to which invitations will go include Washington University, St. Louis University, the University of Missouri, Christian College, McKendree College, Monticello College, Principia College, Stephens College, MacMurray College, Webster College, Fontbonne College, Harris Teachers College, Blackburn College, Maryville College, Westminster College, William Woods College, Shurtleff College and Concordia Seminary.

Plans are now being completed for the conference under the direction of Miss Martha Boyer of the Radio and Speech Department. At the afternoon session, following registration at 1:30 p.m. there will be a panel discussion on "Careers in Radio" in the Library Club Room. The Rev. Elmer Knoernschild, program director of Radio Station KFUD in St. Louis will act as chairman. Speakers and their subjects will be: Miss Kay Morton, Station KXOK, "Programming For Women;" Miss Dorothy Blackwell, assistant director of the Department of Audio-Visual Education, St. Louis Public Schools, "Radio in Education;" Mrs. Ellen Brashear, free lance radio writer and president of the St. Louis Radio Council, "Radio and Public Relations;" Karl Hohengarten, Station KWK, "Radio Music."

At 4 p.m. there will be a demonstration of Lindenwood's radio equipment in the radio studios in the Fine Arts Building by members of the Radio Production Class, who will record a radio script. Members of Sigma Tau Delta will be hostesses at a tea following the demonstration in the Sibley Club Room.

At 6 p.m. there will be a dinner in Ayres Hall, at which members of the Press Club will present a skit dealing with radio.

The evening session will be held in Roemer Auditorium with the theme "Radio Looks Ahead." The speaker will be Lyle De Moss, program manager of Radio Station WOW in Omaha, Nebr.

Lindenwood's 1946 May Queen Is Airline Stewardess

When the prophecy of the Class of 1946 was read last May it did not foresee that Lindenwood's 1946 May Queen, Miss Elizabeth Renee Stoery, of Estherville, Iowa, would be making headlines as an airline stewardess in less than a year.

Miss Stoery completed an eight-weeks course at the McConnell School of Stewardess Training in Minneapolis, Minn., on November 22 and received her wings from the Northwest Airlines. Five days later she went on active duty. Since then she has served on flights to many cities in this country as well as two trips to Anchorage, Alaska. Her headquarters are now in Minneapolis.

Miss Stoery made the headlines in the Minneapolis newspapers when she was accepted for her position, as she was one of the first to break through the airline's rule limiting the height of stewardesses. She was featured in an article in the airline's publication in January.

Lindenwood Alumnae Teachers To Be Guests of College April 26

By DR. RAYMOND L. GARNETT
Head of Lindenwood's Educational Department

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE is proud of the splendid record of her many graduates who are teaching. We at the college feel a deep satisfaction in the part you are taking in educating the youth of our country.

We want to do you honor. We want, also, to help you to be better teachers, if we can, and we want to learn from you how we may provide a more effective program of teacher education for our present students who aspire to teach.

We have planned a day for you to return to Lindenwood and be the very special guests of the College. We have planned a program of discussions in which you will take the leading part. We want you to discuss your experiences and problems before the members Future Teachers. You may address any of your problems to any members of our Faculty. We feel that we all will learn a great deal, and will have a thoroughly good time.

The day we have set aside for your "Homecoming" is Saturday, April 26.

We hope you will reply, saying that you will come. If you cannot come, will you please respond to the four problems that are presented below. We hope that our discussions will grow out of these four statements.

1. What abilities do you consider most vitally important in teaching?
2. What knowledge and skills gained in your college preparatory do you find most helpful in your teaching?
3. In what areas do you most keenly feel that your training was incomplete or difficult?
4. Describe your most difficult problem. Maybe someone present can help you arrive at a solution of it.

Lindenwood Alumna Writes of Missionary Work in India

Miss Marguerite Wobus, Class of 1889, writes that she is still in East India as a missionary. "You may not realize," her letter states, "that I am trying to hold the fort all alone here in Parsabhader. Of course there is a good and faithful Indian pastor who is a great comfort to me. Then there is a man, Solomon, who looks after the farm and helps in a general way. He gives out supplies in the Old Folks' Home and buys for them on market day—there is no shop here in Parsabhader. One can get nothing except peppers, salt, a few spices and rice once in a while, when people from other villages pass by on their way to Balodia, the post office town and market place."

Flower Show Maid

Miss Nancy Fanshier, of Lake Bluff, Ill., a member of the Freshman Class, who was a Maid of Honor in the Greater St. Louis Flower Show, held at Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis, March 18 to 23. Miss Fanshier was chosen as Lindenwood's representative in the flower show by the members of the Biology and the Cultivated Plants classes. She attended the show as a member of the Queen's Court on March 23.

