By PRESIDENT GAGE

THESE are days of criticism. This is wholesome. Talking things over is an essential part of the democratic process. Those who must participate in decision should think and take part in discussion. Otherwise decision is ill-considered.

Well balanced criticism includes self-examination. This also is healthful. As individuals and institutions we need regular spring cleanings. Between these annual renovations there is the daily business of picking up and throwing out. Rubbish tends to pile up. If we did not get rid of things our lives would become a frightful accumulation of riff-raff. Ideals have a way of descending from their high position and getting out of place. In this respect they are just like things supposed to be on a table in a living room. Many times we cannot find what we expect where we think it is. The thing that is kept always in a corner on a table is usually in some other place. Sometimes it is underfoot on the floor. How the inert thing got there is a mystery. That it does so is reason for looking into all of our rooms bent on burning, refreshing and replacing. What we should do for our houses and things in them should of course be done for our minds where ideas and ideals are kept. Wherever the cleaning process goes on one is always surprised to find this or that which has long been taken for granted and was once important but has long since out-grown its usefulness.

There are various ways of measuring the worth of colleges. Marked institutional awareness is an indication that a college is alive, alert and inclined to self-improvement by way of self-examination. It is fair to say that Lindenwood is making progress in academic procedure, campus life and various services to students. This is true because we, teachers and administrative officers who are responsible for welfare of students, are studying objectives and means whereby goals may be realized. The Faculty's Institutional Study Committee has been at work for three years. For four years a Faculty Committee on Teacher Education in cooperation with similar committees from twenty-five other colleges, has produced a valuable report, "Better Colleges—Better Teachers," which has had a wide distribution. In Lindenwood the cooperative study is responsible for several curricular changes such as the new courses in the humanities and general science.

Changes in curriculum are not immediately obvious to a visitor. New buildings and things in them are what strike the eye of old friends who return to see what is doing on the old campus. We have no new buildings to announce at this time but we can announce a change in use of old buildings. Dr. B. K. Stumberg was convinced that our health service, which under his guidance for many years was marvelously good, could be improved. To him good was not an enemy of the best. Before his death the Board of Directors had approved a plan for establishing Senior Hall as a Health Center and using the present Infirmary in Sibley for dormitory residents. The coming of the war postponed the project. Recently the Board authorized and the Administration ordered the plan to be made effective immediately. Therefore we shall have a greatly improved health service next year. The president will recommend that the building now called Senior Hall be designated The Dr. B. K. Stumberg Health Center. That will be a fitting recognition of his name and plan.

We are looking forward to announcing some change in use of rooms for radio work. This project has been authorized but will not be made effective until purchase of equipment is possible.

Lindenwood Will Hold 118th Annual Commencement on June 4

Dr. Virgil Hancher, President of the University of Iowa, to Deliver Commencement Address, Climaxing Week of Many Activities on the Campus

THE 118th annual commencement of Lindenwood College will be held on Monday, June 4, climaxing a week of special programs on the campus. The commencement address will be given by Dr. Virgil Melvin Hancher, president of the University of Iowa.

Dr. Hancher has been president of the University of Iowa since 1940. He was graduated from the university in 1918 and was awarded a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford University in England. After he received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Oxford he traveled extensively on the continent, before returning to enter the University of Iowa Law School in 1922. He received the degree of juris doctor in 1924. He also holds the honorary degree of doctor of laws, awarded by Grinnell College in 1941; by St. Ambrose College in 1941, and by Northwestern University in 1944. Cornell College awarded him an L.H.D. in 1943, and Beloit College an LL.D. in 1944.

Dr. Hancher is chairman of the Committee on Education of the Iowa Postwar Rehabilitation Commission; president of the State University Association, and a member of the Midwest Research Institute and of the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached on Sunday, June 3, by Dr. Alvin E. Magary, pastor of the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn, N. Y. Dr. Magary is well known as a radio preacher. He is the author of the book, "Character and Happiness," and was for a number of years a contributor to the editorial page of the Detroit Free Press. He is a director of the Auburn Theological Seminary and in 1935-36 gave a series of lectures at the Chicago Presbyterian Theological Seminary. He has been pastor of the Lafayette Avenue Church since 1930.

There are 92 candidates for degrees and certificates in this year's graduating class. Thirty-five are Seniors and are candidates for bachelor of arts, bachelor of science and bachelor of music degrees.

