54 SENIORS CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES; STOCKSTROM, CANNON TO BE HONORED

Scholarships for Coming Year Awarded to 22 1958-59 Frosh

Twenty-two prospective Lindenwood students have been awarded scholarships by the college for the coming school year of 1958-59. Scholarships range from $100 to $500.

Lindenwood annually presents grants in five categories to young girls with outstanding ability and aptitude in their respective fields of interest.

National merit certificate scholarships were won by Caroline Drane, Kansas City, Mo.; Linda Blackwood, Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Helen Henry, Aberdeen, S.D.

Anne Bryan, Paducah, Ky.; Margot Benton, Birmingham, Ala.; Frances Hammond, Salem, Ill.; Mary Alves, Little Rock, Ark.; and Rebecca Lord, Peoria, Ill., were awarded music scholarships.

Art scholarships were presented to Betty Cheadle, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Marjorie Holman, Little Rock, Ark.; Marian Moore, Little Rock, Ark.; and Virginia Wallace, St. Louis, Mo.

Six students were awarded religious education scholarships. They are Judith Bruckert, Valley Station, Ky.; Darline Frantz, Indianapolis, Ind.; Judith Samuel, Tulsa, Okla.; Marilou Smith, Houston, Tex.; Barbara Fountain, Denver, Colo.;

2 Seniors Plan Summer Acting

James Hodges and Edwin Van Woert, senior drama majors, will leave some time next week for Sacramento, Calif., to take part in a summer stock program of the Western Academy of Dramatic Arts.

The drama students will spend the first five weeks teaching and directing and will devote their last five weeks to acting and directing.

This is the first year for the company to be in existence. The directors hope to send three companies on tour in the latter part of the summer season.

Jim and Van spent last summer in Plymouth, Mass. where they played in summer stock.

Kanak Painting To Be in Show

Arthur L. Kanak, associate professor of art and artist in residence, has had a painting selected by the jury for the American Art of Our Time exhibit which will be on display in Provincetown, Mass., July 15 through August 17.

The show is a part of the First Provincetown Arts Festival.

Mr. Kanak's picture, an oil entitled "Winter, 1958," was chosen while it was on exhibit in Kansas City at the Mid-America show.

and Carol Webster, St. Louis, Mo.

Graduates of junior colleges by recommendation from their president or dean may receive junior college scholarships. The students presented this scholarship are Marian Van Horn, Cripple Creek, Colo.; Mitzi Anderson, Denver, Colo.; Cynthia Krueger, Natoma, Kan.; and Marilyn Praught, Des Moines, Iowa.

Eileen Krueger, Wetonka, S.D., has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship by the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. to any Presbyterian College. Eileen has enrolled in Lindenwood.

Mrs. Arthur Stockstrom

The Reverend Thomas C. Cannon

Drs. Skinner, Patrick Speak To 131st Class

Fifty-four seniors are candidates for degrees to be presented at the 131st annual commencement exercises tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. on the lawn.

Dr. W. Sherman Skinner, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in St. Louis and a member of Lindenwood's board of directors, will be the commencement speaker. His topic is "Unchosen Destiny."

Dr. H. Louis Patrick, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church in Kansas City and former pastor at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in St. Louis, will be the speaker at the baccalaureate services to be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the chapel. A former "Religion in Life Week" speaker, his topic is "The Venture with the Future."

Two honorary degrees will be given at commencement. Mrs. Arthur Stockstrom, member of the LC board of directors since 1949 and a prominent civic leader in St. Louis, will be awarded an honorary Doctor of Humanities degree. A former teacher, she will be presented by Russell L. Dearmont, a member of the board.

The Rev. Thomas C. Cannon, pastor of the St. Charles Presbyterian Church since 1953 who has served in Presbytery and Synod in various capacities, will be presented an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree. Howard I. Young, president of the board, will present Mr. Cannon for the degree.

