

Linden Weekly COMMUNIQUE

VOL. FOUR, NO. 32; TAX DAY, 1986

HUNGATE TO MAKE COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS - U.S. District Court Judge William L. Hungate is the speaker for Spring Commencement, scheduled May 17 at 10 a.m. on campus. A former United States congressman, he is a well-known individual who received widespread community and media attention as the presiding judge in the controversy and Supreme Court decision regarding recent St. Louis school desegregation.

A 1948 graduate of Harvard Law School, Hungate served in Congress from 1964-77, representing counties in northeastern Missouri, including parts of St. Charles County. He served as prosecuting attorney of Lincoln County, MO, as deputy attorney general from Missouri and as special assistant attorney general of Missouri before being elected to Congress. He was appointed U.S. District Judge for the Eastern District of Missouri in 1979. Currently, he serves as president of the Eighth Circuit Judge's Association and the American Bar Association's National Conference of Federal Trial Judges.

At commencement, Hungate will be awarded an honorary doctorate of humane letters degree. Nearly 400 students will receive degrees at Spring Commencement.

ART EXHIBIT ON GIVERNY - Giverny, the residence of impressionist painter Claude Monet located near Paris, France, is the subject of an exhibit being shown now through April 21 at the Hendren Gallery in the FAB. Featuring 20 large landscapes in acrylic, watercolor and pastel, the work is by Nancy Follis, who will receive an M.A. degree next month. "I had the privilege of visiting Giverny recently and, like Monet, I found the house, the gardens and the pools a source of inspiration to my painting," Follis said. "While there, I made many photographs and conceived the idea of using Giverny as the subject for my master's painting exhibition." The exhibit can be viewed from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and from 1-4 p.m. this weekend.

PROFESSOR EMERITUS SUFFERS STROKE - Marion D. Rechtern, Ph.D., professor emeritus of biological science, recently suffered a stroke and is recuperating at the St. Peters Manor Care Center. Cards and letters can be sent to her, in care of the center, 150 Spencer Rd., St. Peters, MO 63376.

LANDMARK V-P TO SPEAK - Kent McNeil, senior vice-president of Landmark Banks for the St. Charles region, will present a discussion of current issues facing the banking industry April 21 at 10:20 a.m. in Cobbs Hall. An adjunct professor at Lindenwood, McNeil has extensive experience in the banking industry as well as the stock brokerage and insurance industries. The discussion is open to all.

RECRUITING AT MARYVILLE - A representative from Marion Laboratories of Kansas City will be conducting interviews at Maryville College April 21 beginning at 8:30 a.m. The firm is seeking graduates in the areas of management, science and/or communications who would be interested in pharmaceutical sales, and it offers an excellent starting salary. Upcoming Lindenwood graduates interested in finding out more about this should contact Donna Bennett in the CAP Center.

EMPLOYMENT POSITIONS AVAILABLE - Lindenwood students interested in part or full-time positions at Ponderosa Restaurant in St. Peters can apply in person at the facility, 4177 S. Service Rd. The restaurant has several positions open, including the need for hostesses, cooks and busboys. Students with two or more years of any type of work experience are preferred.

Seven people are needed to work during the summer as sales and service representatives for Evergreen Lawn Co.. Employees are paid salary plus commission. For more information on these Evergreen positions, contact Joann Massmann at the CAP Center or call her at extension 237.

TICKETS REMAIN FOR SATURDAY - The big band sounds of the "Hot Docs" and the cabaret revue, "Broadway Time Machine," are the highlights of Club Jitterbug '86, a benefit for the Downstage Studio Theatre beginning at 8 p.m. Saturday. Tickets are $5 per person, and can be purchased at the Box Office in Roemer.

BOARD MEMBER TO SPEAK - Thomas Gossage, corporate group and senior vice-president of Monsanto Chemical Co., is the keynote speaker for the St. Louis Lindenwood Alumni Club's Noon Day Luncheon April 29 at the University Club in Brentwood. A member of the college's board of directors, Gossage is to speak on "Front Pages and Bottom Lines: International Business in a Changing World." Reservations and further information can be obtained by contacting Esther Fenning at extension 317.

COMBINED CONCERTS SET - The Lindenwood Chamber Singers and the Women's Ensemble will present combined, diverse concerts on two dates - April 20 at 4 p.m. at the Evangelical United Church of Christ in Webster Groves and on April 27 at 4:30 p.m. in Sibley Chapel on campus. Both are free to all faculty, staff and students as well as the general public. Under the direction of Nancy P. Fleming, assistant professor of music and director of the Chamber Singers and Women's Ensemble, the concerts will feature classical and popular works. Included will be music by Mozart, Bach and Gershwin along with a popular medley of music from the 1920s.

CLUB JITTERBUG '86' SCHEDULED - "Club Jitterbug '86," the annual benefit for Lindenwood's Downstage Studio Theatre, is scheduled April 29 at 8 p.m. in Ayres Hall. With a theme this year of "Broadway Time Machine," the event will feature the big band music of the "Hot Dogs." Admission is $5 per person at the door. For further information, call or stop by the Box Office in Roemer Hall, 946-2004, between noon and 5 p.m. daily.