One of the features of Commencement Week will be the Alumnae Day on Saturday, June 2. A cordial invitation is extended to all alumnae and former students of Lindenwood to return to the campus on that day. The program for the day will include an open house at the Gables from 2:30 to 6 p. m., the annual alumnae dinner in Ayres Dining Room at 6 p. m., and the annual meeting of the Lindenwood Alumnae Association and election of officers. At the dinner the members of this year's Senior Class will be inducted into the alumnae association by its president, Miss Pearl Lucille Lammers, of St. Charles.

Other officers of the association are Mrs. Helen Bruns Jolly, St. Charles, vice president; Mrs. Marguerite Dallmeyer, St. Charles, secretary, and Mrs. Earnest Baldwin, Pattonville, Mo., treasurer.

In order that arrangements may be made in advance, all alumnae who plan to attend the dinner are requested to send their names to Miss Kathryn Hankins, Alumnae Secretary, on or before May 20.

The Commencement Week program will climax a month of special activities on the campus. The annual luncheon given by the college to the members of the Senior Class, will be held this year on May 26 at the Missouri Athletic Club. On May 18 the annual commencement play, "Outward Bound," will be given by Alpha Psi Omega and on May 27 the Red Cross will hold a capping service on the campus to award Nurses' Aide caps to students who have completed the prescribed course of training.

Always a highlight in May, the annual May Fete will be held this year on May 19. The theme, "Spring

Roll Call of The Members of The Class of 1920

By KATHRYN HANKINS, Alumnae Secretary

THIS month we complete the roll call of the Class of 1920. The first installment was presented last month. The following members responded to the Alumnae Office's request for news about themselves:

Kathryn Burch (Mrs. Warren P. Rash), Middlesboro, Ky.: "After I finished at Lindenwood I went to the University of Missouri, and was graduated in journalism in 1922. I came straight from school to Middlesboro as news editor of the daily paper, and I have been here ever since. I was with paper several years, and since then I have been a correspondent for Knoxville and Louisville papers, and have done a variety of special publicity work. Since the start of the war I have been chairman of the civilian defense volunteer office here, and in charge of publicity for a number of activities—Red Cross, War Loans, War Fund drives, OPA, etc. My husband is in the wholesale business. We have two daughters, Katharine, 13, and Mary Warren, 10. Middlesboro is on Highway 25 leading to the Smokies, to Florida, and the southern route into Virginia. When there are cars and tires again, and any of you class of 1920 come this way, be sure to look me up."

Margaret McIntosh (Mrs. Kenneth R. Shaw), 1207 W. 6th Street, Los Animas, Colo.: "I was a member of the Academy Class of 1920, and was graduated from the University of Colorado in 1924. I was married in December, 1924, and am a home-maker and mother of two children. Our daughter, Margaret is in college, and our son, Kenny, is a freshman in high school. My activities are the usual small town ones — Red Cross, work in Presbyterian Church, A. A. U. W. and P. E. O."

Thelma Louise Neal (Mrs. J. T. Allen), 206 N. Vine Street, Cleveland, Okla.: "I have nothing of great interest to tell. I seem to be one of these very busy persons who works hard and seems to accomplish so little. I am a home-maker with a very good helpmate. I teach elementary music in the public school and have voice pupils in my spare time. Of course, I have my church work and I am a worker for the Red Cross."

Juanity Pharis (Mrs. Charles H. Lane), 309 E. Oak Street, West Frankfort, Ill.: "After leaving Lindenwood, I went to the University of Illinois. There I met "Shady Lane" and after two years of college work I was married. We have one son, Bill, who will finish high school this June. I do as much war work as our town of 12,000 affords. At the end of 1944, I had over 1000 hours in knitting and surgical dressing. I have had a Brownie Scout troop for six years, am chairman of the Red Cross Blood Bank, and serve on the Adult Board for our new 'Teen Town.'"

Agnes Lucille Reed (Mrs. Lester R. Pyle), Dombey, Okla.: "Since leaving Lindenwood I attended the University of Kansas, became a school teacher and then served as Assistant Postmaster in my home town, Douglass, Kan. I am now happily married and reside on a ranch in the Oklahoma Panhandle. I enjoy the Bulletin so much and am looking forward to reading the bit of news from the girls of the class of 1920."

Ludmila Renc, 227 S. Reno Street, Los Angeles, Cal.: "I have been living in California the past couple of years, working in a war plant inspecting gas masks, doing bit of Red Cross work in my spare time; otherwise I am living a quiet life. My aunt wants me to come to live with her, so probably I shall be leaving soon for the East again, as my uncle has passed away. Kindest regards to Lindenwood."