Thirty-one seniors who are candidates for Bachelor of Arts degrees are Heather Armour, Gul Atal, Nancy Bowser, Yolanda Breedon, Joann Burgin, Maria Cherner, Alyce Chevalier, Sally Wood Cox, Marilyn deBeer, Ellen Devlin, Nedra Durham, Carol Gardner, Donald Grimes, James Hodges, Nori Hotta, Marcia Jones, Joan LeClaire, Barbara Lee, Betty Miller, Nan Nordyke, Sue Potter, Carol Punt, Grete Reh, Nancy Roberts, Metta Roussalis, Julia Spickelmier Shildmyer, Ann Stewart, Sandra Taylor, Edwin Van Woert, Jane Winter, and Carolyn Wood.

Fifteen seniors who are candidates for Bachelor of Science degrees are Joan Broeckelmann, Mary Anne Carr, Ann Clevenger, Beth Devlin, Mariva Dorman, Sydney Finks, Constance Gibson, Nancy Hulse, Sondra Jupin, Doris Langeneckert, Phyllis Henderson Layton, Wanda Bullard Lesley, Suzanne Hildebrandt Penzler, June Schmidt, and Dorothy Shippey.

One senior, Barbara Koeller, will receive a Bachelor of Music degree.

Two seniors will receive a Bachelor of Music Education. They are Ann Gatchell and Elaine Lunt.

Five seniors who will receive their degrees after completing slight deficiencies in requirements are Mary Goodnick, Roxie Greene, and Shirley Noland, Bachelor of Arts; and Janet Sue Johnson and Eliza-

Five Seniors Announce Plans; LeClaire to Do Research Work

Five more seniors have announced definite plans for work next year.

Joan LeClaire will be a research assistant in the pharmacology department of the Washington University Medical School.

Alyce Chevalier will work in cancer research at Barnard Free Skin and Cancer Hospital in St. Louis. The two plan to live together in an apartment close to their work.

Doris Langeneckert will teach in the elementary school system of Mount Clemens, Mich. She plans to be married to Air Force Lt. Allan Dieckgraefe, who is stationed in Mount Clemens, next fall.

Donald Grimes will attend the University of Kansas in Lawrence next fall beginning a two-year program in the department of political science. Don will study under the city management training course for two semesters on campus and then apprentice for a year in a city office somewhere in the United States. During the second year, he will write his master's degree thesis on some project or problem in the city where he is apprenticing.

Phyllis Layton has been appointed instructor in office management at L.C. She will replace Mrs. Mary Alice Gildehaus, who is leaving Lindenwood to join the staff of the Webster Groves, Mo., High School.

SCA Social Work To Be Concentrated In St. Charles Area

The Student Christian Association will concentrate its social service program in St. Charles next year, Jane Cooper, social service chairman, announced today.

Tentative plans for the year have been worked out in consultation with several faculty advisers, Jane said.

Work will be concentrated in the St. Charles Boys' Club, in St. Charles churches, and in homes for the aged. The program will be discussed with directors in these organizations.

A list of areas for volunteer work will be issued to students next fall, Jane said, and they will check the areas where they wish to serve and list their qualifying experiences. Walter Beattie, professor of sociology, will head an institute for volunteer social service workers to be held next Sept. 29 to Oct. 24.

Periodic programs during the year will be water safety instruction for St. Charles residents, arts and craft seminars for Girl Scout leaders, assisting in the toys for tots campaign and the Community Chest drive, and promoting a clothing drive for the Farmington Presbyterian Children's Home.

Project chairmen will not be members of the SCA cabinet, but they will work in cooperation with the social service chairmen on the cabinet.

Estes Bound

Planning to attend the regional Y conference in Estes Park, Colo., in June are (front) Connie Ellis, (rear left) Sydney Finks and Connie Milliken. Marilyn Kroepel, not pictured, also will go.

J. Ely, M. Williams Named Co-Editors Of 1958 - 59 Bark

Jane Ely and Mary D. Williams, Nicolls freshmen, have been named co-editors for next year of the Linden Bark, Dean Paulena Nickell announced today. Jane and Mary D. have been on the Bark staff this year and have been assistant editors for the current semester.

Three other students who will work with them on the editorial board of the Bark next year are Linda Crane, Elizabeth "Bitsy" Thomas, and Peggy Wheeler.

A business manager will be chosen next fall. Students interested in applying for the position are asked to see Mrs. Mary Bryant, Bark adviser, in Roemer 27.

