Current Comment

By PRESIDENT GAGE

MANY days I have sat in my office facing and defining problems presented to me by perplexed and sometimes worried people. At the end of the day I have wished that I could live in a world without any problems. Then common sense comes to my rescue. I certainly do not wish to live in an uninteresting world or in a world in which people, as distinctively human beings exercising the highest prerogatives of their humanity, are not truly alive. A human world without problems would be a world of exactly that kind. It would be utterly dead and uninteresting.

People the world around are very much alive. They have a poignant awareness of themselves in relation to the world in which they live. In their minds is an explosive energy. No power of which we have any knowledge is equal to that of ideas coming to birth in the minds of people who are much distressed and wholly aroused. Tidal waves, earthquakes, and volcanic eruptions are of course powerful. For forces really irresistible we must turn with a Greek poet to "the upsurging of the undistinguished multitude".

In people's minds ideas are being shaped as more or less well defined problems. A problem, be it noted, is a form of pain. It is intellectual perplexity or spiritual distress. Pain is the first and positive factor in conscious life. If there were no awareness of problems there would be no consciousness. Life would be an oyster-like existence in which a primitive irritability determines all responses. To us who have the power of sharp awareness in the form of problems, pleasure comes in the form of relief from the pressure of a problem and satisfaction in its solution. There is no pleasure without an antecedent pain. Just because we are human we are lifted up and sustained aloft on the wings of a divine discontent.

These observations are due to my reading of a most exciting book. It is a small volume by John Erskine and is entitled "The Human Life of Jesus."

Mr. Erskine pays much attention to the ministry of Jesus to suffering people. Concerning that ministry he makes a very keen observation: "Perhaps the commonest disease of the sick minds which Jesus cured was worry. . . . With us, as with the men and women of the old times, one of the greatest pressures comes from conscience. . . . There is no release from this pressure except through hope, or the prospect of a second chance, or through any one of the many forms of comfort summed up in that word 'forgiveness'."

The amount of suffering in the world is enormous. It bulks large even in our America where all commodities (the things that make life commodious) abound. Here live people whose nerves are on edge and whose minds are in a state of jittery confusion. In that human situation security and certainty rest on the fact that the public conscience is aroused. What is wrong? is a question prominent in our minds. There is a feeling that we, not a part of us, but all of us, must determine what is right and do it. There seems to be no doubt that our determination, maybe grim determination, will really make effective decisions and solve our problems. In other words, appearances to the contrary, we do live in hopeful times. Never have so many millions of people been stirred by the idea that their fondest and perfectly natural hopes can be realized.

Into a world in which all people are striving for a better life our seniors are going. To that upward movement of humanity they are fitted to make a distinct contribution. That is the reason for having higher education. Our seniors are, of course, only a small group. However, each one counts. Each increase in the number of intelligent people makes more certain the realization of humanity's hopes by turning its great energies into right channels. So we salute our seniors. May God prosper their influence wherever they may live.

AT THE 119th annual commencement of Lindenwood College, ninety-three members of this year's graduating class received degrees, certificates of associate in arts and diplomas on June 3. Of this year's class, fifty-four are Seniors.

The commencement address was delivered in Roemer Auditorium by the Rev. Dr. James W. Clarke, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in St. Louis. Dr. Clarke chose as his subject, "The Great Adventure." Dr. Clarke is a graduate of McGill University in Montreal, Canada and holds a Doctor of Divinity degree from the United College of Winnipeg, Canada. He became professor of Homiletics at the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Chicago in August, 1941, resigning that position in September, 1944 to become pastor of Second Presbyterian Church.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached on Sunday, June 2, by Dr. Charles L. Wishart, president emeritus of the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio. The subject of his sermon was "Shadows and Reality."

The annual dinner of the Lindenwood College Alumnae Association was held at 6 p. m. in Ayres Dining Room on June 1. Mrs. A. Jackson Clay, of St. Charles, (Enid Patterson, Class of '13) president of the association presided and inducted the members of year's graduating class into the association. Dr. Florence W. Schaper, Class of '18, Director of Student Guidance and Personnel, extended greetings to the alumnae. Following the dinner there was a meeting of the association in the Sibley Club Room at which all of the officers were re-elected.