Tribute From a Member of Class of 1885

The following letter was received recently from Mrs. Paul Thomas, (Carra Weber, Class of 1885), of 2025 Fendall St., S. E., Washington, D. C.:

I would like to send a little tribute to my old alma mater. I was graduated in the Class of 1885 during dear Dr. Irwin's time. I could never forget the pleasant association of Dr. Irwin and his family and all the dear girls in my two and a half years there. They were happy days for me.

"I married Paul Thomas in 1886 and raised eight children, four girls and four boys. They are all married and I have 7 great grandchildren. My son, John B. Thomas, was in the Navy and went through the invasion in Normandy. I had three grandsons in the service and three nephews.

"There are a very few of us left from the Class of '85, but we still have memories of those dear old days at Lindenwood. On March 11 I will be 82, and I am still a big booster for Lindenwood. Best wishes to the college for the future."

Jan Miller Reigns Over St. Pat Ball As 1947 Popularity Queen

MISS JAN MILLER, of Indianapolis, Ind., was revealed as Lindenwood's 1947 Popularity Queen at a St. Patrick's dance in Butler Gymnasium on March 15. She received her crown from her First Special Maid of Honor, Miss Jeanne Sebastian. Miss Miller is president of the Student Christian Association and Miss Sebastian is president of the Junior Class.

Other members of the Queen's Court, elected by the students, were Miss Jody Shroder, Second Special Maid of Honor; Miss Deana Bass, Miss Virginia Beazley, Miss Janet Brown, Miss Virginia Franke, Miss Helen Horvath, Miss Betty Hunter, Miss Nancy Kern, Miss Jody Lieberman, Miss Freshie Platt and Miss Louise McGraw.

The members of the Court were presented to the student body at a Popularity dinner on March 12, entering the dining hall to the tune of "Where or When." The dinner was sponsored by the Linden Leaves and Miss Carol Clayton acted as mistress of ceremonies.

Ford agency. Then we moved to Seattle, and I was bookkeeper at Commercial Automotive Service. About two years ago, I went to Windover Field, Utah, to marry my fiance, Irwin E. Burgh. He was stationed there, and we were married in the chapel. About a year ago he was discharged, and we moved back to Seattle. We have our own home near Seward Park on Lake Washington and have a darling 10 months-old daughter, Dorothy Virginia. My husband is in the carpentry business. So now I am a housewife and mother, which takes all my time, but I like it better than anything I have ever done. The music I studied at Lindenwood has been for my own pleasure."

Helen Bopp (Mrs. O. C. Metzger), 740 Chatham Rd., Glenview, Ill.: "I was delighted to have five of my closest Lindenwood friends come to my wedding in July, 1934. After the arrival of our son, George Knoke, March, 1940, we built our home in Glenview. Our daughter, Marion Kerber, was born in February, 1942, to complete a happy family circle. Through Marny, my husband and I hope we will have reason to visit Lindenwood many times. During the swiftly passing years, we have visited and been visited by some of my L. C. pals, but they have been too few and too far between. So I take this opportunity to extend an invitation to all my L. C. friends to visit us when they are in Chicago. Incidentally, in the class prophecy I was to carry on the family split-pea business. However, my husband is the one who is carrying it on so ably."

We have a delayed letter from the Class of 1926: Anita Rudowsky (Mrs. Elbert H. Shuller), 400 East Seneca Ave., McAlester, Okla.: "I belonged to Alpha Mu Mu at Lindenwood and continued as a piano major at the University of Oklahoma as a pupil of Charles F. Giard. In my senior year I was accompanist for the girls' glee club, having that year 75 members. I had a part in the chorus of the Mikado under Professor Richards which I enjoyed very much. I was music teacher in our Junior High School for four years. I was hired to teach music, but the depression made it necessary for me to take a seventh grade reading and spelling class and also an eighth grade. I also had the high school girls' glee club for two years. Dr. Shuller and I were married in June, 1933, and since have built a home and are rearing a promising family. I teach all three of them piano. John has recently begun violin. Genie 'with the light brown hair' dances and sings from morning til night, but Edward has chosen, as his second hobby, to learn to be a magician. All of us are airplane enthusiasts. Dr. Shuller has his private license. I belong to the McAlester Civic Singers—a group of 25 women. Last April for my P. E. O. Chapter I gave a program of Mexican selections which we bought in Mexico City the summer before."