Scroll Members Elect Betty Layton President

Betty Layton, editor of the Bark, was elected president for next year of Linden Scroll, senior service honorary society, at the initiation breakfast Saturday at the home of Mrs. Marian Dawson Rechtern, professor of biology and a Scroll sponsor.

Julie Orr was elected secretary; Susan Freegard, treasurer; and Jane Cooper, chaplain.

Outgoing officers are Ann Stewart, president; Barbara Koeller, secretary; Betty Miller, treasurer; and Ellen Devlin, chaplain.

Tree Memorial Starts

Six sweet gum trees have been added to the campus near the corner of Watson and Kingshighway. Mrs. Hugh A. Steavenson of Elsberry, Mo., an alumna of the 1930's, gave the trees to establish a grove in memory of the late Mr. Guy Motley, former LC director of admissions.

4 Trouble Spots Hi-light News; Beirut Scene of Bitter Fight

International news this week has been concentrated on four trouble spots: France, Beirut, Algeria, and South America. Attention first was focused on Caracas, Venezuela, and Lima, Peru, where Vice-President Nixon met stones and abuse on his South American goodwill tour.

President Eisenhower praised the Vice-president for his cool headedness during the affair and said hopefully that the incident would not damage US-SA relations.

Beirut has been the center of anti-Western demonstrations and bitter fighting between loyalists and Moslem Nationalists. Latest violence as the Bark went to press was the exploding of bombs in a crowded market place. The Moslems want the government to join with Egypt's Nasser in policy.

Bidding for control of the French government is Gen. Charles De Gaulle, who asked for unusual powers but denied dictatorial ambitions in a press conference Monday. Premier Pflimlin's government was holding on as the Bark went to press. DeGaulle supports Algerian military defiance of the present French government.—B. L.

Students Urged To Give Books To Asian Drive

Used books, journals, and music are being collected from students and faculty members for contribution to the Asian Foundation book drive.

The Asian Foundation is working in conjunction with the Korean-Scholarship Committee this year. Books from 350 American colleges and universities sponsoring drives will go to colleges and universities in Korea. One aim is to improve Asian understanding of the Western world and to stimulate inter-Asian communication through the learning of English as a second language.

Students are urged, when packing to go home, to put used books in the boxes marked Asian Foundation instead of discarding them. A box is on every dormitory floor.

COMMENCEMENT

beth McClintock, Bachelor of Science.

Music diplomas will be issued to two sophomores, Karen Glaser and Judith Ann Kiger, piano; and two seniors, Ann Gatchell, piano; and Barbara Koeller, organ.

Following the baccalaureate service, President and Mrs. F. L. McCluer, assisted by members of the Linden Scroll, will give a reception for seniors and their guests, faculty, and administration at the McCluer home.

Tomorrow a breakfast will be served in Fellowship Hall of the chapel for seniors and their guests, faculty, and administration.

WUS Head Reports

May 25, 1958

Dear Students, Faculty, and Administration:

The proceeds, totaling $1,600.27, from the World University Service auction held Feb. 27, have been sent to the regional WUS office in Dallas, Tex.

As world service chairman of SCA, I would like to thank all the members of the Lindenwood community who contributed.

The 1958 LC contribution will aid needy students and faculty members in Asia. We at LC can be proud that our contribution will make it possible for Asian colleges and universities to have better textbooks, better medical supplies, and better learning conditions.

Sincerely,
Marilyn "Micki" Kroepel

LCers Restless As Time for Vacation, Graduation Nears

"The natives are restless tonight." The lines of this well-known song could well describe the feeling on the LC campus these days as all students are preparing for graduation and summer vacation.

So restless are Ellen Devlin and Carol Gardner that even the boundaries of the United States can't hold them. Ellen and Carol will leave for Europe from Quebec two weeks after graduation. They plan to visit 12 countries including Belgium where they will attend the world's fair.

Marilyn de Beer will do summer study at the University of Minnesota on a scholarship from North Western College in Orange City, Iowa. She will teach at the North Western Academy in the fall where her younger sister will be in school.

Heading for the north woods will be senior Don Grimes. Don plans a summer as a forest ranger in Montana. One more restless native.

All Bark wishes to offer condolences on the ending of field trips to Cotton's, the local ice cream parlor. Never mind, gals, you can still swim and the days are getting hotter all the time.