The Commencement Week activities concluded a busy month on the campus. On May 24 the faculty and student body held a reception for Dr. and Mrs. Gage, who plan to return to Cedar Rapids, Iowa after Dr. Gage retires from the presidency this summer.

The annual May fete was held on May 18, preceded by the college horse show in the morning, and on May 17, the commencement play, "The Barretts" was presented by Alpha Psi Omega.

Third Installment of Roll Call Of the Class of 1929

By Kathryn Hankins, Alumnae Secretary

THIS month we complete the roll call of the Class of 1929. The following members have responded to the request for news about themselves and their activities:

Jessie B. Davis (Mrs. Herbert J. Schaffner), Sparta, Ill.: "I graduated from the School of Speech at Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., in 1931. I was in Sparta for several years. In 1942 I married Herbert J. Schaffner. He is a veteran of the Seabees' branch of the Navy. For the last several months we have been living in St. Louis, and he is employed by the Union Electric Company. During the war I was a sales clerk in a clothing store. I was active in the D.A.R. and in church affairs."

Margaret Dyer, 525 N. Fifth St., St. Charles: "I do not have much to report. I have been working in my father's law office here in St. Charles since the fall of 1932. That June, I had received a B.S. in Education at Lindenwood. In the thirties, I travelled quite a bit, to Europe, Canada, South and Central America. My brother, a Navy Lieutenant, lost his life in 1944. He had represented Georgetown University at Dr. Gage's inauguration. With best wishes to you, the Class of '29, and everyone at Lindenwood."

Josephine Mackey (Mrs. Roy Kline), Pawnee, Okla.: "My husband was with the Air Corps and was stationed in Las Vegas, Nevada during the last year of the war. I joined him there and began work almost immediately with the Red Cross. My position was Home Service Manager for the Las Vegas Chapter. It kept me busy but was most satisfying work in that I felt I was contributing to the war effort also. Roy was recently discharged and we are now back in Pawnee where his business is located. We have one child, Patricia Haines Kline, 11."

Helen Diehr, 5560 Pershing Ave., St. Louis: "After graduating from Lindenwood, I taught in the primary department in St. Charles. At present I am teaching in the first grade at Glen Ridge School, Clayton, Mo. My environment is ideal, and the personnel with whom I work, and the children are delightful and refreshing."

Mary Elizabeth Sawtell, P.O. Box 1033, Lincoln, Neb.: "After leaving Lindenwood I spent a year at New York University, but since that time, I have been a "public servant". At present I am with the United States Employment Service as Chief of Technical Services in the State Administrative Office in Lincoln. In fact, I have been in the employment service in one capacity or another for thirteen years. Which just about makes me a "veteran" but not of any war. I have been active in the professional organization of public employment service employees, known as the International Association of Public Employment Services, and am at present a member of the executive board of this International."

Dorothy Gehlbach (Mrs. Elmer S. Ordelleide), 621 Tompkins St., St. Charles: "A few weeks after my graduation, I returned to Lindenwood to become Secretary to the Dean and after several years became Registrar. During this time I married and later we built our home in St. Charles; my husband travels for a St. Louis Chemical company. I have two children, Nancy, 6, and James, 3. Home and family take much of my time, but I do have some church, club, and social activities."

Margera Wiles (Mrs. Howard J. Van Dyke), 830 West Comanche St., Norman, Okla.: "After receiving my A.A. from Lindenwood I continued my studies at the University of Okla., graduating in the summer of 1933 with a B.S. in Physical Education. From 1931 to 1935 I taught school in Sperry, Okla. On Jan. 1, 1936, I married and we lived in Sherman, Texas almost a year. My husband and I then moved to Norman, Okla., where he is the News Editor on the Norman Transcript. We have one son, Lester Frank Van Dyke, now 3½. I am active in my church work and P.E.O."

