

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE COMMUNIQUE

VOL. FIVE, NO. 14

OCT. 21, 1986

PULITZER-WINNING POET ON CAMPUS . . .

Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Howard Nemerov will be on campus tomorrow to read a selection of his works. Open to all faculty, staff and students without cost, the poetry reading is at 7:30 p.m. in Jelkyl Theatre (not the FAB as scheduled originally). A professor of English at Washington University, he received the Pulitzer Prize in 1978 for his book, THE COLLECTED POEMS OF HOWARD NEMEROV. His appearance is cosponsored by the Lectures & Concerts Committee, the LSG, the English Dept. and the All-College Reading List Committee.

LIBERAL ARTS TO BE ADDRESSED . . .

"This College, the Liberal Arts and These Professors" is the title of a presentation to be given October 29 by Warren Bryan Martin, Ph.D., a nationally-known innovator and supporter of the liberal arts in education. Open to all faculty, staff and students, it will begin at 2 p.m. in the MAB.

A senior fellow at the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching in Washington, DC, and Princeton, NJ, Martin currently is participating in the foundation's comprehensive study of undergraduate colleges in the United States. His latest book, A COLLEGE OF CHARACTER, received the Association of American Colleges' award in 1984 as the best book on higher education. Martin has been active in college teaching, research, administration and philanthropy and was vice-president of the Danforth Foundation and director of its Graduate Fellowship Program from 1974-80.

His appearance on campus is part of Lindenwood's celebration of "The Year of the Professor," an observance that focuses on teaching as a profession and on the essential role of the professor in higher education.

TRAVEL-STUDY IN GREECE PLANNED . . .

A tour of Greece that offers three credit hours in English or humanities is planned December 28 through January 18. The purpose of the trip is to study the arts and myths of ancient Greece in their own living contexts as well as through later historical perspectives, including those of selected English writers such as Byron, Keats and Joyce, said Professor Jim Feely, the tour's leader. Cost of the trip from St. Louis is $1,750 for students taking the course for credit (for others, $1,800), which includes transportation, lodging, continental breakfast and dinner. For further details on this exciting travel-study, contact Feely at Ext. 331 or at his residence, 947-7939.

OUTSTANDING COEDS SOUGHT . . .

Lindenwood coeds are invited to participate in the 1987 Top Ten College Women Competition, a national contest sponsored by GLAMOUR magazine to select 10 outstanding female students at college and university campuses. A panel of magazine editors will select the 10 winners on the basis of individual records of academic achievement and participation in extracurricular activities on campus or in the community.

The 10 winners will be featured in the August, 1987, issue of GLAMOUR. In addition to media exposure, they will receive an all-expenses-paid trip to New York City next year to participate in meetings with professionals in their areas of interest or education. This is the fifth year Lindenwood has participated in the national competition with submissions of outstanding students. For further information on the contest, contact the Public Relations Office, #6 Roemer Hall.

SENIORS INVITED TO SME CONFERENCE . . .

Marketing students are invited to attend the November 13 conference and luncheon at the Cervantes Convention Center sponsored by Sales & Marketing Executives (SME) of St. Louis. There is no charge, and seniors can attend either morning or afternoon sessions. Saturday is the deadline to register for the SME event. To do so, or for more details, contact Donna Bennett at the CAP Center.

DISCOUNT TICKETS FOR DISNEY'S SNOW WHITE . . .

The fairy tale of youth and dreams will come to life November 4-9 at the St. Louis Arena when Kenneth Feld Productions presents "Walt Disney's Snow White on Ice." Ten performances are scheduled. A $2 discount off the $9 tickets is available for performances at 10 a.m. November 5, at 7:30 p.m. November 6 and at noon on November 8. Discount ticket coupons are available in the PR Office.

RANDY L. WALLICK, Editor

JAMES I. SPAINHOWER, President

"Communique" is published each Tuesday during the fall, winter and spring semesters and biweekly during the summer. Produced as a joint effort of the college's Public Relations Office and Printing Center, it is disseminated to all faculty, staff and students. The deadline for submission of editorial copy is 9:00 a.m. Monday prior to Tuesday's publication; copy should be sent to the Public Relations Office.

RA INTERVIEWS SLATED . . .

Interested in becoming a residence hall advisor? Then, contact Marilyn Morris at Ext. #222. Positions are available for the spring semester. Interviews will be conducted November 5-8.

EARN MONEY IN CONSUMER RESEARCH . . .

Westgate Research is seeking individuals to take part in consumer research studies. As a participant, you may be part of a focus group that will discuss general topics, taste and evaluate a new food product or view a proposed TV commercial. A minimum of $20 is paid for studies lasting two hours, and a minimum of $10 is paid for 30-minute studies. For more information, contact Donna Bennett at the CAP Center, Ext. #307.

SATURDAY CAMPUS LUNCHEON SERIES . . .

Howard Schwartz, a prolific fiction writer, poet and editor, and a world-renowned authority on Jewish literary tradition, will read from his works at 12:30 p.m. Saturday in the Legacy Room of Ayres. Open to students, faculty and staff, the free program is sponsored as a community service by the Saturday Campus. Schwartz is the author of four collections of fiction and two of poetry. He also is the editor of six anthologies which explore a variety of literary forms and traditions, mostly from a Jewish perspective. His pioneering work as an anthologist has included collectings that have renewed interest in long-neglected literary forms such as the parable, Jewish fairy tales and Jewish stories of the supernatural.

STUDENT INTERNSHIP AVAILABLE . . .

Covenant House, a retirement center in Creve Coeur, is seeking an intern to organize a monthly newsletter. If you're a junior or senior with a 3.0 GPA and have an interest, contact Donna Bennett at the CAP Center, Ext. #307.

AAUP SESSION OPEN TO ALL . . .

Lindenwood's chapter of the AAUP will present Linda Salamon, dean of arts and sciences at Washington University, Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Cardinal Room of Ayres. Salamon was a member of the national committee of the American Association of Colleges (AAC) which recently examined the state of undergraduate education in America. She will speak on the AAC's report, "Integrity in the College Curriculum: a Report to the Academic Community." All faculty members and administrators are invited to attend.

DOWNSTAGE PRODUCTION OCTOBER 23-25 . . .

"Chekhov and Friends" is a collection of works by Russian playwright Anton Chekhov that will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the FAB as part of the Downstage Theatre season. Chekhov's famous one-act jests, "The Proposal" and "The Bear," are featured in this production which stars Joseph Golden, Gail Payne and Jackie Wurm. Tracy Zerwig is stage manager while the director is Matt Schliesman.

MODERN LANGUAGE CLUB MEETING . . .

The first general meeting of the Modern Language Club will be held this Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Instructor Tony Perrone's residence, 8181 Jefferson St., two blocks from the campus. Pizza and refreshments will be served. New members will be initiated, and a program of upcoming events will be discussed. Questions? Call Perrone at Ext. #336.

JOB SEARCH WORKSHOP THURSDAY . . .

The CAP Center's Job Search Workshop is scheduled from 6:30-10 p.m. in Niccolls Hall. Learn how to prepare a resume. Obtain interviewing and networking tips. And, discover how to find a job. If you want to attend, contact Joann Massmann at Ext. #237.