YEARBOOKS ON SALE - Copies of the 1986 yearbook are on sale, and can be purchased by submitting $20 along with your name and box number to Campus Box 294. You'll receive a receipt for your purchase the following day.

GOSPEL CONCERT TOMORROW - The college's Gospel Choir will perform for the Lindenwood community tomorrow at 5 p.m. in Ayres Cafeteria. There's no admission charge, and all faculty, staff and students are invited to attend.

CHAMELEON PUPPET THEATRE - The Chameleon Puppet Theatre of Springfield, MO, will perform in concert April 20 at 3 p.m. in Jelkyl Theatre. Featured will be its original production of "American Mountain Tales," a show containing 13 hand-crafted rod puppets, storytelling, autoharp music, clog dancing and a puppet play. The show is free to Lindenwood students with IDs; admission for other students and children 12 years and younger is $1 and for adults, $3.

The Chameleon Puppet Theatre features Nancy Spaeder, a 13-year veteran of puppeteering who teaches at Southwest Missouri State University and Drury College in Springfield, and her partner, Leon Van Weelden, a professional painter and sculptor who has been puppeteering for seven years. In the past four years, the group has performed for more than 250,000 adults and children at libraries, schools and festivals throughout Missouri, Arkansas, California and Kansas.

"Simply stated, puppetry is a form of dramatic communication," Spaeder said. "The puppet is the instrument through which actors express feelings, emotions and concepts. To practice the highest art of communication through puppetry, a puppeteer must be trained in acting and directing as well as have technical expertise," she added.

SELL THE CAR; WALK TO COLLEGE - A four-bedroom house owned by the Rev. Don Burkhalter is for sale at 136 S. Kingshighway, located across from the college's main gate. The full-brick structure has 1.5-baths (with capability for two full ones), two fireplaces and a full basement with room for an office or a fifth bedroom. For further details and price, contact the Rev Burkhalter at 946-7550.

PHONE VOLUNTEERS NEEDED - Students interested in answering phones at the Hands Across America headquarters at 209 Jefferson St. are asked to contact Marilyn Morris at extension 222. Volunteers are needed from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and work-service hours are available for Lindenwood students.

Local efforts for the May 25 event are being coordinated by a steering committee headed by Ed Watkins, assistant to President Spainhower for special gifts. Spainhower also serves on the committee which is taking part in the May 25; national project to line up six million Americans hand-to-hand from Los Angeles to New York City. The project will focus worldwide attention on and raise money for the homeless and hungry in America.

PRESIDENT'S SPRING CLEANUP DAY SET - Mark your calendars and grease your elbows! President Spainhower has proclaimed May 2 as the college's annual Spring Cleanup Day, and he's asking for student volunteers as well as faculty and staff to donate a few hours working on campus grounds. The day-long event is to prepare the campus for the spring commencement on May 17. For all volunteers, Lindenwood is "springing" for a free lunch; Ayres Cafeteria will be closed and lunch will be served outside at noon. But, you've got to help with this all-college effort and donate a few hours of your time - to do so, sign up with Toni Isenhour at extension 202.

NEW BOOKS AT BUTLER LIBRARY - Recently-purchased books available at Butler Memorial Library include SEVERE PERSONALITY DISORDERS by Otto Kernberg; the ENCLYCOPEDIC DICTIONARY OF PSYCHOLOGY by Ron Harre, SUCCESS AND THE FEAR OF SUCCESS IN WOMEN by David W. Krueger and A SEMBLANCE OF JUSTICE: ST. LOUIS DESEGREGATION AND ORDER IN URBAN AMERICA.

PRETEND YOU'RE IN MINNESOTA - Administration V-P Jerry Rufkahr is asking students to avoid using air conditioners until they have been cleaned and serviced by the Maintenance Dept. staff. As a means of cutting utility expense, units are not to be turned on until they have been prepared for warm-weather usage. "Ditto, too," for all faculty and staff members.

TO WOMEN FACULTY, STAFF MEMBERS - Management and skills are the subjects to be addressed by Julia K. Muller, president of United Missouri Bank of Kirkwood, at the Spring Networking Meeting of the Women's Program Council, April 22 at 4 p.m. at Reinert Hall on the campus of St. Louis University, 305 S. Grand Ave., St. Louis. Muller, former Dean of Student Affairs at the University of Missouri-St. Louis, will speak from her experience in higher education and business. A social hour follows. Lindenwood is one of 14 area institutions which cooperates through the Higher Education Center, of which the council is a part. For more information, see or call Maggie Kracke or Ellen Irons in the Admissions Office, extension 213, or Edith Graber in the Sociology Dept., extension 248.

USED BOOKS NEEDED FOR 'ATTIC SALE' - Used books are needed for "Mrs. Sibley's Attic Sale," the annual fund-raising event of the St. Charles Lindenwood Alumni Club, scheduled this year on June 7 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on campus. Books of any type and condition will be accepted, and they can be delivered to the college's Alumni Office daily. All proceeds from the antiques, arts and crafts and flea-market event will be used for scholarship awards to Lindenwood students. For more information, call Esther Fenning at extension 317.