Students have not only been restless the past two weeks, they have been sleepless. Nancy Bowser holds the all-night record by staying up from Saturday to Friday. Keeping her company in Cobbs' lounge was Sandy Taylor with seven psychology papers to do. Your columnist ran a close third, but gave up and went to bed at 5:30.

Congratulations for the week go to Nancy Tucker who won a dictaphone proficiency award and to Sahee Hong who will serve as president of the IRC next year.

Margie Ward, Irwin sophomore, will return the visit made by the Annapolis men to LC. She is planning to spend June Week there.

We hear that there are some brave souls on campus. It seems that a growl was heard on the art weekend trip to Pere Marquette Park last weekend. Barbara Kasper, Ellie Mansfield, and Claudine Talbott stuffed paper into a broom, lit it, a la Ku Klux Klan, and went searching for the beast. Misfortune of the trip happened to Miss Beale who burned her hand—not playing Ku Klux.

Copping another contest honor is this year's Harvest Ball Queen, Mary D. Williams. Mary D. was

Bark Survey Shows Summer Plans of LC Faculty Varied

Several LC faculty members have planned interesting summer activities, a Bark survey shows.

Thomas W. Doherty, professor of French, is studying at Middlebury, Vt., where he will receive his Doctor of Philosophy degree in French in August. Mr. Doherty's wife and children left this month to visit Mrs. Doherty's family in France, but they will return for his "graduation."

Wayne Harwood Balch will be among the top music professors of American colleges and universities who will study in Dallas, Tex., at Southern Methodist University.

Miss Pearl Walker, professor of music, will teach voice at Columbia University in New York.

Mary F. Lichliter, director of guidance and placement, will vacation in Coral Gables, Fla., with her family. Also Florida bound are Miss Sophie Payne Alston, professor of home economics, and Miss Margaret Lindsay, associate professor of home economics.

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. McCluer are spending their vacation at their summer place in Michigan.

Dorothy Ross, professor of physical education, will conduct a certification program in camp crafts from June 21-24 at Camp Chickagami, Winter, Wis. This program is similar to one she conducted this spring for persons in the St. Louis area. Later she will travel in the West.

Dr. Alice Parker, professor of English, will be the banquet speaker at the national convention of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, of which she is a member. After the convention, which will be held in Pennsylvania, she will do some additional traveling and visiting in the East.

Miss Martha May Boyer, associate professor of speech, will work at radio station KMOX in St. Louis this summer.

Mrs. Bryant to Try Leisure

By Betty Layton

For the first time in her life, Mrs. Donald C. Bryant, alumnae secretary and public relations director, plans to be a woman of leisure. Mrs. Bryant, who teaches journalism in addition to her other jobs, will be leaving Lindenwood and will live in Iowa City next year where her husband will teach at the state university.

Mrs. B., as she is affectionately known to her students, is one of LC's busiest people. Her capable hand and expert guidance can be seen in the Bark, which she sponsors, and in the annual of which she is co-sponsor. Also under her supervision are the Encore and Press clubs.

Mrs. Bryant came to Lindenwood seven years ago in November of 1951. Before that she worked as a reporter for the St. Louis Star-Times until it was discontinued.

A native of Indiana, she graduated from Indiana University and took her master's degree at the University of Pennsylvania. Later, while teaching at New York State College, she met and married Dr. Bryant.

Mrs. Donald C. Bryant

Describing her newspaper career, Mrs. Bryant said that she had many misgivings when she started to work at the Star-Times during the war. Since gas was rationed, her only transportation was the bus, and she has the misfortune of getting sick on busses. "I gave myself seven days, and it turned out to be seven years almost to the day," she laughingly said in an interview.

Before her sojourn on the paper, Mrs. Bryant taught English and speech at Washington University. Some of her students were air force men who were in training for intelligence work. Dr. Bryant was in charge of the army education program at the university.

Though she has always been a professional woman with one hand, she likes to garden, cook, and entertain with the other. An excellent hostess, Mrs. Bryant's World University Service dinners are always eagerly bought by the students. Anyone who has ever enjoyed her hospitality looks forward to another invitation for "an evening at the Bryants."