Bernita Noland, Belton, Mo.: "Since leaving Lindenwood, I have been working in Kansas City with the exception of about one year when I lived in Washington, D. C. For the past four years I have been working for the Farm Credit Administration here in Kansas City. One of the most pleasant times I have had is a trip I took in 1940 with Agnes Currie to Alaska and through the Northwest. I always look forward to reading the Bulletin and certainly do have very pleasant memories of Lindenwood. The Roll Calls are a wonderful idea and I do hope that all of the Class of '29 will answer."

Eleanor Richardson, 200 N. 12th St., Mt. Vernon, Ill.: "After receiving an A.A. degree from Lindenwood in 1929, I attended the University of Ill. I received my degree in 1931. The following year, I remained at Illinois where I was on the staff at the

Dr. Kate L. Gregg to Retire After Twenty-two Years on the Campus

English Teacher Known to Hundreds of Alumnae to Continue History Research and Has Entered Political Campaign

DR. KATE L. GREGG, a member of Lindenwood's English Department since 1924 and one of the oldest members of the faculty in length of service on the campus, has announced her decision to retire at the close of the college year this month.

Dr. Gregg, who holds her Bachelor of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from the University of Washington, came to Lindenwood from Elmira, College in New York. She numbers among her former students hundreds of Lindenwood alumnae.

Her retirement, she has emphasized, will not change her residence nor lessen her activities. She has already announced her candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Representative and is planning an active campaign before the primary election in August.

She also plans to continue her historical research, which has been a hobby for many years. She is the author of "Westward With Dragoons" and has written a number of articles on the history of Missouri. She has recently become interested in the study of art, a hobby which she plans to pursue with her release from academic responsibilities. While she will retain her residence in St. Charles, she plans to spend a part of each year on the Pacific Coast.

A reception was given for Dr. Gregg and for Miss Janet Coulson and Mrs. Eva Englehart Douglas who have resigned, was given by the faculty on May 16. Mrs. Douglas, who teaches piano, has been a member of the faculty since 1929. She has resigned to join her husband. Miss Coulson, who joined the faculty in 1938 as a teacher of piano, has resigned to accept another position.

The new members are Miss Corenne Placek and Mrs. George A. Fowler. Musical selections for the meeting were given by Jeanne and Laurie Ann Langworthy and Mrs. Benjamin Cunliff gave a talk on "Easter."

Student President

Miss Louise McGraw, of Sturgis, Ky., who has been elected president of the Student Government Association for 1946-47.

Member of Class of '96 Recovering From Serious Illness

Not even three years in the hospital can detract from the interest of Mrs. C. H. Baker, of Pasadena, Cal., in Lindenwood. Mrs. Baker, who was Nellie Ingram, attended Lindenwood in 1893-96. In a recent letter to the college, she writes that she has been confined to a hospital and later a sanitarium since January 5, 1943.

However she has followed the news of the college in the Bulletin each month, she writes and "looks forward to reading each new one."

Lindenwood extends its sincere wishes for her speedy recovery.

Former Faculty Member Weds

News has been received of the marriage of Mrs. Elise Provenchere Moore, a former member of Lindenwood's Modern Language Department, to Dr. John Arthur Ray last January. Dr. and Mrs. Ray are now living in Guatemala City, Guatemala, where Dr. Ray is special assistant in the American Embassy.

University and did graduate work. Since then I have taught mathematics at the Mt. Vernon Township High School. During summer sessions I have completed my Master's and have done additional work at Columbia and Chicago. All this sounds as if I've led a very academic life which is far from its case. I've spent much time indulging in my favorite hobby of traveling about the U. S."

Virginia Shrimpton (Mrs. James Blackman), 2344 Sewell St., Lincoln, Neb.: "I suspect all our lives have followed about the pattern indicated in our college years. I have never become much of a joiner, having since our marriage in 1938 divided my time about equally between my piano, where I spend many hours, and my husband, who, while not neglected, is at least indulgent! Last year I played a public recital and I hope to do another this coming fall. For several years I have done a moderate amount of private teaching which I find most interesting. My husband, a faculty member of Neb. University College of Engineering, is something of a craftsman by avocation and in his leisure time has turned out some interesting bits of wood carving, metal work, etc., which will be represented at the spring showing of the Lincoln Artist's Guild. Vacations at Meeker Park in Colorado are becoming a habit with us. Square dancing, very popular in Lincoln, we enjoy greatly. We have no family. I still cherish my years and friends at Lindenwood as a special kind of happiness. I remain gratefully conscious of the very real inspiration received there and hopeful that Lindenwood and other colleges may be equal to their very great future tasks."