Helen L. Ruehl (Mrs. Charles A. Herfurth), 322 Melrose Place, Centralia, Ill.: "Before the war, my activities, besides being homemaker, were mainly bridge and golf. Since that time my time is devoted to war, civic and club work. I am State Chairman of the Americanism Committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Being interested in the trend of our country has forced me into politics. Best wishes to my old classmates."

Helen Ruth Railsback (Mrs. J. D. Conrad), 1427 Burns Street, Wichita, Kan.: "I taught school for one year in Gallatin, Mo. On June 8, 1921, I married John D. Conrad of Hamilton, Mo. We have one son and one daughter. Our son is overseas in an Armored Division under General Patton. Our daughter was graduated from St. Luke's School of Nursing in Kansas City on February 26, 1945. From 1925 to 1942 we lived in Baxter Springs, Kan. In 1942, Mr. Conrad came to Wichita as a Bank Examiner for the State of Kansas. In 1943, I took a position in the Accounting Department of the Boeing Airplane Co. I have watched the development of the B-29 from the building of the very first ship to the present time. In August, 1943, Mr. Conrad resigned his State position and accepted a position with Boeing as an Inspector—the position he now holds."

Lindenwood's Alumnae Service Flag Now Has 129 Stars

FIVE STARS have been added to Lindenwood's alumnae service flag this month, bringing the number of graduates and former students now in the service of their country to 130.

Mrs. John A. Logan (Jo Ann Hendren, Class of '42, of Bloomfield, Ind.), has been commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Army Medical Corps. She is assigned as a physical therapist and will receive her basic training at Camp Rucker, Ala., and her hospital training at the Thayer General Hospital, Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Electra Pearson, of Ranger, Texas, who attended Lindenwood in 1939-40, enlisted in the WACs in April, 1943. She is now a mail clerk in Medical Department at Camp Blanding, Fla.

Miss June Kaufer, Class of '42, is also serving in the WACs and is assigned to the Army Redistribution Station at Miami Beach, Fla.

Miss Catherine Bishop, of Winona, Kan., Class of '43, enlisted in the WAVES last fall. She received her boot training at Hunter College, New York City and then was sent to the Naval Training School at Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Miss Harriet Scruby, of Omaha, Neb., Class of '44, has also enlisted in the WAVES and is now at the training school at Cedar Falls.

Among the Lindenwood alumnae now overseas is Miss Eleanor Palmer, of Lebanon, Mo., Class of '42,

Sibley Hall President

Miss Martha Ann Young, of Marion, Iowa, a Senior, who is president of Sibley Hall this year. She is a member of the Poetry Club, the League of Women Voters and the Residence Hall Council.

Miss Palmer is a Technician, Third Class, and is stationed at the Navy Yard in Honolulu.

Miss Abigail Pierce, Class of '37, who has been in the WACs for the last two years, is now a Corporal and is at the Hoff General Hospital, Santa Barbara, Cal. She recently completed a six months training course at the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., and is beginning a three months apprenticeship to qualify for the physical therapy department of the Medical Corps.

Wins Mademoiselle Prize

Miss Phyllis Maxwell, Lindenwood sophomore, of Mt. Vernon, Ill., who is the college's representative on Mademoiselle magazine's college board, has been awarded a prize for her short story submitted in competition with stories submitted by college students all over the country.

Roll Call of Class of 1920

Lee Sims (Mrs. F. S. Meek), Dardanelle, Ark.: "I am a small town home maker, taking part in the many things one who lives in a small town is called upon to do. I am Chairman of Red Cross Knitting for our County. I have been married twenty-one years and we have one son who is now attending Kemper Military School, Boonville, Mo. This is his fourth year there. Best wishes for Lindenwood's continued success."

Janet Harper Stine, 44 S. Gore Avenue, Webster Groves, Mo.: "The early traditions of Lindenwood have always been very dear to our family, because in 1838, Mary Ann Garrett Stine, Letitia Stine, and Lavinia Stine, the three young daughters of our great grandfather attended Lindenwood, which had been founded just ten years previously, and was under the active supervision of Mary Easton Sibley. Since my graduation the years have slipped by quickly; travel abroad and to every corner of the United States are now a most treasured memory. During the winter season, Needlework Guild, Garden Club, A Federated Club, the D. A. R., Mountain Schools, Church and Historical Research usually require my attention. At present my newest interest is being one of the sponsors of a Junior Achievement group of high school girls in Webster Groves."

