Faculty Appreciation Night Feb. 7 at Women's Basketball Game

Please join us for our inaugural Faculty Appreciation Night on Thursday, Feb. 7, during the Women's Basketball game. Tipoff is at 5:30 p.m. with a special recognition for faculty members during halftime of the game, estimated shortly around 6 p.m.. Join us in the VIP Room at Hyland Arena for appetizers and some time with our student-athletes and staff as our women's team takes on MIAA opponent Northwest Missouri State. We are grateful for all that our faculty do, and we want to take a little time to say thank you!

As always, family members are invited to the game and can get in free of charge with your staff ID or Lion Pass. As an added bonus, we will also be celebrating Make-A-Wish night, with several area Wish families joining us as our guests of honor during the men's game at 7:30 p.m. Please contact Casey Finnell (cfinnell@lindenwood.edu) for questions.

Faculty Promotion in Rank

Faculty may now begin the promotion in rank application process. If you wish to apply for promotion in rank, please see the PDF that will walk you through the process. The deadline to check eligibility for promotion in rank is Feb. 8, 2019. Please contact your faculty chair, Annie Alameda (AAlameda@lindenwood.edu) or Jen Welsh (JWelsh@lindenwood.edu), if you have a question regarding your eligibility.

If you have questions while completing your application, please reach out to Josh Elliott (JElliott@lindenwood.edu) or Jen Sharpe (JSharpe@lindenwood.edu) in Human Resources.

Pedro Linares Family Cartoneria Exhibition Through March 10

Lindenwood University is honored to accept and display the collection of 18 sculptures by noted Mexican folk artist Pedro Linares and his family from the Laumeier Sculpture Park. The Sculpture Park has owned the collection since 1990 and last exhibited it in 1992, the year of Linares' death.

The exhibit runs through March 10, 2019 in the Boyle Family Gallery in the J. Scheidegger Center for the Arts. There is an opening reception on Thursday, Jan. 31 from 6- 8 p.m. and a Gallery Talk at 7 p.m. by Dana Turkovic, curator, Laumeier Sculpture Park, St. Louis, Missouri. The opening reception and Gallery Talk are free and open to the public.

Pedro Linares (b. 1906) came into prominence as an artist in his native Mexico City through his mastery of cartoneria (papier-mache sculpture) and his invention of alebrijes (fantastical creatures) in the 1930's. Linares received the Mexican Government's National Award for Science and Art in 1990. His three sons, Miguel, Enrique, and Felipe learned the craft and worked alongside him as a team on the sculptures: almost all the sculptures are collaborative. Now, three of his grandsons are carrying on the tradition.

The sculptures in this collection date from around 1990 and are in the El Dia de los Muertos (Day of the Dead) tradition, one of the genres for which the Linares Family is most known. In these vignettes, skeletons are depicted in everyday occupations such as newsboy, musician, and cowboy.

Gallery hours: 3-8 p.m., Monday - Thursday and 1-6 p.m., Friday.

For additional information, contact jtroy@lindenwood.edu.

Faculty, Students Attend Annual Meeting of American Historical Association

Over winter break, Drs. Steve Gietschier and Ted Cohen took History students Katie Centini, Christine Bryant, and Solveig Klarin to Chicago for the Annual Meeting of the American Historical Association. Katie Centini was one of only ten undergraduates from across the country to present her research at the conference. In addition to attending lots of panels, the group made trips to the Bean, the Art Institute of Chicago, and numerous deep dish pizza establishments.