Interested in politics and government, Mrs. Bryant is a former president of the Missouri League of Women Voters and is on the civil service board of her city government.

Those who know and work with her realize that, though her position will be filled next year, the place she has created just by being herself can never be filled by anyone. A woman of leisure? Perhaps, but her friends have no doubt that she will soon be busy in her new home taking an active part in community life and making new friends, who, when they know her, will realize Lindenwood's loss.

Glamour Contest Winners Named

The winners of Glamour magazine's "10 Best Dressed College Girls in America" contest were announced recently by Kathleen Aston Casey, editor-in-chief of the magazine.

The winners are from College of St. Rose, Albany, N.Y.; Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio; Sweet Briar College, Va.; Cazenovia Junior College, N.Y.; University of Connecticut, Waterbury Branch; University of Oregon at Eugene; Russell Sage College, Troy, N.Y.; Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus; Florida State University at Tallahassee; and George Pepperdine College, Los Angeles.

The winners will be photographed on college campuses for the August issue of the magazine, and will go to New York as Glamour's guests during the first week of June.

Mrs. Casey praised the extremely high caliber of young women submitted as entries in the 1958 contest, which includes Lindenwood's entry, Johanne Repper.

New KCLC Staff Announced; J. Lovins Production Director

Announcement of the new KCLC staff for next year was made yesterday by Miss Martha May Boyer, associate professor of speech and sponsor of the campus radio station.

Constance Sutton will serve as program director; Jo Ann Lovins as production director; Ila Crews and Billie Long, co-social chairmen; Nancy Calvert, chief engineer; and Connie Milliken, director of public service, education, and religion.

Others on the new staff are Ferol Finch and Melba Peyton, sales directors; Gretchen Lent, news director; Mary E. Taylor, music librarian. Emily Hay and Peggy Limbaugh will be in charge of publicity and promotion, and Gay Pauly will be director of continuity and freshman liaison.

Sandra Hairston will also take a staff position following her return from the American University in Washington, D. C.

Miss Boyer will be in charge of the coordination of the new staff for the first few weeks of school.

SEA Elects Officers; B. Grundmann Head

Betty Jean Hagemann Grundmann was elected president of the Student Educational Association at the final meeting on May 7. Other new officers are Shirley Smith, vice-president; Suzanne Esber, secretary; and Betty Dinkmeyer, treasurer.

Values of practice teaching, discipline, and age characteristics of children were discussed in a panel by five practice teachers: Doris Langeneckert, Carol Gardner, Constance Gibson, Janet Johnson, and Carolyn Wood.

Essay Contest Announced by New Republic

Lindenwood students are eligible to enter the annual essay-writing contest sponsored by the national magazine, The New Republic. Ten awards of $100 each will be awarded to the winners.

The contest is divided into two divisions with five of the 10 prizes in each. Essays on any aspect of present day television, as seen as a medium for enlightenment or entertainment, are one category. Essays on the state of American fiction, considered in general or in terms of a younger novelist, are the other category.

The essays must be between 1,500 and 3,000 words long. The deadline for submitting entries is Oct. 1, 1958. Send all manuscripts to Awards Department, The New Republic, 1244 Nineteenth Street, N. W., Washington 6, D. C. Enclose return postage.

Terrapin Elects New Officers; 4 Orchesis Pledges Give Solos

Renee Ryter, freshman, has been elected next year's president of Terrapin, the campus swimming club, announced Mrs. Grazina Amonas, faculty adviser of the group.

Julia Hoyt will serve as secretary-treasurer, and the vice-president will be selected from next year's freshman class.

Eleven members of Terrapin have finished the year with senior standing. To accomplish this one must perform 20 swimming stunts with good form. Students who met these requirements are Renee Ryter, Sue Alexander, Anna Belle Defa-baugh, Donna Laey, Helen Moeller, Frances Nagel, Dorothy Noble, Sue Potter, Peggy Roberts, Ina Rae Barklage, and Julia Hoyt.

Orchesis Initiates

Four pledges of Orchesis, Lindenwood modern dance group, performed solo dances in the Fine Arts Building on May 8 as their last requirement to become members of Orchesis.