George Evelyn Cone (Mrs. Glynn H. Moore), Jonesville, La.: "I taught speech and English until I was married in 1932. We lived for one year in Honduras and since then in Arkansas and Louisiana. I have been teaching English in Black High School, Jonesville, La. for the past six years. I like my work very much but am kept busy keeping up with household and community duties as well as a job. I am president of the Jonesville Woman's Club, a Cub Den mother, and for the past several years a volunteer worker for the Red Cross, War Bond Drives, and O.P.A. etc. Our one son, Richard Cone, 10, keeps things humming around the house all the time. Since I live only twenty-five miles from historic Natchez, Miss. I might be able to be of some assistance to Lindenwood girls touring this part of the country. I would be glad to do anything I could to help them see the sights."

Betty Brown Foster (Mrs. Lloyd L. Langworthy), 2937 Graceland Way, Glendale, Calif.: "I believe

my life has been very much the same as many Lindenwood girls . . . nothing startling but nevertheless quite busy. Jean, Robert and Laurie, age 15, 12, and 8, somehow occupy most of my time. We have lived in California about fourteen years. It is always a pleasure to go to the Southern California Lindenwood Club. We have quite an active club."

Lillie Bloomenstiel (Mrs. Harry Goudebaux), 1329 Drehn Ave., Baton Rouge, La.: "I have two boys—9 and 15. We have been living in Baton Rouge for 12 years. My husband was with Life and Casualty Ins. Co. of Nashville, Tenn. When he went into service, I took over his job and have really enjoyed my work. As part of my effort in the war, I took a course in Nurses Aide and have nursed in both local hospitals. I have derived a great deal of satisfaction from this. In my insurance work I succeeded in becoming a member of the President's Club for three years. Prior to the war I took an active interest in Music Clubs and various charity organizations. I was at one time Pres. of the Philharmonic Club Chorus and have for ten years been a board member of the Baton Rouge General Hospital."

Hilda Culver (Mrs. Frank F. Jones, Jr.), 324 W. Las Cruces St., Las Cruces, N. M.: "I have done nothing very spectacular, but some of the bulletin readers may be interested in the following brief sketch: For some time after leaving Lindenwood I followed my chosen profession—journalism, teaching swimming at a private lake summers. In 1936, a severe attack of arthritis sent me to Tucson, Ariz., where I met Frank who was then associate pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church. We were married the following year and lived in Tucson until 1941. Our eldest child, Nancy, was born in Tucson in 1940. June, 1942 found us locating here in Las Cruces where my husband is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and representative of the Westminster Foundation on the local college campus. Besides being "mistress of the manse" and mother of three lively children, I try to be church secretary, since we are the staff. I draw up the weekly bulletins, form letters, reports, and other detailed work and write many of the letters that are necessary to carry on the church work. It is all fascinating and we enjoy working together. Our hobbies are color photography and flower raising which also are a help in our work. Our second daughter, Mary Dale, is almost 2½ and little Frank III is 9 months. Nancy is already talking of attending Lindenwood when she finishes high school. I hope her ideals won't change."

Helen Adele Sweeney (Mrs. D. B. Enos), 212 W. Newell St., Syracuse 5, N. Y.: "Of course I'm out of the service now and not sorry to leave all of that behind me although I enjoyed my "stretch" and was fortunate in that my assignment was an interesting and absorbing one. Incidentally, Florence Harrison, another Lindenwood girl, was in my Officers' Training class and was stationed where I was almost all the way through. When I moved to California, principally to get away from winter, I never dreamed that I would ever live anywhere else again. However, my husband's work is in Syracuse at present, so here we are. My commercial working days are over also it seems and I now am settling back, extremely happy with the sole title of "housewife".