Ruth Sumner, 2645 E. 28th Street, Kansas City, Mo.: "I am secretary to the Sales Manager of the Kansas City Branch of General Outdoor Advertising Co., Inc. I shall look forward to having the Class Roll."

Helen Arnett Salyer (Mrs. Frank Anderson), College Station, Texas: "I have been married twenty years and have lived the entire time at Texas A. & M. College Station where my husband is connected with the Physical Educational Department. We have two sons, "Rusty" and "Wally," sixteen and fourteen and though I am disappointed we don't have a daughter to send to Lindenwood, I certainly hope the boys marry L. C. girls."

Louise Tragitt (Mrs. Max Reese), Grayville, Ill.: "After leaving L. C., I taught several years. I met my husband while teaching in Grayville. I have been married for nearly 20 years and we have one daughter, Elizabeth Anna. As a housewife I'm kept busy, along with clubs, school, and church work. Yes, I said school work—I'm back in the high school teaching Home Economics after all these years. I took a summer course at the University of Wisconsin and one at the Missouri School of Mines after I was married."

Olive Townsley (Mrs. Stuart Haw), 1068 E. Clifton Road, N. E. Atlanta, Ga.: "Writing about myself is an unusual assignment, the request from the Bulletin is the only one I've ever had. Since I write publicity for the Atlanta Chapter, A.R.C. my life is one deadline after another and now I seem to have let another one slip up on me. I'm afraid homemaking is a rather euphemistic term for what I do outside of office hours. It sounds much more prosaic than it actually has been, to report, that I have been happily married to one man for eighteen years. My older son Stuart, 16, will enter college in July. My second son, Sandy, is 14 and my daughter, Cynthia, is 12."

Helen Marguerite Waddington (Mrs. W. C. Busher), 2042 W. Main Street, Decatur, Ill.: "After graduating from Lindenwood in 1920, I entered college at Milliken Conservatory of Music in Decatur, Ill. I attended two years, then married and have lived in Decatur for twenty-three years. We have one daughter, Beverly, who enjoyed her freshman and sophomore years at Lindenwood, 1942-44. It really brought back fond memories to have my daughter occupy a room on the same floor of Niccolls Hall—that only a seemingly few years before had been my college home. During these war years, I have been a member of the Red Cross Motor Corps, and besides keeping a home, I try to find a few hours each week during the summer for my hobby, golf."

Zelle Marion Whitmarsh (Mrs. Willis J. Letty), 2 Overlook Terrace, Short Hills, N. J.: "The years since graduating from Lindenwood have been full and busy ones. After leaving Lindenwood, I attended the University of Missouri—graduating from there in 1922—my husband was in the class of 1922 also. After that I spent a year in New York at the Commonwealth School—"A School for Homemaking." We have lived in Texas, St. Louis, Atlanta, and Philadelphia. We are now living in Short Hills, N. J., where we feel fairly permanent. We have three fine children—a girl, who is a sophomore at Kent Place School, and two boys, 12 and 10."

Hilda Elizabeth Wright (Mrs. George Hobert Ewell), 721 Seneca Place, Madison, Wis.: "After graduation at Lindenwood, I attended the University of Missouri until I was married in 1922 to Dr. George H. Ewell of Carrollton, Mo. We lived in Kansas City, Mo., until 1927 when we moved to Madison, where my husband is associated with The Jackson Clinic as urologist and practologist. We have one daughter, Patricia Jane, who is 18. I have been active in PTA work, the Methodist Hospital Service League, and in the Woman's Auxiliary to the County, State and American Medical Association."

Emma Florence John (Mrs. J. C. Jackson), Route No. 1, St. Augustine, Ill.: "I am a homemaker with

Postwar Opportunities For Women Is Theme of Conference

*Speakers From Many Fields Address Students at Lindenwood's
Vocational Conference Held on the Campus
April 5 to April 19*

POSTWAR opportunities for women was the theme of the Vocational Conference held on the campus beginning April 5. The keynote address, "Tomorrow Is Too Late," was delivered by Miss Margaret Hickey, principal of Miss Hickey's Training School for Secretaries and president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Speaking on the subject, "Tomorrow Is Too Late," Miss Hickey pointed out that "it is a striking fact that all of the blueprints for the world's future are primarily concerned with the basic needs of life with which women have always been concerned—housing, food, employment, education, religion, family and security."