Betty Wadlow performed a dance involving a polka step. Mitzi Castleberry and Linda Dameron demonstrated dances using modern dance techniques. Joan Rundell performed two dances in a Spanish style.

Betty, Mitzi, Linda, and Joan were formally initiated into Orchesis on May 13 with six other pledges: Ina Rae Barklage, Patricia Lacey, Georgiana Foster, Betsy Crockarell, Jo Ann Lovins, and Diana Macurda.

Next year's president of Orchesis is Joan Rundell, a physical education major from Rochester, Minn. Jo Ann Lovins will serve as vice-president, and Lily Ann Trautwein, secretary-treasurer.

Orchesis members finished their year with a steak dinner on May 19 at the home of Miss Dorothy Ross, head of the physical education department.

Smith Elected Colhecon Head; 3 Others Chosen

Colhecon, Lindenwood's home economics club, elected officers for next year at a picnic held at the Ovens May 8.

Shirley Smith, junior, has been re-elected to serve as president. Other officers are Sally Seifert, freshman, vice-president; Helen Moeller, sophomore, secretary; and Caroline Stephenson, sophomore, treasurer. All officers are home economics majors.

New Fabrics, Color Key of Style Show, LC "Fashions Fair"

The 1958 World's Fair at Brussels inspired Lindenwood's clothing classes' production of America's Fashion Fair held in Roemer Auditorium, May 15.

The show presented "fashions of understated elegance and unshy colors" for summer. The head band is back from the French to be worn with the old American page boy hair style.

The girls showed the comfort and beauty of the many new fabrics, such as cupioni and cotton blends, which can be adapted easily to all the new and classic styles.

A full collection of the many-sided sailor suit was shown in lounging clothes, skirts and blouses, and, you guessed it, the chemise version.

Few of the girls have accepted the Parisian high hemline, but on their feet the pointed toe has been firmly established in brilliant color.

The afternoon and evening clothes the girls had made featured many monochromatic prints and metallic cloths. The tone ranged from cool to hot colors and shades.

The models' "sewmanship" was augmented by their ingenuity in design and planning. Most of the dresses shown could have more than one "personality" created by a jacket, a collar, or a simple change of accessories to make them "party dressy or town tailored."

Irwin Wins Riding Intramurals; Mary Rankin to Head Beta Chi

Irwin Hall copped first place with 26 points in last Saturday's riding intramurals sponsored by Beta Chi, campus riding club, and the Women's Recreation Association.

Ayres Hall was a close second with 24 points. Other ratings are Niccolls, 20; Sibley, 16; Cobbs, 14. Butler had only one rider, and she rode for Sibley.

Individual winners for events follow, listed in order of their placing:

English riding—first class: Judith Lanman, Ayres; Judy Brown, Niccolls; Lettie Russell, Cobbs; Karen Prewitt, Sibley; Martha Hensley, Ayres.

Second class: Jeanette Williams, Irwin; Judith Kiger, Sibley; Gail Holzer, Ayres; Helen Rank, Niccolls; Ferol Finch, Cobbs.

Third class: Elizabeth Darnall, Ayres; June Tavlin, Niccolls; Nancy Hoffmann, Sibley; Sue Spencer, Irwin; Edith "Dede" Shigley, Ayres.

Fourth class: Betsy Kelton, Irwin; Carol Davidson, Ayres; Susan Perry, Sibley; Mary Rankin, Cobbs; Wendy Hall, Irwin.

Fifth class: Laurie McLeod, Cobbs; Barbara Dunlap, Niccolls; JoAnn Barnes, Irwin; Ann Bishop, Sibley; Karen Kivlin, Niccolls.

Western riding—first class: Janet Walker, Ayres; Janice Beaty, Irwin; Kathleen Burt, Sibley; Martha Crane, Niccolls.

Second class: Sarah Loden, Irwin; Cora Jane Clark, Niccolls;

Kay Province, Cobbs; Connie Schafer, Irwin; Peggy Walters, Ayres.

Members of the class in methods of teaching riding were judges and referees.

At the last meeting of Beta Chi, Mary Rankin was elected next year's president; Carol Davidson, vice-president; Kay Province, secretary; Susan Perry, treasurer, and Martha Crane, publicity chairman. The club held its annual picnic on May 15 at the Ovens.
