

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE COMMUNIQUE

VOL. FIVE, NO. 24

FEB. 3, 1987

PLAY STRESSES READING . . .

"New Twist," a 30-minute that incorporates the fun of reading and learning, is being performed at elementary schools in St. Charles and St. Louis counties by the Performing Arts Dept. It is being funded in part by a $5,000 grant from the Arts and Education Council of Greater St. Louis.

According to Bryan Reeder of the Performing Arts Dept., the grant is important to both Lindenwood students and the community because "it is a way to use theatre as an entertaining, educational tool. The play conveys the importance of reading in a fun way."

Written and directed by Suzanne E. Mills, a visiting professor of acting, the play stars seniors Lisa Albert, Paul Gatrell and Joe Golden; sophomore Jodi Lombardo; and junior Joni Shoemaker. Study materials that accompany "New Twist" were prepared by the Education Dept. and Nancy Polette, assistant professor of education who has written several books dealing with children and reading.

RESPONSE PROMPTS 2ND COMMUNICATIONS DAY . . .

Overwhelming response to this week's Annual Communications Day has resulted in another session scheduled March 4 to accommodate area high school students interested in communications careers. Coordinated by the Communications Dept. and Admissions Office, the sessions will feature area media, advertising and public relations professionals who will provide insights into their respective areas for nearly 750 students seeking careers in communications.

Because of the tremendous response to this fourth annual event, students, staff and faculty volunteers are needed tomorrow to serve as hosts or guides to direct students to workshops. If you can volunteer, contact Jo Ellen Hetzler in the Admissions Office today, Ext. #216.

CHAPLAIN INSTALLED AS ASSOCIATE PASTOR . . .

The Rev. George R. Wilcox, campus chaplain, has been installed as associate pastor of St. Charles Presbyterian Church. A member of the college for two years, the Rev. Wilcox is a 1984 graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, and he holds a master's degree in divinity and an undergraduate degree in religion from Wittenberg University in Ohio. Former assistant pastor at St. Charles Presbyterian Church, he serves as a counselor to Lindenwood students, faculty and staff as well as chairman of the college's Religious Life Council.

PEER TUTOR WORKSHOP FEBRUARY 10 . . .

"Review of Writing" is the title of a workshop to be presented February 10 from 6-7 p.m. in Young Hall Lounge by the CAP Center's peer tutors. Designed for students with "rusty" writing skills who are returning to school, it will stress essay organization, research paper preparation and writing skills. For further details, contact the CAP Center at Ext. #237.

FIBER, PORCELAIN EXHIBIT OPENS FEBRUARY 15 . . .

A variety of works in fiber by Jo Sanders and porcelain objects by Geoffrey Wheeler will be presented in a joint exhibit February 15-March 6 at the Harry D. Hendren Gallery in the FAB. A reception to honor both artists is scheduled February 15 from 2-4 p.m. Open to students, faculty and staff, the exhibit can be viewed from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and from 1-5 p.m. on weekends.

Sanders is associate professor of art at Western Illinois University and a frequent exhibitor in fiber and craft shows, including several national events. Wheeler is an instructor in ceramics at Maryville College and a studio potter with Firehouse Gallery in St. Louis.

START THE SEMESTER HEALTHY . . .

How about starting the semester healthy by making a decision to maintain a nutritionally-balanced diet? That's the advice from Pat Young of the Campus Health Center who urges faculty, staff and students to avoid the intake of sugar, saturated fats and cholesterol. "Eat foods that provide the daily requirements of protein, complex carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals. The 1,200-calorie Lindenwood Campus diet, which is posted on the cafeteria wall near the serving line, is an excellent way to achieve a well-balanced diet," she said. If you'd like more information on how you can maintain a healthy body, contact Young at Ext. #270.

JAMES I. SPAINHOWER, President

"Communique" is published each Tuesday during the fall, winter and spring semesters and biweekly during the summer. Produced as a joint effort of the college's Public Relations Office and Printing Center, it is disseminated to all faculty, staff and students. The deadline for submission of editorial copy is 9:00 a.m. Monday prior to Tuesday's publication; copy should be sent to the Public Relations Office.

COLLEGE DONATES TO YMCA AUCTION . . .

Lindenwood has donated nearly $110 in gifts to the St. Charles County YMCA for use at its upcoming fund-raising auction on April 4. Gifts this year consist of complimentary tickets to a holiday performance by the Performing Arts Dept., lodging for two at the Lindenwood Lodge and tickets for dinner and entertainment at the annual Elizabethian Madrigal Feasts in December. This year's gifts, as well as previous contributions, were arranged by the PR Office and Marlene Niederhelm, a YMCA volunteer and former executive secretary in the Business Office.

W-4 FORMS DUE FEBRUARY 15 . . .

With the implementation of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, it's mandatory that all employees complete a sign the revised Form W-4, "Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," for withholding taxes. Forms are available from Adranna Stapleton in the Personnel Dept., 29 Roemer, and are to be completed and returned to her by February 15.

MOB SHOT SET FOR FRIDAY . . .

All students should circle this Friday on their calendars and plan to converge at 12:30 p.m. at the Gazebo for a group photo. The picture will be used on the first page of the 1986-87 yearbook, so be a part of the fun and be there!

And, don't forget February 12 if you're a freshman, sophomore or junior who hasn't had your yearbook photo taken or if you a student who needs a retake. A photographer will be in Ayres Cafeteria from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., and this is the last chance you'll have for inclusion in this year's yearbook.

All faculty members must have individual photos taken on this day. There is no charge, and orders will be taken.

DETECTION, TREATMENT PREVENT DEATH . . .

Although more people die from colorectal cancer yearly than from auto accidents, the American Cancer Society (ACS) estimates 75% of these deaths could be avoided by early diagnosis and treatment. Colorectal disease is the target of a three-year ACS program to save lives. If you're 40 or older, or if you have a personal or family history of gastro-intestinal disease, pick up a free Early Detection kit at the Post Office. It's a simple way to test yourself in the privacy of your home. And, remember, early detection and medical treatment are the ways to end colorectal cancer death.

TAICH IS 'ST. LOUIS' COVER STAR . . .

If you've recently noticed Arlene Taich scrounging copies of this month's ST. LOUIS Magazine, it's because her son is a cover child. Armed with an arrow and shish kebab, 11-year-old Adam Taich is depicted as Cupid on the cover to highlight the Valentine Month's results of a recent readers' restaurant poll, entitled "Restaurants Our Readers Love."

JOINS ADMISSIONS OFFICE . . .

Jo Ellen Hetzler of St. Charles has joined the Admissions Office as Administrative Assistant to the Dean of Admissions. In the newly-created position, she will be responsible for coordinating campus events for prospective students, such as this week's Communications Day and Business & Fashion Marketing Day, the Winter Campus Overnight and Performing Arts Day later this month. Hetzler has attended Lon Morris College in Jacksonville, TX, and Craven Community College in New Bern, NC, and she graduated in 1986 from the University of Maryland Asian Division in Okinawa, Japan, with an associate degree in business management.