Education for women, she said, must prepare them to "box the compass, home, career, community, world. No matter how adequate a woman may be as a politician or a dentist or a teacher or a secretary, unless she can look with an unintimidated eye at the kitchen stove and the dishes afterward, her education is incomplete. On the other hand, she may be a magnificent homemaker and still be a failure if she is not prepared to make some contribution to the culture and the social life of the community of which her home is a part."

A motion picture, "Finding Your Life Work" was presented during the conference and a panel discussion on "Vocational Opportunities for Women in the United States Foreign Service" was given by the following students: Jean McDonald, Mary Ann Parker, Hildegard Stanze and Frances Watlington.

Speakers who addressed the conference included Miss Eloise Buck, representative of the Kathryn Gibbs School; Mrs. Claire Cari-Cari, Radio Station KMOX; Miss Helen Manley, national president of the American Associations for Health, Physical Education and Recreation; Dr. Fred McKinney, psychologist of the Student Health Center of the University of Missouri; Lynn A. Watt, Monsanto Chemical Co.; Dr. Charles A. Lee, professor of Education at Washington University; Charles E. Duke, Chicago and Southern Airlines; Miss Ruth E. Duerr, of the St. Louis Municipal Child Guidance Clinic; Mrs. Marjorie Davis and Mrs. Jane Halsey, of the American Red Cross; Mrs. Martha Weber Spencer and Mrs. John Ney, of Barnes

In Hall of Fame

*Nominated for the campus Hall of Fame this year is Miss Elizabeth Franke, of Webster Groves, Mo. Miss Franke, a Senior, is vice-president of the Student Government Association, is an active member of the Children's Theater of the Air, has received her Red Cross certificate as a staff assistant and is a member of the Encore Club, the League of Women Voters, Y. Hospital; Miss Helen Harkness of the St. Louis School of Occupational and Recreational Therapy; Edmund Giesbert, Chicago artist; Mrs. Thelma Lison, of the home economics department of the Gardner Advertising Co. and Mrs. Elmer Ordelleide, an alumna of Lindenwood who spoke on "Homemaking as a Profession."

Pre-conference vocational addresses were made by Mme. Helene Lyolene, New York dress designer; Miss Harriet Van Riper, traveling fellow of the Presbyterian Church, Miss Kathryn Horton, Red Cross overseas worker, and Miss Mina Sennott, St. Louis journalist.

Dr. Marie Finger, Director of Student Guidance and Personnel, was chairman of the Faculty Committee in charge of the conference. The chairmen of the student committees were Miss Betty Jane Dane-man, Hospitality; Miss Ruth Neef, Program, and Miss Joyce D. Puy, Publicity.

Dr. Clevenger Elected Mayor of St. Charles

Both political and academic history was made on April 3 when Dr. Homer Clevenger, professor of history and government, was elected mayor of St. Charles. Surprising St. Charles' politicians, Dr. Clevenger was swept into office by a decisive majority.

Dr. Clevenger believes that the practical application of his years of study of political science and history will benefit him in his classes at the college. He has already taken office.

Lindenwood College Represented at San Francisco Conference

Lindenwood sent a delegation of students to the mock San Francisco Conference held at Washington University in St. Louis on April 20 and 21 under the auspices of the League of Women Voters. Ten colleges and universities participated in the conference.

Lindenwood students on the delegations of the five major powers were Mary Ann Parker, Frances Watlington, Barbara Park, Jane Blood, Coy Payne, Marian Clark, Eileen Murphy, Margaret McKinney, Gwyne Filling and Maridce Hill.

Lindenwood students made up the entire delegations of two of the smaller nations. These delegations included Alice Boutin, Ruth Stevenson, Sally Thomas, Patricia Hobart, Jackie Forman, Barbara Buckley,

Lindenwood Children

These two boys with their dogs are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Campbell, of Larned, Kan. James, left, is 9 and Albert is 14. Mrs. Campbell, who was Laura Isabel Doerr, was a member of the Class of '20.

Mayor of St. Charles

Dr. Homer Clevenger, of Lindenwood's faculty, who has been elected mayor of St. Charles.

Mary Lou Gillette, Mary Marsh, Nancy Kern, Janice Miller, Joan Bohrer, Virginia Beasley, Margaret Eberhardt, Sue Berry, Betty Jane Moore, Mary Jane Mertz, Electa Goszkruger, Janet Brown, Virginia Lomison and Janet Crabbe.

The Lindenwood League of Women Voters and Dr. Wilhelmina Feemster, its sponsor, were in charge of the Lindenwood delegations. Alice Boutin and Mary Ann Parker, officers of the league, assisted in making the arrangements.
